THOUSANDS HEAR MUSIC.

IMMENSE CROWD AT THE FIRST OPEN AIR BAND CONCERT.

The Squares and Avenues About the Crescent Avenue Church Packed With People to Enjoy the Free Melodies.

Yesterday was a delightful day, a trifle cool perhaps in the evening for an open air concent, but it is doubtful, even had it been warmer, if a larger crowd would have assembled to attend the first of the series of the open air concerts which promise to be such a pleasant feature this summer. Early in the evening the broad avenues leading to the square in front of the Crescent Avenue church, where the concert was to be held, were thronged with pleasure seekers.

It was a holiday crowd in appearance, at least, for everybody came in gala attire. White dresses were in abundance, while the stylish young man was resplendent in his white ducks, colored shirt and high collar, while he doffed his straw hat in the latest fashion, with a long swing. Most of the crowd came on foot, strolling along past the handsome residences in the neighborhood and just beginning to realize that Plainfield is a beautiful city even by night.

There was a large delegation of cyclists, who came to listen to the music, and their myriad lights resembled will-o-the-wisps as they flitted about the streets. Plainfield was not the only place represented. Some of the wheelmen and wheelwomen rode here from neighboring towns, which are not fortunate enough to have public-spirited men who will give open-air concerts.

At 7:30 the Plainfield Cornet Band started the evening's concert. Already the sidewalks were a mass of moving humanity, while the crowd had overflowed into the streets, leaving but a narrow path in the centre for vehicles and cyclists. The police were there and insisted on a passageway being kept open. Conservative estimates place the number present at 6,000, one-third of the population of "Greater Plainfield," while many think 10,000 people turned out.

Several of the residents strung Japanese lanterns about their lawns and on their piazzas, and the effect, as the lanterns rocked to and fro in the breeze, was delightful.

From 8:30 o'clock to nine the crowd was the greatest. The square itsself was packed while all the streets leading to it were filled with visitors. Many kept moving around in a slow procession while others preferred to lean against some convenient fence or post or even sit along the curb. A few far seeing citizens provided themselves with campstools and were the envy of the less fortunate.

The concert was a great success in every way, the music was well rendered, the evening delightful and the crowd enormous. Tnere was one man who was responsible for all this pleasure, the one who introduced the open air concert into Plainfield, and his name was not forgotten. Praises for Councilman Frost were heard on every side and all declared that his experiment has now proved to be a very popular feature with the summer life of Plainfield.

Slowly the crowd dispersed as time flew by, and divided into innumerable small parties that gladdened the hearts and pocketbooks of the proprietors of the various soda water fountains and ice cream parlors.

The programme was carried out as published in the Press and was a varied one. The band did excellently and all the selections were given in a way that highly pleased the large crowd that surrounded the musicians on all sides.

During the concert several residents illuminated the scene with colored fire. A bicycle club of about 30 was present and told Leader Guttman, of the band, that the club expected to come every Tuesday evening. The next concert will be held next Tuesday evening at the same place, the intersection of Watchung, LaGrande, Crescent avenues and East Seventh street.

Died in New Hampshire.

James S. Nason, who resided in this city for many years, died in New Hampshire and his funeral took place there yesterday. He left here six or seven years ago and went to the Bermudas and after staying there for a time he came back to this country and settled in New Hampshire. H. H. Baker of East Fifth street, attended the funeral.

—The pupils of the First-Day School enjoyed an outing at Mayor Young's woods in Fanwood yesterday.

A WONDERFUL GAME.

BACHELORS AND BENEDICTS OF THE PARK CLUB TO MEET AGAIN.

This Time They Meet on the Y. M. C. A. Baseball Grounds on the Morning of July 4th—Makeup of the Two Teams.

History does not record a fiercer struggle or a harder won battle than the one between the Batchelors and the Benedicts of the Park Club on the club's bowling alleys last winter. The Benedicts won the match and have been boasting over that grand victory ever since. That famous contest will not be "in it," however, with the struggle that will be witnessed on the morning of July 4th. The Batchelors have been biding their time, and are now ready to meet their veteran antagonists in the greatest of summer games, baseball. It is the best substitute for bowling to be found in the list of summer sports, and so the great bowlers of the club will be expected to distinguish themselves.

The Bachelors think that they have their married clubmates at their mercy, but the Benedicts are steadily preparing for the dire conflict. Every afternoon a party of them may be seen catching flies or stopping fouls, and "Doc" Thiers, who is to pitch for them, daily practices on his front lawn trying to curve the ball around a neighboring tree. His favorite throw, with which he expects to strike out all the opposing, is a drop zigzag inshoot that rises toward the outside as it approaches the batter. J. T. Scott is scheduled to catch this wonderful ball. The battery on the other side is Sandford and Erickson. It will be impossible to tell the wonderful achievements of each player but, like many orchestras, "each man is a soloist."

The two teams are composed of the following:

BENEDICTS.		BACHELORS.
"Doc" Thiers	pitcher	Percy Sandford.
J. T. Scott	catcher	R. W. Erickson.
Aug. VanDeventer	1st base	Dr. Mathewson.
Sam'l Townsend	2d base	Geo. O. Stevens.
H. A. McGee	3d base	W. F. Murray.
C. W. McCutchen	s. s.	G. O. Worth.
J. E. Erickson	l. f.	G. W. Cooley.
C. W. Smith	c. f.	W. N. Runyon.
J. C. Peck	r. f.	L. H. VanBuren.

How is that for an array of talent! Two such teams would fill Madison Square Garden with an audience. It will not be played there, however, but in the Y. M. C. A. field instead.

E. T. Douglass is manager and Augustus VanDeventer captain of the Benedicts, while Peter B. Matthews and R. W. Erickson hold these positions for the Bachelors. Mayor Hegeman, Jr., will act as umpire, while A. L. C. Marsh and F. O. Ball will act as referees to settle fights that are sure to occur. Now, while the game may not be so fine from a scientific point of view, there is likely to be lots of fun.

HOW JOE BOLSTERLI WAS KILLED.

A Letter From the Far West Tells the Particulars of the Fatality.

The following letter was received last evening by Mrs. Jos. H. Bolsterli, of Chatham street, which gives some of the particulars regarding her husband's death, which occurred last Friday at Decker, Mont.:

Sheridan, Wyo., June 27th, '96.

Mrs. Mary Bolsterli, Plainfield, N. J.

Dear Madame:—Your husband, Joseph H. Bolsterli, was thrown from a horse yesterday morning and his skull is fractured. Has been unconscious from that moment, and when I left him was in a dying condition. He was at Decker, Mon., twenty-five miles from here, when I was called to attend to him last night. Friends have done everything for him they could, but could not rouse him. I saw him nine hours after his injury and was with him five hours. He will be cared for by the A. O. U. W., of Sheridan, who have now gone to telegraph the sad news to you. His injury is one that cannot be mastered by medical skill, as it is at the base of the brain, and nothing but nursing and care can be done for him. I am sorry I was unable to restore him to conscious life. His property is in the hands of his brothers in the order and the best of attention will be rendered.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. J. A. Wagner.

Mr. Bolsterli was a member of the International Order of Machinists and Somerset Council, No. 104, J. O. U. A. M., in addition to the A. O. U. W. and Red Men. It is expected that the body will arrive Friday on Saturday.

Not Hurt Getting Off a Car.

Superintendent John Adleman, of the Street Railway Company, has been investigating the case of John McKanna, who claims to have sprained his foot while getting off a trolley car at Grove street. According to the report of the conductor and motorman of the car on which he was a passenger, McKanna was assisted on at Dunellen by several men who said they had found him in Dunellen limping along as though he had a sprained foot. The conductor stopped the car at Dr. Probasco's and let McKanna off, from where he was sent to the hospital. It would seem from this that McKanna's foot was sprained before he got on a car.

—Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff in the contract case of Muller & Co., against Underhill, which was tried before Justice Crosley yesterday afternoon.

AMONG THE LIFE SAVERS

CHRISTION ENDEAVORERS REACH OUT FOR THESE STURDY MEN.

This Society Was the First to Inaugurate the Soul Saving Work Among Men Who Risk Their Lives for Others.

A very interesting lecture, illustrated by stereopticon views, was delivered last night in the Seventh-day Baptist church, by Rev. J. Lester Wells, of Jersey City, before the Christian Endeavorers of this city. His subject was the life-saving stations, lighthouses, and lightships, and the Christian Endeavor work done among the men there.

This is quite a new work, having only been done for four years now, and New Jersey has the honor of being the first to attempt it. When work is done for every station, there will be at least a half million people under the influence of the workers. This includes the numerous fishermen, oystermen and clammen, who gather round life-saving stations and lighthouses. A preacher at any station could easily collect quite a large audience.

The men who are employed by the Government at her life-saving stations are intelligent, many of them well educated men, and a very strong, athletic set physically. The photographs of crews shown by Mr. Wells showed a fine looking, soldierly set of men, such as one could trust in an hour of peril on the sea. Many pictures of stations were shown, most of them twin, tasteful little buildings. The stations along the Jersey coast are very close together, and all are connected by telephone. Pictures were shown of the various apparatus used by the life savers, the "life line," which is shot out to the ship, where a boat cannot go, that the breeches buoy may be used to bring in the shipwrecked people; and the fog horn, which is run by a steam engine, and kept constantly blowing in foggy weather, to warn vessels off the coast.

Mr. Wells showed many pictures of lighthouses on different parts of the coast; strong and tall, sometimes with the great waves dashing half way up their sides, they shine out their warning, a welcome sight to the bewildered mariner. The lighthouse keepers also often act as life savers, even the women, as in the case of brave Grace Darling, sometimes going to the rescue of some illfated ship.

Life savers, lighthouse keepers, and especially the crews of lightships, which continually patrol our coasts, are much isolated from the world. They are doing a grand work, a work which alone makes it possible for us to sit at home in peace while our friends are on the sea. Countless lives are saved every year by these devoted men. But they are very poorly paid by the Government, and nearly forgotten by their fellowmen. Now the Christian Endeavor Society has begun to try to send them a little Christian cheer and sympathy. Comfort bags, holding any little conveniances, from buttons to courtplaster, are very gladly received; good literature is a boon highly appreciated; but perhaps best of all are friendly letters, showing interest in their daily lives, and especially in the souls which Christ, the great life saver, came to rescue.

YOUNG LADIES AS HOSTS.

An Enjoyable Leap Year Party Given at a Manson Place Home.

An enjoyable leap year party and dance was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monsell, Manson place. The evening was most enjoyably spent, the principal feature being dancing. The entire programme of the evening was carried out by the girls.

Those present were: Miss Minnie Martin, Mrs. Whalen, Miss Katherine Benson, Miss Cora Naylor, the Misses McCue, Miss Rich, Miss Maggie Revelle, Mr. and Mrs. Winkler, Mrs. Geoghan, Mrs. George Sheehan, Mr. and Mrs. Hope, August Jackson, John Frey, J. Elliott, Jacob Johnson, Patrick Corrigan, Robert Johnson, Wren Smalley, John Linsey, August Leonnecker, Charles Kaeding, Alex. Muir and Charles Conde.

A Fine Piece of Track.

The Central railroad has just completed a mile of track west of Dunellen that is said to have no equal. Heavy steel 5½ inch rails have been used and all old ties have been replaced with new creasote ones. An iron plate has been put between the tie and rail. The work has been in charge of Foreman John Hunt, of Dunellen.

For Cruelty to Animals.

The trial of Joel Giddis, of New Market, for cruelty to animals came up before Justice Storms, of that place, yesterday afternoon and was adjourned to Thursday of next week. It will be tried in Friendship Hall before Justice Storms and a jury of twelve men

FARMER JIM A FIGHTER

HE WILL STAND FOR DEMOCRACY, SILVER OR NO SILVER.

He Believes That There is More Than One Vital Principle at Stake, and Republicanism Should be Repulsed.

A Press reporter yesterday asked J. E. Martine if he thought the Democracy of New Jersey would bolt in the event of a free silver candidate being named at Chicago, as Hon. Allan McDermott advised.

"No!" said he, "we will lose some voters undoubtedly, but it is ill policy to give such advise. Let individuals act upon their own judgement. Our party stands for more than one idea. I shall vote the Democratic ticket and will urge all Democrats to do the same."

"For a Democrat to vote the Republican ticket will count two, and for a Democrat not to vote counts one for the Republican party. Does any Democrat want this result?

"And what can a Democrat gain by bolting? Will he be any better off if he should succeed in electing McKinley? He is willing to pray to the gold god or the silver devil and vice versa, so long as it may catch votes.

"That grand old party that has guided us safely and wisely for three-quarters of our National existence, can and will guide us out of the maelstrom in which the party of McKinleyism has placed us. Let us fight the contest to a finish."

FOR THE CHAPEL FUND.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Monroe Avenue Chapel Give an Entertainment.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Monroe Avenue chapel held an enjoyable dime sociable in the chapel last evening, for the benefit of the chapel fund. An enjoyable programme of a musical and literary nature was rendered and all present seemed to enjoy it thoroughly.

The programme in detail was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Aldrich; recitation, Miss Edith Burt; banjo solo, Charles Hayes; song, Mrs. E. Brown; dialogue, "The Flower of the Family, or Obediah Thompson's Moving," by members of the chapel; dialogue, "Coming Through the Rye;" tableau, "Gypsy Encampment;" tableau, "Ladies' Aid Society."

After the entertainment refreshments were served. The committee in charge consisted Mrs. E. Brown, chairman; Mrs. Pugh, Mrs. Hayes and Miss Brower.

PLEASURE PROVIDERS.

Guests of the Montezuma Club Trip the Light Fantastic Toe.

The Montezuma Social Club gave the first of its semi-monthly dances in T. A. B. Hall last night. There was a good attendance and all present seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. The music was furnished by O'Reilly.

The committee in charge consisted of Dan Galbraith and Con Guinee, floor committee; Thomas Carty and William Claassen, refreshments; and Hugh O'Donnell, John Keenan, Michael Mack, Charles Ward, James McCarthy and Patrick Casey.

Although the club was but recently organized, the fact that they are pleasure providers was proven by the enjoyable affair given last night. The officers of the club are: Michael Mack, president; William Claassen, vice president; Con. Guinee, secretary; and Patrick Casey, treasurer.

A Summer Tea.

Mrs. Rowland Cox, of West Seventh street, gave a charming tea yesterday afternoon from 4 to 7, to the friends of her daughter, Miss Fanny Cox. Mrs. Cox was assisted in receiving by Miss Lucy Talmadge and Miss Edith Hyde. The home was prettily decorated, chiefly with roses. Tea was served at 7 o'clock, after which the young people indulged in dancing. There were about fifty persons present, who thoroughly enjoyed the event.

Tolled for Smoke Only.

Last evening at 7:10 an alarm of fire was sent in from Box 145 in the borough by a member of Mrs. Hudson's family, who saw a volume of smoke coming from Winan's blacksmith shop on Somerset street. The department responded quickly and discovered that the smoke came from a brush heap near the blacksmith shop. This is the first time the new bell has been used for a fire.

No Change in Mrs. Peterson's Condition.

No change is reported today in the condition of Mrs. Peterson, who is at the hospital suffering from burns received Sunday morning.

We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasanter or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventive of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

MORE INTEREST IN GOLF

THE GAME AN IMPORTANT PART IN PLAINFIELD'S SUMMER LIFE.

A Handicap Tournament Arranged for the Fourth, and Later On a Contest With New Brunswick Will Take Place

Golf will play an important part in the summer life of the members of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, and vigorous efforts are being made to increase the interest already taken in the game. The recent medal play brought out a number of new players and proved quite successful. On Saturday morning, a handicap tournament will be held on the links of the club. It will be for members only.

The entrance fee is fifty cents and can be paid to either H. W. Beebe or J. S. Authony. Entries close on Friday evening. James Stowell Authony, secretary of golf, will arrange the handicaps.

The course will be reserved for the contestants in the tournament on Saturday morning. A tea and reception will be held at the clubhouse in the afternoon and the Fourth promises to be a delightful day there.

Beside the tournament, a match has been arranged with the New Brunswick Golf Club to be played on the New Brunswick links on Saturday, July 11. The teams will consist of four men each and the Hillside team will be picked from the following:—H. D. West, Dean Ryder, Evarts Tracy, H. W. Beebe, F. W. Walz, and J. S. Anthony.

A return match in this city will probably be played on August 8th.

Negotiations are also under way for a series of matches with the Montclair Golf Club but the dates have not been definitely decided upon.

LEHIGH MAY TOUCH PLAINFIELD.

An Official of the Road Has Been Looking Over the Ground.

The Lehigh Valley railroad company have not given up all hope of getting into Plainfield. As a matter of fact, it is not at all unlikely that at a very early date they will make an effort to get the right of way and make a bid for a portion of Plainfield's valuable railroad traffic.

A few days ago, Shreve Ackley, who has charge of the suburban territory for the Lehigh, was in this city and made a general tour of inspection for the purpose of acquainting himself with the resources and possibilities of Plainfield in the line of growth. He was most favorably impressed with the outlook. He called at The Press editorial rooms and said that while the officials had not thoroughly considered the plan to build a branch from South Plainfield to this city and then tapping the main line again at Oak Tree, the thought was in their mind and that it would be taken up for disposition in a short time. Before he left town he said that he should endeavor to prevail upon the officials of the road to come here sometime this week and go over the proposed line.

Only An Imformal Report.

The members of the Board of Health met last evening in the Mayors office and discussed in a general way the crematory method of disposing of garbage. No official report was made by President Rockfellow or L. W. Serrell, of their trip to Scranton. They stated, however, that the plan was a success at Scranton but even in so large a city, there was not enough material to keep the plant busy. Nothing definate was decided upon last evening but a written report will probably be presented at the next meeting in July by the president.

Pennies on a Battlefield.

While transplanting a cabbage in his garden on Prospect place, Bound Brook, recently, William W. Provost found a King George III. English penny, bearing the date of 1730. The locality is the field where the battle of Bound Brook was fought, April 13th, 1777. A few days previous, at the other side of the field, James Roach found an English penny of 1722, and another old copper.

Quick Work.

Yesterday morning a lady sent to White's for samples of dress goods for skirts. At eleven o'clock they had her order for three skirts and at half past five the skirts were ready for delivery. They offer to make skirts and silk waists free of charge when the materials are bought at their store.

Receiver to Sell.

In the Court of Chancery yesterday the receiver of the Merrill Manufacturing Company, of Bound Brook, was directed to sell real estate and personal property of the company.

A SURPRISE FOR SOCIETY

MRS. E. D. M'CARTHY MARRIED TO JOHN GIFFORD SIX WEFKS AGO.

The Event Solemnized at the Home of the Groom on May 18th—The Bride One of Plainfield's Talented Women.

No nuptial event in which a resident of this city has been one of the happy participants will cause more surprise or interest in society circles than the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. E. D. McCarthy, of Central avenue, to Prof. John Gifford, of May's Landing, N. J.

The event was solemnized at the home of the groom on May 18th, but the fact has been kept so quiet that only the most intimate friends of the couple were aware of the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Gifford will sail for Europe next week to spend the summer in touring the continent.

The groom is the editor of The Forester and secretary of the State Forestry Association, which recently held their convention in this city. He is considered an authority on all forestry matters and is well known throughout the country on this subject.

The bride is one of Plainfield's most talented women and is very active in all matters pertaining to the progress of woman's sphere, being one of the leaders in the Monday Afternoon Club and Town Improvement Association. She is also prominent in the State and National Federations of Women's Clubs, and at their recent conventions read interesting papers. Like her husband, she is also greatly interested in forestry matters and it was while engaged in this subject that the couple met and formed a mutual friendship and admiration for each other which resulted in linking their fortunes together at Hymen's altar. The union is a most happy one and the many friends of both parties in this city extend their congratulations.

SUNDAY CLOSING AT WESTFIELD.

Business Men Notified That They Must Shut Up on the Sabbath.

Notices were served yesterday morning on the druggists, liverymen and milkmen, barbers and confectioners, newsdealers and bakers of Westfield that hereafter the Sunday Observance League intends to have the Sunday laws enforced to the letter, and that all persons who violate the law will be prosecuted.

Those who have received the notices to close their places of business on Sunday have determined to combat the efforts of the league and will meet to devise plans of action. Paul E. Oliver will probably be retained to advise them. The Sunday Observance League is composed of young men from the church societies of the town. The notices sent out yesterday morning were signed by Robert Johnston, secretary of the league.

An Old North Plainfielder Injured.

Harry Bartling, who formerly resided on Sycamore avenue, North Plainfield, but who has now made Boston his home, met with a serious accident recently. He was walking along when he made a misstep and fell breaking one rib and injuring several others. He did not discover the full extent of his injuries at the time, thinking it only a strain, and it was some time before he discovered that a rib was broken. A letter from him received by one of his Plainfield friends tells that he is getting along very well, but it will be some time before he will fully recover.

The Fourth at New Market.

New Market will hold its regular Independence Day celebration on the afternoon of Saturday. The greased pole will be climbed, the greased pig chased, and other sports, including tub races, boat races, swimming races and the regular athletic events. The evening will be celebrated by a grand display of fireworks.

Will Ask for Culver's Release.

Lawyer Charles VanWinkle will go to New Brunswick today to intercede for his client, Nathan Culver, who is incarcerated there on a serious charge. He will make his application for the release of his client under nominal bail.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

SILVER MEN LINE UP

They Don Their Armor for the Battle at Chicago.

EXPRESS CONFIDENCE OF SUCCESS

No Compromise Platform Will Be Accepted, They Declare—Meeting of the National Bimetallic Committee. Matter of the Contests.

Chicago, July 1.—Since the meeting of the democratic national bimetallic committee yesterday afternoon, when the outlook of the money struggle was pretty thoroughly discussed, the silver men here express absolute confidence of victory and scoff at the idea of any compromise whatever. At the meeting there was more or less individual discussion of Mr. Whitney's attitude among the delegates and it was noted that there was no expression on the part of any one favorable to yielding anything to the gold standard element. The general opinion on this score was well summed up in a characteristic remark by Senator Harris: "I am," the senator said, "one of many thousands of democrats and of many hundreds of delegates. I can't, of course, speak for all, but I can speak for myself. I want no compromise. We should either have a declaration for the free coinage of silver on the terms of equality with gold at the ratio of 16 to 1, so plain that no human being can misunderstand it, or we should have an equally plain pronouncement for the gold standard, and I think I know which it will be." Meanwhile, the United Press dispatch giving the expression of Secretary Morton's sentiment that the silver men had the road and were going to keep it, and that the chief trouble with Mr. Whitney's threat was that the gun was not bigh enough was read aloud to the assemblage, to the evident satisfaction of the listeners. "Secretary Morton has evidently sized up the situation," said Senator Jones, "and his opinion is welcome, even if it does come rather late in the day." "That's the second sensible thing that Secretary Morton has said since the silver crusade was inaugurated," said another committeeman (who subsequently made the inevitable request that his name should not be quoted). "The first was when he returned from a recent 6,000-mile trip and acknowledged that the western prairies were on fire for silver and said that his own gold delegation from Nebraska would be lucky if it got into the Coliseum galleries." "The next thing we know we shall find that they are succumbing to the inevitable and coming into the silver camp," said delegate John W. Tomlinson.

Boies Men Uneasy.

The conference of the bimetallic committee created considerable uneasiness among the supporters of Gov. Boies, and some decidedly bitter talk was indulged in concerning the alleged antagonism of Gov. Altgeld toward the "Grand Old Man" of the Iowa democracy. At the Boies headquarters in the Palmer house it was declared that, if allowed to use their inclinations, the followers of the Illinois delegation would vote for the Iowa man. "He would have assurances of sympathy from a number of delegates from this state," said a member of the Boies committee, "but it is evident that they are tied to the machine. If they were free to act we could corral the bulk of them. Whatever the object of the Stone-Altgeld conference, however, we are not going to be disheartened by a single rebuff. Boies will be the coming nominee despite the underhand schemes that the gold men and others have resorted to. They know his strength and they fear him more than any other candidate that has been mentioned."

CONVENTION PLANS.

Senator Harris for Permanent Chairman—The Contests.

Chicago, July 1.—The sub-committee of the democratic national committee will meet at the Palmer house in this city this afternoon for the purpose of arranging some of the minor details of the convention. This sub-committee consists of Chairman Harrity of Pennsylvania, Secretary Sheerin of Indiana and Messrs. B. T. Cable of Illinois, J. G. Prather of Missouri, E. C. Wall of Wisconsin, Hugh C. Wallace of Washington and T. H. Sherley of Kentucky. The committee will hear reports from the sub-committees on music, press and decoration of the convention hall. Col. Sheerin said this morning that the minor committees having these matters in charge would be able to report that everything was in practical readiness for the convention, and he had no doubt that the sub-committee in charge would find the work in all respects satisfactory. The national committee has departed from the usual rule of having a committee composed of residents to look after these matters. They placed the work in the hands of members of their own organization and they feel that the innovation has proved a success.

The Matter of Contests.

The full national committee will not meet until noon next Monday, the day before the convention. There have been reports of contests from various states, notably Michigan, Texas, Nebraska, Nevada and Colorado, but Col. Sheerin says that so far he has received official notice of none except that from Nebraska. The democratic party has in the past been so free from contests that there are few precedents to guide them. The national committee has never heretofore granted hearings as the republican committee does, nor attempted to arrange them so far as to decide what set of delegates, where there are contests, shall have their names placed upon the temporary roll. The practice has been rather to deprive both parties to a contest from participating in the temporary organization, thus referring the entire matter to the convention. It is believed that this plain will be pursued this year, though the silver men have been somewhat apprehensive that the national committee may attempt to override these precedents and seat gold contestants, believing a majority of the committee to be opposed to silver. Hence the sub-committee will be asked by the silverites this afternoon to give them some assurance on this matter.

Silver Man for Permanent Chairman.

The national committee at its meeting next Monday will designate temporary officers of the convention, including the temporary chairman. It is reported that Senator Harris of Tennessee, the chairman of the democratic bimetallic national committee will probably be the permanent chairman of the democratic national convention. This, it is asserted, is part of the programme of the silver men, which includes the removal of the national democratic headquarters to Chicago, and the election of Senator Jones of Arkansas as the chairman of the national committee to succeed William F. Harrity. The removal of the national headquarters to Chicago, the silver men declare, will certainly be accomplished. They say that as Illinois will be the battleground, it is necessary that the direction of the campaign be in close touch with the men who are in the field making the fight.

Illinois Vote for Bland.

The indications to-day are that the forty-eight votes of Illinois will be given to ex-Congressman Bland, and that a pledge of support was given at the secret meeting between Gov. Altgeld, leader of the Illinois delegation and dictator of its vote in the convention, and Gov. Stone, the commander of the Bland campaign.

Pennoyer for President.

Portland, Ore., July 1.—"Pennoyer for President" will be the slogan of the Oregon democratic delegation to the Chicago convention. It cannot be established that Pennoyer has expressed any desire to have it so, but there is little doubt that his name and fame will be exploited long and loudly among the delegates. The state democracy is in favor of the free coinage of silver.

McLean Off for Chicago.

Washington, July 1.—John R. McLean, head of the Ohio delegation, who has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for the democratic nomination for president, left for Chicago this morning via the Pennsylvania railroad in his private car "Ohio."

THE HOLT WILL CASE.

New Trial Denied by Judge Bradley—Letter from Mrs. Grant Read in Court.

Washington, July 1.—The Holt will case came up again yesterday afternoon upon a motion for a new trial. Judge Bradley denied the motion and certified the findings of the jury, setting aside the alleged will to the probate court. In support of the motion a letter from Mrs. Julia Dent Grant, widow of the late President Grant, was submitted. It is under oath and dated June 20, 1896, to the effect that she accompanied her husband to a dinner given by Judge Holt at his residence at which Gen. William T. Sherman and his wife were also present. Mrs. Grant, while unable to remember the date of the dinner party, although given some time while her husband was president, stated that she did remember that during the evening Gen. Sherman called his wife from a room where the ladies were sitting, saying that she was wanted for a moment. The names of Gen. Grant, W. T. Sherman and Mrs. Sherman, witnesses to the alleged will, were declared forgeries by the verdict of the jury.

Decrease in Saloons in New York.

New York, July 1.—At midnight last night the total amount of money received in the excise department was $4,731,382.59. Of this amount there was taken in during the day $319,175.02. This represents the total amount received from 7,500 applicants for licenses paid. The number of certificates issued approximates 5,000, and 2,000 receipts have been issued. Over 9,000 were issued by the old board. A decrease in the number of saloons of 1,700 is shown.

Bicyclists Seriously Injured.

Asbury Park, N. J., July 1.—While riding tandem in Ocean Grove last night Miss Addie Kernan of Baltimore and J. W. Irwin collided with a carriage driven by a man named Wilson. The machine was upset and the riders thrown heavily to the ground. Miss Kernan's leg was broken and Irwin received severe bruises about his face and body. No blame is attached to the driver.

New York State Canal Improvements.

Albany, July 1.—State Engineer Adams says that he is well satisfied that the canal improvements can all be completed before his present term expires on Dec. 31, 1898, and that the $9,000,000 voted therefor by the people will be amply sufficient to carry on and complete the great work.

BALTIMORE DEMOCRATS.

They Win a Victory in the Courts over Mayor Hooper.

Baltimore, July 1.—Mayor Hooper has lost another battle in his fight with the city councilmen. Judge Albert Ritchie has handed down an opinion in the superior court upholding the action of the council in appointing Capt. Noble H. Creager as collector of city taxes and directing the mayor to swear him in. The fight, it will be recalled, was begun last winter, when Mayor Hooper attempted to introduce some reform methods in the city government through appointments. The city council promptly turned them down and adopted an ordinance taking the appointing power away from the mayor and vesting it in the two branches of the city council. Of course, the mayor vetoed the ordinance, but it was passed over his objection. Under this ruling the councilmen instituted a test case by naming Capt. Creager for the important and well-paying position of city tax collector. Mayor Hooper refused to recognize the appointment, on the ground that his veto was not overridden by a three-fourths vote. In deciding this question Judge Ritchie holds that three-fourths of the members present and voting was sufficient to override the veto, and that the law did not mean three-fourths of all the members elected, as contended by the mayor. Mayor Hooper, when advised of the decision, said: "We shall take the case to the court of appeals and let that tribunal finally decide it." Democratic officeholders are jubilant over the decision. Hundreds of them who expected almost immediate official decapitation with the advent of the republicans last winter, are still drawing salaries, and the knowledge that they would be kept four or five months longer, until the court of appeals hands down its decision, causes them to dance for joy.

CONDITION OF CROPS.

Weather Bureau's Weekly Statistics over Eastern and Middle States.

Washington, July 1.—The weather bureau's crop report shows that the past week has been an exceptionally favorable and that most crops have made rapid and healthy growth. Corn has made unusual progress and cotton and tobacco have improved notably. The conditions for the eastern and middle states are as follows: New England—Grass improving, corn backward, but growing fast; tobacco in good condition. New York—Northern sections need rain badly; spring grains, garden truck, hops, grapes and apples generally growing nicely; corn slightly backward. New Jersey—Frequent showers improved all crop conditions over preceding week. Pennsylvania—All growing crops much improved. Maryland—Weather interfered with haying, harvesting and cultivating, but improved growing crops.

PLEADING FOR M'KANE.

Gov. Morton Urged To Pardon the Gravesend Convict.

Albany, July 1.—Gov. Morton yesterday afternoon listened to another plea in behalf of John Y. McKane, now confined in Sing Sing prison. The party whose mission was to urge clemency for the Gravesend malefactor consisted of the Rev. D. W. Couch and the Rev. Dr. T. L. Poulson of New York, A. T. Tredwell of Brooklyn, and Victor Bedingfield of Flatbush. Mr. Couch acted as spokesman. He declared that McKane's physician announced that he would die unless soon given his freedom. He added that McKane's wife and blind boy needed his care, and that if pardoned McKane would undoubtedly lead a model life. Mr. Couch left with the governor a letter addressed to him by McKane. The governor said he would give the matter his consideration.

Providence Burglars Captured.

Providence, July 1.—Frank Munroe, the burglar who shot Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor in the face because she gave the alarm when she discovered him in her home yesterday afternoon, has been arrested and identified by his victim. His alleged accomplice, a man named Balcom, is also in custody.

STILL CLING TO HOPE

Relatives of the Entombed Miners Loth To Believe Them Dead.

WORK OF RESCUE PUSHED FORWARD

Some Reasons for Hoping That the Men Have Not Perished—Subscriptions to Relief Fund—Many Are Destitute.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 1.—The situation at the twin shaft of the Newton Coal company at Pittston, the scene of Sunday's disaster, is little changed today, except, possibly, that the rescuing work is being conducted under somewhat better conditions. Another large crowd is assembled about the mouth of the shaft this morning. In it are many wives and relatives of the entombed men, who still have hopes that their dear ones will be brought out of the mine alive. Superintendent Law told them that there was nothing new to report. All was being done that was possible to do. The appeal sent out by the board of trade is already meeting with liberal responses. A man from New York, who does not want his name made public, sends $1,000. Smaller subscriptions ranging from $5 to $25 have been received. With the exception of Superintendent Langan's family, all the other families of the other miners are in straightened circumstances. Some of them have already received temporary relief from the town authorities. The cave-in at Joansville about two years ago offers a parallel case to that at the twin shaft. As long as there is a possibility of any of the men being alive, the officials feel it their duty to continue the work of attempted rescue. In the Joanesville cave-in six men were imprisoned in a breast of the mine for nineteen days. On the nineteenth day they were rescued. Five men were dead and one was alive, "Big Joe," a Pole. One by one his companions died at his side; but he continued to hope for a rescue and was at last rewarded. He is now employed as a carpenter at Hazleton and is a healthy man. He has been talked with on the probable fate of the men in the Pittston mine and says that if they are alive and the air is pure where they are, they will be able to live for ten days at least. It is taken for granted there is water where they are, and all of them carried a good supply of food, which could be used sparingly during their imprisonment.

LABOR RIOT AT CLEVELAND.

Police Charge on a Big Crowd of Strikers and Several Are Injured.

Cleveland, O., July 1.—The biggest row which has yet occurred at the Brown Hoisting works took place last evening when the men quit work. The non-strikers, who are also the non-unionists, marched out as usual under police protection to take the street cars. When the cars came along they refused to stop, although commanded to do so by the police, the motormen being presumably in collusion with the strikers. Meantime a mob of at least 5,000 men were surging all around the police who were guarding the workmen. When it became evident that the street cars would not stop, it was determined to march to the fourth precinct for safety. A start was made in that direction, the mob growing more noisy and violent every moment. Finally some one threw a brick which struck Officer Siddell on the head. Drawing their clubs the police then charged, scattering the strikers right and left and knocking them down by the dozen. Twenty men were seriously injured and are now at the different hospitals, while many others received severe scalp wounds and bruises. Fully fifty people were injured by the police. All the ambulances and all the available police force of the city were called to the scene. Two arrests were made. The police made a second charge hurling the strikers across lots, hitting everybody in sight and the fight was over for the day, but threats of vengeance are made and the police are preparing for a big fight this afternoon.

President Cleveland at Greenwich.

Greenwich, Conn., July 1.—E. C. Benedict's palatial yacht Oneida arrived here at 5 o'clock last evening with President Cleveland on board. The president is on his way to his summer home at Gray Gables and was the guest of Mr. Benedict over night, the party stopping at the banker's new house on the site of the old Indian Harbor hotel. Mr. Cleveland was an interested watcher of the special Indian Harbor races. The trip to Gray Gables was resumed to-day.

Killed His Child and Himself.

Fall River, Mass., July 1.—John Connelly, a spinner, cut his 2-year-old child's throat last night and immediately afterwards cut his own. Both were found dead on the floor in Connelly's tenement by his wife, who had gone to her mother's home with her eldest child to make arrangements for the children's care while her husband was out of work. The cause of the deed was undoubtedly discouragement over the poor prospect of obtaining work.

Must Not Use the Mails.

Washington, July 1.—Orders disbarring from the mails for violating the postal regulations are the Indestructable Pile & Pier company, the Dock & Construction company, G. W. Dunn & company, B. F. Whittaker & Co., B. F. Whittaker, Erank J. Waken and Charles M. Vance of New York city.

In Honor of Maj.-Gen. Slocum.

Washington, July 1.—Secretary Lamont has directed that the fortification and army post at Davis island, New York, be named Slocum, for the late Maj.-Gen. William H. Slocum.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Fair and Slightly Warmer Tonight and Thursday.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 75 Degrees.

The New Jersey delegation to the Democratic National convention will leave for Chicago next Saturday.

The State Equal Taxation Commission organized yesterday, making Attorney General Stockton chairman and Mr. Vredenburg secretary of the commission. The commission decided to hold its first meeting in Jersey City July 16th, at which time a programme will be mapped out.

The Republican State committee met yesterday and received the resignation of Garret A. Hobart as a member. Franklin Murphy was re-elected chairman, while Sheriff Toffey, of Hudson county, retired from the treasurership, and John Kean elected to succeed him. No plans were mapped out for the campaign, as active work will not be commenced until September 1st.

"I've lived thirty-six years, and I have never seen a man's unhappiness last more than six months, and I have never seen a woman make a wound in a man's heart that another woman couldn't heal. The modern young man is as tough as—well, I can't think of anything tough enough to campare him to. I've always thought it a pity that the material with which men's hearts are made could't be utilized for manufacturing purposes; think of its value for hinges, or for the toes of little boys' boots, or the heels of their stockings!"—Kate Douglas Wiggin.

There is a feeling among some of the local merchants that Saturday night band concerts will be detrimental to their business on that evening. This is said to have been the result of the open-air concerts on Saturday nights last season. It is argued that even if this condition does not prevail, the people are attracted to the concert until a late hour in the evening and afterwards pour into the stores and keep the clerks behind the counters until midnight, while early in the evening the stores are practically deserted. It is suggested that it would be a good idea to hold all the concerts on other evenings than Saturday. They will prove a popular and attractive feature at any time.

SHE DIDN'T BUY THE NOVEL.

It Was One of Bret Harte's Latest, but She Was His Daughter.

"There is something new," the clerk said; "the latest of his works, a novel of the day, one that is being read by everyone."

He handed the young lady the volume. She merely touched it and a flush of color tinged her cheek. A moment later she turned away and went out. The clerk restored the book to the shelf. At the next counter the clerk laughed at him

"You will learn," he said, not to offer her his books."

"Why, that was Bret Harte's latest, and"—

"And that was Bret Harte's daughter."

There are three Misses Harte, who have resided in Plainfield with their mother for several years. Bret Harte has lived apart from his family since the daughters were little children. There is not the least bitterness between Mr. and Mrs. Harte and despite the fact of their separation they remain good friends. The novelist lives in London and his family move in the best society here. The daughters are very pretty girls, and the eldest, Miss Jessamy Harte, has written for the magazines with much success.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. A CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR PARABLE.

Once upon a time a little brown acorn fell to the ground, and as it lay looking upward into the blue vault of Heaven, a great desire took possession of it, that it might some day become a tree like the mother tree above it. This yearning became so intense the little brown coat was nearly bursted, but cold winds and heavy rains came, and our little acorn was very glad to take shelter in a crevice near by. After lying there a long time, it felt the warmth of returniug spring, and with it a new resolve to do something worthy of itself. The little brown coat became too tight, thought became action, a green bud made its appearance, a leaf, then further growth. It used all the means possible, drinking in the rain, absorbing the sunlight, spreading its roots here and there, taking fast hold of the rocks beneath, one aim and object in view,—looking upward, spreading outward, — an honor to the forest, and a delight for man. Do you read my story? Do you see in the acorn the desire that took possession of a few of our earnest Christian Endeavor workers a long time ago, that our much loved city should receive the blessing that comes from an enthusiastic host gathered together in a State Convention? Like the little acorn, it met with some disappointments; when the convention met in New Brunswick in October, '94, how Plainfield longed to be the favored one for '95, but no, Atlantic City was chosen, and Plainfield came home and settled down to more thorough preparation for the coming year.

With the dawning of another season there were signs of returning life; it sprung up with renewed energy, spreading out its roots like the acorn until it touched Dunellen, Bound Brook, Washingtonville, South Plainfield and many other places, work commenced in earnest, papers were drawn up asking for signatures requesting this favor. Great plans were made and fully materialized for the gathering at Atlantic City. The "White Caps" were everywhere. The tree came to its height when the decision was given, "Plainfield, '96." But like our tree we must not be satisfied with height alone, but must spread out giving shade, to be of service and bearing fruit to help others. There is to be a harvest this fall and it depends upon each one of us dear Christian Endeavorers. We can make this just what we will. Like our tree we must be firmly rooted to the rock, Christ Jesus. We must aim high, get enthused with the spirit of true Christian Endeavor, so that our friends may receive inspiration from us. Then when we come together in October and listen to the host of earnest speakers, become enraptured with the soul inspiring music, there shall not only be a blessing for each one present, it shall be so great each delegate may carry home an abundance, so that our whole State shall feel the influence of the tenth anniversary of Christian Endeavor in New Jersey.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

FOR EYE AND EAR.

Tableaux and a Phonograph Make Up a Pleasant Entertainment.

The lecture room of the First Baptist church was filled with people last evening when a pleasant entertainment was given under the auspices of the Baptist Boys' Brigade, Co. B, 3d Regiment. The room was prettily decorated with red, white and blue bunting, and American flags. There were two features, a phonograph and tableaux. The former was operated by Mr. Ingalls, of Montclair, and he gave an excellent programme of the latest selections. The first tableau was entitled "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground." Douglass Drake took the part of the sentinel. John Hull, Louis McLaughlin, Arthur Drake and Frank Sheppard were the soldiers at the camp fire. The next tableau was entitled "Rally 'Round the Flag." Miss Emma Case took the part of the Goddess of Liberty, and she was surrounded by the entire brigade. The tableaux were very fine and reflected credit on those in charge, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Biglow, Jr., Edward Wilson, Miss Harold, Miss Bonny and Miss Case. Selections on the phonograph interspersed the tableaux. It is thought that the profits of the entertainments will be about $20.

Colored Odd Fellows.

Union Lodge, No. 4026, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, composed of thirty-two colored young men, was organized last evening in the lodge rooms over Hallock's hat store, by members of St. Mark's Lodge, of Jersey City. There was also a delegation from Pride of Essex Lodge, of Newark. After the organization was completed a fine collation was served. The new lodge will meet on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month and they will elect officers at their next meeting.

Let the Eagle Scream.

The Fourth of July Committee of the Park Club met last evening and completed arrangements for their celebration, which will do doubt surpass anything of the kind ever held. They decided to charge an admission fee of 10 cents to the ball game in the morning, the proceeds to go to the Y. M. C. A. The score cards for the game will be very unique and everybody will want one.

Funeral of a Railroad Victim.

The funeral services of the late Jas. Nolan, who was killed Monday afternoon on the railroad at Dunellen, were held this morning from St. John's church, Dunellen. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery, this city.

Rode Without A Light.

Bert Harte, of Elizabeth, was arrested Monday night for riding without a light and came up for trial yesterday afternoon. His light went out as he struck a sewer bump and he did not know it. The lantern was warm when he was arrested. Sentence was suspended on him.

Justice and Mrs. William Newcorn have the sympathy of the community in the loss of their little baby, which occurred this morning.

Customer— I want a remedy for catarrh.

Drug Clerk—All right, sir. Here's a blood tonic that is advertised to build up the constitution.

Customer— Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! I want immediate relief; besides, catarrh is a local affection, and no tonic or blood purifier ever made can cure it. Here's 50 cents. Let me have Ely's Cream Balm. It's the only hing I know of to cure catarrh.

A Valuable Dog Run Over.

W. E. Lowe's prize beadle pup was run over by the Alert Hose Company's wagon on Park avenue this morning. The dog strayed out into the street and got in the way of the apparatus, which was out for an airing.

Miss Mamie Walsh, of the West End, who has been quite ill, is now able to be out.

The many friends of A. Vanderbeek, of Second place, were pleased to see him enjoying a ride on his wheel today for the first time since his serious illness.

—The Exempt Firemen's Association met last evening and transacted routine business.

—Somerset Council, No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., will not take part in the celebration at Bound Brook, July 4th, as was intended, owing to the death of Joseph Bosterli, who was a member of the Council.

YOUR PALATE IS YOUR STOMACH'S CONSCIENCE.

YOUR STOMACH KNOWS WHAT IS GOOD FOR YOU.

Thin people are thin because the food they eat is not absorbed. Reasons, either wrong food, or right food undigested.

Fat, oils and grease will not make any one fat. This is because they are indigestible Thin people find it hard to digest their food. Fatty foods make it still harder.

Have you ever noticed that almost without exception, thin, pale, dyspeptic, anæmic people have an aversion to fat? This is of itself proof enough that such foods are bad for them.

Let your palate tell you what to eat. Nature makes very few mistakes and we should listen to what she says.

Thin people may become fatter, and dyspeptics more comfortable by taking Shaker Digestive Cordial. It agrees with the weakest stomach. It helps the weak stomach digest other food. It is fattening and invigorating in itself, for it contains artificially digested food.

The Mount Lebanon Shakers have made a great many interesting discoveries within the past hundred years but none more important than this ingenious cure for all diseases which are traceable to faulty digestion. A single 10 cent bottle will tell whether it is adapted to your case, and can be had through any druggist.

FORGETTING.

How often the cares of yesterday,
The past with its ghost of pain,
Rise up to our burdened souls to-day
And we bear them all again!

Yet, why should we worry and grieve in mind?
The past can return no more.
'Twere better forgetting the things behind
And reaching to those before.

It matters not what "might have been;"
The great are the things to be;
And the highest aim is to now begin
To live for eternity.

Then, leaving the changeless past for aye,
Forgetting its trials and tears,
Step out in the newer, brighter day
And live in the coming years.
—Rev. C. Owen Larrison, in N. W. Christian Advocate.

BLACK BUTTERFLIES.

How They Presaged Evil for the Girl Who Loved Lieut. Taunton.

The devotion of her look was affording amusement to the chaperons and elderly officers, who, by reason of physical infirmities, were convinced that dancing is a hollow vanity, and therefore abstained from it, but not from comments upon people and frocks, which have been definitely proven not to be vanities, and are indulged in by the most potent, grave and reverend signors, and have their sanction.

She was dancing with Taunton, waltzing the long-stepped, fast, gliding waltz which the cavalry officer is apt to affect, and which has in it the dash and verve commonly supposed to be attributes of that gallant branch of the service.

It was a case of true love, and had not run smooth. Miss Rossini was torn between a desire to obey her parents and the wish to give way to Taunton's entreaties. The outcome of the conflict has been written beforehand in the book of life these thousands of centuries. A weakness of will—sweetly feminine, but trying when it is not one's self that wields the power—was her worst fault. Her promises were governed entirely by the speaker of the moment. To her father she swore eternal renunciation of Taunton; to Taunton eternal fidelity in her love; and yet, if untruth is to be judged only by its intention, she was not guilty of falsehood. The time had passed, some two weeks before, when she might with honesty tell her father that she would give the first lieutenant up forever. Moreover, Capt. Rossini had begun to lose faith in her promises. At last she replied to his remonstrances one day that she loved Taunton, that he loved her, and that she meant eventually to marry him. At this she turned first red and then pale, but remained firm against all the paternal wrath turned on her head with a vehemence and force of language calculated to impress her with the deep respect a child should nourish toward the author of its being. To his choice epithets she made no reply. The humor of the situation struck her even then—the vast paradox of parental reverence. But she showed the obstinacy which lies at the bottom of even a weak nature, which is part of the instinct of self-preservation, and she held her tongue.

The strain was telling on her, however. She was greatly changed from the girl who, but six months before, had come back from school to the gayety and adulation of a big army post. The suffering gave a sweetness to her rather cool prettiness, which lent her charm. The garrison was sorry for her; it did all in its power to help along the meetings of this much enamored couple, and succeeded only too well.

Capt. and Mrs. Rossini were persons of a type not prevalent in the service, with an eye very much to the main chance, worldly wise to a degree. A rich man "back east," who had taken a fancy to the little boarding-school miss, and who sent numerous letters, rolls of music, books and boxes of candy, was looked upon as a far better match than a first lieutenant, even a most exemplary first lieutenant, as Taunton certainly was. When Taunton's attentions had become too marked, he had been forbidden the house, and Lucia had been commanded to repulse him. The mere fact that she promised faithfully to do so, in the presence of her father's wrath had no influence on her when once she was thrown with her lover. It was a choice of evils; whether she should oppose her parents or Taunton, and she chose the former as less unpleasant.

Just at first they kept their meetings secret, but once they were discovered they threw aside concealment and saw each other openly under the very eyes of the powerless father and mother. They took long rides along the foothills, long walks around the outskirts of the garrison. Taunton striding along with his fine head very erect, his gray eyes seeing nothing but the girl at his side, who picked her way daintily among the litter of tin cans and broken bottles and old horse-shoes that marked the approach to the post. There were no leafy bowers under which to stroll, and no velvety swards to press their feet upon; but they could well afford to ignore the surroundings; it is only later in life that we learn the value of the background to the picture. By common consent they avoided straying to the creek, where the willows and cottonwoods were thick and green; the "men" and their sweethearts held that field. At the hops, too, they danced together a great deal of the time, and made no secret of the infatuation. Capt. Rossini looked savage and Mrs. Rossini was manifestly uneasy, but an open scene was not to be thought of, public opinion being against the parents. There were bad half-hours and tearful nights for Lucia after each defiance, but there was more sweet in Taunton's love than bitter in her father's fury.

And so it happened that the long notes of the "Santiago" were bearing the two onward with other dancers, snatches of singing, of laughter and of conversation sounding with the music until there broke in suddenly, drowning it all, a clang, a roar, a bellow of thunder. The music hesitated, for an instant; for an instant there was a cessation of movement and exclamations of fear; then the bright figures swayed on and the chatter was resumed, and the damp, cool wind of a summer shower blew over them, while the rain beat down on the roof and ground.

But Taunton's eyes had lost, somehow, the look of perfect content; the girl's head was farther away from his shoulder, and the swing had gone from their step. They stopped by an open window to let the fresh wind blow over them. There came a sudden gust which wafted in a great dark butterfly that, in the rays of artificial light, seemed dead black, the omen of impending harm. It fluttered for an instant, dazzled and wind-beaten; fluttered and circled around, then, spreading its shadow wings, it floated steadily, relentlessly upon Taunton and the girl beside him. She watched it with parted lips and frightened eyes as it came toward her out of the lightning-streaked night, and neither moved until it sank and settled on her light hair. Then she threw up both arms and brushed it off with a heavy blow. The creature of the night flew out into the storm again with a drooping wing.

An orderly crossed the hop-room to the adjutant, who was speaking to the band-master, but none of the listening ears could hear the soldier's message.

"Well, play it if you can find the music," the adjutant said, coolly, then wheeled about and followed the orderly.

He was back again in ten minutes, speaking hurriedly to Taunton. Taunton answered, bowed his head, and turning away, crossed the room to where Capt. Rossini stood with his daughter.

"Good evening, captain," he said, and waiting for no reply, put his hand on Lucia's arm and drew her aside with an air of proprietorship that left the father aghast.

"Lucia, listen, dear. I've hardly time for even the good-by. Don't look so frightened; it amounts to nothing. Simply some trouble over at the agency that makes it necessary for me to go up there instantly with a detachment. You know there has been expectation of trouble for some time. My dear child, you must not look like that; how silly of a soldier's daughter! I tell you I'll be back in a few days. If you are going to faint, come out in the air; the rain has stopped."

She took his arm and let him drag her out upon the steps. The music came to them from within and smothered the sound of their voices.

"Marion, you aren't going to go away? How can you, how can you?" she said, in a whisper.

"How can I? Why, because I'm ordered. But I've an order for you, in turn."

"Well?" She bent her fan and worked her fingers nervously, still leaning hard on his arm.

"You must go with me instantly and tell your father."

"I won't," she answered, with set teeth.

"Why, but Lucia, you will if I say so."

"I won't."

"Then I'll do it alone."

"I can't stop you, but if you do I shall hate you—as much as I have loved you."

"But why? He must be told some time. I'm in a fearful hurry. As a matter of fact, I've no right to be here now; if the C. O. catches me, I'll get the dickens. Come along and tell him."

"I said I wouldn't, and I won't."

"What makes you so obstinate? It's not like you."

"It's like me sometimes. It's like me when I'm afraid."

"Afraid of what?"

"Of papa. I wouldn't mind so dreadfully if you were going to be here, but I think it's mean and cowardly of you to leave me to bear the brunt of it all alone for days and days. It might kill me. I'm worried to death now."

A tear dropped on Taunton's hand and melted his firmness in a moment. He began to plead. "But, Lucia, he must know in a few weeks at most. I've let you persuade me too long already. We ought to have been brave and open in the first place, or else have gone up and made our confession immediately. What the deuce ever made me give in to your silly fears, I can't understand."

"You were glad enough to get me 'most anyway."

"I suppose that's it. But let me tell your father now. It would be so much better in case—anything were to happen to me."

"Oh, Marion, there's no danger, is there?"

"Probably not. But you can't always be sure. You see, it would be better to have it over with if I should get—hurt."

"You won't, I'm sure you won't. Don't tell him yet, Marion, please don't, and oh, don't get killed! Do you think the black butterfly meant anything—do you?"

"Of course not. Lucia, I'm doing wrong to give in to you, I know it, and—but here comes Murray; he mustn't catch me here. Good-by, little girl, good-by. I wish you were braver. Adios!"

Taunton ran down the steps, and, keeping in the shadows of the buildings, strode off to the troop quarters. And the girl stood there in the darkness, looking with wide eyes up at the sky, where gray, thick clouds drifted together and apart, showing patches of starry, black heavens, and covering them over as quickly. The cottonwoods rustled in the wind, and her hair blew over her face, all damp and clinging. She bent her fan until one of the sticks snapped, and started at the sound. She turned about and looked at the barracks where F troop was making ready to depart—a portion of the troop, that is. Men ran by alone, or leading horses; orderlies galloped beneath the shadow of the trees. Shaking with cold, she stood there, her heart seeming numb and still. From the open doors of the soldiers' quarters fell bars of light, and uniformed figures passed in and out, forward and backward. She saw Taunton run along and hurry to his house. In five minutes he was back again in scouting-clothes. All this the light from the barracks showed her. When he had started for his quarters, she had wavered for a second, almost determined to go to him and tell him she would do as he wished. But, as usual, it ended in indecision. It would be all right when he came back, it would be time enough then. She threw up her arm and brushed away a black, flying thing, whose big, soft wings had touched her cheek.

The music had stopped and begun again, and again stopped while she stood there. People had passed her by, going out, but they had not seen her in the shadows of the corner.

There came a sudden silence. The leaves of the trees stopped their whisperings, the wind died away in the night, the voices about ceased their murmurings, the rain-drops clung to the branches; and out from the silence came the word of command which all the garrison and the rigid woman were waiting to hear: "Prepare to mount. Mount."

A clash of accoutrements, a trampling of hoofs, the wind blew fresh once more, the leaves rustled and shook down the drops, and the world went on.

The woman brushed her hair from her eyes, gathered up her skirts, and walked home alone.

It was a beautiful morning after the storm. Every one was on the porches watching guard-mounting with as much interest as if it had never been gone through before, deeply engrossed in the choosing of the commanding officer's orderly.

A second lieutenant sat upon the steps of Capt. Rossini's quarters, beside the captain's fair daughter, who was smiling and talking in her old lively way. The second lieutenant reflected that she could not have been much in love with Taunton after all; she seemed in nowise depressed by his absence on an expedition which was not quite safe, at best. The second lieutenant gathered hopes, for there was a lingering fondness for the pretty creature in his own heart.

So they talked and laughed and watched guard-mounting in the sunshine of the cool morning. When it was over, and the adjutant, and officer of he day, and the ex-officer of the day were going their ways, there came a sound of the hoofs of a galloping horse, and a courier from the agency drew up at the commandant's quarters, while the people on the porches craned their necks and strained their ears in a vain attempt to hear the mud-splashed man's message.

The Rossinis' house was next to the commanding officer's. Lucia jumped up and ran down near the courier.

"Lucia! come back here! What do you mean?" thundered the captain, indulging in some assorted oaths.

She wheeled about and faced him. "I am going to see what has happened to my husband," she said, deliberately, and did not wait to notice the look on his dark face. The second lieutenant leaned against the railing for support.

The courier's words were low; but Lucia heard the tidings of death as plainly as if he had shouted them aloud. She flushed—and then turned very pale. There came a queer thud in her heart and a whir in her head, and all she saw was thousands upon thousands of black butterflies that flew around her. She laughed and put up her hands to seize them, bit at them, struck at them, shook her clenched fists at them, fighting off the dull wings that only herself could see.—Gwendolen Overton, in San Francisco Argonaut.

LITERARY TREE OF THIBET.

Natives of the Country Look Upon It with Superstitious Awe.

One by one the traditions of antiquity and the illusions of youth are ruthlessly dispelled. Many people will hear with sorrow and regret that the sacred tree of Kum-Bum in Thibet is, on no less an authority than Mr. Thistleton-Dyer, of Kew Gardens, a fraud and an imposture, like the mahatmas of that interesting but thoroughly mendacious land. Who has not heard of the wonderful tree which sprang from the spot where the mother of Toong-Kape shaved her worthy offspring's head when she dedicated him to the divinities and threw his matted hair on the ground? Ever since that memorable event the leaves on its branches and the bark on its trunk have not been the same as on ordinary trees, but contained sacred prayers and symbols, which were supposed to grow naturally on them, and diffused a strong odor of incense. The priests were very jealous of it, watched over it themselves, and were careful to prevent strangers seeing either leaves or branches until ready to be sold, with letters and signs on them. Travelers, however, have now managed to obtain specimens, and they have been critically examined by experts here. The tree has been identified as an ordinary syringa villosa, common in China, and any marks which the leaves contain are impressed on them by the priests with molds, aided probably with heat. As Mr. Thistleton-Dyer remarks, the sacred tree is "an elaborate fraud." Kum-Bum, therefore, goes the way of the celebrated plant in Kent which was believed to produce live geese on its branches. One of the early popes sent a messenger to investigate our southeastern county's phenomenon. When he arrived the people there told him the tree grew in the midlands; in the midlands they said it was only to be found in Scotland; in Scotland they said it flourished solely in the Orkneys, and had he gone there he would very likely have been informed that the goose tree acted as the north pole. At all events he could not find it. The sacred plant of Kum-Bum must now be placed in the same category of delusions and relegated to the dustbin of exploded impostures.—London Telegraph.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redying. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

THE USUAL SUMMER SUSPENSIONS

Glass Workers in Pennsylvania and New Jersey Laid Off Last Evening—Business Shut-Downs in Other States.

Pittsburg, July 1.—All the union green-glass bottle factories and some departments of the union flint-glass factories stopped last night for the annual sixty-days' vacation. The suspension of the green-glass branch is with the perfunctory consent of the manufacturers, but in the flint-glass trade the manufacturers are as willing to stop as the workers. In the chimney and prescription branch of the flint trade the suspension will effect approximately 4,500 workers, a large proportion of whom are in Pittsburg and vicinity. In the green-bottle branch there are about 13,000 men and boys included. Both trades will hold an annual convention next week, and each will have for consideration strong demands from the manufacturers for conditions that will establish something like equality between the union and non-union manufacturers.

Jersey Glass Factories Closed.

Millville, N. J., July 1.—The glass factories throughout southern New Jersey closed down yesterday afternoon for the summer and 5,000 workmen will begin a two months' vacation. The first part of the present season was a failure, but since the first of the year nearly all fires have been in full blast. From present indications the men will ask the maufacturers for an increased scale of wages for the next fire.

More Than 8,000 Workers Made Idle.

Youngstown, O., July 1.—Every mill in the Mahoning valley, including Youngstown, Warren, Niles, Girard and Struthers, shut down last evening pending a settlement of the rate per ton for boiling. The manufacturers offer to sign the scale at $4 per ton, while the Amalgamated association is holding out for $4.50. Eight thousand five hundred mill workers will be out of employment until a settlement is reached. The conference committee will meet again in this city on July 9.

A Waltham Watch Factory Closed.

Waltham, Mass., July 1.—The American Watch company's factory shut down yesterday afternoon for its annual summer vacation. About 300 hands will remain until unfinished work is completed. This will take till July 17. The factory will resume operations about August 5.

SPANISH OUTRAGES.

Two More Peaceful Cubans Taken from Their Homes and Murdered.

Havana, July 1.—Serafin Sierena, a grocery store clerk, 29 years old, and Emiliano Puldo, a baker, 22 years old, residents of Jarnce, Havana province, were taken from their homes recently to the outskirts of the town and killed by the Spanish civil guards. No reasons were assigned for the act. Col. Aldea's men have burned the houses on the stock farm of Francisco Maria Fernandez, near Bolondron, Matanzas province. Mr. Fernandez is an American doctor, and formerly lived in Brooklyn, N. Y. At sunrise yesterday an unknown schooner was seen off Copimar, near Havana. She was fired upon from the shore, but succeeded in making a landing further down the coast. She was under the protection of an insurgent force believed to be part of Aguirrue's command. She was then lost sight of. It is said that the schooner sailed from Havana despite the vigilance of the Spanish authorities.

Postmasters Appointed.

Washington, July 1.—The president has appointed the following postmasters: New Jersey—Michael A. Devine, Atlantic City; Charles H. Pierson, Bridgeton; George McCracken, Dover, William Pintard, Red Bank. New York—Charles W. Anderson, Fishkill-on-the-Hudson; John F. Brennan, Highland Falls; Norman W. Kelso, Mechanicsville; Albert J. Smith, Northville; Charles L. Amoreaux, Schoharie.

Run Down by Scorchers.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 1.—Mrs. William S. Johnston of this city, wife of one of the well-known Johnson Bros., who own railroad restaurants at Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo and many other cities along the New York Central and the West Shore railroads, was riding a bicycle yesterday when she was run down by a gang of scorchers and seriously injured, but will probably recover.

Farm Buildings Burned.

Amsterdam, N. Y., July 1.—Late yesterday afternoon the residence and farm buildings on James Voorhees' farm at Fort Hunter were burned. In addition to many farming implements considerable of the household furniture was destroyed. The loss, which is about $10,000, is thought to be covered by insurance.

Erie Railroad Earnings.

New York, July 1.—For the month of May the gross earnings of the Erie Railroad company were $2,591,690, an increase of $79,464; operating expenses, $1,887,010, an increase of $68,949, and net earnings, $704,679, an increase of $10,515.

To Receive 20 Per Cent. of Their Claims.

Hartford, July 1.—Judge Robinson in the superior court has ordered receiver W. W. Hyde to pay the creditors of the Waring Electric company of Manchester 20 per cent. of their claims as allowed. The sum of $3,100 was allowed as legal expenses.

SHOULD WOMAN WEEP?

If She Must, Let Her Shed Her Tears Artistically.

"Should woman weep?" is a topic of discussion by the readers of Woman, a London publication. One contributor puts in a most emphatic "No!" The crying woman, it is maintained, is out of date—she belongs to the '40's and '50's, and not to this end of the century. Women was then a submissive slave and man the righteous ruler. Now all is changed. The new woman is here and she rules; therefore, she should not cry.

In the opinion of another writer, a woman should cry provided she does so "noiselessly." "If her face begins to swell, all wails should cease and she must not sniff, gulp or otherwise make an object of herself. If she does all the pathos of her crying is gone." The idea is thrown out that "style" in weeping should be cultivated; for there are several "forms" of weeping. "Some weep alone to their pillow in the dead of night." This, it is held, is a mistake, because it makes the weeper old and ugly before her time, and does not do anybody the slightest good.

Then there is the woman who is crying at every opportune and inopportune moment. That is bad form in weeping. The "whimpering style, with a grievance, usually found in the past middle-age lady," is to be shunned. The worst form of all is the "red-faced cry of temper," which usually asserts itself in an injudicious stamp of the beautifully arched Trilby and ends in a general stampede of the assembled multitude.

A WAR NOTE.

Col. John A. Cockerill's Happy Retort to a Boastful Britisher.

Representative Mercer, of Nebraska, met the late Col. John A. Cockerill during his trip through Japan about a year ago, says the Washington Post. Cockerill was then acting as war correspondent for the New York Herald. Representatives of all nations gathered at Yokohama, many of them tourists and others on business. It was at this time that Cockerill ran across a cockney Briton, who was boasting about the great prowess of his country, and making rather slighting allusions to the United States. His remarks aroused Cockerill's war spirit, and he told the Englishman that inasmuch as the United States had twice whipped England it could probably do so again.

"O—ah—my deah sah!" said the doughty Briton, "you ah mistaken, surely. If I remembah the history of my country we took yah capitol and burned it, don't you know?"

"Yes," said Cockerill, "you did take the capitol. And if I remember the history of my country you also took Bunker Hill. But you didn't take it very far. You let go of both of them like a red-hot brick, and at last accounts they were still in our possession. But let me tell you what we'll do next time we have a war with you. We'll go over there, tow your snug little island across the Atlantic, and haul it up the bay to New York for a wharf."

The Englishman did not continue the argument.

THE PRINCE OF MONACO.

Proprietor of the Famous Gaming Resort Receives President Faure.

Attention is called to that interesting person the prince of Monaco by the fact that the president of the French republic has just paid him a visit, says the New York Journal. Monaco is a principality within the borders and under the domination of a republic, and its internal government is at the same time a despotism compared to which the prince has himself said that of the czar's is mild.

His revenues from the gambling tables of Monte Carlo are very large. The principality is eight square miles in extent and includes the old and picturesque town of Monaco and the wicked but beautiful Monte Carlo. The prince legislates with the aid of such advisers as he chooses and a law goes into force by his decree solely. The name of the royal family is Grimraldi and it has reigned for 900 years. The present prince, Albert, is 48. He married first a sister of the duke of Hamilton. Eleven years later he was divorced for reasons that are not publicly known, the pope consenting to annul the marriage, a very unusual proceeding. The prince afterward married the widow of Duc de Richelieu, who is also a kinswoman of the poet Heine.

HOW TO WRITE A PLAY.

It Is Easy Enough If You Follow This Outline.

As a general thing the plays produced at the theaters these days are enough alike to create the impression that one man wrote all of them. The heroine, says the Atchison Globe, a foundling, is adopted by people who once had a daughter who ran off and disappeared. The villain discovers that the foundling is in reality the grandchild of her foster parents, and makes up his mind to marry her to get the old folks' money. He plots to get the hero, with whom the heroine is in love, out of the way. He charges him with murder, or with forgery (there the writer has a chance to vary his plot a little bit; he can have forgery to-night and murder to-morrow night) and the hero is put in jail.

The soubrette and the funny man unearth the plot, liberate the hero, accuse the villain, who confesses all, and in the last scene the old people find their grandchild, the heroine and her lover are united, the soubrette and the funny man agree to tie up, and the villain shoots himself.

Those who are ambitious to become play-writers will find in these details all the ingredients necessary to mix up for a popular play.

Increase of Penalty.

The old penalty against a German soldier or sailor of the standing army or navy who left the Fatherland was a fine of 200 marks or 40 days' imprisonment. That has now been raised to 1,000 marks' fine, or imprisonment for four months.

UNCLE SAM'S CASH

Big Deficit for the Fiscal Year Just Closed.

IT WILL REACH OVER $25,000,000

Outlook for the Opening Months of the Present Year Is Not Encouraging—Very Heavy Expenditures To Come.

Washington, July 1.—The fiscal year closed last night with an excess of expenditures over receipts of about $25,500,000. This is considerably in excess of the predictions that have prevailed through the greater part of the year, and until even a few weeks ago. Nor is the outlook for the opening months of the new fiscal year encouraging. July is usually a month of heavy expenditures, and this year large payments on river and harbor improvements, pensions and the sugar bounty will have to be met. There is no reason to expect any large increase in receipts, government officials declare, and the Chicago platform may disquiet trade and produce a further dropping off in the government's income. In treasury circles the belief prevails that the coming year will show a greater deficit than this year. The appropriations are larger, and the revenues not likely to increase very materially.

SEVEN SOLDIERS KILLED.

Fierce Fire and Explosion in a German Barracks.

Berlin, July 1.—An arsenal near Fort Moselle, one of the forts in the vicinity of Metz, the capital of Lorraine, was discovered to be on fire last night. The discovery caused consternation among the people in the neighborhood, for the reason that there is an immense store of explosives in the arsenal. The garrison troops were hurriedly turned out to fight the flames and to prevent, if possible, an explosion which, should it occur, would be disastrous. While the soldiers were at work there was an explosion of a comparatively small amount of ammunition, which killed several men and injured a number of others. This caused much excitement and dread, but the troops, after a moment's hesitation bravely resumed their work. Large quantities of gunpowder and shells were hastily removed to places of safety, but there yet remained enough to blow the arsenal to atoms should the fire reach it. Shortly before midnight the fire was still burning, but later was gotten under control.

YALE CREW AT HENLEY.

In a Practice Spin They Cover the Full Course in 7:26.

Henley, July 1.—The Yale men last night practiced with pair oars for two hours before rowing over the full course. They covered the full course in 7:26, and the half in 3:35, rowing 37 and 36 strokes to the minute. The New college crew made the last half of the course in 3:30. The Emanuel college crew rowed over the course in 7:30. They were picked up on the last half by the Trinity hall boat. Their poor time was owing to their poor condition, but they made half the course in 3:33. F. Clark, the coxswain of the Yale crew, who has been suffering from an attack of tonsilitis, is much improved and will occupy his place in the boat in to-day's practice. Longacre, No. 6 in the Yale boat, who suffered some days from neuralgia, has entirely recovered. The stretches in Yale's boat have been adjusted to fit the changed slides.

Hobart's Resignation Tabled.

Newark, N. J., July 1.—The state republican committee at its meeting yesterday afternoon refused to accept the resignation of Garrett A. Hobart as a member of the executive committee of that body. Mr. Hobart was present and urged the acceptance of the resignation. The paper was tabled by unanimous consent. Franklin Murphy was re-elected chairman, John Kean was elected treasurer, vice J. J. Taffey, resigned, and John Y. Foster was chosen secretary.

Plans of Speaker Reed.

Melrose, Mass., July 1.—Amos Allen of Alfred, Me., private secretary to speaker Thomas B. Reed, says: "If Mr. Reed again enters politics it will be to run for congress from his old district. If nominated Mr. Reed would stump his own district and then his state, and if he had any time available, his service would be at the disposal of the republican national committee."

Valuable Barns and Creamery Burned.

Morristown, N. J., July 1.—The extensive barns, cow house, creamery and ice house belonging to D. Willis James, and situated in the rear of his estate near Madison were destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. A large amount of hay, farming tools and machinery were burned. The loss, which will amount to $20,000, is partially covered by insurance.

A British Steamer Sunk.

Para, Brazil, July 1.—The British steamer Santrense, bound to this port from Lisbon, has been sunk in collision with the four-masted British ship Dundonald, Capt. Girvan, bound from San Francisco on March 10, for Hull, England. No lives were lost. The Dundonald was damaged and leaked badly.

Wreck of the Capulet.

St. Johns, N. F., July 1.—The revenue cutter Fiona is doing excellent work at the Capulet wreck. Hopes are entertained that she will secure the balance of the mail aboard the steamer. The investigation into the cause of the wreck is proceeding, and is likely to be completed to-day.

SPORTS

WEDNESDAY, July 1. Sun rises 4:29 a. m., sets 7:34 p. m. Lanterns must be lighted between 8:34 p. m. and 3:29 a. m.

Cyclists desiring to join the League of American Wheelmen will be furnished with application blanks and necessary information by addressing the Cycling Department of the Daily Press.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, of East Front street, is one of the latest cycle enthusiasts.

Charles Seibel, Jr., rode on his wheel from Titusville to Plainfield recently in four-and-a-half hours.

Jay Eaton and H. B. Mosher, of the Jersey team, ride at Bridgeport on July 4th. They leave for that place today.

Frank Fulton, of Leggett's pharmacy, started early this morning on his wheel for Asbury Park, expecting to return tonight. He is going to see in how short a time he can ride the 126 miles.

The Crescent Wheelmen gave up possession yesterday of their old clubhouse on East Second street, and will take up temporary quarters over Woolston & Buckle's store on North avenue while deciding on a permanent clubhouse.

The cyclists of Monroe Avenue chapel have arranged another run for Friday evening. They start from the chapel at 7:30 o'clock and on their return will go to the residence of Mrs. James Rogers for a little refreshment and a good time.

The record for a ride to New Brunswick and return is now held by Edgar I. Serrell, who made the distance in one hour and four minutes. A. E. Woltmann and Meredith Dryden checked him at New Brunswick. He will make an attempt next week to lower the record to the even hour.

The pedestrians on Park avenue yesterday afternoon at about five o'clock were treated to a little impromptu circus performance. Clifford Braider, of Randolph's pharmacy was riding down the street when a stray dog ran directly in front of him. Braider's wheel stopped but Braider turned a somersault over the handles landing on his back. Luckily, neither he nor the wheel were seriously damaged by the fall. This is not the first time that a dog has brought a a Plainfield cyclist to the ground.

Several weeks ago a young man named Winterhalter, of Bayonne, accomplished the unprecedented feat of riding from Elizabeth to Philadelphia and return in 12 hours and 20 minutes. The story of this famous ride reached Elizabeth and the riders of the E.A.C. heard it incredulously. At last they sent word to Bayonne that there was $500 in Elizabeth that said Winterhalter could not duplicate the performance. Winterhalter did not have $500 to put into the race against time, but he agreed to put up all his savings, $50, if the rest could be raised. Bayonne cyclists rallied to their comrade's aid, and already over $1,000 has been subscribed. The only condition Winterhalter asks is that delays caused by punctures, other accidents and rain, shall not be counted, but only his riding time counted. All that now remains to be done is to arrange the final details. Winterhalter will pass through Plainfield going and returning.

LAWN TENNIS.

The local tennis cracks will meet to decide who is champion, on Saturday, at the tournament that will be held at H. V. Ryder's court, 615 East Front street. The tournament will be open only to players of Plainfield and North Plainfield and will be for the championship of "Greater Plainfield." The entrance fee is fifty cents. The entries close Friday with Henry V. Ryder or Thomas U. Smith. The first prize will be a Campbell tennis racket, but there will be a number of others donated by local dealers. Albert P. Simmonds has a very good show to win the tournament, but there are likely to be several "dark horses" in the race that will push him hard.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

Ireanus P. Allen, of Somerset street, is now the owner of the well-known trotting mare "Fan." He bought the animal in at a recent auction sale, and seems very much pleased with his bargain.

The Rahway Athletic Association has decided to disband, and has sold its grandstands to the Woodbridge and Rahway Driving Club. Most of the members have joined the Union County Roadsters.

Eli Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles for twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

REMEDIES CURE

CATARRH AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

Catarrh Leads to Indigestion, Insomnia, Nervous Disorders, Consumption, and Many Other Diseases.—Munyon Positively Cures by His New Method.

Are you a sufferer with catarrh? Have you taken all sorts of drug and patent nostrums? Are you tired of paying big doctor bills without being cured? Are you willing to spend 50 cents for a cure that permanently cures catarrh by removing the cause of the disease? If so, ask your druggist for a 25-cent bottle of Munyon's Catarrh Cure and a 25 cent bottle of Catarrh Tablets. The Catarrh Cure will eradicate the disease from the system and the Tablets will cleanse and heal the afflicted parts and restore them to a natural and healthful condition.

Personal letters to Prof. Munyon, 1505 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

AROUND THE BASES.

In making your plans for July 4th try and arrange to attend the great base ball game in the afternoon between the old 1892 team and the Y. M. C. A. team. It will be great fun to see George Cornwell grace the diamond once more, and then Joe Lufberry, the old time favorite, will be there. Joe Gavett and Hervey Doane can be seen almost every day down by the brook practicing for the game. Tom Kellar rides ten miles on his wheel every evening to reduce his weight. Every member of the old team is working hard to get in condition for the event of the season. Let everybody turn out and help the Y. M. C. A. team, who are in need of funds.

Rev. W. C. O'Donnell and Rev. H. C. Johnston rode on their wheels to Boynton Beach today.

Did you ever think how readily the blood is poisoned by constipation? Bad blood means bad health and premature old age. DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills, overcome obstinate constipation. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 143 West Fron Street.

DID YOU EVER THINK THAT THOSE HEADACHES WHICH HAVE CAUSED YOU SUCH INTENSE SUFFERING MAY BE PRODUCED BY EYE STRAIN?

TAXPAYERS INTERESTED

A PROPER ADJUSTMENT OF THE SEWER TAX WILL BE DIFFICULT.

A Correspondent Criticises the Law That Prevents the Property Owners From Serving on the Tax Commission.

The publication, Wednesday evening, in The Press of the proposed meetings in August of the Sewer Tax Commission has already created great interest among the taxpayers of Plainfield. The questions that are likely to arise will cause considerable discussion pro and con, and many plans will doubtless be suggested from the parties interested, which will require great patience and due consideration from the commission before a proper adjustment can be satisfactorily adopted.

The following letters have been received:

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The question of a proper adjustment of the sewer tax I see by The Press tonight will shortly come up for consideration. The tax when once apportioned will be charged up against property owners, and if the tax is not equally made it will be most unjust. Parties owning farming land may avoid the tax when later they will reap all the benefits when their property is divided and cut up into streets and building lots. Many are deeply interested in this matter, and the outcome of the commission will be of great importance to all concerned. Citizen.

This is another:

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I was greatly interested in your article last night about the Sewer Tax Commission. I had supposed that the Mayor would have selected some of the oldest or largest taxpayers in town on this important commission, and must criticise the law that requires disinterested parties to be chosen to fill the membership of this important Board. The matters to come before it will create considerable ill-feeling unless great wisdom prevails. Taxpayer.

Illustrated His Subject.

Rev. J. H. Carter, D. D., of Newark, gave an interesting illustrated lecture last evening in the basement of Reform Hall for the benefit of the Fillmore Avenue Baptist church. The subject was on the "Life of Christ from the Annunciation to the Ascension, His Baptism, Temptation, Crucifixion and Resurrection." The doctor had about forty-eight fine selected views, which gave his audience an excellent idea of the subject. Dr. Carter is a thoroughly educated man and a master of his subject. His talk was not only interesting but very helpful.

Pleasant Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. L. William Serrell, of Crescent avenue, gave a very delightful dinner party last evening at their home, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Chandler W. Riker, of Mountain Park. The decorations were yellow and were prettily arranged. The guests present were: Borough Mayor and Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Assemblyman and Mrs. Chas. A. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler W. Riker, Miss Gilbert, of this city; Miss Williams, Jersey City; General Spencer, New York.

Plans of Mr. and Mrs. Powell.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the American Purity Alliance, held in the United Charities building, New York, the 18th ult., a congratulatory address to the Conference of the International Federation for the Abolition of State Regulation of Vice, to be held at Berne, Switzerland, September 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th, was unanimously adopted. Aaron M. Powell, president, and Anna Rice Powell, corresponding secretary, were appointed to represent the Alliance at the International Conference. Mr. and Mrs. Powell will sail by the Paris, August 26th, en route for Berne, via Southampton and Paris. After the Conference they will rest for a time among the mountains of Switzerland, and on their return from the Continent will remain a month or two in England, making their headquarters in London. They will probably be absent from the country about three months.—July Philanthropist.

For Fourth of July Protection.

The following extra firemen have been assigned to duty for July 4th by Chief Doane: Chemical engine, Captain Addis; No. 2 hose carriage, Willett Marsh; Alert hose carriage, Abner Bartlett; Gazelle engine, No. 1, W. J. Newman and Frazee Putnam. On that day a horse and wagon will be in service for First Assistant Chief James Martin, and James Bailey will be on duty as driver. Every precaution will be taken, as usual, to prevent any serious fire.

EARLY INTELIGENCE.

Many Little Matters Picked up Here and There in the City and Borough.

—The Liberty Street Mission has a festival tonight.

—Mrs. Neighbor, of East Front street, has corn six feet five inches high.

—The women of the First Baptist church held a sewing meeting yesterday afternoon.

—Rev. Christmas, of Wilmington, N. C., will speak at the Mt. Olive Baptist church tomorrow night.

—See "The Yale-Henley Crew" centrepage, by Jay Hambidge, in Truth, Saturday. All trains and news-stands.

—The First Church of Christ will go with the Grace M.E. church July 10th, on their excursion to Oscawana Island.

—Edward Connors, of West Third street, has been engaged to drive one of W. J. Stephenson's delivery wagons.

—The Board of Directors of the First National Bank, of Somerville, have declared a dividend of nine per cent.

—John Haberle, of Somerset street, has a large fuchsia plant on exhibition at his store bearing nearly three hundred flowers.

—Prof. Bolden, of this city, will give an entertainment in Mt. Olive church tonight, the principal feature of which will be magic and sleight-of-hand tricks.

—The officers and directors of the Plainfield Co-Operative Association have permanent headquarters at 122 Liberty street. The next meeting will be held July 10th.

—Special evangelical services will be held in the Mount Olive Baptist church on Friday evening, when it is expected that a colored clergyman from Wilmington, N. C., will be present and preach.

—At the prayer meeting service in Mount Olive Baptist church, Sunday evening, a collection amounting to $5.30 was taken up for the Rev. Dr. Hendrick, the blind evangelist from Raleigh, N. C., who was present and took a leading part in the services.

—William Classen, of Liberty street, has a thermometer in front of his shop, which registered 109 "in the shade" at three o'clock yesterday afternoon. This is away above fever heat, but things get up in that neighborhood and this probably accounts for the torrid atmosphere thereabouts.

—Line & Co. handle more fireworks at their Elizabeth stores than any other dealer in Union county and their prices at their Somerset street store, this city, are the lowest that can be found anywhere for good goods. Just look over their adv. on 4th page of todays Press and see if you can beat prices.

—Chas. Seibel, of North Plainfield, was one of the first through whose instrumentality horses were obtained for the North Plainfield fire department. This movement was first inaugurated in 1885, and the same year the company—Warren Engine Co., No. 3—purchased a team of horses from a man in Dog Watch Hollow, and $500 was the amount paid for the team.

—There is generally and especially on Saturday and Sunday nights a metropolitan air about the Watchung avenue terminus of the Street Railway near the North Avenue station. For instance, four cars oftentimes stand there without a solitary passenger or even one in sight. Yet the conductors can be heard a block away calling out "This car to Netherwood," or "This car to Dunellen," "Somerset street car," or "Fourth street branch." It is an excellent idea, however, and passengers cannot be misled, even if they cannot see the signs at night.

THE HILLSIDE CLUB'S PROGRAMME.

Their Arrangemets for the Fourth of July Have Been Completed.

The American Independence will be remembered by the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club in various ways on Saturday. In the morning, beginning at 10 o'clock sharp, a handicap golf tournament will be held on the golf links on Sherman avenue.

An afternoon tea will be held at the clubhouse of the club on Watchung avenue. Mrs. George P. Mellick will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. Josiah Broune, Miss Gertrude Walz, Mrs. Lucius Ryce, Mrs. I. N. Field, Mrs. Carl Pfeiffer and Miss Sarah Schuyler. The tennis courts will be occupied during the afternoon.

Union Preparatory Services

The '96 Christian Endeavor convention committee will hold union prayer services during the summer to prepare for the convention. The first service will be held in the Trinity Reformed church, Monday evening, July 13th.

To Celebrate the Fourth.

The grocers will close all day Saturday. Most other merchants will do likewise.

Harry H. Brokaw, formerly of this city, but now of Philadelphia, where he has obtained a lucrative position with the Swift Beef Company, will arrive in this city tomorrow to spend the Fourth with his mother, Mrs. Isaac Brokaw, of Duer street.

Persons who have a coughing spell every night, on account of a tickling sensation in the throat, may overcome it at once by a dose of One Minute Cough Cure. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

WILL BE INCORPORATED.

HILLSIDE TENNIS AND GOLF CLUB TO RECEIVE A STATE CHARTER.

This Action is Taken so as to be Able to Erect a Clubhouse on the Golf Course.—New Officers Elected Last Night.

The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club is soon to become an incorporated body. So it was decided at a meeting of the club held last evening in the club house and the name of the new organization will be the same as the old. A good attendance of members was present and the resolution was favorably looked upon by all. It was passed and the following officers and trustees were elected: President, George P. Mellick; vice-president, George A. Chapman; secretary, John Doull Miller; treasurer, Josiah Broune; secretary of golf, James S. Anthony; trustees, Howard W. Beebe, Fred W. Walz, A. H. Atterbury, James P. Murray. The affairs of the club were discussed and found in a very satisfactory condition.

The object of the incorporating of the club is so that it will be possible for the club to erect a clubhouse on the golf course. Since the introduction of the golf department into the club it has been the cherished idea of many of members to have a clubhouse on or near the golf course, and the plan was favorably considered last evening.

The idea has been to have a pretty house erected with broad piazzas and attractively located at the beginning of the couse. It would add much to the future success of the club, as it will naturally make an attractive place of rendezvous for the members and their friends on summer afternoons, the idea being to have the house sufficiently commodious to have the regular clubrooms with the other necessary conveniences, such as dressing rooms and storage rooms for golf sticks, etc. Further details will be made public later.

Booth-Tucker Coming.

The Salvation Army are making a hard effort to build up their corps in this city, and to create more interest Commander Booth-Tucker will address a meeting in the Army Hall on West Second street, Thursday evening, July 9th. He is the one who recently succeeded Ballington Booth, and has charge of the forces in this country. He left much behind to enter the Army work, and is an intelligent and interesting speaker.

Good Booming Process.

Referring to the decision of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders to macadamize the road from Bound Brook, the Real Estate News says:

The building of this road from Plainfield to Somerville will open up a new country to capitalists and home-seekers. It will enhance the value of every foot of property on its line. It will make Plainfield expand her borders. It will be of incalculable benefit to Bound Brook and Somerville. This road passes through a beautiful section of Somerset and Middlesex counties. Let the good work go on.

Unity's Installation.

The officers-elect of Unity Lodge, No. 102. K. of P., were installed last evening by Grand District Deputy Bowman and staff. There was present at the meeting a delegation from the Scotch Plains lodge. A pleasant time was passed in the good of the order.

A Powerful Speaker.

Rev. Geo. A. Francis, a powerful speaker, will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon. Miss Harris and Mrs. Ward, of Elizabeth, soloists of the choir of the First Baptist church, of this city, will sing duets.

A Well Established Church.

The Consistory of the German Reformed church held a meeting last night to close up the financial accounts for the year. The finances of the church were found in good condition and arrangements were made for the coming year.

Crop Report.

Weather Observer John Neagle has the following crop report from Plainfield this week:

Cloudy, wet weather has retarded corn, produced rust on wheat, and delayed hay-cutting; other crops doing fairy well. Average temperature, 76 degrees; rainfall, 2.25 inches.

An Old Prayer Book.

W. S. Benton, of this city, has a prayer book translated from English to the Indian language by his grandfather, Dr. Caleb Benton, in 1788. It is probable that he wil put it on exhibition at the Public Library.

Festival of Days.

The members of the W. C. T. U. are arranging for a "Festival of Days," to be given October 27th and 28th. It gives promise of being a grand event.

Joseph E. Morse, of Franklin place, went to Schenectady today to visit the factory of the General Electric Company.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Marriage of Miss Mattie Mason to John M. Higgins Last Night.

An exceedingly pretty home wedding was celebrated last evening at 7 o'clock, when Miss Matie Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Mason, of Somerset street, and John M. Higgins, of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. Dr. C. R. Barnes. The bride wore a gown of white mull, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. After the ceremony congratulations followed and a reception was held until 10 o'clock when the bride and groom were taken to their new home on Richmond street which was already furnished.

Those who witnessed the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Mason, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. John Higgins, Sr., parents of the groom, and Jacob Higgins, brother of the groom, of North Branch; Mrs. Clare, Miss Clare and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Mason, Jr., of this city; and Miss Varney, of Boston.

A large collection of useful presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Higgins.

Mr. Higgins is an employe of the Walter Scott Printing Machine Company.

BICYCLIST'S LIVELY EXPERIENCE.

Plunged Headlong Over His Wheel in the Gutter on Liberty Street.

John Smith, of the West End, had quite an exciting experience at the corner of Liberty and Third streets yesterday morning and one which he will no doubt remember for sometime.

He borrowed a wheel of John Newman on which to go to town. He came up West Third street at quite a fast gait and attempted to turn into Liberty street. In doing so he lost control of the wheel and followed a zigzag course through the street. A large iron drinking fountain for horses stands on the corner at this point and Smith plunged headlong into it with the wheel.

He turned a somersault over the wheel and landed in a heap on the sidewalk, badly bruised and shaken up. His clothes were also badly torn. The wheel was almost a total wreck.

BICYCLE FOR A BIRTHDAY PRESENT.

Happy Surprise Given to a Linden Avenue Young Man Last Night.

Henry Staats, fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Staats, celebrated the anniversary of his birthday yesterday and last evening about 9 o'clock, when he returned from work, he was given a complete surprise by meeting about thirty friends at his home, who had assembled in honor of the annual event. The affair was arranged by the young man's father and sister. Music and games helped to pass a very pleasant evening and at a late hour supper was served. The young man received two handsome presents. One was a gold watch and chain from his grandmother, who lives in New Brunswick, and the other was a bicycle from his father. He also was presented with a large birthday cake by Mrs. David Bush.

On a Tour of Inspection.

A committee of ladies from the Town Improvement Association made a tour of the Fourth Ward yesterday, in the interest not only of the association, but of the health and welfare of the inhabitants. The committee is "sizing up," so to speak, the back fences, driveways and other approaches to and from the railway tracks and on November 1st next a prize of $5 will be awarded in each of the several districts, where neatness and the best kept yards are noticed.

Wheel Works Shut Down.

The New Jersey Cycle Manufacturing Company, corner of Washington and Fourth streets, has suspended operations for a few days, it is said, so as to take account for stock. Some thirty-five hands are employed in the shop, and this will give them an opportunity to prepare for the glorious Fourth.

Christian Endeavor Convention.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey will sell round trip tickets to Washington for the Christian Endeavor convention at a one-way fare for the round trip. Tickets to be sold and good going on July 6th, 7th and 8th, and for return until July 15th. A further extension can be secured until July 31st by depositing the tickets with the joint agent at Washington.

Watchung Avenue Extension.

The Borough Council will meet tomorrow evening in regular session. At that time the Watchung avenue extension subject will come up.

Did you ever think how readily the blood is poisoned by constipation? Bad blood means bad health and premature old age. DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills, overcome obstinate constipation. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 143 West Fron Street.

WILL BE MORE THAN FUN

PARK CLUB TO OUTDO ITSELF IN ENTERTAINNENT ON THE 4TH.

The Great Game of Ball, Tennis, Tea, Fireworks and Dance Will Provide Attractions Varied Enough for Everybody.

July Fourth will be a great day at the Park Club, with baseball, tennis, an afternoon tea, fireworks and a dance, and if the Washington Parkites are not satisfied with the celebration of Independence Day then they are hard to suit. The celebration committee has had its hands full and are hustling twenty-four hours a day to make the affair a success.

The baseball game of the morning will, of course, be the leading event of its kind. Now that The Press has revealed Doc Thiers' wonderful throw, he is practicing another that works on the plan of a double back-action boomerang. A good many people smile when they think of C. W. McCutchen as the lightning shortstop of the Benedicts, but they evidently don't know him, so be prepared for surprises.

The Bachelors have a star in their midst that few have discovered, but it will not take a telescope to reveal him on Saturday morning. The "he" in question is Dr. Mathewson, who is to cover first base for the single men. He has a record of playing in the same position for four years on the Brown University nine, and also being a member of the famous West Ends, of Somerville. But the act that endears him to the hearts of Plainfield people is that he once umpired a game between those same West Ends and the Crescents of this city, and still lives. The story is that the rope had been put around his neck by the Plainfield rooters, but, by turning three back somersaults, he managed to escape. It will be a cold day when George O. Stevens gets left at second base, for he has been practicing the stopping of grounders by chasing the stray hunks of coal that attempt to escape from his coal yard. Wm. N. Runyon has taken a position in the field so that he can sing to the ball as it descends and charm it into his hands.

The game is to commence at 10 o'clock sharp.

In the afternoon, there will be a tennis tournament. Early in the afternoon there will be the junior doubles in two classes. The "Class A" tournament is for boys of fourteen and fifteen years, and the prizes are sets of golf link cuff buttons. The "Class B" tournament is for boys under fourteen years, and a silver handled pen knife will be given to each of the winning pair. These prizes are not to keep, however, but the holder may be challenged and the matches to be played every Saturday afternoon for the rest of this playing season.

The regular tournament begins at 3 o'clock and continues the rest of the afternoon. It consists of singles and doubles, and is open only to members and associate members of the club. The prize for the single tournament is a handsome gold pin in the shape of tiny tennis racket. The prizes for the doubles are gold pins set with pearls. The entries at present for the singles are Arthur Murphy, Percy Sandford, Samuel Townsend, William M. McCutchen, Charles Dupee, A. Willis West, W. J. R. Thiers, Merideth Dryden and Ernest Swayze. For the doubles the following have entered: Percy Sandford and A. Willis West, W. M. McCutchen and Chas. Dupee, Ernest Swayze and Arthur Murphy, Samuel Townsend and A. W. VanDeventer.

Preparations are already being made to accommodate the guests, and a number of stationary seats have been built from which to see the fireworks, and Janitor Israel Jones waters them every day to see if possible they will grow in proportions before Saturday.

Borough Transfers.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded from North Plainfield in the Somerset County Clerk's office during the past week:

Lewis M. Coddington et ux to Melvin H. and Frank W. Cleaves, $300; Mountain Park Land Co. to Craig A. Marsh, $700; James McGee to Lemuel B. Woolston and James F. Buckle, $11,000.

An Old Offender.

Henry Hoble, an old man from Cranford of seventy-four years, was wandering about the streets last evening in an intoxicated condition. He was arrested and came up before City Judge DeMeza this morning. Sentence was suspended.

Wanted to Be Arrested.

Ira Brown, of New York, a well-dressed young man, came to the lock-up last evening and asked for a night's lodging. At his request he was arrested and spent the night in jail. Sentence was suspended on him this morning.

OUTCOME A DRAW

Silver Delegation Receive Little Comfort from Sub-committee.

EXPRESS SATISFACTION, HOWEVER

The Question at Issue Must Be Decided by the National Committee—The Situation To-day in the Democratic Camp at Chicago.

Chicago, July 2.—The reconnoitre of the skirmish guard of the silver forces upon the outposts of the national democratic committee as planted by its sub-committees, was variously viewed by the participants after the former had retired to its own camp. According to Chairman Harrity, the visiting delegation composed of Senators Turpie, Daniel, Jones and Governors Stone and Altgeld, simply "fenced for points," and, according to Governor Altgeld and Senator Daniel, the fencing was entirely satisfactory to the silver side. At least one of their colleagues, however, was inclined to regard the outcome as a draw with the indications favorable to the silver men getting the worst of it when final conclusions were tried with the national committee next Monday. The purpose of the visit of the silver delegation to the national sub-committee was to present the views of the leaders of white metal majority concerning the selection of temporary chairman, the disposition of contests and the roll call on the temporary organization. Senator Jones led in the presentation of the silver case and was followed by Senator Turpie and Gov. Altgeld.

Only a Crumb of Comfort.

When they had concluded Chairman Harrity, who had previously consulted with his associates and found them to be of one mind, explained that the sub-committee was possessed of no inherent power to settle the questions at issue. He referred the delegation to the record of the preliminary proceedings of the sub-committees and the national committees of '90 and '94, and pointed out that it was the exclusive province of the full national committee to pass provisionally upon contesting delegations in making up the preliminary roll of that convention. As to the matter of temporary chairman, it was one also altogether within the control and discretion of the national committee, but he was willing to promise that nothing definite in this direction should be done until the delegation had been afforded on Monday an opportunity of conferring with the full body. For the present himself, and associates, without prejudice on either side, were powerless to act. With this crumb of comfort the delegation was compelled to be content. As it withdrew Gov. Altgeld expressed the opinion that, judging from the reception accorded it, there was every reason to hope that an amicable arrangement would be reached when the delegation was afforded an opportunity of outlining its position to the national committee.

The Two-Thirds Rule.

It is not yet certain whether there will be a general disposition among the delegates to the democratic convention to follow the lead made by the Illinois delegation in declaring for the abrogation of the two-thirds rule. The action of the Illinois men in the matter has had the effect of reviving interest in this subject. There is unquestionably a strong faction favorable to the course outlined by the Illinois delegates who contend with Gov. Altgeld that the rule is undemocratic, and would like to see it cancelled upon general principles. If, however, it is abrogated, the action will be due to the difficulty of securing the necessary two-thirds to nominate with the rule still in existence.

Silver Men May Control.

It is contended by many persons that by the time the nominating stage of the convention is reached the silver men will be able to command fully two-thirds of the voting strength of the convention, and they argue that if this should prove to be the case there would be no necessity for changing the rules. If made at all, however, the change will have to be made before this period in the proceedings, and it is suggested that it may come at the opening of the convention on a motion to adopt the rules of the temporary organization, and until the committee on rules can have an opportunity to pass upon the subject. This is one of the questions which the silver committee will consider, and until its verdict is registered no programme will be made.

Delegates Arriving.

Several members of the Michigan delegation are in the city, but they are averse to talking to newspaper men. Michigan is regarded in a certain sense as the pivotal state in the convention. Of the twenty-eight votes thirteen are for sound money and there are three contested seats. It is supposed that the three contested seats will be given to the free silverites, and in that sense the vote of the state would make the requisite two-thirds majority. Two of the southern states, Alabama and Georgia, will be represented in Chicago to-day. The Georgia delegation, while uninstructed, is said to favor Boies for the presidential nomination. Should Boies fail, members of the delegation say that they will vote for Gov. Matthews of Indiana, and as a third choice Bland of Missouri is said to be their preference. The delegation favors free silver. From Alabama will come a big delegation headed by John B. Knox, chairman of the state central committee and a number of adherents. The Alabama delegation, said a member of it last night, is first for Gov. Matthews. Then it is for Baland. The delegation is uninstructed. Notwithstanding the protestations of Senator-elect Money of Mississippi to the contrary, it is said that the Mississippi delegation is for Bland. Mr. Money's claim is that the men are for Boies, but several members of the delegation declared last night that Bland would be its first selection.

Stevenson's Presence Starts a Rumor.

Vice-President Stevenson's presence under the roof of the Palmer house for a few hours en route to his home in Bloomington, failed to create even a flutter of interest. His callers were numerous, but their missions were more social than political, and the vice-president himself declined to discuss the situation or the coming convention even from an abstract point of view. It was noticeable, however, that most of his callers were identified with the gold standard element of the Illinois democracy and this led to the circulation of a rumor that if the Altgeld-bimetallic element insisted upon naming the temporary chairman, Mr. Stevenson might be offered them as a compromise based upon the fact that as a representative Illinois democrat he could scarcely with good grace be antagonized by the delegation of this state. As a matter of fact, however, the rumor was more shadow than substance. No such contingency has presented itself to the sub-committee and this party will make no representations on the subject to the full committee.

WILL NOT ACCEPT BLAND.

People's Party Will Only Meet the Democrats with Teller.

St. Louis, July 2.—Chairman Taubeneck of the people's party national committee when seen regarding a published statement that Mr. Bland would be acceptable to the populists if the democrats nominated him for president, said to a United Press reporter: "I made no such statement, nor will the people's party endorse Mr. Bland if he is nominated at the Chicago convention. The people's party has more voters who will stand up and be counted for free silver than any other party in existence. We will not surrender our organization or individuality. If the democrats cannot meet us half way on a man like Senator Teller then the party is responsible for the division of the silver forces in the coming campaign.

Great Ovation to Teller in Denver.

Denver, July 2.—Senator Teller arrived here last evening and was greeted by an enormous crowd. The city was gaily decorated for the occasion, and every train brought in hundreds of people from all over the state. Twenty thousand strangers probably were in the city. The addresses of welcome were delivered by Gov. McIntyre and Mayor McMurray, and the committee was made up of leading democrats, republicans and populists. The procession was fully five miles long.

Hill Off for Chicago.

Albany, July 2.—Senator David B. Hill, who heads the delegation from this state to the democratic national convention, will leave here for Chicago to-night at 7:45 o'clock via the New York Central.

WEST POINT CADETS-AT-LARGE.

President Names Those Who Are To Enter the Class of June, 1897.

Washington, July 2.—The president has appointed the following cadets-at-large to West Point to enter the class beginning June, 1897: Henry E. Mitchell, son of the late William G. Mitchell, U. S. A., who died in active service; alternate, Frederick Mears, son of the late Lieut.-Col. Frederick Mears, Fourth United States infantry, who died in active service. Richard P. Williams, son of Major Charles W. Williams, U. S. A.; alterate, William P. Znnis, son of Capt. William Ennis, Fourth artillery; and to fill the vacancy in the cadetship for the District of Columbia, Joseph F. Barnes, grandson of the late Gen. Joseph K. Barnes, U. S. A.; alternate, William L. English, son of the late Lieut. W. L. English, Seventy infantry, who died of wounds received in action with Nez Perce Indians.

WORK RESUMED.

Various Appropriations, Now in Effect, Cause Navy Yard Activity.

Washington, July 2.—Work in nearly all the navy yards, which has been partly suspended owing to lack of funds, has been begun under the various appropriation bills which went into effect yesterday. The navy yard at Mare island, Cal., will get a large share of the work, and matters there will be busy for some time. Repairs and changes will be made there in the Bennington, the Thetis, the Petrel, the Baltimore, the Concord, the Ranger, the Mohican and the Hartford. At Norfolk the Texas will get needed repairs. The naval ordnance bureau will also have considerable work under the appropriations available for about 100 guns for secondary batteries.

To Represent New York at Nashville.

Albany, July 2.—Gov. Morton has appointed the following named gentlemen to represent the state of New York at the Tennessee celebration to be held in Nashville next year, beginning May 1: John Latham, New York city; James McCreery, New York city; George F. Kunz, New York city; Robert R. Hafford, Buffalo; H. F. Gunnison, Brooklyn; John C. James, New York city.

St. Louis Platform Endorsed.

St. Paul, Minn., July 2.—The republican state convention yesterday adopted a platform emphatically endorsing that of the St. Louis convention. David M. Clough was nominated for governor.

President University of Texas.

Raleigh, N. C., July 2.—Dr. George Taylor Winston, president of the University of North Carolina, has been unanimously elected president of the University of Texas. He has accepted.

Losing Flesh

You naturally lose flesh in the summer and running down is so easy. You get a little weaker each day without hardly noticing it. There is loss of appetite, headache, weakness of the muscles, disturbed sleep, weakness of memory, and these are the beginning of nervous prostration. Iron and tonics and bitters may afford some temporary relief, but what you need is a food for body, brain and nerves.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites, furnishes just the nourishment needed for those who are run down and pale and thin and weak. If you lose flesh in summer take Scott's Emulsion now. Don't wait till fall or winter before beginning.

THOUSANDS KILLED

Details of the Recent Tidal Wave and Earthquakes in Japan.

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY

Whole Towns and Villages Swept Away and the Inhabitants Perish—Center of the Disturbance on the Island of Kinkawa-Zan.

Vancouver, B. C., July 2.—The steamer Empress of China, which arrived here last evening, brings Yokohama advices dated to June 18, three days later than the Japanese earthquake, which was accompanied by a great tidal wave, brief accounts of which have been received by cable. Disconnected reports of the terrible visitation are published in the Japanese press. These would indicate that the cable advices were not in the least exaggerated. The loss of life is in the thousands, the destruction of property enormous. The centre of disturbance was the island of Kinkawa Zan. Between Kinkawa Zan on the south and Hochinoye on the north, a distance of about 170 miles, practically the whole coast was swept by the wave and over half of the town of Kwawaiichi swept away. Many persons were drowned or killed. Four hundred deaths are reported at Rashikami and 300 buildings destroyed; 1,450 deaths at Koidizumi and 600 at Utatsu Mura. At Shizukawa eighty houses were swept away; seventy-two corpses were recovered up to 1 p. m. June 16. At Hachinoye Minato, eleven persons were killed. At Okachihama eighty buildings were swept away and the deaths numbered thirty-one. Among those who are lost were eight jailors and several prisoners. In the three districts of Motoyoshi, Ojika and Momo, in Miyaga prefecture, the most disastrous damage was done by the tidal wave during the night. According to the report of the authorities in the district of Motoyoshi alone the deaths were 1,030, and the buildings washed away 560.

Repeated Earthquakes.

At Moroika during the night of June 15 there were repeated earthquakes. The eastern coast of Iwaiteken was washed by the tidal wave and the damage was beyond description. The worst was experienced in the three towns of Kamaishi, Miyako and Sakari. All the employes of the telegraph office at Kohiro-Hama were drowned by the tidal wave. The office of the Yamada also was swept away. A telegram from the governor of Iwaiteken, dated June 17, says the number of persons who either lost their lives or were injured is 2,000 in the Sakarima-Chi-Kesin district. Excluding the bluff of Kamaishi, the whole town was completely swept away. The wave was experienced along the whole coast of Sapporo. Along the road from Sapporo to Surumurt eight deaths occurred, eight buildings were destroyed; four sampans are missing and three were wrecked. The whole eastern coast of Miyagi Ken prefecture was washed away by the tidal wave at 5 p. m., June 15. A number of houses were swept away and a heavy death roll is anticipated. In the Motoyoshi district more than seventy houses were carried away involving the death of over seventy people.

Accuse the Christians.

Washington, July 2.—The Turkish legation has received from the sublime porte the following telegram under yesterday's date: "The news published lately about the so-called cruelties of the Musselmans and the imperial troops in Crete are absolutely false. The truth is, on the contrary, that the Christians themselves burned the houses and olive trees of the Musselmans and committed sacrilegious acts in the mosques. The Musselmans burned in return and from a spirit of vengeance a few Christian houses.

Fatally Injured at a Pacing Race.

Troy, N. Y., July 2.—At Rensselaer park, yesterday Samuel Porter, driver of Franklin M., was perhaps frtally injured in the second heat of the pacing race. The rein broke and while trying to recover the part the horse stumbled, throwing him and falling on him. He was internally injured and his skull was fractured. He was removed to the hospital.

Pawtucket Public Building.

Washington, July 2.—Bids were opened at the treasury department yesterday for completing the public building at Pawtucket, R. I., except the heating apparatus. The proposals ranged from $72,628 by Staples Bros., of Lowell, Mass., to $49,000, the lowest, by L. L. Leach & Sons of Chicago. No award was made.

HOBART AT CANTON.

The Vice-Presidential Nominee Calls on Major McKinley.

Canton, O., July 2.—Yesterday was one of Major McKinley's busy days. In addition to work of meeting delegations and receiving callers he had a long talk with Mr. Hobart. Later 500 glass workers came from Massillon. Many of them were democrats, but announced that they would vote for McKinley. In response to a speech by their spokesman Major McKinley said: "I thank you most cordially for your greetings and congratulations. Nothing has moved me more deeply or touched me more profoundly than to have these expressions of approbation from the workingmen of the United States. I believe that we should have our workshops at home; do our work at home; employ our people at home, and employ them at American wages. And I trust that the depression which has settled upon the industries of this country will in the near future be removed, and that we may all at no very distant day get back to that happy time so well described by your spokesman." The picturesque and unique event of the campaign was the visit of 3,000 delegates to the state convention of Christian Endeavorers now in session here. Shortly after 4 o'clock this army of men and women marched to the McKinley residence in two great battalions. As many as could find standing room in the spacious grounds crowded in and formed a dense mass. Those in the rear filled the street on both sides of the house, which stands on a corner, for the distance of half a block in either direction. It was an impressive scene. When Major McKinley appeared he was greeted with cheers and the Chautauqua salute. He made a short and appropriate address and was loudly cheered.

Hobart Dined by Hanna.

Cleveland, July 2.—Garrett A. Hobart, republican nominee for vice-president, arrived here from Canton at 3:30 yesterday afternoon and was driven to the residence of Mark A. Hanna. He dined with Mr. Hanna's family and left at 7:30 o'clock for the east.

YALE CREW AT HENLEY.

Coach Cook Greatly Encouraged and Pleased by the Men's Work.

Henley, July 2.—The Yale men were out again for practice last night and at the request of Sir Charles Dilke, M. P., rowed over the last half of the course, covering the distance in 3:20 rowing thirty-six and thirty-eight to the minute. The American oars were used, and it is stated that the Yale crew will not again use the English oars purchased for them by Bob Cook, and that the slides in their boat will be placed in the old style. Cook expresses himself as greatly pleased and encouraged by the work of the crew. The New College crew rowed over a course a length longer than that covered by the Yale men, making the distance in 3:29 at a thirty-eight to forty stroke. The Balliol college men paced the Leander and Trinity Hall crew on short stretches yesterday, but the time made by the crews was not taken. The weather was unpleasant, there being a steady fall of rain.

COINAGE AT THE MINTS.

Total for the Last Fiscal Year 78,330,773 Pieces Worth $71,188,468.

Washington, July 2.—A statement issued by Mr. Preston, director of the mint, shows that during the fiscal year just ended 3,584,760 gold pieces valued at $56,878,490; 20,424,529 silver pieces, valued at $11,440,641 and 54,321,484 minor coins valued at $869,337 were executed at the mints of the United States. The total coinage for the year was 78,330,773 pieces, valued at $71,188,468. A statement of the coinage for the first six months of the current calendar year shows a coinage of 1,207,419 gold pieces, valued $22,523,572; a coinage of 12,240,551 silver pieces, valued at $8,856,713, and 27,447,784 minor coins, valued at $446,086. The total coinage of silver dollars for the period was $7,500,412.

UNCLE SAM'S DEBTS.

A Net Increase During June of $1,820,853.

INTEREST-BEARING UP $1,875,300.

Total Interest-bearing Obligations Now Stand at $847,363,890 and the Total Debt Is $1,222,729,350—Cash in the Treasury.

Washington, July 2.—The debt statement issued last evening shows a net increase in the public debt, less cash in the treasury during June, of $1,820,853.50. The interest bearing debt increased $1,875,300; the non-interest bearing debt increased $184,439.50 and cash in the treasury increased $238,886. The balances of the several classes of debt at the close of business June 30 were: Interest-bearing debt, $847,363,890; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,636,890.26; debt bearing no interest, $373,728,570.14. Total, $1,222,729,350.40. The certificates and treasury notes offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury outstanding at the end of the month were: $547,110,973, a decrease of $8,536,000. The total cash in treasury was $853,905,635.51; the gold reserve was $100,000,000; net cash balance, $167,432,096.70. In the month there was a decrease in gold coin and bars of $7,286,779, the total at the close being $144,020,363.91. Of silver there was an increase of $1,198,876.20; of the surplus there was in the national bank depositaries $16,857,354.66, against $20,952,972.22 at end of preceding month.

HOPE AGAIN VANISHES.

No Indications That Rescuers Are Near the Pittston Mine Victims.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 2.—The situation at the Twin shaft this morning is not so hopeful as it was yesterday, when considerable progress was made down the slope. No bodies have been recovered yet, and there have been no indications that the bodies are near, and it is doubtful if any will be found for days to come. When the shift of rescuers came out at midnight they reported that only ten feet had been dug into the cave up to that time. This slow work is due to the fact that the men encountered another fall of coal. Mine Inspector McDonald said that the rescuers were at least 600 feet from the entombed men, and if there was much risk and heavy falls ahead of them it would take a long time until they could come upon the bodies. The statement sent abroad yesterday that the miners working on the night shift heard rappings ahead is discredited by the mine bosses.

Capulet's Captain Guilty of an Error.

St. Johns, N. F., July 2.—The marine court which has been conducting the inquiry into the loss of the British steamer Capulet finds Captain File of the Capulet guilty of an error of judgment in not throwing the lead in approaching the coast and censures him, but does not suspend his certificate. The other officers of the ship are exonerated from all blame.

Refuse Addicks Overtures.

Wilmington, Del., July 2.—The regular republican county executive committee yesterday afternoon by a unanimous vote refused to accept the overtures of the Addicks leaders, for a union of the factions at the election for delegates to the state convention. Two republican state tickets are now probable.

The President Goes a-Fishing.

Buzzards Bay, Mass., July 2.—The president spent his first day since his arrival with his family in looking over his extensive estate and examining the improvements made since his departure last fall. To-day he is taking his first fishing trip down the bay. All varieties of fish are reported plentiful.

Raines Bill Burdick Dead.

Troy, N. Y., July 2.—Raines Bill Burdick, aged three months, son of John Burdick of Bath-on-the-Hudson, died yesterday. The child was born on the day the Raines bill became a law and gained notoriety on account of his name.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Fair and Slightly Warmer Tonight and Fair Friday.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 88 Degrees.

There will be no issue of The Daily Press Saturday.

It is said that Senator Stokes, of Cumberland county, will probably succeed Secretary of State Kelsey.

At the meeting of the Borough Council tomorrow night The Press trusts that some of the councilmen who voted for the resolution regarding the collection of assessments for Watchung avenue, will move to reconsider so that another vote can be taken on it. It would seem by this time that the expression of the popular feeling in reference to this matter had been sufficient to prove to Messrs. Valiant, Schutt and MacLaughlin the error of their way.

The Elizabeth Board of Alderman for 1896-97, which is Democratic for the first time in some years, met last night and organized. The following Democratic officials were elected: Street Commissioner for three years, N. K. Thompson; City Physician for one year, Dr. Thomas E. Dollan; Excise Commissioner for four years, Robert Higgins; Sealer of Weights and Measures for one year, Eugene Kirk. The annual appropriation for carrying on the city's affairs was fixed at $386.267. This will enable the tax rate to be lowered from 2.98 to 2.88, the lowest point it has reached since the city went into bankruptcy, eighteen years ago.

The rule just adopted by the State Board of Education requiring a competitive examination for applicants for County Superintendencies of public schools before appointments are made, will, if properly carried out, be of great benefit to the county schools of the State. Heretofore the County Superintendents have been chosen without much regard to their qualifications, but mainly through their political "pull," the result being the appointment in some counties of men ridiculously incompetent. The office is one of large responsibilities, and its incumbent can do either much good or considerable harm to educational interests, according as he may be qualified or not for his duties. It should be deemed as necessary to ascertain the capabilities of a County Superintendent as it is to know the qualifications of a public school principal, and the only way to find out is by a regular examination of the applicant for the office.—Newark Advertiser.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—White's store will close at 12 o'clock Saturday, July 4th.

—The addition to the street railway car house has been completed, and everything is now in good running order.

—When it comes to "a choice of evils" drop 'em both, and come to Peck's for something that is really good in his line.

—An entertainment will be given in the Fanwood clubhouse next Monday evening for the benefit of All Saints P. E. church, Fanwood.

—July 11th is the date chosen by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Monroe Avenue chapel for a grand stage ride and picnic to Boynton Beach.

—At White's tomorrow they will offer a fine lot of imported dotted swisses that were bought in the auction room at half their regular value.

—A trunk arrived in Plainfield early this morning from Ohio. It bore the name of A. B. Horne, Park avenue, and attached to the trunk was an old shoe.

—It is rumored that one of the memmers of the Bachelor Club, of this city, has deserted the club, and the other members have at last learned the reason.

—Isaac R. Giles has closed out his flour, feed and grain business on East Fourth street and will enter the employ of the Plainfield Produce Company for a time.

—Wm. C. Smith has the contract for the mason work, and William H. Brokaw, the carpenter work, for Harrison Coddington's new house on Mountain avenue.

—Mrs. Ira F. Riker, the funeral director and professional embalmer, is a graduate of the National Embalming College. She makes a specialty of cases of women and children.

—While Eugene O'Reilly, of East Second street, was playing with a pet parrot yesterday, the talkative bird nipped him in the face and carried a small piece of flesh away. No serious results are feared.

—This is just the time for spring duck and if you want a rare treat for July 4th you should place your order with VanSickle, the North avenue butcher. He has an exceptionally fine stock of spring duck.

—"We have used Hood's Pills in our family and have found them all they are represented to be. They are perfectly safe and do not cause pain." Mrs. Scheele, Westfield, N. J. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood.

—Powlison & Jones are unable to fill their orders for children's swings for immediate delivery, and had to withdraw their advertisement today. A special sale of baby carriages, to close out, is attracting buyers' attention.

—The latest sensation in town is Edsall's great "Clearance Sale" of all summer goods. The store this morning early was filled with ready purchasers. Such low prices on nice fine new goods has never been known in Plainfield before.

—Letter-Carriers Robert Loughlin and John Neighbor, of the post office department, began their fifteen days vacation yesterday. Letter-Carrier Chas. Stevens began his today. The three men started their vacation with a bicycle tour to Evona.

Eczema is a frightful affliction, but like all other skin diseases it can be permanently cured by applications of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It never fails to cure Piles. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints,—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

It would be hard to convince a man suffering from bilious colic that his agony is due to a microbe with an unpronouncable name. But one dose of DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure will convince him of its power to afford instant relief. It kills pain. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

AROUND THE BASES.

A game of ball will be played on the Giraud avenue cricket grounds on the afternoon of the Fourth between teams of which Dan Hibbitts and Clarence Mundy are captains.

The only game of the season will be played on the afternoon of the Fourth at 3 o'clock on the Y.M.C.A. grounds between the "Old! Old! Crescents," now the "Has Beens" and the Y. M. C. A. team. Just think of Keller, Cornwell, Doane, Demarest and other well-known players defeating the boys. The batting order will be published tomorrow. The Francis Brothers, a strong semi-professional battery will help the "Has Beens" do the trick.

LAWN TENNIS.

The first of the series of matches between the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club and the New Brunswick Golf Club has been postponed from July 11th to July 25th. It is to be played at New Brunswick. The first match with the Montclair Golf Club will be played on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on July 11th.

An exciting tennis match of doubles was played Tuesday afternoon on the Grace M. E. Church Tennis Club courts between Edward and Will Loizeaux and Rev. Mr. Johnston and Raymond Carroll. The best out of seven was played, and the Loizeaux Brothers won, 6 8, 6 3, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

The tennis tournament for the single championship of "Greater Plainfield," which was to have been held on the courts of Henry V. Ryder, on East Front street, on Saturday, as told in yesterday's Daily Press, will be held on the courts of the Hillside Tennis Club instead, on the same day. Play will begin in the morning at 10 o'clock and will be continued throughout the day. The final match will be reserved for the afternoon and will be started at 4 o'clock, when the afternoon tea of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will be held on their grounds. The tournament is open to Plainfield and North Plainfield. The entrance fee is 50 cents, and all entries must be made with G. H. Ryder or H. V. Ryder, 615 East Front street, before 8 o'clock Friday night.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Read Neuman Bros' special on fruits and vegetables for tomorrow.

Frank Wilbur Cornwell, of Waynewood place, is visiting in Scarsdale, N. Y.

—Extra police protection will be provided in the borough for the 4th of July.

—The Independent Scheutzen Corps will hold a shooting contest in Hyde's woods Saturday.

—The singing section of the Gesang and Turn Verein hold their monthly meeting tonight.

Volney F. Green, of East Fifth street, left this morning for Asbury Park, to recuperate after his recent illness.

—Chancellor McGill yesterday appointed Lawyer Charles H. Angleman, brother of Counsellor W. S. Angleman, a master in chancery.

Mrs. C. S. Crowell and son, Calvin, of Moorestown, who have been visiting at the home of George R. Cornwell, have returned home.

—Edsall requests his patrons to bear in mind that his store will remain open Friday night and close all day of the Fourth, and make their purchases accordingly.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

—Neuman Bros' special sale of 4th of July fruits and vegetables, peaches, apricots, plums, blackberries, red raspberries, blackcaps, currants, muskmelons, watermelons; a large selected line of fresh vegetables.

MY GOODS WILL BURN

in front of many a mansion on July 4. The fat packages are going out right lively. Looks as though everybody in Plainfield has the fireworks fever.

Lots of business men, who lugged their heavy bundles of fireworks all the way from New York last year, have learned a lesson nearer home this year.

After learning my prices they simply step in here, leave their orders and save themselves lots of bother without spending a cent more money.

NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT

It's a labor-saver—a woman-saver. Without the long and wearying peeling, chopping, boiling, seeding and mixing, a woman can quickly make mince pie, fruit pudding, or fruit cake that will be the delight of her household. Since None Such is sold everywhere there is no more need of making your own mince meat than of making your own yeast. Try one package—10 cents. Take no substitutes.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

MRS. STOWE'S DEATH

The Interment Will Take Place at Andover, Mass.

PRIVATE SERVICES AT HARTFORD

Brief Sketch of the Author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin"—At One Time the Most Prominent Woman in the World.

Hartford, July 2.—The funeral of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, whose death occurred yesterday afternoon, as the result of a paralytic stroke and congestion of the brain which occurred Sunday last, will be held in this city and interment will take place in Andover, Mass., where relatives of the late authorress are buried. The services in this city will be private.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe was born at Litchfield, Conn., on June 14, 1812. Her father was Rev. Lyman Beecher, a New England Presbyterian and rabid abolitionist. Mrs. Stowe passed her days quietly, first as a scholar and afterwards as school teacher until 1836, when she married Prof. C. G. Stowe, who taught at Lan seminary. This seminary was a veritable hotbed of abolition; and Prof. Stowe, in company with Henry Ward Beecher, his wife's younger brother, once helped a fugitive slave to safety. In this and a hundred similar ways the future author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" imbibed the spirit which was destined to do more towards bringing on the civil war and help more to free the negroe than all the efforts of hundreds of other anti-slavery advocates. In 1850 the passing of the fugitive law worked so on Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's sympathy that she resolved to expose in a book some of the horrors of slavery. Her main idea for the book was gathered from a magazine account of the escape of a slave woman and her child across the Ohio river on the ice. Using this incident as a central point she began her work, which was to deal with the inside life of slavery. The book, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," gradually took shape and was published serially in the National Era during 1851-1852. The story attracted almost no notice at first, and the author was discouraged. She received $300 for the serial, and a Boston publisher offered to issue it in book form. The book had a tremendous boom at once, and in five years half a million copies were sold. A veritable howl of criticism, favorable and adverse, arose, and for the time Mrs. Stowe was perhaps the most prominent woman in in the world. She visited England, where she was received and honored everywhere. At one banquet she is said to have dined beneath a huge American flag, from which the stripes had been cut. This was probably an English attempt at humor or an elephantine hint at sympathy. In any case, Mrs. Stowe's enemies made great use of the story that she had consented to sit under the mutilated flag of her country. The author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," afterwards published a number of books of great merit. Her "Old Town Folks," for instance, is a work almost unequalled in its quaint humor and portrayal of New England rustic character. The hitherto uninterrupted praise which had on every side met Mrs. Stowe received a sudden and almost permanent check in 1869. At that time she was co-editor with Donald G. Mitchell (Ik Marvel) of Hearth and Home. She published in the Atlantic Monthly two papers, entitled "The True Story of Lady Byron's Life" and "Lady Byron Vindicated." In these her impulses evidently ran away with her judgment, for, in altogether too plain English, she told a story of the causes leading to the desertion of Lord Byron by his wife. Lady Byron, she said, had confessed the story to her, and, as the poet's widow was just then the recipient of many slurs in the public press, Mrs. Stowe wrote to vindicate her. The two papers relating the scandal brought down a torrent of censure, and Mrs. Stowe, resigning her editorial position, retired to private life. Since then she has passed her time between Florida and Hartford.

40 Killed; 100 Injured.

Berlin, July 2.—The explosion of ammunition during the fire in the arsenal, near Fort Moselle, in the province of Lorraine, Wednesday, proves to have been more disastrous than at first reported. It is now learned that forty-two men were killed instead of seven as reported yesterday, and that 100 others were badly injured.

Fighting in the Dutch Indies.

The Hague, July 2.—Official dispatches received here from the Dutch Indies say that there has been renewed serious fighting between the Dutch and Achinese at the fortress of Anakgalo-Eng. The Achinese lost 112 killed and thirty-nine wounded. It is also announced that the Dutch have captured the Sibreh fortress, meeting with slight resistance.

A Boat To Beat the Meteor.

London, July 2.—Charles Day Rose, owner of the racing yacht Satanita, has ordered the shipbuilding firm of J. G. Fay & Son, at Southampton, to build a yacht to beat the German emperor's new cutter Meteor and the Prince of Wales' yacht Britannia. The boat is to be constructed after special designs.

The Reported Revolt at Jidda.

London, July 2.—Nothing is known here of the dispatch credited to Constantinople and published in the United States, saying that two battalions of Turkish troops have revolted at Jidda, Arabia, barricaded themselves in a mosque, and resisted all attempts to dislodge them.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To Anna L. R. Mines, Catherine L. Gordon, Josephine R. Morris, Lewis Morris and Robert K. Catlin, absent defendants.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Ella T. Slape and Lillian T. Slape, executrices of the last will and testament of William H. Slape, deceased, are complainants, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainants, on or before the first day of August next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by Charles E. Catlin in his life time, and Gertrude W. Catlin, his wife, to said Ella T. Slape and Lillian T. Slape, executrices of the last will and testament of William H. Slape, deceased, dated May first, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, on lands in the city of Plainfield: and you Anna L. R. Mines, Catherine L. Gordon, Josephine R. Morris, and Robert K. Catlin are made defendants because you are heirs at law of the said Charles E. Catlin, deceased; and you Lewis Morris are made defendant because you are the husband of Josephine R. Morris, and claim a right of curtesy initiate in the said lands and premises by reason of your marriage with the said Josephine R. Morris.

Dated June 1st, 1896.

"What do you hear from Hiram?" said Mrs. Sunup. "How's he doin' at college?"

"I ain't heard nothin' direct," was the reply, "but it come ter me in a roundabout sort o' way thet he is sowin' a good deal o' wild oats."

"What air ye goin' ter do?"

"Hev 'im come home. I wrote 'im today thet if he was so dead sot on agriculture he might ez well stick to the farm."—Detroit Free Press.

Premature.

He sank upon his knees.

"Darling!" he impetuously cried, "I have come to sue for your hand."

She smiled kindly.

"It cannot be," she said. "Think no more of such a thing."

Leading him gently to a seat, she explained at length that, in the essential nature of American jurisprudence, the courts could not interfere thus early in the game.—Puck.

Another Kind of Goose.

Johnny—What did you have for dinner at your house?

Tommy—Had a goose.

Johnny—Was it nice eating?

Tommy—It wasn't the kind of goose that you eat. It was that young Snipsey that keeps running to our house thinking sister Nan is in love with him, when she ain't.—N. Y. Recorder.

Found Out.

She—You're just like all the rest of the men. Here we've been married only a year, and you never kiss me unless I ask you to.

He—Huh! You're just like all the rest of the women. You never think to ask me to kiss you unless you want money.—N. Y. Weekly.

Noble Resignation.

Fiancee—Dearest, don't you think you could love mother enough to have her come and live with us?

Reggy (heroically)—More, darling, more!

Fiancee—How much more?

Reggy—Enough more to have us go and live on her.—N. Y. World.

Freaks.

Museum Attendant—This couple you see here were engaged the whole of a summer season at the seaside.

Visitor — What is singular about them?

Museum Attendant—They are married. —Brooklyn Life.

Turn About.

"Good doggy!" said the boy in persuasive accents, as he fastened an empty meat-can to the animal's tail. "I've got a tin for you."

"And I've got it in for you!" barked the dog, turning round and biting him. —Chicago Tribune.

Comparing Notes.

"What was your answer when young Higbie asked you to marry him?"

"Why do you want to know?"

"Because he asked me last night, and I want to let him down with something different."—Judge.

Wise Precaution.

Clerk of Western Hotel—I thought it best to caution that old fellow who just came in about blowing out the gas.

Proprietor—Where is he from?

Clerk—From the Greater New York. —Life.

The Boy's Experience.

Teacher—Can any of you tell me why flannel is comfortable in winter?

TRUE CONSOLATION.

"Yes, miss, he's been took at last. 'Was he prepared,' did you say, miss? If he wasn't it was his own fault. I did my dooty by him Didn't I read the burial-service to him every day for the last six months?"—Lika Joko.

Infantile Heroics.

"Ah, goo! Ah, gah! Bglb glb bah, hah!" said the baby.

"By Jove, isn't that wonderful!" exclaimed the delighted father. "If he hasn't got our old college yell of '91, I'm a ghost!"—Cincinnati Tribune.

Her System of Chronology.

Minnie—How ridiculous! Mrs. Ferris never really began to live until she met her husband.

Ada—Humph! I suppose that's how she makes out she's only twenty-two.—Puck.

Sometimes Trustworthy.

"Some women can't believe a word their husbands say," she remarked.

"Well," confided the other, "I'm not quite so badly off as that. My husband talks in his sleep occasionally."—Washington Star.

Valuable Information.

"Anything new in your line?" asked the market reporter.

It was growing dark. The hardware man looked about absently and then remarked: "Window blinds are going down."—Indianapolis Journal.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Fred J. Bettman, of Willow avenue, is riding a new Plainfield wheel.

Sandford Robinson, of West Second street, has a 16½-pounds World racing wheel.

Mrs. J. J. Coard, of East Ninth street, is one of the latest converts to the wheel.

Miss Mary Shimer, of South Second street, has purchased a World wheel of Sandford Robinson.

This evening the young people of Trinity Reformed church, chaperoned by Harry Marshall, will take a cycle run to Metuchen. The start will be made at 7 o'clock.

Arthur B. Crane, S. Clinton Crane and Walter E. Probasco are contemplating a wheeling trip to Asbury Park and Philadelphia, starting Saturday and returning on Wednesday of next week.

James Buckle and T. J. Carey rode to New York Tuesday on their wheels. They enjoyed a spin on the Hudson County Boulevard on their return. Mr. Carey compares riding over the "famous" Newark plank road to riding over a ladder.

H. S. Thomas, of the News staff, met with an accident while riding on Monroe avenue Tuesday night on his way to the sociable at the Monroe Avenue chapel. The road was poor and the extra strain on the pedals caused the pedal crank to break. Luckily, he was not thrown to the ground.

Great preparations are being made for the bicycle run that starts from Monroe Avenue chapel tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. Those who were disappointed in not being able to go on last Friday night's run, which was declared off on account of rain, have decided to make up for lost time on this run and a "large" time may be expected. The run will be followed by a social time at the home of Mrs. James Rogers, on Clinton avenue, and a bountiful supply of good things will await the arrival of the cyclists, as Mrs. Rogers' hospitality is only too well known.

Tandems have become wonderfully popular this year, and a new tandem which has just appeared promises to be more popular than any of its predecessors. The little machine is know as the "Juvenile Tandem" and the youngsters ought to be happy. Many inquiries have been sent to the makers this year for a double machine for the little folks, but the manufacturers have been so busy turning out the regulation bicycles that they have not given the attention to the matter that the demand would seem to warrant. One firm has taken the initiative and has turned out a lot of these tandems and the wise business policy which prompted this move is already apparent. The "Juveniles" are made with 26, 24 and 20 inch wheels. The smaller tandems are listed at $100, and the 26-inch wheels at $125. The Western Wheel Works of Chicago, makers of the Crescent bicycles for which the P. L. C. Martin Cycle company of this city are agents, is the company responsible for the innovation.

The members of the National Cycle Board of Trade throughout the country, as well as all others connected with the bicycle industry, will be gratified at the stand taken by President R. Lindsay Coleman in regard to the Eastern National Show. As just been announced, the exhibit will be made in Grand Central Palace in New York city in February of next year. Both Philadelphia and Boston were considered by Mr. Coleman, because of flattering offers, but in summing up the probable benefits to the public and trade at large, he quickly reached the conclusion that the Metropolis is the only place for such an educational exhibit as the annual show has proved to be. Since announcing his decision in the matter, Mr. Coleman has received many letters and telegrams complimenting him on the stand taken. The manufacturers especially are pleased because of their escape from the clutches of the Madison Square Garden management which has heretofore charged the exhibition for every nail driven in the building. Any fear that the Grand Central Palace is not large enough for the show, may be dispelled, for it offers over 100,000 square feet of space, more than double the space ever occupied before for any cycle show. The outlook for the next show according to Mr. Coleman, who is in the best position to judge, is particularly promising. He feels sanguine that there will be more exhibitors in line than at any previous show in this country or in Europe, and that the number of visitors for the week will not fall short of 200,000.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Miss Line, of Duer street, is riding a new wheel.

Theo. Kurzhals, Jr., of West Second street, rode his wheel to Perth Amboy yesterday.

Overseer of the Poor Marx rode over to Milburn this afternoon to visit friends.

Mr. Kuhl, of Flemington, has just purchased a Cleveland combination tandem.

Patrick Marron, of West Second street, is slowly recovering from the recent injury he sustained whild riding his wheel.

John C. Wetmore has resigned his position as official handicapper of the L. A. W. for New Jersey. As yet he has given no reason for his summary action. The resignation of the genial "Jonah" will be received with regret by his numerous friends.

Among the latest purchasers of Crescents from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company are Miss Pugh, H. H. Hunler, Mrs. Smith, of East Fifth street, and A. Hallard. J. D. Loizeaux has purchased a Cleveland Swell Special from the same firm.

There has been quite a craze among the cyclists of this city to secure the most remarkable bicycle bell. Elston Leonard, of Madison avenue, now has a single-stroke brass gong, eight inches in diameter, which is likely to be heard by pedestrians unless they are stone deaf.

Mrs. Brokaw, of Park avenue, was learning a friend to ride a wheel on Park avenue last Monday night when an unknown scorcher came along, ran into Mrs. Brokaw and knocked her down. She was not seriously injured although the suddenness of the accident greatly startled her.

The next race meet in this vicinity will be held Monday afternoon at the Waverly track. It is the first day of the Cuban-American Carnival, the other days of which will include trotting matches. The amateur events are a one-mile novice, one-half, one, two and five-mile handicaps, and a one-mile scratch. There will be two professional events. Ben Johnson and John H. Lake, of the "push" at the Crescent Oval, will ride, while Jay Eaton and H. B. Mosher are entered in the professional events.

When the Summit Y. M. C. A. entertained the other clubs of the Y. M. C. A. Cycling League, sometime ago, there was quite a little talk at the meeting of the executive committee about holding a bicycle parade. One of the Plainfield delegates suggested that a parade be held in Plainfield some evening in conjunction with one of the open-air concerts. The plan has seemed impracticable to the officers of the local club, but the Summit Y. M. C. A. are planning to hold a lantern bicycle parade on July 16th, and have invited all the Y. M. C. A. cycling club in northern New Jersey and southeastern New York to participate. A big time is expected and the Summit cyclists are counting on a large turnout. Plainfield will probably be largely represented.

WHIST.

The contest for the American Whist League trophy was played under the Howell-Mitchell progressive system for fours. The match was won by the New York team, consisting of Henriques, Hawkins, Kirley and Buffinton. They are strong individual players and if their team work had been better, they would have made a better showing in the contest for the Hamilton trophy.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

A. H. Martin is responsible for the assertion that not in many years have weak fish and porgies been so plentiful at Seawaren and the Amboys, as at present. He says, of course, a person must know the kind of weather to fish in and the kind of bait to use. And "Gus" ought to know, because he has been there many a time before.

The Spalding Bicycle

After the adoption of our 1896 model and a careful estimate of the cost of manufacture, we placed the price on the Spalding Bicycle at $100. The price is now $100 and will continue at $100 throughout the season, no matter what other manufacturers may do.

We don't believe it is fair, honest or good business policy to sell a standard article like the Spalding Bicycle at one price in May and reduce its value in June by a material reduction in price. As a matter of common fairness to early purchasers of Spalding Bicycles and as an evidence of good faith on our part we will, in case of reduction in price during the season, send a rebate check to every purchaser of a Spalding Bicycle of the amount of any such reduction that may be made by us during the season This is our meaning of a Customer— I want a remedy for catarrh.

Drug Clerk—All right, sir. Here's a blood tonic that is advertised to build up the constitution.

Customer— Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! I want immediate relief; besides, catarrh is a local affection, and no tonic or blood purifier ever made can cure it. Here's 50 cents. Let me have Ely's Cream Balm. It's the only hing I know of to cure catarrh.

THIS MAN SHOT TO KILL

Tip, the Bootblack, Tries to End His Wife's Life.

IN A PASSION OVER A QUARREL.

Gilbert Thompson and His Wife Quarrel Over Possession of the Former's Sister, the Wife Calls a Policeman and Thompson Vows That He Will Kill Her—Went Deliberately at It to Accomplish the Deed—Wife in a Precarious Condition at the Hospital.

"How foolish to fire off all their firecrackers before the Fourth," remarked a colored man living on East Second street last night about 11:10 o'clock, when three explosions followed each other in quick succession. It was not, however, a firecracker that startled the city at nearly midnight, but the sounds came from the little house between North avenue and East Second street, in the rear of Ted Clevely's store on North avenue, where Gilbert Thompson, better known as "Tip, the Bootblack," attempted to murder his wife Kate, in cold blood. He chose a 32-calibre self-cocking revolver as the weapon most fitted for his purpose, and fired three shots at her, two of which struck her. They were not fatal instantly, however, and she now lies in Muhlenberg Hospital trying to recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are not a loving couple, and marriage has evidently been a failure in their case, at least. For some time they have not even lived together, and the city court docket records several instances when their troubles have been aired. According to the stories told there, Mrs. Thompson has been associating with other men, while "Tip" has been living with other women than his wife. Each side, of course, has laid all the blame on the other, and the exact truth of the matter is hard to discover.

Tip refused to support his wife until she applied to the city court and now he has been paying the rent on the second floor of the little house in the rear of Clevely's store, on North avenue, the lower floor of which has been occupied by Tom Jones and Wm Betts, two colored men.

Thompson and his wife are both colored. He is about 25 years old and she about five years older. Thompson is her second husband. The cause of the trouble lately has been Thompson's fourteen-year-old sister, Mabel. She lived with Thompson and his wife until they separated and then remained with Mrs. Thompson. Tip objected to this, claiming that Mrs. Thompson had the child on the street all the time. Thompson, as stated before, is a one-armed bootblock and has his bootblacking parlors on East Second street, just beyond the City Hotel.

Mrs. Thompson and Mabel started down town early last evening and as they passed Tip's place he called to his sister, saying, "You mustn't go around the streets with her any more," and then persuaded her to come into the shop. Mrs. Thompson hurried to Patrolman Flannagan, told her story and persuaded the officer to come back with her. Tip peremptorily refused at first to let the child go with "that woman," admitting that she was neat and a good housekeeper, but saying that she kept company with other men. At last, however, he allowed the child to go with his wife, after the officer told him that he had better.

Mrs. Thompson and Mabel then started for Westervelt avenue, on the borough end of which Mrs. Thompson's sister lives, where they spent the evening. Thompson after waiting some time closed up his boot blacking establishment and sallied forth.

At the corner of Park avenue and Second street, he met a group of friends.

"She had the cop after me again this evening," he said, "and it's her last time." They heard his remark but did not realize the full significance of it until later in the evening.

Down to Front street he went and turned westward on that crowded thoroughfare. There was a decisive expression on his face and a dangerous glitter in his eye. At Dreier's store at the corner of Front street and Madison avenue, he stopped and, after a glance in the window at the musical instruments and weapons exhibited there, went into the store and purchased a 32 calibre self-cocking revolver and five cartridges for $1.25. Placing his newly purchased weapon in his pocket, he passed out into the night air. He next directed his steps to his sister-in-law's home on Westervelt avenue.

There was a change in his manner when he quietly requested his wife to come home with him. She was rather surprised at the difference in his manner but soon was walking homeward, accompanied by Mabel. The conversation lagged as the three went along quietly.

When they reached the little alley leading to Mrs. Thompson's home from East Second street, Thompson broke the silence by remarking:

"What do you mean by dogging me all the time?"

"I want you to stay at home and behave yourself," was his wife's reply.

They had reached the stairway that led to Mrs. Thompson's rooms, and Mabel, the sister of Tip, went on up the stairs to the kitchen where she started to get something to eat. Mrs. Thompson seated herself at the head of the stairs, while her one-armed husband sat down on the middle of the flight.

There was a long pause, and then Thompson began:

"Kate, what do you want me to do? I'll give you $3.50 a week and pay your rent, will that satisfy you?"

"Yes," came from the top of the flight, "if you'll behave yourself."

The lamp in the room on the second floor flickered as the cool breeze blew in at the open window, and the shadows flitted over the face of the waiting husband. In an instant, his face grew stern and terrible. "Nothing will satisfy you," he almost shouted, and then he pulled forth the weapon that he had hitherto concealed.

"Bang," went the revolver, and after the click of the self-cocking action, a second report came, and then a third. A dreadful scream answered the first shot, and then the stairway was filled with the smoke from the revolver. Out into the street rushed Mrs. Thompson, screaming as she went, "Lord have mercy, he's shot me, my husband's shot me!"

Most of Plainfield's good citizens were at home at the time when the first shot broke the stillness of the night. Sergeant Kiely was standing on Park avenue near Front street. The shots were deadened by the walls of the house, but the officer heard the screams. A friend approached him just as the terrified wife rushed from the house. The first cry was enough for the officer.

"Excuse me, I guess I'm wanted," he shouted to the astonished man as the latter saw the burly form of the Sergeant running up the street. When the Sergeant reached the corner the hitherto quiet occupants of the piazza of the City Hotel seemed suddenly possessed. Men were shouting and running every way, but all eyes were centred on a figure that was running down East Second street in that direction. It was a woman, a colored woman, with the blood streaming down her face.

"Lord have mercy on me," she gasped, as the blood nearly choked her. Not far behind her came the slight figure of a man. In his only hand he carried a smoking revolver. Sergeant Kiely was at his side in an instant. "Here it is," cried Tip, as he handed the weapon to Kiely. "I bought it to shoot her. I meant to kill her." He made no resistance as the Sergeant led him up Park avenue in the direction of the jail. Mrs. Thompson was by this time a terrible looking spectacle. The blood had saturated the entire front of her dress and completely covered her face. One eye was gone and from the optical cavity a steady stream of blood was pouring.

They made a strange procession as they marched to the lockup with the crowd following them.

Thompson was locked up at once, and then Kiely turned his attention to the injured woman. Two of the bullets had struck her, one in the right eye, tearing it out and passing into the head, the other behind the right ear, finally lodging in the neck.

"He shot me in my own house," she was heard to mutter by William DeMeza who was assisting the Sergeant. Roundsman Frederickson had in the meantime summoned Dr. Simpson and the ambulance and the victim of the shooting affair was borne away to Muhlenberg Hospital where she now remains.

Chief Grant visited her at the Hospital this morning and tried to get a statement from her but, as she was in a half conscious state, it was very difficult.

She is in a very precarious state, but it is thought that she will live thraugh the day at least.

"Ted" Clevely's place was electrified by having the rear door suddenly burst open and a colored girl enter screaming, "My God, my brother's shot his wife."

There was a general scattering and two or three young men bravely rushed out in the rear yard, armed only with empty soda water bottles, ready to catch the murderer should he attempt to run that way.

Patrolman Flanagan appeared and, after searching the house, took charge of the little girl, who was almost frantic with terror.

HOW TO ENJOY THE 4TH

ATTRACTIONS IN AND ABOUT PLAINFIELD TOMORROW.

The Day Promises to be Vastly Different From What it Was One Year Ago—Plenty to Amuse All, However.

Fourth of July, 1896, promises to be very different in Plainfield from Fourth of July, 1895. Last year visitors assembled from far and near to see the splendid pageant that was arranged for Independence Day, and also the athletic carnival and the speeches and music in the afternoon and the pyrotechnic display in the evening. A steady pouring rain effectually spoiled most of the day, however. Of course there will be a shower this year, for no Independence Day is complete without one but from present prospects it looks as if Farmer Dunn intends to be good to us.

Although the city itself has not united in any grand celebration, the day will be a busy one. There are innumerable picnics and small parties arranged for the day while many of the cyclists will spend the day on their wheels. The chief public attractions in the morning are the handicap golf tournament on the golf links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf club, the opening rounds of the "Greater Plainfield" single tennis championship on the courts of the same club, and the long expected base-ball game between the Bachelors and Benedicts of the Park club on the Y. M. C. A. grounds.

It is surprising, but nevertheless a fact, that there are a great many people in this city, some of them exrooters, too, that do not know where the Y. M. C. A. baseball diamond is located. For the benefit of those benighted individuals it can be said that the grounds lie between West Front street and Green brook, just west of Washington avenue. The entrance to them is from the latter avenue through a little lane at the head of which is a sign that states that the baseball grounds are to be found within. The admission to the game is ten cents and, considering the array of talent that is to appear as has been already stated in The Daily Press, the visitor is certain to get his money's worth. The game begins at 10 o'clock.

In the afternoon, the Park Club will continue its all-day celebration with a single and double tennis tournament on the club courts and an afternoon tea at the club house.

The Park Club affair is by invitation only, however, as is also their evening celebration.

The finals in the tennis tournament at the courts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will be played in the afternoon, and an afternoon tea will be held on the lawn nearby beginning at 4 o'clock.

New Market will also celebrate the glorious occasion in the afternoon beginning at one o'clock and the programme will be as follows: Addresses by Revs. Fletcher and Custard, bicycle race, tub race, boat race, swimming race, 100 yard race, pole vault, running high jump, shoe race, high kick, running broad jump, sack race, 3-legged race, egg race and tug-of-war. The Schubert Ladies' orchestra is scheduled to furnish music there both afternoon and evening. The celebration is given under the auspices of Friendship Council, No. 81, Jr. O. U. A. M., of New Market.

Duty and pleasure, however, bid the Plainfielder to hie himself to the Y. M. C. A. field again at 3 o'clock, add ten cents to the treasury of the Y. M. C. A. team and see a great game. The old Crescent veterans, "Has Beens," or whatever you want to call them, are to meet the Y.M.C.A. team on the diamond. The old warriors of the diamond are to have a professional battery, but the rest of the team is to be made up of the old timers and everybody can imagine some of the fun that is sure to ensue.

Fourth of July evening without fireworks would be worse than Shakespeare's "Hamlet" with "Hamlet" left out. There will be, of course, numerous private displays of small magnitude, but the Park Club's exhibit will be the largest in this city or the borough, and will be followed by a dance in the clubhouse.

New Market is going to close her day of celebrating with, as the handbills said, "a grand display of Pain's celebrated fireworks," no relation by the way to the famous "celery compound" man, but the one who has charge of the nightly exhibit at Coney Island.

The celebrations will have to close promptly at 12 o'clock for the next day is Sunday, then the numerous merry-makers can rest up after all the excitement and bustle of Fourth of July.

Charles Case, of Central avenue, is out of town spending his summer vacation.

MANY PEOPLE YOU KNOW

SOME ARE COMING AND SOME ARE GOING FOR THE SUMMER.

The Warm Summer Weather Drives People to Country, Seashore and Mountain With the Hope of Recuperating.

Mrs. Sebring, of West Fourth street, is the guest of friends in Trenton.

A young child of Mr. and Mrs. James McCarthy, of Elmwood place, is very ill.

Chas. Boone, of Liberty and Seventh streets, has returned home from college.

Mrs. William Rockwell, of East Front street, is stopping at Asbury Park.

Miss Carrie Dewey, of West Fifth street, has gone to Orange for a visit with friends.

C. J. Newman, of Richmond street, is slowly recovering from a recent bicycle accident.

Peter Dock, of Brick Church, Orange, was a welcome visitor in town yesterday.

Capt. Peck, of West Front street, is entertaining Miss Blanche Peck, of Providence, R. I.

Mr. Hall and family, of New York, have taken up their residence on Westervelt avenue.

Mrs. William Westphal, of Fourth and Liberty streets, has gone to Newark for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Kiederling and children, of East Front street, are spending the week in Somerville with relatives.

Miss Helen Bushnell, of Central avenue, has gone to the Adirondacks to visit her friend, Miss Lotta Lowe, of Park avenue.

Charles W. McCutchen, of Rockview avenue, will go with his family to his camp in the Adirondacks the latter part of next week.

The Misses Bessie and Mamie Richards, of Fourth and Liberty streets, will spend the summer with relatives in New York city.

Thomas Buckley, of Watchung avenue, has gone to St. Paul to superintend the putting up of a large press for the Potter Press Company.

Miss Anna Wood, of Newark, has returned home after a visit with Councilman and Mrs. William Westphal, of Liberty and Fourth streets.

Abraham Mefford, who recently took up his residence on Lee place, left town today to spend the Fourth and Sunday with relatives and friends in Philadelphia.

Lawrence Kane, the driver for Wm. J. Stephenson, the North avenue caterer, who was injured by being thrown from a wagon about a week ago, returned to his work today.

A small informal 5 o'clock tea was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Samuel Huntington, of Franklin place, for her mother, Mrs. Zarega, and her sister, Miss Zarega, of New York.

An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Doran, of West Third street, will be christened in St. Mary's church on Sunday afternoon next at 4 o'clock. Rev. Father Murphy will perform the ceremony.

Mrs. Dr. Tomlinson was one of the principal speakers at the evening meeting of the inter-state conference of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held at Prohibition Park, Staten Island, on Wednesday.

James Day, of West Third street, is again confined to the house suffering from inflammatory rheumatism. He was taken down again on Wednesday. A young son of Mr. and Mrs. Day is also confined to the house by illness.

SUCCESSFUL FESTIVAL.

Scholars of a Sunday-School Raise Money for Their Excursion.

A festival was held on the grounds adjoining the First Church of Christ last night by the Sunday-school of that church, in an effort to help defray the expenses of the Sunday-school excursion next Friday, when they go to Oscawanna Island with the Grace M. E. church.

The grounds were illuminated by numerous Japanese lanterns and presented a very pretty appearance. It is needless to say the affair was well patronized and a snug sum of money was the result. The affair was in charge of the Sunday-school and each individual assisted.

Mrs. Fleming Gone to Long Branch.

Mrs. Fleming and her children left Finderne for Long Branch yesterday morning. She has rented a cottage on North Broadway. Miss Florence Bliss will join her there in a few days, and they will remain there during the summer months.

Small in size, but great in results. De Witt's Little Early Risers act gently but thoroughly, curing indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation. Small pill, safe pill, best pill. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

CHANGES ON THE POLICE FORCE.

How the Men Are Divided Over the City Districts.

The members of the police department were shifted about Wednesday night as follows:

Roundsman Frederickson performs night duty and Roundsman Mattox is on duty in the daytime. Patrolmen Vanderweg and Flanagan will look after the business part of town, while Patrolmen Post and Hartpence are located in the Boulevard and West End. Patrolmen Lunger and Cooney are to be found on West Eighth and West Seventh streets. Patrolman Myers will watch the Netherwood district, and Patrolman Totten is stationed on Crescent avenue. Paradise Alley will be in charge of Patrolman Saunders, and Fifth street will be under the care of Patrolman Fraleigh.

The men have all received a new order that they are not to converse with anyone except on matters pertaining strictly to their business.

A DEGREE FOR MERIT.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck Honored by the University of the City of New York.

The pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Rev Cornelius Schenck, has received the degree of Ph. D., Doctor of Philosophy.

Mr. Schenck pursued his studies in two universities, Taylor and the University of the City of New York. The course extended over a period of four years and included as subjects, sociology, comparative religion, and the philosophy of religion.

The subject of Mr. Shenck's thesis for the Doctorate was "Islam and Christianity."

This degree is not honorary, but rests on actual work done and examinations passed.

Thrown on the Driveway.

A young son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Bird, of East Front street, was gliding rapidly and peacefully along on his bicycle on the way down the hill from the Mountain View Inn, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the machine got away, so to speak, from the rider, and striking a snag in the roadway, young Bird was hurled promiscuously over the handlebars to the hard roadbed. The youth was picked up in a skinned condition by ex-Borough Chief W. N. Pangborn, and assisted to a trolley car at the foot of the hill, and in which he was taken home. Besides an ugly looking wound on his right knee, the rider' chin and forehead were badly cut and bruised.

The Next Band Concert.

Below will be found the programme for the next open-air concert to be given Tuesday evening in front of the Crescent Avenue church. If a bandstand can be secured Prof. Guttman will give the public a treat:

March—From Fortuna.....Stomberg
Selection—"A Base Hit".....DeWitt

Dedication.

Dedicatory exercises will be held in the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church Sunday afternoon next. Rev. James Groves is the pastor, and the special music for the occasion has been mostly arranged by Israel Jones, the cornetist. The programme is as follows: Singing, "Don metar dismat"; anthem by the choir; singing by the congregation; prayer; vocal solo, by Miss Mason; dedication address by Rev. O.T. Scott: "How Firm a Foundation," by A. Henry and choir; collection; instrumental trio, cornet, violin and organ.

Corn Crop Injured by Worms.

Web worms are doing considerable injury to the corn crop in Hunterdon county. This worm strips the cornstalks of their leaves and prevents them maturing. Many farmers say the corn crop in the county will be light on account of the ravages of these worms. There seems to be nothing that will destroy the pests.

Discharged From the Hospital.

Peter Brady, the switchman at Bound Brook who was brought to Muhlenberg Hospital early last Saturday morning, suffering from injuries received by being struck by one of the P. & R. "hog" engines, was released from that institution today. His recovery has been most rapid, judging from the extent and serious nature of his injuries, but the skill and efficiency of the corps of physicians and nurses there have brought him around allright again, although it will be some time before he can resume his position.

Did you ever think how readily the blood is poisoned by constipation? Bad blood means bad health and premature old age. DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills, overcome obstinate constipation. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 143 West Fron Street.

GOT M'CANN AT LAST.

FIRST WANTED AS A WITNESS AND THEN FOR ASSAULT.

It is Charged That He Kicked a Man by the Name of Hogan in the Face—Nicholas Kelly Arrested With Him.

The shooting affray on West Third street, several weeks ago, when James McCann attempted to perforate his brother, Chas. McCann, caused quite a little interest at the time, but Chas. McCann, instead of appearing against his brother, suddenly "vamoosed the ranch," and could not be found. He came back after a time, but before the police had a chance to lay hands on him, he got into a fracas with a man by the name of Hogan, kicked him in the face and otherwise abused him. He again absconded but yesterday appeared about the streets again, and came up for trial yesterday after noon. He paid $5 for his "fun" with Hogan.

He brought a friend, Nickolas Kelly, with him, and Kelly's visit to the court resulted in trouble for himself. Kelly is the man that has had so much trouble with Special Officer Cash, and has started a suit for false arrest against him. Although Kelly didn't know it, there was another warrant out against him on the charge of being disorderly and using indecent language, made by Cash. The warrant was served, and Kelly was unpleasantly surprised to find himself in custody. He was allowed to go on his own recognizance, and was ordered to appear for trial next Monday morning.

CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPONS.

James Williams Paid $5 to the City for That Offence.

A man, who gave his name as James Williams was arrested on West Front street last night for carrying concealed weapons.

The policeman heard several shots fired and walked up the street meeting Williams. He saw the latter transfer a revolver from his hand to his coat sleeve and then held up his arms crying, "I haven't got it." The man was evidently drunk and finally agreed that he did fire the shots, but said that he had been chased by tramps. His little premature celebration cost him $5 in the city court this morning.

A Local Entertainer.

A large audience assembled in the Mount Olive Baptist church last evening, and enjoyed an excellent entertainment given by Joseph Boldin of North Plainfield. This is the first time that Mr. Boldin has had an opportunity of showing his talent as a magician and his work was most creditable. He performed a large number of tricks such as most people have witnessed in Music Hall. He held the closest attention of his audience and though the entertainment did not commence till 9:15 the people present were perfectly willing to wait.

Much Needed Improvements Made.

A number of much needed improvements have been made in Liberty street recently by employes of the city. A crosswalk which was laid at the corner of that and Third streets, but which soon after sunk into oblivion, has been dug up and relaid. The rest of the corner has been fixed up in good shape, including the filling in of the dangerous gully which has existed for considerable time. A portion of Liberty street has also been topped off with crushed stone.

Pleased With Plainfield.

T. Edwin Isaacs, of Brooklyn, was the guest yesterday afternoon and evening of Chief T. O. Doane and family. He was given a ride around Plainfield and seemed astonished to find such a beautiful city so near Brooklyn. Although he has passed the alloted three score and ten years, he is still very active and enjoys the best of health. He is a great lover of the bicycle and rides his wheel every day. He organized in 1862 the famous Hudson Zouaves, armed and equipped them and sent them to the front.

Ran Ten Miles an Hour.

Superintendent Adlemann, of the street railway informs a Daily Press representative that the street cars are running at the rate of ten miles an hour which is the required rate specified by the city ordinance. With the power used, twelve miles is the highest rate a car could possibly run. This information is given for the benefit of those who have been complaining about the rate of speed of the cars.

Attend the Sale.

Note an advertisement in this issue of the sale on Saturday, 11th inst., at Plainfield Driving Park, when Mr. Philip Jenner will sell two very choicely bred young trotters, having the blood of Stamboul, 2:07¼; Grey Wilkes, 2:15¼; Bayonne Prince, 2:21¼; Ethan Allen, 2:25½, and Mambrino Chief, all of which are famous in trotting-horse history. 7 3 6.

TO BATTLE FOR GOLD

The Advance Guard of New York Delegates Starts for Chicago.

ACCOMPANYING EX-SEC. WHITNEY

Senator Gray, Who Is with the Party, Says He Believes There Will Be a Silver Plank in the Platform. Whitney Silent.

New York, July 3.—The advance guard of the New York delegation of democrats started for Chicago from the Grand Central depot last evening. They went accompanying Mr. Whitney to make the fight for gold at the national convention. Mr. Whitney's party included Senator Gray of Delaware, Senator Smith of New Jersey, ex-Mayor Grant, former Police Commissioner Martin, Thomas F. Ryan, Col. G. B. M. Harvey, C. C. Baldwin, Smith M. Weed, Walter Stantyn, H. J. MacDona, F. H. Du Bignon, Thomas J. Reagan and S. W. Hinckley. Senator Vest of Missouri, Senator Jones of Nevada and Gov. Hausler of Montana were on the train but not of the party. Senator Hill, ex-Gov. Russell and ex-Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan will join Mr. Whitney at Albany. A delegation of Tammanyites saw the train off. Mr. Whitney said that he did not know what they could do at Chicago. "There is nothing to be said now," he said, "It has all been said before; we are going to do the best we can." Senator Gray said: "I expect there will be a silver plank in the Chicago platform, but no one as yet knows. I do not think Gov. Altgeld will be as big when the New Yorkers get there as he is now."

TO CURTAIL PRODUCTION.

New England Mill Owners Considering the Matter of Shutting Down.

Boston, July 3.—The report that there was to be a meeting of the Arkwright club yesterday to further consider the matter of curtailing production was erroneous. The matter of an agreement for the mills to sign, requiring signatures of mills representing 4,000,000 spindles to make it operative, was left in the hands of a committee. This committee had a meeting yesterday, but it is not ready to report as the full number of spindles required have not as yet been secured, but it is expected that the required number will be received by to-night. Wednesday five of the largest Fall River mills refused to sign unless the Arnold print and the Fall River Iron Works company signed the agreement, but now all the Fall River mills have agreed to close except the Iron works (260,000 spindles) and one other mill with 44,530 spindles, so that out of 2,833,691 spindles in Fall River, 2,529,161 have signed the agreement. It does not seem to be generally known that two of the four mills of the Arnold Print works have been closed down entirely for over a year, and that it will probably be two months before they will start up, and that the other two mills are running on reduced time.

Exonerated for Killing a Prisoner.

New York, July 3.—The inquest regarding the death of Thomas F. Thornton, brother of the song writer, James Thornton, who was shot and killed on Sunday last in West Twenty-fifth street by policeman William J. Allingham, resulted in the officer's exoneration. The evidence showed that the officer had arrested Thomas Thornton and his brother John for assault and highway robbery. Thomas seized the officer's club and made a movement as if to draw a revolver. Policeman Allingham swore that he believed that his life was in danger when he fired the shot.

A Busy Court of Appeals.

Albany, July 3.—The court of appeals will not exhaust its present calendar before December 61. The calendar has been under consideration by the court for a period of nearly two years during which time fully 1,300 cases have been heard. A new calendar which will be taken up after January 1, 1897, will contain in the neighborhood of 1,500 cases and will probably consume the attention of the court for about two years.

Injured in a Peculiar Manner.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 3.—While Hon. George West was en route from New York to his home at Ballston Spa yesterday the window of the parlor car in which he was seated fell, crushing the fingers of his left hand. When the train reached Troy a physician was summoned, and after dressing the wounds gave it as his opinion that two of the fingers were so badly crushed that amputation would probably be necessary.

200,000 Pounds of Wool Burned.

Galveston, Tex., July 3.—Twenty cars belonging to the Gulf, Colorada & Santa Fe railroad and containing 200,000 pounds of wool were destroyed by fire last evening.

Sensational Manifesto of Minnesota Silver Republicans Against McKinley.

St Paul, Minn., July 3.—The most sensational manifesto in Minnesota's history was that issued yesterday afternoon by the silver republicans who refuse to support McKinley for president. Clough for governor or any of the republican candidates for congress. The prominence of the men signing it attracts to it widespread attention.

TO HER FINAL REST.

Funeral of the Late Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Hartford, July 3.—The funeral of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe was held at her late residence on Forest street in this city at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The services were of the simplest character. Scripture selections were read by the Rev. J. H. Twitchell of this city and the Rev. Charles T. Weitzel, assistant pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, and prayer was offered by the Rev. Francis Goodwin of this city. A male quartette sang "Nearer My God to Thee" and Mrs. Stowe's hymn, "The Other World." The body reposed in a casket covered with silver gray broadcloth which rested in a bank of ferns and flowers. The countenance had recovered much of Mrs. Stowe's younger looks. There were present beside the immediate family and friends in this city Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, Major James H. Pond and the Rev. Charles T. Weitzel, representing Plymouth church of Brooklyn; the Rev. Samuel Scoville of Stamford, son-in-law of Henry Ward Beecher, and Freeman Allen of Boston, grandson of Mrs. Stowe The remains were taken to Andover, Mass., for interment this morning.

NEW YORK'S LIQUOR TAX.

The Total Sum for the State Will Aggregate About $10,500,000.

Albany, July 3.—State Excise Commissioner Lyman has received word that the revenues so far collected under the Raines liquor tax law amount to $4,761,074 in New York city, $2,075,719 in Brooklyn and $750,282 in Buffalo. The total sum collected in the state will reach $10,000,000 by next week. It is expected that after the sixty confidential agents are placed at work on violations of the law that the receipts will aggregate $10,500,000. The total receipts will be a great deal more than $1,000,000 in excess of what was estimated when the governor signed the bill.

NEW PHILADELPHIA LOAN.

The Common Council Votes To Borrow $8,000,000.

Philadelphia, July 3.—Common council yesterday afternoon passed the ordinance creating a new city loan of $8,000,000. The ordinance has still to pass select council and there is a possibility that it may be defeated in the higher branch. The loan is intended to be used for various improvements and if passed will be the largest loan ever floated by the city of Philadelphia. The interest to be paid by the city on the loan is not to exceed 3½ per cent. The net debt of the city of Philadelphia at the present time, exclusive of the new loan, is about $34,000,000.

MRS. FLEMING'S MONEY.

Order To Turn Over the Balance of Her Inheritance, Amounting To $60,000.

New York, July 3.—Justice Andrews in special term, part II., yesterday afternoon signed an order on the application of Mary Alice Almont Fleming, as she signed her name, directing the city chamberlain to pay over to her the balance of the fund in his hands which fell to Mrs. Fleming by the death of her mother, Mrs. Evelina Bliss. The balance of the fund amounts to over $60,000, about $55,000 in mortgages, and $4,000 in cash.

Insurgents Seize a Steamer.

Havana, July 3.—An insurgent force commanded by Urra, boarded, a few days ago, the small steamer Susie from the beach at Bacurrannao, near this city. A detatchment of marines and sailors belonging to the crew of the Spanish cruiser Venadito, was sent to the spot yesterday with artillery to recapture the Susie and drive the insurgents from this vicinity. The Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes was also sent last night to cruise off the coast of Bacurrannao.

How to Live a Century

In an address on old age, recently published in the British Medical Journal, Sir James Crichton Browne, M.D., LL.D., says: "Man is entitled to live one-hundred years."

Many men have lived a century and not one of them has ever committed suicide. Note that fact. It is a simple question of wear and repair. Accidents excepted, a human life is measured by the body's power to build itself up as fast as use tears it down. In health this is done.

But disease attacks it. Appetite and digestion fail; strength declines, flesh melts like snow. What can stop the wasting and replace the loss?

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with the Hypophosphites of lime and soda.

It is a body-builder. It is the essence of the elements and principles that feed, nourish, reconstruct. It is fuel fat for the vital fire; it makes red blood; it stops the wasting; it puts back the lost flesh.

Hence its brilliant results in cases of anaemia, bronchitis, chronic gastric and intestinal disorders and consumption. The oil (easily digested and assimilated) forms flesh and tissue; while the lime promotes the growth of bone. It is like an architect in wood, in stone and in iron—all at once.

In Scott's Emulsion the taste of the oil is fully disguised. It does not nauseate the most delicate stomach.

No other emulsion is "just the same as," or "as good as" Scott's. There is a radical difference.

Accept no substitute.

RIOT AND BLOODSHED

One Member of the Mob at Cleveland Shot Down.

KILLED BY A SCIENTIFIC STUDENT

The Latter, Who Came from the Brown Hoisting Works, Attacked by the Mob —Police Charge and Club Right and Left.

Cleveland, O., July 3.—Bloodshed again marked the trouble at the Brown hoisting works last evening. One man was shot dead by a non-union man who had attempted to leave the works on his bicycle and was attacked by a portion of the mob. The police managed to rescue him and the police detail was beseiged in a shop and had great difficulty in preventing the lynching of their prisoner. Finally a call for troops was made and two of the four companies under arms were hurried to the scene. After their arrival the prisoner was loaded into a patrol wagon and about 7:30 locked up in the Central police station.

Charged on the Crowd.

The troops remained on guard and for a long time a sullen mob of at least 10,000 men remained about the premises. Shortly before the hour of quitting several strikers marched up to the Brown works with a big banner on which was written in big black type, "Brown's scabs." At 4:30 the workmen were marshaled into line and the police force formed the usual hollow square. Capt. English gave the word, the gates were opened and the workmen surrounded by 150 policemen with clubs in hand, marched out. The crowd gave way and the procession moved up Hamilton street to Case on the way to the St. Clair street cars. The crowd followed as on Wednesday evening, yelling "scab" and made a lively demonstration. Contrary to what the mayor declared would be done, the police allowed the mob to follow up Hamilton street. The officers marched steadily forward to Case, up Windsor to Wilson avenue. At the Fourth precinct station, near Euclid a halt was made and the workmen sent into the station. Then the police formed again across the street. At this time the following party was a dense black crowd reaching far down Wilson avenue. Suddenly the word "charge" was heard and the police sprang forward like a shot out of a gun. In a moment they were upon the vanguard of the crowd. The latter were dumbfounded.

Clubbed by the Police.

There was a waver and then all turned and fled. But they were too late to escape punishment. The batons of the police were falling like hail on the heads of the men. The crowd was panic str●cken. Two cars blocked the way north of Wilson avenue and the men, women and children were packed together in a tight mass, yelling and shrieking. One part broke away and ran down the Cleveland & Pittsburg track close at hand. Another went south on Wilson. Men were lying unconscious on the streets or crawling around in a vain attempt to rise to their feet. The police dividing into squads charged after each of the crowd, determined to inflict punishment severe and unrelenting. This lasted for several minutes and then returning squads of policemen began to gather up unconscious men and others who were staggering around as a result of severe blows.

Shot by a Scientific Student.

The man shot near the works at the beginning of the trouble was William Rettger, aged 19, a brother of the baseball pitcher, formerly with Cleveland, now in the Milwaukee team. The trouble was started by an attack made by the mob on one of the students of a scientific school in this city. Ten of the students have been working at the hoisting works for some time, making a practical study of certain mechanical work. Up to yesterday they have waited until the non-union workmen had been escorted away and then went home unmolested. Yesterday afternoon one of them, A. G. Saunders, 19 years old, left on his wheel as usual. He was assailed with cries of "Scab!" and stones were thrown at him. When he had reached a point about a block away he was struck on the head by a stone and a great gash was cut. He fell from the bicycle and the mob howled "Kill the scab," and made a rush for him. As he rose he drew a revolver and shot Rettger through the heart.

Rescued by the Police.

The squad of police left to guard the Brown works witnessed the shooting and, charging down the street, rescued Saunders, who was again on the ground being kicked and buffeted. The police drew their revolvers and managed by great efforts to get the injured youth into the office of the Bishop works. The mob outside, which had swelled to 3,000, infuriated by the sight of the dead man, howled "Lynch him," and were preparing to make a charge on the building in which the police had taken refuge when a reinforcement of police attacked the rear and clubbed their way to the building. The crowd was then kept at bay until a company of militia marched on to the scene when the mob scattered and Saunders was taken to the Central police station.

Threats of Incendiarism.

The whole section of the city where the workmen live is in a state of ferment, as threats have been made to burn the residences of the men who are working. There is also apprehension that the trouble has only begun and that a strike of iron workers embracing every branch of the industry in Cleveland may come about at any moment.

Fair, followed by Showers Saturday Afternoon or Night; Cooler Saturday.

At 2 o'Clock Leggett's Thermometer Registered 88 Degrees.

Regular Fourth of July weather.

There will be no issue of The Daily Press tomorrow.

Let the Stars and Stripes float tomorrow.

Light showers tomorrow afternoon and evening is the advice of the weather report. The weather reporter has a regard for his reputation.

It has been suggested that Chief Doane should be authorized to call the ambulance in emergency cases without first obtaining a permit.

Murders and shooting scrapes have been happening all around Plainfield for the past year, but now we are shocked with one in our midst. It is a deplorable affair.

Let the crackers bang, the punk fumigate the air, the Roman candles spout, the cannons roar, in a word, let the small boy and the big boy, and everybody, make all the noise they want to tomorrow. The more noise the merrier.

Gentlemen of the Borough Council, the people want Watchung avenue opened and they don't care whether the assessments are collected before or after the improvement is completed. Rescind the odious resolution passed at the last meeting

Some idea of the extent to which feeing amounts to in restaurants can be obtained from the statement of a New York restaurant proprietor, who was formerly a waiter. While his wages were only $8 a week, his tips frequently amounted to $175 a month.

No better indication of the increasing business in Plainfield is needed than the fact that the postmaster's salary has been increased $100 a year, and his pay is judged by the amount of business transacted. In New Brunswick the salary of the postmaster has been reduced $100. And yet New Brunswick papers prate of how much more business is done in that old Dutch town than modern, up-to-date Plainfield.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

—Charles Hartfelder, of West Third street, and Fred Firstbrook, of Liberty street, spent yesterday angling at Feltville.

—See Hatter Hallock, get that straw hat and be happy tomorrow. Store open in morning only tomorrow.

—The City Union of King's Daughters wish to thank Elliott T. Barrows, and an anonymous friend for their contributions to the fund for the Summer Camp for Sick Babies.

—The reputation of Pearson & Gayle, the builders, has extended to Yonkers, N. Y., and they will send several of their best workmen to that city on Monday next to erect a dwelling house for Mrs. M. M. Trueman, a former resident of Fairview avenue, North Plainfield.

—The sales at Edsall's great clearance sale of all summer goods increases daily as the good news spreads. He says they are coming from all the country round, and much surprise is manifested in his marvelous "cut" in prices. Note the great slash he has just made in his whole line of moquette carpets. See price in ad.

Death of a Beloved Child.

Announcement is made of the death of Anthony H. F. Windham, the fourteen-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Windham, of North Plainfield, which occurred in Brooklyn Wednesday afternoon at 2:10 o'clock. The child had been ailing from catarrh of the stomach, and upon the advice of a physician had been taken there the day before, thinking that a change in the atmosphere might do it good. The last words the little one uttered—for he was too young to talk intelligently—were "mamma" and "papa." The remains were brought to this city yesterday afternoon and interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Windham have the sympathy of a large circle of friends and relatives over the death of their only child.

We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasanter or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventive of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Charles Everett, of Tier's ice cream parlors, is riding a new Zimmy wheel.

Edward Baker and family, of West Second street, have moved to Pearl street.

Miss Eva Lewis, of Central avenue, is expected home today from boarding school in the west.

Mrs. W. A. Coddington enjoys riding a new Richmond wheel, which was recently purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Duncan, of Chicago, Ill., have moved to their new house on Richmond street.

Mrs. Wm. Addis, of Orange street, is entertaining her sister, who has been living in India for sometime.

Miss Sophie Rudd, of Clinton avenue, is home from New York and rapidly gaining her former good health.

Miss Jacyntha A. Judson, of Washington, D. C., is visiting at the home of John H. VanWinkle, of Duer street.

Rev. Clarence Dunham, assistant rector at Grace church last year, will sail for Europe tomorrow on the Lucania.

Mrs. Geo. H. Babcock and her son, George, of West Eighth street, went to the Adirondack for the summer yesterday.

Mrs. Charles A. Reed, wife of the popular Assemblyman, is an enthusiastic cyclist and now rides a Victoria.

Miss Annie Fleming, of East Fifth street, left town yesterday to visit her parents at Easton. She will be gone about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanName, of Elmwood place, left yesterday for Oswego. They will spend a month in New York State.

Nathan Lewis, who has been spending the winter with Mrs. Geo. H. Babcock, of West Eighth street, left yesterday for his home at Ashaway, R. I.

Miss Edith Hunt, of East Fifth street, will spend July 4th with her mother at Junction, Hunterdon county.

Mr. and Mrs. John Britton, of East Fourth street, will spend Fourth of July with Mr. Britton's brother, in Washington.

Congressman Chas. Fowler, of this State, was in town yesterday and was the guest of Andrew McCardele, of West Front street.

Miss M. Irene Smith and Miss Latimer, of Brooklyn, will spend the Fourth at "Waldheim," the home of Howard J. Runyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dahlem and family, of St. Louis, are visiting Mrs. Dahlem's brother, William Krewson and family, of Linden avenue.

E. C. Mulford and family and relatives will spend tomorrow at Boynton Beach. Some will go in carriages and the remainder on wheels.

Miss Kate Mulhern, of East Fifth street, will leave Monday for Wilkesbarra, Pa., where she will spend her vacation with relatives and friends. She will return to Plainfield early in August.

Ges, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Staggard, of Harrison street, has been lying dangerously ill for the past few days, suffering from inflammation of the bowels. The boy is about eleven years of age. He was taken to the hospital last night.

E. Kelly, of West Fourth street, arrived home yesterday afternoon after a six weeks' absence in Riverside, N. J. Mr. Kelly is a veteran of the late war. He claims to have been mustered into the service in Maryland in 1861, under Gen. Griffin, as a member of the Second Maryland, Ninth Corps, Volunteers.

Dunellen Visited by Burglars.

The borough of Dunellen was visited by burglars early this morning. The thieves first entered the Central Railroad Company's tool house and made away with a few tools. They then effected an entrance into Adam Dealaman's grocery store, but they got nothing, as Mr. Dealaman was awakened from his sleep and scared the intruders away. Mr. Dealaman had a gun ready, but on second thought he decided not to shoot. However, Mr. Dealaman has an idea who the robbers are and they will be carefully watched.

Refutes the Statements.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—In your issue of Tuesday there were several statements concerning the arrest of ex-Policeman Nicholas Kelly by me. I wish to refute the statements and claim they are altogether wrong. J. Cash.

Eli Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles for twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street

A GREAT ENTERPRISE.

A Well-Known Plainfielder Extols the Beauties of Mountain Park.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—A few days since I received an invitation to visit the Mountain Park Inn, recently erected on the brow of Watchung Mountain. To say I was delighted scarcely expresses my feeling in the matter.

The company who conceived this project and carried it through to its present stage of completion, deserves the thanks and encouragement of every property-owner and well wisher in this our beautiful city.

If the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity let this grand enterprise fail for want of encouragement and support, it would be an irreparable loss. And this being the first year of its opening will largely seal its future success.

The officers of this enterprise need your patronage to enable them to make more improvements, which will be necessary for a complete fulfillment of their plans.

One of the greatest needs to this enterprise is the extension of the trolley from the base of the mountain to the inn, which stands 600 feet above the level of the sea.

I will not attempt to describe the interior of the inn, but is finely arranged, while the views from the veranda are simple sublime. The air is cool and invigorating, and the transportation from the sultry streets of New York to this mountain retreat can be made in less than sixty minutes. A. Vanderbeek.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints,—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

It would be hard to convince a man suffering from bilious colic that his agony is due to a microbe with an unpronouncable name. But one dose of DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure will convince him of its power to afford instant relief. It kills pain. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

—The Germania Beneficial Society will hold a regular monthly meeting next Monday evening when the question of a fair will be discussed and settled.

—The Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company is doing a good job by removing the old poles along Craig place and substituting more substantial and more attrractive looking ones in their stead.

—Ex-Councilman L. Spangenberg claims that the street railway people have not left the roadway in the Netherwood district in good condition. In some places, he says, the tracks project out of the ground considerable. This is caused by the rain washing the dirt away.

—Frank Keller, Charles Keller, Louis Bimble, John Newman and Wm. Moran, will start for Perth Amboy at 5 o'clock Sunday morning next to spend the day angling for bass, weakfish and other members of the finny tribe. They will go and return by carriage.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

When we consider that the intestines are about five times as long as the body, we can realize the intense suffering experienced when they become inflamed. De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure subdues inflammation at once and completely removes the difficulty. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Cannons for powder, firecrackers and blank cartridges at Harper's, 411 Park avenue.

—John H. French, the West Front street clother, has closed up his business until September 1st.

—James Tilby, of the borough, yesterday registered with Percy Ohl's agency a valuable bird dog.

—Health Inspector W. N. Pangborn, of the borough, today began a personal house canvas in his district.

—The handsome prizes for the Fourth of July games at New Marke are on exhibition at Randolph's pharmacy.

—The board walk at the corner of Somerset street and Summit avenue is in a dilapidated condition and needs immediate attention.

—A meeting of interest to all will be held this evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church.

—The public drinking fountain for horses and cattle on Liberty street, broke down a few days ago, and now the beasts are watered through the generosity of John Goff allowing the city water to run into the fountain at his individual expense.

—As yet no word has been received from the citizens of Prideville as to whether they are willing to organize a fire cympany. The Borough Council meets this evening, and they should be informed early in the matter so that some action can be taken.

—Leggett, the druggist, will keep open house all day tomorrow, July Fourth, and if you get thirsty drop in and quench that dryness with his delicious soda. Leggett will be on hand to look after those who may be so unfortunate as to sustain injuries. Don't fail to take home a box of Huyler's famous candy, a fresh supply of which will be on sale.

—The thoughts of spending twenty or thirty days in the county jail for coal train jumping, does not seem to frighten the youth one bit. Yesterday afternoon a one-legged colored man with a guitar under his arm mounted a moving train near the Liberty street bridge, perched on a coal "Jimmy," and when asked by a brakeman where he was going, simply said "to the seashore." The man was careful to board a car marked "Long Branch," so there would be no change of cars at Elizabethport.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

SILVER FORCES REST

The Usual Quiet Before the Storm Sets in at Chicago.

WHITE METAL MEN ARE CONFIDENT

Bland and Boies Boomers at Work on the Early Arriving Delegates—Altgeld Expects a One-Day Convention if Silver Men Are in Control.

Chicago, July 3.—The proverbial calm before the storm prevails to-day. Having accomplished everything possible in advance of the arrival of a respectable number of silver delegates on the ground the democratic bimetallic national committee and those co-operating with it are taking a rest from their labors so far as meddling or conferring are concerned, until this evening when another round-up of all the white metal supporters then in Chicago will be in order. The ranks of the 16 to 1 advocates were reinforced last night by the arrival of Dr. J. J. Mott of North Carolina, chairman of the executive committee of the independent or new silver party, formed in Washington a year ago. Without consultation with any of the silver people that had preceeded him, he sent out an invitation for a conference to-morrow night of representatives of every party and faction favorable to silver, including populists, silver democrats and silver republicans. As to what it was intended to accomplish by this conference Dr. Mott was reticent, but the expression of sentiment among those that flocked to his quarter during the day indicated preference for the nomination next week of such a candidate as could be endorsed by the silver and populist conventions at St. Louis three weeks hence upon a platform dealing with no other issue than that of the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

The Chairmanship.

Sentiment among the silver men crystalized to-day in favor of the selection of either Gov. Stone of Missouri or W. J. Bryan of Nebraska as temporary chirman of the convention, with Senator Harris of Tennessee and Major Towles, secretary of the bimetallic commitee, as permanent chairman and secretary, respectively. The story was published that Senator Harris had been definitely chosen as permanent chairman, but at the headquarters in the Sherman house the fact that no meeting had been held was cited as proof that this was purely guesswork. Through Senator Jones the silver men went on record as opposed to the suggestion made by members of the national democratic committee that senator David B. Hill might prove acceptable to both factions as temporary chairman.

Bland Boomers the Most Active.

In the absence of material—in the shape of delegates with votes—for the making of deals or the winning of converts, the boomers are expending their ammunition on the motley crowds that invariably invade the hotels on the eve of a national convention. Much after the fashion of the side show men at the circus, they take possession of the rotunda of the hotels and hold forth to those inclided to listen concerning the merits of their respective candidates. At one time last night four distinct booms were in process of advocacy on the ground floor of the Palmer house and the cheers and yells and shouts and ironical ejaculations of the listeners combined to create a din that can as well be imagined as described. The friends of Mr. Bland were the most active. In addition to their headquarters at the Palmer and the Auditorium annex, they opened up rooms in the entries of the Sherman house where a committee lay in wait to corral such of the arriving delegates as might first seek quarters of the silver committee.

Boies Men Not Disturbed.

The friends of ex-Gov. Boies are by no means disheartened by the claims of the Bland men, and fall back on the argument that it is votes rather than shouting that make nominees. Delegate Brewster of Creston, one of the chiefs of the Boies bureau, and who had a talk with Gov. Altgeld just before the latter left for Springfield, quoted him as declaring that he had not spoken a word on the subject of presidential possibilities, that he was no more friendly to Bland than to Boies, and that the time had not yet arrived when the Illinois delegation could fasten itself to any one candidate. Out of this the adherents of the Iowa man managed to extract considerable comfort. There was more or less talk about the hotels to-day concerning a ticket made up of the two B's—Bland and Boies—but the Iowa people frown down any suggestion that their candidate would accept second place.

No Eastern Man's Name Discussed.

Vice-President Stevenson and Gov. Matthews of Indiana were also talked of considerably for the second place on the ticket in the event of the nomination for the presidency going to Bland, and later ex-Gov. Campbell of Ohio was talked of in the same connection. Not a single name of any person hailing east of the Allegheny was brought up, however, and as one of the silver people put it, the general opinion seemed to be that if there was an eastern man of national reputation who is favorable to silver he must have taken to the woods before allowing his convictions to go on record.

Jealous of Gold Advocates.

Some of the silver men here manifest a disposition to resent the announced intention of gold advocates who are not delegates to the democratic national convention to come to Chicago with the avowed intention of influencing the course of proceedings. Voice was given to this feeling by Senator-elect Money of Mississippi, who said: "It is an unheard-of proceeding for men like Mr. Whitney and Mr. Eckels, who have no credentials to a national convention, to attend it with the intention of influencing the action of delegates on a question of principle. It is, of course, usual for the friends of candidates to exert their influence upon delegates who believe as they do; but for men to come here, as these men do, to change the views of delegates who are instructed on a line of policy is either a piece of arrogance or a piece of folly, just as you choose to regard it. I say to them that either one of two constructions is to be put upon their conduct: they either propose to buy men outright, or they want to otherwise influence delegates to break with their constituents. Either policy will be resented, and I predict that the gold advocates who come to the convention without other excuse than that of exerting their influonce on duly elected delegates will meet with a very cool reception. The convention will be silver from core to cuticle, and the gold influence cannot be used to change its character."

The Temporary Organization.

Concerning the temporary chairmanship of the convention, Senator Blackburn of Kentucky said to-day: "Senator Hill of New would undoubtedly make a very impartial chairman, but he is allied with the gold forces, and it would be a roundabout way of procedure for us to turn over to the minority of the convention its organization. It is not to be supposed that the majority are going to jeopardize their own work and chances. As for Gov. Altgeld, I never understood that he was a candidate for temporary chairman. Mark this," continued the senator, "this convention is in control of the silver men. That is fact beyond any question of doubt. On every question the stand of the majority will be to aid their movement. Now, if the gold men were in control, they would not think of giving us control of the temporary organization. That would be declared foolish by them, and I don't believe that they will expect us to do it. Anyway, whether they do or not, we shall not act in that way. A silver man will wield the gavel. As to who will be chosen I cannot say. I have heard no one mentioned with any definiteness. There are many candidates, and I have not committed myself to any of them. Jones of Arkansas would be a good man."

McLean's Friends Confident.

The friends of John R. McLean of Ohio are talking very confidently today of the showing they will make for him as a presidential candidate in the convention. They say he will have from the beginning not only the support of his own delegation, but also the assistance of many delegates from other states. They think that his availability will cause him to grow upon the convention from the beginning, and claim for him that his selection would make Ohio, Indiana and Illinois surely democratic at the polls.

For a One Day Convention.

Springfield, Ill., July 3.—Gov. Altgeld said this morning that if the free silver leaders have their way, the Chicago convention will be in session but one day. The silverites intend to make a vigorous effort to carry this idea into effect, and that is one reason why they are so determined to have a free-silver man for temporary chairman. They want a man who will expedite business in a manner that will meet their approval. The governor expects to return to Chicago on Sunday, and will then remain there until after the convention.

Against a Bolt at Chicago.

Boston, July 3.—In an interview Hon. George Fred Williams, one of the delegates-at-large to the national democratic convention, made some very interesting and forcible declarations on the political situation which cannot fail to attract national attention. Briefly speaking, Mr. Williams said that his political influence will be thrown against a bolt in the Chicago convention if a silver platform is adopted. Mr. Williams says he is willing to take his chances with free silver coinage. The tariff he declared will cut only a small figure in the campaign.

To Place Blackburn in Nomination.

Louisville, July 3.—John S. Shea of Russellville, Ky., will place Senator Blackburn in nomination at Chicago. He will leave for Chicago to-morrow.

Seized Gloucester Fishing Schooner

Halifax, N. S., July 3.—The Evening Echo says the evidence so far taken in the case of the seized Gloucester fishing schooner Frederick Geering, jr., is considered to be largely in favor of the defense, and if she escapes condemnation there is no doubt the owners of the vessel will present to the Dominion government a heavy bill for damages.

Tin-Plate Workers' Wage Scale.

Pittsburg, July 3.—The conference of manufacturers and workers interested in the tin-plate wage scale is now in session with every prospect that an amicable agreement will be had. The result affects the interests of about 15,000 workmen in various parts of the country. Already six manufacturers have signed the document.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? TELEPHONES IN EUROPE.

Not So Extensively Used as in the United States.

The world-wide reputation of the American, not only for inventiveness, but for the quick and ready adoption and use of all the appliances of practical science, is well sustained by the statistics recently published concerning the use of telephones. It appears, says the Youth's Companion, that in the number of their telephones the United States are far in advance of any of the European nations. We have some 636,000 telephones in use, while England and Germany together have probably about half that number, and it is said that they exceed all the rest of Europe combined.

But there are two small countries which, in proportion to their population, use more telephones than the other European nations. Switzerland, according to late statistics, has one telephone to every 147 inhabitants, and Sweden one to every 184, while in England and Germany there is only one telephone to every 260 inhabitants.

A curious reason has been suggested for the extensive use of telephones in Sweden, namely, that they have proved particularly useful on account of the difficulties of locomotion there, and the great length of the winter nights, which tends to increase those difficulties and perhaps to inspire, like the twilight of more genial climes, a desire for closer human communion.

The obstacles to locomotion in the Alps are thought to furnish a similar reason for the great development of the use of telephones in Switzerland, although the enormous influx of summer tourists is perhaps the most effective cause of their popularity in that country.

PARISIAN BOARDING HOUSE.

One Landlady Who Has Made a Fortune Off of Americans.

Few American women can afford to pay hotel prices for long stays in Europe, but are forced to live in boarding houses when they are abroad, a thing at which they turn up their noses when they are at home. The pension prices in Paris range from seven to fifteen francs a day. It is well to give up the idea of getting into a "swell private family." Swell private families in Paris do not keep boarders. There is a swell pension, however, in Paris which has many well-known Americans under its roof all the time. Among others Duchess de la Rochefoucauld, when she was Miss Mattie Mitchell, of Oregon, lived there with her mother. This boarding house is near the Arc de Triomphe, and the landlady has made a fortune out of her American boarders; she says her daughter's dot is 200,000 francs. The food is not any too good—one gets rather too much veal there—but the cooking is excellent. There is another large pension in the Champs-Elysees quarter where rooms the size of a packing case are seven francs a day, more comfortable ones 12. Light, fuel, towels, etc., are extra. All the servants have to be tipped all the time, as the landlady pays them starvation wages. You will see at this pension at the table d'hote decayed Spanish grandees, Portuguese marquises, Greek diplomats, Belgian barons, queer French counts and queerer French countesses, South American heiresses, Persian generals and any number of American mammas and daughters. At this place the food is good and well cooked.

NO INDIAN WARS IN CANADA.

The United States Contrasted with the Dominion—A British View.

The great fact stands boldly forth that Canada has never fought the Indians, and she will not begin to do so now. Never has Canada had an Indian war; an Indian massacre is unknown in the annals of her history. She is too poor to seek glory by slaughtering the natives born of her soil and too proud to defame her character or stain her escutcheon. Contrast with this, says the Westminster Review, the policy of the United States, that is nearly always fighting its red men. Indian wars are very expensive matters to deal with. The small episode of last year, beginning with the Messiah craze and ending with the tragedy at Pine Ridge agency, covering but a few weeks, cost the United States government $2,000,000, besides the lives lost, and in addition unsettled the natives throughout the country. It is to the credit of the Canadian Indians that, although sorely tempted, the Messiah craze had no charms for them. There was in Canada, it is true, Riel's last rebellion, that cost Canada $7,000,000 and the lives of some of her noblest citizens. But that was not an Indian uprising. Nevertheless, it taught both the white men and the red men a lesson. It taught Canada that it would be cheaper to ration all the Indian tribes than to have another rebellion; and it taught the Indian the prowess of the authorities, and this was emphasized by the trips given the Indian chiefs to Ontario, where they beheld tokens of the power, wealth and glory of the white men.

Equal to the Emergency.

They are telling the story in London that the impossible American in Paris alighted at a hotel to find it absolutely full. "I have nothing," expostulated the host, almost tearfully, "nothing. The first floor is taken by the king of the Ostenders; the queen of Montegaria occupies the second; the duke of Cottonopolis is sharing the third floor with the caliph of Port Said, and the crown prince of Nova Esperanza is sleeping on the billiard table. As for myself, I have to make up a bed in the office, and there only remains the chamber of my daughter. Of course—" "Is that your daughter?" interrupted the American, pointing to the young lady at the desk. "Yes, sir." "All right; I'll marry her after lunch." And, giving his valise to the speechless boniface, he added: "Now, you can take my baggage up to our room."

Not even a grain of salt is wanting to emphasize and make perfect the flavor of

AID FOR INSURGENTS

Another Big Filibustering Expedition Landed in Cuba.

ARMS AND AMMUNITION TAKEN IN

Insurgents Hold Up and Loot a Train—The Town of Mordazo Again Attacked — Maceo's Movements Unknown.

Havana, July 3.—An important filibustering expedition has landed on the coast of the province of Pinar del Rio. According to the secret advices received here large quantities of arms, ammunition and other munitions of war were safely landed and are now in the hands of the rebels. Advices from Santiago de Cuba are to the effect that a train running to the Juragua iron mines was held up by insurgents and looted. It is said that the government has prohibited the export of bananas from the ports of Gibara and Baracoa, it being suspected that the vessels engaged in the fruit trade carry contraband of war. It is reported that rebels have again attacked the town of Mordazo, province of Santa Clara. No details are given. No news has been made public lately regarding the movements of Antonio Maceo in the province of Pinar del Rio.

AUSTIN CORBIN'S WILL.

His Estate, Valued at Several Million Dollars, Goes to Relatives.

New York, July 3.—The will of Austin Corbin, the late president of the Long Island railroad, who was accidentally killed a short time ago, has been offered for probate. The exact amount of the estate is not given, but it amounts to several million dollars, which is disposed of between his children and grandchildren and other relatives. His residence in Suffolk county goes to his widow, with all the furniture, horses and carriages. He also gives her a life interest in a house owned by him on Fifth avenue, this city, and also $300,000 in cash. Isabella C. Edgell, Austin Corbin, jr., and Annie Corbin, his three children, receive each $150,000 in cash. Miss Corbin gets $60,000 with which to purchase a residence. The interest of Mr. Corbin in the Corbin Banking company is given to Austin Corbin, jr. Mrs. Mary C. Champillion, the deceased daughter of Mr. Corbin, shared equally in the will, and it was on account of her death that a codicil was added to the will. Her interest for life goes to her son, Andre. The balance of the estate, including the stock of the Long Island Railroad company and other corporations in which Mr. Corbin was largely interested, is given to the executors in trust to hold during the life of Mrs. Corbin. After her death the property is to be divided among the children and grandchildren.

MURDER ATTEMPTED IN COURT.

A Young Woman Tries To Shoot the Defendant in Her Sister's Damage Suit.

San Francisco, July 3.—Emma Ashley, sister of Lilian Ashley the plaintiff in the Baldwin-Ashley damage suit, who yesterday fired a shot from a revolver at E. J. Baldwin, the defendant, in open court, is believed to be insane. It appears that a certain photograph was produced, detrimental to the case of the plaintiff, who gave a signal to her sister, who sat immediately behind Baldwin. Miss Ashley thereupon whipped out a revolver, and aiming it at his head fired, the bullet taking off several of his curls. The court room was all excitement in a moment. The would-be murderess was quickly seized and hurried to prison.

TORE DOWN OLD GLORY.

A Private in the Pennsylvania National Guard Dishonorably Discharged.

Chester, Pa., July 3.—Charles Blackburn, a private in Company B, Sixth regiment, P. N. G., has been dishonorably discharged for tearing down the American flag. Col. P. M. Washabaugh signed the discharge. The act was committed on the night of McKinley's nomination during a public demonstration. Blackburn was roughly handled by the militia at the time.

The Fort Moselle Explosion.

Berlin, July 3.—The Vossische Zeitung's correspondent at Metz telegraphs that there were ten officers and more than 300 soldiers around the arsenal when the explosion occurred. Fifty of these were killed outright or fatally injured. There was also a crowd of civilians watching the fire at the time, and some of them were killed. The number of civilian victims, however, is as yet unknown.

Cordage Property Sale Withdrawn.

New York, July 3.—The sale of property formally owned by the United States Cordage company, located in Philadelphia and Easton, Pa., and upon which the United States Trust company held a mortgage for $7,500,000, which was foreclosed on May 29, was to have been held at the Liberty Street Real Estate exchange yesterday, but was withdrawn indefinitely.

Two Fatally Burned by an Exploding Lamp.

Philadelphia, July 3.—By the explosion of a gasoline lamp yesterday afternoon at a pool room on Green street, three people were burned, two fatally. William Feinstein, owner of the place, and Jacob Rudolph, aged 15 years.

Support of Work Among College Students.

Northfield, Mass., July 3.—Pledges taken yesterday towards the support and extension of work among college students during the coming year amounted to $1,400. D. L. Moody spoke last night on "The Holy Spirit," and will continue the subject to-day.

St. Petersburg, July 3.—The Novoe announces that Russia has obtained absolute freedom of trade in China.

SPORTS

FRIDAY, July 3. Sun rises 4:29 a. m., sets 7:34 p. m. Lanterns must be lighted between 8:34 p. m. and 3:29 a. m.

Cyclists desiring to join the League of American Wheelmen will be furnished with application blanks and necessary information by addressing the Cycling Department of the Daily Press.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Rev. P. S. Gibson, of Liberty street, has purchased a handsome wheel which he finds good use for in his pastoral work.

Frank Eick, of East Third street, street, who sustained an injury recently to the thumb on his right hand, is improving nicely.

Gus Sutterlin, of East Fourth street, had a fall yesterday from a wheel on East Fourth street that quite badly bruised and stunned him.

Carroll Runyon and Jack Dumont did some fast tandem riding yesterday afternoon. They tried to break their record of 36 minutes from Martin's store to the Presbyterian church at Metuchen and return and succeeded in riding the distance in 33 minutes, 15 seconds.

Howard P. Mosher, of the Jersey team, says the Daily American Wheelman, is a new "un" in the professional class, joining the chasers after the "long green." His recent performances, however, show that he is not out of place even among the old cracks. This was clearly proven by his work at Plainfield on Decoration Day and at the Waverly meet, as well as at Manhattan Beach on Saturday last, where he ran second to Tom Butler in the mile open, beating Eddie Bald.

Mosher started racing in class A early in 1895. Previous to that time he was the crack skater of Storm King, N. Y., and his training for skating contests gave him a strong pair of "pedal pushers," which stand him in good stead for cycle racing. His marked successes in the class A races during last season are still fresh in the minds of the cycling public, and his present form would indicate a repetition of them among the "pros." He will ride in all the professional events at Bridgeport on Saturday.

Chief Consul Gentle, of New Jersey, is elated over the fact that his division has beaten the New York division in getting an up-to date 1896 road book. The first copies were received from the printer last week and were much admired. The book appears in a very attractive binding, and besides giving the details of all the tours in the State has the principal routes of adjoining States. It also contains much other information of value to touring wheelmen, such, for instance, as a list of league hotels, names of local consuls, etc. Everything is nicely classified, reflecting much credit upon the road book committee, which comprises James C. Tattersall, of Trenton; Frederick Keer, of Newark; and J. W. Dickinson, of Asbury Park. The work of the committee was outlined by the executive committee, of which Mr. Gentle is the chairman. The maps which go with the book were revised and drawn this spring. League members can secure the book for $1. The price to others is $2. Applications should be sent to J. C. Tattersall, secretary-treasurer, Trenton, N. J.

One of the most pleasant bicycle runs of the season was that which started from Trinity Reformed church last evening at 7 o'clock. The run was arranged by Harry W. Marshall, who chaperoned the party. Metuchen was the objective point and after a short rest at that place the young people started for Tier's lake house, where they all indulged in the famous ice cream to be found there. A feature of the event was the bugle playing of Ben. J. LaVere. Those who formed the jolly party were: Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Will F. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bird, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cutter, Mrs. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Martin, Mrs. Milton C. Barkalew, the Misses J. Kissam, E. C. Benedict, Maude Eleanor VanDyke, Minnie Arnold, Jessie Stevens, Sadie Holmes, Mary VanFleet, Gertrude Tier, Bessie Martin, Emma Line, and G. Smith, J. C. VanDyke, Ben. J. LaVere, H. E. Gayle, Wm. A. Crawford, Robert Randolph, Ephraim Vail, Fred Ross, Edgar Sheppard, Will F. Dunn, Louis Hummer, B. Winckler, Bertram Metler and Chauncey F. Colthar.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Some junior athletic games were held in the City Park yesterday afternoon and J. Peterson won the all-round championship.

Persons who have a coughing spell every night, on account of a tickling sensation in the throat, may overcome it at once by a dose of One Minute Cough Cure. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Thompson was brought before Justice Nash this morning at 10 o'clock. City Judge DeMeza acted as his counsel and asked that Thompson be remanded so that the condition of his wife could be ascertained. The request was granted and the hearing set down for next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. His sister, Mabel Thompson, was remanded as a witness. The prisoner and witness will be taken to Elizabeth this afternoon.

AROUND THE BASES.

The "Has Beens" have, after earnest practice, decided to arrange themselves in the following positions on the diamond tomorrow at 3 p. m. Do not fail to see the game:

"HAS BEENS."	Y. M. C. A.
Cornwell, ss	Townley, c.f
Francis, p	Dennis, c
Marsh, 2b	McKelvey, 2b

Walz, c.f	Schoonmaker, ss
Teele, r.f	Burt, p

That will be a great baseball game on Saturday afternoon when the old Crescents try their hands again with the Y. M. C. A. team. "Chappie" Lyman has been persuaded to umpire on condition a squad of police be at hand to protect him from Tom Keller, and his melodious voice will sound forth his degrees as the councilmanic pitcher of the other side twirls the ball over the plate. The veterans are still in hard training and a party of them were seen out on Park avenue last evening running after J. J. Kenneyon his Hunter wheel. George R Cornwell, captain of this illustrious band of "vets," is hustling to "beat the band" and expects to have a great team up for Saturday afternoon. There need be no fear of accidents as the entire staff of the hospital, and the ambulance included, will be on hand to carry off the injured veterans.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

Edward Campbell, of Park avenue, went fishing at South Amboy yesterday.

Members of the local branch of the Game and Fish Protective Society are still on the alert for violators of the game and fish laws. They have had muslin posters printed with instructions as to the open seasons, penalties, etc., which they are now posting in this district.

Aaron Brower, of Samptown, or South Plainfield, while plowing on his farm yesterday came upon a bevy of young quail. There were eighteen all told in the flock and they appeared to be in a very healthy condition. The members of the Game and Fish Protective Society, who "sowed the seed," feel much encouraged by this and other similar finds near here.

Bridge to Be Rebuilt.

The bridge at Terrill road, over the tracks of the Central Railroad, which was destroyed by fire some time ago, will soon be rebuilt, as the contract has been awarded. It will be an iron bridge this time.

Proves to be S. S. Stryker.

S. S. Stryker, the crazy man who was arrested in Morristown after claiming to be George Washington, was taken home by his brother, A. B. Stryker, of this city yesterday. His condition is the result of an attack of typhoid fever about nine months ago.

Four Score and Two.

The death of Mrs. Mary C. Vermeule, aged 82 years, wife of the late Geo. B. Vermule, occurred yesterday at her residence, 313 West Second street. Mrs. Vermeule sustained an injury sometime ago which kept her closely confined, and this, together with her age, was the cause of death. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon from the house at 2:30.

For the Fresh Air Camp.

The Press is in receipt of two quilts for the King's Daughters' fresh air camp. They are presented by Lizzie Dencklau, Lydia Day, Florence Williams and Nellie Apgar, members of Miss Lizzie Dunn's Sunday-school class of Trinity Reformed church. They can be had by calling at the business office of this paper.

Art in Advertising.

The beautiful Fourth of July design for the Royal Baking Powder, published on the fifth page of today's Press, is the work of William H. Smith, of this city. Mr. Smith designs nearly all the advertisements for this company, who are so well pleased with his work that he has orders to make all the designs he cares to.

Particularly Sad Death.

A particularly sad death occurred today noon when Bertie Brown, aged one year, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Brown of Bristol, Conn., passed away after a short illness from convulsions. The family came to Plainfield a few days ago to spend July 4th, with Mr. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Moses D. Brown, of 404 West Fourth street. The little one was taken on Tuesday, and the best of medical skill was secured but to no purpose. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

$800 IN GOLD DROWNS A MAN.

At the burning of a steamboat on the Hudson river many years ago, many of the passengers were drowned. Among the bodies brougt up from the bottom of the river by grappling was that of a man known to have been an excellent swimmer. Around his wasit was a belt containing nearly $800 in gold. That told the story.

"In old and chronic cases of indigestion (dyspepsia or gastritis—it is all the same) the sufferer develops a great variety of symptoms and often dies—poisoned by the products of his own torpid and inflamed stomach. His food, instead of being digested, and so furnishing strength and physical substance, ferments and putrefies within him. The chief process of life is arrested at a vital point. The more he eats the worse off he is. And yet unless he can be fed he must also perish. People do so die, daily, by thousands, but we docters seldom have the moral courage to give the cause its true name lest we should be laughed at for our inability to cure so 'simple' a thing as indigestion. Simple? Why, it is the capstone of all complaints—and the mother of most of them."—So writes famous English physician.

Some of the symptoms alluded to are these: Loss of appetite; distress after eating; heartburn and palpitation; giddiness; foul taste in the mouth; the rising of nauseous acids and gases into the throat; furred tongue; spots before the eyes; unaccountable weariness and fatigue; sluggish circulation; weakness and nervous prostration; constipation or diarrhœa; discolored skin, etc.

The sufferer's friends often advise him to cheer up; to throw off his lethargy and eat freely. Bad advice. He knows better. "No," he answers. "I cannot; my food does me no good." He is right. Food now is gold in the spent swimmer's belt.

Take light nourishment, followed immediately by a dose of the Shaker Digestive Cordial—a new and radical remedy discovered and prepared by the Shakers of Mt. Lebanon, N. Y.—the essence of medicinal herbs and plants cultivated by them alone. Then continue with it. Relieves at once and soon cures. Pleasant to the palate and adapted to all constitutions.

Trial bottles—which prove its merits—at ten cents. For sale by nearly all druggists.

Mr. Bosterli's Remains Arrive.

The body of the late Joseph H. Balsterli, who died from the effects of being thrown from a horse at Decker, Montana, last Friday, arrived from Sheridan, Wyoming, yesterday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock. A. M. Runyon & Son took charge of the body. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from his late residence, 26 Chatham street, North Plainfield. The various lodges of which the decedent was a member will attend the services in a body.

Judgment Finally Secured

The celebrated contract case of Hand against Reilly, for auctioneer's services, which was started December 3d, and which has been adjourned some fifteen times, was finally tried in Justice Mosher's court this morning. Lawyer W. R. Codington represented the plaintiff, and Lawyer Powers the defendant. Judgment was given the plaintiff for $20.45 with interest and cost.

The Spalding Bicycle

After the adoption of our 1896 model and a careful estimate of the cost of manufacture, we placed the price on the Spalding Bicycle at $100. The price is now $100 and will continue at $100 throughout the season, no matter what other manufacturers may do.

We don't believe it is fair, honest or good business policy to sell a standard article like the Spalding Bicycle at one price in May and reduce its value in June by a material reduction in price. As a matter of common fairness to early purchasers of Spalding Bicycles and as an evidence of good faith on our part we will, in case of reduction in price during the season, send a rebate check to every purchaser of a Spalding Bicycle of the amount of any such reduction that may be made by us during the season. Customer—Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! BIG TIME FOR THE PARKS

A GLORIOUS CELEBRATION AT THE POPULAR CLUB GROUNDS.

One Continual Round of Pleasure from Early Morn Till Late at Night, in Which All Sorts of Pastimes Took Place

Never was there such a successful day at the Park Club as Saturday. The Fourth was celebrated in a grand and glorious manner with everything from fireworks to a dog fight; the latter, however, was not on the programme, but was arranged at the last moment by one of the participants. For the last week Janitor Israel Jones and his corps of sable assistants have been hard at work preparing for the celebration, while the Fourth of July committee has been laboring over it for nearly a month.

The club house and grounds on Washington avenue presented a gala appearance. The lawn itself was in fine condition, the result of constant care, and the tennis courts were also specially prepared. Long strings of Japanese lanterns were stretched around the grounds and from convenient posts to the club house. Their brilliant colors showed well in the daylight, but it was not until evening that they appeared at their best. The Stars and Stripes of all sizes and all shapes waved from club house, tennis nets and every point where they could be placed. The interior of the club house was a perfect bower of red, white and blue. There were large flags, small flags and middle sized flags arranged about the ceiling and walls, while streamers of tri-colored bunting were draped from chandelier to corner, over the doors and around windows. There was not too much of it, either, for the best artistic talent in Washington Park was called out to assist in its arrangement. The pagoda that guards the approach over Green brook from its elevated position on the extremity of the bowling alleys, was also charming in its appearance. The same hands that had so changed the interior of the club house had been at work here. The electric lights that illuminated it had been enclosed in Japanese lanterns which, in the evening, shed a soft light over the scene, and aided by the flags that screened it from the view of the occupants of the clubhouse, made it a romantic place, and many couples took advantage of it. Early in the morning Janitor Jones and his assistants were on hand putting the finishing touches on the decorations. As the hour of 10 approached there was a general exodus for the Y. M. C. A. baseball field just across the brook.

As the visitor entered, he or she was beguiled into buying a most remarkable score card, which informed him that the "Cuban Bachelors" and the "Spanish Benedicts" of the Park Club would play an "exhibition (?) game of baseball. It is rather hard to say why the Bachelors were designated as Cubans, unless it was because they were fighting to secure their freedom from Bachelordom, which is hardly likely, or else the Benedicts were termed Spanish as they are such tyrants. However, it was, two remarkable teams lined up soon after the appointed hour. They consisted at the start of the following:

CUBAN BACHELORS.		SPANISH BENEDICTS.
Percy Sandford	pitcher	C. W. Smith
B. W. Erickson	catcher	J. T. Scott
Dr. Matthewson	first base	A. VanDeventer
Gifford Cooley	second base	S. Townsend
W. Murray	third base	H. A. McGee
G. O. Worth	shortstop	Ed Douglass
G. O. Stevens	leftfield	J. E. Erickson
W. N. Bunyon	centrefield	"Doc" Thiers
L. H. VanBuren	rightfield	J. C. Peck

Peter B. Matthews held the all-important office of captain-general of the rebelling Bachelors, while Roger Erickson was commanding officer of the same troops on the field. The cruel tyrants of Spain, otherwise the married men, had Edwin T. Douglass and Augustus VanDeventer to fill those positions.

Never was a battle harder fought than this one. Leonidas, with his band of three hundred Spartans at Thermopylae, were not "in it" with the Benedicts. They withstood the shock of the advancing Bachelors, and as man after man tumbled over in the dust, usually in his efforts to stop a grounder, they remained true to their colors, got in the way of base runners or slung their bats with a vicious lunge at Erickson's shins. But it was of no avail. After the Bachelors rolled up a score of fourteen in the third inning, and then only stopped because Worth thought one of the fielders was dead, and batted a ball at him to see, there remained only one thing to be done. Captain-General Douglass secured the best terms possible, and nine very warm, dusty and tired Benedicts departed from the field after giving a farewell cheer for their opponents. Just three and a half innings were played, and the score stood 26 to 10 in favor of Cuba. The Benedicts had evidently

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL WORK

CREDITABLE EFFORTS OF SCHOLARS ON EXHIBITION.

Several Sketches Show That the Young People Are Handy With the Pencil —The Teachers Deserve Great Credit.

The annual exhibition of the work performed by the scholars of the Parochial school was opened yesterday morning in the school hall and will continue till Wednesday night. It can be honestly stated that the exhibit is a thoroughly creditable one in every particular and reflects earnest effort and study on the part of the scholars. Perhaps the most noteworthy exhibit is the crayon work by the senior class. This class is in charge of Miss Phillips as teacher and that she has worked faithfully and earnestly goes without saying. Among this work there are several scholars deserving of special mention. Lawrence Doyle has drawn the head of a horse in a most life-like manner while Miss Elizabeth Day has produced a dog's head with the same result. A striking picture is one entitled "An Eagle's Nest," drawn by Miss Anna O'Keefe. The picture of "Mary Magdalene" by Miss Elizabeth Flannagan is certainly very finely executed as is also a portrait of Pope Leo XIII, by Miss Elizabeth Rafferty. Edward Flynn has placed on card board a very fine picture of St. John the Evangelist, while Miss Smith has performed equal work in producing a portrait of Longfellow. A favorite picture is that of Bishop Wigger, drawn by Miss Josie Murphy. Then there are a number of maps of various countries, and the work done by John Madden, John Berry, John Butscher, Miss Mary Smith, Michael Owens and Miss Josie Murphy is noteworthy. There are also several fine putty models which were made by the boys and girls.

Another feature is the exhibit of fancy sewing. This art is taught by Miss Slevin and the scholars have made remarkable progress. There is also an exhibit of plain sewing which is creditable work. An interesting feature is the exhibit of journals of school work for each month in the year. This work was performed by the senior class. Different subjects were chosen for each month and then a story was written from it. Miss Hillips has placed in each journal an original pen sketch which is exceedingly fine. In the six primary grades the scholars have all done excellent work in the various elementary branches and their work shows care and thought. There seems to be a uniformity in all the work that is noteworthy. The bookkeeping department comprising a year's solid work is most commendable. The work is neatly done and would be creditable to people much older in years. The exhibit is in charge of Sister Mary Esther ably assisted by the other Sisters. They extend a very cordial invitation to all to visit the school and witness the exhibit.

Dangerous Hilarity.

A number of young men, whose brains were fuddled by too much beer, lighted several cannon firecrackers in the barroom of Spiegel's saloon on Friday evening, and considerable damage was done to the interior, including the breaking of many window glasses, the revolving fans, etc. The proprietor was unable to find a policeman just at the moment, and taking a club he soon "cleaned the coop" and convinced the fun-makers that he was boss of the place. He estimates his damage at $50, and the fathers of several of the young men will be compelled to settle the loss.

Contusion of the Forehead.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cooper's ten-year-old daughter, of 124 East Fourth street, sustained a contusion of the forehead Friday morning about 10 o'clock. While attempting to cross Park avenue at the corner of Fourth street, Mrs. George Thatcher drove by in a dog cart, and the little girl came in contact with the hub on the cart, which resulted in throwing her. She was picked up by Mr. Moy, the druggist, and assisted to her home. The girl seemed to be more frightened than injured.

A Pleasant Euchre Party.

Mrs. L. William Serrell, of Crescent avenue, gave a pleasant euchre party Friday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Williams, of Jersey City. Miss Jessie Munger and Mrs. Jules Erickson won the first and second prizes for the women, and Walter Moore and W. B. Gilbert secured the first and second prizes for the men. Miss Kirkner was awarded the consolation prize.

Suit For a Large Amount.

Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh began a suit for $20,000 in the Supreme Court, today, against the Lehigh Valley railroad company, as attorney for Mrs. Henry Burnett.

OLD TIMERS PLAY WELL

FORMER KINGS OF THE LOCAL DIAMOND PUT UP A GOOD GAME.

But Accompanying the Game Was a Good Deal of Fun, and Spectators Were Well Paid for Their Attendance.

Who says the "Old Crescents" can't play base ball?

Although they were defeated Saturday afternoon by the crack nine of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. they covered themselves with glory so that Tennyson might have written of them as he did of the Light Brigade:

When can their glory fade.
Oh, the wild charge they made
All the world wondered."

There was a delegation from "the world" that nearly filled the grand stand on the Y. M. C. A. field and sat in the cool shade beside the banks of Green brook.

And, of course, they wondered. Who wouldn't to see Corporation Counsel Marsh chase the ball as if it was some offending witness, or Clarence Teal run around the bases as if the entire Crescent Wheelmen were after him.

The Y. M. C. A. boys won, of course, by a score of 19 to 6, but it was the work of the professional battery of the "Old Crescents" rather than that of the veterans that made their opponents score so high. Francis, of New Brunswick, was either not at his best or rather poor, as the young men batted him when and where they wished.

From a scientific point of view the game was not a bad one, but to the local cranks it was simply delightful.

It seemed like old times to see George Cornwell gyrating about the diamond and Hervey Doane picking up grounders and shooting them at first in the liveliest manner imaginable.

The old enthusiasts were especially vehement in their welcome back to the diamond of Tom Keller. He appeared in an old Crescent League suit and seemed like a boy again. He had an old mit, dating back fifteen years, but there is ball playing still left in Keller, and he danced around as if 200 pounds was nothing to carry. He caught everything, too, and his coaching was worth going miles to hear.

Cornwell was at his old position at short and he was happy. He wore a large glove, but every time he saw a grounder shooting along he forgot that it was 1896, threw the glove away and fielded the ball as of old. When it came to batting, he was right there and knocked out the only two-base hit made off Burt.

It was a surprise to see Craig A. Marsh at second, but his playing was a greater one. He did his full share of the work and made the brilliant catch of the day. He had to run back to get it and when the ball did strike his hands it bounded out. But when it came down he was still there. Teel claimed an assist as Marsh was going backward rather rapidly when he caught the ball, and but for Teel's friendly embrace, would have probably stretched his length on the green sward.

The ball was the only thing that worried Doane at third. As long as it kept away, he was all right, but somehow it didn't look right. He successfully encountered it, however, but lame was no name for his condition yesterday.

The field, Demarest, Walz and Teel, were all there, too. The long legs of "Chick" Demarest stood him in good stead and he stole bases with an avidity that was startling. His companions in the field followed his example and purloined their share also. They also proved their ability as mosquito killers. They managed to escape almost errorless by either catching or running away from the flies that came in their direction.

The record made by the Old Crescents is indeed remarkable as they made only six errors, for which their professional pitcher is responsible for one. "Chappie" Lyman made quite a hit as umpire and was an object of wrath for the Y. M. C. A. boys. According to them he was an "Old Crescent," too, and therefore prejudiced. Nevertheless, Lyman umpired to suit the audience, which made it all right.

The rooting was great. Tom Keller grew so excited that he wasted lots of energy in jumping up and down in his excitement. Teel, Doane, Demarest and all of them, in fact, were right up to date at coaching and the cow at the extreme end of the field even felt their influence so that she tried a little base running all by herself, causing Walz considerable anxiety for fear she might come his way.

The Y. M. C. A. boys put up a good game, batting especially well. Burt,

MISHAPS OF THREE DAYS

UNFORTUNATE INDIVIDUALS WHO WERE INJURED IN VARIOUS WAYS.

Some Were in Runaways, Some in Bicycle Tumbles, While One or Two Were Injured by Getting Near Explosions

A man named John Rodi, a miner, who has just been released from a New York hospital, where his eyes were being treated, fell off a railroad bridge near Fanwood Friday night, cutting a terrible gash in the top of his head. He was turned over to the Plainfield police by the Fanwood authorities Saturday morning, and then taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, where nineteen stitches were taken in his wound. He is now doing very well.

Christian Gerlach, an assistant coachman for Charles Hyde, of East Front street, met with an exceedingly painful accident yesterday afternoon while riding a bicycle on East Second street. Mr. Gerlach had only ridden a short distance, and in attempting to get off the wheel his right foot touched the ground where there was a quantity of clay. This caused his foot to slip, and as a result his rignt leg midway betwen the knee and ankle sustained a compound fracture. He was cared for by kind hands and assisted to a nearby piazza, and the ambulance sent for, he was then taken to the hospital where under the care of Dr. Long he is getting along as well as can be expected.

While driving along Somerset street last evening about 6:30 o'clock, Eugene Hoerster, of the borough, was thrown from his wagon and sustained severe injuries to his right arm. The horse became frightened and ran away and the wagon was a complete wreck. The horse ran through Somerset place and jumped a fence in Mrs. Brokaw's yard, where he was caught. Mr. Hoerster called at Dr. Mattison's office and received treatment there for his injured arm.

Louis Dunn, of Somerset street, while taking care of Grocer Van Winkle's horses, received a painful injury over the right eye which was caused by a kick from one of the animals. His nose was also bruised. He went to Dr. Mattison's office and was properly treated.

Saturday night Joseph Miller, of East Front street, called on Dr. Mattison and stated that a young man named Sutterlein had without any cause kicked him in the forehead over the right eye. The cut was bleeding profusely and Miller was very weak. The doctor took several stitches in the cut and Miller was able to go home in a little while.

Joseph Carbone, of North avenue, spent Saturday at Boynton Beach. While there he set off some fireworks. That is the reason he is now carrying his right hand in a bandage and sling. It happened while he was touching off a flower pot. The thing exploded before he realized the result. His hand pains him very much.

Rufus LaRue, of West Fourth street, was cleaning the mouth of a loaded cannon, Saturday, when his sister lighted a firecracker over the hole and set fire to the fuse. It wasn't the cannon's fault that his hand was not blown off, but as it was he will not be able to use it for sometime.

Ned Waring, of Park avenue, had the lower part of his face burned Saturday by a too close interview with the muzzle of a cannon.

A party of young men from Washington Park visited the belfries of the Holy Cross church and the Church of the Redeemer late Friday evening and welcomed the Fourth in with a merry clanging of bells.

John Gray, a lad about nine years old, living on Grant avenue, visited New Market Saturday with a party of friends. They were enjoying themselves on the island with their cannon when one of the party accidentally dropped a lighted match in the open box of powder. Gray was close by and had his face badly burned and the hair singed off his head. He was taken to a New Market physician and afterwards brought home.

Pleasantly Entertained.

Mrs. Emma Ege, of Central avenue, entertained a few friends at her delightful home on Fourth of July evening. The entertainment was novel and varied and immensely enjoyed by all present. After refreshments the party repaired to the veranda to witness a display of fire-works that had been provided by the charming and clever hostess.

Cow Killed by Lightning.

During the heavy electrical storm last night a cow was struck by lightning and killed at the city poor farm, kept by Noah Terry, near Oak Tree.

WILL START RIGHT AWAY

FAVORABLE ACTION OF BOROUGH COUNCIL ON AVENUE OPENING.

Work of Opening the Street Will Proceed Without Delay, and Meanwhile the Assessments Will be Fixed.

Everyone will be more than pleased to learn that Watchung avenue from the brook to Jackson avenue is to be opened, and that it was so decided by a majority vote of the Borough Council last Friday night. Messrs. McLaughlin and Valiant were the only two who voted against it. All the members were present, and the first business was the presentation of the clerk's report as follows:

	Balance.	Deficit.
Borough	$ 741.62
Fire Department	67.07
Lights	1,132.40	$ 6.62
Poor		87.19
	$1,941.09	$93.81
	93.81
Total balance	$1,847.28

From fines, licenses, etc., $75.01 was reported as collected.

The monthly statement of Collector Spencer was as follows:

Total tax collected for 1896 since last report $281.10, less special school tax $67.50, less Board of Health tax $4.05, total $71.55, less $281.10 which leaves $209.45. Previously reported $38,175.71. The latter amount and $281.10 makes the total, $38,456.81.

Wm. Pangborn offered his resignation as special marshal. It was referred to the License and Marshal Committee, and later it was accepted. In a petition J. H. Howell asked that sidewalks be laid in front of the property owned by Mrs. Hegeman and Harold Serrell. The matter was referred to the proper committee. The officers in charge of Warren Engine Co., No 1, asked that the following members, having served seven years, receive their exemption papers: E. E. Pope. J. Stahl, J. P. Emmons, W. C. Smith, L. B. Woolston, Geo. Schlereth, J. F. Buckle.

Later a resolution was offered by Mr. Peck, that exemption papers be granted Geo. H. Fairchild and J. D. Anderson. The other names were referred to the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee. At this time Peter A. Emmons was given the floor and he spoke at length on the Watchung avenue matter. He favored the opening but thought the assessments for benefits should be levied first. His remarks were given close attention by the members.

Mrs. J. Ptaschinska who was injured sometime ago by falling in a fire well on Linden avenue, asked the Council through her counsel, Craig A. Marsh, if they were willing to settle for damages, beliving as she did that it was the borough's fault. Intimation was made that she might bring action against the borough if they did not settle. The matter was referred to the Laws, Ordinance and Election Committee.

The usual budget of claims were presented and ordered paid. Borough Counsel Reed then made a few remarks in answer to those made by Peter A. Emmons.

Mr. Reed said that Watchung avenue could be opened by making assessments first or opening the street and making the assessments afterwards. It was optional with the council.

Mr. Peck stated that the fire department was in good condition and improvements had been made.

He said that the fire tower had been erected and a bell placed in it, but neither had yet been accepted by the borough. He also said that the flanges in the fire boxes would be cut to allow a quicker action of the bell. In regard to the new hose house for Prideville, he said the committee desired a little more time to consider the matter. Mr. Lounsbury said that a dog catcher and a pound had been secured and already sixteen dogs had been captured, three of which had been redeemed. Mr. Woolston stated that the stone contract with the Scotch Plains man was not satisfactory, as the crusher is crippled half the time. He said that Mr. Wilson would be willing to furnish stone under reasonable conditions. Mr. Woolston reported that the bids for opening, grading and laying out Watchung avenue had been received, and the same were read as published in The Daily Press. He also stated that as regards the laying of flagging in front of the First Church of Christ building on Grove street, he had learned that church property was not taxable.

The street committee reported that $279.99 had been expended on streets, and $11.50 had been received from the sale of dirt. Mr. Peck offered a resolution which was carried, that $1,000

MADE A HOT SUNDAY FIRE

A BARN OWNED BY PLINY FISK DESTROYED BY FLAMES.

The Fire Department Does Good Work in Preventing the Flames From Spreading—Famous Hose Carriage Damaged

One of Plainfield's largest fires for sometime past broke out yesterday afternoon at 2:12 in the large barn on West Sixth street near Park avenue owned and occupied by Pliny Fisk. Frank Day and John Neagle discovered the fire simultaneously. The former telephoned to Chief Doane at his home, and the latter pulled Box 35 at the corner of West Fifth street and Arlington avenue. The department responded promptly, and in a very short time the conflagration was under control. The fire seemed to have started in the bedroom on the the second floor and quickly spread through the entire upper part of the barn. Four lines of hose were laid, and it is safe to say that no fire in this city has ever been so well managed. The house adjoining, occupied by Mrs. Randall, was saved, only the upper part of the building being slightly scorched. There was in the lower part of the barn three horses, several wagons, including the famous silver hose carriage belonging to Alert Hose Company. Everything was rescued except an express wagon belonging to Charles J. Fisk. The damage to the hose carriage will amount to about $1,000, and the loss on the barn will probably reach $2,000.

In the upper part of the barn was a quantity of furniture owned by Mrs. Kaufman and Dominick McNamee, was entirely consumed, and after two hours hard work the flames were extinguished. The firemen all performed good work and deserve credit for it.

During the fire Frazee Putnam was struck in the head by the nozzle, he having lost control of it. First Assistant Chief Engineer Martin and L. M. Dunavan were each struck in the neck by a stream of water, but no damage resulted, save a slight cut on Putnam's forehead.

One of Mr. Fisk's men saved the hose carriage at a great risk to his life as the fire was burning fiercely at the time. This is the second time the carriage has been saved from being destroyed by fire. The first time it was in the fire at the Crystal Palace, New York, several years ago.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Some say it was due to carelessness, while others are inclined to think that the electric light wires running into the barn had something to do with it.

Rev. W. R. Richards Wins the Hillside Handicap Tournament.

One of the most interesting events Saturday morning was the handicap golf tournament on the golf links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, and what made it doubly interesting was the fact that Dr. W. R. Richards, a novice, won the tournament and thereby secured the prize, a set of golf clubs. Dr. Richards had no idea of playing in the tournament, but was persuaded to do so by his friends. It was his third game and he did not expect to win. The game started at 10:30 and was concluded before 1 o'clock. Fifteen members entered the tournament and the playing was exceedingly good. The course was in fine condition, which added materially to the pleasure of the game. James Stowell Anthony and Evarts Tracy, Jr., were tie for second honors, a box of golf balls, and the tie will be played off in a few days. Below will be found the scores in full:

Celebrated With a Dance.

The Union County Country Club celebrated the Fourth on the evening of the third with a dance at their Casino. As midnight approached a sumptous supper was served by Max Wiertz. The decorations were not extensive, but consisted mainly of flags. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Patterson and daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burke, Netherwood, Misses Burke and the Messrs. Burke, William and Misses Halloway and Mr. and Mrs. Garrigues. "Grandpa Patterson" renewed his youth by dancing the two-step with his daughters.

CRISIS IS AT HAND

Silver and Gold's Strength To Be Tested To-day.

FIGHT FOR TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN

Solid Money Men in the National Committee Will Recommend Senator Hill for the Place and the New Yorker Will Serve if Chosen.

Chicago, July 6.—The crisis in national democratic prospects will probably be reached this afternoon. It may be precipitated by the decision of the national committee as to temporary chairman of the convention. There is a well-grounded belief that the sound money majority on that committee will recommend to the convention that senator D. B. Hill of New York be temporary presiding officer. The knowledge that this was the intention of the committee is said to furnish the explanation of Mr. Hill's absence from the gold mass meeting Saturday night. He has thus escaped the denunciation which the silver men at the Sherman house have lavished with unsparing tongues to-day upon ex-Gov. Flower, Senator Gray, Mr. MacVeagh and District Attorney Fellows for their participation in that gathering. There is an openly expressed desire on the part of the silver men to force the fight from the beginning upon the temporary chairmanship, and George Fred Williams of Massachusetts, one of the latest claimed accessions to the silver ranks, is spoken of as a desirable eastern man to be put forward in antagonism to Senator Hill. Sound money men are willing, and Senator Hill is even said to be eager, to have the fight opened upon this issue. They assert to antagonize the recommendation of a national committee in the matter of temporary organization would be such a breach of democratic tradition and usage that no democratic convention could reasonably be expected to sanction it by a deliberate vote. Senator Harris of Tennessee appears to be generally accepted as the majority's choice for permanent chairman.

Want Hill To Decline.

Senator Hill was waited upon last evening by a number of prominent silver men who used all sorts of arguments to induce the New York senator to withhold permission for the use of his name as temporary chairman by the national committee. He was told that it would be unwise to allow his name to be presented only to be bowled over by the silver majority, which is expected to rule the convention. He listed respectfully to all arguments presented, but was unaffected in his position by what was said to him. He declined to make any statement for publication as to his attitude, but others close to him said that he is not the man to give up a fight on the eve of a battle. It is believed that Senator Hill is the one man who can prevent a bolt by the sound money men of the east, if a free silver platform is adopted and a free silver man nominated by the convention, and that if the senator were to bow to the wishes of the silver leaders and refuse the use of his name by the national committee for temporary chairman he would no longer be in a position to check a bolt of the gold delegates. The efforts of the silver men may be set down as ineffectual.

Conference of Gold Men.

The gold democrats who are supporting William C. Whitney in the business that has brought him to Chicago held an an enthusiastic meeting last night and discussed matters of importance bearing upon the treatment they might expect in the convention from the dominant silver men. The feature of the conference, which, like that of Saturday night, was conducted behind closed doors in the Auditorium hotel, was a speech delivered by Mr. Whitney at the opening. He paid his compliments to Gov. Altgeld, who, he claimed, was the dominating spirit among the silverites, and ended his remarks with this declaration, made in a ringing voice: "I take it for granted that no man in this room will ever consent to the subordination of the welfare of the country and the integrity of his party for any consideration." There was really little business of importance at the conference. Its main purpose was to discuss the various contests before the national committee and to listen to a statement from Mr. Whitney as to what had been accomplished since the gold forces began their active campaign on Friday last.

"FREE SILVER; GET THERE."

John R. McLean's Idea of What the Platform Should Contain.

Chicago, July 6.—John R. McLean favors eliminating the tariff issue from the campaign. In an interview here he said: "If I could write the democratic campaign it would be: 'Free silver; get there.' I would make it one bold stroke and quit right there. What the people want is more money and less misery. They care nothing about the tariff question; they are not worrying much about Cuba; they do not care a cent about the Nicaragua canal. They want action on this money question, and they are looking to this convention as a drought-stricken farmer looks for rain. We don't want a platform. All we need is a plank, and the briefer the plank the better. Declare for free silver at 16 to 1, name a presidential ticket, go home, and the people will do the rest. The people care for nothing else. Let us not mislead them by adopting a platform with a lot of rot about Cuba, Armenia, China, Venezuela, the Monroe doctrine, and all that sort of thing. Free silver, 16 to 1; more money, less misery; independence of Wall street and England. That is the kind of an issue the people demand, and this convention is going to give it to them. I don't believe the republicans will elect three congressmen in Ohio at this election. When a man like Grover Cleveland—and God knows I abhor him—can come so near carrying Ohio that he secured one elector, and 1,500 more votes would have given him the whole delegation, what could a good man do? I honestly believe that McKinley will not carry his own state. Let me tell you something else. McKinley will not carry Maine. Maine is not for a gold standard. Maine is a greenback state, and will cast her vote for any good democrat on a free silver platform. Such a candidate will carry every state west of Pennsylvania and south of the Potomac river."

THE COLORADO DELEGATES.

They Are Friendly to Teller and Some of Them May Vote for Him.

Chicago, July 6.—The Colorado headquarters is attracting much attention. On the wall adjoining the entrance there is displayed a large banner on which is inscribed: "We will pay 100 cents in gold for 50 cent American standard dollars." "Are there any friends of Mr. Teller in the Colorado democratic delegation," was asked by a United Press reporter. "Indeed there are," responded B. O. Sweeney, one of the delegates-at-large. "Nearly every man in Colorado, I may say every one, without respect of politics, is a friend of Teller's, and if his name should come before the convention it would not surprise me if he were to receive some votes from Colorado." Discussing the situation generally, Mr. Sweeney said that some Pennsylvania delegates had been in the room talking in favor of Matthews. "That will not help Mr. Matthews any among our people," he said. "The gold men in the convention must not nominate the silver candidate. To do so would taint the nomination with a suspicion that would kill it in the west. Silver men must nominate the silver candidate, otherwise the west, which is largely republican in its old political tendencies, will be lost to the nominee."

Maine with the Gold Men.

Chicago, July 6.—Maine led off yesterday in the matter of organizing her delegation. A resolution was adopted authorizing the chairman to confer with Mr. Whitney and place the Maine delegation at the service of the sound-money cause. After the meeting adjourned Mr. Holman called upon Senator Hill, who stated that he would probably be New York's representative on the resolutions committee, and had a talk with him about the action of the sound money men on the committee. Mr. Holman said the delegates were in favor of the nomination of Mr. Whitney for president, but what they would do in that regard could not be stated until after the conference between Messrs. Gordon, chairman of the Maine delegation, and Whitney. "We have organized," he said, "upon a sound money basis. As to the nomination, it makes comparatively little difference to me what the convention may do. We are going back home to carry the state for the democracy on local issues.

Gov. Pattison's Boom.

The Pennsylvania delegates are working heroically in behalf of ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison, their choice for the presidency. Crowds filled their headquarters at the Palmer house this morning and visitors were told in eloquent and persuasive tones of the befitting qualities of Mr. Pattison for the presidency. The money question furnished ample material for exciting discussions between the advocates of both metals, and the Pennsylvania gold men put up a very lively discussion for the edification of the throngs gathered in their rooms. Pattison badges were liberally distributed about the Palmer house. Many members of the Pennsylvania delegation while declaring their unfaltering allegiance to Mr. Pattison freely admit that they see no hope for his success. Their aim rather is to gather about him the gold men, and, as a tribute, make him the choice of that element.

Nebraska Silver Delegates.

Lincoln, Neb., July 6.—The Nebraska free silver delegation to the Chicago convention, an enthusiastic crowd of silver shouters, left last euening. There were fourteen cars, all gaily decorated. All the delegates were confident of securing seats in the convention as opposed to the contesting gold faction. After this preliminary fight is settled to their satisfaction, as the silver men predict it will be, the members of the Nebraska delegation will begin a canvass looking to Mr. Bryan as a presidential candidate.

Tammany Hall Delegation.

Chicago, July 6.—The Tammany Hall delegation to the democratic national convention is due this morning. They are traveling in ten parlor cars and a baggage car. There are 250 delegates, alternates and Tammany Hall adherens on the train.

Utah for Bland.

Chicago, July 6.—The Utah delegation met and organized last night. It was voted to support Bland for the presidential nomination.

Killed by a Train.

Batavia, N. Y., July 6.—At a late hour Saturday night William Brill, aged 35 years, of South Byron, was struck by a Central express train near here and instantly killed. It was not until noon yesterday that his lifeless body was discovered. He leaves a widow and seven children.

A Check to Prussia.

Berlin, July 6.—The bundesrath, by a vote of thirty-five to twenty-two, has passed a resolution prolonging the privileges of the Bank of Wurtemberg. The result of the vote is regarded as a check to Prussia, whose plenipotentiaries in the bundesrath actively opposed the motion.

Keep Up Your Scott's Emulsion in Summer-time.

What are your resources for the summer? Have you an abundance of health stowed away for the long, hot, depleting days, or does summer find you low in vitality, run down, losing flesh, and weak? Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil will give you the proper reserve force, because it builds up the system on a solid foundation. A tonic may stimulate; Scott's Emulsion not only "boosts," it sustains.

It is a wise precaution always to have at least a small bottle of Scott's Emulsion in the house. Unopened, it will keep indefinitely. Tightly corked, after using, kept in a cool place, it will remain sweet for weeks.

THE CRETAN AFFAIR

Considerable Anxiety Manifested by the German Emperor.

CLOSELY WATCHING THE SITUATION

In Constant Communication by Wire with the Foreign Office During His Summer Cruise—Comment of the German Press.

Berlin, July 6.—The emperor before starting on his month's tour of the North seas on July 1 gave orders which are unusual with his majesty upon such occasions that wire communication with Berlin should be kept intact throughout the route which he had mapped out for his trip, and also gave instructions that in the event of his going to any point that was not linked in the telegraphic circuit reaching Berlin, a dispatch boat should be sent to that point with dispatches and for the purpose of conveying return communications to the nearest telegraph station to be wired to Berlin. Several members of the cabinet go with the kaiser. No repose is expected by any of the ministers during the tour of the kaiser, except in the case of the home department, in which affairs are quieter than any other branch of the government service. On the other had the foreign office is in a state of anxiety over the developments in Macedonia and Crete. The Kreuz Zeitung, usually well-informed upon official matters, and particularly those connected with the foreign department, claims to know, upon authority, that the foreign office is chiefly concerned in the situation in Macedonia, and that the alliance of Servia, Montenegro and Bulgaria under the approval of Russia means Russia's desertion of the porte.

May Result in War.

If, the Kreuz Zeitung adds, the rising in Macedonia becomes general, it will check Austria's long-prepared advance to Salonica, which port the Austro-Hungarian government has coveted possession of for years, and this would be likely to involve war. The officially inspired press in Berlin touch the matter with a great deal of diffidence. The Tienna Vremdenblatt, an official organ, declares, however, in a leading article, that all of the powers are desirous that the trouble in Crete shall be settled at once, all of them being aware that a general upheaval in that island would lead to the breaking up of the Turkish empire. Therefore, the Fremdenblatt continues, the powers are determined to sustain the status quo at all hazards. The paper adds that neither a union of Crete with Greece, nor the granting of autonomy for the island, as claimed by the Cretan radicals, will receive the assent of the powers.

Menace for Greece.

The article above quoted was obviously inspired and contained a touch of menace toward Greece, from which country men and munitions of war are being sent to Crete in small, well-armed coasting vessels. In addition to this, a committee of Cretan sympathizers holds sittings daily in Athens, with M. Rivieri, a prominent Greek politician, as its president, and wealthy Greek commercial houses in the Levant, Paris and London are furnishing the money wherewith the committee is able to fit out the Cretan expeditions.

Turks Killed by Cretans.

The Vossische Keitung has received advices saying that the Turkish warships in Cretan waters are totally impotent to prevent the landing of those expeditions from Greece, and narrates the capture of the Turkish torpedo boat Edjer, which was built at Dentzig for the Turkish government, was capable of developing a speed of twenty-two miles an hour. She was surprised during the night by the band of Cretans, who killed all of her crew except one of her engineers, a German.

The Kaiser's Speech Approved.

The emperor's speech on the occasion of the launching of the new German battleship Kaiser Friedrich III. at Wilhelmhaven has met with an echo of hearty approval throughout the empire, which foreshadows popular assent to a large increase of the German navy, one of the chief of the kaiser's desires. The Tageblatt in an article upon this subject expresses belief that the reichstag will certainly vote to grant the requisite amount of money to create a powerful navy and thus satisfy the wishes of the emperor. The Hamburg Nachrichten, Prince Bismarck's organ, compares the naval strength of Germany with that of England and concedes the hopelessness of so enlarging the Germany navy as to enable it to successfully support an attempt to invade England. The Nachrichten's article concludes by saying: "Although we cannot contest England's supremacy upon the sea, a strong German navy would assist other means in paralyzing the extension of English power in the world."

Frozen Meats in Germany.

Berlin, July 6.—The North German Gazette says that the government has ordered an inquiry to be made into the matter of the importation into Germany of frozen meats from transatlantic countries. The aim of the inquiry is to ascertain whether the meats are of good quality and what their condition is when they are removed from the influence of the frost.

Ambassador Uhl Visits a Prince.

Berlin, July 6.—Hon. Edwin F. Uhl, United States ambassador to Germany, and Mrs. Uhl have been received by the Prince and Princess Frederick Leopold at their palace in Wilhelmplatz. Both the prince and princess conversed with their guests in English and showed a good deal of knowledge of American affairs.

be borrowed and the same charged to the light account. The same member stated that W. T. Kirk was anxious to receive a payment for his work on the fire bell and tower, but the Council did not propose to pay him in full until the same had been accepted. Mr. Peck then offered a resolution that $1,150 be secured for sixty days, and the same charged to the fire account. Mr. Schutt offered a resolution that the action of Collector Spencer in the payment of $136.87 in favor of the pay roll be confirmed.

The bill of Frank Hubbard, $373.25, for furnishing the proper grades to lay sidewalks in the borough, was objected to by several of the members, as they thought the amount too much. The matter was referred to the proper committee for investigation.

Mr. Peck offered a resolution that a warrant for $1,000 be drawn in favor of W. T. Kirk as part payment on the contract for the fire bell and tower. It was adopted.

On a resolution offered by Mr. Woolston the crosswalk at the corner of Grove street and Craig place, asked for by Charles Place, was granted. At this point the Watchung avenue matter was brought up through a resolution offered by Mr. Woolston that the street be opened, and that the money for doing the work be raised by the issuing of certificates of indebtedness. A heated discussion followed in which Messrs. McLaughlin and Valient took the opposing side. Mr. Valient moved that his former resolution passed at the last meeting be reconsidered which was so ordered. Mr. McLaughlin then offered a resolution that the Mayor appoint commissioners to assess benefits, and report in one month, and after the assessments are made it be left to the option of the Council whether to proceed or not.

Mr. Valiant's original resolution came up the second time and was defeated. Mr. Valiant alone voting for it. Mr. McLaughlin's resolution was then introduced and also defeated. Mr. McLaughlin voted alone for the resolution. Mr. McLaughlin then offered another resolution that commissioners be appointed to assess benefits, and report at the earliest possible moment. This resolution was adopted. Mr. Lounsbury voting in the negative. Mr. Woolston then introduced his former resolution that the street be opened. This resolution was also adopted, and brought forth a very lively discussion on all sides. Mr. McLaughlin intimated treachery and Mr. Lounsbury objected. The former apologized for his remarks. All voted for Mr. Woolston's resolution except Messrs. Valiant and McLaughlin. The work of opening the street will now procced without delay, and commissioners will be appointed to assess benefits. Mr. Peck then offered a resolution that the fire, water and lamp committee be authorized to take the necessary precautions for protection for the Fourth, which was adopted. The Council then adjourned to meet again on Friday evening.

—T. S. Armstrong is having a stone flagging laid in front of his residence on Duer street.

—The Plainfield Branch of the Christian Alliance, will meet on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the rooms of the W. C. T. U., on Watchung avenue. Prayer, praise and testimony.

—A horse belonging to a local grocer of Park avenue stepped on a nail Friday afternoon and it was with difficulty that the rusty piece of steel was removed. No injurious effects have thus far been noted.

—The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club have just received a very handsome photograph of the celebrated Havemeyer silver cup which was presented to the United States Golf Association and which is now held by Dr. McDonald, of Chicago.

—Charles Hall, of Armstrong's pharmacy, has a very valuable picture of his father which he prizes highly. It was taken when his father was twenty years old and was painted on ivory. The picture is in a locket-shaped frame and the work is very fine.

Eli Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles for twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street

WIFE BEATERS IN COURT.

BRUTES WHO HAVE A PFNCHANT FOR ABUSING THEIR PARTNERS.

One Pleaded Guilty and Was Fined $10—The Other Discharged Because the Wife Withdrew the Complaint.

The city lockup is not a particularly pleasing place, especially on a warm day and so the city court trials were hustled through this morning with all the speed that was convenient to justice.

The heat seemed to have affected the brain of John Farington, the first culprit, for he didn't know how to plead. The charge against him was being drunk and disorderly and abusing his wife. Chief Grant told how the police had been called a number of times to his home on East Front street, to prevent him from beating his wife. Saturday the police were notified that he was beating the neighbors' children and his own wife. He was arrested. By this time he decided to plead guilty to the first part of the charge and was fined $10.

Michael Manchun, a section foreman from Yonkers, was found in a drunken condition on Plainfield avenue and Eighth street Saturday.

"I'm a stranger in town and got a little full on the Fourth," he explained to the Sudge, as his teeth chattered with fright. Sentence was suspended on him.

Paradise Alley had her representatives in court. There were James Errico and his wife, both Italians. The complaint was against Errico, who was charged by his wife with beating her. He was arrested on Friday night and came up Saturday, but the trial was set down for this morning. Mrs. Errico claimed her husband had kicked and beaten her and showed the marks of his teeth and fingers on her arm. When told of his crime, Errico merely waved his hands and remarked, "Me no understand." At the last moment Mrs. Errico withdrew the complaint. Judge DeMeza dismissed the prisoner after lecturing both severely.

The trial of Nicholas Kelly charged with being disorderly and using indecent language was adjourned indefinitely.

—You can't buy happiness, but if you are suffering from dyspepsia, scrofula, salt rheum, impure blood, you may be cured and made happy by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Eczema is a frightful affliction, but like all other skin diseases it can be permanently cured by applications of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It never fails to cure Piles. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints,—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

DEDICATORY EXERCISES

MT ZION A. M. E. CHURCH AUSPICIOUSLY OPENED YESTERDAY.

The Services Attended by a Number of Out-of-Town Ministers, Who Preached Sermons of Deep Thought and Advice.

Mt. Zion A. M. E. church on West Fourth street was dedicated yesterday under most auspicious circumstances. At each service the attendance was so large that the building was unable to hold all the people.

In the morning Rev. Mr. Thompson, of New Brunswick, preached a sermon from the text "The People Had a Mind to Work." He spoke of Nehemiah's work in building the walls around Jerusalem, and then drew many interesting points therefrom. At this service the trained choir from the New Brunswick church was present and assisted.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the regular dedicatory exercises were held. Presiding Elder L. Sturges took charge, after which the trustees, Albert Henry, Theodore Hooper, Mixon Morris and John Jackson, advanced to the platform and presented the keys of the church to the presiding elder. The keys were afterwards turned over to the pastor, Rev. Jas. Groves. The regular choir, assisted by organist Fred White and cornetist Israel Jones, rendered several selections, and Miss Mason sang a pretty solo. The dedication sermon was then preached by Rev. O. T. Scott, of Madison. His text was "Is There No Balm in Gilead?" A feature of the afternoon was the raising of funds to pay the balance on the church. The entire amount raised during the day and evening was $150.06.

In the evening Presiding Elder Sturges preached from the text "My Presence Shall Go with Thee, and I Will Give Thee Rest." The church is well arranged and adapted to the growing congregation. Rev. Mr. Dean, of Elizabeth, assisted at the services, as did the pastor, Rev. James Groves.

Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills.

For thirty years Dr. Deane has made a study of dyspepsia, and in thirty years has cured more cases of it than probably any other fifty physicians combined. He gave up the study of theology and took to medicine, because the most eminent physicians of that day gave him up as a chronic dyspeptic, with only a short time to live.

Result of this change—a hearty, healthy, useful life, an enormous practice, and a demand for his pills greater than for all others combined wherever known. For sale at all druggists'. Send for a free sample. White wrapper if constipated, yellow if bowels are loose.

ON THE COURTS.

Interesting Tennis Tournament Held on the Hillside Grounds.

The Hillside Tennis grounds presented an attractive feature Saturday afternoon when Plainfield's society in all its summer beauty gathered to enjoy the annual event.

The tennis courts were busily occupied all day, and interest grew intense toward the latter part of the afternoon when the semi-finals were play off.

The tournament was arranged by Messrs. Ryder, owing to the failure of the club to provide one. Great credit is due these two popular players for the enjoyable programme presented. The playing throughout was fine and attracted considerable attention. In the afternoon about 4 o'clock the fair sex began to arrive and in a short time the grounds were graced by a very large number of people. Mrs. George P. Mellick received and she was assisted by Mrs. Carl Pfeiffer, Mrs. Lucius Ryce, Mrs. Isaac N. Field, Miss Walz, Miss Anna Miller, Miss Tracy, Miss Martine. Refreshments consisting of ices and wafers were served on the lawn and were just the thing for such a warm day. Aside from the social feature, the games of tennis were closely watched and frequent applause was given favorite players. H. Mellick, of Montclair, and Allan Hartley, of New York, were the only two outside players.

The finals consisted of the best three out of five, but owing to the lateness of the hour the game was not finished. H. V. Ryder won two sets and A. Wadsworth secured one. The last set was postponed till this morning. The scores were as follows: W. Wadsworth against Craig, won by Wadsworth, 6-0, 6-1; T. Smith against H. V. Ryder, won by Ryder, 6-3, 6-1; Allan Hartley against H. Moore, won by Hartley, 6-2, 6-2; A. Huntington against G. Ryder, won by Ryder, by default; A. Wadsworth against B. Fish, won by Wadsworth, 6-3, 6-3; Richardson against P. Fish, won by Fish, 6-4, 6-4; Glenny against Mellick, won by Glenny, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2; T. Smith against C. Pfeiffer, won by Smith, 6-3, 6-4. The semi-finals were as follows: Wadsworth against Ryder, won by Ryder, 6-3, 6-3; Hartley against Ryder, won by Ryder, 6-1, 6-2; Wadsworth against Fish, won by Wadsworth, 6-2, 6-2; Wadsworth against Smith, won by Wadsworth, 6-1, 6-3. In the finals Ryder beat Wadsworth, 6-1, 9-7; and Wadsworth beat Ryder, 6-5, which left one set yet to play.

The prize offered to the winner was a handsome tennis racquet.

Protect Your Homes Against Fire.

An exhibition will be given tomorrow night at 8 o'clock on the vacant lot on West Front street, opposite the Babcock building, by the Knickerbocker Fire Extinguisher Company. Two hundred feet of burning surface, tar and kerosene oil, will be extinguished in less than one minute. You are invited. No charge.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

OLD-TIME CELEARATION.

NEW MARKET ENJOYS ALL SORTS OF FUN ON THE FOURTH.

The Whole Country Around See the Games and Pastimes That Marked the Celebrations in Times Gone By.

The Fourth of July celebration in New Market, which was arranged and carried out by Friendship Council No. 81, Jr. O. U. A. M., was a most successful affair in its entirety. The celebration was scheduled to begin at 1 o'clock but long before that time the crowd began to arrive and by the time the first event came off, it is estimated that fully four thousand people were on the grounds, or in the immediate vicinity. There were all sorts of people present. Some came on bicycles, some in farm wagons with a pair of mules to draw it, some afoot and the typical farmer boy and his best girl, munching peanuts, were very much in evidence.

The grounds where most of the events came off, were prettily decorated for the occasion with bunting and flags. The Ladies' Schubert Orchestra was present, under the direction of Mrs. Buckley, enlivened the time by numerous selections, prominent among which were the National air.

The first event to come off was the two mile bicycle race. It was run in three heats. A. Simmons, colored of this city was the winner of the final heat. The tub race was quite a novelty and rather exciting, as several of the contestants fell overboard during its progress. It was won by Frank T. Nelson, of New Market.

The boat race with two men in a boat came next. It was won by Eugene Leach, of Dunellen, and Frank Leivers, of this city. Three contestants started in the swimming race, of which Frank T. Nelson, of New Market, was the winner. Everett L. Morgan, of this city, was the winner in the 100 yard dash, and he also captured the prize in the two following events. The pole vault and running high jump. Charles S. Day, of New Market, won the shoe race. George Apgar, of Dunellen, proved to be the best man in the high kicking match. E. L. Morgan was the winner of the running broad jump. Chas S. Day proved himself the fastest man in the sack race.

The winner of the three legged race were Chas S. and Stanley Day of New Market. The next event, the egg race, brought forth a great deal of discussion as to who was the winner. The prize was given to Eugene Leach, of Dunellen, although several copetitors finished ahead of him, but those who did broke some of the eggs and on these grounds the prize was given to Leach. The tug of war was quite exciting and was one by David S. Lord, Wm. T. Brokaw and David F. Blackford, who pulled against six men.

Each of the winners of the different events received a handsome prize, and all declared it to be the most successful celebration the council has ever held.

The committee in charge consisted of Joseph E. Meeker, chairman: Robert L. Pierce and Frank F. Randolph.

John E. Stewart and femily, of West Seventh street, have returned from the Berkshires.

Samuel Mattison, of Chester, is enjoying a visit to Plainfield at the home of a friend, Theo. Swayze, of Prospect avenue.

Miss Anna Mellick and Henry S. Mellick, of Montclair, were guests of their uncle, Geo. P. Mellick, of La-Grande avenue, over the Fourth.

Walter Serrell, of Plainfield avenue, and George P. Smith, of Crescent avenue, left this morning for Hartwick, N. Y., for the summer.

Mrs. John Rittenhouse, of Arlington avenue, is attending the convention of the National Division Sons of Temperance, at Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cloyd and family, of New York, formerly residents of Grove street, are boarding for a week at the home of Mrs. Butler, of Sandford avenue.

It would be hard to convince a man suffering from bilious colic that his agony is due to a microbe with an unpronouncable name. But one dose of DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure will convince him of its power to afford instant relief. It kills pain. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Relief from Business Cares.

Once on a time a man there was
Who strongly did desire
A rest to take from business cares—
In short, get out, retire.
He told his friends of his intent;
He got out bills, in fact.
To close his stock and business out
He used his utmost tact.
But, strange to say, his trade held up.
New goods he had to buy;
It looked as if he couldn't quit,
No matter how he'd try.
Until one day a friend explained
Why he such trade had had.
And now he's out of it for keeps—
He's ordered out his ad!

A Polite Judge.

An Irish judge had a habit of begging pardon on every occasion. One day as he was about to leave the bench the officer of the court reminded him that he had not passed sentence of death on one of the criminals, as he had intended. "Dear me!" said his lordship. "I beg his pardon—bring him up."—Titbits.

Knew What Ailed Him.

"I cannot guarantee an absolute cure in your case," said the physician, "but if you will follow my directions implicitly I can promise a considerable reduction in your obesity."

Algie—No; she did.—Brooklyn Life.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

NO RAPPINGS HEARD.

Mine Bosses Secretly Investigate the Report Made by the Rescuers at Pittston.

Pittston, Pa., July 6.—Through the orders of General Superintendent Law several skillful men were quietly sent into the shaft to verify, if possible, the hopeful story of the tappings. While disappointed themselves at having to dispel the illusion, the men admit this morning that after prolonged efforts and the use of every method of signaling possible, not the least bit of noise to indicate that their labor had been successful was heard. The work of the three mine inspectors to investigate the disaster began this morning.

The Story Revived Hope.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 6.—There is just a possibility that some of the men entombed in the Twin shaft at Pittston may be taken out alive. The rescuing party who were at work from 10 o'clock Saturday night until 4 o'clock Sunday morning, on coming to the surface, reported to Mine Foreman O'Brien that they heard rapping on the rails of the gangway road which may have been caused by some of the entombed men. The rappings were clear and distinct, as if some one had struck the rails with a hard substance. The supposed signal was answered by the rescuers in the same manner. After a short silence the answer came, clear and distinct. The sound seemed to come a distance of some 300 feet from where the rescuers were at work. When this news reached the surface there were only a few persons at the head of the shaft, but in a short time it was spread throughout the city of Pittston, and at daybreak an immense crowd gathered, among them relatives and friends of the victims, in whose heart hope had awakened. Further news from the pit has since been watched for, but beyond the fact that the rappings were heard there are no new developments. This morning the rescuers report that, in their opinion, they are within 300 feet of the entombed men. The shifts have been increased from twenty men to thirty-five men, who are relieved every half-hour.

WILL FIGHT TO THE LAST.

Cretans Determined To Be Lost Forever or Saved.

New York, July 6.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Athens says: Haz Hichaili, the oldest Cretan chief, on the eve of his departure for Crete says that the Cretans have decided to fight to the last the supreme fight and be lost forever or else be saved. He himself has taken a solemn oath to fight to the end for annexation to Greece. The revolutionary government committee has called as assembly, which will meet probably at Vamos. Great exultation is felt here at the victory gained by the Cretans over the Turks, a victory of which it is said the Turks are hiding the extent.

Christians in Crete Elect a Provisional Government.

Athens, July 6.—As an outcome of the insurrection in Crete against Turkish rule the Christians of the island yesterday elected a provisional government, and decided to proclaim the union of the island with Greece.

Gloomy Day at Gray Gables.

Buzzards Bay, Mass., June 6.—The president's first Sunday at Gray Gables was rather gloomy. It was cloudy all the forenoon and afternoon. The first thunderstorm of ths season passed over this section, and it rained very hard. Consequently the president remained indoors nearly all day. Early in the evening the president and Mrs. Cleveland drove over to Buzzards Bay station with Dr. Bryant, who took the train for New York.

Sons and Daughters of the Revolution.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 6.—The national celebration of the 4th of July by the United Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution was continued here yesterday. The day was perfect and the time up to 4 o'clock was spent mostly on excursions to historic points. At the above hour a patriotic, religious and choral service was held in Convention hall attended by fully 5,000 persons.

Robbed by Highwaymen.

Waterbury, Conn., July 6.—While B. L. Miller of North Adams, Mass., was riding in a hack on South Main street after dark, he was held up by three highwaymen and robbed of a gold watch worth $50 and $25 in cash. He was badly beaten about the head.

Gen. Booth's German Campaign.

Berlin, July 6.—Gen. Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, has conducted a week's exercises of the army in Berlin with a degree of success which the Salvation Army has never heretofore been able to achieve in Germany.

An Excursionist Killed.

Bradford, Pa., July 6.—Bert Harrington, aged 16, of this city fell from an excursion train on the Erie railroad near Poland Centre and was instantly killed. Some track laborers found the body lying along the side of the rails.

McKinley and the Money Question.

Berlin, July 6.—The liberal and single-standard newspapers express themselves as satisfied with McKinley's sound money declaration embodied in the platform adopted by the republican national convention in St. Louis.

Sales Talk

With Hood's Sarsaparilla, "Sales Talk," and show that this medicine has enjoyed public confidence and patronage to a greater extent than any other proprietary medicine. This is because it possesses greater medicinal merit and produces greater cures than any other. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that Tells the Story.

All advertisements of Hood's Sarsaparilla, like Hood's Sarsaparilla itself, are honest. We have never deceived the public, and this with its superlative medicinal merit, is why the people have abiding confidence in it, and buy Hood's Sarsaparilla almost to the exclusion of all others.

Customers Want Hood's.

"We order Hood's Sarsaparilla in large quantities and it is the only blood purifier which a druggist can buy in large quantities without risk. It is selling very rapidly and customers who buy it once are sure to call for Hood's the next time. We believe Hood's Sarsaparilla must possess true merit in order to retain its popularity. Its sales exceed all similar preparations and its praises are often heard." L. SOMMER & SON, Springfield, Illinois.

Thousands of druggists say the same.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

A MIGHTY GATHERING

Christian Endeavorers To Assemble in Washington Wednesday.

THEIR FIFTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION

Plans Practically Completed for the Entertainment of the Visitors—An Elaborate Programme for the Five Days' Religious Festival.

Washington, July 6.—The arrangements for the entertainment of the thousands of Christian Endeaverors planning to come to the fifteenth annual Christian Endeavor convention, whose opening sessions will be held in this city Wednesday night next, are practically complete. Three immense tents have been erected upon the ellipse located between the White House and the Washington monument, and known as the "White lot." Each of these tents will comfortably seat 8,000 persons, and, with the large churches of the city, will provide a combined seating capacity of nearly 40,000, available at any time during the convention. The city is dressed in gala attire; the convention flag and the Stars and Stripes forming the leading features of the decorations. Nearly 3,000 young people are upon the committee which is now busily engaged in putting the finishing touches before the expected guests arrive. An admirable plan of receiving, registering and assigning entertainment to the delegates has been devised. The reception committee is informed of the time and place of the arrival of each state delegation, and will send out members of the committee to meet the delegations at a distance from the city. On the arrival at the station another section of the reception committee will be on hand to conduct the party to the church which has been assigned as headquarters for that state. Thirty-three churches have been so designated, and on the arrival of a delegation at one of these churches most complete arrangements will be found for the care of the visitors.

An Elaborate Programme.

The convention programme is finer and larger than any of the fourteen that have preceded it. It covers nearly 300 separate meetings and more than 200 speakers, embracing the foremost divines and religious workers of this country, and many foreign lands will be heard during the five days of the convention. The convention opens with twenty-two simultaneous meetings held in twenty-two of the largest churches of the city. In almost every case these opening meetings will be presided over by the pastor of the church in which the meetings are held. On Thursday at 5:30 a. m., and also on every morning of the convention will be held thirty-three early morning prayer meetings, all using the same general topic, which is particularly appropriate for that day

Meetings in the Tents.

Thursday at 9:30 a. m. occur the first meetings in the three mammoth tents, one of which is presided over by president Francis E. Clark. The principal features of these three meetings will be Secretary Baer's annual report and President Clark's annual address. Thursday afternoon is given up to denominational rallies, while in the evening nine meetings are provided in the three tents, one large hall and five churches, the general topic of all the meetings being "Christian Citizenship." The topic for Friday is "Saved to Serve," while the afternoon is occupied by officers' conferences, committee conferences on advance endeavor lines, the regular meetings at the tents and churches occurring in the evening.

Chorus of 40,000 Voices.

On Saturday morning one tent is given up to the annual junior rally, while in the other two tents are to be held meetings for men only, and for women only respectively. On Saturday afternoon the many thousands of delegates will assemble at the east side of the capitol building, where will be held an open air patriotic song service by a chorus of 4,000 voices assisted by the famous United States marine band. Hon. John Wanamaker will deliver a brief address after which the Endeavorers will proceed in a body down Pennsylvania avenue to the treasury building where the march will be dispersed. On Saturday evening there will be no sessions in the tents for delegates; but there will be meetings in two of the tents for citizens only, and the meetings will be fully equal to any of the meetings for delegates. At this time the delegates will be holding receptions and rallies in their respective church headquarters. There will be no sessions of the convention on Sunday morning, with the exception of the early prayer meetings, but an opportunity will be given for the delegates to attend the regular services in the various churches, almost all of which will be supplied by prominent visiting clergymen. In the afternoon will be held twenty-eight denominational rallies, which comprise al. the denominations that are represented. There will also be held a "Sabbath observance meeting" and and evangelistic meeting for citizens. Sunday evening will also be left open for attendance upon regular church services. On Monday, the last day of the convention, there are two meetings in the forenoon of the World's Union of Christian Endeavor, and one meeting in the interest of the suffering Armenians. Every day of the convention at noon evangelistic services will be held at the Central Union mission and in various other parts of the city.

BLAND IN THE LEAD

His Boom To-day Appears To Be the Most Healthy.

BOIES MEN ARE NOT DISCOURAGED

Teller Shouters Profess Absolute Confidence of Success—McLean's Candidacy Given an Impetus During the Past Twenty-four Hours.

Chicago, July 6.—The first general caucus of delegates and alternates favorable to the candidacy of Mr. Bland was held in the club room of the Sherman house last night and after a session lasting an hour and a half adjourned to meet again to-day. The object of the Bland managers was to get acquainted with the delegates from other states than Missouri, and to begin the work of formulating the convention plan of procedure, rather than to make a full test of Bland's strength. Twelve states responded to the roll call and 100 delegates instructed for the Missourian were present. From the figures sent to the secretary 250 unconditional votes were put down as a certainty on the first ballot. Most of the Illinois delegates were around the hotel, but only a few attended the caucus. Texas and Kansas were largely represented. A few vigorous speeches were made on the outlook from Missouri's point of view, and there was no lack of enthusiasm. Congressman Bailey said the solid thirty votes of the Lone Star state would be cast for the Laclede county farmer. Mr. Overmeyer of Kansas said his state was for Mr. Bland because no other democrat could carry the state in November. Secretary of State Hinrichsen announced a majority of the Illinois delegation for Bland and that under the unit rule the forty-eight votes of his state would b cast for the free silver pioneer of the party. There was little but Bland talk in the Sherman house when the delegates swarmed in, and the Missourian's managers were elated over a report that twelve of the Tennessee delegates had been won over to the Bland persuasion. The other half are inclined to Blackburn and McLean. Gov. Culberson of Texas and Gov. Stone of Missouri came to look in at the caucus and meet delegates and friends. A letter was read from San Francisco stating that a silver club composed of republicans, populists and democrats was being formed, 1,000 strong, whose choice was Bland for president, and Morgan of Alabama, White of California, or Sibley of Pennsylvania for vice-president.

Booms Still in Full View.

The leading booms continue in full view. "Silver Dick" Bland's trumpeters are making the most of the promise of Illinois votes to their standard, and claim his nomination as assured. The Boies men are not yet here in full force. His "boomers" are to arrive in two sections to-day, when they will supply abundant enthusiasm to add to the picturesqueness of the contest. Meantime, the Tellerites profess such absolute confidence in the nomination and election of the Colorado senator (though his own state delegation stands committed to Boies) that they are already bargaining for a partition of the spoils of office between the original Teller men and the democratic allies. Mr. McLean continues to be named very extensively for either first or second place and has apparently gained considerable strength during the past twenty-four hours. Considerable opposition is developing to the holding of any caucus to determine in advance of the meeting of the convention what shall be the course of the silver men. Supporters of Senator Blackburn's candidacy took the lead in declaring their intention to refuse to enter any such caucus. They want the convention to settle the matter, and they promise to abide by its decision.

FAVORS REFORM IN CUBA.

Campos Does Not Believe Autonomy Sufficient To End the War in Cuba.

Madrid, July 6.—Speaking in the lobby of the senate Saturday, Gen. Campos said: "The government considers it dishonorable to grant Cuban reforms as long as the insurrection exists. I think reforms must be given without waiting for the submission of the rebels. It is not dishonorable for a father to keep open the doors to his home for his rebel son, even if he has not asked pardon previously." Senor Labra, leader of the Cuban autonomist party, replied: "I agree with you. I may even say, if the government will grant autonomy I am sure the rebels would submit. If autonomy is granted and you return to Cuba as captain-general I would go with you and give you my party's support, and pacification would be a fact." "I shall not return to Cuba," said Campos, "even if autonomy is granted, which is improbable. Besides, I don't consider autonomy efficient enough."

Horseman Kneebs's Appeal.

Berlin, July 6.—The appeal of the American horseman Kneebs against his sentence of nine months' imprisonment for "ringing" the mare Bethel upon the German trotting courses under the name of Nellie Kneebs has been heard, but the court postponed its decision pending the report of the veterinary expert, Dr. Eggling, who is going to the United States to inspect the mare Bethel, which Kneebs declares is not identical with Nellie Kneebs.

New Battleships for Germany.

Berlin, July 6.—The admiralty is preparing plans and estimates for the construction of six first-class iron clad battleships, and credits for the building of these vessels will be asked from the reichstag upon the opening of the session of that body in November.

BIG TIME FOR THE PARKS

"fixed" the boy in charge of the score board, for he persisted in reducing Cuba's score by two.

At the start "Charley" Smith went into the pitchers box for the Benedicts. Hesent the ball flying over the plate in the most improved manner, tying himself up in knots at each effort. One inning was all he wanted, and then he retired to centrefield, where he was forced to keep up a war dance most of the time to escape from the cloud of "Jersey" mosquitoes that that showed a special fondness for his golf stockings. "Doc" Thiers filled the box the next inning, and attempted to try his remarkable curve, but somehow it didn't go. He had a little trick, however, that proved very unpleasant for the batsman. When he happened to get three balls on one of the Bachelors, he delivered the next with dazzling swiftness at the batsman's ribs, and the poor "bach" took his first.

But although "Doc" was a trifle out of practice at pitching, he was equal to any of New York's most expert cracksmen when he came to steal bases. He attempted to stop one grounder with his wrist and now believes that dentistry and baseball are not companionable occupations.

C. W. McCuethen was late in coming, but he appeared toward the close of the first inning in an immaculate white flannel suit and skipped about the field like a colt. He played at short stop until the third inning and then pitched. He enjoyed seeing the ball go, and he sent it right over the plate. And the Bachelors didn't "do a thing" to him. Every man on that team had at least two chances at bat in the one inning.

J. T. Scott was a surprise to all as catcher, himself probably included, for he caught for half the game. It wasn't very pleasant when the foul balls whistled around his ears like the mosquitoes around Smith's pedal extremities, but he stuck to it and crouched behind the batter like a tiger ready to spring on its prey.

Jules Erickson caught the rest of the game and wore an expression like a martyred monk as he forgot and caught the ball on his gloveless hand. Of course, every man wore a glove as large as they could get and Henry McGee bought a sofa pillow, but the referee barred it out. McGee played a great game, however, and his crowning feat was a stolen base. It was more fun, he declared, than running for the train in the morning.

Van Deventer directed his team and also the ball several times. He stopped everything that didn't come within his reach, but not always with his hands. He was the crack hitter of the team and went after the ball like a schoolmaster in pursuit of a disobedient pupil.

Samuel Townsend appeared to be the only one on the team that was not "dead" after the game. He really put up a good game at second and was acceptable for a number of put outs.

Councilman J. C. Peck selected right field, as he thought he wouldn't have anything to do, but he miscalculated the crack batters on the other side. He usually stopped the balls by going at them headfirst and tumbling down before them if they tried to go by. He sprinted around the bases at terrific speed and managed to arrive safely, after cleaning the base line of obstructing players.

There was only one man on the Bachelor side that appreciated the real idea of the game and that was George O. Stevens. He realized that he was a Cuban and tried to appear as one. He marched out for practice in a pair of tight-fitting pink and white striped knickerbockers while the rest of his comely form was arrayed in a colored shirt and black stockings. He wore a green soft hat with a yellow sunflower embroidered on it while a linen duster, the tails of which danced in the breeze as he ran to escape a grounder, added to the artistic effect. To tell the truth, that coal dealer of ours was a "beaut" and no mistake. All his playing was on the phenomenal order, espécially his base running.

Walter Murray was one of the few who really knew how to play ball, and so he had to act as base runner for most of his team.

The Benedict battery, Sanford and Erickson, stood it out for the entire game, and while Sandford was hit rather heavily, he kept his head and threw a straight ball. He improved with time, however, and astonished the Spanish tyrants. Erickson caught very well and deserves credit for it, even though he did break his record by melting down seven collars during the game.

On the edge of the grove that bordered the field on the right stood Laurens H. VanBuren. He smiled on the grandstand in the distance and wished he was there. That was about all he had to do except to get out of the way of a few flys that were batted in his direction. Dr. Mathewson found that his position at first base was no "cinch." The balls flew about his head until he could imagine he was another Farragut sailing into Mobile Bay under fire. With grim determination he gobbled up everything he could as he used to at Brown University. Will N. Runyon appeared on the field in a short sleeved jersey, a pair of long trousers and a straw hat. He was very careful about the latter article. From his position at centre field his musical voice could be heard whispering about the warmness of the occasion and the eagle eye of the umpires. He ran bases in a rather novel manner, always keeping one on that straw hat which he carefully laid down before attempting to slide a base.

The most abused man on the entire Bachelor team was Cooley at second base. Ed Douglass hurled his formidable proportions at second base in an attempt to slide, Cooley was in the way but didn't stay so long. He managed to wipe his face in the dust quite heavily, however. Other runners followed Douglass' example until all that remained of Cooley was put out in the field to broil, while Stevens in his Cuban attire, defended the second bag. G. O. Worth hustled around at short stop and bowled the ball at Dr. Mathewson as if intent on a strike or spare.

There were two plays that deserve special mention. One was a double play made by Townsend all alone and the other was McCutchen's famous catch. It struck his shoulder, bounding into the air. When it came down the flannel suit of McCutchen's, not as white as before, was under it and the hands of the veteran president of the Choral Society closed upon it with a deadly grip. "Man out" declared his highness the Major who was umpiring.

And, by the way, the umpires should not be forgotten. According to the score-card they were "B. Ambitious Hegeman, Jr.," and "A. Lovely Codger Marsh." Mayor Hegeman did not appear until the last moment but his appearance more than made up for the delay. Clad in a light colored golf suit, he wore an immense red flower, the botanists are still analyzing it, and a catcher's mask. The latter he carried on his arm throughout the game, to muzzle, it is supposed, any player who should become disorderly. The referee was F. O. Ball, who was particularly selected because he "doesn't know anything about the game."

In the afternoon came the tennis tournament and the afternoon tea, the latter held in the pagoda. The tournament was divided into several classes. The summaries are as follows.

Junior singles, class A, boys between 14 and 15 years—W. A. Townsend defeated Arthur Peck, 6-2, 6 1; winning prize a silver medal.

Junior singles, class B, boys under 14 years. Clarence Roome defeated Morgan Townsend 6 0, 6 0, winning prize silver medal.

Junior doubles, class A—W. A. Townsend and Arthur Peck won prizes, two pairs gold sleeve buttons, as there were no other competitors.

Junior doubles, class B, not played.

Senior doubles, first round—Aug VanDeventer and Sam'l Townsend defeated Percy Sandford and A. Willis West, 5-6, 6-1, 6-1; Arthur Murphy and B. C. Ball defeated Meredith Dryden and Fred P. Taylor, 6-4, 6-2. William M. McCutchen and Chas Dupee defeated Will Thiers and Geo. Worth, 6-1, 6-1.

Semi-final round—Murphy and Ball defeated VanDeventer and Townsend, 6-5, 0-6, 6-5. McCutchen and Dupee drew a bye:

Final round—McCutchen and Dupee defeated Murphy and Ball, 6-1, 6-0, winning prizes two pearl and gold scarf pins.

Senior Singles, first round—Percy Sandford defeated Will Thiers, 6-5, 6-3. Carl Brown defeated A. Willis West, 6-5. The rest of this match and the tournament was postponed until next Saturday on account of darkness.

All of the prizes are subject to challenge.

While the game was going on the guests gathered in the pagoda or on the lawn, some watching the play and others enjoying a little chat. The The afternoon tea was in charge of the following ladies: Mrs. Charles A. Reed, Mrs. Edwin T. Douglass, Mrs. Samuel Townsend, Mrs. B. Arrowsmith Hegeman, Jr., and Mrs. William J. Roome.

As the evening approached, the Chinese lanterns were lighted and the seats that covered the high ground in the rear of the club house began to fill. By eight o'clock every seat on the lawn and club house was occupied with invited guests while the street was crowded with those who had come to view the fireworks from the outside. There were nearly 700 guests inside the grounds while twice as many more gathered in the vicinity of the club house.

Promptly at eight o'clock, siss-boom and the first rocket had shot heavenward. For nearly an hour the exhibit continued without a pause and the guests of the Park Club were given a chance to see what good fireworks were. The exhibit was a very creditable one and was carried out without delay. It was furnished by R. C. Rand. Just as the last piece was ready to be started, a few drops of rain told that the long expected shower had arrived. All waited a moment to see it and then there was a grand rush for the club house. It was soon crowded but after a little time while the guests settled themselves, the orchestra that had been playing patriotic airs while rockets, batteries and bombs had followed each other in rapid succession, now started an inspiring two-step and the charming ball room was soon crowded with gliding, whirling couples. It was only another of those delightful affairs for which the Park Club is so famous. The patronesses of the dance were: Mrs. Charles A. Reed, Mrs. Samuel Townsend, Mrs. Geo. P. Dupee, Mrs. Edwin T. Douglass, Mrs. William J. Roome, Mrs. Benjamin M. Day, Mrs. Augustus VanDeventer, Mrs. George D. Hallock.

The day had been a long one but it was not until Janitor Jones announced that "the ball was over" and that midnight was there that the young people bid each other good night, or rather good morning, and departed homeward. The rain had stopped and few stars peeped down at the earth below and July Fourth, 1896, had passed into history.

Somebody was responsible for all this pleasure and here is where the Fourth of July committee comes in. The committee was composed of Elston M. French, chairman, W. J. Roome, Aug. VanDeventer, E. T. Douglass, Samuel Townsend and W. N. Runyon, and they deserve all the credit that can be given. The decoration committee was composed of Aug. VanDeventer, chairman, R. W. Erickson and E. T. Douglass. The tennis committee was composed of Samuel Townsend, chairman, H. B. Reed and George C. Worth.

To Be Worked on Early Purchasers of

The Spalding Bicycle

After the adoption of our 1896 model and a careful estimate of the cost of manufacture, we placed the price on the Spalding Bicycle at $100. The price is now $100 and will continue at $100 throughout the season, no matter what other manufacturers may do.

We don't believe it is fair, honest or good business policy to sell a standard article like the Spalding Bicycle at one price in May and reduce its value in June by a material reduction in price. As a matter of common fairness to early purchasers of Spalding Bicycles and as an evidence of good faith on our part we will, in case of reduction in price during the season, send a rebate check to every purchaser of a Spalding Bicycle of the amount of any such reduction that may be made by us during the season This is our meaning of a

Drug Clerk—All right, sir. Here's a blood tonic that is advertised to build up the constitution.

Customer— Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! I want immediate relief; besides, catarrh is a local affection, and no tonic or blood purifier ever made can cure it. Here's 50 cents. Let me have Ely's Cream Balm. It's the only hing I know of to cure catarrh.

What Was Only a Passing Liberality of a City Official Now Becomes a Burden to the City Property Owners.

A considerable amount of preliminary work preceded the regular July meeting of the City Council which was held last evening and it was 8:45 when President See called the session to order. All the members responded to the roll call except Mr. Fisk, who is now on a vacation. A large number of petitions were received and presented. Edward Willis and others asked for four electric lights on South and Lealand avenues and Tergil road and the matter was referred to the proper committee. J. S. Leifert, of Bridgeport, Conn., asked for a license for an all-night lunch wagon, and after due consideration the license was granted. W. H. Sampson and other residents of East Fifth street, complained of the speed and noise made by the trolley cars and asked that the same be regulated. The matter will be looked after by the proper committee. The petition of Manning and Sandford and others for a crosswalk on East Third and Richmond streets, was referred to the street committee as was also the petition of E. O. Herring and other residents of Park avenue, asking that they be not compelled to curb the avenue below the brook. John Johnson, city collector, presented a bill of expenses amounting to $275, which was incurred by him while contesting the collectorship matter. It was referred to the finance committee and Mr. Dumont asked that it be returned to Mr. Johnson and that he be asked to give a detailed statement of his expenses. The Plainfield Water Supply Co. stated in a petition that they had erected the five extra fire hydrants as per contract.

J. W. Murray and other residents of Central avenue, petitioned Council to thoroughly repair Central avenue and put it in first-class condition. They complained of the condition made so by the sewer work. The matter was referred to the street committee and later Mr. Frost stated that the committee intended to put all streets in good condition, but they did not intend being partial in the matter and showing favors. John Marsden, in a communication, stated that his portion of the sewer work had been completed as per contract and all bills had been paid. Neil Scott, of the West End, asked for a wholesale liquor license to conduct a business at 224 West Fourth street in the building owned by James Clark. This matter was referred to the license committee.

Chief Doane, as inspector of buildings, reported that thirteen permits had been granted during the past month. The action of the board of engineers in confirming the action of Gazelle Engine Co. No. 1, in dismissing Geo. Demarest and J. L. Blackford from the company for non-performance of duty, was confirmed by the council. City Judge DeMeza presented his monthly report which showed that $305 had been collected from fines and that Sergeant Kiely had received $50, one-half of the fines in the Ross and Parron illegal liquor selling cases, as informant. During the month 172 persons had been dealt with, 43 were fined, 21 committed, 20 discharged, and in 88 cases sentence was suspended. The city collector's monthly report was presented and filed. Mr. Stebbins offered a resolution that the Plainfield Water Supply Co. be requested to extend their mains so that a hydrant could be located at the corner of LaGrande and Carleton avenues. The resolution prevailed.

Mr. Serrell stated that the city ordinances had been compiled and arranged and he suggested that the same be referred to the Corporation Counsel for examination. The suggestion was adopted. Mr. Moore reported several hack and peddler's licenses and they were granted on his recommendation. Mr. Barrows spoke at length regarding the midnight lunch to the police. He said that the scheme was introduced as an experiment and had now been in working order two months. Continuing he said: "There is not enough men to arrange for relief nor to allow the regulars to leave their posts. The men have ten or eleven hours steady duty and we have seen the effect of the night air when they have had nothing to eat or drink. The scheme introduced is a great success. I asked Mayor Gilbert sometime ago where the money was coming from and he said 'no matter where we get it, we must have it.' Mr. Barrows then

AT THE CONVENTION.

Democratic Delegates Convene at Chicago This Afternoon.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Chicago, June 7—It was 12:50 today noon when Chairman Harrity, of the Democratic National Committee, gave orders to have the aisles cleared in the convention hall preparatory to the calling of the convention. Previous to this there had been great cheering as the leaders from various sections of the country came into the hall.

At 1 o'clock Mr. Harrity called the convention to order and announced that Senator Hill, of New York, was the choice of the National committee for temporary chairman. There was great applause from the delegates.

For temporary secretary Hon. Mr. Sheerin, of Indiana, and Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. Martin, of Indiana, were named as the selections.

After this, Mr. Clayton, of Alabama, was recognized, and he presented the minority report of the National Committee, which named Senator Daniels, of West Virginia, for temporary chairman. He moved that the minority report be adopted, and demanded a vote, by States, on the reports.

Allan McDermott, of New Jersey, pushed his way to the platform and commenced addressing the convention. He paid a glowing tribute to New Jersey as the home of Democracy, and asked the convention to support Sentor Hill for the honor. He eulogized Hill amid great applause, and advocated that he be made temporary chairman and Senator Daniels permanent chairman.

There was great applause as he remarked that "We are in this convention to stay."

Hon. Charles S. Thomas, of Colorado, recognized, speaks from the platform. He claims that the convention has full power to adopt or reject the suggestions of the committee.

A reference to President Cleveland falls flat. There are no cheers.

Charles Waller, of Alabama, is recognized.

Chairman Harrity recognizes Mr. Tarpey, of California, who is trying to explain the action of the minority of the committee. At 1:50 p. m., (western time,) Mr. Fellows, of New York, is speaking.

Mr. Fellows is making an eloquent appeal for the careful consideration of the question.

Chicago, July 7.—The New Jersey delegation yesterday elected United States Senator James Smith, a member of the National Committee, in place of Alan McDermott, who declined re-election. A "steering committee" was appointed, consisting of ex-Senator Henry D. Winton, of Bergon; ex-Judge Albert Tallman, Frederick C. Marsh, Munson Force and Lewis F. Martin.

The committee will confer with the delagetions of New York and Connecticut and other Eastern delegations with a view of securing unity of action.

The delegates declare that New Jersey will not bolt. Mr. McDermott insists that if a free silver platform is adopted he will walk out of the convention. Mr. McDermott was chosen chairman of the delegation and placed on the resolutions committee.

Others of the delegation were assigned as follows: Committeee on rules, Henry D. Winton; credentials, General E. P. Meaney; permanent organization, George A. Helme; honorary vice-president, James J. Bergen; secretary, William D. Edwards; notification committee, Gottfried Krueger.

TEMPLAR FIELD DAY.

It Will Be a Great Masonic Event in This City.

Thursday, October 1st, is the day when the Knights Templar will hold their grand field day in this city. So stated the general order from the Grand Commandery that was received at the meeting of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., held last evening.

The Temple degree was conferred on two candidates. It was stated at the meeting that the Jersey Central Railroad would give a one-rate fare on their entire lines the day of the field day.

After the Sir Knights had sweltered through the meeting, Eminent Commander Kirkner very kindly invited them all out in an attempt to get cool on ice cream. The invitation was accepted and the frozen cream enjoyed.

BIDS EXCEED ESTIMATES

BOARD OF EDUCATION FIGURED COST OF REPAIRS TOO LOW.

On the New Lincoln School the Bid Was $4,000 More Than it Was Proposed to Spend—No Contract Awarded.

The Board of Education held its regular monthly meeting last evening, but the contracts for the new Lincoln building were not awarded as was expected. The lowest bid was that of John Abbott, and that was over $4,000 above the estimated cost, $20,000.

Messrs. Probasco, Lounsbury, Jenkins and Abbott were present. After the usual reading of the minutes of the last meetings and a number of approved bills, which were ordered paid, Secretary Lounsbury read City Collector Johnson's report. It showed that during the last month the total school taxes collected were $1,239.50, the interest on which was $183.66, making a total of $1,373.16, of which $915.91 had been deposited in the First National Bank and $457.25 in the City National Bank.

A statement was read from Superintendent Maxson stating that $516.60 had been received during the last month from tuition pupils, making a total of $2,250.48 for the year.

A letter was read to the Board from James B. Reynolds, school trustee of the Tenth ward, New York city, thanking the Board for a large basket of flowers, which had been used very effectually in the University Settlement.

After listening to these communications, the Board next turned its attention to the matter of the new school, and Mr. Lounsbury, as chairman of the building committee, made his report. The lowest bidder, he reported, was John Abbott, of this city, whose bid was $24,443, about $500 lower than any of the others. Mr. Lounsbury suggested and the Board adopted the suggestion, that the certified checks accompanying the other bids be returned, and that Mr. Abbott confer with Architect Karr and make some necessary changes in the bid, to bring the contract price to a lower amount, and report to the Board later.

For the repairs at the Washington School, Wyman & Haberle bid the lowest on the carpenter work, $1,363, and Galbraith & Walsh on the heating, plumbing and ventilating work, $1,153. Mr. Lounsbury told the Board that the last bid was incorrect and Galbraith & Walsh had come to him as soon as the bids were made public and explained that an error had been made and the bid should have been $1,322.

After looking over the cost of making the repairs in the Bryant and Stillman schools, which considerably exceeded the estimate that had been placed on them, there was a general feeling expressed among the members of the Board that part of the repairing should be put off a year, especially after Mr. Lounsbury explained that the regular apportionment for repairs would be exceeded by about $3,000, which it would be necessary to borrow. After some deliberation it was decided to make only the absolutely necessary repairs at the Washington building, which would not amount to very much, and make the repairs in the Stillman and Bryant buildings according to specifications. The repairs in the latter schools are the putting in of sanitary water closets and of enlarging the outbuildings to accommodate them. These changes the Board deemed necessary on account of sanitary reasons.

Chas. M. Wilson's bid of $1,050 was the lowest for the repairs at the Bryant and Wyman & Haberle's bid of $1,226.80, the lowest for the Stillman. The Board then decided by motion that these contracts should be awarded to those mentioned above, subject to the approval of the building committee, who had another report. After consultation with Superintendent Maxson, he reported regarding the necessary furniture and blackboards for the Lincoln building and for the new classes to be started in the assembly room of the Bryant school. The estimate for furniture was about $1,400 and the blackboards $300. Mr Lounsbury thought this could be redueed by not furnishing both floors of the Lincoln building at the same time and he was given the power to order the furniture and blackboards, making what reduction he could. An application for the position of janitor at the Lincoln building was received from James B. Morrison, but was laid on the table until another meeting.

The board then adjourned.

DAMAGE A CHURCH BELL

PATRIOTIC YOUTHS TOLLED THE BELL WITH TOO MUCH VENGEANCE.

The Members of the First Presbyterian Church Incensed at the Recklessness and Threaten the Boys With Arrest.

The bell of the First Presbyterian church did not ring early last Sunday morning. There were a number of young men in this city and the borough who knew the reason, and everyone of them heaved a sigh of relief when the bell finally did peal out at about the noon hour, when the men who had been working on it had completed their labors. The cause of all the trouble was an attempt to celebrate the Fourth and welcome in another year of American independence by the ringing of the church bell. Late Friday evening a party of young men gained entrance to the church. Through the darkness they stole carefully up to the belfry after exciting adventures with projecting door-knobs and stray partitions. Four of the most powerful seized the bell rope and then the bell above spoke out in clear and rapid notes. The bell is a heavy one but the four strong pairs of arms made it sway with unusual rapidity. Suddenly there was a crash up in the bell loft and the bell was silent. The ringers tried to look at each other in dismay, but it was too dark. The combined efforts of all could not move the bell. They all supposed that the bell was ruined and a bill for $600 stared them in the face.

They found their way downstairs again and sat on the front steps to eat their midnight lunch and managed to cover the steps with the remains.

A number of the congregation were indignant Sunday morning at the results of the midnight visit and declared that steps would be taken to arrest the young men for trespassing. As those who took part in the ringing of the bell are not known outside of their own circles, no arrests have yet been made.

Another party of young men visited the Holy Cross church and the Church of the Redeemer, in the borough. The bell rope in the Holy Cross church was thrown out the window and pulled from the outside. In the Church of the Redeemer a clothes line was attached to the clapper of the bell and rung from the outside. These bells were rung not only at midnight, but some of the party remained and rang them nearly every hour until morning, making sleep impossible in the neighborhood. Mayor Hegeman was at last roused by the noise, went out and captured three of the bell ringers and lectured them severely.

Annihilating the Beetle Bug.

A delegation from the Town Improment Society started out yesterday on their tour of inspection. For the second time they sprayed the beautiful elm trees at the Barnaby residence on Plainfield avenue. Edward Barry, who was formerly in charge of the property, says the process of annihilation to the elm beetle is perfect in every respect, and that with a little more actual labor on the part of the society will drive the pest from our midst.

A Street in Bad Condition.

Greenbrook road, between Somerset and Grove streets, is in a very bad condition, owing to the recent heavy rains which have washed out the roadbed to a great extent. The property owners on the street have been notified by the Borough Council to lay a stone sidewalk in front of their respective properties, but will refuse to do so until the borough repairs or macadamizes the road.

Fell Down Stairs.

Maggie Kiely, a domestic in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Blatz, of Somerset street, fell down a flight of stairs leading to the cellar while carrying in a basket filled with clothes from the yard, yesterday. The unfortunate young woman was rendered unconscious for a time and escaped only with a wound to the spine and some bad scalp wounds.

A Heavy Rainfall.

Yesterday's rain was a heavy one. Weather Observer Neagle reports that 7.06 inches fell yesterday, making a total of 2.39 inches for this month, a little over twice the average rainfall. For the last six months the rainfall was 26.50 inches or 6.75 inches more than the rainfall for the same period of time last year.

No Open-Air Concert Tonight.

There will be no open-air concert this evening, as the ground is entirely too damp while there is no telling when a downpour is coming. Councilman Frost has, theretore, decided to postpone the concert, but has set ny definite time for holding it.

Pass the good word along the line. Piles can be quickly cured without an operation by simply applying DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. L. W. Randolph. 143 West Front street.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

A Sick Woman Falls Down Stairs and Breaks Her Nose and Arm.

Mrs. Louise Mohring, of South Second street, met with a very painful and severe accident last evening. She has been ill and was suffering from a fever. About 10 o'clock she slipped from her bed unknown to the nurse, and started to pass into the next room through the hall. On her way she stumbled in some way at the head of the front stairs and fell down them head foremost. The injuries she sustained are very serious, and if she recovers, it will be, mainly, due to her strong and healthy constitution. Her right arm is broken at the wrist, her nose is also broken. There is a long deep cut in her right cheek, while several teeth were knocked out by the blow. She was badly bruised and cut in a number of other places. She is sixty years of age. Dr. Boone is attending her.

Entertained at Fanwood.

A pleasant entertainment was given in the Fanwood club house last evening for the benefit of All Saints' P. E. church, Fanwood. The affair was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Gwynette and Rev. Dr. True and they deserve unlimited praise for their earnest efforts to give a programme of such rare merit. The club house was nicely decorated with flowers and bunting. The programme consisted of choice selections on the banjo, mandolin and piano, by the Empire trio, of Westfield; tenor solos by Charles Foster, leading soloist in Trinity church, New York; selections by Union County's own Alfred E. Pearsall, assisted by Miss Budworth, on the piano. Each number was generously applauded and the artists very kindly responded to the pleasure of the appreciative audience present. After the entertainment a delightful dance was enjoyed by the young people.

Badges for the Game Society.

President John Goff, of the Plainfield Branch of the New Jersey State Game and Fish Protective Society, has decided to equip the members with neat and appropriate badges as an insignia of their office and authority under the State laws. The badges are to be worn in a convenient place on the vest front, but they will not be conspicuously displayed, except in case of emergency. The badges, it is understood, give the wearers full power to make arrests in case of violations of the game and fish laws, and in this they are backed up by the most strickest of the State laws.

Thrown Under a Horse.

Chas. C. Brower, of Avon Park, while driving the gray horse belonging to Mr. Endicott, of Westfield, at the Gentlemen's Driving Park Friday afternoon, met with an accident that came near proving serious. The horse in some way ran the sulkey into the fence, throwing Mr. Brower directly under the equine's feet. The animal planted one hoof on Brower's chest but did not injure him severely. The horse then ran away around the track, breaking a shaft to the sulkey.

A Noisy Crowd.

A number of Plainfield's well-thought-of young men have of late been making a practice of returning home at a late hour after a lively celebration during the evening. Last night this was the case. They came from over the brook and disturbed the slumbers of many by their loud singing. Patrolman Flanagan stopped the party on Park avenue and requested them to stop, but after the officer had passed they resumed their frolic.

You are very respectfully invited to attend an exhibition to be given by the Knickerbocker Hand Fire Extinguisher Company, under the supervision of the Chief of the fire department, at 8 o'clock tonight, July 7th, on the vacant lot on Front street, opposite the Babcock building.

A Liberal Offering.

Rev. Samuel C. Palmer, pastor of the Lafayette Park Presbyterian church, of St. Louis, Mo., whose church edifice was wrecked in the recent cyclone, as were also one of the missions belonging to the church and the parsonage, spoke a few words after the sermon, Sunday, at the Crescent Avenue church. An offering was then made to assist in rebuilding the church, amounting to over $400. Dr. Palmer was the guest of James Clark, of West Seventh street.

Yale Defeated.

Henler-on-Thames, July 7.—Yale was defeated but not disgraced to-day in the third trial heat for the Grand Challenge Cup. Leander won by a length and three-quarters in 7m. 14s. The record is 5m. 51s.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

THREE MEN ACCUSED IN UNION AND ONE IN SOMERSET COUNTY.

Those in the City Were Quarrels in Which Fistcuffs Were Used as Arguments—Family Affair Across the Brook.

William Trust appeared before Justice Newcorn yesterday and swore out a compiaint against Charles Burnett for assault and battery. A short time ago Mr. Trust was subjected to an attack by Mr. Burnett, which resulted in his receiving a black eye. Mr. Burnett was held to await the action of the Grand Jury. He will probably furnish bail today for his appearance.

On complaint of John J. Hibbits, Justice Mosher issued a warrant for the arrest of John Moran, charging him with assault and battery. On the evening of the 3d, the two young men met in front of McVey's restaurant, and had some words which resulted in Moran striking Hibbits. Moran was arraigned last evening before Justice Mosher and waived examination. The Judge held him under $50 bonds to appear before the Grand Jury.

On complaint of Mrs. Budenheimer and Mr. Wyman, of Somerset street, Mr. Budenheimer was arrested last evening by Marshal Hansen on a warrant issued by Justice Crosley. He was charged with assault and battery. It seeems that while Budenhaimer was under the influence of liquor he drove his wife out doors, and also assaulted both her and Mr. Wyman. This morning he was brought before Justice Crosley, but as no one appeared against him, he was released.

Lambert DeCamp, a young man living near Alton, or Dog Corners as it used to be called, was brought before Justice Nash yesterday afternoon on the charge of assault and battery which was brought by his uncle, Frazee Connett, of the same place. Connett was in a field plowing several days ago with a horse belonging to DeCamp's brother-in-law. DeCamp claimed that the horse was not in condition to be used, and objected. A quarrel followed and Connett left the field in a badly battered condition. The arrest soon followed. DeCamp was held in $50 bail to appear before the Grand Jury. He is going to get a warrant out for Connett's arrest on the charge of cruelty to animals.

REALTY CHANGES.

Plainfield Matters Recorded in the County Clerk's Office.

The following transfers of property have been recorded in the Union County Clerk's office from June 25th to July 1st inclusive:

Plainfield Real Estate Company to Seaman Williams, Alexander N. Adams and John N. Mitchell, lots 21 and 22, block 4, Plainfield, $1; same to Jarvis H. Knapp, Bayonne, lot 7, block 8, Plainfield, $1; Jonathan Clawson, North Plainfield, et ux. to Jarret Wilson, et al., Plainfield, lot adjoining property of P. J. Randolph, $1; Jonathan Clawson, North Plainfield, et ux. to John A. Wilson, Dunellen, lot Washington avenue, $1; Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company to Arthur Venable, lot Berckman street, Plainfield, 317 67-100th feet west of North avenue, $250; Watson Whittlesley et. ux. to Louis A. Leacock, Plainfield, lots 22 and 23, Netherwood, $250; Andrew J. Connallon, New York, to Oscar N. Fish to Roland C. Treadwell, Plainfield, lot 7, First place, Plainfield, $6,400.

Downright Depravity.

Health Inspector and officer for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals William N. Pangborn, of the borough, has received notification of the barbarity which has been practiced by certain people on Johnston Drive, and he is making strenuous efforts to ferret out the perpetrators of the cruel acts. One of the latest acts of cruelty reported from that neighborhood was on Saturday, when a good-sized dog was seen roaming about with a tin can fastened firmly over his eyes, ears and mouth. There is a heavy penalty attached to such inhumane cruelty, and no reason can be assigned for it except it be through downright depravity. At any rate an example should be made of such persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Genung, of 83 Lefferts place, Brooklyn, have leased the house at 20 Rockview avenue, in the borough, and will spend the summer in the most healthy atmosphere and among the most congenial people on the face of the earth.

WORK OF COMMITTEE

Sound Money Men Seated from Michigan and Nebraska.

CONTESTS SPEEDILY DISPOSED OF Senator Hill Received Five More Votes Than Daniel for Temporary Chairman—Only One Exciting Incident During the Session.

Chicago, July 7.—The national committee transacted its business at a single session yesterday afternoon, disposing of all the contests for seats and voting 27 to 23 to report the name of senator David B. Hill of New York for temporary chairman of the National convention. This was the test vote of committee, showing the relative gold and silver strength of the organization. The silver showing was made by the presence of several proxies for members of the committee who would have voted for Hill had they been present. There were also one or two members of the committee who, within the past few days, had announced the transfer of their allegiance from gold to silver, notably J. L. Morris of the District of Columbia and Arthur Sewall of Maine. After the roll call was completed. Secretary Sheering stated that the Clark contestants from Texas, known as gold men, had withdrawn from the further contest for seats in the convention. The withdrawal was accompanied by a statement of the reasons which impelled them to enter upon the contest and now to voluntarily abandon it. This statement was read by the secretary and made a part of the records of the committee. Senator Jones of Arkansas, representing the "steering" committee of the Bimetallic league, was given an opportunity to address the committee. He stated that the silver men had no candidate to present for temporary chairman. The selection of anyone who was in accord with the idea of the silver men would be acceptable to them, and he urged, in the interest of harmony, that the majority of the convention be not antagonized in the choice. He was heard with respectful attention, but no answer was given him and he withdrew.

Gold Delegates Seated.

The committee decided to proceed with the consideration and settlement of the contested cases first, and that from Nevada was settled in favor of Gen. Keating and his associates, silver men, without a vote. In the cases over which a contest was made, fifteen minutes was given to each side for argument. The first case of that kind called was that of John P. Frenzel, gold, against Charles M. Cooper, silver, from the Seventh (Indianapolis) district of Indiana. Cooper had been recognized by the state convention of Indiana, and he was placed on the temporary roll. A contest brought by the silver men for three districts in Michigan was argued for the contesting gold men by Elliott C. Stevenson, chairman of the gold delegation, and for the silver men by Daniel J. Campau, the Michigan member of the national committee. The gold men were placed on the temporary roll, Mr. Campau's being the only vote cast for the contestants. D. J. Maheny spoke for the contesting gold delegates from Nebraska, headed by Tobias Castor, and he warned the democratic party, through the national committee, of the danger there was before it of defeat at the polls should it nominate a populist rather than a democrat. C. J. Smythe replied for the Bryan silver delegation, and by the first test vote of the afternoon—27 to 23—it was decided to place the Castor delegation on the temporary roll. In the Ohio contest in the eighteenth district the silver men were sustained by a vote of 24 to 17. The last contest, that from South Dakota, resulted in the seating of the gold delegates.

Hill Chosen Temporary Chairman.

The committee then decided to recommend a temporary chairman of the convention, and Mr. Clayton, the delegate from Alabama, nominated for that position senator John W. Daniel of Virginia. He spoke briefly in support of his nomination, urging the committee to recognize the overwhelming majority in favor of free silver that was known to exist among the delegates to the convention, and at the close of his remarks he was loudly applauded. Ex-Lieut. Gov. Sheehan of New York presented the name of Senator David B. Hill of that state, setting forth his capabilities as a presiding officer and his merits as a democrat. No other candidates being named, the committee proceeded to ballot and Mr. Hill was chosen by a vote of twenty-seven to twenty-three. Mr. Hill received the votes of the following states and territories: Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Alasaka.

The Only Exciting Incident.

After the result of the vote had been announced the only exciting incident of the afternoon occurred. Mr. Thomas of Colorado rose and stated that he had been assigned to the unpleasant task of notifying the committee in case the senator from New York was selected as the choice of the majority, that a minority report would be made and the name of the Hon. John W. Daniel of Virginia would be presented to the convention as a substitute. Mr. Thomas said: "The views of the senator from New York on the currency question are at variance with those of a majority of the delegates to the convention. He stands as the representative of the eastern gold men. We have been informed by the press that these men have sent delegations here to influence the action of the convention, and statements have been made by these men to the press, and at public meetings which they have held in this city, that they will agree to no compromise and will spare no effort to accomplish their end. We would say to them that the majority will accept no compromise, and will also spare no effort to secure their purpose, which is to name a man in accord with their views. Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan followed Mr. Thomas in an impassioned speech, which evoked applause at intervals from the gold men on the committee.

Will Prepare No Speech.

Mr. Sheerin, secretary of the committee, was named as temporary secretary of the convention, and John L. Martin as sergeant-at-arms. This completed the business before the committee, and it adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. The moment the vote on the temporary chairmanship was announced, Don M. Dickinson, who was in the committee room, rushed out and, tearing down the corridor to Senator Hill's room, which was at the extreme end of the hall, announced the result. Mr. Hill received the news in his usual impassive way. A United Press representative asked Mr. Hill if he was satisfied with the result of the vote. "Oh," said the senator, with a shrug of his shoulders, "I don't care anything about it; it makes no difference to me one way or the other." "Will you prepare a speech as temporary chairman?" was asked. "Well, now," said Mr. Hill, "I don't think I will for divers reasons. What's the use of preparing a speech I may not have a chance to deliver?"

DEATH OF MINISTER YOUNG.

Expired in a New York Hospital After a Fortnight's Illness.

New York, July 7.—Gen. P. M. B. Young, United States minister to Guatemala, who had been sick in the Presbyterian hospital for a fortnight, died yesterday of Bright's disease. He reached New York from Guatemala two weeks ago on a leave of absence, and went to the hospital at once for treatment. The body was shipped to Cartersville, Ga., last night.

Gen. Young was born in Spartansburg, S. C., Nov. 15, 1839, and was educated at the military institute in that state. He began the study of law and then entered the military academy at West Point in 1857. Within two months of the time of his graduation he resigned on account of the secession and joined the confederate army as a second lieutenant. He was successively promoted through all the grades to that of major-general on Dec. 12, 1864, having command of a cavalry division. After the war Gen. Young went to Cartersville to live, and was the only democrat elected to congress when representation was restored under the reconstruction act, taking his seat July 25, 1868, and being re-elected for three successive terms, serving until March 3, 1875. In 1877 he was appointed one of the commissioners from the United States to the World's fair in St. Petersburg, and in 1885 was appointed consul-general at that place during Cleveland's first term, serving but one year, owing to the severe climate. He returned to this country and went to Cartersville to live, where he remained until he was appointed minister to Guatemala.

KILLED SIX PEOPLE.

Believed the San Diego Murderer Is in Custody in Fargo, N. D.

Fargo, N. D., July 7.—James Dunham, who murdered a family of six persons in San Diego, Cal., recently, is thought to have been captured in this city, and he is at present languishing in the county jail awaiting word from the authorities at San Francisco. The man came to this city about a week ago and while in the city stole a bicycle and rode about 100 miles away from Fargo before being captured. He was brought back to the city and pleaded guilty to the charge of petty larceny. He was fined $100 and was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. In the meantime Detective Bellis of this city has been in correspondence with the San Francisco authorities and the description of this man and Dunham are identical. When he came to this city he registered as Frank Dalton of Boston.

New York Republican Committee.

New York, July 7.—The republican state committee will meet this afternoon at the Fifth Avenue hotel, when the date for the state convention will be set, at which the candidates for governor, lieutenant-governor and judge of the court of appeals will be named. Saratoga will be the convention town. There is no opposition to that, and the time will, in all likelihood, be the latter part of August, 25 or 27. There has been some talk of an early date in September, but August has the call.

To Buy Forest Lands.

Albany, July 7.—The issue of $1,000,000 in bonds by the state to purchase additional lands in the Adirondack region within the confines of the state park is to be vigorously advocated by the state, fisheries, game and forest commission. Over 200,000 acres have been offered for sale to the commission at an average rate of $1.50 per acre.

Wheelmen Want a Good Roads Plank.

Chicago, July 7.—A member of the staff of an eastern wheelman's journal has arrived here to present a good roads plank to the national democratic convention on behalf of the wheelmen.

Lady Bligh Drowned.

London, July 7.—Lady Mary Bligh, a daughter of the Earl of Darnley, has been found drowned in a pond at Cobham Hall, near Gravesend. It is believed that she committed suicide.

THEY WILL NOT BOLT

Programme of the Gold Men Practically Completed.

THERE MAY BE ANOTHER CONVENTION

Some Who Favor the Nomination of a Second Ticket, While Others Believe the Voice of the Majority Should Be Submitted To.

Chicago, July 7.—The programme of the gold men, while not entirely agreed upon, is practically understood. During the gold conferences Mr. Whitney, who is regarded as the leader of the gold standard forces, counseled the anti-silver men to stand together and be ready to act in a solid body when occasion requires. He has not indicated what action is to be taken, but refers to it as something that is to be determined on later. It is understood that, as the matter stands now, the course is not to walk out of the convention, but to remain until the close. Then, when the silver men have captured everything and adjourned, a conference will be held and arrangements made for a convention some weeks later of anti-silver democrats for the purpose of putting in nomination a man whom they can support. Of course, if the silver men go to the extreme a bolt may be precipitated, but the convention to be held to select a gold candidate is not likely to be hastened by an actual bolt from the convention.

Opposition to the Plan.

There are a number of gold men who are very much opposed to this programme. They would much prefer that no candidate be put up, so that they could remain within the organization and vote against the ticket named by the silver men. This course is preferred by the western men, who feel that the silver organization will be very strong in their states and bolters will get a cold shoulder in the future. The eastern men are reported to feel that the best way to withhold votes from the silver ticket is by putting up a candidate. Many of the eastern men do not want to be put in the position of having to choose between the republican candidate and the democratic silver candidate. Gen. Charles Tracey of Albany, N. Y., who was a gold-standard leader in the Fifty-third congress, when the silver purchasing law was repealed, says that he does not think a bolt or separate ticket will be organized and arranged at this convention, but that the people who do not approve the nomination of a silver man will ask for another candidate, and that it will be a spontaneous demand. He thinks the situation will not be far different from that in 1872 when the stalwart democracy refused to support Horace Greeley and put Charles O'Conor up as a candidate in order that the democrats who would not vote for Greeley and were bitterly opposed to the republicans could cast their votes for a straightout democrat.

Tammany Favors Submission.

The idea of a second ticket is also advocated by those who desire to make the protest against a silver platform and candidate as emphatic as possible. Gen. Tracy says that while this movement has not yet reached the stage of a definite programme, yet he regards it as the natural and inevitable sequel to the complete control of the convention by the silver forces. Those of the eastern delegates who have been in the habit of following the lead of Senator Hill are at a loss this morning to know just where they stand. They are waiting for Senator Hill to announce his plans, and his announcement seems to be tardy in its appearance. Those among the Tammany men who may be accounted leaders are very much averse to the taking of any arbitrary advantage by the gold-standard party. They say that democratic conventions have always been obedient to the rule of the majority, and this one should be no exception to the rule. They say that a vigorous fight should be made by the gold men on all questions where the east disagrees, but when defeated the defeat should be accepted gracefully.

Killed by Lightning.

Auburn, N. Y., July 7.—The two sons of Alfred Brennan, a farmer living on the northern limits of the town, were on a hay rack last evening during a storm driving swiftly toward their home. A hundred yards from the house the rig was struck by a lightning bolt. James, the younger son, aged 11 years, and the team of horses were killed outright, while Alfred, jr., aged 16, was thrown out of the wagon. He was dazed, but escaped uninjured.

In Plainfield an attempt is being made to stop the trolley cars running Sundays.—New York Journal.

A lie from beginning to end.

The National Silver Party of New Jersey was organized at Trenton yesterday, and delegates were elected to attend a convention to be held at St. Louis, July 22d. James McCullough will represent the Eighth District. The platform adopted says that the object of the gold standard is to establish in this country a moneyed aristocracy, and it demands the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

The result of the experiment of serving a free midnight lunch to the police force is just what The Press expected when it was inaugurated. At the start it was some kindly inclined and beneficent city official who was settling for the lunch, but now it will be the taxpayer who will advance the coin for the coffee and sandwiches, for such was the resolution passed by the Common Council last night. The amount necessary for this little feature of municipal government as viewed by the present city fathers is $75 per month. A mere bagatelle, some may think, but The Press regrets that any city official should become imbued with this idea of finance. So far as our information goes, there is not another city in the country that furnishes its police with a free lunch, and we cannot see the necessity of such an expense in Plainfield. Already the tax rate in this city is very high. Expenses should be reduced rather than increased by indulging in such useless luxuries as a free lunch for the police, because it will not increase the efficiency of the force to any extent. With the policemen receiving their uniforms, bicycles and food free of cost to themselves, it seems that they are faring pretty well—a good deal better than they would if they were off the force. The city ought not to be asked to pay for the fads of some of its officials.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Eczema is a frightful affliction, but like all other skin diseases it can be permanently cured by applications of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It never fails to cure Piles. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Congregational church will be closed during August.

—Fine crushed stone is being spread on West Front street along the trolley tracks.

—A dance was held at the Fanwood club house last night. Rogers furnished the music.

—A meeting of the official board of the First M. E. church will be held tomorrow evening after prayer meeting.

—The first union prayer service at the Trinity Reformed church, in preparation for the State Christian Endeavor convention, will be held next Monday evening.

If you want to buy a single or team of nice gentleman's driving and carriage horse you ought to attend the sale at the Metropolitan livery stables next Thursday afternoon.

—The Ladies' Aid Society and the Women's Missionary Society of the Congregational church have united in forming the Women's Association of the Congregational church.

—Louis Kuntz, head bartender at Caspar's, while slicing bread a day or two ago, cut off a section of the first finger of his left hand. The wound, although not necessarily dangerous, is very painful.

—John P. Emmons did some stone work at the Sick Children's Camp, in addition to building the chimney, which he donates. The ladies are very much pleased with the chimney which Mr. Emmons has built.

—The U. S. Grant Club will hold a meeting in Spencer's hall on Thursday evening for the purpose of electing six delegates to the State convention of the League of Republican Clubs to be held at Asbury Park on Wednesday, July 15th.

—John Haberle has a pine apple cactus in full bloom in the window of his store on Somerset street, which is probably the only one of the kind in this vicinity. The flowers are variegated and innumerable, and the plant attracts the attention of many passers-by.

—Ex-Councilman L. Spangenberg says that there is about 200 feet of the roadway on Woodland avenue that was not properly finished by the street railway contractors. The balance of the road, he says, is all right and he compliments the men for doing such efficient work.

—Founder Bradley gave a big dinner at the Hotel Brunswick, Asbury Park, Saturday, to the members of the last Legislature and the leading New Jersey Republicans. Mayor Alex. Gilbert, Assemblyman W. R. Codington, and City Judge George W. DeMeza were present from this city.

—A young man named Price borrowed without consent a tandem and single wheel from Martin & Johnson's cycle store a day or two ago, and gave the tandem severe usage. It was found in the rear of Marshall's laundry on East Front street yesterday morning in a terrible condition. Mr. Marshall notified Mr. Martin that the wheel was there. Price is among the missing.

—A special train left Jersey City at 1:12 this afternoon on the Central Railroad for Washington. The train carried the New Jersey Christian Endeavors. Tomorrow five special trains will leave Jersey City at intervals for the Capitol City. These trains are run more especially for the endeavorers coming from Massachussetts and surrounding States.

—White's skirt and waist department is doing a great business. Their special offer to make free of charge all skirts and waists was a great hit, and everyone who took advantage of it was well pleased with the style, cut and fit of the garments, as they are much better made than the garments you usually buy. They will make you a skirt while you wait, and you won't have to wait long, either.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wilcox, of East Ninth street, will leave on Thursday for Dailing, (Deal Beach), N. J., where they will remain until September.

Jos. B. Miller arrived in town last evening after an absence of several weeks. Mr. Miller has severed his connection with the White Comedy Company. Mrs. Miller, however, is with the Claire Burlesque Company, this week in Philadelphia, which company Mr. Miller joins Saturday of this week.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The work of placing a culvert at the corner of Park avenue and Fifth street will be accomplished this week.

—A number of the young people of the West End are arranging a picnic to be given at Boynton Beach Saturday.

—Fine and artistic taste is shown in the selection and designing of Edward Love's wall papers. Call and see them.

—Justice Nodyne has issued summons in the case of French against Scribner, on contract, returnable on the 14th.

—Freeholder Lutkins residence on Somerset street presents a fine appearance having received a new coat of paint.

—Some of the political dark horses prove to be chestnuts, but there is nothing of that shade in Peck's summer goods.

—Union Lodge, G. U. O. of O. F., which was organized last week, will meet this evening and transact important business.

—It is not likely that the borough fire bell will be accepted in less than two weeks, owing to some necessary changes to be made.

—A first-class lot of driving and carriage horses will be sold at public sale at the Metropolitan livery stables Thursday afternoon. It will pay you to attend.

—The State brigade meeting of the Second Regiment, Uniformed Rank of Knights of Pythias, will be held in Newark this evening. Several from this city will attend.

—Freeholder Barkelew had a force of men yesterday repairing the culvert at the corner of Rockview avenue and Grove street, which was in a dangerous condition.

A Delightful Sail.

The Hudson river, with all its natural beauties, is one of the chief attractions in this part of the country to foreign tourists. But to really see the river and the surrounding country as it should be viewed, a sail up the river is the ideal way. The excursion of the Grace M. E. church offers just such a chance. On Friday the large iron steamer Cygnus will convey the excursionists from Elizabethport to Oscawanna Island, which is located in one of the most beautiful parts of the Hudson river. The train leaves Plainfield at 7:45 o'clock on Friday morning.

Same Specialty.

"Am I mistaken in deeming you a co-worker in the field?" asked the traveling evangelist.

"I don't know what field you work in," answered the tall man with the white tie, "but I am in the fire escape business."—Indianapolis Journal.

Forcing the Issue.

Bilkins—Will you be mine?

Miss Yellowleaf—This is so sudden.

Bilkins—Yes, I know, but your father has got me in a corner in a wheat deal, and if I don't begin to squeeze you, he'll squeeze me.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Safe Plan.

Little Pat—I let me ould woman have her own way whin she's bin drinking.

Friend—An' whin she's not been drinking?

Little Pat—Och! thin she takes her own way.—Puck.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

Bank Cashier (who has just been sentenced to five years)—Your honor, that's a pretty long sentence.

Judge—Yes; but criminals and judges always differ widely in regard to the length of sentences.—Texas Siftings.

Sorry for Bobby.

First Boy—I feel sorry for Bobby Blinkers. He's got a stepmother.

Second Boy—Is she strict?

First Boy—Awful! She makes him wear rubbers every time it rains.—Good News.

Answered.

Lord Bullbeefe—Aw, Miss Giddeigh, do you go in much for cycling, may I awsk?

Miss Giddeigh—No, I always ride outdoors, Lord Bullbeefe.—Town Topics.

Willing to Risk It.

Microbes may be in kisses,
As scientists declare;
But what do youths and misses,
Who know just what the bliss is,
For blooming microbes care?
—Kansas Journal.

It would be hard to convince a man suffering from bilious colic that his agony is due to a microbe with an unpronouncable name. But one dose of DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure will convince him of its power to afford instant relief. It kills pain. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

THE BOY-GOVERNOR AT HOME.

William E. Russell Is a Boy No Longer, But the Title Sticks.

Sundry Youthful Adventures—Also Interesting Details About His Family and His Daily Life—Personal Traits —Love of Athletics.

[COPYRIGHT, 1896.]

"Russell—Russell—why that's the boy-governor of Massachusetts."

It is not surprising that this impression of William E. Russell has gone abroad, for the pictures that have been circulated of him and the stories told of him have largely hinged upon his youthful looks and high office.

But in Massachusetts he has ceased to be thought of in the youthful role, and is regarded as the prominent lawyer, the eloquent orator and able statesman. To those who meet him in everyday life he appears as the practical, mature man of affairs rather than as the boy in politics. This is only natural, for Mr. Russell is now approaching middle life, being in his 40th year; he was born January 6, 1857.

EX-GOV. W. E. RUSSELL, FROM HIS LATEST PHOTOGRAPH.

He certainly makes no endeavor to keep up his reputation as a young man in politics, either by adopting the dress or manners of youth. His smooth-shaven face and peculiar cast of countenance are the only attributes suggestive of youth at present. In fact, he is apt to impress a stranger as being a singularly aged young man, if such a term may be used. For his bearing is always dignified, and his face is naturally grave. These characteristics have developed very fast during the last two years, since he left the gubernatorial chair and devoted himself to the practice of law. It has been a period of very hard work, and the cares of a busy lawyer's life have drawn noticeable lines across the erstwhile smooth forehead and around the mouth, giving a somewhat rigid outline to his beardless face.

One who would know what manner of man ex-Gov. Russell is should see him at his law office in the Exchange building on State street, Boston. The door leading to these apartments is remarkable in its lettering, bearing on its glass panel the name of Russell in eight places. You would think that all the Russells of Boston had gathered here and engaged in the law business together. In reality, there are but two firms of Russells—Russell & Russell, composed of Gov. Russell and his brother, Charles Theodore, and his cousin, Arthur H. Russell, and the firm of C. T. and T. H. Russell, the senior partner of which (father of the ex-governor) is but lately deceased.

The ex-governor's private room is a large, square, well-lighted apartment, in the center of which is a square desk table, at which Mr. Russell sits and holds most of his conferences.

THE CHILDREN OF EX-GOV. RUSSELL.

On the wall back of this is a large frame containing his portrait as governor, surrounded by the pictures of the members of his staff in uniform. On each side are photographic groups, representing him and his council in the executive chamber, taken in 1891 and 1893.

Another notable picture upon the wall is a group of mayors of the principal Massachusetts cities, among whom Mr. Russell appears as Cambridge's chief executive. This photograph was taken when he was mayor at the age of 28. In the rest of its appointments the room looks like a busy lawyer's office, with no political suggestions; there are neither leather lounges nor easy chairs to invite a luxurious smoke and protracted discussion of electioneering methods.

Mr. Russell receives the visitor, whether he comes on legal or political business, by rising and giving a firm but not effusive hand-grasp.

"Now, my dear sir, what can I do for you?" is his customary way of getting directly at the matter at issue without unnecessary delay. If it is something that can be disposed of quickly, Mr. Russell remains standing; if it requires careful consideration he invites his visitor to a seat at the desk opposite him.

If the subject brought before him is of a business or legal nature he brings a keen, well-trained intellect to bear upon it and arrives at quick conclusions; if it is of a political character, he discusses it from the standpoint of a statesman rather than a politician. He does not descend to talking of electioneering schemes, but goes straight to the fundamental principle involved.

As he rises to extend a greeting or adieu you note that he is of slender build and medium height, being about five feet eight; but his erect carriage and superb pose of head give the impression of much greater physical proportions. His voice conveys this last impression, too, for it is deep and rich. To it he owes much of his power over men, whether speaking to them individually or in open court, or on the rostrum.

Mr. Russell has been as successful in the practice of law as in politics. In the but little more than two years that have elapsed since his governorship he has built up an extensive law business—one of the largest in Boston—which it is estimated yields him about $20,000 per annum. In this his political reputation has served him well, bringing him clients from distant parts of the union. He takes only civil cases, usually where large amounts are involved. He is especially sought after to appear in hearings before the legislature, where his splendid powers of argument and oratory are brought into full play.

He is one of the hardest working lawyers in Boston. He enters his office at a little past nine in the morning, and often remains until half-past six or later, and even then often goes home to write briefs until far into the night.

Though his legal practice has to a considerable extent kept him from direct association with the people, he is as democratic in his ways as ever. He almost invariably rides to and from his Cambridge home in the street cars.

That he has not deteriorated in oratorical powers was shown at the great occasion of Jefferson's birthday on April 13 at Monticello, Va., when he enumerated such ringing principles as to elicit admiration from opponents as well as friends. That speech moreover was a fair illustration of Mr. Russell's style of oratory—not effusive, not emotional, but strong, logical, compelling interest from its clearness. This is the style of speechmaking that he has carried on through long and hard-fought campaigns in his native state, where he has had to contend against the ablest and maturest minds. There was no room for oratorical flourishes; men and arguments had to be overcome to satisfy his hard-headed constituents.

Ex-Gov. Russell's residence is in the beautiful and historic part of the University city of Cambridge, at the corner of Brattle and Channing streets. The grounds are large, with wide-stretching lawns shaded by spreading elms. The house is of the Queen Anne style, and has a stable to correspond.

Mr. Russell has lived here since his marriage 11 years ago. It is a home of taste and refinement, full of attractive objects and delightful hospitality is dispensed there. Out of the hall, handsome in its quartered oak finishings and made cheery on these chilly spring evenings by a bright open fire, one may step into the library. This is Mr. Russell's den, full of books, pictures and relics of college life. It bears every appearance of being a working room; and the busy lawyer and statesman burns a good deal of midnight oil there at work over his briefs and speeches. Across the hall is the dainty drawing-room, where the mistress of the house presides with charming grace. Near this is the dining-room, with a most interesting fire-place adorned with tiles painted by Mr. Russell's mother, with pictures representing old houses in which her family have lived during former generations.

Gov. Russell was born nearby in the Hosford mansion, at Brattle and Sharks streets, where his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ballister Russell, still lives at the age of nearly 80. In his birth-chamber a friend not long ago wrote with a diamond on one of the window panes his name and date of birth.

Mr. Russell comes naturally by his political instincts and love of public affairs. His father, Charles Theodore Russell, one of the most eminent lawyers of his time, held many public offices. He was mayor of Cambridge, and member of the Massachusetts senate.

One step further back and we find that Charles Russell, the grandfather of the present ex-governor, was also a member of the state senate from the Princeton district, and one of the governor's councilors 50 years ago. He was locally known as "Squire" Russell. These ancestors were all democrats and were strong pillars in the Congregational church, to which their worthy descendant still adheres. Mr. Russell's ancestors in this country date back to 1640.

On his mother's side is an equally strong lineage. The name of Ballister is a corruption of the old French name, Le Ballistier, belonging to a Huguenot family who sought refuge in this country and settled in Marblehead, Mass.

William E. Russell's early education was received in the public schools of Cambridge, where he was prepared for college. At 16 he entered Harvard, where he made a good, though not remarkable, record as a student, and took a leading part in athletics. Graduating in 1877, he entered the Boston university law school with three ambitions—to graduate at the head of his class, to win the William Beach Lawrence prize for the best essay and to deliver the class oration at commencement. All three he attained with the first "summa cum laude" ever given by this school. In 1880 he was admitted to the Suffolk county bar and began practice in Boston in his father's law firm.

At the age of 28 Mr. Russell was married to Miss Margaret Manning Swan, daughter of Rev. Joshua Swan, of Lowell, a well-known clergyman. In the 11 years of happy married life which have now passed, three children have come into the household—the eldest, William Eustes, being nine years of age, his younger brother, Richard Manning, five years, and the youngest child, Margaret, two years old. The boys are tanned and rugged specimens of Young America, with no aristocratic style or airs about them.

From his boyhood days ex-Gov. Russell has been a lover of outdoor sports and has never allowed his interest in athletics to wane, though of late years he has not had much time to devote to them. Yet, despite his responsibilities, he is still an enthusiastic golf and tennis player, a horse-back rider and a bicyclist.

Throughout school and college life he was always at the front in athletics without thought of danger, bearing the brunt of the contest. Once, when coasting, he had a wrist broken, and in a ball game his nose was broken by a foul tip; and on still another occasion he had his jaw broken. He is said to have endured these mishaps with Spartan stoicism, seeming perfectly willing to pay this price for daring leadership.

The most interesting story, however, that is told of his youthful adventures, is about his narrow escape from drowning. It was when he was a sophomore in college. He was out sailing off the Cape Cod coast, and a novice at the helm caused the boat to capsize. Of the five who were thrown into the water, two were drowned, the other three, with Russell in the lead, struck out and swam nearly two hours until they were picked up. In writing to his mother of this experience he said: "I thought of you and home, put my trust in God and kept on swimming."

Nothing could be more characteristic of the man. HERBERT HEYWOOD.

Left One Thousand and Odd Descendants.

There may frequently be seen about the streets here a half-breed Indian who comes in from across the Canadian border with snowshoes, moccasins and baskets to sell, says a Saranac Lake correspondent. His name is Macomber. The tribe to which he belongs holds a reservation 12 miles square, and is from the Five Nations. The reservation is known as Caughnawaga. His grandfather has died recently, aged 103, leaving considerable wealth. The old gentleman had been married three times. By his first wife he had six children, by the second 15, and the same number by the third. In reckoning up how many grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren this old Indian had it counted up to over 1,000. Of the 36 of his children 28 are still living, as are most of the grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.—Utica Morning Herald.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

STRIFE AT CHICAGO

Feeling Between Gold and Silver Factions Very Bitter.

CONVENTION CONVENED AT NOON

Prayer About the Only Matter Over Which There Will Be No Contest—Temporary Chairmanship the Opening Bout.

Chicago, July 7.—Delegates and other democratic politicans were astir early this morning and the greatest excitement and interest was manifested on all sides as every indication at this hour points to the most stormy scenes after the convention is called to order at noon to-day. The first fight between the silver and sound money forces will occur on the question of the temporary organization of the convention. According to present appearances the prayer will be about the only part of the preliminary proceedings which is likely to pass unchallenged. In no previous great national convention has the recommendation of the duly chosen national committee in regard to a temporary presiding officer been antagonized by a minority report, and a demand for a vote, but the present gathering is an exceptional one and it is very likely to break in upon precedents in more respects than one. By a vote of 27 to 23 the majority of the national committee decided to recommend senator David B. Hill as temporary chairman of the convention. C. S. Thomas of Colorado gave notice that a minority report would be presented recommending the selection of senator John W. Daniel of Virginia, and that the convention would be asked to make a choice between the two nominations. It is a curious fact that at the last democratic convention held in this same city, during that memorable all-night session which resulted in the nomination of Grover Cleveland, Senator Daniel, with dauntless courage, faced for over an hour a hostile, howling audience, as the special champion of Senator Hill, the man to whom, by the irony of politics, he is now antagonized.

Beginning of the Fight.

From indications just before the hour for calling the convention to order, the proceedings will be as follows: When Chairman Harrity calls the convention to order as the representative of the national committee, and recommends the selection of Senator Hill as temporary chairman, a minority member of the national committee will offer a substitute, naming Senator Daniel. Under all forms of parliamentary law a substitute must first be voted upon, and the only open question in this case seems to be whether or not Mr. Harrity will recognize one of his silver associates for the purpose of offering this substitute, the convention not having been organized and no roll call of the delegates having been passed upon. The silver men claim that the chairman's act in recommending a temporary chairman for the approval of the convention is an admission that the convention is qualified to act upon it. If this be true in one case, they assert that it must be so in the case of the substitute. Should Mr. Harrity refuse to put the motion for the adoption of the substitute, some silver member of the national committee on the platform will put the question himself, and the first skirmish between the gold and silver factions will be precipitated.

Bitter Feeling Prevails.

"I know very little about the parliamentary status of this matter," said Senator Tillman this morning. "But I do claim to be possessed of a little common sense. I know that Senator Daniel will be the temporary chairman of this convention, and that he will make the speech. If the gold men think that their 300 votes form the majority of this convention, just let them try it. The silver men are running this convention, and they propose to run it after their own fashion. If the gold men don't like it, let them bolt. I hope they will." Yesterday a conservative spirit seemed to pervade the more radical silver men, and the desire was expressed to avoid, if possible, a clash in the convention. The conclusion of the committee to recommend the selection of Senator Hill as temporary chairman caused a sudden drop in this conservatism, and to-day the feeling between the two factions of the party seems to be more bitter than before.

Bland Shouters the Loudest.

As to the probable choice of a presidential candidate to represent the free coinage platform the past twelve hours have brought no marked change in the situation. Mr. Bland's friends are doing most of the claiming and shouting. Efforts to get the silver men to caucus on the nominations in advance of the meeting of the convention met with failure, some of the prominent silver leaders declaring their fears that the result of such a caucus would be to create dissensions in their ranks and aid the "gold bugs" in their efforts to disorganize them. The California delegation appears to be determined to present to the convention the name of Senator White of that state despite the protests of the senator that he is not a candidate and does not desire his name to be considered. At the meeting of the delegation last evening the matter was discussed, several delegates stating that they believed the time would come in the contest when the convention would turn to Senator White as the only man upon whom the contending delegations could unite. For this reason they proposed to keep him as their candidate. Senator White, who was present, entered an emphatic protest, and if his wishes are respected the delegates will go elsewhere for their candidate.

YALE MEN HOPEFUL

Trial Heats for Grand Challenge Cup at Henley To-day.

LEANDERS ARE THE FAVORITES

Eli's Sons Must Win the First Heat or Suffer Defeat—"Bob" Cook Not Over-Sanguine of Victory.

Henley-on-Thames, July 7.—This afternoon will witness the trial heats for the Grand Challenge cup, and all the crews who will participate therein are on the anxious seat this morning. The new boat of the Yale crew has not proved at all satisfactory to the men, and yesterday it gave out twice, necessitating the stopping of rowing until it could be repaired. This boat, which is made of paper, is sixty feet in length and twenty-four inches wide amidships. It does not meet the approval of English oarsmen, who claim that it does not begin to have the rigidity of an English-built cedar boat, and that it is affected with structural weakness. The Yale crew are in the best possible condition. Dr. McDowell regards Hon. Rupert Guinness, the present holder of the Diamond sculls, and Vivian Nickalls as the most formidable of his competitors in the Diamond scull contest. He thinks that if he has the lead to the Fawley Court boat house he will win. The town is crowded with visitors from all parts of the country, and there are also many foreigners, especially Americans, waiting to see the races. The hotels and boarding houses are filled to overflowing, and the Henley tradesmen and others are reaping a bountiful harvest. The course is lined with houseboats, barges and pleasure craft of every description. The starts of the Leander crew are fine and will give them an immediate advantage. The representative of the United Press last night had an interview with Bob Cook regarding the general situation. He said that if the Yale crew won the first heat they would win the cup. He expected, however, that they would be beaten at the start, as starting was the Leanders' strong point. He added that Yale would row to the finish whatever happened. He had confidence in the staying power of the men. He does not expect that the Leander crew will fall off on the second half of the course, as they have rowed the second half as fast as the first half. Mr. Cook is not as sanguine of winning as are the Yale crew. He intimated that he would not be surprised if the Leanders won. He said the American crew would not row above forty strokes per minute, while he believed that the Leanders would pull up to forty-three strokes.

SATOLLI'S SUCCESSOR.

No Importance Attached to the Report of Bishop Falconio's Appointment.

Washington, July 7.—No importance is attached at the papal legation to the report from Rome that Bishop Falconio will replace Cardinal Satolli as the papal delegate at Washington. No information, official or otherwise, has been received to that effect, and the report is thought to have no better foundation than is to be found in the circumstances that Falconio has lived in the United States and speaks the language with a certain proficiency. Cardinal Satolli will not return to Rome until his succesor has been appointed and confirmed in his new dignity. It is regarded as unlikely that the pope will make the appointment before September next, inasmuch as it is not desirable that the change should be made during the heated term, but later in the autumn and upon the approach of cooler weather.

JOHN BROWN'S GRAVE.

To Be the Scene of a Flag Raising on July 21—No Formal Gathering.

Albany, July 7.—The state fisheries, game and forest commission, at its meeting in this city, decided to have a flag raising on July 21 at the grave of John Brown on the John Brown tract in Essex county, recently presented to the state by an association of patriotic New Yorkers, of which Henry Clews is president. The commission will attend, and the members of Mr. Clews' association will be invited, but there will be no formal gathering or attempt at display. Speeches will be made by State Excise Commissioner Lyman, who presents the flag for the occasion, and by Gen. Merritt of Potsdam.

New York Civil Service Appointments.

Albany, July 7.—The following civil service appointments have been made: W. H. Jordan, as director of the agricultural experimental station at Geneva, in place of Peter Collier; salary, $4,000. Robert B. Lamb, as first assistant physician at Matteawan state hospital, salary, $2,000, and Edgar J. Spratling, second assistant physician at the same institution, salary, $1,500. Henry L. Taylor of Baldwinsville, as an examiner in the regents' department, salary, $5 a day.

In Favor of the Pipe Line.

Trenton, July 7.—The court of errors by unanimous vote has reversed the action of Vice-Chancellor Bird in granting an injunction to the Pennsylvania Railroad company restraining the United States Pipe Line company from laying its oil pipes under the company's tracks near Phillipsburg. This decision removes the principal obstacle in the way of the pipe line reaching tide-water.

Stanley's Condition.

London, July 7.—Henry M. Stanley, who has been reported seriously ill for some time past, had another relapse this morning. It followed a slight improvement yesterday evening and is causing anxiety to his friends.

SPORTS

CYCLING COMMENT.

The Thirteenth Regiment Cyclers, of New York, had a run to this city on Saturday.

Patrolman James Totten, of New street, has purchased a Niantic wheel of the Plainfield Cycle Co.

John Sheelen, of the West End, has purchased a World wheel through the agency of Sandford Robinson, of West Second street.

Lindley Hillman, of this city, made his first appearance Saturday under the colors of the N. J. A. C. at the club's games. He rode in the one mile handicap from the seventy-yard mark and finished fourth.

Benjamin Scribner has purchased a new Zimmy racer and is doing some fast riding on the track. He is said to have ridden his mile in 2:20. He rides against George Apgar at the Crescent Oval this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Chas. C. Brower starts the sorrel horse "Prince" in the races of the Cuban-American Carnival at Waverly Park this afternoon.

Two more bevys of young quail were located Saturday by members of the Game and Fish Protective Society. They were near South Plainfield, and give evidence of ripening for the fall markets.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

The cases of Morgan against Pound, Smith against Moore, and Pearson against Bohl have been adjourned in Justice Newcorn's court.

VICTORY THE MAIN DESIRE.

Senator Stewart Says There Are Any Number of Good and Tried Men Available.

Chicago, July 7.—Senator Stewart of Nevada, speaking to a United Press reporter this morning before the convention convened, said: "I find the delegates generally discussing how they can secure the combined votes of democrats, populists and republicans. It is generally conceded that all these parties would vote for Teller, and that his nomination would secure success. But many of them have their own candidates, who have been faithful free silverites, and they cannot see why everybody should not vote for their favorite. There are a large number of good and tried men in the field, any one of whom ought to satisfy good silver adherents. However, the paramount desire for victory is so great that it seems probable at this time that party prejudice will be buried and that there will be a union upon a representative silver man of all the parties interested and that the man selected will lead to victory."

Illinois To Support Bland.

Chicago, July 7.—At a meeting of the Illinois delegation at the Sherman house it was decided that Illinois should cast her forty-eight votes for Richard P. Bland of Missouri for president. The first formal vote stood forty-eight to one in favor of Bland, with four delegates absent. Preceding the formal vote there was an informal ballot in which Stevenson and others received scattering votes.

Another Steamer a Total Loss.

Halifax, N. S., July 7.—The British steamer Hesper, which struck on Emblus breakers off Lockeport Monday, will likely prove a total loss. At the time of striking the captain thought he had rounded Cape Sable.

FREE LUNCH BURDEN.

offered a resolution which was adopted that the police committee be authorized to contract for night lunches, the cost not to exceed $75 per month. Mr. Dumont voted in the negative though he gave no reason for so doing. Mr. Barrows offered an ordinance which provides that the police serve all notices in regard to the laying of sidewalks or curbing instead of the Street Commissioner as heretofore. He thought the latter's time was too valuable when the city was paying him $1,500. The ordinance was adopted on first and second readings and ordered engrossed and advertised. At this time Mr. Ginna took the chair while President See attended to some other matters, and Mr. Tolles then presented a petition, signed by C. H. Hand, and several hundred persons asking that Watchung avenue be extended to the brook. The petitioners cited the many advantages to be gained by giving work to unemployed, which would result in the erection of several fine buildings which are now prospective. Corporation Counsel Marsh was present and Mr. Ginna asked him for some information. Mr. Marsh stated that the material was rapidly getting into shape and allowing for necessary time, he thought the next regular August meeting would be sufficient enough. It was so decided.

Mr. Dumont thought there was no great hurry about the matter, as the street seemed a good ways off at present. He cited the borough's action and said that a man's property could not be taken until he was paid for it. Mr. Frost did not believe that the city would get any money from the property owners if the street was opened before the assessments for benefits were made. In presenting a sub-final report to date of the work on sewers, Mr. Frost stated that there was now twenty-four miles of sewers laid and as fine as any system in the United States. It had cost as little as any similar system, and no pains had been spared in doing the work properly. He complimented consulting engineer Gavett and Messrs. Hubbard and Van Emburgh as surveyors for the conscientious manner in which they had performed their work. Mr. Ginna said that the total cost would come under $150,000. It was discovered that there was a mistake in the report and it was referred to the finance and sewer committees jointly for examination and rectification.

Mr. Frost reported that the committee appointed some time ago to confer with the assessor had met the latter and had carefully gone over the tax list, but owing to the large number of farm lands, they thought it absolutely necessary that a city map should be purchased. This would show all assessable property. On Mr. Frost's motion $10 was appropriated for that purpose.

E. H. Bird's bill amounting to $205.20, as his bill of expenses in the recent collectorship contest, was presented and ordered paid.

Mr. Dumont stated that last month's expenses were $11,000 and it was now necessary to borrow money. He offered resolutions which provided for the borrowing of $5,000 for the general fund and $2,500 for the fire fund. Both resolutions were adopted as was also two others which provided for the renewing of an $8,500 note and the borrowing of $8,000, both of which were on account of the sewers.

Mr. Dumont presented a short report on the widening of Madison avenue and offered a resolution, which was adopted, that Wednesday evening, July 22d, at 8 o'clock, be set as the time for the commissioners to meet in the Council rooms.

Mr. Tolles offered a resolution that the property owners on West Front street be required to curb the street according to the proper grade. The resolution prevailed.

Mr. Frost offered a resolution, which was adopted, that no person be allowed to make any opening in the streets unless they get a permit to do so. The same member then offered an ordinance which provides for regulating the house connections made to the sewers. It was adopted on first and second readings, and ordered engrossed and advertised. Mr. Frost offered another resolution that the above resolution be advertised in both city papers three times. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Serrell called up the street sprinkling ordinance on its final passage and it was adopted. He also called up the ordinance relating to ash and garbage carts, but the opinion of the other members seemed to be that this ordinance was all out of proportion, and after a lively discussion it was referred back to the committee with the instructions to draw up an ordinance regulating ash and garbage carts. The ordinance presented took in all kinds of carts and wagons and the provisions were too strenuous.

On Mr. Barrows motion the police ordinance was adopted on the third reading.

The auditing committee reported all bills correct except one for $48 50, presented by C. M. Meeker. Mr. Westphal, chairman of the committee, moved that it be referred back to Street Commissioner Meeker with the recommendation that he pay his own help. The motion was not seconded. Mr. See ordered that the bill be paid. The motion was adopted, Mr. Westphal voting no. The latter thought that when the city was paying Mr. Meeker to do surveying they ought not to pay another man to help him to do it.

The Council then adjourned to meet Monday evening, July 20th, at which time action will be taken on the new police rules.

The report of the final cost of the sewerage system was referred back by request to the joint committee on sewers and finance, to ascertain the amount of accrued interest on the sewerage notes up to June 30th.

ONE DISEASE AND ONE REMEDY.

"The art of painting," said Millais, "consists in selecting the right colors and putting them in the right place." "The way to win a battle," said Napoleon, "is to mass your troops at the critical moment against the weakest spot in the enemy's line." "The way to cure many ailments," said the great Dr. Abercrombie, "is to purify the poisoned spring in which they arise, generally the torpid and inflamed digestive system."

Thus wisdom and experience simplify and condense. Thus the Shakers of Mount Lebanon reasoned when they sought, and finally found, a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. Where one person has something else, they argued, a thousand have this. To cure this alone will almost rid the world of sickness. Why should we vex ourselves with confusing definitions? A good digestion is life and health; a bad one disease and death. Hence, from the healing and stimulating mountain herbs, they extracted the principles which make the Shaker Digestive Cordial the rarest and most effective of medecines for one disease and one only—indigestion and dyspepsia.

Do you suffer from any of these miserable feelings?—depression of spirits, heaviness and pain in the stomach after meals, bad taste in the mouth, wind in the bowels, irritable disposition, nervous weakness and alarm, worry and weariness, costiviness or irregularity of the bowels, nausea, palpitation, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite and sleep, dry skin, etc.?

Don't indulge in fifty foolish fancies. You have indigestion and dyspepsia and nothing else. Set the disordered stomach right with the one medecine which will surely do it. Shaker Digestive Cordial and these symptoms will vanish with their cause. A good effect will follow the first doses. Even chronic cases soon yield.

Test the cordial, at practically no cost, by taking a ten-cent trial bottle. For sale by nearly all druggists.

A Hero of the War.

During the attack upon Fort Sumter, in the early days of the rebellion, while the battle was raging at its fiercest, a bomb-shell with fuse dangerously short and still sputtering, fell within ten feet of a squad of men.

Spell-bound with horror, not a man moved, all expecting instant death. One little Irishman, however, jumped quickly from the group, grasped the fuse in his hands and rubbed it out.

And then went back to work.

That which might have laid a hundred men cold in death was now a harmless bit of iron.

Disease, like a sputtering fuse, may often be nipped in the nick of time. Just so Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills have saved thousands of lives by their timely action, and they stand today as great a hero in the fight against disease and death as was the little Irishman within the walls of Fort Sumter.

TO TRUE DEMOCRATS.

Address of the Texas Gold Delegates Who Declined To Seek Admission.

Chicago, July 7.—The following are the main points in the address of the gold delegates from Texas who yesterday decided not to apply for admission to the convention: "To all true democrats who are delegates to the national convention: The undersigned are here as delegates from the state of Texas, duly authorized and empowered to represent the sound money element of the democracy of that state, by a representative delegate convention, called and held in accordance with party usages. We are not here for the purpose of waging a contest before the convention as to our rights to seats in that body, for candor compels us to say that, under existing circumstances, we would not accept admission to the convention. Coming as we do from a southern state in which the party organization has been usurped by political practices of the most questionable character, and which, by such methods, has sent to the democratic convention a delegation committed to the furtherance and enactment of a heresy wholly alien to democratic principles and practices, we desire to say to all true and loyal democrats here assembled from the several states that we represent more than 100,000 democrats whose patriotism will not tolerate the degradation of our national honor. We are here to contribute as best we may to the preservation and advancement of true democratic principles, the perpetuation of party existence, and the upholding of the honor and credit of our common country. We desire to say further that the question of the free and unlimited coinage of silver by this government alone at the ratio of 16 to 1 has already passed beyond the domain of argument, and that our democratic brethren of the United States may prepare themselves for the adoption by the convention of most extreme views upon this question. Upon this assumption, which we know to be correct, we suggest that it is the duty of democrats, in this crisis, to take measures for the preservation of the party, so that its principles may not perish from the earth. The exigencies of the situation admit neither of delay nor attempt a fruitless effort to compromise. If we would preserve the party from destruction we must act now, unmindful of personal consequences, and regardless of aught save devotion to party existence and unselfish fealty to party principles."

Customer— I want a remedy for catarrh.

Drug Clerk—All right, sir. Here's a blood tonic that is advertised to build up the constitution.

Customer— Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! I want immediate relief; besides, catarrh is a local affection, and no tonic or blood purifier ever made can cure it. Here's 50 cents. Let me have Ely's Cream Balm. It's the only thing I know of to cure catarrh.

AT THE CONVENTION.

Silver Men Carry Everything Their Own Way.

BOLT OF NEW YORKERS HEADED OFF.

Eastern Delegates Incensed at the High Handed Action of Silver Men, and Are Only Prevented From Leaving the Convention by William C. Whitney—Governor Altgeld Addresses the Convention and Gets a Great Oration—S. P. White, of California, Was Chosen Permanent Chairman of the Convention.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Chicago, July 8—The sun glittered down this morning on a haggard looking lot of delegates. Much of last night was consumed by the delegates in the committee rooms and when they did get to bed there was no rest on account of the almost ceaseless noise of shouters for this or that boom. The weather was beautifully clear, however, however, as the advance guard came strolling towards the massive coliseum in which the convention is being held.

The drooping eyelids and careworn countenances of the delegates as they arrived spoke effectually of the hard night put in in the committee rooms. The delegates strolled in irregularly without regard to States until 10:15, when the Iowa delegation marched in with a big Boies banner at their head. This served to cause some enthusiasm and the delegates began to stir from their lethargy. A few minutes after, the north galleries resounded with a noise as though a band of Indians had swooped down upon that particular section of the hall. This was caused by the entrance of the Bryan Club, of Nebraska, with a huge banner, emblazoned with silver. As soon as this emblem met the gaze of the rest of the western delegates there was a vociferous shout that rolled into a tremendous volume of ear-splitting sound above which a voice could not be heard a foot away. The enthusiasm continued for several minutes. From this time forward the seats commenced to fill rapidly as one after another of the various delegations arrived.

The section alloted to New York, was noticeably vacant, and it was soon learned that the New York delegation was in a conference. The more the New Yorkers thought of the revolutionary tactics indulged by the majority yesterday, when the selection of Senator Hill for temporary chairman was rejected, the more indignant they became. Among some of the most radical delegates there was a strong sentiment of bolting the convention. When the caucus was called this morning this sentiment found an opening in such a resolution. Several of the most prominent leaders advocatd this action, but Mr. Whitney got the attention of the delegates, and in a powerful speech counseled moderation, and prevented the adoption of the resolution. While this was going on among the New Yorkers, the convention hall had been filled.

At 10:51 Chairman Daniels brought his gavel down on the table and called for order. The New York delegation was not as yet in their seats. Rev. Dr. Green, of Iowa, offered prayer, during which the immense audience arose to a standing positon.

The first business taken up was the call of the committees and afterwards the report of the committee on credentials was called for.

At 11:22 all the seats alloted to the New York delegation were filled. Senator Hill was not present.

Gov. Hogg, of Texas, is called upon to address the convention and ascends the platform. He advocates a more friendly spirit among the delegates. He takes up the Republican platform and scores its protective tariff plank, and ridicules and deprecates the international agreement on the currency question set forth by the Republicans.

11:52—Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky, is now speaking. He says: "The American people look to the convention to right their Governmental wrongs, and we are here to meet the reasonable expectations of the people. Let us take no action that is not tempered with the fullest measure of fairness. We mean to put silver back on its old basis of ratio with gold and make the country prosperous."

ANOTHER ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLER ARRAIGNED IN CITY COURT.

The Offender is Nathan Richmond Who Runs a Clothing Store on Plainfield avenue—Examination Later in Week.

The police crusade against the illegal liquor dealers still continues. Besides the Sunday cider joints there are several who have been selling beer on Sunday as a side issue to some other occupation. The police now have another man whom Chief Grant claims they can convict. The man in question is Nathan Richmond, a tailor living on Plainfield avenue.

He was arrested yesterday afternoon by Roundsman Mattox on complaint of Chief Grant and brought before City Judge DeMeza at a private hearing. He pleaded not guilty saying that he had not had any beer in his house and he will appear for trial later in the week.

Chief Grant says that his innocence is all a case of "jolly" and that Richmond will remember the sale of the beer only too well when their chief witness appears.

COMPLAINT DISMISSED.

Frank Politis Cannot Prosecute His Action Against Geo. Sackalos.

The case of Frank Politis against Geo. Sackalos came up before Justice Newcorn this morning and the complaint was dismissed on account of its being defective.

It will be remembered that Politis and Sackalos formed a partnership under the name of the New York and Philadelphia Confectionary Co., and conducted their business on West Front street. Sackalos desired to draw his share out of the business, which he did, and Politis claims he took more than his share, hence the suit. W. A. Coddington, of the law firm of Reed & Coddington, appeared for Sackalos, and in the absence of Lawyer W. R. Codington, Judge DeMeza appeared for the plaintiff. The case will propably be continued and another complaint made.

TO SAVE TIME.

Street Railway Turnout Being Removed to Avoid Delay.

The Street Railway Company is making quite on extensive change in its tracks in West Fourth street. The turnout, which was located between Liberty street and Plainfield avenue, has been taken up, and preparations are being made to take it about 2,000 feet further west on the street, which will bring it nearly in front of Hope chapel.

The cause of this change is said to be due to the fact that while the turnout was in its former position it was the cause of the cars losing time, as they could not meet at that point without one or the other being delayed for several minutes.

On The Mountain.

Among the recent arrivals at the Mountain Park Inn are the following:

Homer Lattin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Southard, Mr. and Mrs. Draper, Brooklyn; Mr. Kempf and family, Mr. and Mrs. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Bonynge, Miss Bonynge, New York: Mr. and Mrs. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Cort, Dr. Kleinhouse, Miss Durand, Newark; Mr. Prentis, Miss Gregory, Bridgeport, Conn; Mr. Dixon, Stamford, Conn; Mr. Harvey, East Orange; Miss Luella French, Miss Crane, Mr. Bachem Plainfield; Mrs. Marsh, the Misses Marsh, Miss Garlinghouse, Scotch Plains.

His Arm Lacerated.

Fred. Harold, of East Fifth street, an employe at the Walter Scott Printing Machine Works, received painful injuries to his arm yesterday afternoon while at work. A portion of his jacket caught in a piece of machinery drawing his arm with it. The arm was slightly lacerated and bruised causing him much pain. The wounds were dressed at his home.

Grocers Souvenir.

The usual souvenir of the Plainfield Grocers' Association is occupying all the spare time of G. Elston Lowrie, who is in charge of the work. Over forty pages of advertising have already been secured and a July issue of the pamphlet is being printed for distribution about the 10th. The regular annual excursion will occur on Labor Day to Boynton Beach.

Crop Report.

The following is Weather Observer Neagle's report for the past week:

With temperature, sunshine and rainfall above the weekly average, the week has been very favorable for all crop groth and development. The cutting of wheat and rye is progressing and the yield is good. Average temperature 70 degrees; rainfall on night of 5th, 1.32 inch.

Commander Booth-Tucker,

Who is to address a Meeting in this City Tomorrow Night.

A FIGHTER OF SATAN.

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF COMMANDER BOOTH-TUCKER.

Left a Lucrative and Honorable Position in the English Service to Enter the Work of the Salvation Army in British India.

Commander Frederick St. George DeLautour Booth-Tucker, who is to speak in this city tomorrow night, is one of the most remarkable, as well as one of the most talented officers in the whole Salvation Army.

He was born in India. He was educated for the Indian Civil Service and and at an early age was an assistant commissioner in the Punjaub, his position being that of a sort of assistant governor of a province.

He was converted early in life and always felt great interest in the welfare of the natives of India, and did no inconsiderable work among them. In the year 1881 a copy of a London Christmas "War Cry" fell into his hands, containing an article from the General appealing for candidates for officership in the Salvation Army.

This article and the other contents of the paper made such a deep impression on him that he applied for a furlough, for the special purpose of visiting England to see the Salvation Army and enquire into its methods of working.

Although the Army then was very much smaller than it is now, and undergoing all kinds of persecution from press and mobs, the Commander felt that this was the sphere in which God wanted him to work, and he accordingly resigned his Government position. He was, at that time, receiving a salary of $5,000 a year—which would probably have increased by this time to three times that amount—with a pension of $5,000 a year after twenty-five years' service.

He spent some little time at the London Headquarters, assisting in legal and property matters, but in the fall of 1882 he went to India as the pioneer of the Salvation Army in that great empire. Shortly after his arrival in Bombay he and others were arrested for marching the streets with instruments, and he received sentence of a month's imprisonment in Bombay, which he served. On being released, he again marched, and was enabled to secure perfect liberty for the open air work of the Salvation Army, not only in Bombay, but throughout the whole of the Indian Empire.

Being dissatisfied with the results of ordinary missionary plans, the Commander determined upon a bold and apparently hazardous policy. He cast off European clothing, and not only adopted the native dress, but also went in for living in all respects as the natives of the country, one form of his scheme being the assumption of the dull yellow color for part of his uniform, known as the Fakeer color, which is the badge throughout Asia of persons whose lives are entirely given up to religion. In short, he became a religious mendicant, begging his food from door to door, and in this way placing the religion of Jesus Christ before the Asiatic mind in a distinctly Asiatic manner.

Commander Booth-Tucker's platform style is a combination of red-hot feeling, intellectual clearness, and the most powerful, logical, and convincing argument. His administrative capacity, his untiring energy, his long experience, and his practical cosmopolitan mind, render his appointment to this field not only one of the greatest compliments that the General could possible have paid to the American people, but one of the surest guarantees that the brilliant past of the Army in this country is to be infinitely surpassed by what we shall see in the near future.

LABOR AND THE TARIFF.

JAMES E. MARTINE REPLIES TO THE ARGUMENTS OF A NEWS WRITER.

Instances Cited in Which it is Shown That the McKinley Bill Was the Cause of Oppression to Labor

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—My attention has been called to a letter in the Plainfield News criticising an article in The Press on the telegrams to Mr. McKinley. Notwithstanding said criticism, still do I say you will find no congratulatory telegrams from the widows and orphans whose husbands and fathers were shot down at Homestead. The workmen in that strike were resisting a reduction in wages of from 21 to 22 per cent., when at the same time Carnegie, Phipps & Company were protected by a tariff almost prohibiting and to the tune of 104 per cent. The high wages quoted by The News are misleading. They were not per day, but per ton of iron produced. The reader may rely that full recompense in labor was given for every penny received.

I do say that the laborer is right in organization. His only strength, his only capital at Homestead or elsewhere is his labor, and organized labor in Workmen's Alliances and Trade Unions his only safeguard and salvation, against unjust oppression and tyranny of organized capital With labor that contest at Homestead was a fight for that which honest workingmen the world over believed to be their just rights. On the other side was intrenched wealth, which in the words of that eloquent Republican, Hon. John J. Ingalls, "was arrogant, selfish and unyielding."

The writer in The News says, "He worked in 1868 for $1.78, and says I well knew the price of food and clothes then." But, dear fellow, those were the days of Republican misrule, but a Democratic tariff policy of untaxed clothes has made the burdens of the masses lighter today.

Oh, no! I have not forgotten that we said, "Free wool would be a blessing." The truth of our assertion is verified by the fact that it is now possible to buy an all-wool blanket or suit of clothes at one-half the price that was exacted in the days of the McKinley law for a similar article filled with shoddy.

The fact remains that the Raritan Woolen Mills, under the fostering care of protective laws, barely paid enough wages to workingwomen to to keep them from a life of shame.

An American workingman, whose wife was a worker in the Raritan Mills, stated to me in 1892 that his wife received but sixty cents per day.

Oh! shame! Men and women of America, shame, if this be the measure of benefits that McKinleyism brings. God spare free America from more of it. J. E. Martine.

Lost a Finger.

John Apgar, aged 35 years, an employe in Rheaume's planing mill on East Fourth street, met with an accident this morning at the mill which resulted in the loss of the first finger on the right hand and an injury to the second finger. He had sharpened a blade of one of the machines and while putting it back in position the blade slipped and fell on his right hand, with the above result. Mr. Apgar was taken to the hospital, where Drs. Long and Boone dressed the wounds. Mr. Apgar left the hospital this afternoon.

FROM BUMPERS TO JAIL.

FOUR TRAMPS ARRESTED, TWO RELEASED AND TWO SENT TO JAIL.

The Quartet While Scurrying Along the Track as They Ran From a Freight Train, Ran Right Into the Police

A long freight train pulled into Plainfield early this morning about 4 o'clock and as it slowed up in front of the station, four men were seen scurrying away in the faint morning light. Patrolman Flanagan and Vanderweg were on duty in the neighborhood, while Sergeant Kiely and Roundsman Frederickson were passing by on their regular rounds of inspection.

The officers saw the men leave the train and soon captured them. All four were locked up on the charge of stealing a ride on a freight train.

This morning they were arraigned before City Judge DeMeza. There was one man of middle age, Thomas Conloyn, he said his name was, and the other three were lads, Frank Kraus, 18 years, Joseph Sculley, 18 years, and Thomas Moore, 21 years. All four claimed they were from Philadelphia and were beating their way along. Kraus and Sculley were not bad looking lads and evidently felt the disgrace of being locked up. Kraus had a certificate from a Philadelphia school telling of his good character. After lecturing the lads, Judge DeMeza suspended sentence on them.

When he turned his attention to Conloyn and Moore, these worthies declared they must get to Philadelphia tomorrow or lose their jobs. They couldn't explain their presence on a train going in the opposite direction and begged for mercy.

Each was given his choice between a fine of $3 or ten days in jail.

Struck by a Long Branch Train.

Charles Daube, forty years old, was struck by an east-bound passenger train on the Long Branch Railroad Monday night while driving across the Court street crossing in Elizabeth. He was thrown from his wagon and received injuries about the head and body, and had his hand broken. His horse was knocked to one side and badly cut about the legs and body. The wagon was carried a distance of two blocks on the front part of the engine. The injured man was removed to the hospital, where, it is said, he will recover.

Six Tramps Made Him Give Up.

Six trrmps blocked the way of Garret Yates, a farmer of Franklin Park, while he was on his way afoot from New Brunswick to Metuchen Monday night. Mr. Yates made a move as if to escape and heard the click of a revolver. Then a bullet whizzed by his head. He concluded that discretion was the better part of valor and held up his hands. The tramps took his watch and chain and a small amount of money. They ran to the woods and Mr. Yates returned to New Brunswick and notified the police.

Blackford to Fight the Gazelle Company.

John L. Blackford has determined to fight the Gazelle Engine Company in their efforts to dismiss him from the rolls of the company for non-attendance to fires. Blackford claims that he has attended the fires and will bring the matter before the Common Council.

Lost Her Pocketbook.

Mrs. Crocker, of this city, left town Friday morning on the 1:17 train for Chicago, and when she reached Philadelphia she discovered that her pocketbook had been taken. She was obliged to get off at the latter place and telegraph home for more money before she could continue her journey.

Central Profits by Its Generosity.

Although there is no law in New Jersey compelling railroads to carry bicycles as baggage, the Central carries them free. The result is that its traffic has been increased to a considerable extent by cyclists. The other roads leading out of Jersey City tax each bicycle fifteen cents.

To Develop Oak Tree Land.

Mr. Rogers, who purchased the Noe farm near Oak Tree sometime ago, has purchased several acres of adjacent land which he intends to develop by cutting it up into building lots and placing them on the market early in the fall.

A Passing Rumor.

The was a rumor in town yesterday morning that Will Darling, the murderer, was in town and a well-known young law student, was seen walking to the depot with him. The rumor could not be verified.

Largest Business Yet.

The trolley cars carried 10,000 passengers on Saturday. This is the largest number yet for one day.

Small in size, but great in results. De Witt's Little Early Risers act gently but thoroughly, curing indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation. Small pill, safe pill, best pill. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

THE LIBRARY OFFICERS.

ANNUAL ELECTION HELD BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS LAST NIGHT.

Most of the Officials Re-elected—Mayor Appoints Three Directors to Succeed Themselves—Vacation to the Librarian.

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Plainfield Public Library was held last evening. There were present Mason W. Tyler, J. B. Dumont, Rowland Cox, J. Evarts Tracy, Wm. H. Larrabbee and Wm. M. Stillman. The minutes of the meeting of June 2d were read and approved. A communication from the Mayor was received appointing John B. Dumont, Rowland Cox and Wm. H. Larrabbee directors of the Public Library to succeed themselves for the term of three years. Election of officers was made as follows: President, Mason W. Tyler; vice-president, J. Evarts Tracy; treasurer, John B. Dumont; secretary, Wm. M. Stillman; library committee, J. Evarts Tracy, chairman; H. P. Talmadge, Wm. H. Larrabbee; art committee, Rowland Cox, chairman; J. B. Dumont, Wm. M. Stillman. The bill of Neumann Bros., $77.18, for binding magazines, was ordered paid from the income of the Babcock fund. The following bills were ordered paid from the general fund: Miss Adams, salary, $66.66; Miss Jobs, $30; Wm. H. Williams, $13.85; Gas and Electric Light Company, $18.53; janitor, $40.70. On motion the librarian was granted a vacation of four weeks, and the assistant a vacation of two weeks. On motion the request of George H. Fountain to place at his own cost on the library lawn a granite boulder showing well-cut grooves, the result of ice action, was granted. The librarian's report for June was read and ordered on file. The committee on the annual report to the Common Council reported that they had prepared the same and filed it with the clerk of the Common Council. This report was ordered received, and ordered to be inscribed in the minutes.

PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED.

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Thiers Give a Party in Honor of Guests.

A company of friends were entertained last evening by Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Thiers, of Grove street, in honor of their guests, Miss Levison and Miss Grunwood, of New York. The feature of the evening was excellent vocal and instrumental music by Wm. N. Runyon, A. E. Holmes and George O. Stevens. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the host and hostess were Miss Smock, Miss Marie Dryden, Miss Fanny Dryden, Plainfield; Miss Magonigle, Miss Levison, Miss Grunwood, New York; Messrs. A. E. Holmes, Geo. O. Stevens, William N. Runyon, Elston M. French, Frank French and Wm. Thiers. An additional pleasure was the serving of refreshments during the evening.

Dispute Over Church Insurance.

After having patiently waited for five months, the members of the Bound Brook Presbyterian church have finally heard from the insurance companies. The church was totally destroyed by fire on the 6th of February last. The companies refuse to pay the $10,000 insurance on the building, but have appointed Thos. Budd, of Elizabeth, and Thos. Lynch, of Philadelphia, as referees, who went to Bound Brook yesterday to decide the dispute.

Just as Was Expected.

E. J. Richards, the Liberty street druggist, says he already notices a great increase in his business since the street cars have been passing his door. Other merchants in that locality also report a similar increase in business since the West Fourth street branch was opened. They claim to have secured customers from the outlying district who heretofore took the steam cars into town.

Bitten by a Dog.

Mrs. John Benner, the wife of the proprietor of the Fanwood road house, on Monday was bitten by a large St. Bernard dog on her left arm. The wound made is a severe one. The dog was killed and the lacerated part cauterized. Mrs. Benner will be unable to use her arm for some time. The animal was considered to be friendly.

A Plainfielder Married.

The marriage of Miss Clayton, of Freehold, and David S. Dunavan, of East Third street, this city, took place today at 12 o'clock noon at the home of the bride in the presence of only the intimate friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Dunavan will reside in this city.

CHICAGO CONVENTION

Proceedings of the First Day's Session in Detail.

VICTORY FOR THE SILVER ELEMENT

Selection of Senator Daniel for Temporary Chairman—Some Disorder and Several Amusing Incidents—First Test Vote of Free Silver's Strength.

Chicago, July 8.—The first day's session of the national democratic convention was called to order in the big auditorium by Chairman Harrity at 12:50 p. m. with a gavel made from timber taken from old Fort Dearborn. The hall was densely packed and the scenes incident to the opening of a national convention were not lacking. Rev. Ernest M. Stires of Grace Episcopal church offered prayer, the delegates standing throughout. The prayer was concluded at 12:57, and after the reading of the call by the secretary of the national committee, Chairman Harrity announced the committee's selection of Senator Hill of New York for temporary chairman. The announcement was received with cheers from the gold men. The silver men kept quiet until the applause was over, and then Mr. Clayton of Alabama presented a minority report proposing Senator Daniel of Virginia for temporary chairman. Mr. Clayton's motion for the adoption the minoriety report was seconded by Mr. Thomas of Colorado. Mr. Clayton demanded a vote by states. There was renewed cheering at the mention of Senator Daniel's name, this time from the silver men.

Considerable Disorder.

Mr. McDermott of New Jersey was then recognized and took the platform to make a speech in favor of Senator Hill. He alluded to the Senator's motto, "I am a democrat," and urged that he be retained as temporary chairman, in the interest of justice to traditions and party harmony. He was followed by ex-Gov. Thomas M. Waller of Connecticut, who spoke in a similar strain. Mr. Waller suggested as a solution of the difficulty the election of Senator Hill as temporary chairman and Senator Daniel as permanent chairman. During his speech there was much disorder, the silverites interrupting him at every opportunity with derisive remarks. He reached a climax at one point, and said: "Will you then turn him down?" "We will," answered a chorus of voices. "Very well," he shouted defiantly, "turn him down, and we will fight you here and elsewhere." This was met with a storm of hisses, and one of the silver men shouted, "One vote for McKinley." He finished with an appeal to the majority not to use brute force.

Judge Marston Howled Down.

Mr. Waller was followed by Charles Thomas of Colorado, who spoke in favor of Senator Daniel. Charles Waller of Alabama followed in support of Senator Daniel. Mr. Tarpie of California also spoke for Senator Daniel, endeavoring to explain the action of the minority of the committee. Col. Fellows of New York was the next speaker. He made an eloquent appeal for careful consideration of the question. He was listened to by all in silence, but with evident respect. He said that if precedent was voted down it would be following in the footsteps of republicans. After Col. Fellows sat down Judge Marston of Louisiana appeared. "It is not that we love Hill less but democracy more," he began, and then he said something that offended the audience and it was a long time before he could proceed. While the audience howled he drank water. Three times in a minute he drained full glasses. Wild shrieks of laughter swept across the hall as he took up the glass for the fourth time. The wearied audience was relieving its feelings. Chairman Harrity interposed with a warning and endeavored to secure a hearing for the Louisiana man. "Take another drink!" yelled the crowd. "Don't take any more water; a democrat never takes water!" This and other cries rose from all around as he endeavored to speak. After much disorder he yielded and descended from the platform amid derisive cheers.

Debate Closed.

The other speakers were Hon. John W. Duncan of Texas, C. J. Ladd of Illinois and Hon. J. W. St. Clair of West Virginia. They all spoke for the minority report, but each speaker had a word of praise for Senator Hill. Then Chairman Harrity said unless the majority of the convention shall otherwise instruct, the chair will direct a call of the roll immediately after the next speaker had closed. It was for the delegates to decide. This declaration apparently met the unanimous approval of the convention, and the chairman added that recognizing this to be the sentiment of the convention he would again recognize Mr. Clayton of Alabama to close the debate. Mr. Clayton promised at the outset that he would not offend the majority by threats nor amuse others by drinking too much ice water. This allusion to the Louisiana gentleman was received with laughter, and, having put the delegates in good humor, Mr. Clayton proceeded to proclaim himself as the friend of David B. Hill now as he had been four years ago, but he said the majority of the democrats were entitled to rule, and that in selecting Senator Daniel for temporary chairman the convention was violating no tradition.

The Roll Call.

Chairman Harrity then put the question, which was the adoption of the minority report, and then ordered the roll of states to be called. The roll call was then proceeded with, and progressed without special incident till Illinois was reached. Then cheers greeted the announcement of 48 votes aye. When Iowa was reached the vote as announced, 26 ayes, was challenged and a roll call of the delegation demanded. The result was 19 ayes and 7 nays. Chairman Harrity stated that, as the delegation had been instructed to act as a unit, the vote would be recorded as 26 ayes. The vote of Kentucky was also challenged on the ground that the delegation had been instructed to vote as a unit, and the chairman repeated his ruling that under the unit rule the whole delegation must be recorded as 26 ayes.

Hill Did Not Vote.

The chairman of the Michigan delegation announced that a poll of the delegation stood 12 ayes to 14 noes, but under the unit rule he had pleasure in casting the whole 26 votes for David B. Hill. Gov. Flower cast the vote of New York (Senator Hill not voting) 71 noes, amid applause. Ohio's vote was challenged and the delegation polled. The result gave 38 votes to Daniel and 8 to Hill, but under the unit rule the entire vote went to Daniel. When Virginia was reached the chairman of the delegation announced, amid great cheering, that Virginia cast 25 ayes and Hon. John W. Daniel voted no. The New England states and New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania cast solid votes, of course, against the adoption of the report. The total vote was announced by the chair as follows: Ayes (Daniel), 356; noes (Hill), 349. Twelve votes were knocked off from the territories and Senetor Hill did not vote.

A Great Demonstration.

The chair added: "The motion offered by the gentleman from Alabama substituting H. J. W. Daniel of Virginia for temporary chairman is adopted," and there was a considerable manifestation of applause. The chair then appointed Senator Jones of Arkansas, Hon. R. P. Keating of Nevada and Senator White of California a committee to escort Senator Daniel to the chair. The greatest demonstration of the day up to this time occurred when Senator Daniel came forward. Delegates stood up in their chairs and yelled with might and main, waving canes, handkerchiefs and flags. The band aided the enthusiasm by starting up a patriotic air and the delegates stamped, clapped and cheered with a vociferousness that threatened to drown the efforts of the musicians.

Senator Daniel's Remarks.

Mr. Daniel brought down the convention on taking the chairman's gavel by saying no convention had ever been presided over with more dignity and ability and fairness than had been shown by Mr. Harrity, and he only hoped that he might be able to discharge the duties conferred upon him with some approach to that degree of ability. He disclaimed the slightest intention on the part of the convention of casting reflections on the distinguished New York democrat. There was nothing personal in his (Daniel's) selection. He reminded the eastern democrats that the silver men had cheerfully supported Seymour, Tilden, Hancock and twice Grover Cleveland and had borne with their compromise platforms and repeated promise of bimetallism. The force bill, the McKinley bill and the Sherman law were triple products of republicanism aimed at the south and no vote from the east had aided them. The force bill would have been continued if those noble western men, Teller (cheers), Stewart, and Jones of Nevada and Stanford of California had not stood out against it. (Cheers). What hope, he asked, was there for the country or for democracy unless the policy of the majority in the convention was adopted. The republicans, throwing away all disguise, had now adopted the single British monometal gold standard and were prepared to saddle the country with higher taxes and more bonds. True Americanism demands that a determined stand shall be made against this policy.

Cries for Hill.

Immediately the chairman finished there were cries of "Hill" from all parts of the hall, and the sergeant-at-arms was called upon to restore order. A resolution that the rules of the Fifty-third congress govern the convention was adopted. On motion of ex-Gov. Hogg of Texas the roll was called to give each state and territory an opportunity to name its selections for the committees on credentials, permanent organization, rules and order of business, and platform. Loud cries for Hill were renewed before the question could be put, but the New York senator did not respond, and the call proceeded. When the various committees had been appointed, the members of them withdrew for organization, and the convention then, at 4:45 p. m. adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

DEFEAT OF YALE

They Were Simply Outclassed by the Leander Crew.

ROWED A VERY PLUCKY RACE

Two of the New Haven Men, Brown and Rodgers, Badly Used Up—Dr. McDowell's Easy Victory Over Guinness.

Henley-on-Thames, July 8.—Although the Yale university crew fell by the wayside yesterday in their first and, consequent upon their defeat, their only attempt to win the most highly-prized trophy of British aquatics, the Grand Challenge cup of the Royal Henley regatta, they have no reason to feel humiliated over their defeat. Their opponents, the crack eight of the Leander Rowing club, whose crews won the cup four times in succession, in 1891, '92, '93 and '94, were in splendid trim and the race was a good one. The Yale men were simply out-classed. The Leanders beat the New Haven crew by a length and three-quarters, covering the Henley course of one mile and 550 yards in 7:14. Immense crowds of spectators lined the river banks when the signal was given that everything was ready for the third heat of the Grand Challenge cup race between the Yale university and the Leander Rowing club crews. The entire course was a mass of color, Yale and American flags being very much in evidence. There was no wind, the sky was overcast, and the air was hot. "Bob" Cook and Pittman, the old Cambridge stroke, followed the boats over the course in the umpire's launch. The starting word was given at 1:35 p m. The boats got an excellent start, both striking the water at the same time. Emerging from the upper end of Temple island Leander was seen to have the fore part of her canvas ahead and soon increased her lead to a quarter of a length, but the Yale men were putting great force into their strokes and succeeded in driving their boat even with that of their opponents. To those running behind the boats on the towpath the Yales seemed to get the nose of their boat in front, and it was then a beautiful race to Fawley Court. A reporter who was on board the umpire's launch says that Yale never actually got the lead, but that two or three times they pulled themselves about even with Leander. The concensus of opinion, however, is that Yale led slightly at the half-mile, but that Leander was a foot ahead at Fawley Court.

Yale Men Completely Spent.

The Leander crew appeared perfectly fresh at the end of the race and rowed a smart stroke some distance beyond the finish, but the Yale men seemed to be completely spent. Brown and Rogers, respectively Nos. 2 and 4, were very badly done up at the finish. The men were too much exhausted to allow a raise in the stroke. Both Brown and Rodgers required attention when the race was over. When they had been helped out of the boat Rodgers was perfectly white and Brown fainted from exhaustion. Both were very weak and lay in the open air on a float for some time while they were fanned and bathed by their comrades. The men feel that they did themselves justice and acknowledge that Leander is the better crew.

Bob Cook Expected Defeat.

Bob Cook said to a representative of the Unite Press at the conclusion of of the race that the contest had resulted as he thought it would. The Leander crew was composed of older and more experienced men. The Leanders got the best of the start and lead for a short time, but the Yale crew caught them and lead by half a length at the Fawley Court boat house. All the Yale men declare that they were fairly beaten.

"Field's" Expert's Account.

Mr. Ellington, the Field's rowing expert, who saw the race from a launch, says: "Yale rowed a twenty-two and forty-three stroke for the first half and full minute to Leander's twenty-one to forty-one. Yale, as usual, went off badly, their first four strokes being very scratchy and irregular. The boats were timed at Fawley Court boathouse as having covered the course to that point in 3:24. Leander was about a yard in front and then began to gain fast, leading by a quarter of a length at the three-quarter mile post. Yale was beginning to get very short. Leander was clear of Yale at Grosvenor and was rowing well. Yale also preserved her form, rowing at a thirty-eight stroke. At the Isthmian, Yale was very much exhausted, and nearly two lengths behind. Leander spurted at the finish. Leander rowed much longer than the Yale men, who just at the finish went all to pieces, but had rowed a fine race all the way."

McDowell's Victory.

The event of the day next in importance to Englishmen as well as Americans to the race between Leander and Yale, was the trial heat for the Diamond sculls between Dr. W. S. McDowell of Chicago and Hon. E. A. Guinness, of Eton college, brother of the Hon. Rupert Guinness of the Leander club, the holder of the Diamond trophy, which he won last year. The doctor has met with a series of mishaps during his practice on the Thames, but he treated the multitude to a surprise yesterday and received an ovation from the crowds that were packed in every available space at the finish line of the course. He rowed beautifully, and actually played with Guinness, winning as he pleased. His time was not extraordinary, in fact it was slow, but it wasn't necessary for him to row at a record breaking pace to take the Hon. Mr. Guinness into camp. He finished in 9:36, three-quarters of a length in front of his opponent.

Senator Hill's political funeral dirge has been chanted more times than any other man in public life, but in every great National affair or contest he looms up with increasing brilliancy. He is one of the greatest men in public life today.

Politics is certainly a producer of odd combinations. Four years ago William C. Whitney and Don M. Dickinson were utilizing every method of political warfare to defeat Hill for the Presidential nomination, and now we find this trio working together in Chicago as though they had been one and the same for years. On the other hand it witnessed the spectacle of Senator Daniels permitting himself to be used as the instrument to relegate Hill to the rear, where four years ago he was one of the most active and ardent in pushing the latter to the front.

FOR THE FRESH AIR FUND.

A Successful Festival Given at the Home of Bessie Martin.

The ice cream festival arranged by Bessie Martin for the benefit of the local babies fresh air fund was held last night from 5:30 to 9 o'clock on Mr and Mrs. H. J. Martin's porch, Fairview avenue. The event was a great success, as the profits will probably reach $15. During the prescribed hours over 200 persons were present to assist in the worthy object. The young girls worked energetically and they were certainly deserving of all success. Bessie Martin and Nettie Young were in charge of the ice cream. Grace Emmons and Emma Line presided at the candy table, and Hattie Messerschmidt served the lemonade. Clara Martin was in charge of the cake table, Hazel Martin the flower booth, and Clyde Slater, the pop corn table. Everything was sold out except two cakes, and it was necessary to send after ice cream several times. An attractive feature was the music box, kindly loaned by White, the dry goods merchant.

Complains Against a Night Lunch.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I noticed in your edition last evening that the Common Council had granted a permit to a stranger from Bridgeport, Conn., to run an all-night lunch wagon on the public streets. This is the way they protect taxpayers who do business here, pay rent, help, etc., by giving a permit to a stranger to take up part of a street, and charge him no rent or taxes. I am interested as I cater to the lunch business, and claim that this is not fair treatment. There are two restaurants and two lunch rooms on North avenue, which are open as long as business keeps them there. I never close up before 12 o'clock, most often 1 o'clock, so there is no need to give anyone any such permit, except to take the bread from our mouths. A few months ago we were ordered to take down a few signs that reached a little over the line. Could we get a permit to keep them there? Of course not, but a stranger can come here, get on the police force, get a permit to block the street, or do anything he likes, in preference to people that have lived or done business here for years. I do not think this is fair play.

E. H. Clevely.

Successful Fire Extinguisher.

Several hundred people were attracted to the vacant lot near the Babcock building last night to witness the exhibit of the Knickerbocker Fire Extinguishing Company. A large box was filled with the most inflammable material, saturated with kerosene and a match touched. In a moment the whole mass was a seething box of hot flames. Then it was that one of the little cans of the extinguishing fluid was directed on the fire and in less than 45 seconds the flames were entirely extinguished. Another test was made with gasoline, being equally successful. The extinguishers are neatly designed cans holding a quart of the fluid. They are filled with a gas that will force the fluid a distance of thirty or forty feet, and are hermetically sealed when prepared, so that they are ready for instant use. They will instantly extinguish any small fire.

FAILED TO CLOSE ON SUNDAY.

Westfield Business Men Defied the Orders of the Sabbath Observance League.

The notices sent out by the Sunday Observance League, of Westfield, notifying business men to keep their places closed on Sunday, apparently had no weight, for, if anything, secular business was carried on more openly Sunday than ever, by those who have been in the habit of doing Sunday business.

The feeling among the business men against the Sunday Observance League is very bitter, and Robert Johnson, secretary of the league, has been subjected to many petty annoyances and insults since the notices were sent out. The league is fully informed as to the places that kept open Sunday and the next step that they will take is awaited with considerable interest. The league has a legal adviser, but his identity is not known.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

NOT ALL STOPPED YET.

Borough Officials Find That the Polluting of the Brook Continues.

The North Plainfield Board of Health is still hot after the trail of those who are sewering into Green brook. A short time ago Inspector William Pangborn made an investigation and found that two cesspools from the Babcock building were running into the brook. The executors of the Babcock estate were notified that they were violating the law and would be prosecuted if they did not remedy the difficulty. They immediately agreed to connect with the new sewer system and on this ground the Board will not proceed against them.

Inspector Pangborn also found that the Pond Machine Tool Company were running a sewer from their shops into Green brook and that much offensive matter was being dumped into the stream in this manner. Borough Counsel Reed, under instruction from the Board of Health, has notified the company of the violation and informed them that if it was not stopped immediately they would be proceeded against under the State act which provides a fine of $1,000 or two years imprisonment, or both, for a conviction. They will no doubt disconnect.

Several other connections with the brook, which are located above Somerset street, have been found by Inspector Pangborn. Those responsible for them will be proceeded against.

Funeral of Mrs. Peterson.

The funeral of Mrs. Gertrude Peterson, who died from the burns received in a gasolene explosion, will be held from her late home, 623 La Grande avenue, tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock, and at the Reaville church at 11 a. m. Interment will be at Reaville.

Mrs. Bernard Brady and daughter, of Central avenue, have returned from their visit to Albany, and will sail for Europe Saturday on the Eturia.

PROSPEROUS CONCERN.

L. V. F. Randolph at the Head of the Atlantic Trust Company.

The New York Post of last Friday had the following to say about two big financial institutions:

The Mutual Life Insurance Company has purchased 1,000 shares of the stock of the Atlantic Trust Company at 180. Negotiations for the purchase have been in progress some time, but the sale was actually consummated yesterday. When the scheme was first proposed, there was some difficulty in finding holders of the Trust Company's stock who would give it up. Finally half-a-dozen of them, including an estate, formed a pool of 1,000 shares, each giving up a part of his holdings, a verbal condition of the sale being that the Mutual should do whatever it could consistently to enhance the growth of the Trust Company's business.

The last previous sale of Atlantic Trust Company stock reported was of 50 shares at 178 by auction, early in May. Since then the price has been gradually rising, and today it was said that the stock was nowhere obtainable at less than 190. The company was organized in 1887 with a capital of $500,000, which was doubled a year ago, shortly after the present management took charge. Dividends are paid at the rate of 2 per cent. quarterly. The statement of the company's business for the half year ending June 30th, 1896, shows that during that period it earned net $62,673.36, or at the rate of 12½ per cent. per annum on the capitalization.

This is the trust company of which ex-Mayor L. V. F. Randolph is president.

WEDDING IN DOLLDOM.

A Unique Party Enjoyed by Little People on Bank Place Yesterday.

A novel and very unique social event was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tier, on Bank place. It was called a doll wedding and was arranged by Miss Gertrude Tier as a surprise for Miss Ida Tier.

The bride and groom, maid of honor and guests were all dolls. The bride was Bessie Tier, gowned in white silk, trimmed with orange blossoms and the maid of honor, Bessie Borsough, was also gowned in white silk, while the groom, Wm Borsough, was attired in black broadcloth. The bridal party stood under an arch of orange blossoms and were married by Rev. Dr. Craig, who was attired in black broadcloth. A reception followed the ceremony when refreshments were served. The table was nicely decorated and in the centre was placed a wedding fruit cake. The bride and groom left during the afternoon for Chicago and will return about Thursday when they will take up their residence with the mother of the bride, Miss Ida Tier. The guests present were: Beatrice Taylor, Libbey Van-Velsor, Harvey Borsough and wife Edith and son Willie, Bessie Brown, Emma LaForge, Lulu Green, Blanche Borsough, Carrie Tradeell

Wife Repented and Forgave.

One day last week Mrs. A. H. Maryott, of East Millstone, appeared before Justice McDonald, charging that her husband had assaulted her in a most cruel and inhuman manner. The Justice immediately caused Maryott's arrest, and held him in $500 bail to appear before the Grand Jury. On Saturday Mrs. Maryott mystified the Justice by taking her oath that the assault was "nothing but an accident" and withdrew the charge. The Maryotts are among the leading citizens of the village and the affair has created much talk.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

NOTHING BUT MUD

Some advertisements we read now days would make good tires for bicycles—there is so much wind in them. You read of great values that are offered, and naturally go for them. Nine times out of ten they are just out—or it is the poor printer's mistake. You never find it so here. We only advertise what we have and what we know is worth advertising. DON'T YOU ALWAYS FIND IT SO?

Men's Fine Cambric Shirts, were $1 and $1.75. Now 59c.
" " Balbriggan drawers, 25cents.

Seems a low price to buy a Ladies' Ribbed Vest and you may think they are not worth buying, but they are all right. Five cents. Skirts and Silk Shirt Waists, made free, is what we advertised last week. On Thursday and Friday we delivered to over one hundred customers their Skirts and Waists and everyone was more than satisfied. Why don't you try it.

Dollar waists for 49c, two dollar waist for 98c and you will find them just as we advertise and they are worth every cent of their original price, we bought from a large importer about a hundred pieces of fine white dotted swiss for half what they cost to import. Real value 20 to 75c the yard, our price 10 to 35c.

Their is many a good bargain to be found on our bargain table, we have put all our short lengths of summer wash goods on this table, goods that sold from 12 to 25c the yard and now they are yours for 18c the yard.

Too many parasols and umbrellas, and do not want to carry them over so they all go for what they cost.

DOWNFALL OF GOLD

Silver Men Have a Sure Two-Thirds Majority.

AN INCREASE OVER FIRST TEST VOTE

Will Dictate the Platform and Name the Candidates—The Yellow Metal Advocates Completely Routed and Defeated.

Chicago, July 8.—The silver democrats have captured the convention and gold is defeated. They have routed their opponents by a majority of 207. The result of the vote on the adoption of the minority report naming Senator Daniel for temporary chairman showed the silver men to be 48 votes short of a two-thirds majority, taking it as a test vote. But in many respects it was not so. There were eight votes of South Dakota cast for Hill, which, on a square issue of free coinage will go for silver. Three votes in West Virginia thrown against the silver candidate will be counted for the silver platform, and there are other votes which were given to Hill which they will have with them throughout the balance of the session. If they should still lack a few votes they have Michigan to fall back upon. A decision in favor of silver men in one or two contested districts in that state will convert under the unit rule the 26 gold votes of Michigan into 28 silver votes and give a sure two-thirds majority for the silver men.

An Interesting Assemblage.

The gathering was a wonderfully interesting assemblage in the gigantic Coliseum—wonderful in point of numbers and interesting with regard to the men who made up the assemblage. The giants of the party were there. There was Jones of Arkansas, diffident to a degree, portly of appearance, but quick in movement; Harris of Tennessee, older and not so erect as his senatorial colleague, sizing up the convention with the keen eye of the practiced presiding officer; Tillman, leading the south Carolina delegation, hardly less noticeable than his older fellow senators, and the young governor of Texas, who also came in for his share of attention. Wm. C. Whitney sauntered into the great hall almost unobserved. He took his seat with the New York delegation, near by to Bissell of Buffalo, who had been President Cleveland's law partner and postmaster-general, and looked over the sea of faces. Hurrying along through the converging crowds of arriving delegates came Russell, the boyish-looking ex-governor of Massachusetts, and with him the other Russell from the Old Bay State, who had been unsuccessful in his endeavor to reach the executive office vacated by his namesake. Gray of Delaware and Vilas of Wisconsin, Mr. Cleveland's most ardent supporters on the floor of the senate; Bradley Smalley of Vermont and others of the gold leaders entered unobserved and took their places quietly.

Hill Heartily Cheered.

When David B. Hill entered the hall many of those who afterwards voted to keep him from the temporary chairmanship, forgot family quarrels and cheered as heartily as the rest. Again and again the enthusiasm broke forth and Hill sank modestly into his chair and looked as though he wished to be out of sight. It was nearly 1 o'clock instead of noon when the convention was called to order and for an hour and a half prior to the time when Chairman Harrity of the national committee tapped his gavel, the floor had been one moving, converging, diverging mass of humanity, principally male, but with a sufficient levening of women to make it marked.

RELIGIOUS ISSUE.

Indignation and Explanations of the Stories Attacking Mr. Bland.

Chicago, July 8.—One of the "big four" of the Ohio delegation is very indignant at the attempt to make it appear that he started the attack on Mr. Bland because of the latter's religious convictions. He says he was misrepresented in an interview which was printed. "I was asked," said he, "whether I thought the fact that Mr. Bland's wife and son were Catholics would in any degree weaken him as a candidate. I replied emphatically that it was an outrage that a man's religious connections should be talked about. I said that for Mr. Bland personally I had the highest regard, and that no one appreciated more than I his work in behalf of the silver cause. No one has denounced the American Protective association organization more openly on the stump than I. I have no religious prejudices. I was sorry, I said, that the matter was talked about, but I admitted that such prejudices did exist and might weaken his chances of election if nominated. Religious bigotry could not be controlled. In his letter in which he defended his wife's religion he laid down my platform exactly." Mr. Thurman has sent the following dispatch to Mr. Bland at Lebanon, Mo.: "The report that I started an attack upon you on account of your wife's religion is absolutely untrue. What I said was in reply to a question by others, and many things are now put into my mouth which I never thought of, much less said. Your letter when a candidate for congress on the subject expressed precisely, word for word, my sentiments and convictions."

New Trial for Mrs. Thurston.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 8.—Mrs. Rachel Eliza Thurston, who is charged with the murder of her husband, Fillmore Thurston, and against whom a verdict of guilty was returned by a jury at a recent term of court held in this city, has been granted a new trial by Judge Forbes.

They All

"There are fads in medicine as well as in other things," said a busy druggist, "but the most remarkable thing about Hood's Sarsaparilla is that customers who try other remedies all come back to Hood's, and this is why the enormous sales of this medicine keep up while others and in a short time go out of sight entirely, to be heard from no more."

Come

"Why is it?" "O, simply because Hood's Sarsaparilla has more real curative merit than any medicine I ever sold."

This is of daily occurrence in almost every drug store. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the standard remedy which has cured more sickness, relieved more distress and made more happiness by bringing people

Back to health than any other medicine. Its wonderful cures of the worst cases of scrofula, running sores, ulcers, salt rheum, etc.; of dyspepsia and other troubles where a first class tonic and aid to digestion was needed; of catarrh, rheumatism, malaria and other troubles arising from or promoted by impure blood, have made

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The standard—the One True Blood Purifier.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

OPPOSITE MUSIC HALL.

S. H. WHITE CHOSEN

The Senator from California To Be Permanent Chairman.

HIS SELECTION CAME AS A SURPRISE

Senator Harris' Name Dropped Because It Was Not Considered Desirable To Select Both Chairmen from the South.

Chicago, July 8.—When the committee on permanent organization assembled at 8 o'clock last evening the slate which it was understood had been prepared was already and was a surprise. Instead of the veteran Isham G. Harris of Tennessee, who has been conceded to be the probable choice, senator Stephen M. White of California was substituted. The only reason mentioned informally for the change was that the members thought it undesirable to have both the presiding officers from the southern states. George C. Hilbert of Kentucky placed Senator White's name in nomination, and briefly presented his special qualifications for the office. Gordon Wood of New Hampshire moved to make Senator Hill of New York the choice of the committee. A roll call was taken and the vote resulted in the selection of Senator White by 33 to 6. The six states which voted for Senator Hill were Delaware, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. A significant feature of the meeting was the absence of F. R. Coudert, representing New York, and James Aldis of Connecticut. Four other states and territories were not represented. Hon. W. J. Bryan of Nebraska was in the committee room some time, and there was considerable talk in his absence of making him the permanent presiding officer of the convention. At the suggestion of his friends, however, his name was not presented, for the reason that he might be a candidate for president before the convention.

Thomas J. Cogan of Cincinnati was the choice of the committee for secretary of the convention. This office was supposed to have been picked out for Major Towles, the aged but energetic secretary of the bimetallic committee but he did not muster enough votes at the time when they counted. Sergeant-at-arms Martin was the object of some sharp criticism and an effort was made by half a dozen radical silver members, whose names were withheld, to turn him down and recommend another person for permanent sergeant-at-arms. The six men so voted when the question took the form of a resolution and when they were defeated it was announced that they reserved the right to bring in a minority report recommending the removal of Col. Martin.

PLATFORM COMMITTEE.

Efforts To Have the Financial Plank Considered in Full Committee Fails.

Chicago, July 8.—The resolutions committee began the active work for which it was organized through a motion by Mr. Thomas of Colorado, that a sub-committee of nine be appointed to construct a platform and report to the full committee this morning. Mr. McDermott of New Jersey offered an amendment which provided that this sub-committee be authorized to prepare the entire platform with the exception of the financial plank, and that that be disposed of by the full committee. Mr. McDermott is a sound money man, and in a short but aggressive speech declared that he did not want the financial plank constructed by any sub-committee for the reason that existing conditions demanded as much publicity as possible in the discussion of financial questions. He was vigorous in his protest against what he knew would be the action of the committee and intimated that the democrats of New Jersey and the east could not or would not support a free silver coinage platform. Mr. McDermott's speech was construed by the silver men of the committee as a threat that he would bolt the silver nominee, and Senator White replied in his accustomed energetic fashion. Further remarks were made by Mr. Harrison of Connecticut in favor of the amendment, and soon the debate gave promise of continuing indefinitely, when the previous question was moved and Mr. Thomas' motion prevailed.

BLAND'S RELIGION.

Wishes He Was Half as Good as His Catholic Wife.

Chicago, July 8.—The following telegram was given out at the Bland headquarters, as having come from Mr. Bland, in response to one from Mr. Thurman of Ohio, in which the latter denied having stared a fight against him on the ground that his wife was a Catholic: "Religion is not the issue. I am a Methodist. Have always been one. Always will be. If I were half as good as my Catholic wife I would not worry about getting into heaven. This is the sentiment I expressed on a previous occasion when her religion was criticised. I stand by it now."

MICHIGAN SILVER MEN SEATED.

Gold Delegates Turned Down by the Credentials Committee.

Chicago, July 8.—The committee on credentials, at 1 o'clock this morning, by a vote of 27 to 16, recommended the seating of the contesting delegates, four at-large and two in the Fourth and Ninth districts each from the state of Michigan. The unit rule prevails in the Michigan delegation and his action of the committee, if confirmed by the convention, will throw the solid vote of Michigan into the silver column and it gives the silver men the majority of the delegation.

FOR A NEW ORGANIZATION.

Gold Men To Consider What Action They Should Take for November.

Chicago, July 8.—After a session last night of nearly three hours the gold men who are here under the leadership of Mr. Whitney adopted the following resolution: "That a committee of one or more be appointed from each state to confer with the people and report the temper concerning an organization of the sound money old democracy, and how far such an organization should go in independent action for the election next November."

DEATH OF GEORGE LAW.

A New York City Millionaire with Numerous Eccentricities.

New York, July 8.—George Law, the millionaire president of the Eighth and Ninth avenue railroads, who died yesterday afternoon, was a man with numerous eccentricities and generous to the limit of prodigality towards all with whom he came in contact. It was he who in 1889 set the pugilistic world in a pleasurable excitement by chartering a special train and taking a crowd of prize-fighters and sports to Saratoga. Every one who went was presented with diamond rings and gold watches. At other times he showed his fondness for sport by bestowing jewelry upon leaders of the ring. Joe Coburn, the deceased prize-fighter, earned many a diamond ring by telling Law to knock him down to illustrate how certain blows should be delivered, and Col. Tom Ochiltree, the raconteur of Texas, is the owner of a $6,000 diamond ring which Law gave him. The trip to Saratoga by special train cost Law over $60,000, half of which was spent by the pugilists in trying to beat the tiger.

THE DAMAGE GROWS.

Lives Lost in the Storm Near Belvidere, N. J.

Belvidere, N. J., July 8.—As later reports come in from Monday night's storm in this vicinity the damage grows alarmingly, accompanied by loss of life. Ten or twelve public iron bridges were completely destroyed, and William Ketcham, aged 76, a farmer living near Karrsville, lost his life while attempting to cross a bridge in an effort to rescue his drowning stock. Just over the river from Belvidere George Miller, aged 19, who took shelter under a tree, was instantly killed by lightning. Elisha Woodruff, an aged blacksmith, and his wife, were rescued with difficulty from the flood which rushed into their house from the broken dam at Hazen.

HOBART NOTIFIED.

Officially Informed of His Nomination for the Vice-Presidency.

Paterson, N. J., July 8.—Garret A. Hobart was officially notified yesterday of his nomination to the vice-presidency by the republican national convention. The committee of notification called at his home, headed by Charles W. Fairbanks. Mrs. Fairbanks was the only woman with the committee. The delegates were received in the parlor by Mr. and Mrs. Hobart, and after the speech of Chairman Fairbanks, and appropriate reply by Mr. Hobart, luncheon was served, after which the members of the committee were taken in carriages to places of interest in the city.

Cholera in Egypt.

Cairo, July 8.—There were seventeen cases of cholera and five deaths from that disease among the Egyptian soldiers here yesterday, and four cases and four deaths among the British soldiers. Among the civilians there were three fresh cases and three deaths from cholera yesterday. At Alexandria there were ten cases and five deaths.

A Collision in the Clyde.

Glasgow, July 8.—The Allan line steamer State of Nebraska, from New York on June 27 for this port, refused to answer her helm while ascending the Clyde yesterday afternoon, and ran into the warship Dido at the latter's moorings. Both vessels had several plates smashed. The Dido is a second class cruiser.

At Saratoga on August 25.

New York, July 8.—The New York state republican committee has selected Saratoga as the place for the state convention and August 25 as the date.

SPORTS

WEDNESDAY, July 8. Sun rises 4:29 a. m., sets 7:34 p. m. Lanterns must be lighted between 8:34 p. m. and 3:29 a. m.

Cyclists desiring to join the League of American Wheelmen will be furnished with application blanks and necessary information by addressing the Cycling Department of the Daily Press.

CYCLING COMMENT.

The Victor Wheelmen will hold a meeting tomorrow evening.

Miss Margaret Coriell, of Fairview avenue, has purchased a fine new wheel.

Howard B. Mosher, of the Jersey team, has joined the "push" at the Crescent Oval.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company are having three large electric fans put in their salesrooms and offices.

George Coard, of East Ninth street, is one of the "up-to-date" wheelman. He warns pedestrians with an electric bell, the current for which is furnished by a dry battery fastened under the saddle.

In the races at Boonton last Saturday, Frank E. Richards, of this city, secured first prize, a $25 silver cup, in the three-minute class race. Harry Woltmann rode in the novice but was pocketed in the final heat.

Fred Fullerton, of Montclair, who formerly resided here and is well known among the young people of this city distinguished himself at the July Fourth race meet of the Sahodalica Wheelmen of Morristown last Saturday, winning three events, the one one mile novice, half-mile open, and one mile handicap. In the final of the last race he started from scratch and broke the track record, winning in 2:13. The final heat of the novice was not ridden until after the half-mile open and so Fullerton rode under protest.

Although the rush season for the bicycle dealers is past the trade still continues good with the F. L. C. Martin Cycle company. There is still a demand for the reliable Crescents and among the latest to purchase them are W. H. Hoas, of Fanwood, S. B. Field, Mrs. C. Smith, J. Sadler, W. E. Smith, John H. Staats, T. Y. Brown, A. L. Baldwin, and Thomas F. Russell. The Cleveland Swell Special is still in popular favor, and the latest to purchase that easy running wheel are E. H. Holmes, John W. Wolfe, Howard J. Runyon, James Murray, J. T Loizeaux, H. W. Tomlinson. Harry T. Baglin has purchased a Crescent combination tandem.

LAWN TENNIS.

The tennis championship of "Greater Plainfield" has gone to Henry V. Ryder, by default. In the tournament which was played on the courts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, August Wadsworth and Ryder met in the finals. Ryder won two sets and Wadsworth one, and then play had to be postponed on account of darkness. The match was to have been played Monday or yesterday, but the rain prevented, and last evening Wadsworth left town, thus forfeiting the match and tournament to Ryder.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

The Climax Gun Club will hold their monthly shoot this afternoon, weather permitting.

Diversion Awheel.

The threatening weather last night made bicycling rather hazardous, but still quite a party gathered at the home of Counselor Wm. K. McClure to attend the cycling party given by Miss Catherine McClure. The heavy clouds kept many of the guests away, but it was decided to ride to Pumptown instead of Metuchen. A delightful ride was enjoyed. Some guests remained on the piazza, illuminated for the occasion with Japanese lanterns, and joined in the informal dance that followed the ride. Refreshments were served on the return of the cycling party.

Remarkably Alike.

"What I like about your writings," said the thoughful editor to the young man in the tight-fitting coat, "is their resemblance to Emerson's."

"Is that so?" cried the delighted young man, clasping his hands together.

The editor nodded.

"May I—er—ask," timidly ventured the young man, "wherein your discernment and critical judgment discover this — er — resemblance?" And the young man blushed again.

Once more the thoughtful editor nodded.

"You employ the same punctuation marks," he said, kindly.—N. Y. Recorder.

Tested.

Smart Wife—Don't worry, George. I wrote an article for the paper to-day, showing how to get up a family dinner for one dollar, and I took it around, and the editor gave me a dollar.

Husband—That's a rare piece of good luck. What are you going to do with the dollar?

"I'm going to try that recipe myself, and see if it will work."—N. Y. Weekly

AT THE CONVENTION.

12:05—A motion was put for the convention to adjourn, but it was defeated.

12:15—Governor Altgeld commences addressing the convention. He says: "Upon yesterday the seat of war was transferred from the east to the Mississippi river. The days of the common people have dawned." He proceeds with profound attention. He deprecates the unhappy conditions and refers to the immense sums of money held by English money lenders who work a stringency in the currency. He speaks derisively of the money lenders and proposes to pay them back in silver and gold. He says: "The English money lenders went to St. Louis two weeks ago and took charge of the convention, with Mark Hanna as their agent, and Mr. Hanna nominated the candidate for President. The other members of the firm are here trying to put the same halter around your neck. Are you going to let them do it? No! No!"

At 12:44 he closed his remarks amid great applause.

After the address of Governor Altgeld, S. P. White, of California, was chosen as permanent chairman and assumed the chair.

Mr. Jones, of West Virginia, gives way to the Hon. George Williams, of Massachusetts. He is a young man and a good speaker. He claims that this is not a sectional battle, but a contest to restore the union of the States.

As Mr. Williams concluded he shook hands with Mr. Daniels and a report from the committee of credentials was called for. There was a demand for a roll call on the report of the committee, but it was withdrawn and the committee withdrew to further consider contests.

The convention took a recess to awit the report of the committee.

The Convention has adjourned till 5 o'clock.

The committee on resolutions, which was controlled by the white-metal men, adopted a platform which will be submitted to the convention today, and of which the following is a rough draft:

Declaring for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, independent of any other nation.

Denouncing the issuing by the Government of bonds in times of peace and allowing private individuals to reap benefit therefrom.

Demanding that the power of issue notes be taken away from national banks.

Declaring for a tariff for revenue only and making a declaration that a revival of the McKinley bill would be a menace to the country.

Demanding the enactment of a constitutional amendment to permit an income tax.

Expressing sympathy for the belligerents of Cuba.

Demanding that the immigration of pauper labor be restricted.

Favoring liberal pensions to the old soldiers.

Approving Senator Hill's bill prohibiting punishment in contempt cases and denouncing the House for not passing it.

Denouncing the Pacific Funding bill.

Approving a third term as President for any man.

Denouncing the extravagance of the last Republican Congress.

The Bland managers are this morning predicting the nomination of "Silver Dick" on the second ballot, although there is a good deal more uncertainty about the result of the contest for the nomination than there is about anything else connected with the Convention.

Reduced Rates to Washington.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor will hold their annual meeting in Washington, D. C., July 7 to 13.

For this occasion the B. & O. R. R. Co. will sell tickets, from all points on its lines, east of the Ohio river to Washington, at one single fare for the round trip, July 6 to 8, inclusive; valid for return passage until July 15, inclusive, with the privilege of an additional extension until July 31 by depositing tickets with joint agent at Washington.

Tickets will also be on sale at stations of all connecting lines.

Mrs. W. W. Coriell, of 223 West Front street, left this morning for Alexandria Bay, N. Y., to join her husband as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnston, at their beautiful summer home.

Attend the Sale.

Note an advertisement in this issue of the sale on Saturday, 11th inst., at Plainfield Driving Park, when Mr. Philip Jenner will sell two very choicely-bred young trotters, having the blood of Stamboul, 2:07¼; Grey Wilkes, 2:15¼; Bayonne Prince, 2:21¼; Ethan Allen, 2:25¼, and Mambrino Chief, all of which are famous in trotting-horse history. 7 3 6.

The Inhabitants of the city of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. That no person or persons shall make or cause to be made any opening into any city sewers or drains for the purpose of making connection therewith, except plumbers or drain layers duly licensed by the Board of Health of said city, and no such licensed persons shall make or cause to be made any opening as aforesaid without first obtaining the written permit of the Street Commissioner of said city of Plainfield specifying the premises for which such permit shall be granted, and said openings shall be made under the supervision and direction of the said Street Commissioner, or such other person as the Common Council may, by resolution or otherwise, from time to time, designate for that purpose. Any person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by fine not exceeding Twenty Dollars for each offense.

Sec. 2. That before the issuing of any written permission as aforesaid to any person or persons, there shall be paid to the Street Commissioner, to be by him paid to City Treasurer for the use of the city, the sum of One Dollar for each and every permit, in order to provide for the expense of regulating the granting of such permits and inspection of the work to be done thereunder.

The Spalding Bicycle

After the adoption of our 1896 model and a careful estimate of the cost of manufacture, we placed the price on the Spalding Bicycle at $100. The price is now $100 and will continue at $100 throughout the season, no matter what other manufacturers may do.

We don't believe it is fair, honest or good business policy to sell a standard article like the Spalding Bicycle at one price in May and reduce its value in June by a material reduction in price. As a matter of common fairness to ear y purchasers of Spalding Bicycles and as an evidence of good faith on our part we will, in case of reduction in price during the season, send a rebate check to every purchaser of a Spalding Bicycle of the amount of any such reduction that may be made by us during the season This is our meaning of a

DEFENDS THE COP LUNCH

COUNCILMAN BARROWS ARGUES THE FREE LUNCH RESOLUTIONS.

Asserts That the Midnight Repast is Necessary, But Doesn't Say Why the Policeman Shouldn't Buy It Himself.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I am aware that the opening of a discussion in the columns of The Press means misunderstanding, etc., but your criticism on the action of the Police Board and Common Council, relative to what you term a "free lunch burden," is so unfair that I am forced to make a reply.

First—Allow me to say that it was not Mayor Gilbert, individually, but the Police Board who felt that the money must be raised.

Second—That the "bicycles" and "night lunches" were not furnished to carry out some "fad," but that better protection could be given the citizens.

It is true that other places do not provide lunches, but it is also true that they either give poorer protection or that the force is large enough to be divided into reliefs. With our limited force we cannot do this, and men are forced to keep continually on duty or leave certain parts of the city unprotected. Even now the cry is more protection, and this in the face of the fact that for the first time the whole city is patrolled, while a call for help will bring a police on a bicycle at short notice.

We have taken this step with a view to economy; figuring that it is cheaper to furnish bicycles and lunches than take on extra men.

The force is costing this year more than last, but if we are going to protect we must be in a position to do so effectually, and we think that the record of the year thus far bears out the fact that we are doing so.

We have an orderly population, but we are on a trunk road, with four stations within our borders and while sister cities and towns are over-run with tramps and disorderly characters our streets have been absolutely free, likewise as regards assaults and robberies.

We have a fire department second to none. It is popular and rightfully so, yet it costs more than the police department and the latter is one that is felt by every man, woman and child within our limits. It is a department that calls for a high grade of men, yet they are expected to work every day in the year (except one holiday week and one night each month,) through heat and cold, rain and slush, for mechanics' wages, the latter having Sundays and holidays for rest and recreation.

It would be a sad commentary on the police board, composed as it is of the Mayor, President of the Council, and police committee, three of its members (with one exception) the senior members of the Council, if the citizens should feel that they were giving their time for any other purpose than "Pro bono publico."

And it is a sad commentary, that you, knowing as you do, the condition of affairs should publish an editorial reflecting on their aims and motives.

Respectfully,
E. T. BARROWS,
President Board of Police.

REFORM WORK IN WESTFIELD.

Sunday Observance League's Work Unsuccessful, but the Agitation Will Continue.

At a larely attended meeting of the Sunday Observance League of Westfield Tuesday evening, secretary Johnston reported that he had sent the much discussed circular letter to all reported to him as transgressors, and that it had not been successful in procuring a general Sunday closing. He was satisfied that popular sentiment was with the League, and that the movement would triumph ultimately.

The meeting decided that further evidence should be obtained, and that after one more warning there should be a test case. Judge McCormick has given the League assurance that he shall revoke the licenses of any liquor dealers who violate the Sunday law.

Another Gasolene Explosion.

While attempting to blow out a gasolene stove on Tuesday was disastrous work for Mrs. Frank Fisher, of Metuchen. She had finished her cooking, and when she blew at the light there was an explosion which scattered the burning gasolene about the room and upon her clothes. George Mead, a grocer, heard the woman's screams and ran into the house. He extinguished the flames, but not until Mrs. Fisher had been painfully burned and considerable damage done to the furniture.

—There have been several breaks in the North Plainfield fire alarm system of late, but the repairs have been quickly made and the system is in good order.

SNEAK THIEVES AROUND

AN ATTEMPT MADE TO LOOT EDSALL'S COMMERCIAL PALACE.

Lights in the Store Suddenly Extinguished, But a Search of Store Did Not Find Any Intruders Hidden Away.

The sneak thief, the dreaded enemy of the large department stores, has made his appearance in town, and night before last he evidently made his debut at Edsall's Commercial Palace. It is impossible to say, however, whether the attempt, if it was such, was successful or not.

A large crowd was drawn to the vicinity of the Babcock building Tuesday evening by the trial of the Knickerbocker fire extinguisher. Special Officer Rockafellow was on duty near the building and at about 9 o'clock he noticed that the two lights in the Commercial Palace, one in the office and the other in the rear of Doane & Edsall's shoe department, were suddenly extinguished. There were several people in the vicinity who saw the lights go out and Lester Tingley, who is employed by Mr. Edsall, started to notify J. Linn Edsall. Officer Rockafellow started on the same errand and Mr. Edsall hurried to the store as soon as he heard the news.

A search was started, but the store contains plenty of hiding places so that it would have been comparatively easy to avoid the searchers. The lights are controlled by separate switches, and it was found that they had been turned off. The safe was untouched, however, and it was impossible to tell whether any body had helped himself to the articles around the store.

It is thought by some that a man had probaably hid in the store as it was being closed at 7 o'clock, and then threw his booty out of the rear window to an accomplice outside.

A strict watch is now being kept, and it is likely to go hard with anyone who attempts to repeat the trick.

FATHER SELLS TO SON.

COMMERCIAL PALACE NOW OWNED BY J. LINN EDSALL.

Result of an Agreement Made Between the Two That When the Son Was 25 Years Old He Should Become Proprietor.

Seely Edsall, of the Commercial Palace, sold today his entire business to his son, J. Linn Edsall, who will carry on the business at the same place as heretofore.

This action is carrying out a previous agreement Mr. Edsall made with his son that as soon as he arrived at the age of twenty-five, which time occurred yesterday, July 8th, and proved capable of the management of the business, he should have the privilege to buy in preference to anyone else.

After serving a period of about forty years in the mercantile line, Mr. Edsall feels that he has served his full time in a business capacity, and for the balance of his life he is entitled to freedom and rest from the cares and anxieties of business life.

I AM A DEMOCRAT, NOT A REVOLUTIONIST.

Senator Hill's Crowning Sentiment in His Fight Against the Delegates.

It is a Losing Contest, but Nevertheless the Eastern People are Fighting as Though They were To Win—Bitter Speech of Senator Tillman Repudiated by Senator Jones, Chairman of the Committee on Platform.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Chicago, July 9—Dame Nature was in sympathy with the surging and cross-grained mass of humanity in the Democratic National Convention, when a brisk breeze blew up from the lake this morning and fanned the brows of men who are tired and weary, but whose fatigue is temporarily dispelled by the antidote of convention excitement.

Half an hour before the time of calling the convention to order this morning—10 o'clock, western time—the spectators' seats in the Coliseum commenced to fill rapidly with people anxious to see the finish fight between the hard and soft money men. The delegates came in slowly, among the earliest being Senator Tillman.

At 9:42 the Bland marching club arrived with their banner and fife and drum corps, but there was slight applause for the representatives of what is considered the leading candidate. Fifteen minutes after that Governor Altgeld arrived and took his seat with a smiling countenance.

At 10:50 Senator White, of California, permanent chairman, ascended the rostrum and a moment later called the convention to order. After prayer by Dr. Green, of Iowa, Senator Jones, of Arkansas, chairman of the committee on platform, was recognized. He announced that the platform had been prepared and commenced reading it. It is the same as published in The Press yesterday. When the Senator reached the section which proclaims "We demand the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at present legal ratio of 16 to 1." there was long and continued applause.

After Mr. Jones had finished, he stated that there would be two minority reports and that forty minutes would be allowed each side to argue for their adoption.

The minority report as presented declares against free silver without action of other nations. To do so would retard the cause of bimetalism. It recommends the national and treasury notes and approves the present administration. Hundreds of delegates jumped into their chairs and waved their handkerchiefs and applauded. Senator Hill joined in the expression.

11:26—Senator Tillman is to talk on amendment and will have fifteen minutes to speak in. There is great applause and difficulty in restoring order. Tillman faces the audience, pale but determined. He is introduced and commences his address. He speaks vituperatively for several minutes and his voice gets shrill and piercing. He says: "If those here wish to imitate the old slave holders and leave the convention, I say let them go. This is a sectional issue and cannot be sneered out of existence. In 1892 we in the convention were side by side with New York. Now the conditions are reversed. Where is New York now?" "In the soup," came cries from the hall.

11:55—There is great disorder and Tillman shouts, "This convention must understand I am going to have my say if I stay here all night." Order is finally restored and Tillman commenced scoring Cleveland, claiming that he is a monometalist and ignores the union for New York city.

All the way through his speech, Senator Tillman was full of bitter sarcasm and bitter invective. His address was plainly unpopular with a vast majority of the delegates, and he was constantly interrupted by howls of disapproval. As soon as he finished, Senator Jones arose and said; "I take issue with Senator Tillman that this question is not a sectional issue. I am a Southerner, and as such I say that I love the whole nation." There was great applause at this sentiment, and the speaker proceeded in the same strain, and received particular applause from the eastern delegates.

12:30—Senator Hill ascends the rostrum to present the side of the easrern delegates. His appearance is the signal for an immense ovation. Eastern delegates jump on chairs, wave hats and handkerchiefs, and shout. The Senator stands unmoved and awaits the subsiding of the demonstration, but the noise had no sooner lessened when the galleries broke out again and pandemaniun reigned. Mr. Hill commences his address by "I am a Democrat but not a revolutionist."

The convention seems to have gone crazy with enthusiasm and it is several minutes before Hill is able to proceed. He says: "New York has no apologies to make to the South. She has never given a Republican majority when other cities have. She has always been the Gibraltar of Democracy." He proceeds with brilliant sentences and is listened to with rapt attention. He argues that the Democratic party has always held that gold and silver should be the money of the country, though there is difference of opinion as to the methods of bringing it about. He says: "I think the safest and best course for this convention to pursue would be to adopt international bimetalist platform." Great cheers greeted this expression.

Mr. Hill defended the administration in the issue of the bonds and claimed that it was the only thing that saved the credit of the country. He proceeds to pay his respects to

WAS A BAD COMBINATION

A CIGARMAKER INDULGES FREELY IN ELIZABETH AND PLAINFIELD.

He Ends the Day by Going to Sleep in the Front Yard of a Plainfield Councilman and Spending the Night Locked Up.

A man came to this city from Elizabeth yesterday afternoon. He had evidently been partaking of something else besides nature's purest beverage for he felt in a jolly mood. But when he reached this city he did a very foolish thing. He tried to mix Plainfield strong drink with Elizabeth fire water. Of course, his system revolted at the mere thought and he felt an uncontrolable desire to lie down. He had wandered in his befuddled condition to Plainfield avenue, when his reeling brain grasped the fact that a woman was entering a yard near by. It was Mrs. Harold Serrell, wife of Councilman Serrell, and as she passed into her yard she saw a man following her. She stepped up on the front piazza, but the man walked along the fence and laid down. Patrolman Post was called and found the poor victim of the Plainfield-Elizabeth combination fast asleep on Councilman Serrell's front lawn.

The sleepy imbiber was not particularly light and it took the united efforts of Patrolman Post and Private Watchman Geo. Rockfellow, Jr., to drag him. They carried him to Central avenue where a convenient wagon was brought into service and he was conveyed the rest of the way in it.

This morning he had recovered from the effects of that awful mixture sufficiently to tell who and what he was when arranged before City Judge DeMeza. His name, he said, was Francis Rennert and he had, at one time been employed as a cigar maker by John Haberle of Somerset street.

Lately the Elizabethites have been smoking the cigars of his manufacture. The Judge was of the opinion that Rennert deserved thirty days in jail or a fine of $10 and gave him his choice.

WOULDN'T STAY AT HOME

RECALCITRANT YOUNG GIRL CALLED TO ORDER BY JUDGE DEMEZA.

When Arraigned in City Court the Girl Repented and Promised to Do as Her Parents Asked Her in the Future.

There has been trouble in a home on East Third street, for the fourteen-year-old daughter refused to stay at home and, at last, the anxious father was forced to appeal to the police to help him out of his trouble. Yesterday afternoon the police were notified of the fact. The girl had been absent from her home for several nights and had, it is supposed, been spending the night at the home of a friend who lives in the alley opening out of Madison avenue, beside the Alert Hose Company's old house.

The girl was arrested last evening and locked up for the night. This morning she was brought before City Judge DeMeza. She apparently repented for her misdeeds of the past and promised to return to her home and behave herself. Under those conditions the Judge suspended sentence. She gave her name as Fannie Bush.

No Concert Till Settled Weather.

There will be no open-air concert this week and no arrangements will be made for another until the weather becomes settled. Everybody enjoys the concerts, but they don't seem to realize that they involve any expense or trouble, beside the mere furnishing of the band. There are plenty of chances, for those that care to, to furnish some of the incidentals necessary to the concert or else look after certain equally necessary arrangements.

Will Demand Jury Trials.

The Liquor Dealers' Protective Union of Elizabeth held a secret meeting Tuesday night, at which it was learned that they decided to retain counsel and fight the cases of the thirty four dealers who were arrested by the police for selling liquor on Sunday, June 28th. The cases will be called for trial today, when a jury trial will be demanded for the accused dealers.

Sustained a Fracture of the Skull.

A young son of John Hensey, of North avenue, near the Netherwood station, fell out of a tree yesterday afternoon and sustained a fracture of the skull. He was picked up and taken home. Two doctors gave proper treatment. It is not believed the injuries will prove fatal, though the boy's condition is serious.

Rev. Samuel C. Palmer, D. D., of St. Louis, pastor of the cyclone wrecked Presbyterian church, is the guest of A. S. Patterson, of Central avenue.

TO PUSH THE OPENING.

BOROUGH COUNCIL WILL BORROW MONEY TO START THE WORK.

It Is Calculated That Inside of Two Months Work Will Be Commenced—Street Committee Acted Last Night

The street committee together with Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., and Counsel Charles A. Reed, of the borough, met last evening in the council room for the purpose of discussing methods by which money could be borrowed to open Watchung avenue. It is the intention of the Council to strictly adhere to the law in their proceedings and thus be well protected. It was a question to be decided just how the money should be secured, and how the certificates of indebtedness should be issued. Mr. Reed gave the necessary information, and it is safe to say that at the adjourned meeting tomorrow evening the required amount of money will be secured. There is a possibility that the City National Bank will loan the money.

There is now every indication that the work of opening the street will be started inside of two months. This will allow time to issue certificates, give property owners due notice to vacate the necessary property, advertise the property for sale and pay the owners the required amount for the possession of property. After the work is started it will not take a very long time to open the street. The new street will be 40 feet wide with a 20 feet sidewalk.

It is not likely that the bid for the work will be given out tomorrow evening. That will come up a little later, though it is thought that David Bowden will get the work.

PERIODICAL SETS NEEDED.

Contributions of Magazines to the Public Library Wanted.

Much of the work of the Public Library in assisting readers and students is done by means of its periodical literature. It is, therefore, desirable whenever possible to complete its periodical sets.

A list of the incomplete set of magazines now in the library has been posted up in the reading room. Any persons who have volumes of magazines, either bound or unbound, which would help to complete three sets, and who are willing to contribute the same to the library are requested to leave word at the librarian's desk. All gifts will be sent for, promptly acknowledged, and note made of the donor's name.

While an odd volume of a magazine, especially if unbound, is of comparatively little use in one's home, if given to the library it will be bound, have its own place on the shelves and help in the valuable reference work of the library.

Sunshine Will Come.

Before the days of the United States signal service, the people depended much on the phases of the moon for knowledge of coming changes of weather. Those hoping to go with Grace M. E. excursion tomorrow to Oscawana Island will be glad to know that at noon tomorrow comes a change in the moon that may lead us confidently to expect clearing skies. Let a cloudy morning deter no one from going, for there is good reason to believe that before the landing is made, the day will be all that could be desired.

A Miraculous Escape.

Harry Milligan and Fred Sheppard, employes of Neumann Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers, while out last evening driving met with an accident at Dunellen. They attempted to cross the tracks at the latter place when a passing coal train collided with their rig. The horse got away and has not yet been found. The wagon was a complete wreck, but neither of the occupants were injured. At the time they were driving fast and did not see the crossing gates come down. The horse belonged to Fred Sheppard.

Entertained on the Mountains.

At the Mountain Park Inn last evening a few guests from this city and the borough were given a sumptuous dinner. The idea of the gathering was to have present those who were connected with the construction of the inn and the recent improvements, but several were unable to be present. The dinner was complete in every respect

Sprained His Wrist.

Firman A. Long, who is in the employ of A. M. Griffin, met with a painful accident Tuesday. He was walking past Shaw's pharmacy, reading a paper, and stumbling over the stepping stone there, fell and sprained his wrist.

Dangerous Practice For Children.

A number of children of the West End, especially those who live on West Fourth street, have a habit of catching on the street cars. A little girl named Canary was quite severely injured in this way a few days ago.

MANY WILD SCENES

Silver Men Complete Masters of the Situation at Chicago.

THE WORK GREATLY DELAYED

Little Accomplished at the Second Day's Session—Michigan Gold Delegates Unseated After Hours of Exciting Incidents.

Chicago, July 9.—The second day of the national democratic convention opened with one feature of the situation clearly defined. The silver men had made good their assertion that they would carry everything in sight and run the convention from beginning to end. They had demonstrated their ability to do so, and by their actions had made any sort of compromize on any issue out of the question. The crowd in the convention hall at 10:30 o'clock was as large, if not larger, than at any time on the opening day, but not more than half the delegates were in their seats. Meetings of various state delegations were held in the morning, which delayed arrival of delegates, and it was 10:50 o'clock when Chairman Daniel called the convention to order. It took fully ten minutes before order was maintained, and then prayer was offered by Rev. T. E. Green, an Episcopal clergyman of Cedar Rapids, Ia. Call for committees was then made, and it was announced that the credentials committee was not ready to report, having decided to reconsider the Michigan contest case. Then there was a long wait. An informal recess was taken and ex-Gov. Hogg addressed the convention. He declared that free silver was the only salvation of the country. Senator White then took the platform and the waiting delegates were addressed in turn by senator Joe Blackburn, David Overmeyer of Kansas and Gov. Altgeld. The latter received a great ovation. His remarks were confined principally to free silver.

Partial Report Adopted.

At 1 o'clock the credentials committee came in with a partial report. It recommended that each of the territories have six votes and the District of Columbia six votes. The report sustained the temporary roll except in the states of Nebraska and Michigan. In the Nebraska contest the majority report was to seat the silver delegation headed by Bryan. Atwood moved the adoption of the report as far as read. Mr. Mahony for the sitting delegates from Nebraska said they would demand no roll call on the question and were ready to give up their seats and badges. The partial report was put to a viva voce vote by the chairman and declared carried. Ex-Gov. Russell of Massachusetts demanded a roll call, but when Chairman Atwood of the committee on credentials announced that the decision of the committee in the Nebraska contest was unanimous Russell withdrew his motion. Congressman White then announced that the Bryan delegation had been seated, and the gold men from that state marched out and made way for the silver men. This added sixteen votes to the silver forces. The convention then took a recess until 5 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

Michigan Silver Delegates Admitted and Adjournment Taken

The convention re-assembled at 5:15 p. m., with a full attendance of delegates and with crowded galleries. Senator Daniel was in the chair as temporary chairman. The section assigned to the New York delegation was, however, an exception to the general rule, very few of the members of the delegation being present. Senator Hill, ex-Gov. Flower and Mr. Whitney were conspicuously absent. Later they arrived and recived an ovation. There were repeated cries for Hill. At 5:51, after the crowd had been amusing itself with cries that various persons were all right, Atwood of Kansas began reading the credentials committee's report. Applause as he says the committee recommends that contesting silver delegates from fourth and ninth districts of Michigan be seated. There was feeble applause when Chairman Atwood reported that the remaining delegates on the temporary roll retained their seats as delegates. The minority report in favor of keeping in the Ninth Michigan district delegates was then presented. Speeches were then made for and against the reports, and at times the greatest confusion and excitement prevailed. During the address of Gov. McLaurin of Mississippi interruption was so frequent that notice was given that if these interruptions were persisted in the galleries would be cleared. The notice was of little avail, for hardly had Gov. McLaurin taken up the thread of his story again when the shouts for Hill broke out afresh. Then the sergeant-at-arms made this solemn proclamation: "Ladies and gentlemen—The chair has requested the sergeant-at-arms to instruct the assistant sergeants-at-arms and the police department to remove from the galleries anyone who disturbs the meeting, and he will carry out the order." (Ironical applause and laughter.) Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan of New York, a member of the national committee, made a statement to prove the impartiality of that committee in its action on the various contested election cases and argued in opposition to the majority report of the committee on credentials. Mr. Taylor of Arkansas, a member of the committee on credentials, argued in favor of the majority report, and in concluding his remarks unintentionally made himself declare for the minority report and sat down amid laughter and cheers.

During the remarks of Mr. Blake of Texas in favor of the majority report he asserted that the state of Michigan elected a majority of 200 to their convention in favor of silver, and when the administration in Washington found this out Mr. Stevenson was sent to Washington to upset the will of the people. "There is not a word of truth in all that," said Mr. Richardson from his seat. As Mr. Blake proceeded further with his statement of alleged facts, Mr. Weadock, one of the delegates-at-large, seated in the front row immediately facing the speaker, said in a loud voice: "That's a lie."

Great Disorder.

The discussion was closed by Mr O'Donnell of Colorado. Little or no attention, however, was paid to his speech, as the crowd in the galleries was quite turbulent and could not be kept in order. The convention itself as well as the spectators in the galleries were in a hurry to come to a vote, and Mr. O'Donnell assisted that view by moving the previous question on the report.

New York's Vote Wildly Cheered.

When New York's 72 votes were announced as in favor of the minority report a tumultuous wave of cheering broke over the assembly. The first efforts of the chairman to repress the manifestation by the use of his gavel were met by a counter demonstration on the part of the gold delegates, who, rising and turning their backs to the chairman and their faces to the immense crowd in the galleries, waved hats and handkerchiefs and stood on chairs and gesticulated. The galleries, evidently strongly anti-silver in sentiment, were not slow to respond, and unearthly sounds from 50,000 throats filled even that vast space of the great hall. Senator Daniel's powerful voice, much worn with its service yesterday, called the next state, "North Carolina." "North Carolina declines to vote till she can be heard," replied the chairman of the delegation.

Silver Men Went Wild.

State Chairman Hinckley, ex-Mayor Grant and other prominent New Yorkers vainly tried to stop the demonstration. It went on uninterrupted for fifteen minutes, and was barely silenced when the roll call was resumed. When Pennsylvania was reached and Chairman Harrity, mounting on a chair, said, "Pennsylvania casts her 64 votes aye," an attempt was made to renew the demonstration, but it died away in a few seconds, spectators and delegates being almost tired out. The vote was taken on the minority amendment, which retains the sitting members from the fourth and ninth districts of Michigan in their seats. The vote resulted in the rejection of the minority report. Yeas, 368; nays, 558; absent, 4. "The nays have it," said the chairman, "and the amendment is lost." It was now the silver men's turn, and they yelled and waved hats and handkerchiefs and displayed Bland pictures and made the night hideous for nearly as long as the gold men, the galleries impartially assisting. During the jubilation by the silver men two stout Kentucky delegates danced a breakdown in the aisle at the rear of the delegates' section, several others "patting time."

Wild Scenes of Disorder.

During the call of the states the greatest uproar prevailed and at times the gathering almost degenerated into a mob. Proceedings were repeatedly interrupted, and it took the united efforts of the sergeant-at-arms, police and the band to restore anything like order. When New York's vote was announced the cheering continued for over ten minutes, and this was the case after the announcment of the vote of any prominent state. Several of the votes were challenged and a roll call ordered.

Permanent Organization.

The report of the committee on permanent organization was then presented by Mr. Ginley of Ohio, naming Senator White of California as permanent president of the convention, and Thomas J. Cogan of Ohio as permanent secretary. A committee of three was then appointed to escort Senator White, the permanent chairman to the chair, the committee consisting of Mr. Finley of Ohio, Mr. McConnell of Illinois and Senator Vest of Missouri. Senator Daniel, in retiring from the temporary chairmanship expressed his deep sense of the honor which he had enjoyed, and introduced Mr. White as the "distinguished senator from California." (Cheers.)

Presented with a Silver Gavel.

Mr. Clark of Montana, rising in the body of the hall, produced a silver gavel from the mines of Montana which he presented to the chairman in the name of the delegation from that state. Chairman Jones of the committee on resolutions announced that his committee would meet at 9:30 this morning.

Democracy Will Not Die.

Senator White of California, on taking the chair spoke of the convention as an assemblage of men from every state and territory in the union, and said that he was prepared to extend full, equal, absolute and impartial treatment to all. Every question before the convention should be, he said, considered carefully and deliberately, and when the voice of the convention was crystallized into a judgment, that judgment should be binding on all true democrats. (Cheers). "The democratic party will not die, even when we all have ceased to live," he said. (Cheers). When some degree of order had been restored a motion to adjourn till 10 o'clock to-day was put at 9:48 p. m., was declared carried, and the second day's convention ended.

Bulletins at Gray Gables.

Buzzard's Bay, Mass., July 9.—With the exception of a few hours yesterday afternoon the president remained at Gray Gables all day. Bulletins from the convention hall were handed him by the operator, which he read carefully, and he followed the deliberations with much interest.

Depression of Spirits

so common in summer-time, accompanied by loss of energy, lack of thought-power, means a deficient supply of nourishment. The vital force is lost. It isn't a question of muscle and sinew, but of resistance and endurance. At any age but especially in youth, it involves the risk of lung disease. Loss of flesh and a cough are threatening signs.

SCOTT'S Emulsion

FASHION ECHOES.

The English walking-hat and the round turban in rough straw are fashionably worn with traveling and walking suits.

Great use is made this season on traveling and shopping costumes of English serge, mohair and cheviots in fine heather mixtures of tiny gilt, pearl, steel and jet buttons set on in clusters.

There has been a phenomenal sale of mohairs, brilliantines, Sicilians and summer tweeds and cheviots. For cycling costumes the popular fabrics are coverts, storm serges, beiges and shepherd's-check wools.

Extremely full capes, pelerines and collarettes are more than ever the vogue. The majority of these light wraps are very short, some of the most stylish models only covering the shoulder-tips and tops of the sleeves of the gown.

Ladylike and elegant costumes for church and visiting wear are made of very light gray peau de soie, French cashmere, mohair, or silk-warp Henrietta cloth, the vest and revers of cream-white satin trimmed with rows of narrow silver braid. At the throat is a large bow of cream chiffon or silk tulle with ends of very rich cream lace.

Among the useful and pretty materials to be used for entire waists, insertions, sleeve-puffs, plastrons, blouse-fronts, etc., are the new Huguenot puffings by the yard, that are variously made of mousseline de soie, organdy, grass-linen, Brussels net, Swiss muslin, linen lawn, chiffon in plain effects, and in combination with lace and embroidery.

The startling mixture of colors and fabrics used in millinery is almost as gorgeous on new gowns and waists for the summer. We see, for instance, a bodice of cream, green and gold Persian silk shot with faintest lilac, with garnitures of pink chiffon, and belt, stock collar and bow of orange, white and black satin, and gros-grain ribbon

GOOD THINGS TO EAT.

Green Currant Pies.—Pick the currants from the stem and stew them for five minutes in barely enough water to cover them; then sweeten them to taste and pour while hot into the crust, place on the top crust and bake until brown.

Ripe Currant Pies.—If very ripe, a little cornstarch must be added to the sugar with which the currants are sweetened, to absorb the juice. The best pies are made with partly ripe currants. Bake with an upper and under crust like the green currants.

Cream Gruel.—Mix three tablespoonfuls of Indian meal with sufficient cold water to make a smooth paste. Add by degrees one pint of boiling water. Let boil ten minutes and salt to taste At the last moment add a generous tablespoonful of cream, which must be hot, but not boiling.

Currant Pickles.—Boil two pounds of sugar in a pint of vinegar, add nutmeg and cinnamon to taste, and half a cup of good raisins. When thoroughly boiled skim out the spices and raisins, put in the currants, and let them boil two minutes, then skim them out carefully and put them into the jar where they are to remain. Boil the sirup ten minutes longer, and pour it over the fruit. Cover closely and set away in a cold, dry place —Boston Herald.

SILVER AT 16 TO 1

A Straight-out Platform by the Democratic Convention.

AGAINST BANK NOTES AND BONDS

Tariff for Revenue Only—Taxation of Incomes a Necessity—Denunciation of Federal Interference in State Affairs.

Chicago, July 9.—The platform of the democratic national convention, as prepared by a majority of the committee on resolutions, declares for the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, condemns bond and bank note issues, declares for tariff for revenue only, and an income tax, and denounces the interference of federal authorities in state affairs and injunctions by federal judges. The money plank follows:

The Money Plank.

"Recognizing that the money question is paramount to all others at this time, we invite attention to the fact that the federal constitution names silver and gold together as the money metals of the United States, and that the first coinage law passed by congress under the constitution made the silver dollar the unit of value and admitted gold to free coinage at a ratio measured by the silver dollar unit. We declare that the act of 1873, demonetizing silver without the knowledge or approval of the American people, has resulted in the appreciation of gold and a corresponding fall in the prices of commodities produced by the people, a heavy increase in the burden of taxation and of all debts public and private, the enrichment of the money-lending class at home and abroad, prostration of industry and impoverishment of the people. We are unalterably opposed to the single gold standand, which has locked fast the prosperity of an industrial people in the paralysis of hard times. Gold monometallism is a British policy, and its adoption has brought other nations into financial servitude to London. It is not only un-American, but anti-American, and it can be fastened on the United States only by the stifling of that indomitable spirit and love of liberty which proclaimed our political independence in 1776 and won it in the war of the revolution. We demand the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1 without the aid or consent of any other nation. We demand that the standard silver dollar shall be a full legal tender, equally with gold, for all debts, public and private, and we demand such legislation as will prevent the demonetization of any legal tender money by private contract.

Against Bonds.

"We are opposed to the policy and practice of surrendering to the holders of the obligations of the United States the option reserved by law to the government of redeeming such obligations in either silver or gold coin. We are opposed to the issuing of interest-bearing bonds of the United States in time of peace, and condemn the trafficking with banking syndicates, which, in exchange for bonds and at an enormous profit to themselves, supply the federal treasury with gold to maintain the policy of gold monometallism. Congress alone has the power to coin and issue money, and President Jackson declared that this power could not be delegated to corporations or individuals. We therefore demand that the power to issue notes to circulate as money be taken from the national banks and that all paper money shall be issued directly by the treasury department.

Tariff for Revenue Only.

"We hold that tariff duties should be levied for the purpose of revenue, and that taxation should be limited by the needs of the government honestly and economically administered. We denounce as disturbing to business the republican threat to restore the McKinley law which has been twice condemned by the people in national elections and which, enacted under the false plea of protection to home industry, proved a prolific breeder of trusts and monopolies, enriched the few at the expense of the many, restricted trade and deprived the producers of the great American staples of access to their natural markets.

The Income Tax.

"Until the money question is settled we are opposed to any agitation for further changes in our tariff laws except such as are necessary to meet the deficit in revenue caused by the adverse decision of the supreme court on the income tax. There would be no deficit in the revenue but for the annulment by the supreme court of a law passed by a democratic congress in strict pursuance of the uniform decisions of that court for nearly 100 years, that court having sustained constitutional objections to its enactment, which have been overruled by the ablest judges who had ever sat on that bench. We declare that it is the duty of congress to use all the constitutional power which remains after that decision, or which may come from its reversal by the court as it may hereafter be constituted, so that the burdens of taxation may be equally and impartially laid, to the end that we may all bear our proportion of the expenses of the government.

Against Foreign Pauper Labor.

"We hold that the most efficient way of protecting American labor is to prevent the importation of foreign pauper labor to compete with it in the home market, and that the value of the home market to our American farmers and artisans is greatly reduced by a vicious monetary system which depresses the prites of their products below the cost of production and thus deprives them of the means of satisfying their needs. We denounce the profligate waste of money wrung from the people by oppressive taxation and the lavish appropriations of recent republican congresses, which have kept taxes high while the labor that pays them is unemployed and the products of the people's toil are depressed in price till they no longer repay the cost of production. We demand a return to that simplicity and economy which best befits a democratic government, and a reduction in the number of useless officers, the salaries of which drain the substance of the people.

Against Federal Interference.

"We denounce the arbitrary interference by federal authorities in local affairs as a violation of the constitution of the United States and a crime against free institutions, and we especially object to government by injunction as a new and highly dangerous form of oppression by which federal judges in contempt of the laws of the states and rights of citizens, become at once legislators, judges and executioners; and we approve the bill passed at the last session of the United States senate and now pending in the house relative to contempts in federal courts, and providing for trials by jury in certain cases of contempt.

No Third Term.

"Recognizing the just claims of deserving union soldiers, we heartily indorse the rule of Commissioner Murphy that no names shall be arbitrarily dropped from the pension list and the fact of enlistment and service should be deemed conclusive evidence against disease and disability before enlistment. We extend our sympathy to the people of Cuba in their heroic struggle for liberty and independence. We are opposed to life tenure in the public service. We favor appointments based upon merits, fixed terms of office and such an administration of the civil service laws as will afford equal opportunities to all citizens of ascertained fitness. We desire it to be the unwritten law of this republic, established by custom and usage of 100 years and sanctioned by the greatest and wisest of those who founded and have maintained the government, that no man should be eligible for a third term of the presidential office. Confiding in the justice of our cause and the necessity of its success at the polls, we submit the foregoing declaration of principles and purposes to the considerate judgment of the American people. We invite the support of all citizens who approve them and who desire to have them made effective through legislation for the relief of the people and the restoration of the country's prosperity."

Minority Report on Platform.

The minority report on the platform relates exclusively to the financial plank and its text is quite short. It declares for the existing standard and endorses the calling together of an international monetary conference.

TO MEET AT HANNA'S OFFICE.

Republican National Committee Will Then Arrange Campaign Plans.

Cleveland, O., July 9.—The national republican executive committee will meet at Mark Hanna's office in this city on July 14. The committee will then decide to establish the national headquarters in New York city, as is customary. It will fill vacancies in the national committee from Colorado, Alaska and the District of Columbia and will decide upon a plan of campaign. No forecast of the latter matter can be made at present.

The Republican State Convention for the nomination of Presidential electors will be held in Taylor's Opera House, Trenton, on August 27th. The Executive Committee of the State Committee will meet in Newark on July 27th

As was to be expected, Councilman Barrows takes exceptions to the editorial published in The Daily Press last Tuesday condemning the action of the Common Council in passing a resolution authorizing the payment of $75 a month for a midnight lunch for the police. Mr. Barrow's views are published in a communication in another column of today's paper. At the start he declares the editorial unfair, but is "aware that the opening of a discussion in the columns of The Press means misunderstandings,etc.," a fact that is doubly significant when it is observed that the Councilman falls into the fatal error himself by mixing up the news report of the Council proceedings and the editorial thereon in his endeavor to prove the latter to be unfair. But that is of no account in determing whether or not the midnight lunch is an essential to the proper fulfillment of duty on the part of the police force. So far as the bicycle has been put into practical service in the department, The Press has aught but words of commendation for the innovation, and when it was ordered that the city pay for the wheels there was no word of criticism, though among the taxpayers such a sentiment prevailed to a considerable extent. But the midnight lunch idea we class as a fad. In a way it is a good thing, but under the present condition of municipal expense in this city it is an item that is burdensome and needless. The personal appearance of the members of the force and their general knowledge of how to act systematically and intelligently on matters that come within the scope of their duty, has been greatly improved under the present regime, and for all this the people are appreciative. The criminal conditions that exist, however, are the same today as those of a year or two ago, and it is a fact that the lawless were just as effectually suppressed then as now. Few cities the size of Plainfield have as large a police force as is maintained here, and at its present taxable valuation it cannot well afford to have any more expense in this direction. The need of a midnight lunch has never been found in this or any other city before, and at the present time it is an expensive service that is not warranted by a common sense and economical administration of city affairs. A proper thing for the policemen to do is to have their lunch prepared at home and be left at some convenient point on their beats where they can get it when hunger gnaws the inner man. It is asking too much of taxpayers to insist on them settling the bill for their midnight repast. There is a growing fear that some of the city officials are too ideal for the size of the city's revenues.

HER BODY ON THE RAILS

YOUNG GIRL'S DEATH A MYSTERY AT ELIZABETH.

Miss Schrieber Horribly Mutilated by a Train—Was Perhaps Murdered—She Was Pretty and Well Educated.

The body of Jessie Schrieber, a handsome young woman of seventeen years, was found last night upon the nothbound track of the Long Branch division of the Jersey Central, between First and Second streets in Elizabeth. How she came to her death is a mystery, and there are circumstances which point to murder. Those who think the girl was murdered believe she was killed to conceal a worse crime, and that the body was afterwards placed on the rails. The body was horribly mutilated, and most of the clothing stripped off by the wheels.

How the girl came to be where her body was found is a mystery. She had no business in the vicinity, which is lonely and deserted and not a safe place for a young girl to be in the evening. The girl left home early in the evening to go on a number of errands for her mother in stores on First street. She told her mother she would take a walk after completing her errands.

She was seen on First street between 7 and 7:30, but her doings for the next half hour or so are not known. It is said that while on First street she remarked that she would go to the Elizabethport station and see George Dodwell, a young man with whom she was acquainted, but she did not go to the station. There is also a theory that she might have been attacked in the bushes at the top of the embankment, and to escape ran down the embankment and out in front of the train.

The girl was graduated from Public School No. 1 on June 26th, and was to have entered Battin School in the fall. Her father is a liquor dealer in good circumstances.

MOTHERS, BE CAREFUL.

Babies Reported Dying of Bowel Trouble.

Summer Diarrhea Never Occurs When Lactated Food is Used.

The Purest and Most Nourishing of All Infant Diets.

These are the days when mothers must be even more watchful of baby's food than ever—if such a thing be possible

More than a third of the deaths in Boston so far in June have been infant deaths, from absolutely preventable causes—cholera infantum, indigestion or some form of bowel trouble.

Improper feeding is at the bottom of this startling infant mortality.

At the approach of warm weathr it is imperative that the diet of babies and young children should be made conformable to the new weather condition. Lactated food never harms the digestive organs when they are weakened by high temperature It is prepared with a regard to absolute purity and freedom from any possibility of contagion. The two prime causes of all bowel disturbance among babies—contaminated food and food that is indigestible and innutritious—these have no terrors for mothers who restrict baby's diet to lactated food

High temperature, with unsuitable feeding, brings cholera infantum, diarrhea and convulsions.

But with the use of proper food—and there is nothing so thoroughly good as lactated food—these dangers are wholly avoided. It has been shown in every investigation that babies fed upon this splendid food live longer and thrive better than those brought up on any other diet. The child's steady and rapid growth and a weekly gain in weight become an assured fact, as the many mothers who have successfully brought up children on lactated food will tell you. Above is a picture of the baby of Mrs. Evelyn Piagit of Passaic Bridge, N. J., who says

"My baby, Irma Hope, was weaned when she was but six months old, and for three days following lived on condensed milk. But by fortune I met a lady on the ferry boat between Jersey City and New York who had a sweet little child, and I spoke to the mother, and asked what food she lived on. She remarked, lactated food. I said that I had intended to try another, but would try lactated food. I did so, and from that time to this the litttle one has thrived wonderfully I firmly believe that I would not have had her with me now had I not used lactated food. I shall continue using it until she is two years old."

Lactated food saves babies' lives.

Hoods pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Harmless, relfable, sure.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Middlesex's valuation has increased $600,000 this year.

—See "A Modern Robinson Crusoe" in Truth Saturday. All trains and news-stands.

—St. Mary's church and Sunday-school hold their annual excursion at Glen Island.

—James Day is having his house at the corner of Fourth and Liberty streets painted.

—W. J. Roome's handsome property on Myrtle avenue is being graded by John Wierenga.

—There will be initiation at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, J. O. U. A. M., this evening.

—Zephyr Hook and Ladder Company will hold their regular business meeting next Monday evening.

—William Symons is putting in three electric fans in the salesrooms of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

—Charles Kiederling, of East Front street, spends his spare time making swings for children. He has already made several.

—The '96 Christian Endeavor convention committee will not hold another meeting till after the Washington convention.

—Tuesday, August 4th, is to be Arcanum Day at Asbury Park, and excursion trains will be run over all railroads in the State to that place.

—Last Monday a pail was taken from the grounds of the Park Club. It would be well for those who took it to return it at once, as they are known.

—The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church held a regular meeting yesterday afternoon, which was well attended.

—The residence of Chas. Dencklau on East Second street, which has been undergoing extensive repairs, is about completed, and now makes a handsome dwelling.

—The Daily Press is assured by the street committee of the City Council that at a very early date Front street, East and West, will be put in first-class condition.

—The International Order of Machinists will run an excursion to Rockaway Beach, July 18th, and if you want a good time don't fail to accompany them.

—Mrs. Petrie, Mrs. Hand and Mrs. Sebring met at the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon and prepared two barrels of clothing, etc., to be sent to Nebraska.

—Everything now points to favorable weather for Friday, when the Grace M. E. church take their annual outing. The moon changes on that date and clear weather is promised. A sail to Oscawanna Island, forty-seven miles up the Hudson, is the objective point.

—The Sunday outing and drive which Charles Keller, Frank Keller, John Newman, John Smith and Louis Bimble, had planned to be held at Florida Grove, was unavoidably postponed on account of the serious illness of John Day. A future date will be set for the outing.

—Below will be found the names of those insured against the fire which occurred Sunday afternoon in the barn owned by Pliny Fisk, also the amounts: W. T. Kirk, $550; Pliny Fisk, $2,500; Mrs. Kaufman, $500; Dominick McNamee, $1,500; J. A. Schuck estate, adjoining the barn, $1,600.

—The Elizabeth Daily Journal, under date of Monday, July 6th, in speaking of the Fourth of July celebration and parade at Lyons Farms says: "The liberty float was drawn by nine horses. Miss Mamie Lyon, of Plainfield, one of the descendants of the family from whom Lyons Farms received its name, posed as the Goddess of Liberty."

—The reception and dance given in T. A. B. Hall, Friday evening, under the auspices of Court Pride of New Jersey, No. 40, F. of A., was not a financial success. The affair was run, so the managers and others say, on a strictly temperance basis, but the weather was in a degree against them, which probably accounts for the deficiency. At the ball, a year ago, the order cleared $87.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

BOON FOR BAKERS.

State Law Says They Must Be Paid for Working Overtime.

John C. Ward, Factory Inspector, was at the State House, in Trenton, yesterday, making arrangements for the enforcement of the Bakeshop law passed by the last Legislature and which went into effect on July 4th. The law has been printed on cards, one of which will be placed in every bakery in the State, and no one is permitted to remove or mutilate the cards under penalty of the law.

The law provides that no employe of a biscuit, bakery, or confectionary establishment shall be required or permitted to work more than sixty-four hours in any one week, or more than ten hours in any one day, unless for the purpose of making a shorter work day on the last day of the week, except in cases of emergency, when said employee shall work two hours extra each day for which he shall be paid at the current rate of weekly wages. Neither may an employer discharge an employe for making a truthful statement to a court or to the Factory Inspector, in pursuance of the act.

INTERESTING NOTES ABOUT THE YOUNG CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

Provisional Programme of the Convention to be Issued Some Time This Month—Missionary Extension Campaign

The following notes of interest to Christian Endeavorers are issued in the latest bulletin of the State Society:

The provisional programme of the State Convention will be issued during the latter part of this month. The committee of arrangements propose to request the delegates to bring credentials with them from their society president. This is an excellent departure, inasmuch as it will make it more difficult for those who are not Endeavorers and not in sympathy with the work, to foist themselves on the convention.

Miss Alice B. Spangenberg, the superintendent of the Missionary Department, is gathering information with reference to the missionary extension campaign next year.

The latest enlargement in Christian Endeavor is the Senior Society. It is composed of older Christians and graduates from the Young People's Society. The pledge of the Senior Society is made applicable to the midweek prayer meeting. The society holds no meetings of its own, and its purpose is wholly to strengthen the midweek church services, and to retain the interest of the older Christians in active church work.

The spirit in which the Christian Endeavor pledge is fulfilled is manifested by a striking incident reported by the pastor of the young woman concerned. She had been an active Christian Endeavorer for two years when she was stricken with fever and in a short time died. During the last days of her illness, when too weak to hold her Bible the young woman asked her mother to hold the book for her so that she could read a portion from it each day. "For," she said, "I wish to be faithful to my pledge to the very end of my life."

Eli Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles for twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street

When we consider that the intestines are about five times as long as the body, we can realize the intense suffering experienced when they become inflamed. De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure subdues inflammation at once and completely removes the difficulty. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

C. E. CONVENTION

Formal Opening of the Business Session This Morning.

CONDUCTED IN THREE BIG TENTS

Washington Crowded with the Christian Workers and the City Gaily Bedecked with Flags and Bunting for the Occasion.

Washington, July 9.—The fifteenth annual convention of the United Societies Christian Endeavorers opened its business session this morning at 9:30 o'clock. This formal opening, which took place simultaneously in the three big tents on the White lot, was preceded last night by twenty-two separate meetings in the city suburbs, where the several delegations have established their headquarters. Over these meetings the pastors of the several churches presided. Devotional exercises, singing, two formal addresses, and a quiet hour of prayer made up the programme for each meeting. In all forty-four addresses were made, and the list of speakers assigned therefor comprised the names of many of the leading preachers in the American pulpit, attracting good sized audiences. The topic "Deepening the Spiritual Life" was the same for each meeting, and the addresses all bore on that subject. Among those who spoke are the following: Rev. F. W. Ramsay, Kentucky; J. W. Fifield, Chicago; Smith Baker, Boston; W. H. Strong, Detroit; L. E. Mason, Rochester; P. P. Watson, Beaufort, S. C.; Revs. L. A. Banks, Brooklyn; E. R. Young, Toronto; C. A. Barbour, Rochester; C. L. Work, Cincinnatl; W. F. Wilson, Toronto; C. S. Mason, Los Angeles; Mr. Amos R. Wells, Boston; Rev. William Rader, San Francisco; Bishop W. B. Derrick, New York City; Revs. P. T. Sonford, Boston; J. B. Morgan, England; J. C. French, Newark; Leander Keyser, Dayton; L. R. Dyott, Newark; F. Hamilton, Newtonville, Mass. This morning the customary 6 o'clock prayer meetings in thirty-three churches on the topic "Prayer for the Convention" inaugurated the day. At 8:30 o'clock the customary bible study in the New York avenue Presbyterian church, conducted by Dr. G. S. Burroughs of Indiana. Then came the formal openings at which was heard the welcome speeches to the delegates and the annual addresses of President Clark and Secretary Bear.

Crowded with Visitors.

Washington is crowded to-day with these industrious Christain workers, hailing from all parts of the country, and the women with their badges and light summer apparel present a pleasant sight. The city is profusely bedecked with C. E. flags and bunting, and old glory is to be seen fluttering to the breeze at every turn. The three great tents are welcoming hundreds of Endeavorers who are looking in open-eyed wonder at the preparations which have been made. Tent Washington lies in the shadow of the monument when the sun is in the south. Tent Endeavor is only a short distance away, to the right, looking north, and is nearest the treasury department, while Tent Williston occupies a position to the left of both tents and nearest the Corcoran Art gallery. Every incoming train last night continued to add to the visitors some of whom are Endeavorers and others merely sight-seers, who have taken advantage of the reduced fares.

THE HENLEY REGATTA.

Leander Defeats New College—Guinness Beats Nickalls.

Henley-on-Thames, July 9.—The principal events of the programme of the Royal Henley regatta yesterday were the second trial heats of the eight-oared contest for the Grand Challenge cup and the single-scull contest for the Diamond Sculls to determine which crews and individual oarsmen shall row in the final heat in each race today. In the fifth heat for the cup Leander beat New College, and in the fifth heat for the skulls Guinness beat Vivian Nickalls. The Yale men will leave their quarters at the Marsh Mill house to-morrow morning and will attend a dinner to be given in their honor by the Sports' club in London that evening. It is likely that on that occasion Capt. Treadway will speak in behalf of Yale. Delegates from all of the crews participating in the regatta are desirous of attending the dinner. The Yale men will return to the United States separately, as some of them intend visiting the continent or elsewhere before going home.

Severe Storm at Pensacola.

Pensacola, Fla., July 9.—During a wind storm here the wind attained a velocity of seventy-six miles an hour, doing much damage to shipping in the bay. Nearly every vessel was dismisted and sent adrift for the time, and several fishing craft sank. A yacht was capsized, but the crew were safe on shore at the time.

House Painters and Decorators.

Troy, N. Y., July 9.—The convention of master house painters and decorators of New York state will be held next year at Rochester on the first Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in January.

Increase of Capital Stock.

Albany, July 9.—The Metropolitan Street Railway company has filed with the secretary of state a certificate of an increase of capital stock from $16,500,000 to $30,000,000.

Over 60,000 People Killed.

Victoria, B. C., July 9.—A dispatch from Moraka, Japan, says that over 60,000 people were either killed or injured by the recent calamitous tidal wave.

READY TO SHOUT

Bland's Neighbors Preparing for a Big Celebration.

THEY EXPECT HIS NOMINATION

He Visits Lebanon, Mo., and Receives Dispatches from the Convention—Is Opposed To Approval Expressed by Brass Bands and Fire Works.

Lebanon, Mo., July 9.—Mr. Bland did not return from his home to Lebanon until 4.25 p. m. last evening. After reading the recital of the re-opening of the proceedings at Chicago and the United Press bulletins in reference to the Michigan contest, he returned home, soying that he would not return to Lebanon again until this afternoon, Gen. Mitchell, his father-in-law, remained at headquarters and said that he would bring the latest news to Mr. Bland himself. The enthusiasts here are beginning to show some evidences of their sentiments and if their champion is nominated, the little town of Lebanon will have such a demonstration as was never heard here before. It is the plan of the Bland men to hold their jollification in town. Mr. Bland and his family will not be disturbed for the reason that it is well understood that the silver leader dislikes the approval that is expressed by brass bands and bomb shells.

DENOUNCES CLEVELAND.

Tillman's Reply to the Minority Report of the Resolutions Committee.

Convention Hall, July 9.—When the report of thecommittee on resolutions is made to the convention to-day a minority report will also be presented endorsing the financial policy of the Cleveland administration. To that Senator Tillman of South Carolina will offer an amendment and address the convention upon it for fifty minutes. Senator Tillman's amendment is in these words: "We denounce the administration of President Cleveland as undemocratic and ironical, and as a departure from those principles which are cherished by all liberty-loving Americans. The veto power has been used to thwart the will of the people as expressed by their representatives in congress. The appointive power has been used to subsidize the press, to debauch congress and to overawe and control citizens in the free exercise of their constitutional rights as voters. A plutocratic despotism is thus sought to be established on the ruins of the republic. We repudiate the construction placed on the financial plank of the last democratic national platform by President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle as contrary to plain meaning of English words, and as being an act of bad faith deserving the severest censure."

BOSTONIANS SEE THE QUEEN.

Ancient and Honorable Artillery Received at Windsor Castle.

London, July 9.—The visiting members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston left the Hotel Cecil yesterday for Windsor, marching with band and colors to the Waterloo station. They were escorted by the band of the Honorable Artillery company of London and accompanied by the Earl of Denbigh, lieutenant-colonel of the Honorable Artillery company. The Boston company was cheered all along the route. The queen received the members of the artillery company on the East Terrace. Her majesty expressed satisfaction at seeing the corps, saying that she hoped that they had had a pleasant passage from America.

Skeleton of a Man Found.

New Brunswick, N. J., July 9.—The skeleton of a man, lying face downward, and buried beneath two feet of earth, has been dug up by workmen who were excavating for the foundation of a house on Washington street. From the fact that the skull was face downward, the police believe the man was murdered and was buried hurriedly.

Relic of the Three Friends Expedition.

Havana, July 9.—A coasting steamer has brought here three empty American yawl boats which had been found adrift off the coast of Jaruco, Havana province. The boats are said to have belonged to the Three Friends expedition, which effected a landing on the island the night before the boats were picked up.

Sir Charles Tupper's Resignation.

Ottawa, Ont., July 9.—It was ascertained at the government house this morning that Sir Charles Tupper had resigned, and that Lord Aberdeen had sent for Mr. Laurier, premier-elect. The resignation took place about 7 o'clock last night. Mr. Laurier is expected here to-day.

Socialists' State Ticket.

New York, July 9.—The state convention of the socialist labor party yesterday afternoon nominated H. Balkam, a painter, of Brooklyn for governor, and Lawrence Boland, an Albany machinist, for lieutenant-governor.

Extradition for Phillips.

Boston, July 9.—The acting governor yesterday, after a long hearing, refused to withdraw the warrant issued last week for the extradition of Harry Phillips, the alleged confidence man, wanted in New York.

American Cricketers Ahead.

London, July 9.—In the cricket match yesterday between the elevens of Haverford college, Pa., and Marlborough college, the former made 273 runs and the latter 230 runs in the first innings.

SPORTS

THURSDAY, July 9. Sun rises 4:29 a. m., sets 7:34 p. m. Lanterns must be lighted between 8:34 p. m. and 3:29 a. m.

Cyclists desiring to join the League of American Wheelmen will be furnished with application blanks and necessary information by addressing the Cycling Department of the Daily Press.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Counselor W. K. McClure, of Crescent avenue, has just purchased a new Windle wheel for his own use.

Monte Scott, winner of the last time prize in the Irvington-Milburn race, met with an accident last week at Providence. He was coasting down a hill when he was thrown from his wheel and his collar-bone broken.

A number of the colored young people of this city and the borough, who ride bicycles, have organized a club callad the Oriental Bicycle Club. There are about 50 members. Charles Jefferson is president, and Mrs. Aretta Garrison vice president. The club will give a concert at T. A. B. hall July 23d.

H. B. Weest, of Philadelphia, claims to have ridden from that city to Jersey City last Friday in 6 hours and 30 minutes. Furthermore he says he can prove his record authentic. Weest is 6 feet tall, weighs 176 pounds and looks every inch a hardy road rider. His performance breaks all previous records for the distance.

An out-of-town paper gives this advice for cleaning a muddy bicycle: "Let the mud dry, then take a cloth with a little oil on it, pass it around each tube of the frame, and holding the ends, one in each hand, pull them alternately, dragging the cloth backward and forward. By this means, and with the aid of a spoke brush for some of the parts, the mud is quickly rubbed off and the enamel left unscratched."

Some people are of the opinion that the League of American Wheelmen will be called upon to try to suppress road racing. Prominnent L. A. W. officials talked with recently, say that as the organization does not recognize such sport that it might be considered unbecoming for the L. A. W. to take any official recognition of the matter. Road races this year have been so unsatisfactory—there have been so much scandal and trouble, and the practice is really so dangerous—that the chances are the local authorites will, in time, put a stop to the practice.

Clear headed cyclists are beginning to see the danger to which they are drifting in the matter of good road movement. Too much attention has been given to cycle paths to the real detriment of the roads. Good advice to cyclists is to work for cycle paths only when it is impossible to secure good roads. The authorities of Brooklyn, have been given a great deal of credit for the twin cycle paths running to the ocean, while between them is a Boulevard which is a disgrace to any civilized community. It was much cheaper to fix up the paths than it would have been to make the Boulevard acceptable to wheelmen.

This evening the Plainfield Y.M.C.A. will entertain the other clubs in the Y. M. C. A. League. For some time the committee has been hard at work preparing for the occasion and, if the weather is favorable, this run promises to be the most successful of any yet held. Plainfield has a central location and, added to her great reputation for hospitality, there promises to be an extra large attendance. The entertainment will be an excellent one. George O. Stevens and William N. Runyon, Plainfield's favorite entertainers, will be present, besides other local talent, and the visitors will be assured a pleasant evening. Of course there will be refreshments of a substantial order and enough for all. The run and entertainment is only for members of the cycling division.

The boys of Washington Park are a lively set, and are all the time ready to start something new. They have now decided to hold an athletic meet in the Park on Saturday afternoon, July 18th. The events will be started on Willow avenue, and the bicycle races will be run around the triangle bounded by Willow, Giraud and Myrtle avenues. The chief promoters of this meet are Harry Curtis and Will Roome with whom entries may be made. The events are handicap and are as follows: Pole vaults, one hundred-yard dash, putting twelve pound shot, one-mile bicycle race, two hundred and twenty-yard dash, two-mile bicycle race, high jump, five-mile bicycle race, open. A large number of entries have already been received, and every body in the Park is hard at work training for the auspicious time.

Attend the Sale.

Note an advertisement in this issue of the sale on Saturday, 11th inst., at Plainfield Driving Park, when Mr. Philip Jenner will sell two very choicely bred young trotters, having the blood of Stamboul, 2:07½; Grey Wilkes, 2:15¼; Bayonne Prince, 2:21¼; Ethan Allen, 2:25½, and Mambrino Chief, all of which are famous in trotting-horse history. 7 3 6.

MONTHLY SHOOT OF THE CLIMAX GUN CLUB YESTERDAY.

The Weather Was Unfavorable for Shooting, Still Some Very Good Scores Were Chalked Up in the Contests.

The weather was by no means favorable yesterday for shooting, and the frequent showers suggested a heavy downpour, but still there was a good attendance at the monthly club shoot of the Climax Gun Club on their grounds on South avenue.

Most of the reliable shots of the club were present, however, and several exciting matches resulted. The club shoot was the most important event of the day, and the totals in it were as follows:

Shortymeyer, 23; Brantingham, 20; Keller, 21; Manning, 22; Darby, 22; Goodman, 18; Fayette, 16; Greer, 22; Singer, 23.

Five sweepstakes, all of them "California Freeze Outs," in which each contestant drops out as soon as he misses a target, until only one remains, resulted as follows:

No. 1—Keller, 9; Brantingham, 8; Manning, 7; Shortymeyer, 4; Darby, 2; Fayette, 1.

No. 2—Brantingham, 12; Greer, 10; Keller, 4; Shortymeyer, 2; Manning, 1.

No. 3—Brantingham, 5; Shortymeyer, 4; Keller, 1; Greer, 1.

No. 4—Greer, 6; Keller, 2; Brantingham, 1; Shortymeyer, 0.

No. 5—Shortymeyer, 20; Greer, 19; Manning, 8; Keller, 6; Brantingham, 5.

Two 25-bird matches were shot off between Shortymeyer and Greer, the latter winning both by a score of 24 to 23.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

Letter-carrier Robert Loughlin and Alvah Carey went fishing yesterday at Lambert's. They left a few fish in the pond, however.

Walter Long and W. Gordon Williams are anticipating a day of weak-fishing off Perth Amboy on Saturday.

Frank Hedden and "Spiel" Welch went fishing at South Plainfield Tuesday night and succeeded in capturing twenty-three eels and nineteen catfish.

Elias Southard went to New Market yesterday fishing and returned with six of the finest catfish caught this season. Darkness set in and he was obliged to return home without more. Fish are said to be plentiful there, but it takes a good hand to land them even at that.

AROUND THE BASES.

The game of ball which was to have taken place yesterday between a nine from St. Mary's Cadets and a nine from North Plainfield, has been indefinitely postponed.

Baseball cranks may expect to see a lively game of baseball, Saturday afternoon, on the Y.M. C. A. grounds, beginning at 3:30 o'clock, sharp. The crack team from Raritan will meet the local Y. M. C. A. boys, and the Plainfield team will have to hustle for the honors. Besides being a great batting team, the Raritans are famous for their coaching.

Not a Plainfielder.

The report published in the New York World that the man who stepped over the rail of the Staten Island ferry boat Southfield, on Tuesday, was William Klein, of Plainfield, appears to have been without foundation. There are three William Kleins in Plainfield, but all are in this city at present and in apparent good health.

—Young John Carney was run into by Conrad Pzelts on North avenue this afternoon and his wheel totally demolished. The latter was arrested.

It would be hard to convince a man suffering from bilious colic that his agony is due to a microbe with an unpronouncable name. But one dose of DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure will convince him of its power to afford instant relief. It kills pain. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

"My friend Tillman."

He says: "If we adhere to party politics we shall win, if we depart from them we will lose."

Mr. Hill finished amid great applause.

1:25—Senator Vilas will consume the rest of the allotted time in the support of the minority resolution.

LANTERN PARADE ARRANGED.

Crescent Wheelmen to be Sponsors of a Unique Event.

Plainfield is to have a lantern parade of bicycles this summer, or at least so it was planned at a meeting of the Board of Governors of the Crescent Wheelmen held last evening. The National circuit meet of September was discussed and it is hoped that preparations will be begun at once so as to avoid the usual mistake of starting too late.

The report of the club house committee was received and it stated that negotiations for several buildings were underway, but that there was nothing definite to report. One member was expelled from the club for violating the rules of the club. All these questions will come up before the club meeting next Monday which promises to be an important one.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Connolly, of Manning avenue, are very happy over the birth of a little baby girl, born last week.

A Wider Experience.

Dumley (who has given Featherly a cigar from his private box) — I've smoked worse cigars than these, Featherly.

Featherly—Ye-es, Dumley, I s'pose you have; but you must remember that you are an older man than I am.—Bay City Chat.

A Biped Characteristic.

"What are those birds chattering so about?" she asked as she opened the window.

"I suppose," responded her husband, who is organist in a church, "that the feathered choir is having the usual misunderstanding."—Washington Star.

A Modern Instance.

She (at the ball)—I don't know that I ever met you in the evening before, and I hardly knew you in a dress suit. Isn't the gentleman here who occupies the same apartments with you?

He—No. He stayed home.—Bay City Chat.

The Reason Natural.

Mrs. Ray—Does your husband ever talk in his sleep?

Mrs. Day—Not since he joined the Jack-Pot Poker club.

Mrs. Ray—Why not since then?

Mrs. Day—Because he never sleeps.—Town Topics.

A Tribute to Success.

"I aim," said Mrs. Hashem, "to give my boarders good, substantial food."

"Madam," replied Billy Bliven, "you succeed. Your biscuits are the most substantial I ever saw. There is positively no limit to their durability."—Washington Star.

Mystery Explained.

"Excuse me, but it seems to me that I must have met you before. Are you not a brother or near relative of Maj. Jones?"

"No. I am Maj. Jones himself."

"Ah, indeed, that explains the remarkable resemblance."—Texas Sifter.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints,—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

Customer— I want a remedy for catarrh.

Drug Clerk—All right, sir. Here's a blood tonic that is advertised to build up the constitution.

Customer— Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! I want immediate relief; besides, catarrh is a local affection, and no tonic or blood purifier ever made can cure it. Here's 50 cents. Let me have Ely's Cream Balm. It's the only hing I know of to cure catarrh.

THE BOY ORATOR WINS.

DISORDER AND CONFUSION.

THE BOOMS ALL SLUMBER NOW.

Ex-Congressman Bryan Nominated for President at Chicago Today on Fifth Ballot.

Gov. Stone Pays High Tribute to "The Boy Orator of the Platte."

BRYAN IS NOMINATED.

Before the end of the fifth ballot Bland withdrew.

At the end of the fifth ballot Bryan had 494 votes, giving him the required two-thirds majority.

Bryan's total is 533.

There is great excitement.

At the close of the third ballot the totals were announced as follows: Bland 241, Bryan 28, Boies 33, Matthews 36, McLean 46. Not voting 162.

The announcement is greeted with the most tumultuous applause. The delegates are acting in a wild manner as though they are trying to stampede the convention for Bryan.

The Virginia delegates join the procession with coats off. The heat is oppressive and the din deafening. Twenty-three banners are in the procession, led by the Bryan Club from Nebraska.

2:41 p. m—Minnesota is in the centre of the crowd and is trying to push to the front. In the Ohio section delegates are pulling and hauling one another around in a rough manner. There is intense excitement and an attempt to restore order.

The Ohio banner is hoisted in the centre of the surging mass of hatless and coatless men. Delegate McConville, of Ohio, yells "Ohio is not going to Bryan." The police and sergeants insist on order and the roll call proceeds.

At the end of the fourth ballot Chairman White decided that it required a two-third vote of the total number of delegates to nominate and not two-thirds of the delegates present.

The fifth ballot was then commenced.

Chairman White called the convention to order at 10:57. Prayer was offered by Dr. Green.

A gentleman from the District of Columbia seconds the nomination of McLean. Delegate Newell, of Oregon, nominates Pennoyer for President.

A motion is made and carried that the nominations be closed.

A roll call is ordered. It commences as follows: Alabama, Boies 22; Arkansas, Bland 10; California, Blackburn 9, Boies 2, Matthews 2, Campbell 1; Colorado, passed; Florida, Bland 2, Boies 1, Bryan 1, Blackburn 1, Matthews 2; Georgia, Bryan, 26; Idaho, Bland, 6; Illinois, Bland 48; Indiana, Matthews 30; Iowa, Boies 26; Kansas, Bland 20; Kentucky, Blackburn 26; Louisanna, Bryan 16.

CYCLISTS FROM ALL OVER

THE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING THE CENTRE OF ENTHUSIASTS.

The Occasion Was a Run of a Bicycle League in Which Several Towns Participate—Plainfield Entertained Them Well

There is something very fasinating about bicycling, especially in company with a party of congenial friends, but an entertainment for mind and body at the end of the ride gives an additional pleasure to the run. The general runs of the Y. M. C. A. Cycling League have proved to be a great success and the one held in this city last evening was no exception. From all directions came the enthusiastic cyclists and the Y. M. C. A. building was the centre of a jolly army of bicycle riders. Delegations were sent out to welcome all the visiting clubs, while Captain Thomas A. Cuming and some of the other members remained at the building to receive them.

At about 8:30 o'clock the first delegation arrived, and from that time until past nine o'clock the reception committee was kept busy looking after the welfare of their visitors and their wheels. Most of the early comers hastened to the tank and enjoyed a cooling plunge bath ere the entertainment began. Then the guests and entertainers gathered in the pretty little hall and President W. D. Murray, of the Association, stepped to the front as master of ceremonies. Two duets by George O. Stevens and William N. Runyon, aroused the enthusiasm of the listeners, and then Miss Ella Osbourne gave a thrilling recitation. The programme closed with "I want yer, ma Honey," which was sung with great effect by Miss Alice Osbourne.

Then came the roll call and the visiting clubs responded as follows: Passaic, 12; Orange, 20; Summit, 9; Westfield, 3; Rahway, 13; New Brunswick, 15.

Everybody next adjourned to the room upstairs where a bountiful supply of excellent sandwiches, delicious coffee and cooling lemonade awaited them. The refreshments rapidly disappeared before the united efforts of the riders who completely filled the room.

Mrs. Joseph Gavett was chairman of the committee of ladies who furnished and served the refreshments, and she was assisted by Mrs. Roger Murray, Mrs. L. M. French, Mrs. S. R. Struthers and the Misses Osborne. The officers of the bicycle club assisted in the passing of the good things. After most of the refreshments had disappeared the visitors gave three cheers for Plainfield and started on their homeward journey.

Building Committee Discharged.

The Consistory of the German Reformed church held a special meeting last evening and the building committee made its report. It was decided to discontinue the building committee and that the Consistory should take charge of the business formerly looked after by the committee. The report of the building committee showed that there remains $150 in pledges to be collected and that bills to about that amount were due. The Consistory will collect the remaining pledges.

Notes From the Brick Yard.

Few people have any conception of the work done at Richard Boyce's Maple avenue brick yards. Besides the million or more brick he has manufactured and sold within the past year, he has 575,000 more ready for shipment and as many more now in the kiln ready to burn the latter part of the present month. Mr. Boyce has also suffered a heavy loss by the melting away of some 40,000 by the recent heavy rains.

Death of a Brakeman.

George Gerry, a former resident of Dunellen, died of consumption yesterday at Annandale, where he went on a farm for the benefit of his health. Mr. Gerry was a brakeman for a number of years on John McCall's train. He had a number of friends in Dunellen and on the railroad. A wife and two children survive his loss.

More Work at Pond's.

Men in authority at the Pond Machine Tool Company's Works say that new and additional men are being taken on from time to time. When a firm of this magnitude takes on additional help on the eve of a Presidential campaign it certainly looks like "brighter days" for the average machinist.

Took a Little Run.

A horse owned by J. P. Emmons, the mason, indulged in a short run yesterday afternoon on West Front street and Washington avenue. Mr. Emmons caught the runaway animal near his home on Washington avenue before any damage resulted.

FELL IN WITH BAD MEN.

EXCITING EXPERIENCE OF A WAYFARER WITH TRAMPS.

Walked Unconsciously Into a Trap Laid by the Hoboes Who Stole Nearly All His Belongings and Left Him a Sight.

Footsore and weary and robbed of all his money and spare clothing John Fisher entered this city about 5 o'clock this morning with anything but a hopeful lookout before him, but about four hours later his faith in human nature had been greatly increased and he started out again on his journey with a heart full of thankfulness to the Plainfield police force in general and Patrolman Myers in particular. Fisher is an old soldier journeying from Williamsburgh to Pottsville, Pa., and he had the very unpleasant experience of being held up by the gang of tramps that frequent Graceland.

He is a German of fifty-seven years of age, and emigrated to this country in 1860. He enlisted for three months at the first call in the Fifty-seventh New York Volunteers, and afterwards for three years and received an honorable discharge in each case. Yesterday he left Williamsburgh, a suburb of Brooklyn, and started for Pottsville, Pa., to visit his sister and some old comrades of his regiment. He took the trolley car from Jersey City to Newark, and then walked to Elizabeth and then to this city on the track of the Jersey Central Railroad.

The sun had set and the twilight was fast fading into night when Fisher approached Graceland. Realizing that it was time to look for a night's lodging that would not make too heavy an inroad on his slender stock of finds, Fisher began to look about him.

"Say old man come over here" remarked a young red haired fellow who was standing on the other side of the track and, when Fisher went over there the young man plied him with questions and soon learned that he was a stranger in search of a cheap lodging place. Apparently, Fisher's new found acquaintance became very much interested in him and attempted to learn something about his financial condition. Fisher had heard of sharpers before and did not encourage the advances of the red haired stranger but, as the latter appeared to be alone and as he offered to show Fisher a place where he might lodge free of charge, he walked along with him until they reached the Graceland station where the young man told Fisher they could spend the night.

The fast growing shades of darkness told plainly that night was near at hand, and so Fisher overcame his suspicions and entered. He had expected to be alone but there were already two men in the station, lying on the heaps of leaves that showed the station to be a regular lodging place.

"Who's there?" grunted one of the men, who was reclining on his leafy bed.

"It's a stranger," was the reply of Fisher's guide, who was evidently well acquainted with the other two. The three pals, for such they appeared to be, held a long conference at one end of the little building, while Fisher watched them with fear. At last he removed his coat and shoes and prepared to take a little rest. His package, containing his best suit, several changes of underclothing and his precious discharge papers, he used for a pillow. Then he went to sleep.

The next thing he remembered was that some one had him by the throat and was resting his knee on Fisher's chest.

"You Dutch ————, if you halloa, I'll kill you," was hissed at him and he saw the cruel fat face of the stouter of the two young men, who had been in the station, close to his. Then one of the others removed the bundle from beneath his head and his coat and shoes which lay beside him.

"Go through him good," said one of the party, as another removed Fisher's pocketbook containing $1.13, his spectacles and other articles from his pocket.

"You —— Dutch ————, if you leave before it is light we'll lay your —— old carcass out, for we'll be just across the track. Then they disappeared in the darkness and Fisher was left alone. For three hours he sat there trembling at every sound, and expecting the robbers to return and become murderers.

When the first grey streaks of dawn were to be seen in the east, Fisher crawled out of the station and hurried away down the track. The walk was a painful one as he had no shoes and the cinders cut his feet cruelly.

He reached Netherwood and there met Patrolman Myers. In broken sentences the story of the night was told and the loss of the beloved papers described.

"I cared more for those than I did for all the clothes," said Fisher.

Now Patrolman Myers is a brave man, and brave men usually have a sympathetic heart, so he took Fisher to his home, and gave him shoes, stockings and a coat. He went further and took Fisher down town and gave him a good square meal.

Fisher next told his story to Chief Grant and Detective Blackford, who took a description of the men. And, when Fisher left the Chief's office, the money stolen from him had been more than replaced from the pockets of his Plainfield friends, and he started again on his way, still mourning, however, over the loss of his precious discharges.

REPUBLICANS ENTHUSIASTIC.

U. S. Grant Club Prepare for an Active Campaign.

The U. S. Grant Republican Club of North Plainfield held a large and very enthusiastic meeting last evening in the borough Council rooms, at which time five delegates and five alternates were elected to attend the State meeting to be held at Asbury Park July 15th. President R. M. Fountain called the meeting to order and S. B. Joseph was chosen secretary pro tem. The delegates chosen were P. A. Emmons, Andrew Lutkins, W. C. Smith, J. G McLaughlin and J. Worth Coddington. The alternates are Horace J. Martin, James D. Anderson, George N. Steward, Frank Kesselring and John VanHorn.

Charles S. Smineck offered a resolution which was adopted. The resolution condemned the course pursued at the Chicago convention and upheld the policy of the Republican party in advocating the principles of protection and sound money. The business being concluded a social time was enjoyed, during which there was lots of good music. Dory Vroom presided at the piano, Harry Spencer played the guitar and Wm. C. Force the banjo. There was singing by Captain Smith, Joe Martin, H. J. Martin, Frank Kesselring, Oscar Philpott, John Goodwin, and recitations by Frank Spillane. Speeches were made by the president, secretary, Capt. Smith and H. N. Spencer. The latter gave an outline of the work to be done at Asbury Park. After cigars had been passed and a good time enjoyed the meeting was adjourned to some date in the near future.

FOR A GOOD CAUSE.

Successful Festival for the Benefit of the Fresh Air Camp.

A successful festival was held yesterday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glaentzer, of New street, for the benefit of the local babies camp. It was held on the lawn and was arranged by Edith Glaentzer, Bertie Glaentzer, Mamie Mehl and Willie Mehl. Emil Scheidecker very kindly erected a canopy for the young folks, and the decoration consisting of flags, bunting, etc, were exceedingly pretty. There was a good attendance, and the fancy articles, cakes, lemonade and soda water on sale, was all disposed of with a net profit of $3, which was turned over to the proper authority. Those in charge had a beautiful doll, and everyone present took a chance of guessing the dolls name. Alice Mehl secured the prize as she guessed the right name which was Olive.

Throttle Disconnected.

The Buffalo express due at South Plainfield at 7:01 p. m., on the Lehigh Valley railroad was delayed last evening a half hour owing to an accident. From Ashbrook to Oak Tree the engineer closed the throttle and let the train run along at moderate speed. At the latter place he attempted to open the throttle and found that he could not as it was disconnected. The train came to a stop and after a half hour's delay another engine was secured at South Plainfield and train proceeded.

Off to Europe.

Corporation Counsel and Mrs. Craig Adams Marsh, and Lawyer and Mrs. Wm. M. Stillman will sail at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning by steamship Ems for Rome.

J. K. Myers, of East Seventh street, will sail tomorrow morning on the steamship Ems for Rome, where he will join his wife, who is now there. He purchased his ticket through Estil's agency.

Wheels Collide.

Mat. Sweeney, night messenger for the Western Union Telegraph Company, was knocked from his wheel in West Seventh street by a collision with an unknown rider. Sweeney did all in his power to keep clear of the other rider, but the latter was evidently a beginner and persited in keeping to the left of the road. Sweeney sustained a few slight bruises.

Fell From a Tandem.

Mayor B. A. Hegeman and Mrs. Hegeman were riding a tandem wheel last evening on Park avenue and were so unfortunate as to have a fall in which Mrs. Hegeman was injured to the extent that she was conveyed to her home in a carriage.

BOOTH-TUCKER TALKS.

SALVATION ARMY LEADER TELLS OF THEIR WORK.

He Explains the Practical Ways in Which They Labor and Draws an Ideal Picture of Their Results.

An unusual procedure marked the meeting at the Salvation Army hall last evening, very much unlike that which was used several weeks ago when Mrs. Booth-Tucker was present and addressed a large gathering. Last evening it was different in this particular that the appearance of Commander Booth-Tucker was not marked by any great ovation. When the Commander entered the hall, followed by the "Victory Boys," he gave a signal and all noise ceased. He was accompanied by several officers from headquarters, including Staff-Captain Dunham, Adjutant Damon and Dr. Nise. As soon as the Commander appeared on the platform, he was presented with a handsome bouquet by a young woman, which he accepted most gracefully.

Commander Booth-Tucker is tall and has a distinguished appearance. There is something very attractive in his manner and speech and in the latter he has a slight accent which is not unpleasant.

The hearty singing of "Down Where the Living Waters Flow," opened the service, after which Adjutant Damon offered a fervent earnest prayer. A violin solo by Dr. Nise followed. He was accompanied on the guitar by Adjutant Taylor. The selection concluded with a familiar hymn which was sung by the Salvationists.

Brigadier Evans then made a few excellent remarks in which he introduced Booth-Tucker. The later, in part, said:

"I want to read the fourth chapter of the book of Zachariah, for I believe that the Salvation Army was founded on that chapter. You will find men that are wide awake in business, at the stock markets and in every pursuit making money, but in religion they are asleep. You will find women the same way in their homes. The Lord awakened Zachariah out of his sleep and may we also be awakened. Outside of the church barracks, or prayer-meeting, some people's light is never burning. The oil is so low that their lamps smoke, causing a bad oder, and finally people say blow out the light or turn it up. It would take a good pair of spectacles to read by the light of some Christians. We teach that not only must a person's circumstances be changed, but also the man must be changed, also that a man and woman can be holy. Some people are born with good tempers, but the devil comes along with an extinguisher and puts out that light. I would feel proud to die in a poor house and go to heaven that way, and have my clothes hung up in a museum where people could point to them and say there are the clothes of one who died in the Lord. There was a time when I loved money, the ball and the theatre, but God has changed my heart. In talking to two men in New York yesterday, I was asked what the social plan of the army was. In the first place the man's circumstances must be changed as well as the man himself. That is the root, source and secret of our work. We don't leave God out of our calculations. I had a wonderful tour with General Booth through all the principal cities in the old world and we met nearly all the prominent officials. We were convinced that there was great need of something being done. I am an American citizen and intend being a good one. I ought to be for I have good ones around me. I am unequal for the position I hold but my wife and I are going forward and we are going to be real Americans.

'The newspaper is more authority than the Gospel of St. Mark. It might be the Gospel according to St. Newspaper, but there is a fact that I have never heard a newspaper dispute and that is that one-tenth of the population of the world is on the border of starvation. There are 150,000,000 of people who never know what it is to be without hunger and a large portion have no place they can call home. These facts are enough to give one the night mare. The Salvation Army pulled off their coats, rolled up their sleeves and went to work while others were theorizing. I remember hearing a story of a telegraph operator in India, who, while working in the office of a railroad station, which was being demolished by tigers, wired the following message to headquarters: "Tigers eating station, Master; wire instructions." This reminds me of editors sitting in their chairs, people reclining in their homes wiring back and forth, "Tigers eating station, Master; wire instructions." According to Statistician Hunt there are 40,-

CYCLISTS FROM ALL OVER

THE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING THE CENTRE OF ENTHUSIASTS.

The Occasion Was a Run of a Bicycle League in Which Several Towns Participate—Plainfield Entertained Them Well

There is something very fasinating about bicycling, especially in company with a party of congenial friends, but an entertainment for mind and body at the end of the ride gives an additional pleasure to the run. The general runs of the Y. M. C. A. Cycling League have proved to be a great success and the one held in this city last evening was no exception. From all directions came the enthusiastic cyclists and the Y. M. C. A. building was the centre of a jolly army of bicycle riders. Delegations were sent out to welcome all the visiting clubs, while Captain Thomas A. Cuming and some of the other members remained at the building to receive them.

At about 8:30 o'clock the first delegation arrived, and from that time until past nine o'clock the reception committee was kept busy looking after the welfare of their visitors and their wheels. Most of the early comers hastened to the tank and enjoyed a cooling plunge bath ere the entertainment began. Then the guests and entertainers gathered in the pretty little hall and President W. D. Murray, of the Association, stepped to the front as master of ceremonies. Two duets by George O. Stevens and William N. Runyon, aroused the enthusiasm of the listeners, and then Miss Ella Osbourne gave a thrilling recitation. The programme closed with "I want yer, ma Honey," which was sung with great effect by Miss Alice Osbourne.

Then came the roll call and the visiting clubs responded as follows: Passaic, 12; Orange, 20; Summit, 9; Westfield, 3; Rahway, 13; New Brunswick, 15.

Everybody next adjourned to the room upstairs where a bountiful supply of excellent sandwiches, delicious coffee and cooling lemonade awaited them. The refreshments rapidly disappeared before the united efforts of the riders who completely filled the room.

Mrs. Joseph Gavett was chairman of the committee of ladies who furnished and served the refreshments, and she was assisted by Mrs. Roger Murray, Mrs. L. M. French, Mrs. S. R. Struthers and the Misses Osborne. The officers of the bicycle club assisted in the passing of the good things. After most of the refreshments had disappeared the visitors gave three cheers for Plainfield and started on their homeward journey.

Building Committee Discharged.

The Consistory of the German Reformed church held a special meeting last evening and the building committee made its report. It was decided to discontinue the building committee and that the Consistory should take charge of the business formerly looked after by the committee. The report of the building committee showed that there remains $150 in pledges to be collected and that bills to about that amount were due. The Consistory will collect the remaining pledges.

Notes From the Brick Yard.

Few people have any conception of the work done at Richard Boyce's Maple avenue brick yards. Besides the million or more brick he has manufactured and sold within the past year, he has 575,000 more ready for shipment and as many more now in the kiln ready to burn the latter part of the present month. Mr. Boyce has also suffered a heavy loss by the melting away of some 40,000 by the recent heavy rains.

Death of a Brakeman.

George Gerry, a former resident of Dunellen, died of consumption yesterday at Annandale, where he went on a farm for the benefit of his health. Mr. Gerry was a brakeman for a number of years on John McCall's train. He had a number of friends in Dunellen and on the railroad. A wife and two children survive his loss.

More Work at Pond's.

Men in authority at the Pond Machine Tool Company's Works say that new and additional men are being taken on from time to time. When a firm of this magnitude takes on additional help on the eve of a Presidential campaign it certainly looks like "brighter days" for the average machinist.

Took a Little Run.

A horse owned by J. P. Emmons, the mason, indulged in a short run yesterday afternoon on West Front street and Washington avenue. Mr. Emmons caught the runaway animal near his home on Washington avenue before any damage resulted.

FELL IN WITH BAD MEN.

EXCITING EXPERIENCE OF A WAYFARER WITH TRAMPS.

Walked Unconsciously Into a Trap Laid by the Hoboes Who Stole Nearly All His Belongings and Left Him a Sight.

Footsore and weary and robbed of all his money and spare clothing John Fisher entered this city about 5 o'clock this morning with anything but a hopeful lookout before him, but about four hours later his faith in human nature had been greatly increased and he started out again on his journey with a heart full of thankfulness to the Plainfield police force in general and Patrolman Myers in particular. Fisher is an old soldier journeying from Williamsburgh to Pottsville, Pa., and he had the very unpleasant experience of being held up by the gang of tramps that frequent Graceland.

He is a German of fifty-seven years of age, and emigrated to this country in 1860. He enlisted for three months at the first call in the Fifty-seventh New York Volunteers, and afterwards for three years and received an honorable discharge in each case. Yesterday he left Williamsburgh, a suburb of Brooklyn, and started for Pottsville, Pa., to visit his sister and some old comrades of his regiment. He took the trolley car from Jersey City to Newark, and then walked to Elizabeth and then to this city on the track of the Jersey Central Railroad.

The sun had set and the twilight was fast fading into night when Fisher approached Graceland. Realizing that it was time to look for a night's lodging that would not make too heavy an inroad on his slender stock of finds, Fisher began to look about him.

'Say old man come over here" remarked a young red haired fellow who was standing on the other side of the track and, when Fisher went over there the young man plied him with questions and soon learned that he was a stranger in search of a cheap lodging place. Apparently, Fisher's new found acquaintance became very much interested in him and attempted to learn something about his financial condition. Fisher had heard of sharpers before and did not encourage the advances of the red haired stranger but, as the latter appeared to be alone and as he offered to show Fisher a place where he might lodge free of charge, he walked along with him until they reached the Graceland station where the young man told Fisher they could spend the night.

The fast growing shades of darkness told plainly that night was near at hand, and so Fisher overcame his suspicions and entered. He had expected to be alone but there were already two men in the station, lying on the heaps of leaves that showed the station to be a regular lodging place.

"Who's there?" grunted one of the men, who was reclining on his leafy bed.

"It's a stranger," was the reply of Fisher's guide, who was evidently well acquainted with the other two. The three pals, for such they appeared to be, held a long conference at one end of the little building, while Fisher watched them with fear. At last he removed his coat and shoes and prepared to take a little rest. His package, containing his best suit, several changes of underclothing and his precious discharge papers, he used for a pillow. Then he went to sleep.

The next thing he remembered was that some one had him by the throat and was resting his knee on Fisher's chest.

"You Dutch ————, if you halloa, I'll kill you," was hissed at him and he saw the cruel fat face of the stouter of the two young men, who had been in the station, close to his. Then one of the others removed the bundle from beneath his head and his coat and shoes which lay beside him.

"Go through him good," said one of the party, as another removed Fisher's pocketbook containing $1.13, his spectacles and other articles from his pocket.

"You —— Dutch ————, if you leave before it is light we'll lay your —— old carcass out, for we'll be just across the track. Then they disappeared in the darkness and Fisher was left alone. For three hours he sat there trembling at every sound, and expecting the robbers to return and become murderers.

When the first grey streaks of dawn were to be seen in the east, Fisher crawled out of the station and hurried away down the track. The walk was a painful one as he had no shoes and the cinders cut his feet cruelly.

He reached Netherwood and there met Patrolman Myers. In broken sentences the story of the night was told and the loss of the beloved papers described.

"I cared more for those than I did for all the clothes," said Fisher.

Now Patrolman Myers is a brave man, and brave men usually have a sympathetic heart, so he took Fisher to his home, and gave him shoes, stockings and a coat. He went further and took Fisher down town and gave him a good square meal.

Fisher next told his story to Chief Grant and Detective Blackford, who took a description of the men. And, when Fisher left the Chief's office, the money stolen from him had been more than replaced from the pockets of his Plainfield friends, and he started again on his way, still mourning, however, over the loss of his precious discharges.

REPUBLICANS ENTHUSIASTIC.

U. S. Grant Club Prepare for an Active Campaign.

The U. S. Grant Republican Club of North Plainfield held a large and very enthusiastic meeting last evening in the borough Council rooms, at which time five delegates and five alternates were elected to attend the State meeting to be held at Asbury Park July 15th. President R. M. Fountain called the meeting to order and S. B. Joseph was chosen secretary pro tem. The delegates chosen were P. A. Emmons, Andrew Lutkins, W. C. Smith, J. G McLaughlin and J. Worth Coddington. The alternates are Horace J. Martin, James D. Anderson, George N. Steward, Frank Kesselring and John VanHorn.

Charles S. Sminck offered a resolution which was adopted. The resolution condemned the course pursued at the Chicago convention and upheld the policy of the Republican party in advocating the principles of protection and sound money. The business being concluded a social time was enjoyed, during which there was lots of good music. Dory Vroom presided at the piano, Harry Spencer played the guitar and Wm. C. Force the banjo. There was singing by Captain Smith, Joe Martin, H. J. Martin, Frank Kesselring, Oscar Philpott, John Goodwin, and recitations by Frank Spillane. Speeches were made by the president, secretary, Capt. Smith and H. N. Spencer. The latter gave an outline of the work to be done at Asbury Park. After cigars had been passed and a good time enjoyed the meeting was adjourned to some date in the near future.

FOR A GOOD CAUSE.

Successful Festival for the Benefit of the Fresh Air Camp.

A successful festival was held yesterday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glaentzer, of New street, for the benefit of the local babies camp. It was held on the lawn and was arranged by Edith Glaentzer, Bertie Glaentzer, Mamie Mehl and Willie Mehl. Emil Scheidecker very kindly erected a canopy for the young folks, and the decoration consisting of flags, bunting, etc, were exceedingly pretty. There was a good attendance, and the fancy articles, cakes, lemonade and soda water on sale, was all disposed of with a net profit of $3, which was turned over to the proper authority. Those in charge had a beautiful doll, and everyone present took a chance of guessing the dolls name. Alice Mehl secured the prize as she guessed the right name which was Olive.

Throttle Disconnected.

The Buffalo express due at South Plainfield at 7:01 p. m., on the Lehigh Valley railroad was delayed last evening a half hour owing to an accident. From Ashbrook to Oak Tree the engineer closed the throttle and let the train run along at moderate speed. At the latter place he attempted to open the throttle and found that he could not as it was disconnected. The train came to a stop and after a half hour's delay another engine was secured at South Plainfield and train proceeded.

Off to Europe.

Corporation Counsel and Mrs. Craig Adams Marsh, and Lawyer and Mrs. Wm. M. Stillman will sail at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning by steamship Ems for Rome.

J. K. Myers, of East Seventh street, will sail tomorrow morning on the steamship Ems for Rome, where he will join his wife, who is now there. He purchased his ticket through Estil's agency.

Wheels Collide.

Mat. Sweeney, night messenger for the Western Union Telegraph Company, was knocked from his wheel in West Seventh street by a collision with an unknown rider. Sweeney did all in his power to keep clear of the other rider, but the latter was evidently a beginner and persited in keeping to the left of the road. Sweeney sustained a few slight bruises.

Fell From a Tandem.

Mayor B. A. Hegeman and Mrs. Hegeman were riding a tandem wheel last evening on Park avenue and were so unfortunate as to have a fall in which Mrs. Hegeman was injured to the extent that she was conveyed to her home in a carriage.

BOOTH-TUCKER TALKS.

SALVATION ARMY LEADER TELLS OF THEIR WORK.

He Explains the Practical Ways in Which They Labor and Draws an Ideal Picture of Their Results.

An unusual procedure marked the meeting at the Salvation Army hall last evening, very much unlike that which was used several weeks ago when Mrs. Booth-Tucker was present and addressed a large gathering. Last evening it was different in this particular that the appearance of Commander Booth-Tucker was not marked by any great ovation. When the Commander entered the hall, followed by the "Victory Boys," he gave a signal and all noise ceased. He was accompanied by several officers from headquarters, including Staff-Captain Dunham, Adjutant Damon and Dr. Nise. As soon as the Commander appeared on the platform, he was presented with a handsome bouquet by a young woman, which he accepted most gracefully.

Commander Booth-Tucker is tall and has a distinguished appearance. There is something very attractive in his manner and speech and in the latter he has a slight accent which is not unpleasant.

The hearty singing of "Down Where the Living Waters Flow," opened the service, after which Adjutant Damon offered a fervent earnest prayer. A violin solo by Dr. Nise followed. He was accompanied on the guitar by Adjutant Taylor. The selection concluded with a familiar hymn which was sung by the Salvationists.

Brigadier Evans then made a few excellent remarks in which he introduced Booth-Tucker. The later, in part, said:

"I want to read the fourth chapter of the book of Zachariah, for I believe that the Salvation Army was founded on that chapter. You will find men that are wide awake in business, at the stock markets and in every pursuit making money, but in religion they are asleep. You will find women the same way in their homes. The Lord awakened Zachariah out of his sleep and may we also be awakened. Outside of the church barracks or prayer-meeting, some people's light is never burning. The oil is so low that their lamps smoke, causing a bad oder, and finally people say blow out the light or turn it up. It would take a good pair of spectacles to read by the light of some Christians. We teach that not only must a person's circumstances be changed, but also the man must be changed, also that a man and woman can be holy. Some people are born with good tempers, but the devil comes along with an extinguisher and puts out that light. I would feel proud to die in a poor house and go to heaven that way, and have my clothes hung up in a museum where people could point to them and say there are the clothes of one who died in the Lord. There was a time when I loved money, the ball and the theatre, but God has changed my heart. In talking to two men in New York yesterday, I was asked what the social plan of the army was. In the first place the man's circumstances must be changed as well as the man himself. That is the root, source and secret of our work. We don't leave God out of our calculations. I had a wonderful tour with General Booth through all the principal cities in the old world and we met nearly all the prominent officials. We were convinced that there was great need of something being done. I am an American citizen and intend being a good one. I ought to be for I have good ones around me. I am unequal for the position I hold but my wife and I are going forward and we are going to be real Americans.

"The newspaper is more authority than the Gospel of St. Mark. It might be the Gospel according to St. Newspaper, but there is a fact that I have never heard a newspaper dispute and that is that one-tenth of the population of the world is on the border of starvation. There are 150,000,000 of people who never know what it is to be without hunger and a large portion have no place they can call home. These facts are enough to give one the night mare. The Salvation Army pulled off their coats, rolled up their sleeves and went to work while others were theorizing. I remember hearing a story of a telegraph operator in India, who, while working in the office of a railroad station, which was being demolished by tigers, wired the following message to headquarters: "Tigers eating station, Master; wire instructions." This reminds me of editors sitting in their chairs, people reclining in their homes wiring back and forth, "Tigers eating station, Master; wire instructions." According to Statistician Hunt there are 40,-

VICTORY COMPLETE

Silver Men Carried Out Their Plans to the Letter.

MINORITY REPORTS VOTED DOWN

Tillman's and Hill's Speeches—Hisses and Cheers for the South Carolinian—Tremendous Ovation Follows Bryan's Address.

Chicago, July 10.—The third day's session of the democratic national convention was called to order by Chairman White at 10:52, and at that time the hall was densely packed, as everybody knew that a great struggle was to come on the adoption of the free silver platform. They knew that Hill and Tillman were pitted against each other, and an exciting time was anticipated. After prayer by the Rev. Dr. Green of Iowa, Senator Jones took the platform and began reading resolutions. The financial plank was applauded, but for the most part little attention was paid to the reading. When the Cuban plank was read a Cuban flag was raised. Chairman Richardson ordered it lowered, and he was obeyed. After he had concluded the reading of the platform, Senator Jones announced that a minority report was to be submitted, and that it had been agreed that one hour and twenty minutes should be allowed on each side for debate. Senator Hill then sent to the clerk's desk the minority report. The reading of the report was received quietly, although there was some cheering when the endorsement of the Cleveland administration was read.

Speech of Senator Tillman.

At 11:28 Senator Tillman mounted the platform to deliver a fifty-minute speech in favor of the platform as reported by a majority of the committee. As he went up he was hissed and cheered in about equal proportions. His face was pale. On one lapel of his coat he wore a diminutive Cuban flag, and on the other the Tillman badge, the reprsentation of a pitchfork. As he advanced upon the stage the chairman rapped and shouted for order, and presently the hisses and cheers were quieted. Then he spoke, in a voice pitched in a high key. He introduced himself by saying that he came before his hearers not as "the lying newspapers had represented him to be." There was a burst of applause and hisses, and then he went on. "I came," he said, "from the state which was the home of secession." Here again he was interrupted by a storm of hisses and cheers, and he said: "There are only three things that hiss—a goose, a serpent, and a man." Then, raising his head and addressing the galleries, he shouted that the man who hissed South Carolina forgot the history of the revolution, when that state kept alive the fires of liberty. "South Carolina in 1860," he said, "led the fight in the democratic party which disrupted it. Disruption brought about the war, and the war emancipated the black slaves. Now we are leading the fight to emancipate the white slaves." The silver men shouted their approval when he declared that they were adopting a new declaration of independence—"16 to 1 or bust," but the storm of hisses issued forth again when he repudiated the denial that this was a sectional contest. "I say it is a sectional issue," he cried, "and it will prevail." When he asked if New York and Pennsylvania had earned their great increases of wealth during the last decade he was answered by "yes" and "no" cries. Soon the hissing began again at some radical utterance and the South Carolinan took occasion to say that "four years ago the New York senator was hissed as I am now." "Where is New York now?" he asked, "Where is New York's leader?" And from the gallery came in the cry: "In the soup," which brought down a wave of cheers. Tillman stood waiting for the noise to subside, and then using his hand before his mouth for a speaking trumpet, he shouted: "You can just as well understand that I am going to have my say if I stay here till sundown." The chairman appealed for order. There were cries of "Hill, Hill!" and Tillman yelled: "Hill will follow me. I will have no reply. I tried to get him to go in front, but he would not." At 12:21 Tillman closed, offering a resolution denouncing the Cleveland administration. The hisses and jeers drowned the applause as he left the platform.

Senator Hill's Speech.

At 12:33, amid the greatest demonstration of the day, Senator Hill made his way to the platform. Some of the silver men cheered, but most of them sat quietly in their seats. New York gave the tiger yell, and repeated it. Hill stood at the front of the platform while the demonstration, which continued fully ten minutes, was going on. The chairman made frantic efforts to secure order, but the cheers broke out again and again. When order was restored the senator said: "I am a democrat, but not a revolutionist. Nothing can drive me from the democratic party." (Cheers by both silver and gold men.) He said that he would not attempt to answer the speech of Mr. Tillman. As it was not necessary to defend New York or her citizens. New York was the Gibraltar of democracy. Senator Tillman could not say as much of his state, which had attempted disruption. The convention ought not to declare for free silver, nor yet ought it to be a gold-bug convention. (Cheers.) It ought to declare for international bimetalism. It was as sensible to propose to do away with international and commercial treaties as to attempt to act alone on this important matter. Besides, the single ratio of 16 to 1 was not the only portion which might be right. The platform had not said a single word in favor of international bimetallism. The senator denounced the plank favoring the renewal of the income tax law. It was unwise, he said, to assail the supreme court. He would not follow such revolutionary steps. It was also unwise to criticize the issue of bonds by the administration. "Is this repudiation?" he asked. "What condition would the country now be in if it had not been for the issues of bonds?" He said that the platform was full of absurd propositions, calculated to injure the party. He opposed it, for one reason, because it made the difficulties of the eastern democrats in the coming campaign too great. He concluded at 1:21, amid great cheering from the gold delegates. He was followed by Senator Vilas of Wisconsin, who warned the silver men of the consequences of failure to heed the protest of the minority. Senator Vilas was followed by ex-Gov. Russell of Massachusetts, who spoke in favor of the minority report.

Great Ovation to Bryan.

W. J. Bryan of Nebraska made the closing speech for the silver men and when he had finished there ensued perhaps the most extraordinary scene of this extraordinary convention. As if by the magic touch of a wand delegation after delegation rose in solid phalanx and gave vent to the most enthusiastic demonstration in honor of the Nebraskan orator. Everybody stood up, even the eastern men, who declared that Mr. Bryan was the most acceptable silver man for president. Westerners shouted, waved handkerchiefs, hats, flags, canes umbrellas and anything else conspicuous and portable. When that pastime became too tame, led by delegate Galwood of Texas, nearly all of the silver states and territories and some gold states joined in a procession, bearing the state poles and marched in triumph around the floor. This furore continued for a quarter of an hour.

Vote on the Resolution.

When some degree of quiet was restored the previous question was ordered on the platform and all amendments. It resulted: Yeas, 303; nays, 626. The result of the roll call on the resolution indorsing the administration was announced: Yeas, 357; nays, 564; not voting and absent, 9; total, 930. Mr. Hill's two financial amendments were then voted down viva voce. At this point Senator Tillman climbed upon the chair and stated that the failure to pass a resolution of commendation carried with it a vote of censure. "No brave man strikes a fallen foe. I withdraw my amendment censuring the administration." (Cheers and hisses). Roll call on the adoption of the platform as reported by committee on resolutions resulted: Ayes, 628; nays, 301. A recess was then taken until 8 p. m.

THE ANCIENTS AT ALDERSHOT.

Lord Wolseley and Other Distinguished Men Meet Them at Waterloo Station.

London, July 10.—The members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston left their quarters at the Hotel Cecil yesterday and, headed by the band of the Honorable Artillery company of London, marched to the Waterloo station, where they took a special train for Aldershot. They were cheered all along the line of march. At the Waterloo station they were met by Gen. Lord Wolseley, commander-in-chief of the British forces; Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood, Gen. Sir Redvers Buller and others of the headquarters staff; Ambassador and Mrs. Bayard and the Earl of Denbigh, lieutenant-colonel of the Honorable Artillery company.

THE HENLEY REGATTA.

Leander Wins the Grand Challenge Cup, Guinness the Diamond Sculls.

Henley-on-Thames, July 10.—The principal events of the last day of the Henley regatta were final heats respectively for the Grand Challenge Cup and the Diamond Sculls. Although much of the interest in these contests was lost because of the almost absolute certainty that the Leander Rowing club's eight would win the cup and the Hon. Rupert Guinness would capture the sculls for another year, both of which probabilities became facts, thousands of visitors were present. In distributing the prizes Umpire Willen expressed the pleasure it afforded to sportsmen in welcoming such excellent oarsmen as the Yale and French crews.

GREEK GOVERNMENT ALARMED.

Report That Russia Is Prompting France To Occupy Crete.

London, July 10.—The Westminster Gazette publishes a special dispatch from Athens to the effect that Russia is prompting France to occupy Crete and hold the island against Great Britain's tenure of Cyprus and Egypt. The Greek government has become alarmed at this and is endeavoring to induce the Cretans to accept the terms of the porte. The British fleet has been so strengthened in Cretan waters as almost to blockade the island.

The Venezuelan Dispute.

Berlin, July 10.—The Herold News Agency which circulated a report that special a envoy had arrived in Berlin from Caracas intrusted by the Venezuelan government with authority to negotiate with the British government a settlement of the Venezuelan boundary dispute, now asserts that the envoy is Gen. Fietri, that he is accredited to both the Berlin and Madrid governments, and will present his credentials immediately upon the return of the kaiser from his northern trip.

The French in Madagascar.

Paris, July 10.—Advices have been received here to the effect that the have proclaimed a state of siege in the disturbed parts of the of Madagascar.

SCOTT'S Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites, can be taken as easily in summer as in winter. Unlike the plain oil it is palatable, and the hypophosphites that are in it aid in digestion and at the same time tone up the system.

For sickly, delicate children, and for those whose lungs are affected, it is a mistake to leave it off in the summer months. The dose may be reduced if necessary.

We recommend the small size especially for summer use, and for children, where a smaller dose is required. It should be kept in a cool place after it is once opened.

FULL OF EXCITEMENT

Scenes at the Democratic Convention Last Night.

NOMINATING SPEECHES WERE MADE

The Name of Each Candidate Received with Deafening Demonstrations—Sergeant-at-Arms and Chairman Powerless To Maintain Order.

Chicago, July 10.—The masses of spectators at the evening session of the convention were, if possible, greater and the excitement intenser than at any previous meeting of the convention, because the crisis of the nominating speeches and of balloting for the presidential candidates had arrived. The convention was called to order at 8:30 p. m., by its presiding officer, Senator White of California, who immediately handed the gavel to Representative Richardson of Tennessee, who acted as president pro tem. It took the sergeant-at-arms and his assistants fully ten minutes to stop the uproar and confusion. The chairman told the convention that the roll of states would now be called so that nominations of candidates for the presidency should be made. Speeches were limited to thirty minutes each. Senator Vest of Missouri rplaced in nomination Richard Bland of Missouri, and at the close of his address there was a great demonstration. The nomination was seconded by David Overmeyer of Kansas and Hon. J. R. Williams of Illinois. When Georgia was called H. T. Lewis nominated W. J. Bryan of Nebraska. The nomination was seconded by George Fred. Williams of Massachusetts and Thos. J. Kernan of Louisiana. The demonstration for Mr. Bryan was almost a duplicate of that which attended the placing in nomination of Mr. Bland. Throughout the entire evening the disorder was so great that the speakers at times could not be heard. The seargeant-at-arms' appeals and threats were hooted and jeered at and there were repeated threats of adjournment. The chair announced that if the convention met to-day only deldgates would be admitted if order did not prevail. This threat was howled down and pandemonium almost continually held forth. Senator Turpie placed the name of Gov. Matthews in nomination. The nomination was seconded by Oscar Trippett of California. During much confusion Hon. Fred White of Iowa was recognized and he placed in nomination ex-Gov. Boies. The nomination was seconded by A. P. Smith of Minnesota.

Boies Priestess.

At this point a mild demonstration ensued, gradually growing in vigor and effect. Suddenly in the extreme corner of the hall a female dressed entirely in white sprang to her feet and, assuming the attitude of a Goddess of Liberty, attracted the attention of every person in the hall. The delegates all rose to their feet and did homage to her. With two flags which were handed her the priestess of the Boies boom redoubled her exertions. Every delegate and the entire audience were on their feet, shouting and waving handkerchiefs at her. A Boies banner was carried to her, and when she flourished it a great roar of sound rolled through the hall.

Scene Beyond Description.

In a few moments she started down the steps to the floor and toward the platform with the banner, and the scene was beyond description. The convention shouted itself hoarse and the lady took up her position with the Iowa delegation. Thence she came to the front and was almost crushed in crowd. There were cries of "Take the platform," but they were not heeded. Returning the banner to the Iowa delegation, the excitement subsided. It was then learned that the lady was Miss Minnie Murray of Nashua, Iowa. While the scene lasted it was an exaggeration of that at Minneapolis four years ago, when two ladies headed the demonstrations for Blaine and Harrison respectively. The incident occupied sixteen minutes. A reference by Jones to the "Peerless Altgeld of Illinois" provoked a great outburst of cheers and hisses. Allan McDermott of New Jersey said they did not desire to name a man to stand on the platform. When New York was called Mr. Hill said they had no candidate to present to this convention. A. W. Patrick of Ohio nominated John R. McLean. Pennsylvania being called, Mr. Harrity explained that she had no candidate to present at this time. Later on she would be heard from. Joe Bailey of Texas seconded Bland's nomination.

Russell Declines To Stand.

Hon. J. F. Rhea of Kentucky placed in nomination the name of senator Joseph S. Blackburn of Kentucky. W. W. Foote of California seconded Blackburn's nomination. The chairman of the Massachusetts delegation said that the state convention had instructed the delegates to present the name of ex-Gov. Russell, but that gentleman had declined to stand on the platform, and Massachusetts therefore had no candidate to present at this time. Hon. Paul Jones of Arkansas then took the platform and seconded the nomination of Bland.

Adjourned Until To-Day.

On motion of Senator Jones the convention adjonrned at 12:45 this morning until 10 o'clock, the nominating speeches having been concluded. This adjournment earlier than was anticipated was partially due to the fact that the carbons in the eletric lights were almost consumed and it was impossible to renew them before morning.

Sleep

Induced by the use of coca, opiate or narcotic compounds is bad, decidedly bad. It undermines the health and shatters the constitution and the patient is steadily growing into a worse condition—often resulting in the terrible slavery and misery of the cocaine and opium habit. Sleep induced by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla may not come as quickly, but it comes more surely, permanently and is

Sweet

And refreshing because it is realized through nature's great restoring and rejuvenating channel—purified, vitalized and enriched blood. This feeds the nerves with life-giving energy and builds up the system and constitution from the very foundation of all health and life—the blood—pure, rich, red blood.

Refreshing

"I was generally run down last spring, appetite was poor and I could not sleep. Hood's Sarsaparilla built me right up, gave good appetite and I was soon able to get a good night's rest." G. F. WHITNEY, Merchant, Yeomans St., Ionia, Michigan.

FOR THE CYCLIST.

A cycle cleaning brigade is proposed for London, the boys to be stationed at street corners like the bootblacks.

Bicycle fashion item—Falls hurt just as much this year as ever. No changes have been made in them. They are worn principally on the elbows and knees.—Argonaut.

Briggs—"What! A new bicycle suit! And so different from the one you had on the other day." Griggs—"You bet it is! I ran over a woman who lives in the next block and I don't want her to recognize me."—Truth.

One curious effect of bicycling in England is the elimination of chaperons out of doors. Young women, who would not have dreamed of riding horseback unattended by a groom, now go wherever they please alone on their bicycles.

"Did you ever see a worse Anglomaniac than Wabbles?" "Is Wabbles one of them fellers?" "Is he? He has a tank of English atmosphere shipped to him every week to fill his tires with; he claims he can't ride without it."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The bicycle has now reached the dignity of being the theme of a novel. "A Widow on Wheels" is the title of a story about to be published in London, and if all who ride wheels buy a copy of it it will have a success that will put "Trilby" in the shade.

The fatalities in England and Wales during 1894 attributed to cycling numbered 30, and this included riders and pedestrians. In the same year perambulators killed four persons, steam rollers 15, tram cars 55, and other road vehicles, 1,166.

BRIEF AND BRIGHT.

"So you feel you cannot marry him?" "Yes, I am fully decided." "Why, don't you like him?" "O, like him well enough, but I can't get him to propose."—Harlem Life.

"How did I manage to sell such a costly picture?" repeated the artist, with a low, rippling laugh. "That's something of a professional secret, but I don't mind telling you. I made it in the form of a folding bed."—Richmond Dispatch.

When a girl is 16 the eligibility of a young man depends a good deal on what sort of a mustache he has. When she is 26 she is likely to think more about his bank account.—Somerville Journal.

Something Different.—"You surely do not favor petticoat government?" said an objector to a woman suffrage advocate. "No, I don't," was the reply. "I favor bloomer government."—Detroit Free Press.

George—"That Miss Millwood has a charming expression." Maud—"Do you think so? I think she has a very sly face." George—"A sly face?" Maud—"I mean the kind of a face that you wouldn't want to trust alone in a pantry with another girl's pie."—Cleveland Plaindealer.

WHEN CORN IS IN SEASON.

A delicate but almost forgotten way of preparing corn is to roast it. Open the husks and remove the silk: close the husks and roast in the hot ashes of a wood fire. Serve with butter, pepper and salt.

Cut the corn from the cob and put with an equal quantity of tomatoes, pared and sliced. Stew for half and hour and season, adding some sugar. Stir in some butter and let the dish simmer before serving.

Cut the corn from the cob and boil 15 minutes in water which was boiling when the corn was put in. Pour off most of the water, cover with milk and boil till tender. Pepper and salt are added and the dish is done.

Sweet corn is best when boiled in the husks. The outer husks are taken off, the silk removed and the corn covered with the inner husks, which are tied on. Put in salted boiling water for half an hour and serve on a napkin.

Split the kernels on an ear of corn with a knife and scrape out the milk. Add one-third as much cream as there is corn and add butter, pepper and salt and then bake in a dish for half an hour or until the corn begins to rise.

FADS, FANCIES AND FASHIONS.

Just now the fashion in book production in London is long, narrow, rough-edged, paper covered volumes, each series styling itself a "library."

Mrs. Martha Beers, a clever stenographer in Boston, has invented a collapsible theater hat, which can be folded into a small and almost invisible compass while on the head by simply pulling a string.

The "loving cup" of spiced wine, which is sometimes handed around at mansion house entertainments, had its origin in the custom of Saxon forefathers to drink each other's health in a wassail bowl.

One of the women of the Vanderbilt connection has the last new convenience in broughams — a speaking tube — by means of which she can communicate with her coachmen without the trouble of opening the door.

A talking watch is on exhibition in Paris. It has neither face nor hands; but when you want to learn the hour, you place this confidential time-piece close to your ear, and the exact minute is imparted to you in a melodious whisper.

OF TREE AND FLOWER.

Forests cover one-third of the land surface of the earth.

In the Andes there is a wax tree, the product of which is very similar to beeswax.

Roses and orchids are to be the chief flowers for table decoration during the summer in England.

Hawaiian honeysuckles grow in clusters on low bushes right on the very brink of the brimstone beds, and are so numerous that a bushel may be easily gathered in half an hour. In appearance they somewhat resemble a cranberry, and the flavor is pleasantly suggestive of grapes.

A GENERAL DISSENT

Resolutions of the Gold Men That Were Voted Down.

ATTACK ON MAJORITY PLATFORM

Against the Principles of the Party—Some of the Declarations Extreme and Revolutionary—Fundamental Difference on the Money Question.

Chicago, July 10.—The following is the full text of the report of the minority of the committee on resolutions of the democratic convention: "To the democratic convention: Sixteen delegates, constituting the minority of the committee on resolutions, find many declaration in the majority report to which they cannot give their assent. Some of these are wholly unnecessary. Some are ill-considered and ambiguously phrased, while others are extreme and revolutionary of the well recognized principles of the party. The minority content themselves with this general expression of their dissent, without going into a specific statement of these objectionable features of the report of the majority. But upon the financial question, which engages at this time the chief place in public attention, the views of the majority differ so fundamentally from what the minority regard as vital democratic doctrine as to demand a distinct statement of what they hold to be a just and true expression of democratic faith upon this paramount issue, as follows, which is offered as a substitute for the financial planks in the majority report: We declare our belief that the experiment on the part of the United States alone of free silver coinage and a change of the existing standard of value, independently of the action of other great nations, would not only imperil our finances, but retard or entirely prevent the establishment of international bimetallism, to which the efforts of the government should be steadily directed. It would place this country at once upon a silver basis, impair contracts, disturb business, diminish the purchasing power of the wages of labor, and inflict irreparable evils upon our nation's commerce and industry. Until international co-operation among leading nations for the free coinage of silver can be secured, we favor the rigid maintenance of the existing gold standard as essential to the preservation of our national credit, the redemption of our public pledges and the keeping inviolate of our country's honor. We insist that all our paper and silver currency shall be kept absolutely at a parity with gold. The democratic party is the party of hard money, and is opposed to legal-tender paper money as a part of our financial system, and we therefore favor the gradual retirement and cancellation of all United States notes and treasury notes, under such legislative provisions as will prevent undue contraction. We demand that the national credit shall be resolutely maintained at all times and under all circumstances. The minority also feel that the report of the majority is defective in failing to make any recognition of the honesty, economy, courage, and fidelity of the present democratic administration, and they therefore offer the following declaration as an amendment to the majority report: We commend the honesty, economy, courage, and fidelity of the present democratic national administration. David B. Hill, New York; William F. Vilas, Wisconsin; George Gray, Delaware; Irving W. Drew, New Hampshire; C. O. Holman, Maine; P. J. Ferrell, Vermont; Lynde Harrison, Connecticut; David F. Baker, Rhode Island; Thomas A. C. Weadock, Michigan; James L. O'Brien, Minnesota; John E. Russell, Massachusetts; Robert E. Wright, Pennsylvania; Wm. B. Steel, South Dakota; Allan L. McDermott, New Jersey; Charles D. Rogers, Alaska.

Increase in Activity of the Rebels.

GOLF.

The Commercial Advertiser of last evening has the following complimentary notice of some Plainfield women: "The women of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, Plainfield, N. J., are rapidly developing into good golfers, notably Miss Dumont, Miss Waring, Miss Evans, Miss Walz, Miss Reinhart, Mrs. J. Doull Miller and Mrs. F. A. Barnaby."

The Latest Route.

The latest proposed route of the street railway to Scotch Plains and Fanwood is through Midway avenue to a new street already surveyed and staked out along Midway avenue to a point almost opposite to Westfield avenue, from Scotch Plains, east. Agents and others high in authority for the company have been looking over the ground and it is understood have sanctioned the scheme. This would give a direct route to Westfield and Elizabeth from here.

NEW MARKET.

Mrs. Lucy Titsworth, of Prospect avenue, is entertaining her daughter from Hartford, Conn.

Mr. Hendricks, who has been visiting Stanley Day for a few days, has returned home to Elizabeth.

The marriage of Miss Anna Ludovici, of this place, to Mr. Ellis, of Plainfield, took place Tuesday evening at the bride's home. Miss Clawson was bridemaid and Al Thorn, of Grant avenue, was best man. Rev. Mr. O'Donnell, of Plainfield, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis have taken up their residence in Plainfield.

DUNELLEN.

Mrs. Brown, of North avenue, is entertaining her daughter from Elizabeth.

Mrs. Keulin, of Front street, is spending a few days with friends in Harmony, N. J.

Mrs. Elston Lowrie and family, of North avenue, have gone to New Rochelle, N. Y., to spend a few weeks.

Rev. A. I. Martine, of Church street, has gone to Washington, D. C., to attend the Christian Endeavor convention.

Miss Minnie Luckhurst, of Staten Island, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Luckhurst, of Greenbrook.

Miss Anna Lloyd, a teacher in the Whittier High School, has gone to Bryn Mawr, Pa., to spent her vacation with her parents.

000 people who never know what it is to be without hunger. This is the subject to be grappled. The scheme "Darkest England" has been often criticised, the telescope, opera glasses, and papers have all looked at it, and there is one opinion and that is, it is the best known plan. It is a cut-and dried practical plan which has exceeded expectations. There must be a machine to carry out the plan. We have a wonderful machine, a sort of dredge. There are also agents to carry out the plan. We have people who are willing to spend and be spent in the work of saving souls. We have 12,000 skilled officers who are willing to go anywhere. They are not guaranteed a salary, but must raise their own money. There are 200,000 unpaid workers ready to go in the slums or anywhere to save souls. There are eighty-four rescue and slum officers, one of which gets $2 per week and the others $1 per week, including food. It's a true fact that if you want to get $1 down a man's throat you must spend $2 to do it. 10,000 people are sheltered every night by the Salvation Army.

"In London last year there were 5,000 sheltered and it cost $365,000 If the city had done this it would have cost them $500 000. In this country there are 300 social institutions well officered and doing a good work. We have a plan to reach everybody, and for that purpose have organized a society called the 'Knights of Hope.' For the rescue work we have a society called the 'League of Love' composed of a band of girls who visit and hold midnight meetings and help fallen women. Then there is another society called the 'Naval and Military League' organized for doing a special work among veterans of the G. A. R., and people in the navy. It costs $500 to fit up a home and then we arrange for its maintenance. God is still blessing us, and the recent troubles have not hurt us much. Out of 2,000 officers, we lost sixty, and we now have 628 corps. We rely on your prayers and help. We ask for your continued assistance in our march on to victory."

Adjutant Taylor and Brigadier Evans then took charge and asked earnestly for a large collection. The former remarked that people don't like to pay for religion, whereupon the Commander replied that he thought the people didn't like to pay for perspiration. Adjutant Taylor made a strong appeal and received a fair collection. He announced that next Thursday evening Staff-Captain Edith Marshall would be present and give a talk on "France and Switzerland." After Commander Booth-Tucker offered a closing prayer the meeting adjourned.

There were 400 people present and a large number remained to shake hands with the Commander.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

A new grocery store was opened in this place today by a man from Brooklyn.

Miss Annie Collins, of New York, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Blimm.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McGloin, of New York, have returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blimm.

Clarence Lambert will chaperone a party from here to Trenton on a pleasure bicycle trip next Monday. They will probably return by rail.

Another one of Hon. George Kyte's charitable acts is noted in the following: On Tuesday night he met on the streets in Scotch Plains a cripple, and in the course of conversation the Sheriff learned that the man's name was J. A. McDonald, a volunteer in the 79th New York Regiment, Co. A. The stranger was bereft of an arm and leg and was on his way to Newburg, N. Y. The kind-hearted Sheriff took pity on the man, took him to Blimm's Hotel, ordered supper, a good bed and breakfast for the crippled man, and furthermore next morning met him at the station and paid his entire carfare to Newburg.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds, croup and whooping cough. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by T. S. Armstrong. Druggist.

We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasanter or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventive of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Persons who have a coughing spell every night, on account of a tickling sensation in the throat, may overcome it at once by a dose of One Minute Cough Cure. L. W. Radolph, 143 West Front street.

SICK-POISON.

What it is, and Where it Comes From.

Sick poison is what makes you sick, irritates your nerves, disorders your functions, saps your strength, makes you miserable.

Different diseases have different poisons, some have several, indigestion more than any.

That is, the symptoms of indigestion are caused by the poisons which are created by undigested food.

When you are sick, try to get rid of your poison.

It is often easier than you think, for all nature is helping you Only the poison is obstinate, but the first step is to go to the root of it.

The poisons of undigested food, which cause lethargy, headache, dizziness, weakness, bad taste, stomach-ache, fever, flatulence, nausea, constipation, loss of appetite, jaundice, anæmia, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc., these poisons can be swept away and annihilated by the Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Curing the stomach and helping it to digest food, when it is too weak to do so by itself, will purify your system of poison and renew your strength and health.

Shaker Digestive Cordial, a pure vegetable, digestive tonic, made by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, will cure all disorders caused by the poisons of undigested food when nothing else will give any relief.

Sold by druggists. Ten cents for a trial bottle.

Write for a book on food. Address The Shakers, 30 Reade Street, New York

—You can't buy happiness, but if you are suffering from dyspepsia, scrofula, salt rheum, impure blood, you may be cured and made happy by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hoods pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Harmless, reliable, sure.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

Small in size, but great in results. De Witt's Little Early Risers act gently but thoroughly, curing indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation. Small pill, safe pill, best pill. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Go to VanEmburg & Son's big crystal sale.

—The next band concert will take place next Tuesday evening.

—The Union meat market on West Front street has a new sign and awning.

—The Independent Fife and Drum Corps held a practice meeting Tuesday evening.

—The Young Men's Association of Monroe Avenue chapel will hold their regular meeting this evening.

—It is a fact worthy of note that the single motor trolley cars can only make about eight miles an hour.

—Miss Jessie Marsh, of Scotch Plains, will give a tea at her home, "Brookside," on Saturday afternoon.

—A new order of I. O. F. is about to be organized in this city. The organization will be perfected early in August.

Mrs. F. R. Burgess, of Westervelt avenue, left yesterday afternoon for Fall River, Mass., for a visit among relatives.

—The young people of Grace M. E. church are arranging for a tennis tournament to be commenced in a short time.

—Special sale Saturday afternoon and evening for cash. Bluefish 8 cents, weakfish 6 cents, flounders 6 cents, at Rogers' West Second street.

—Plainfield Republicans will meet this evening at headquarters and elect delegates to attend the Asbury Park convention to be held July 15th.

—Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff in the case of Griffin against Hunter, which was tried before Justice Newcorn yesterday afternoon.

—The Germania Beneficial Society will hold a festival at T. A. B. hall August 17th and 18th. There will be all kinds of entertainment and also dancing.

—On Saturday the Ladies' Aid Society of Monroe Avenue chapel will enjoy an outing at Boynton Beach. Preparations have been made for a large time.

—A meeting of the Crescent Company, No. 13, Uniformed Rank of Knights of Pythias, was held Wednesday evening and regular business transacted.

—One of Billy Baldwin's horses got out of the stable on West Fourth street one night this week and after considerable difficulty the animal was located and captured near Rahway.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Thule, or Scandinavian Society, of this city, adjourned from last Saturday on account of the National holiday, will be held in the society's rooms in the Stillman building tomorrow evening. The Saturday night hops of the society will be resumed early in September.

—One machinist, who carried a traveling card and claimed to have walked all the way from Meridan, Conn., stopped over in town last night and today was around looking for work. He declared there was plenty working in this country, and especially in New Jersey, but very little work for the unemployed.

—The first Sunday-school excursion to the seashore will leave next Thursday. Those who have previously accompanied the Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school on their excursion have always had a good time, and there will be no exception to the rule this year. Don't forget the date, Thursday, July 16th.

—The attention of the street commissioner of the borough is called to the condition of the crosswalk and culvert at the corner of Grove street and Craig place. Either the culvert or crosswalk is out of plumb and in is in a very dangerous condition, especially for pedestrians traveling the northeast side of Grove street.

—Since the last rain, reddish-colored mud or muck, nearly six inches in depth, covers the roadbed under the railroad bridge at Liberty street. Attention has frequently been called to the inadequate sewer facilities there, and it will be no wonder if some of the property owners in the immediate vicinity will refuse to pay their next sewer tax. In its present condition the road bed there is an eye sore.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

J. W. Sandford and family, of East Front street, have gone to Poland Springs House, South Poland, Maine, for the summer.

—There is a probability that a tennis tournament will be started next week on the courts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Clubs.

—White of Plainfield will give to every purchaser of a shirt waist tomorrow a handsome set of silver or gold plated shirt waist sets. The sets consist of studs and a pair of link buttons. They have reduced the price on all shirt waists to just half of what they were early in the season.

—M. Weber, of East Third street, is one of the charter members of Court Plainfield, No. 1144, I. O. F. The order, it is said, started some years ago with only a handful of members, so to speak, but through the untiring efforts of Mr. Weber twenty-six new members were taken in, and from then on the order has been rapidly increasing until now it has a membership of about 100.

BRADLEY OUTWITTED.

Young Folk Ignore His Fence and Are Threatened With Arrest.

Some of the young people of Asbury Park are taking exceptions to the board fence erected by Founder Bradley last season, at the north end of the board walk. This fence was placed in position in order to keep young couples off the dark beach, north of the board walk after nightfall.

But the young people have found a way of getting around this. They come along the banks of Deal Lake and from there to the beach, until it has become a notorious fact lately that the fence is no longer a protection. It was only a few nights ago that Policeman Hurley, who is always on the lookout for breaches of propriety, discovered several couples making for this precinct. He stopped them unceremoniously, telling them that they would have to return or submit to arrest. After protesting in vain, they turned back—all but one young lady who fainted and fell into the policeman's arms.

He used such restoratives as were at hand and after she had recovered she promised faithfully never to do so again and hurried off the beach.

But They'll Toot Just the Same.

The money which has been subscribed by the city and from private individuals for the series of open air concerts, the last of which attracted a large and appreciative audience, has not been scarcely enough to defray the expenses. After the members of the band had been paid for the last concert, Prof. Guttman, the leader, had just eighty-five cents left for his own time and trouble. But as the professor is a good-natured sort of a fellow, he will live up to his agreement by giving another concert on Tuesday evening next.

A Cycle Party.

Miss Marion Dumont, of East Seventh street, gave a cycle party last evening in honor of her guest, Miss Wheeler, of Buffalo. The cyclers journeyed to Metuchen and back, and then partook of a delightful supper at the home of Miss Dumont. Those who formed the party were Miss VanBuskirk, Miss Waring, Miss Stewart, Miss Cooley, the Misses Holly, and Messrs. Waring, Irving West, George VanBuskirk, Dr. Ard and Dr. Hedges.

A Morning Disturbance.

There was a grand uproar on West Fourth street this morning about 3:30 caused by Thomas Kelly. He was arrested by Patrolman Myers on the charge of drunk and disorderly and came up for trial this morning before City Judge DeMeza. He was given his choice between a fine of $10 and thirty days in jail. He chose the latter as $10 bills were not plenty in his direction.

A Hotel Sold.

BRUSH WITH A BICYCLE COP.

A Passing Incident in the Life of the City Police Force.

The Newark Advertiser yesterday published a description of a bicycle trip which passed through this city and had the following in connection therewith:

A brush with a "bicycle cop" in Plainfield added a feature of novelty to our run to New Brunswick. We had turned the corner in the centre of the city and were spinning along the broad avenue in front of the Revere House, about as fast as our pedals would go around, when we heard a "Hi there!" My companion was inclined to go ahead. We could "do" the blue-coat who had shouted at us, he said, and it would be fun to lead him on and make him think he could "do" us.

Prudent Counsel prevailed, however and we slowed up.

"Want to race?" shouted my companion, as the fleet wheeled guardian of the law puffed up alongside of us like a small revenue cutter. "We thought we'd slow up and give you a chance. No law against fast riding here is there?"

"Yes there is," replies the exponent of civil authority, rather uncivilly, "and the place where you belong is in the lock-up." He was hot under the collar in more senses than one.

"O, no we don't" said my friend, in a tone of easy banter. "We belong in New Brunswick in less than an hour, and we've got to hasten to make it. Good bye, my friend. Sorry to leave you so unceremoniously, but we must. If there's any fine we will settle it on our return."

The "cop," who was after all a good natured specimen of the genus club-swinger, smiled good-humoredly and gave a parting salute as we pushed on at a guarded pace, which we gradually increased with the increasing distance between him and us.

THEATRICAL.

It must be a blase seeker after amusement who cannot find diversion at Proctor's Pleasure Palace, with its cool auditorium, gorgeous Garden of Palms, and breeze caressed aerial garden upon the roof. The sound of mingled mirth and melody is never stilled from noon to midnight, and the constant entertainment takes on as many changes as a chameleon. Now that there are clear, warm nights, the Roof Garden show, heretofore but a minor incident, assumes added importance. Its distinct programme embraces such favorites as John W. Ransone, who rules New York with jovial jest and song, and Fields and Lewis, whose original parody songs have pith and pungency. In the wake of these clippers sail such smaller craft as Baisley and Simonds, comedy duo; the Misses Rich and Halvers, Eunice Hill, Iola Pomeroy, Emma Carns, Louise Auber and Annette Reid, songs and dances; Harry Fenton, equilibrist; the six musical Reed birds and W. C. Davis, the man from Ireland. Those who prefer big, sensational acts on the double stage below, cooled by the open sliding roof of the Garden of Palms, may see a brilliant new Spanish ballet "Kapanita" arranged by Sig. Albertieri; an electrical globe act—the only one of its kind in the world—by the graceful Alma, from the winter garden, Berlin.

A Painful Injury.

Mazie Gray, a young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos P. Gray, of Elmwood place, met with a painful injury last evening about 7 o'clock while jumping over a hammock. The injury resulted in a green-stick fracture of the radius. Drs. Davis and Adams were summoned at once and administered proper treatment. Owing to the smallness of the bone it will unite very quickly.

Late Arrivals.

The late arrivals at the Mountain Park Inn are Mr. and Mrs. Karelien, Mr. and Mrs. Atterbury, H. J. Weber, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Ogden, the Misses Ogden, of Newark; T. W. Weeks, of Cornwall.

Eli Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles for twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street

When we consider that the intestines are about five times as long as the body, we can realize the intense suffering experienced when they become inflamed. De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure subdues inflammation at once and completely removes the difficulty. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

MEETINGS IN TENTS AND CHURCHES

Mrs. Frances E. Clark Speaks on the Object and Purpose of Mothers' Societies—Co-operation with Junior Organization Urged.

Washington, July 10.—The delegates and visitors to the Christian Endeavor convention assembled by thousands in Washington were astir early this morning, making their way to the many churches set apart for the sunrise services, which begin the exercises of each day. It was a tribute to the enthusiasm and zeal of the visitors, as many of them were not yet fully recovered from the fatigue of long railway journeys. The topic at these sunrise services was "Prayer for the Convention," and in each case the meetings were led by members of the visiting organizations. These special services lasted from 6:30 to 7:15 o'clock. A short adjournment for breakfast and a walk about town and many of the delegates were gathered again at the big tents or different churches where meetings were arranged for this morning. At tent Washington the address of welcome was delivered by W. H. H. Smith, chairman of '96. Other addresses were delivered by Miss Kate H. Haus of St. Louis on the Junior Christian Endeavor society, and by Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., on "Some Conditions of Successful Service." Rev. Hugh Spencer Williams of Tennessee followed with an extended address on "Our Glorious Incentives to Service." At tent Endeavor the speakers were Rev. C. L. Work of Cincinnati on "Some Bible Phases of Prayer;" Rev. W. F. Wilson of Toronto, Canada, "The Joy of Soul Winning," and Mrs. Frances E. Clark, "The Mothers' Society of Christian Endeavor."

Mothers' Societies.

She said that the whole object and purpose of the Mothers' Society of Christian Endeavor is really included in the first sentence of their pledge. "Trusting the Lord Jesus Christ for strength, I promise Him that I will strive to do whatever He would have me do, especially that I will endeavor to bring the children to Christ and to train them for Him." Surely Christian mothers everywhere desire above all things to draw nearer Christ themselves, and to bring their children to Him and train them for His service. Is there any better way to do this than by banding themselver together for this very purpose? There are now a few societies in our own and other lands which have taken this name of "The Mothers' Endeavor society," and are regularly organized and pledged to do this work. There ought to be in every church, by whatever name it may be called, some organization that will be in very truth a mothers' endeavor society, an organization whose definite purpose should be not only prayer, but prayer and work for the children. There are already in many of our churches maternal associations and ladies' prayer meetings, having for their object, in part at least, to pray for children. We could not have these organizations pledge themselves definitely to do this work in co-operation with the junior endeavor societies, even if they do not care to change their own name or have a more formal organization. The meetings of the maternal association in many churches are held every month, and it sometimes happens, too, that in the course of time these mothers' meetings come to be grandmothers' meetings because the younger mothers do not attend. Let the Mothers' society occasionally give a social to the juniors, and let it be the pleasantest social of all in the year. Let the mothers occasionally give the children a pleasant surprise in the shape of a new banner, or some new pledge cards or any other little thing the juniors may be needing, and a new link between them would be forged.

Secretary Baer's Report.

Secretary Baer's report was full of statistics of the growth of the society. Of the states and provinces that now have each over 1,000 Young People's societies of Christian Endeavor, Pennsylvania still heads the list with 3,273; New York next, 2,971; Ohio, 2,311; Ontario has now passed to fourth place with 1,817; Illinois, 1,862; Indiana, 1,352; Iowa, 1,302. These figures do not include the various other kinds of Christian Endeavor societies, such as the Junior, the Intermediate, the Mothers' and the Senior. There are now 10,085 Junior societies. Pennsylvania leads with 1,224; then New York with 1,104; Illinois, 836; Ohio, 716; Indiana, 498; Iowa, 468; Massachusetts, 461; California, 442. Pennsylvania will for the third time secure the Junior "badge" banner for the largest gain in number of Junior societies. The other banner, now in the hands of the Assiniboia, must pass to Mexico for the greatest proportionate increase in number of Junior societies.

Intermediate Societies.

Next in numerical strength comes the Intermediate society. There are 415 of these societies enrolled, and many more of which there is no record. Illinois leads with 17 recorded. California, Indiana and Ohio each have 11 enrolled. There are 50 of the Mothers' societies and 20 of the Senior. Illinois leads in both, having 21 Mothers' and 4 Senior societies. New Hampshire and Pennsylvania each report 3 Senior societies and Kansas 11 Mothers' and Pennsylvania 7. All Canada has 3,292 societies, and in foreign and missionary lands there are 6,399 societies enrolled. The United Kingdom has over 3,000; Australia, over 2,000; France, 93; West Indies, 63; India, 128; Mexico, 93; Turkey, 41; Africa, 88; China, 40; Germany, 18; Japan, 66; Madagascar, 93; and so on until every country in the world is represented, save three or four, making a grand total of 46,125 branches. The "badge" banner, given for the greatest absolute gain in number of young people's societies, can again be carried back to England's shores. The banner for the greatest proportionate gain in number of societies for the first time crosses the ocean to Scotland.

Missionary Roll of Honor.

On the missionary roll of honor are the names of 5,869 young people's societies and 2,331 junior societies, from 35 states, 7 territories, 7 provinces, 4 foreign lands. These societies have given $154,022.68 through their own denominational boards to the cause of home and foreign missions. In addition to this amount $206,150.21 has been given by these same societies for Christ and the church in other ways. In the United States the denominational representation is as follows: The Presbyterians still in the lead, 6,458 young people's societies and 2,599 junior societies; the Congregationalists have 4,109 young people's societies and 2,077 junior societies; the Disciples of Christ and Christians, 2,941 young people's societies and 1,087 junior societies; the Baptists, 2,679 young peoples societies and 927 junior societies; Methodist Protestants, 975 young people's societies and 302 junior societies; Lutherans, 854 young people's societies and 268 junior societies; Cumberland Presbyterians, 805 young people's societies and 289 junior societies.

Methodists Lead in Canada.

In the Dominion of Canada the Methodists of Canada lead with 1,041 young people's societies and 150 Junior societies, most of the societies known as Epworth leagues of Christian Endeavor; Canadian Presbyterians next with 1,026 young people's societies and 134 Junior societies; Baptists next with 173 young people's societies and 34 Junior societies; Congregationalists next with 103 young people's societies and 40 Junior societies, etc. In the United Kingdom the Baptists lead with over 900; Congregationalists next with nearly as many; then the Methodists with over 700, and the Presbyterians, Episcopalians, Moravians, and Friends, in the order named. In Australia the Wesleyan Methodists lead, and Congregationalists, Baptists, and Presbyterians follow. To-day in the 46,125 societies throughout the world there is a total membership of 2,750,000.

President Clark's Address.

President Clark, in his annual address, sketched the platform of the organization and drew from the lessons of the accomplished work of the society inspiration for the work of the future. Christian Endeavor, he said, is a practical paradox, a reconciler of irreconcilables. It has married the ideas of denominational fidelity and fellowship between denominations. These ideas have been thought by many to be inconsistent, if not hostile, and many ecclesiastics are afraid of the Christian Endeavor fellowship because they fear it will weaken the fidelity of the society members. But the society will, sooner or later, show them the groundlessness of their fears. Christian Endeavor, he continued, also stands for a self-governed society that is yet wholly governed by its own church. "More and more strongly every year is this principle of Christian Endeavor established, that each society owes allegiance to its own church. Some churches have taken advantage of this principle of subordination to compel their Christian Endeavor societies to commit suicide, to go out of existence, or to label themselves with a local or sectarian name. Is this entirely fair? I appeal confidently to the Christian public of the future, to the sense of justice in the church at large, for my answer."

Patriotism and Humanity.

Another plank in the Christian Endeavor platform, Mr. Clark said, is "patriotism and humanity." One is wedded to the other and the union "means good rulers and good laws. It means the abolition of the saloon. It means prohibition wherever we can get it. It means Sabbath observance. It means inflexible opposition to all unrighteousness." Finally the Christian Endeavor platform stands for organization and spiritual power. One is helpless without the other, but united they may move the world. "Our future conquest," Mr. Clark said, "is a question of spiritual power," and he urged his hearers in conclusion to make "spiritual power" the watchword of the coming year.

SPAIN SHOULD BE READY.

Senor Mella Declares That War with the United States Is Inevitable.

Madrid, July 10.—Senor Mella, Caalist, speaking in the chamber of deputies, declared that the government ought to be energetic in preparing for the inevitable conflict between Spain and the United States, in which Spain would prove her virility and greatness to the world.

A Plea for a Curfew Bell.

Montreal, July 10.—The Woman's Christian Temperance union of Ottawa have presented a largely signed petition to the Ottawa city council, asking for the passage of a by-law providing for the ringing of a curfew bell. The proposed by-law authorizes the police to arrest children under fourteen found on the streets after the ringing of the bell at 9 o'clock, and take them to their homes, and provides for the punishment of their parents.

American Cricketers Win.

London, July 10.—At Lord's Cricket grounds yesterday the eleven from Haverford college, Pennsylvania, beat the Marylebone Cricket club eleven by eight wickets. There was a good attendance. Marylebone went in first and made 139 runs.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USEFUL. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

An hitherto unknown overture by Franz Schubert, which is declared to be authentic by Viennese experts, is in the possession of Herr Nicholas Dumba, of Vienna.

The painting of Christ, by Gerome, exhibited at the Paris salon this year, is creating a great deal of comment. It is called "Renan's Christ," and in realism is said to outdo Tissot himself.

One of the most famous painters of Sweden, Martin Eskil Winge, died a few days ago in Stockholm. His studies were mostly historical. Winge was 71 years old and a member of many Swedish societies.

Mr. Gladstone's political life, as represented in the pages of Punch, is soon to be published in London. He had been nine years in parliament before Punch appeared. The first pictures of him are by Richard Doyle and John Leech.

It is announced that "the kaiser has confided his latest artistic efforts, 'After Sedan' and 'The Charge of the Guard at St. Poivat,' to the well-known battle painter, Herr Roechling, who will put a few finishing touches to the imperial masterpiece."

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Politeness is a kind of anaesthetic which envelops the asperities of our character, so that other people be not wounded by them. We should never be without it, even when we contend with the rude.—Joubert.

The most commonplace people become highly imaginative when they are in a passion. Whole dramas of insult, injury and wrong pass before their minds—efforts of creative genius, for there is sometimes not a fact to go upon. —Helps.

There are two ways of attaining an important end—force and perseverance. Force falls to the lot only of the privileged few, but austere and sustained perseverance can be practiced by the most insignificant. Its silent power grows irresistible with time. — Mme. Swetchine.

It is always hard to go beyond your public. If they are satisfied with cheap performance, you will not easily arrive at better. If they know what is good and require it, you will aspire and burn until you achieve it. But from time to time, in history, men are born a whole age too soon.—Emerson.

THE SOLDIER BOYS.

There were many more native-born soldiers in the union armies during the civil war than there were foreign-born soldiers.

Each German army corps is to be equipped with a portable crematory. It resembles a huge baking oven, and is drawn by eight horses.

Osman Latrobe, Jr., and Stewart Janney, two young men well known in the social life of Baltimore, have created somewhat of a sensation in that city by sailing for Cuba in order to join the insurgents.

No less than 535 discharged soldiers were among the 4,050 persons who passed through the casual ward of the Nottingham (England) poorhouse during the first three months of this year.

Burglars broke into the barracks of the One Hundred and Thirtieth infantry regiment in the Rue de Babylone in Paris recently, carried off the safe with $25,000 bodily, and forcing the colonel's safe stole his private valuables.

A famous regiment's colors, those of the Seaforth Highlanders, are to be sold at auction in London soon. They formed part of the heirlooms belonging to the grandson of a former colonel of the regiment.

Cordite does not shatter the body as much as gunpowder. The inference is drawn from the condition of the head of a royal artilleryman at Dover, who had fired into it the cordite cartridge of a new Martini-Metford rifle.

Chili has a new Esmeralda, just launched in England, protected by an armor belt six inches thick and seven feet high, extending over 350 feet of her length, in addition to the armored deck. The Esmeralda is expected to make 22 knots under natural draught.

IN BEATEN PATHS.

Italy has two kinds of naturalization —the one under the law and the other conferred by royal decree.

A train runs now between Paris and St. Petersburg in 48 hours, the only change of cars being at the Russian frontier.

It is a popular superstition in Germany that if a young girl buries a drop of her blood under a rose-bush, she will be sure to have rosy cheeks.

The Danube flows through countries in which 52 languages and dialects are spoken. It bears on its current four-fifths of the commerce of eastern Europe.

England proposes to reform its Sunday laws; a committee of the lords has been appointed to amend them, the lord chancellor and archbishop of Canterbury at the head.

Barely 52 per cent. of the householders of London take a morning newspaper, 69 per cent. take either a morning or evening newspaper and 31 per cent. purchase neither.

A London court recently condemned to three months' imprisonment a man who had supported himself 15 years by means of begging letters. Over 500 of these were found in his room. He had squandered his wife's property, worth $75,000.

ELECTRICAL SPARKS.

The Lachine rapids are to be used to generate electricity for lighting Montreal.

An electric vulcanizer for the repairing of pneumatic tires is one of the latest inventions.

Horseless mail wagons, propelled either by electricity or naphtha, will soon be running through the streets of Boston.

A wealthy gentleman in Vienna stipulated in his will that an electric light must be constantly burning in his tomb, and another inside his coffin, for 18 months after his death.

There are about 120 public electric lighting systems in operation in the United Kingdom, of which 19 belong to London. No less than 54 systems are now run by the municipal authorities.

W. H. Preece states that since the electric light was introduced into the general post office, London, the days of absence among both officials and employes have been reduced at the rate of two per annum for each. The saving is sufficient to pay for the light.

MEDICINAL VALUE OF FOOD.

Honey is wholesome, strengthening, cleansing, healing and nourishing.

Peanuts for indigestion. They are especially recommended for corpulent diabetics.

Celery is invaluable as food for those suffering from any form of rheumatism, for diseases of the nerves and nervous dyspepsia.

Fresh ripe fruits are excellent for purifying the blood and toning up the system. As specific remedies oranges are aperient. Sour oranges are highly recommended for rheumatism.

Eggs contain a large amount of nutriment in a compact, quickly available form. Beaten up raw with sugar they are used to clear and strengthen the voice. With sugar and lemon juice the beaten white of eggs will relieve hoarseness.

Raw beef proves of great benefit to persons of frail constitution, and to those suffering from consumption. It is chopped fine, seasoned with salt and heated by placing it in a dish of hot water. It assimilates rapidly and affords the best nourishment.

NOTES AWHEEL.

An inscription has been put on the Matterhorn reading: "Notice. This hill is dangerous for bicycles."

There is but one scarlet bicycle in London, and Sir John Gorst, vice president of the council, the minister for education, rides it. Archbishop Walsh, of Dublin, also rides a wheel.

Count Tolstoi, who went among the bicyclists last year, aged 67, recently applied in Moscow for the permit which wheelmen need who wish to ride within the city lines.

1:25 p. m. Marston moves that two-thirds rule be abrogated, and insists that majority should rule. Great disorder. Several delegates on the floor. The motion is to repeat the two-thirds rule. Money of Mississippi insists that he is in order and under the rule, resolution should go to committee. Blanchard moves to lay motion on table. Chair decides that resolution must be referred to committee on rules.

As we go to press the balloting is still in progress.

The result will be announced in a later issue of The Press.

RODE ON THE ROOF.

A Tramp Tries to Work His Way on a Passenger Train.

The police received a telegram late last evening that there was an unpleasant visitor on the midnight passenger train. Patrolman Vanderweg was at the North avenue station ready to receive him and found the visitor to be a tramp who had ensconsed himself on top of one of the passenger cars.

The officer told him to come off the the roof, and, when he did, he was locked up until this morning when he was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza.

The prisoner gave his name as John Gatehill and as he had not $10, he went to Elizabeth to serve out the thirty-day term given him by the Judge.

Thompson Committed to Jail.

Gilbert Thompson, the colored bootblack, who attempted to murder his wife last week by shooting her, as was told in The Press at the time, came up for a hearing this afternoon before Justice Nash. Assemblyman Charles A. Reed appeared for him and waived examination.

Thompson was held in $500 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury, in default of which he was committed to jail. The charge was for atrocious assault with intent to kill. His sister, who witnessed the affair, was released.

Delegates to State Convention.

The directors of the Board of Trade met last evening and elected J. B. Coward, J. Fred MacDonald and J. C. Pope, delegates to attend the meeting of the State Board to be held at Trenton in September.

—Reports to the contrary, Whitney Frazee's package express still continues to do business, and all orders trusted to him will receive prompt attention.

—A. H. Martin has opened his new grocery store on West Second street, near Park avenue, and would be pleased to receive a call from his friends. His stock is all new and prices low for cash.

S. Clinton Crane, Arthur B. Crane and Walter E. Probasco returned Wednesday after an extended bicycle ride. They started last Saturday and spent several days at Asbury Park and then returned by the way of Philadelphia.

BABIES SUFFER.

Cholera Infantum Makes July the Dreaded Month.

Physicians Tell Mothers the Ideal Summer Infant Diet—Nothing Equals Lactated Food for Weaning and Teething.

The least experienced mother soon learns the dread significance of cholera infantum.

One-fifth of all the babies born die of this or some other diarrheal disease.

At the mere thought of baby going from her the loving mother draws him closer, and tries to shut her eyes to the horrible possibility. Physicians know in how many cases a mother's love for her child exceeds her knowledge of how to keep the little one well during the hot summer. Bowel troubles, which cause more deaths among children under five, during hot weather, than all other causes put together, are directly traceable to improper feeding. Diarrhea is brought on by indigestible, burdensome food that fails to nourish and thus leaves the child weak and easily prostrated by the first heated spell. All this is avoided when lactated food is used.

In all cases where it is not desirable to use the mother's milk—and such cases are many—an infant food that closely resembles healthy breast milk is the only food that is safe to give the child. Lactated food is an ideal substitute for healthy breast milk. Babies like it; they take it when they turn away from every other food; it agrees with them and they grow strong and lose that fretful unhappy condition that teething, and especially weaning time, brings with it.

Now hot weather is making every cautious mother study the best possible diet for her little ones, they should know that hundreds of physicians are prescribing lactated food with the perfect assurance that not one of their little patients will be troubled with cholera infantum, diarrhea, or show the least let-up in growing during the entire summer.

Mrs. George H. Woodbury of Leominster, Mass., writes to the Wells & Richardson Company:

"Enclosed find a picture of our daughter Helen. For three months after the first two weeks of her life there was no gain in weight, and she was constantly under the care of our physician, Dr. H. R. Brown. During this time we were trying different foods, none of which she could assimilate. When she began taking the lactated food she was having an attack of gastric fever, and it seemed doubtful if she could live. The food was administered very cautiously at first, but as there was almost immediate sign of improvement, and it has continued for more than a year, our courage and faith in lactated food are unbounded.

"We send you our hearty thanks for what it has done for our baby, and know of others who are using it with much satisfaction.

Every mother who has fed her children on lactated food will be found recommending it.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints,—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

Customer— I want a remedy for catarrh.

Drug Clerk—All right, sir. Here's a blood tonic that is advertised to build up the constitution.

Customer— Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! I want immediate relief; besides, catarrh is a local affection, and no tonic or blood purifier ever made can cure it. Here's 50 cents. Let me have Ely's Cream Balm. It's the only hing I know of to cure catarrh.

VIEWED BY DEMOCRATS.

NOMINATION OF BRYAN DOES NOT MEET WITH APPROVAL OF ALL.

Some Say They Will Stay at Home on Election Day—James E. Martine Will Work and Vote for the Ticket Named.

The nomination of William J. Bryan as the Democratic candidate for President is viewed differently by the Democrats of Plainfield. The following interviews have been secured by Press reporters this morning:

L. G. Timpson remarked that he had nothing to say.

John Mortimer—"I am going to vote for McKinley."

Counsellor William K. McClure refused to commit himself at present.

John A. Thickstun—"I think it's all right. I am in favor of free silver. I may be wrong, but I don't think I am."

Ex-Chief Marshal Panborn—"Bryan is a bright young man and will probably bring a good many young men about him."

Elston M. French—"I won't vote for a man who has such fanatical ideas as Bryan and the men who ran the convention."

Ex Councilman Spangenberg—"I am an American, a sterling Democrat, but no fool. I am now going in to help save the country."

General W. H. Sterling—"I shall be found at home on election day. I will not vote for the Democratic candidate and I will not vote for McKinley."

Samuel S. Swackhamer—"The question is a very nice one and I have not had time to look into it thoroughly yet, so I do not care to commit myself as yet."

Postmaster John M. Hetfield—"I don't think very much of it. I think it is an outrage. They did not show the spirit o. true Democracy at the the convention."

Ex-Councilman Vincent L. Frazee—"He suits me. He has a clean record and I think he is a very able man. I have read his speeches in Congress and think he is a good man."

Judge Smalley, of the borough—"An excellent nominee. I watched his course while in Congress and it was an honorable one. This Government is big enough to run its own affairs and if the people want silver with the Government's stamp on one ounce of that metal all right. We can run the ship and defy foreign bondholders."

James E. Martine—"Yes! I shall vote the Democratic ticket. Mr. Bryan I believe is an honorable and honest man, prompted by convictions and the courage to espouse and defend them—in this a wide difference from Mr. McKinley. Through the contest he has not dared to open his mouth lest it might lose him votes. As to the platform. There are some features I would wish were different, but the great House of Representatives will temper legislation on all lines. Do I approve the course of New Jersey delegates? No! They should have voted for somebody, that is what we sent them to Chicago for. If mistakes exist let us correct them inside our own party. I deem it the duty of all Democrats to sustain our ticket."

Andrew E. Kenney, the active young Democrat of the borough, said: "Bryan is a brilliant orator. I heard him make his famous tariff speech in 1894 and was deeply impressed. I made mention of it in correspondence to The Press at the time. As to the issue that will apparently be uppermost in the campaign this fall it has hardly developed as yet. As to gold, as being the only standard and being imperative for the prosperity of the country, there seems to be a great difference of opinion. One-third of the Republican party and fully two-thirds of the Democratic party have publicly declared for silver. The convention shows that the west is a great power and the men of predominating character are at the helm, that they are advanced and progressive is evident. They go to work as if they meant to win and our eastern people, with namby-pamby manners, are surprised to see their strength. Bryan's convention speech shows that he is conversant with the questions of the day. We shouldn't be too much agitated by the Silverites and their decisive action. Gold is a great bugaboo, and the menace is not as great as we are led to believe. New York, as the centre of wealth, is apt to be strong for existing customs. Still New York is beginning to learn that there are other communities. Don't give up the ship and stand by the party."

Trespassing on the Railroad.

Michael O'Larry, of Fleetwood, was passing through Plainfield last night on a coal train when the police "pulled him in." He claimed in the city court this morning that the trainmen said he could ride, but the Judge thought it trespassing and fined him $3. He had the money and paid the fine.

FOR THE SECOND PLACE.

Democratic National Convention Choosing the Vice-President.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Chicago, Ill., July 11—The Democratic National convention was called to order today one hour after the adjourned time. Senator White was in the chair.

The first ballot for Vice-President was as follows:

McLeal 111, Williams, Mass., 76, Lewis 11, Clark 50, Tillman 1, Sewell 108, Sibley 161, Daniel 11, Boies 16, Williams, Ill., 22, Harrity 11, Bland 62, Blackburn 20, Teller 1, Pattison 2, White 1.

The second ballot was as follows: Williams, Massachusetts, 16, McLean 164, Clark 22, Sewell, 37, Sibley 113 Bland 288, Pattison 1, Williams, Illinois, 13. Not voting 227.

1:50—Sibley has withdrawn his name.

REPUBLICANS AT WORK.

They Elect Delegates and Arrange For Campaign Clubs.

The first move in the coming Presidential campaign was made by the Republicans of Plainfield last evening when the general primary of the Republican State League, was held in the Republican Association rooms last evening.

The meeting was called to order by County Committeeman J. Fred Mac Donald. Mr. MacDonald was chosen permanent chairman and J. B. Coward, secretary. Five delegates to the convention of the Republican State League, to be held at Asbury Park on July 15th, in the auditorium, were elected as follows: James T. MacMurray, W. H. Drayton, J. W. Murray, Jr., William Newcorn and Wm T. Kirk.

The delegates leave this city on Wednesday morning on the 8:13 train.

A committee was appointed to formulate plans for the forming of the Republican campaign clubs. The committee consisted of the following: J. B. Coward, chairman; W. H. Drayton, J. T. MacMurray, Wm. Newcorn and Roger Murray. There was a good attendance at the meeting.

ODD HEALTH CULTURE CLUB.

Young Women Rise Before Sunrise and Walk About Barefooted in the Grass.

A band of young women residents of Westfield have formed the Health Culture Club and are carrying out some odd views they entertain.

The members of the club belong to the best families in the town. They believe that everyone, to enjoy good health, should rise an hour before sunrise and spend that hour in walking about the dewy grass barefooted. They declare that it is nature's method of health making, beautifying and invigorating. They commenced the practice late in April and hope to keep it up until frost forbids the exercise. They relate wonderful stories of their experience and the splendid effects.

Handsome Sam Sues for a Divorce.

Samuel H. Andrews, known as "Handsome Sam," who has been in the Board of Elections of Brooklyn for twenty-three years under all administrations, has commenced a suit for divorce against his wife. He is a prominent Republican politician, and his wife is equally well known in social circles. The principal co-respondent named in the papers is a real-estate dealer with offices in New York. He is Eugene R. Thompson, of 649 Macon street, Brooklyn. Mr. Andrews summered in Plainfield for several seasons and is very well known and popular with many people here.

Nathan Culver's Bail Reduced.

The Middlesex County Court yesterday reduced the bail of Nathan Culver, an aged resident of Plainfield from $1,300 to $700. Culver is charged with abducting and assaulting two little girls. The prosecutor will not move the case again until October.

Violated the Hack Ordinance.

Hackman John Keely was fined $3 in the city court this morning for violating the hack ordinance by leaving his horse's head to solicit trade. The complaint was made by George Belcher.

Rode Without a Light.

City Jude DeMeza suspended sentence on Albert Dentrone this morning. Dentrone was arrested last evening for riding without a light, but proved extenuating circumstances.

A Visiting Pastor.

Rev. Calvin Stebbins, of Worcester, Mass, who is visiting his friend Col. Mason W. Tyler, of West Seventh street, will preach in All Soul's church Sunday. Rev. Mr. Stebbins made a Decoration Day address to the Grand Army men of Plainfield three years ago and was well received.

ABUSED HER LANDLORD.

DENNIS CARNEY HAS TROUBLE WITH ONE OF HIS FLOCK.

Mrs. Polon Had a Quarrel With a Neighbor Which Ends in Her Catechising Dennis With an Unruly Tongue.

The guardian angel of Paradise Alley, Special Officer Dennis Carney, was in the city court again this morning and brought with him one of his tenants, Mrs. Mary Polon. She came not as a guest but as a prisoner, and Carney was the complainant. He charged her with using indecent and profane language.

Mrs. Polon lives in one of Carney's houses on Paradise Alley, but the relations between landlord and tenant have not been the pleasantest. The trouble started between James Harding, who lives next door, and Mrs. Polon. They quarrelled over the possession of a clothespole and Mrs. Polon applied a name to Harding that was not the most polite.

Carney was around and heard the words and after Harding retired from the field, he tried a round with Mrs. Polon, in which, he states, she spoke very insultingly to him. That was the cause of the complaint. The little court room at the station house was crowded this morning when the case came up for trial.

Mrs. Polon was present as was her counsel, William K. McClure. She is rather excitable and wanted to have her share of talking as well as her lawyer. When Carney was sworn as a witness and told his story, her indignation boiled over and she constantly interrupted the proceedings.

"She can't stop" remarked Carney when the Judge ordered Mrs. Polon to be quiet and then she looked at him, and, if looks could kill, Carney would be a dead man now. Counsellor McClure was conducting her case, but her continual interruptions were too much even for him and he started to leave the court and resign Mrs. Polon to her fate.

"Stop," she called as her counsel passed out between the lines of smiling spectators but, as he didn't, she rushed after him and begged that he remain promising to be quiet. He finally consented and she sat still and glared at her landlord who, in turn, glared at her.

The testimony was heard and the Judge declared Mrs. Polan guilty but granted the request of Counsellor McClure and suspended sentence.

"Where does she live?" asked one of the reporters to Carney.

"She lives on Cottage place in my house," was Carney's reply.

"To my grief," exclaimed Mrs. Polan who had heard the reply and then she departed.

"You," she started as she left the court room and she started to apply another "pet" name to Carney but she remembered the Judge's caution, and with lips tightly pressed together, she left the station house.

SUTTERLEIN FINED TEN DOLLARS.

Result of a Fourth of July Scrap Across the Brook.

Justice Crosley gave a hearing last evening in the case of Joseph Miller against Charles Sutterlein. It will be remembered that recently Miller received an injury in the head which he claimed was caused by a kick from Sutterlein. Last evening when the case was called Sutterlein had five witnesses who swore that Miller fell and struck his head on a barrel, while Miller claimed that he was knocked down by Sutterlein and kicked. After all the evidence had been listened to, Justice Crosley fined Sutterlein ten dollars. There seems to be some dissatisfaction regarding the sentence as the defendant had five witnesses who corroborated Sutterlein's statement, while Miller had no one to substaniate his charge.

The Rock Painted.

The annual event of painting Washington Rock took place yesterday. Ex-Chief Marshall Pangborn, Andrew Lutkins and Edward Conshee performed the work. They also trimmed the trees in that locality. Boice, Runyon & Co. very kindly donated the lime and Andrew S. Hoff generously loaned a horse and wagon. The largest part of the day was occupied doing the work and the appreciation of the public is hereby extended.

More School Facilities Needed.

The Westfield Board of Education has offered to purchase the lot and building belonging to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union on Prospect street. The ground is wanted to enable the board to build an addition to the Prospect street schoolhouse, which has been so crowded during the last part of the school year that some of the primary classes would have but half a day's session.

Mrs. Townsend Rushmore, of Stelle avenue, is now sojourning at Owen, Sussex county, N. J.

EMPTY BOTTLES IN COURT

MRS. BOWE FOUND THEM, BUT MRS. WOLF CLAIMED OWNERSHIP.

Mrs. Wolf Said That She Tried to Break Them, While Mrs. Bowe Claims that Mrs. Wolf Struck Her Instead.

The bottle played an important part in the city court this morning, it was empty, and its former contents didn't have anything to do with the case. This little drama was enacted at the "gravel pit," which is located at the end of East Third street. There was no hero or heroine to it, however, but merely a scrap between two women that live in that neighborhood.

Mrs. Sophie Bowe was the complainant in the case, and she told how she had been down at the "gravel pit." There she found some empty bottles which she placed in her coal scuttle which she carried, intending to take them home and sell them.

Mrs. John Wolf was looking about the "gravel pit" for coal when Mrs. Bowe made her discovery. Mrs. Wolf claimed the bottles belonged to her husband. Mrs. Bowe didn't see it in that light as the place was a public dump. Then Mrs. Wolf used a stick trying, she says, to break the bottles but, Mrs. Bowe says, to strike her. The blow landed on the bottles glanced and caught Mrs. Bowe on the hips. There was considerable divergence of opinion regarding the strength of the blow.

City Judge DeMeza decided that Mr. Wolf, who had been arrested for this offence, was guilty, but decided to suspend sentence on her.

MIDDLESEX IN THE BALANCE.

The Perth Amboy Freeholder Recount Ready for the Court.

Upon the decision of Chief-Justice Beasley rests the political control of the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders, and consequently the control of the county offices. The question on which the Chief-Justice is to render a decision is the legality of certain ballots cast at the April election in Perth Amboy for a member of the Board of Freeholders. South R. Farrington, the Republican candidate, now holds the seat, having been declared elected by the Election Board of Canvassers, over Editor St. George Kempson, by a plurality of sixteen votes.

The election was contested, and Assemblyman Hicks, of Middlesex county, who has been acting as referee as the personal representative of Chief-Justice Beasley, reported Thursday that all the ballots had been recounted, and those which have been objected to now await the action of the Court.

Of the 978 votes cast for Farrington, 539 have been contested. Kempson's total was 985, of which 490 have been objected to. The total votes cast show a difference of only three ballots in favor of the Republican candidate. The Court will take up the case when Mr. Kempson's lawyers are ready.

State Board of Taxation.

A meeting of the State Board of Taxation was held at the State House Tuesday. All the members of the board were present except Mayor Lentz. The board has arranged a programme of meetings at different points in the state for the accommodation of those who may wish to present appeals from unjust assessments. Appeals may be brought on for hearing before the State Board of Taxation at these sessions by filing an appeal with the clerk of the board, and serving a notice of the same, with a notice in writing upon the clerk or attorney of the taxing district where the property is situated. Such appeals must be presented at least three days before the time designated in the notice for the hearing.

Next Open-Air Concert.

The next open-air band concert will be held on Tuesday evening in front of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church.

FIRST WIFE, THEN HUBBY.

Wife Punished, Husband Angered, and Then the Latter Gets Into Court.

The usual quiet of the borough was disturbed last night and this morning, and in consequence those interested in the matter had a lively time. The people who caused the trouble were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rothenhausen, of Westervelt avenue, near the foot of the mountains. Last evening between 8 and 9 o'clock William Callaway, of Westervelt avenue, was passing the home of the former when Mrs. Rothenhauseen appeared in a disorderly manner and called him vile names. Mr. Callaway objected and went to the home of Justice Crosley, where he had a warrant issued for her arrest. She was placed in the lockup by Chief Marshal Wilson; and arraigned before the Judge. She was very noisy and inclined to make trouble. The Judge finally gave her sixty days.

This fact angered her husband, and he too began to make trouble. His language became indecent, and to give vent to his feelings he unfastened a horse belonging to Dennis Sutphen, which was tied near the lockup, and started the animal up the street. With this, Marshal Hansen started after Rothenhausen and arrested him, but had to call on Undertaker Henry De-Mott to assist him. Finally the disturber was brought before the Judge, and for a few minutes begged for mercy, saying that he did not know that Peter Hansen was an officer. The Judge was not easily phazed, however, and gave the man sixty-five days. This struck him heavy and he then threatened to bring suit. When placed in the cell adjoining that of his wife, he exclaimed, "Mamma I got five days more than you." The two were taken to Somerville this afternoon to spend sixty and sixty-five days respectively.

AT PROGRESSIVE HEARTS.

Not an Affair of Cupid, But One of Cards.

Mrs. J C. Baker, of Stelle avenue, gave a progressive heart party last evening in honor of her daughter, Miss Gertrude Baker, and her niece, Miss Anderson, of Chicago.

Miss May Evans and Laurens H. Van Buren were the successful prize winners.

There were five tables and those who played were: Miss Anna Miller, Miss Florence Waring, Miss Middledith, Miss Sheppard, Miss Gertrude Andrews, Miss Emma Schoonmaker, of Plainfield; Miss Rogers, of Pittsburg; Miss Watts, of Brooklyn; and Percy Stewart, Walter Stewart, William N. Runyon, Harry Patton, Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, Augustus D. Sheppard, Jr., Howard Beebe, J. H. P. Wharton, W. Baker, Laurens H. Van Buren and James Middledith.

After the playing was concluded dancing was enjoyed and later delightful refreshments were served.

They Want Protection.

The matter of locating a fire brigade in "Bull Frog City" is still being advocated by the residents of that quiet North Plainfield suburb. They claim that all they want as citizens and taxpayers is proper protection against fire and floods. Since Mayor "Levi" Drake has let loose of the reins of municipal government things seem to be going to the dogs in dry weather and to the brook in wet weather.

Wanton Destruction of Game.

Game Warden Tooker has been flooded with complaints from sportsmen that berry pickers, who are very numerous just now, have been destroying many game birds and their eggs, and that dogs belonging to the pickers have killed many young rabbits. The warden has begun a crusade against this destruction, and has already made three arrests. Most of those complained of are Italians.

Victim in Her Grave.

The funeral of pretty Jessie Schrieber, who was so mangled by a Long Branch train, took place yesterday afternoon at Elizabeth. The mystery regarding her death remains as deep as ever, and why she was in that out-of-the-way place, cannot be conjectured. The Rev. Mr. Sleeper and nearly all except the police believe she was foully murdered and her body placed on the track.

A Buggy Wrecked.

The wagon of Simonson, the North Plainfield feed dealer, collided with a buggy belonging to John Lynch, of Elizabeth street, and one of the front wheels of the buggy was wrecked. The accident occurred on West Front street near the Babcock building late yesterday afternoon, and was caused by the crowded condition of that thoroughfare.

Best Things at Northfield.

At the Y. M. C. A. meeting tomorrow afternoon, William D. Murray will give a report of the best things he heard at the Northfield Conference. Miss Blair will sing.

PROVIDING THE MONEY.

BOROUGH COUNCIL VOTES TO ISSUE CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS.

The Sum of $32,000 Will be Raised and Issued in Sums of $1,000, Payable in Five Years, at Five Per Cent Interest.

The adjourned session of the Borough Council held last evening was exceedingly short. All the members except Messrs. Valiant and MacLaughlin were present.

The principal business considered was the opening of Watchung avenue. Mr. Woolston offered several resolutions, all of which were adopted. The first resolution provided that certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $32,000 be issued, not exceeding the cost of the improvement of opening and grading Watchung avenue, and that the same be issued in sums of $1,000 each, redeemable one year from date and payable in five years. They are to draw interest at the rate of five per cent annually, and are to be payable semi-annually. Such certificates when issued are not to be sold at less than par, and the proceeds are to be used in opening the avenue. All money from assessments received from benefits is to be appropriated toward paying said certificates of indebtedness. The next resolution provided for the acceptance of the City National Bank's offer to loan the necessary money at par to open Watchung avenue, as their bid was considered the most advantageous and the Mayor and clerk were authorized to open an account at that bank.

The third resolution authorized the drawing of warrants for the necessary amount of money to pay the assessments for damages to the property-owners along the proposed new street. The names and each amount was previously published in these colums.

The next resolution instructed the mayor and clerk to notify the Board of Freeholders in both Union and Somerset counties that the proposed avenue is to be opened at a width of sixty feet and that it will be necessary to have a bridge over the brook to join such avenue.

Another resolution was offered that the bid of David Bowden to furnish materials, etc., as per contract to open the avenue, be accepted according to the specifications prepared by engineer F. A. Dunham, and that Mr. Bowden furnish the neeessary bond for the faithful performance of such work. The next resolution authorized Councilman Lounsbury to secure proper certificates of indebtedness to be issued. The last resolution provided that the bid of Jasper Wilson & Co., to furnish crushed stone, be accepted, and that a contract be entered into. Mr. Woolston offered all of the above resolutions and they were adopted unanimously by the council. The council then adjourned to meet Friday evening, July 31st, at eight o'clock.

An Exciting Chase.

Samuel Harland left a pair of shoes in front of a Park avenue shop this morning before the shop was opened, intending that the cobbler should get them when he opened. But an unknown colorod man came along and appropriated the shoes, exchanging them for a worthless pair he was wearing. Harland caught the man doing the trick and gave chase in company with James Donohue.

The thief ran down the alley next Jaquet's store and up along the brook. He finally circled around onto Somerset street, where he drew a knife and defied Harland who was pursuing him with two big cobblestones in his hands. After some argument he finally divested himself of the stolen property and went hobbling along in his bare feet. No arrest was made.

Another Liquor Offender.

Samuel Kline, alias Samuel Evins, a Jew, who keeps a clothing store on Plainfield avenue, was arrested this morning on the charge of selling liquor without a license and on Sunday. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $50 bail to appear for trial on Monday morning. He told Chief Grant that if he was found guilty, he was willing to suffer the consequences.

A Complainant This Time.

Nicholas Kelly figured in another city court case this morning, this time as complainant. He charged Cornelius Larkin with being disorderly and also using abusive language. Trial was set down for Saturday next.

Another Big Salvationist Coming.

Staff Captain Marshall, of the Salvation Army, will address a meeting in the barracks in this city next Thursday night on work of the Army in France and Switzerland. She is an interesting speaker.

Had No Permit.

The trial of Horatio Johnson, for building a shed without a permit from the building inspector, was adjourned this morning for two weeks.

Connecticut—Pattison, 2; not voting, 10. Colorado—Bryan, 8. The crowd cheered when Teller was dropped and Bryan substituted. Delaware—Bryan, 1; Pattison, 3; not voting, 2. Maine—Pattison, 5; Bland, 2; Bryan, 2; not voting, 3. Massachusetts—Stevenson, 5; Pattison, 3; Bland, 2; Hill, 1; Bryan, 1; not voting, 18. Michigan—Bryan, 28. New Hampshire—Pattison, 1; others not voting. New Jersey—Pattison, 1; not voting, 7. Ohio—McLean, 46. Pennsylvania—Pattison, 64. Rhode Island—Pattison, 6; declined, 2. Vermont—Bryan, 4; not voting, 4.

Fourth Ballot.

Bland, 241; Boies, 33; Matthews, 36; McLean, 49; Bryan, 280; Blackburn, 27; Pattison, 96; Stevenson, 8; Hill, 1; absent or not voting, 162.

Fifth Ballot.

The fifth ballot as officially announced: Bryan, 500; Bland, 106; Pattison, 95; Matthews, 31; Boies, 26; Stevenson, 8; Turpie, 1; Hill, 1. Changes were made thereafter giving Bryan more than the necessary 512 votes.

HILL STILL A DEMOCRAT.

Has Nothing To Say at Present on the Result of the Convention.

Chicago, July 11.—"I was a democrat before this convention and I am a democrat still." These were the words of Senator David B. Hill when he was asked by a representative of the United Press late yesterday afternoon to express an opinion upon the selection of Mr. Bryan. Further than this the senator said he did not care to talk. When the proper time arrives his views upon this convention's results, he said, would be fully set forth. Without waiting for the nomination of a vice-president, Senator Hill, ex-secretary William C. Whitney, and James W. Hinckley the chairman of the New York democratic state committee, left Chicago last evening for home. Mr. Hill was not in his seat with the New York delegation during the day, and this gave rise to sensational rumors to the effect that the New York senator had decided to bolt the convention, and that his absence was due to this determination. When a representative of the United Press told Mr. Hill of the rumors, the senator said: "Absolutely absurd. Must I attend every session? You know I have been working day and night since I came to Chicago, and I find myself completely played out. This is why I was absent from the convention, and you may deny all statements to the contrary upon my authority."

Strikers Seek Their Old Jobs.

Biddeford, Me., July 11.—The strike of the loom fixers of the Pepperell and Laconia mills which began on Monday over alleged inequality of work in the Laconia mills, is practically ended, the strikers asking to be restored to their places.

No Longer a Democrat.

Boston, July 11.—Collector Winslow Warren of the port of Boston, an appointee of President Cleveland, announced last night that he was no longer a democrat, and that he would vote for McKinley.

Mr. Rhea, who had put Senator Blackburn in nomination rose and said: "While Kentucky loves her great democrat, Joe Blackburn, and would be glad to see him elected president of the United States, yet as he served in the confederate army they do not seem to want him (faint hisses). Therefore, Kentucky takes great pleasure in casting her twenty-six votes for the world's greatest orator, W. J. Bryan" (cheers).

Bland's Name Withdrawn.

Ohio still stood by McLean. Illinois, which had asked to be passed, cast her 48 votes for Bryan. This left him with 448 votes, 66 short of the necessary number. Oklahoma changed her 6 votes from Bland to Bryan, making 454. Then Ohio withdrew the name of McLean and cast 46 votes for Bryan, making his total 500. Before the result was announced, but when it was known that Bryan had received within a few votes of the necessary number, Gov. Stone of Missouri ascended the platform, and as soon as order could be obtained he addressed the convention in these words: "Gentlemen of the convention—Two or three days since I received this note from Richard Bland, which I will now read in your hearing: 'I wish it to be understood that I do not desire the nomination unless it is the judgment of the free silver delegates that I would be the strongest candidate. If it shall at any time appear that my candidacy is the least obstauction to the nomination of any candidate who is acceptable to the free coinage delegates or one more acceptable to a majority of those delegates than myself I wish my name at once unconditionally withdrawn from further consideration. I am willing to waive state instructions for me if need be, and to let the free silver delegates settle the whole matter. The cause must be put above the man.'" (Applause.) Gov. Stone then said: "Now, in the name of Missouri, I lower the standard under which we have fought throughout this convention, and in its place I lift that of the gifted and glorious son of Nebraska. (Loud and long-continued cheering.) He then cast the 34 votes of Missouri for Bryan.

Stampede to the Bryan Column.

Judge Van Wagenen of Iowa was next recognized. He said the Iowa delegation bore to Chicago with them a message from Gov. Boies saying that he had only the success of the party at heart; that he would not be disappointed if he was not nominated, but would be disappointed if success did not come in November. Judge Van Wagenen then withdrew the name of Boies, and cast the 23 votes of Iowa for Bryan. Senator Jones stood on his chair to announce that Arkansas changed her vote of 16 from Bland to Bryan. Montana changed their 6 votes from Bland to the winner, the chairman declaring that it was the intention of his state to stick to Bland from first to last and they had done their duty. Senator Turpie of Indiana mounted the platform and said amid great noise and confusion that he was authorized to withdraw the name of Gov. Matthews and to cast the vote of Indiana for William J. Bryan of Nebraska. (Cheers).

Made Unanimous.

Senator Turpie then moved that the nomination of Bryan be made unanimous. After the vote of Texas had been shifted to Mr. Bryan, the chairman put the question on Senator Turpie's motion, and declared it carried—only a few votes in the negative coming from the Pennsylvania delegation. When the announcement was made all order was cast to the winds. The delegates and the audience began to cheer and to wave hats and flags and banners; while the march around the sections was again taken up—all the state emblems being this time carried in the procession. A band of music entered the hall from the vestibule and marched at the head of the procession playing "Marching Through Georgia" and other popular airs, in the chorus of which many of those present joined. "Dixie," which the band also played, had the usual effect of heightening the enthusiasm, and was cheered again and again. At 3:45 p. m. the sergeant-at-arms, in behalf of the chairman, succeeded in getting a hearing so far as to be able to announce that the convention stood in recess till 8 p. m.

ONE TERM ENOUGH.

Bryan Says That if Elected He Will Not Accept the Office Again.

Chicago, July 11.—Mr. Bryan received the news of his nomination in his room at the Clifton house. He was not at all excited over his nomination, and, after responding pleasantly to congratulations, shook hands with a United Press reporter and stated that all he wished to say was that, "In order that I may have no ambition but to discharge faithfully the duties of the office, I desire to announce that, if elected, I shall under no circumstances be a candidate for re-election."

Sibley Declined Second Place.

Chicago, July 11.—When the nomination of Bryan became an assured fact representatives of various state delegations called upon Hon. Joseph C. Sibley of Pennsylvania, and offered him their support for the nomination of vice-president assuring him that if he would consent to accept the position there would be no contest against him. "But I told them," said Mr. Sibley to a reporter for the United Press, "that I felt I could not do the same good service for the cause at the foot of the ticket as the head, or as a private in the ranks, and declined to permit my name to be used." Mr. Sibley left for home on an evening train.

Southern Newspaper Bolts.

Chicago, July 11.—The Louisville Post, which yesterday bolted the platform, bolted the ticket to-day. This is the first paper in the south to take that step.

Oliver Wendell Holmes said:

"If all drugs were thrown into the sea it would be better for men and worse for the fishes."

Yet for the only drug which is at once a medicine and a food we are indebted to one of those same fishes. Dr. Holmes was hasty. "No known drug," says a high English authority (Dr. A. E. Bridger), "except cod-liver oil, has power to generate any force within the human body. The stimulants and tonics waste force and create weakness." Thus we see why of Cod-liver Oil with hypophosphites has, for twenty years, been the chief dependence of physicians in all bronchial and lung diseases. Scott's Emulsion acts strictly on the lines of modern medical practice. It does not stimulate, like alcohol and quinine, or stupefy, like opium and the bromides. It nourishes, strengthens and upbuilds the system. Being a true food (digested and absorbed in cases wherein other food only clogs the digestive organs, ferments, and poisons the blood), Scott's Emulsion arrests wasting, forms new flesh and tissue, revives the natural appetite and cures disease, conferring more life. For consumption, bronchitis, depleted blood, scrofula, etc., it excels all other remedies or forms of treatment.

FRILLS OF FASHION.

Pearl, yellow and pink tan shades are the correct colors in gloves.

Vandyke collars of ecru and white batiste, trimmed with lace and insertion, are made to wear over thin summer gowns.

Tulle and chiffon, with a satin edge, are sold by the hundred yards for neck ruches and frillings on capes, parasols and gowns.

Old-fashioned silk brocade is used for waistcoats, revers and cuffs, and white moire silk appears in this guise on white alpaca gowns.

White gowns are to be worn more than ever this season for informal as well as dressy occasions, and these are accompanied by white hats, shoes and parasols.

Beautiful designs in Louis XVI. trimmings are broad bands of black lisse, with irregular or straight edges, covered with natural tinted flowers, and renaissance lace scrolls in white.

Leather belts are embroidered with gold and silver beads, and white kid belts, set with blue enamel traced with gold, are the latest fancy. Ordinary webbing is used as a foundation for elaborate embroidery and jeweled decoration.

The special feature of the summer fabrics is the transparent effect, and grenadine, gauze crepe de chine, etamine and canvas are all the vogue. Etamine was in fashion ten years ago, and quite as popular then as crepon last year.

THE STAGE.

Miss Sandmeyer, of New York, is spoken of as a rising actress by Parisian critics.

Henry Irving flatly denies the report that he would retire from the stage at the end of his present season. He says he hasn't even thought of such a thing.

Loie Fuller keeps all knowledge of her finances chiefly to herself, but she has a bank account of mammoth proportions, which she has gained by her own efforts.

"Der Wunderknabe" (The Prodigy), a new Viennese opera, which Sir Augustus Harris proposes to bring out in London, has for the central point of its plot the fraudulent representation that an 18-year-old girl violinist is a boy of eight.

Sir Henry Irving's son, Henry B. Irving, is said to resemble his illustrious father greatly, both in voice and manner, in his present London performance of the role of Hamlet. He has also appeared as Romeo and Jacques.

Antonio de Navarro, husband of Mary Anderson, has an interesting collection of photographs of his wife in a room in their home at Tunbridge Wells. They represent her in all the parts she has played, and Mr. de Navarro has arranged them to make a frieze around the entire room.

SOME ODDITIES.

Doctors affirm that spirits harden the tone of the voice.

In Bond street, London, there is a barber shop where dogs are shaved, washed and frizzed.

Lightning entered a house near Orange, Cal., while the family was at supper, and instantly killed a father and his two sons.

Ostrich races are frequently witnessed on an ostrich farm in Anaheim, Cal. The owner trains the birds to drive in single, double and tandem harness.

The affection of an Indiana woman for her husband caused her to fuss over him to such a degree that he wants to obtain a divorce from her.

The house of David Stohl, of Kingman county, Kan., was on fire. A neighbor, George Austin, was viewing the burning building, when the heat caused a double-barreled gun in the house to be discharged, and the contents entered Austin's head and body.

QUEER THINGS.

New York has an orchestra of left-handed fiddlers.

Dances are frequently given at a blind asylum in London.

Matches have not yet displaced the tinder box in certain rural districts of Spain and Italy.

There is said to be a "hell's half acre" in southern California, 40 miles square, in which every rod has a boiling spring or a spouting geyser.

Cattle must be very precious in Borneo, when a cow receives the honor of an obituary notice in the official journal. Thus a newspaper solemnly informs its readers that "an aged cow belonging to the government herd met its death on the 14th by falling into a dike at a secluded spot, where it was unable to extricate itself."

NOTES OF SCIENCE.

Horseless sleighs, driven by electricity, are a St. Petersburg novelty.

Edison now claims that the X ray is a sound wave and its photographs are simply shadows of sound vibration.

The hair from the snout of the walrus are collected by the natives of Alaska, and after drying are exported in neat packages to China, where the wealthy prize them highly as toothpicks.

Interesting catacombs with well preserved mural paintings have been discovered at Kertch in the Crimea, the ancient Panticapaeum. Although the vaulting shows that they must have been built after the Christian era, the subjects of the paintings are pagan, representing Pluto, Demeter and Hernes.

Took Him by Surprise.

Mr. Huggins and Miss Dimple had been discussing marriage in an impersonal manner, when the young lady announced her preference in this way: "The man I marry must be handsome, talented, amiable, courageous, and without a fault of any sort whatever."

"This is very sudden," replied Mr. Huggins. "I thoroughly appreciate the honor you confer upon me, but you will give me a week to consider, I suppose?"—Harper's Bazar.

Generalship.

"Every month or so we have a new craze," exclaimed Howdick, who was busy, and wanted to be alone.

"We have had a good many."

"Yes. First it was the Napoleon craze. Then came the Trilby craze, and next the poster craze. And now, by way of variety, we have the cathodic rays."

He had accomplished his purpose. He was alone.—Washington Star.

IN RELIGION'S CAUSE.

Third Day's Session of the Endeavorers' Convention.

CONSIDERING NEXT PLACE OF MEETING.

Address of Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett in Tent Endeavor—A Great Open-Air Chorus of 4,000 Voices This Evening.

Washington, July 11.—The third day's session of the Christian Endeavor convention was opened early this morning with the usual early hour devotional services. Later there was a big gathering at tent Endeavor, where Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, the national superintendent of the National Florence Crittenton mission, delivered an interesting address on "Social Purity, Christ's Way." This afternoon and evening many of the visiting delegates will enjoy excursions to the various points of interest in Washington suburbs. Last evening there were nine vast meetings held in the tents and churches. Tent Williston has been re-erected and is again at the service of the convention. As in the meetings in the morning the capacity of the tents were taxed last night to the utmost to accommodate the crowds. One feature of this convention that calls for especial praise is the singing. A chorus of over 4,000 voices has been in training for several weeks for use at these meetings. This chorus is divided into four sections, one numbering more than 1,000 voices for each tent and one for use of the churches. The sections sit in tiers behind the speakers and sing Endeavor songs in which the vast audiences join.

Great Chorus This Evening.

At the open-air meeting on the capitol grounds this evening at 5 o'clock the united chorus will sing, accompanied by the Marine band. The general topic for the day, "Saved to Serve," was the subject also of last night's meetings. President Clark, Secretary Baer, and Rev. Wayland Hoyt of Philadelphia presided at three meetings in the tents. Addresses were made by moderator John L. Withrow of the Presbyterian general assembly, Bishop Arnett of Ohio, secretary Arthur J. Brown of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, and Rev. Dr. J. W. Chapman of Philadelphia. Other speakers and presiding officers at last night's meetings were as follows: Revs. R. W. Brokaw, Massachusetts; C. L. Pate, Washington; J. L. Campbell, New York; H. H. Robinson, Chicago; R. M. Hufford, Reading, Pa.; J. M. Lowden, Rhode Island; K. B. Tupper, Philadelphia; Henry Faville, Wisconsin, John Faville, Wisconsin; Charles B. Ramsdell, Washington; W. H. Towers, England; J. H. Bomberger, Ohio; W. H. York, Ithaca; J. B. North, Washington; Asher Anderson, Meriden; Edward Warren, Washington; J. Edward Knipp, Baltimore; A. F. Richardson, West Virginia; Wm. J. Harsha, New York; Matt Hughes, Minneapolis; Prof. J. L. Howe, Virginia; Revs. S. F. Hershy, Boston; F. C. Ottman, Newark, and Bishop Hott of Iowa.

Next Year's Place of Meeting.

The board of trustees of the United Societies held a prolonged meeting discussing the arrangements for the conventions of 1897 and 1898. The passenger rate from Chicago to San Francisco was the matter of interest with regard to next year's convention. Although no formal decision was announced it is understood that the trustees prefer to leave this an open question, trusting to the good efforts of the Californians to bring this down to the lowest notch. Nashville is in line for the 1898 convention. It is understood that the trustees were favorably inclined to the choice of Nashville, but fear of the effect in cities where the color line is strictly drawn of mixed delegations such as come from the north may prevent the selection of a southern city as the seat of the Christian Endeavor convention. Buffalo, Omaha and Scranton are canvassing for the honor.

BRYAN'S FRIENDS GO WILD.

Great Demonstration in the Nominee's Favor at Omaha.

Omaha, Neb., July 11.—When the news of Bryan's nomination was received here from Chicago the immense crowds in front of the office of the World-Herald, the newspaper of which the nominee is editor, went wild with excitement. They threw their hats in the air and yelled themselves hoarse. Hundreds of photographs of the silver champion were scattered out over the heads of the people, and they scrambled madly for them, tumbling over each other and yelling in perfect abandon. It required considerable effort to keep them from crowding into the office. The demonstration continued until far into the night. A number of prominent state politicians were in the crowd, all jubilant over the nomination of Nebraska's son. Among those who anxiously watched the bulletins was Charles W. Bryan, brother of the nominee.

Cretan Rumor Discredited in England.

London, July 11.—The government was questioned in the house of commons last night in regard to the truth of the statements contained in a special news dispatch from Athens, that Russia was prompting France to occupy Crete and hold that island against Great Britain's tenure of Cyprus; that the Greek government had become alarmed and was inducting the Cretans to accept the terms of the porte, and that the English fleet had been so strengthened as to practically blockade the island of Crete. George N. Curzon, under foreign secretary, replied that the government had not heard of any of these things and regarded them as extremely improbable.

Montana mines yielded $47,115,000 worth of minerals last year. The copper production of the State was about 65 per cent. of the whole product of the United States. The gold product amounted to $4,100,000; silver to 4,500,000 ounces; copper to 212,000 pounds, and lead 24,500,000 pounds. The gold output was 10 per cent. greater than in the previous year and 47 per cent greater than in 1893.

Essex, Monmouth, Union, Somerset, Gloucester, Salem, Camden and Warren counties elect Senators this year. All but Warren are now represented by Republicans. Of the thirteen hold-over Senators, only two are Democrats—Daly and Kuhl—so that even if the Democrats elected the whole eight Senators next November, they would still be in a minority of one. At present the outlook is that two Democrats may be elected, thus making the Senate stand Republican by 17 to 4. In this year's body it was 18 to 3.—Tribune.

Fifteen minutes after the nomination of William J. Bryan at the Democratic convention in Chicago yesterday afternoon, The Daily Press was on the streets with a half-column account of the nomination and the immediate proceedings leading up to that act. Such quick service has never before been accomplished in Plainfield journalism, and even the great metropolitan papers did not make more rapid time in announcing the nomination in their papers. This rapid time was made possible, however, by the superb telegraphic service of the Postal Telegraph Company, who had a direct wire from Plainfield to the convention hall, where the proceedings were sent out as soon as they took place. Manager W. E. Martin and his staff of hustling messenger boys were especially attentive to the duty of handling this convention matter for The Daily Press and it was largely through this fact that Plainfielders were treated to such excellent and up-to-date accounts of the various sessions of the conventions.

WOMAN MAIL CARRIER.

The Successful Bidder Arouses the Jealousy of Defeated Ones.

Mrs. Springstein, of Summit, has been given the contract to carry the mails between Summit and New Providence. The contract was offered to the lowest bidder, and Mrs. Springstein's bid was the lowest. The residents of both towns, particularly the rival bidders, ridiculed the appointment, called her the leader of the new women's movement and sought in other ways to bring her into public contempt.

Mrs. Springstein, however, entered upon the work very pluckily, and having given the required bonds, proceeded, twice a day, rain or shine, to carry the mail bags back and forth.

The woman did dot seem to mind the cheap jokes indulged in at her expense, but yesterday the explosion came. James Horner, Sr., of New Providence, was arrested on her complaint on the charge of publicly defaming her character. She declares that the matter has gone quite far enough, and says she intends to show that a woman has a right to carry the mails and that she must be left alone in the discharge of her duties.

A Delightful Outing.

It was nearly nine o'clock last evening before the excursion train of the Sunday-school of the Grace M. E church pulled into the North avenue station and unloaded its crowd of weary, sunburnt excursionists. The day had been a delightful one. The sail up the river was rather warm and those who gathered on the upper deck received a heavy coat of sunburn. Oscawana Island was found to be a delightful place about 45 miles up the Hudson. The sail back to Elizabethport where the train was waiting, was especially enjoyable. The excursion was something different from the regular thing to Asbury Park and proved very successful.

Practical Thoughts in Rhythm and Rhyme From the Ninety-first Psalm.

When dwelling in the secret place
Of the Most High, I find His grace.
'Tis there, He says, I may abide
Under His shadow, near His side.

Then I can say, He is my Lord,
My refuge, fortress, and my God,
Him, will I trust, for He doth save
From snares and pestilential grave.

Beneath His feathers and His wings,
His truth my shield and buckler brings.
I shall not fear nights terror--nay
Nor flying arrow at noonday.

A thousand at my side may fall,
Ten thousand too--both great and small,
Yet it shall not come nigh to me,
For I have placed my trust in Thee.

My eyes with pity, doth behold
The wicked, with their doom, fortold,
But they who put their trust in God,
Shall be protected from His rod.

That dwelling place O, Lord Most High,
Doth keep me from all evil nigh.
He gives His angels charge to keep
My life in health, my rest in sleep.

Upon the lion and adder tread,
For Jesus broke the serpents head.
He bears my joyful soul above,
Because on me He sets His love.

And as I call upon Thee, Lord,
To me, Thy promises afford,
Long life Thoust given, and yet I live,
Salvation, Jesus sure, doth give.

Just What's Needed

Exclaims thousands of people who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at this season of the year, and who have noted the success of the medicine in giving them relief from that tired feeling, waning appetite and state of extreme exhaustion after the close confinement of a long winter season, the busy time attendant upon a large and pressing buisness during the spring months and with vacation time yet some weeks distant. It is then that the building up powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla are fully appreciated. It seems perfectly adopted to overcome that prostration caused by change of season, climate or life, and while it tones and sustains the system, it purifies and vitalizes the blood.

—District Deputy Grand Master Pocock and staff went to Elizabethport last evening and installed the officers of Hausa Lodge, No. 145, I. O. O. F. Monday night they go to White House and and install the officers of White House Lodge, No. 113.

—You can't buy happiness, but if you are suffering from dyspepsia, scrofula, salt rheum, impure blood, you may be cured and made happy by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hoods pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Harmless, reliable, sure.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

LONG TIME FREIGHT HANDLER.

John Harding in the Employ of the Central for a Quarter of a Century.

Few people have visited the freight house in this city within the past twenty-five or thirty years, but have seen the smiling and genial John Harding. He has been a faithful attendant there, be it said to his credit.

Mr. Harding was born in Castle Ivers, County Limerick, Ireland, on June 23d, 1834, and he is, therefore, now in the sixty-third year of his age. His parents were both born there, but emigrating to this country after gaining their maturity and locating in Illinois, where the father died from fever and ague. His mother died here in 1858.

John was a stout robust boy when, at the age of eighteen years, he sailed to this country on the ship Underwriter of the White Star Line. Eight weeks time being required to make the trip. He came direct to Plainfield and remained for a time with his mother who then lived on East Third street near Church street. Later on he secured a position with Thomas Stead, who kept a hotel in what is now known as the "Notch," where he worked for three years and was subsequently obliged to give up on account of failing health.

In 1859 Mr. Harding worked on a gravel train on the New Jersey Central Railroad, and after one year's service in that capacity he was employed as a freight-handler on the steamer Red Jacket, plying between New York and Staten Island. In this capactity he worked for a time and finally came to the freight house in this city, while the late Dean Gordon was station agent, and has handled freight there more or less ever since.

Mr. Harding now begins to show the result of many years hard labor and, as he says, it is beginning to tell on him.

When we consider that the intestines are about five times as long as the body, we can realize the intense suffering experienced when they become inflamed. De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure subdues inflammation at once and completely removes the difficulty. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

AN ORDINANCE.

An ordinance to amend an ordinance, entitled "An ordinance to create and define the duties of a Board of Police and a police force," approved February 28th, 1882, and amended April 7th, 1884.

The inhabitants of the city of Plainfield, by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. That Section 2 of the ordinance to which this is an amendment be amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 2. The Board of Police may hold such meetings at such times and places as they may determine and appoint, and shall have full authority and control over the city jail and other buildings used for police purposes, and over the entire police force, subject, however, to the ultimate control of the Common Council. The said Board of Police shall have power to hear and determine complaints against policemen charging misconduct or disobedience of any of the rules and regulations established or which may be established for the police force or police department, and in case of conviction, the said Board of Police may order deduction from the pay of the policeman so convicted, not exceeding five dollars for each offense and the deduction so ordered shall be made from the next installment of salary to fall due to such policeman.

Sec. 3. That Section 3 of said ordinance be amended by adding thereto the following:

The said police force shall rank as follows—Captain, Sergeant, Roundsmen, Patrolmen, Doorman, and the duties of the several members and officers of said police force shall be those prescribed by the laws of the State, the ordinances of the city, and the rules and regulations that may from time to time be prescribed and established by resolution of the Common Council for the better government and discipline of the police department.

Sec. 4. That Section 4 of said ordinance be amended by striking out the word "Mayor" where it first occurs in that section, and substituting in the place thereof the words "said Board of Police."

Sec. 5. That there be added to said ordinance the following section, viz:

Sec. 8. In case any complaint shall be preferred against any policeman, charging him with incapacity, mis-conduct, non-residence or disobedience of the just rules and regulations established or which may be established for the police force or police department of said city, and the Board of Police shall be of opinion that said charges, if proved, ought to be followed by suspension without pay or removal from office of said policeman, said Board of Police shall thereupon file said complaint or a more formal complaint to be drafted by the Counsel to the Corporation, if said Board shall so direct, in the office of the office of the City Clerk either before or after hearing before the said Board of Police, as said Board of Police may elect, and refer the proceedings thereon to the Common Council. The Common Council in either case upon receiving the complaint shall cause not less than three day's notice to be given to the person charged, of the time and place, when and where the Common Council will proceed to publicly examine into said charges and to afford the person so charged a fair trial upon said charges and every reasonable opportunity to make his defense if he has or chooses to make any. At the time and place fixed for such public examination and trial, or at such time or times to which the same shall be adjourned, the said public examination and trial shall be had before the Common Council by the oral examination of such witnesses pro and con as may be offered in accordance with the statute in such case made and provided, and in case as the result of trial the person so charged shall be found guilty, the Common Council may order deduction of pay, reduction of rank or suspension or removal from office. It shall be discretionary with the Common Council whether to permit the defense to be conducted by counsel.

Sec. 4. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances, so far as they are inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

Adopted by the Common Council July 6th, 1896.

Approved by the Mayor July 10th, 1896.

BRYAN'S NOMINATION

The Boy Orator's Selection at Chicago for President.

MANY SCENES OF GREAT EXCITEMENT

The Nomination Made Unanimous with Some Objection from Pennsylvania—Stampede to the Nebraskan on the Fifth Ballot Secured His Success.

Chicago, July 11.—The fourth day's session of the democratic national convention was opened in torrid heat. The galleries were crowded and everything promised a repetition of the exciting scenes of the previous sessions. The absence of Senator Hill and Secretary Whitney was commented upon. After prayer by Rev. Dr. Green, the chair recognized Mr. Harrity of Pennsylvania who placed in nomination ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison. Former Gov. Pennoyer of Oregon was then named by Mr. Miller of that state. The nominations were seconded. No other names being presented, the chair declared the nominations closed, and, first invoking order, directed the secretary to call the roll of states. When the first state was called Chairman Lomax of Alabama rose to say that several of the delegates desired to vote for former Gov. Russell of Massachusetts, but under the unit rule he cast the 22 votes of Alabama for Horace Boies. Several of the chairmen of the delegations injected little stump speeches into their announcements of the votes of the delegations. When Massachusetts was reached a delegate announced that the chairman and vice-chairman were absent, and Mr. O'Sullivan of the delegation announced that these gold men were purposely absenting themselves. New Jersey being reached, the chairman of the delegation rose and said that New Jersey declined to vote, whereupon the galleries broke into cheers and hisses. The chair requested that such demonstrations cease, and a delegate shouted: "They are all republicans and ought to be put out." The state of New York refused to vote. South Carolina caused a surprise when the chairman announced that under instructions from her state convention South Carolina cast 17 votes for "her honored son," Benjamin Tillman, one not voting. (Hisses and cheers.)

Slight Applause for Teller.

The state of Colorado, which had been passed by consent, was called and brought Senator Teller's name before the convention. It was received with faint hisses and very slight applause. Massachusetts, which had also been passed, brought in Hill's name by casting one vote for him. The second ballot was begun at 12:35. As soon as it was started Senator White vacated the chair, placing the gavel in the hands of Mr. Richardson of Tennessee. South Carolina swung over from Tillman to Bryan, whose gains had begun early in the balloting. The District of Columbia manifested its capacity for lightning changes by scattering its vote as follows: Three for Bryan, one for Bland, one for Boies and one for McLean. Before the vote was announced and while it was being footed up California announced a change of her vote, as follows: Bryan, 14; Bland, 1; Matthews, 1; Boies, 1: A gain of seven for Bryan.

Attempt To Stampede the Convention.

The result of the fourth ballot had only been partially announced when it was interrupted by an intensely dramatic scene. When Bryan's big gain from 219 to 280 leading Bland and all other candidates was announced, by a prearranged plan Bryan banners were raised on the standards of several states and big shouting was indulged in with a view of stampeding the convention to his support. Nevada, a McLean state; Kansas, a Bland state; Idaho and other states that had previously voted for other candidates, led the movement. They were quickly followed in the order named by New Mexico, California, Nevada, District of Columbia, Idaho, Minnesota, Washington, Virginia and Indian Territory who all raised their standards and joined in the general shout for Bryan. Then a procession was started, the standard of twenty-two states and territories being born round the hall amid a perfect tornado of cheering. Then Illinois joined in and Florida followed. Ohio came in and a brief spell of silence followed as the rumor passed around that a deal was on with McLean for second place. After fifteen minutes of this hippodrome performance the announcement of the result was continued and the fourth ballot was announced. Immediately following the announcement Senator White said the proceedings had reached the stage where it was necessary for the chair to state his construction of the two-thirds rule. A careful examination of the records of democratic conventions left but one decision open to the chair. The noise and confusion in the hall made the chairman pause: "Oh, gentlemen," he remonstrated, "do keep quiet." Cries of "sit down, sit down."

Two-thirds Rule.

The chairman said that the two-thirds rule had been acted upon without objection ever since its adoption in the Ohio convention of 1852. The rule read that "two-thirds of the whole number of votes given shall be necessary to a nomination for president and vice-president." Therefore, in the opinion of the chair, two-thirds of the vote given would nominate the candidate for president and vice-president of the United States (cheers). "Call the roll," he ordered, and the fifth ballot was begun. It soon became evident that Bryan was secure of votes sufficient on this ballot to nominate him by the necessary majority. When Kentucky, which was one of the states which did not join in the procession, was reached,

LAST NIGHT'S SESSION.

An Explanation of State Privilege by Gen. Bragg and Adjournment Until To-day.

Convention Hall, Chicago, July 11.—The proceedings of last evening were opened a few minutes before 9 p. m., when Senator White of California, the chairman, called the convention to order. At that time a fair proportion of the New York and New Jersey delegates were occupying seats in their sections. The fact that both of these state delegations had declined to participate in the balloting for the presidential candidate made their presence a matter of remark. Gen. Bragg then mounted the platform: "I rise Mr. Chairman on a question of state privilege. When the delegation of Wisconsin was to-day engaged in private consultation as to what should be done by it in the future, some gentleman, I suppose he was a gentleman, in fact I know him to be such, stole the colors of our state and passed them as the representation of my delegtion and of my state into the trail of the victor for whom we had refused to cast our votes" (cheers). Mr. Dockery attempted to take the stand to answer Gen. Bragg's remarks and as the two Wisconsin antagonists confronted each other, Gen. Bragg shook his finger in Mr. Dockery's face and said: "If you make any personal remarks about me you will suffer for it." The chairman interrupted the gentlemen and the incident dropped. Gov. Stone of Missouri was next recognized, and he moved an adjournment until 10 o'clock to-day. On roll call the motion prevailed. The first open vote in convention against the domination of Gov. John P. Altgeld manifested itself when the governor, in his capacity as chairman of the Illinois delegation, announced the 48 votes of the state for adjournment. Harry Donovan, of Chicago, who has been a Boies man from the start, jumped up to challenge the accuracy of the count. His note of defiance was received with applause from the Chicago crowds in the gallery, who understood the situation, and cheers followed each negative vote. Metropolitan and country delegates, who had been lukewarm in their obedience to the governor's will and restless on numerous occasions, voted against adjournment.

FRANK HURD DEAD.

Congressman, Lawyer and a Prominent Ohio Democrat.

Toledo, O., July 11.—Frank H. Hurd, congressman, lawyer and one of the most prominent democrats in Ohio, died at his apartments in the Boody house here yesterday after an illness of five days. The immediate cause of death was apoplexy. Mr. Hurd was born in Mount Vernon, O., in 1841. In 1869 he came to Toledo and engaged in the practice of law. From this district he was thrice elected to congress. He was also a member of the state senate and in 1868 codified the criminal laws of Ohio. It is said he would have been attorney general in the Tilden cabinet had the New Yorker reached the White House in 1876. Mr. Hurd was widely known for his firm advocacy of free trade.

Will Bolt the Ticket.

Watertown, N. Y., July 11.—B. G. Griffin, who was chairman of the executive committee of the New York state democratic committee in the Flower gubernatorial campaign announces that he will not vote for the nominee of the Chicago convention.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

WISE HOUSEKEEPERS

are now putting in their winter stock of coal. It is cheaper, and better in every way now. Dealers are not rushed with orders, and have time to take extra care and pains. We use scrupulous care. Every bit of dust and dirt is screened out of the coal we have. You pay us sound money, and we give you sound, clean coal—every bit of it coal.

SUPERSTITIONS ABOUT CATS.

In the Tyrol girls who are fond o cats marry early.

Throwing a cat overboard from a ship will cause a cyclone.

The Pennsylvania Dutch believe black cats cure epilepsy.

Three drops of a black cat's blood is said to be a cure for croup.

If a cat washes herself calmly and smoothly the weather will be fair.

If the family cat lies with its back to the fire there will be a squall.

A person who despises cats will be carried to his grave in a howling storm.

If a cat sneezes three times the whole family will soon suffer from influenza.

To dream of a black cat at Christmas time in Germany is an omen of alarming illness.

If it rains on a Dutch girl's wedding day it is because the bride has forgotten to feed her cat.

In Ireland the cat must not be taken to a new house by a moving family, especially if water has to be crossed.

A cat born in May will be of a melancholy disposition, given to catching snakes and bringing them into the house.

If it rains when there is a large washing on the line in Germany it is a sure sign that the house mother has ill-treated the cat.

Bad luck will follow if a black cat crosses your path, for the devil prowls about, especially at night, in the guise of a black cat.

In Scotland they used to cure erysipelas by cutting off half a cat's ear and letting the blood from the wound drop on the diseased part.

In moving in Scotland the family cat is thrown into the new house before the family enters in order that it may absorb any disease or curse left by the former tenants.

W. J. BRYAN'S CAREER

The Youngest Man Ever Nominated for President.

ONLY THIRTY-SIX YEARS OF AGE

Jumped into Fame in One Night After a Speech in the House of Representatives—Now an Editor at Omaha, Nebraska.

Washington, July 11.—There is nothing in romantic literature that surpassed the meteoric career of William Jennings Bryan, who was nominated at Chicago for the highest office within the gift of the American people. The constitutional age of presidents is 35 years. Bryan is 36, and if elected in November he will be the youngest president that the White House has ever known. He is essentially a self-made man and a man of the people. His principal education was gained in the public schools of Salem, Ill., where his parents resided. During the succeeding six years he received an academic training. The bent of his mind was toward the law and it was in the office of Lyman Trumbull, himself a conspicuous figure during the war and the reconstruction period which followed, that he laid the foundations of his legal career. It was in congress, however, that Mr. Bryan made the reputation which has swept him into his present prominence. In 1890, when only 30 years of age, he was elected a member of the house from the First district of Nebraska, where he located immediately after his admission to the bar. During the consideration of the single tariff bills, which were brought before the house during the first session of that congress, Mr. Bryan electrified his colleagues by the force and vigor of his utterances, his intimate knowledge of economic matters, the gracefulness of his oratory and his ability to sustain himself with credit against the ablest debaters upon the republican side of the chamber.

Sprang Into Fame in a Day.

His time on that occasion was repeatedly extended and he spoke in all several hours. He awoke the next morning to find himself famous. Nor was it ephemeral fame. He became from that day a conspicuous figure in a house which included such giants of debate as Breckinridge of Kentucky, Bourke Cockran and John R. Fellows of New York, Dingley and Reed of Maine, Springer of Illinois, Lodge of Massachusetts, Oats of Alabama and William L. Wilson of West Virginia, who now holds the office of postmaster-general. While Mr. Bryan was not a free trader he favored the lowest tariff consistent with the necessities of the government and he was placed by Speaker Crisp on the ways and means committee, an unusual honor for a new man. When the 53d congress met, Mr. Bryan had also achieved a reputation as a staunch supporter of free silver, and when President Cleveland convened that congress in extraordinary session in the autumn of 1893 Mr. Bryan was Mr. Bland's efficient lieutenant in leading the opposition to the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act. He continued in that congress as a member of the ways and means committee. He was one of the subcommittee which had in charge the internal revenue schedule of what was subsequently known as the Wilson tariff bill and he shares with Mr. McMillan of Tennessee in being the first to suggest the incorporation in that measure of an income tax.

Bryan's Personality.

Mr. Bryan added to his laurels as a brilliant and ready debater during the discussion of that measure in the house, and his influence was also exerted in favor of the income tax, which he regarded as one of its most essential features. With this congress Mr. Bryan's congressional career ended, and he returned to Omaha to accept the editorship of the World-Herald of that city, although his home for many years has been at Lincoln, the state capital. Mr. Bryan is about the medium in height. His face is cleanly shaven, and in appearance he resembles the great Pennsylvania commoner, Samuel J. Randall, who, at Mr. Bryan's age, might readily have passed for the latter's twin brother. He is a strict church man, and on several occasions during his residence in this city addressed the Young Men's Christian association and other religious bodies. He is earnest and enthusiastic in whatever cause enlists his sympathies, and it is not doubted that his personality will largely influence the approaching campaign.

Mrs. Bryan Witnessed the Balloting.

Chicago, July 11.—Mrs. Bryan, wife of the nominee, who is a small, modest-looking woman, had a seat in the gallery to the left of the speaker's stand, yesterday afternoon. When it was positively known that her husband had been named for the presidency she was surrounded by admiring friends and heartily congratulated. She thanked each one pleasantly and throughout maintained a quiet demeanor that impressed those about her. To a representative of the United Press, she said: "I think my husband will try to deserve the great honor these men have conferred upon him I appreciate it, I assure you. If his wife's aid is of value in the endeavor to elect him, he will have all possible assistance from me."

Damage Verdict Awarded.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 11.—Judge Hall of the superior court has awarded Benjamin F. Squires and wife of Monroe, $1,700 and costs in their suit against the American Telegraph and Telephone company of New York. They sued for $20,000 for injuries received through the carelessness of an agent of the defendant.

CYCLING COMMENT.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company received a shipment of seventeen Crescents yesterday.

His Honor, Mayor Gilbert, is enjoying today riding about Plainfield and suburbs on his wheel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Roome, of Washington avenue, can be seen every pleasant evening spinning over Plainfield's good streets on a tandem.

Geo. Sullivan and James Brown, of Newark, rode their wheels to Plainfield yesterday and were pleasantly entertained by their friend J. Howard Leggett, the druggist.

Great results are expected from Will Volkman of Clinton avenue, who will make his debut on the bicycle track in the novice race at the meet at Manhattan Beach, July 18.

The World Wheel Company have written to Sandford Robinson, their Plainfield agent, instructing him to secure A. H. Barnett for their team. It is quite likely Barnett will ride a World wheel.

A. H. Evans, of New Brunswick will soon attempt to break the State 24-hour record of 207 miles made by himself. He is now training for the event on the county road between New Brunswick and this city.

H. Anderson, of East Front street, left Thursday on his wheel for a camping ground near Lake Hopatcong, where he will remain two weeks. H. V. Ryder, of East Front street, will join Mr. Anderson on Monday.

A. Oatman, of the Manhattan Bicycle Club, has given notice to the club's tour committee of his intention to compete for the officer's trophy on July 18th, on the Crescent Oval in this city. This trophy is a large and valuable bronze statue of Mercury, mounted on an ebony base bearing an inscription showing the records of past competitions. The trophy stands as a challenge prize and will become the permanent property of the member of the club making the best verified time for fifty miles before December, 1897. R. H. Bartsch, the present holder, placed the mark at two hours and thirty-three minutes, and Oatman must better this time to secure possession. He has an excellent chance of success, if he can maintain his well-known speed qualities for the full distance, which is beyond his previous performances.

The advice given by the greatest of bicycle riders, Zimmerman, is commended to the vain and silly people who prove that they don't know how to ride every time they get on a wheel. Zimmerman says: "In riding, sit up straight. It is not necessary for you to stoop over." Every sensible man knew that before, but four-fifths of the boys and young men who ride use low handle-bars and stoop over. Why? Simply from childish vanity. They think it makes them look like "scorchers. That is the height of their ambition. Now, here is the prince of bicyclists, the most famous of wheelmen, who says: "Sit up straight." He means, of course, in ordinary riding. In racing a wheelman can sit on his spine, or on his stomach, or on his head, if he wants to. That is exceptional, and has nothing to do with street and road riding. Low handle-bars are the curse of the wheels. They are a menace to public safety. They deform the body. They injure the health. If they were essential to bicycling, the wheel itself should be abolished. But they are no more necessary than any other sporting device is on ordinary occasions. They belong to the race-track, and nowhere else. A man who would go to church with a pair of boxing-gloves on his hands would be escorted to the door by the sexton. Another piece of good advice given by Zimmerman was not to rush up hill. The strain on the heart of a rapid gait up grade is tremendous, and in many cases dangerous. Not one young person in a dozen of those who scorch along on bicycles really know how to ride. A good rider must know something more than merely how to stick on and go at a three-minute gait. Gracefulness, health, consideration for the rights of others, and other points are essential to good riding, and a very large proportion of alleged bicyclists make no accounts of these things.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

It would be hard to convince a man suffering from bilious colic that his agony is due to a microbe with an unpronouncable name. But one dose of De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure will convince him of its power to afford instant relief. It kills pain. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

LAWN TENNIS.

The tennis tournament that was started at the Park Club on the Fourth will be continued and probably concluded tomorrow afternoon at the Park Club courts. The senior singles were only started on the Fourth, one match being fully completed and one partially so. There are a number of contestants and the games will probably occupy most of the afternoon. The prizes in the senior doubles will pass into the hands of A. Willis West and Percy Sandford by default. W. M. McCutchen and Charles Dupee won the tournament and immediately were challenged by West and Sandford, and, as McCutchen left last Monday for Belmar to remain until September, he and Dupee had no show to defend the prizes they won.

INS AND OUTS.

The baseball nine of the Plainfield Athletic Club will go to Westfield today.

The Y. M. C. A. team will cross bats with the Raritans, of Raritan, this afternoon at 3:30. The Raritans have been playing excellent ball during the season and are very confident of returning with another victory to their credit. Following will be the batting order of the Y. M. C. A's: Townley, c.f.; Dennis, c.; Major, ss.; MacLaughlin, 1b.; Sansom, l.f.; Cory, 3b.; Symons, r.f.; Schenck, 2b.; Burt, p.

The members of the Pond Machine Tool Company baseball team are holding daily rehearsals on the grounds adjoining the shops, and the players are becoming quite proficient in the manipulation of the canvas ball. In fact they are now ready to challange anything in the State of an amateur nature, the Scott or Potter teams preferred. Address all communications to Henry VanMiddlesworth, care of the Pond Tool Works.

No "Flim Flam" Game

To Be Worked on Early Purchasers of

The Spalding Bicycle

After the adoption of our 1896 model and a careful estimate of the cost of manufacture, we placed the price on the Spalding Bicycle at $100. The price is now $100 and will continue at $100 throughout the season, no matter what other manufacturers may do.

We don't believe it is fair, honest or good business policy to sell a standard article like the Spalding Bicycle at one price in May and reduce its value in June by a material reduction in price. As a matter of common fairness to early purchasers of Spalding Bicycles and as an evidence of good faith on our part we will, in case of reduction in price during the season, send a rebate check to every purchaser of a Spalding Bicycle of the amount of any such reduction that may be made by us during the season. This is our meaning of a

GUARANTEE OF PRICE.

Ride the Spalding and you will be happy, contented and assured that you will not be "flim-flammed" in price or quality.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. Drug Clerk—All right, sir. Here's a blood tonic that is advertised to build up the constitution.

Customer—Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! I want immediate relief; besides, catarrh is a local affection, and no tonic or blood purifier ever made can cure it. Here's 50 cents. Let me have Ely's Cream Balm. It's the only thing I know of to cure catarrh.

ROUGH LOT OE PLAYERS

UNSPORTSMANLIKE TACTICS OF THE RARITAN BALL PLAYERS.

When the Y. M. C. A. Was Getting the Best of the Game the Visitors Tried Bulldozing in the Endeavor to Cause Defeat.

An aggregation of ball players from Raritan, some of whom no doubt have been brought up among a lot of Indians and cowboys, came to Plainfield Saturday afternoon and met the Y. M. C. A. team. Those who are acquainted with the geographical lines of New Jersey know that Raritan is about a mile from Somerville, and the latest reports fail to show that this romantic spot has yet come into the Union, hence the wild and frenzied actions of some of its inhabitants. The visitors came to town with the avowed purpose of winning the game, if they had to resort to trickery to do it, but their purpose failed and they went to their homes a sad but wiser company of players. The Y. M. C. A. team was out in full force and they put up as fine a game as anyone could wish to see. Their batting and fielding was superb.

The mouthy Rar-i-tans.

The contest was opened in good form and the spectators felt as though the score would be close, which it was. The home team made one run in the first inning and succeeded in shutting the visitors out of a run for six innings. In the other three innings they scored eight runs, while the Y. M. C. A. team made nine runs in all, thus beating by one run.

Burt pitched an elegant game and at no time did he lose control of the ball. His easy method of delivery, combined with a cool head, held the visitors down, and then the whole team supported him well.

Of the visitors very little can be said in commendation. The team acted very much as though they felt out of place playing with a Y. M. C. A. team. They acted and looked strange all through the contest, until the latter part, when they gave as disgraceful an exhibition as the people of Plainfield have ever witnessed. The players took liberties while off the diamond, which would only be tolerated in such a place as they hailed from. They interfered with the ball while being fielded by the home team and crowded in the diamond so as to prevent the playing of their opponents. Several times Umpire Keller was obliged to call them down, and on one occasion he ordered the first baseman off the field for his Indian tactics.

The gentleman in the back-ground with an egg-shell derby is the famous "Tee Kay" Keller, and he is performing the arduous duty of umpiring.

In the ninth inning the Raritans substituted a man named Mulligan for one who was a poor batter. This was done in the hope that the former would win the game. Mulligan did not win the game, and the only thing he succeeded in was that of keeping pace with his fellow Indians.

While the exhibition from a baseball point of view was close and exciting, it must be said that the local nine cannot afford to play such teams. There are enough good teams who know how to act when they meet gentlemen, without bringing to Plainfield such a team as visited here Saturday afternoon.

The people of this city should be liberal in their patronage and thus help the boys out, but it is the duty of the home management to bring such clubs here which would make it possible for the fair sex to attend. We feel sure that Manager McLaughlin will give the matter his attention.

For the visitors Enright put up a great game, and the balance of the team played very good, leaving out their disgraceful actions. Morgan, a young man from the West End, played left field for the home team, in a very creditable manner. The full score is as follows:

LOST TO MONTCLAIR.

Hillside Club Fail to Win at Golf With an Out-of-Town Club.

The golf players of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club had their first chance Saturday afternoon to show their skill against out-of-town cracks. A team of four from the Montclair Golf Club came over and won after a close and exciting match.

The Plainfield team made quite a creditable showing, however, and expect to make the Montclair players hustle at the next game of the series which is to be played at Montclair on August 15th.

Quite a number of the members of the club and their friends came to the links on wheels and in carriages and watched the game. The course was kept entirely clear for the two teams and the greens were in excellent condition. The players and their scores were as follows:

M. G. C.		H. T. AND G. C.
Reid, T. T.	0	West, H. D.	3
Shroeder, A.	8	Tracy, Evarts	0
Cornett, W. H.	5	Anthony, J. S.	0
Freeman, J. D.	0	Walz, F. W.	3
Total	13	Total	6

Thus it was that Montclair won the game by seven poles.

There will be six men on a side in the return game. A match has been arranged with the New Brunswick Golf Club, and the first game will be played at New Brunswick, July 25th.

Broke a Small Bone.

Oscar Vaughn, of 15 Harmony street, took a ride on his wheel yesterday in the vicinity of Washingtonville. While he was returning through the Notch down a steep grade he pulled his handlebars out, with the result of throwing him with much force into the roadway. He picked himself up and managed to reach Dr. Mattison's drug store, where it was learned by the doctor that a small bone in the right wrist was fractured. Vaughn also sustained injury to his left shoulder and a scratch on his face. Today he was unable to take his position as driver on the Scotch Plains stage.

A Musical Service.

A special musical service was held in the Congregational church yesterday morning. Besides a number of extra selections by the choir, there were several instrumental duets by Mrs. B. T. Barnes, organist, and P. Ludwig Conde, violinist. Rev. C. L. Goodrich, the pastor, preached an appropriate sermon on "Music and Its Relation to Worship."

Union Prayer Meeting.

The first of a series of union prayer meetings of the Y. P. S. C. E. Societies of Plainfield, for the success of the State Convention to be held in this city in October, will be held in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church tonight at 8 o'clock. All Christian Endeavorers and others are invited.

Take a Day Off.

Are you going on the excursion Thursday to Asbury Park, under the auspices of the Trinity Reformed Church Sunday-School?

To some it may be an open question but with a large majority the question has been decided in the affirmative. This is the first excursion from Plainfield to the Seashore.

WON'T GO TO CUBA NOW.

A FORMER PLAINFIELDER'S LIVELY EXPERIENCE AT THE CUBA FAIR.

Donned the Military Uniform of a Fighter of Cuba Libre and Showed the Crowd How to Shoot the Death-Dealing Guns.

The New Brunswick Home News publishes the following about William F. Ford, formerly of this city: This is a touching story about how William F. Ford lent gayety to the Cuban fair at Waverly, yesterday, by parading the grounds in the full military equipment of a fighter for "Cuba Libre," became imbued with enthusiasm to strike for the Cubans home and freedom, but lost heart when the terrors of war were pictured to him.

Ford knows a thing or two about Gatling guns, having acquired his knowledge in The True American office in Trenton under Editor Joe Naar, where those playthings are used to keep off irate folks who want to kill the man who wrote the piece in the paper. The young man was telling what he knew about them to a gaping crowd, when he was accosted by a blood-thirsty fellow in a canvas suit, who carried a deadly machete.

"Say, my friend. Would you not like to go to Cuba?" said the stranger to Ford.

The reporter, being heart and fancy free, said that such a chance would suit him to a T. Moreover, he was tired of writing dog fights and strawberry festivals for a country daily, and since Gen. Bradley Johnson, the New York Journal's correspondent in Havana, was about to fight a duel with a crack-shot in the Spanish army, there was a gap just yawning for a bright young man with a yearning for fame. "Say, you can count on me," said Ford. "I can work a Gatling gun to beat the band, and blood don't turn my stomach. Between fights I can write red-hot war stories for the Journal."

"You are the right stuff," said the fellow with the machete. Just put on one of these uniforms, and you can put in your time showing off these guns to the crowd. Within the next few minutes Ford blossomed out in the full regalia of a Cuban insurgent. He carried his machete a little gingerly, to be sure, and his knees quivered when the Gatling guns went off, but otherwise he seemed to be sound.

About this time Assemblyman Edward Hicks and James P. Logan, the newspaper man, happened to come across Ford. His fitting accoutrements almost disguised him. "Salute and give the countersign," yelled Ford like the soldier in a burlesque, Messrs Hicks and Logan laughed outright at the togs of the reporter. Then Ford told them he was going to Cuba. They did not believe him at first, but it looked very much like it when later on Ford was seen having his photograph taken and his pedigree recorded in the enlistment tent.

It was rumored in town this morning that after a bad night on a cot, during which the machete fellow told Ford some discomforting things about how the Spanish were a very ungentlemanly lot with a deep-seated predeliction for spilling Cuban blood as a pastime, Ford deserted the camp. He had not been found up to noon today to tell his side of the story. But it is feared that "Cuba Libre" has received a set-back, for Ford would have made a gallant soldier. As for the Journal, their loss cannot be reckoned.

Facts About Fire.

The city of Philadelphia reports a saving of one million dollars per year by the use of chemical over water engines. Water does much more damage than fires. When the Chemicals of the Knickerbocker Hand Fire Extinguisher are projected upon a fire, they are by the heat instantly converted into gases, that expand rapidly in every direction driving away the oxygen, and the fire dies, being deprived of its life. The effect sought, namely: the extinguishing of fires is easily accomplished by the Knickerbocker.

Plainfield's Glee Club Well Received.

The Lotos Glee Club and a number of their friends went to Millington Friday evening to attend a musicale at Nishwitz Hall. The young men of the club under the leadership of W. E. MacClymont rendered several selections in their usual excellent manner and were well received. Two stages carried the party over and back.

New Jersey's Showing at Washington.

New Jersey was well represented at the National Christian Endeavor convention held at Washington, D. C., last week, twelve hundred delegates being present. The New York Tribune in commenting on it says: "The great size of the New Jersey contingent draws attention to it. The visitors are a sturdy body of men and women."

A MORNING INVASION.

CHIEF GRANT VISITED THE HAUNT OF THE PLAINFELD YOUTH.

They Were in Swimming, But Fled at the Sight Sight of the Officer, Leaving Their Clothes—Wore Tights—No Arrests.

It was warm this morning and everybody realized the fact. A little breeze rustled the leaves of the trees along the banks of Green brook and played a soft accompaniment to the splashing of the water. Early in the morning the small boys assembled by the banks and enjoyed the cooling shades, but they did more. They had come prepared and were soon paddling about Plainfield's single water course, clad only in trunks. The boys were quite small, but they enjoyed the water all the same, and soon made the neighbors aware of the fact. The pool that lies between Sandford and Westervelt avenues was especially attractive, as the large shade trees hang over the bank, and the scorching rays of the July sun is unable to reach the water at this point.

All was peaceful for a time and the silence was broken only by the chatter of the lads. A wagon containing two men was driven along the borough side when one of the lads looked up. An expression of terror overspread his face. Then came another look of determination. Out of the cooling waters he clambered with twenty more just like him close behind and then they fled. If you have ever seen prairie dogs run when their villiage is invaded then you have some idea of the way the boys scattered, for in the wagon they had recognized the familiar features of Chief Grant and Patrolman McCue.

The lads didn't stop to don their street attire, but left everything behind, and the residents were rather astonished to see a small army of bare-limbed boys come fleeing down the street.

Chief Grant had been telephoned that a crowd of boys were in swimming near Sandford avenue and were disturbing the neighborhood, hence his invasion. He came around by the borough side so as to drive the boys over on the city side, where they could be captured, but as they wore trunks no arrests were made.

The Chief also found another crowd of boys enjoying a swim in Hyde's pond, and they fled with equal rapidity. One poor lad was captured but his fear so overcame him that his tongue refused to move. He at last managed to give the names of some of his companions and was then allowed to go.

ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLING.

John Scott Convicted of Selling Beer Without a License.

After several adjournments, the case against John Scott for illegal liquor selling, has been tried and this morning City Judge DeMeza gave his verdict. He pronounced Scott guilty and fined him $25 on each charge, for there were two.

Scott drives a beer wagon and is supposed only to deliver the bottled liquid. It was said that he sold directly from the wagon. The police secured the evidence and the arrest was made. This was sometime ago.

Scott was defended by Reed and Coddington, and the chief argument used in his defence was that the beer had been ordered and then delivered although much time did not elapse between the time of ordering and delivering.

Picknicking at Boynton Beach.

There were a number of picnics at Boynton Beach Saturday but none of them were more enjoyable than the picnic of the Ladies' Aid Society of Monroe Avenue chapel. Hand's stage took twenty of the members and their families and the day was passed very delightfully.

A Croquet Party.

A delightful croquet party was given to Miss Josephine Marsh, of Scotch Plains, Saturday afternoon, by her aunt, Mrs. John Johnson, of the same place. A number of youg people from this city and Scotch Plains were present and passed an enjoyable afternoon. The first prizes for croquet were won by Miss Florence Bettman and West Phillips, while Miss May Marsh and Will Hollingsworth secured the booby prizes.

Generous Contributions.

The congregation of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church have contributed $650 to the church in St. Louis of which Rev. Mr. Palmer is pastor and which was wrecked by the cyclone.

A Big Turtle.

A forty-pound loggerhead turtle was caught by a party of Plainfielders at Boynton Beach yesterday and is now on exhibition at Hummer's meat market.

THE NORTHFIELD CONFERENCE.

William D. Murray Describes a Great Work of the Y. M. C. A.

William D. Murray at the the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon gave an account of the students' conference conducted by D. L. Moody, at Northfield, Mass. Among the other speakers at the conference were Dr. Schauffler, Dr. Arthur T. Pearson and Dr. Alex. McKenzie of Cambridge.

Mr. Murray said in part: "There were registered this year four hundred and eighty-seven under-graduates; seventy-seven of them coming from Yale. Aside from the students there were perhaps 1,500 visitors attending the conference. The Fourth of July is a celebration at Northfield the like of which one never sees elsewhere. An interesting feature of the conference was a delegation of Japanese whose expenses were met by a lady who had previously given $10,000 to one of the Young Men's Christian Associations, of China. The key note of the Conference was 'Purity of life essential to spiritual power.' John 3:16 was spoken in ten different languages either by a native or representative of the country. Each gave a few words about the need of work in their country, and then closed with the Macedonia cry in the tongue of their native land. One of the speakers was Chas. T. Studd, one of the seven of the eight members of the Cambridge crew, who were converted under the ministry of Mr. Moody when in England. All seven went as foreign missionaries. Robert E. Spear spoke of the necessity of prayer. The morning watch which is the first half hour of each day spent in prayer and meditation, is still observed among the students of England."

The general Christian Workers' Conference meets at Northfield from July 30th to August 16th. Among the speakers secured for this conference are: Rev. F. B. Meyer, London; Rev. R. A. Torrey, Chicago; Rev. C. I. Scofield and D. L. Moody. Messrs. Sankey and Stebbins will have charge of the music.

A SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Scherer Celebrate Their Wedding Anniversary.

The silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Scherer, of Terrill road, was held Sunday afternoon and evening. There were about 75 relatives and friends present from this city, New York, Brooklyn and Newark.

During the afternoon there was singing, speechmaking and bowling on an improvised alley in the yard. Carriages were in waiting to convey the guests about the city. There was also dancing during the afternoon and evening.

Several of the New York party missed the last train home so they returned to the house and made merry until daylight this morning. Included among the guests were five sons and four daughters.

Realty Changes.

The following transfers of property have been recorded in the Union County Clerk's office from July 2d to 8th inclusive, as reported in the New Jersey Contractor and Gazette: Mary E. French, Plainfield, to J. H. Kitchen, North Plainfield, lot 3, A street, $360; Hugh McDonnell et ux. to Catharine Lynch, Plainfield, lot east side of Arlington avenue, $1,700; Matilda A. $11.20 for Fresh Air Camp.

The lawn festival for benefit of Mountain Park Fresh Air Camp, held on the portico of H. J. Martin's home, Fairview avenue, one evening last week by the young people of the primary department of Trinity Reformed Church Sunday-school, was a great financial success, notwithstanding the rainy weather, and the young folks, headed by Clara and Hazel Martin and Master Clyde Slater, assisted by others, are to be congratulad upon the amount realized for the worthy object. The Press will hand the amount to the treasurer of the camp.

A MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

CONTRACTOR UHDAL STRUCK DOWN WITH A CLUB BY AN ITALIAN.

The Assailant Made a Demand for Money Which Was Not His Due and When Refused, Tried to Kill the Plainfield Man.

A demand for money not earned, a consequent refusal and a murderous assault is the story of an affair which took place Friday morning at Cranford, in which one of Plainfield's well-known business men was struck down by a club in the hands of a frenzied Italian. The assailant was an unknown man, and who, after the assault, ran back into the woods from whence he came and no one had a chance to get a close look at him.

Of late, Michael Uhdal, the contractor, who resides on South avenue, a short distance east of Leland avenue, has been working with a small force of men in Cranford.

Friday morning about 9 o'clock Mr. Uhdal noticed a strange Italian come out of a small patch of woods nearby and going where the men were working picked up some tools and began to work. Mr. Uhdal went up to him at once and told him that his services were not required, as there was an ample force of men at hand. The Italian gave Mr. Uhdal a look of hatred and in surly tones demanded pay for the work he had already done, which amount he fixed at 25 cents.

Mr. Uhdal refused to pay him anything as he had done no work and even if he had accomplished anything he had not been ordered to work. When the Italian had been refused the money he said nothing and slunk away in the bushes, and Mr. Uhdal supposed the matter was at an end.

Mr. Uhdal and the rest of his men were going on with their work and did not notice the Italian, who had been refused the money, stealthily creeping up behind Mr. Uhdal with a four-foot hickory club in his hand. The club descended and struck Mr. Uhdal a terrible blow about a half inch below the right temple, spending most of its force on the jawbone, and cutting a terrible gash across the side of his face. He sank to the ground unconscious, without uttering a sound. As soon as he fell, the murderous club was uplifted once more, and descended again with lightning-like rapidity, this time striking Mr. Uhdal in the ribs and partly across his back.

The men who were working for Mr. Uhdal had by this time had their attention attracted by the sound of the blows and came running up to the scene of the assault. One of the men seized the club and struck the Italian a blow upon the head and he dropped to the ground, apparently unconsious. Mr. Uhdal's son John, who had been the first to go to his fathers aid, was struck at by the Italian, but the blow fell short.

They then turned their attention to Mr. Uhdal and while they were making him as comfortable as possible, the Italian who made the assault and who had been apparently rendered unconscious, took to his heels and ran off into the woods, making good his escape.

After the assault, Mr. Uhdal was removed to his boarding house at Garwood where he was attended by a doctor from Cranford. He soon returned to consciousness and is rapidly recovering, although it will be some time before he can return to work. The doctor, who attended him, said that if he had been struck a half inch higher on his head it would have killed him.

As soon as possible after the assault officers in Cranford and Westfield were notified. Officer Todd, of the latter place, was informed that a strange Italian, with his head bandaged, had been seen at an Italian boarding house on South avenue, near Fanwood, and accompanied by a posse searched the premises, but he was not found, and from all accounts it is not likely that he will be.

OFFICER FLYNN TO THE RESCUE.

He Rescues Liberty Street Residents From the Dangers of Hydrophobia.

Liberty street was a lively place for a short time Saturday afternoon when a dog, attacked with the rabies, owned the street until Patrolman Flynn appeared on the scene.

The dog belonged to an Italian with an unpronouncable name whom they call John Wilson for short. Wilson lives in the neigborhood. After frighting the women and children on on the street, the dog cleaned out Chas. Kaeding's barber shop. There was a general scrambling in all directions and cries of "Mad dog" attracted Patrolman Flynn.

The dog next tried to raid a little shoe shop next door belonging to a Hebrew, but the policeman managed to lock the infuriated animal in the store and then shot it to the great relief of the community in general.

SEWALL'S CAREER

Sketch of the Life of the Democratic Vice-Presidential Nominee.

A RECENT CONVERT TO FREE SILVER

Prominent Bath, Me., Shipbuilder, Railroad Man and Bank President—Descendant of an Old and Distinguished Family.

Portland, Me., July 13.—Arthur Sewall, who was nominated for vice-president at Chicago Saturday, was born in Bath Me., on Nov. 25, 1835, and was the third son of the late William D. Sewall. He was educated in the public schools of Bath, and after an apprenticeship under his father he formed in 1854 with his brother Edward the firm of E. & A. Sewall, shipbuilders and commission agents. The Bath Sewalls have been closely identified with Bath's chief industry, shipbuilding, since 1823, when William D. Sewall opened a small shipyard on the banks of the Kennebec, next to the family homestead. He was succeded in business by Clark & Sewall. These two earlier firms built twenty-nine wooden vessels between 1823 and 1854. The E. & A. Sewall firm dissolved in 1879 by the death of Edward Sewall. In 1879 Arthur Sewall, his son, Wm. D. Sewall, and his nephew, Samuel S. Sewall, formed the firm of Arthur Sewall & Co., which is still in existence. To meet the conditions of the present time, the firm began some years ago to equip their shipyard with a plant for making steel vessels. They built the first steel American clipper, Dirigo. Mr. Sewall was for many years prominent as a railroad man. He became a director of the Maine Central Railroad company in 1875, and in 1884 was elected its president, serving in that capacity until the election of Mr. Wilson several years ago. During this time Mr. Sewall was also president of the Portland, Mount Desert and Machias Steamboat company. Mr. Sewall has been a director of some of the branch lines of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, and a director of the Mexican Central railway in 1884, 1885 and 1886. He is also president of the Bath National bank.

Came Out for Free Silver in '95.

Mr. Sewall came out for free coinage of silver in June, 1895. He was the democratic candidate for United States senator at the session of the Maine legislature in 1893. Mr. Sewall has always made his home at Bath. He married Emma Crooker of Bath, a daughter of the late Charles Crooker, who also was long and actively engaged in shipbuilding at Bath, on the 29th of March, 1859, and has had three sons—Harold M., who achieved distinction in the diplomatic service in Samoa during the first administration of President Cleveland, and who has since joined the republican party; William D., a member of the firm of Arthur Sewall & Co., and Dummer, who died in infancy. The Sewalls are of an old and illustrious family on both sides of the water. The first American Sewall came here in 1634, and was born in Coventry, England, in 1614, so that he was a young man to come into the wilderness. His sons were Samuel, John, Stephen and Nicholas. Samuel was the judge of witchcraft fame. John was the direct ancestor of the Sewalls in Maine. Dummer Sewall, the grandfather of the first shipbuilder, came to Bath from York, which was also in the district of Maine, in 1762, and purchased the tract of land on which to this day stands the Sewall yard and the houses of the Sewall family.

Catholic Summer School Opened.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., July 13.—The fifth annual session of the Catholic Summer school of America was opened auspiciously yesterday by pontifical mass at St. John's church, Rt. Rev. Bishop Gabriels of the diocese of Ogdensburg being the celebrant. The opening sermon was by Rev. F. Ryan, rector of St. Michael's cathedral, Toronto, one of Canada's most eloquent orators. He took for his subject the "Attributes of God."

Tests of Colt Gun Successful.

Washington, July 13.—Tests of the Colt automatic gun have been progressing at the navy yard in this city for several days. They are regarded as satisfactory and the indications are that the contracts with the department will be carried out. The arm is of a single barrel construction, and will fire 400 shots per minute.

Transfer of Naval Boilers.

Washington, July 13.—In consideration of a request from Admiral Belknap, the boiler of the U. S. S. Galena, which was wrecked off Montauk Point, will be place in the Massachusetts training ship Enterprise at Boston. The transfer will be made under direction of the government at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard.

Cholera in Egypt.

Cairo, July 13.—The total number of new cases of cholera reported throughout Egypt yesterday was 362, and the deaths numbered 321. Among those who has died from the disease is Major Owen of the Soudan expedition, who commanded the outposts at Amlugol wells.

Appeal of Canal Carriers.

Buffalo, July 13.—The canal carriers have made an appeal to the New York Produce exchange for relief from grain elevator extortions and discriminations against the state grain traffic at Buffalo and New York.

General Merchandise Store Burned.

Port Jefferson, N. Y., July 13.—The store of F. F. Darling & Son, dealers in general merchandise, was burned yesterday. Loss, about $25,000.

TO PROTECT NATIVE BIRDS.

Efforts To Instruct School Children as to the Value of the Feathered Tribe.

Washington, July 13.—An earnest plea is made by the biological division of the agricultural department that a bird division to be devoted to instructing children in the value of our native birds and the best means of protecting them, may be added to the school calendar. The idea originated with Prof. C. A. Babcock, the superintendent of schools in Oil City, Pa., where it has been in force with gratifying results for several years. The suggestion has received the cordial approval of Secretary Morton, who, in a letter to Prof. Babcock, pays high tribute to the beauty and utility of the feathered tribe. One extract from the secretary's letter, which is herewith given, is especially interesting: "Birds," says he, "are of inestimable value to mankind. Without their unremitting services our gardens and fields would be laid waste by the insect pests. But we owe them a greater debt even than this, for the study of birds tends to develop some of the best attributes and impulses of our natures. Among them we find examples of generosity, unselfish devotion, of the love of mother for offspring and other sensible qualities. Their industry, patience and ingenuity excite our admiration; their songs inspire us with a love of music and poetry; their beautiful plumages and graceful manners appeal to our aesthetic sense; their long migrations to distant lands stimulates our imaginations and tempt us to inquire what are the causes of these periodic movements and, finally, the endless modifications of form and habits by which they are enabled to live under most diverse conditions of food and climate—on land and at sea—invite the student of nature into inexhaustible fields of pleasurable research."

BURNING PLANTATIONS.

Even the Machinery on Sugar Estates Destroyed by Cuban Insurgents.

New York, July 13.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Havana says: The passengers by the coast steamer Mortera, which has arrived from ports in eastern Cuba, report that the insurgents are burning many plantations of importance around Puerto Padre and Maniabon. The inhabitants on the estates are taking refuge in the Spanish garrison towns on the coast for protection. The cane fields in the districts mentioned have all been burned, and the laborers' huts are reduced to ashes. Even the machinery on some of the sugar estates was destroyed. Several families left homeless arrived here by the Mortera. The commander of the transport Legespi reports that when anchored in Maria la Gorda harbor rebels fired upon his ship from the shore. He immediately ordered his crew to clear for action and fire upon the insurgents hidden in the bushes. They dispersed after several shots. The commander was unaware of the extent of the damage done to the enemy. The ship suffered slight damage. The stateroom of the commander on the upper deck was pierced by several shots. None of the crew was injured.

FOR OUR GOOD OFFICES.

A Letter of Gratitude from the Emperor of Japan Received by the President.

Washington, July 13.—Recent diplomatic correspondence of the state department contains a translation of a letter of thanks from Mutsuhito, the emperor of Japan, to President Cleveland on account of the good offices of this government toward Japanese subjects in China which the emperor says "Not only tended to mitigate the severities and hardships of war and finally to promote the successful issue of the negotiations for peace, but served to draw still closer the bonds of friendship and good neighborhood which happily unite our two countries."

Can Not Make Perfect Plates.

Washington, July 13.—At a meeting of the board of construction to consider the armor of the warships Kearsarge and Kentucky, complaints were received from the armor manufacturers that the plates are so large that they cannot make a perfect material with the ingots of which they are made unless they are constructed of about ten tons less weight and this will reduce the plates somewhat.

Waterlogged Schooner Picked Up at Sea.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., July 13.—Steamer Orion of Boston, for Baltimore, has arrived here towing schooner Galatea of St. John, lumber-laden, which she picked up waterlogged, dismasted and abandoned off Pollock Rip Saturday afternoon. Nothing is known of the Galatea's crew or of the cause of the disaster, but it may have been in a collision.

Loaded Coal Barge Floated.

New York, July 13.—The New Jersey Central railroad barge No. 6 with a cargo of 1,000 tons of coal, which went ashore on Shinnecock beach, Long Island, July 4, was hauled off by the Chapman Wrecking company yesterday and towed by the tug Chapman to her destination, Providence.

London Socialist Congress.

Berlin, July 13.—The socialists have arranged to send thirty delegates to the coming international socialist congress in London, and the Polish socialists and anarchists will send special delegates with instructions to demand admission to the congress.

Hobart and Family at Hotel Champlain.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., July 13.—Garrett A. Hobart, republican candidate for vice-president, with his wife and son, Garrett, jr., are guests at the Hotel Champlain. It is Mr. Hobart's present intention to remain there for about six weeks.

ELECTRICAL SPARKS.

A Cleveland (O.) undertaker proposes to use electric motors in place of teams in conducting funerals.

Prof. Vaughan claims to have invented a telephone by which conversations can be carried on between New York and London.

German electricians term the lost currents which circulate through the earth in the return circuits of railways "vagabond currents."

Como, the native town of Alessandro Volta, is going to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the invention of the voltaic cell by an electrical congress and an electrical exhibition.

A Parisian electrician has succeeded in forcing violets by the aid of his battery, and recently sent a bunch of these fledglings, only four hours old, to ex-Empress Eugenie.

Glasgow is likely to follow the example of Leeds, and adopt an overhead system of electric traction for the tramways of the city, which are the property of the corporation.

The reflection from a flash of lightning travels nearly 1,999,000 times faster than the sound of the report. That is the reason that the thunder is generally heard several moments after the flash is seen.

The audeophone, a new invention for long-distance communication, is successfully used at Rogue River, Wash., in communication between the towns of Wedderburn and Gold Beach, situated a mile apart.

It was recently discovered that there are seven telephone companies doing business in South Dakota which have so far been exempt from taxation, but which will be required to make returns in the future.

ENGLISH MEN AND WOMEN.

The marquis of Salisbury prefers to stand at a high desk while working.

The health of Queen Victoria is not so satisfactory as when she was last in the south.

Sir Henry Hawkins, Hon. Mrs. Henniker and a number of other prominent persons are thinking of building in London an animals' hospital.

Queen Victoria has a marked preference for gray horses, and throughout her holiday on the Riviera a magnificent pair of this color have been in almost daily use.

Lord Chief Justice Russell, of Englang, will probably make the principal address at the next meeting of the American Bar association at Saratoga in August next.

Lord Salisbury's hat, it is said, is such that its disreputable appearance on one memorable occasion led the doorkeepers at Monte Carlo to refuse him admittance to the public gambling rooms.

The British museum will soon lose the services of Sir Wollaston Franks, K. C. B., the head of the department of British and medieval antiquities. He has been an officer of the museum since 1851.

THE RAILROADS.

A company with a capital of $3,000,000 has been formed for the purpose of building a railroad to the glaciers of Mount Tacoma.

About 2,000 miles of railway are under construction in Japan, and the London Times says there are signs that American engineering and material will be preferred to English hereafter by the Japanese.

Crawford Marley, who has just died in New Zealand at the age of 83, is believed to have been the last survivor of those who had a ride on Stephenson's No. 1 engine when the Stockton & Darlington railway was first opened.

The railroads of Mexico are, with one exception, of American make, and the engineers, train and station officials are nearly all Americans. The roads are well managed.

Only one railway passenger among 28,000,000 is annually killed in England. In France it is only one in 19,000,000, in Germany one in 10,000,000, Italy one in 6,000,000, America one in 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 and in Russia one in 1,000,000.

GOSSIP FROM BERLIN

Libelous Writers Take Advantage of Society's Absence.

COURT SCANDALS AGAIN CIRCULATED

Absence of Officials Also Causes a Pause in the Eastern Situation—Cretan Christians Determined in Their Policy Towards the Porte.

Berlin, July 13.—The scattering of the whole of the great world of Berlin has seemed opportune for authors of libelous pamphlets to try the credulity of the public by issuing a brochure containing pseudo revelations of court scandals. Lieberecht von Kotze, formerly court chamberlain, who was falsely accused of having written the anonymous letters which caused his retirement from the court long ago, is in the fortress at Glatz serving his sentence of confinement for killing Baron von Schrader, master of ceremonies, but the producers of the pamphlet pretend to divulge facts which are known only to von Kotze and the higher courtiers. Under initials which indicate the names of the personages implicated in the scandals the authors of the pamphlet rehash the old stories which were published long ago, many of which have been repeatedly shown to be untrue. Von Kotze's wife, who is staying at Edmansdorff, the guest of the Princess of Saxe-Meiningen, knows nothing of the pamphlet and others of von Kotze's friends declare that the publication of the stories was not authorized by him. The police are prohibiting the sale of the pamphlet.

A Pause in the Eastern Situation.

With the king of Greece at Aix-les Baine, the czar on the eve of visiting the European capitals, and all of the leading diplomats contemplating holiday, there will be a pause in the developments of the situation in the east, as might have been expected. The Politische Correspondenz, an official organ, has information that Prince Lobanoff-Rostovsky will devote his leave of absence absolutely to the repose which is necessary to the restoration of his health, and for this reason will seek an obscure retreat where his tranquility will not be disturbed by any official episode. There is no doubt that Europe has reached an armistice in the diplomatic warfare over Turkey, but the governments are relying too much upon the showing up of matters in Crete and the unlikelihood of a recurrence of important events in that island. This is the official impression here. Dr. Nicolaides, the official representative of the Cretan reform committee, who is now in Berlin, distrusts the present comparative calm and regards it only as a brief truce before the breaking out of the storm. The only chance of permanent peace in Crete, he declares, lies in the intervention of the powers and the granting of autonomy to the island.

Claims of Christian Cretans.

Apart from the opinion expressed by Dr. Nicolaides, advices have been received here from Canea to the effect that although the Christian deputies will attend the opening of the session of the Cretan assembly they do not intend to engage in debate with the Moslem deputies, but will present Berovitch Georgi Pasha, the newly appointed Christian governor of Crete, who will preside, a document setting forth the claims of the Christian Cretans to which will be added a demand for a universal suffrage and the recognition of a Cretan flag with a cross thereon. They will give the porte a short time in which to respond to these demands, and if the porte's reply shall be unfavorable, as it certainly will be, the Christian deputies will constitute an independent assembly. In the meantime the insurgents will seize the advantage afforded by the Turkish troops being forced into inactivity and occupy all the stragetic points on the island.

Endorses Platform and Candidates.

Chicago, July 13.—After a two days' secret session and conference with prominent members, the executive committee of the Bi-metallic league adjourned yesterday and announced its approval of the democratic platform and candidates. The committee appeals to the silver organizations of the country who intend to send delegates to the St. Louis convention to unify the silver forces by endorsing the work done at the Coliseum.

Murderer Breaks Jail.

Erie, Pa., July 13.—Edwin D. Heidler, who is under indictment for murdering his brother-in-law, Levi Kreidler, last May, escaped from jail here yesterday morning. He managed to escape by slipping into the corridor unawares where he hid until he had an opportunity to walk out at the door. Sheriff Evans at once started a large posse out hunting for the fugitive. A reward of $600 was also offered for his capture.

New Gold Fields Discovered.

London, July 13.—The Times to-day publishes a dispatch from Vienna saying that Emil Holub, the noted African explorer, has received details of the discovery of gold fields in the Orange Free State which rival those in the Boer republic.

Atlanta Club Goes Under.

Atlanta, Ga., July 13.—The Atlanta baseball club of the Southern league has gone by the board. The managing director declined to pay off Saturday night, and notified the players that the club would drop out of the league and quit.

It is claimed that Senator Smith will support the Chicago nominees.

A McKinley and Hobart Democratic Club proposed! What's in a name?

The New York Times this morning advocates a third ticket for the gold standard Democrates.

The Journal and The Daily News are the only two big New York papers that have declared openly and aboveboard that they will support Bryan. Both papers have large circulations among a class of people who are easily influenced.

It is announced that Candidate Bryan is particularly anxious to carry the silver side of the issue into the Eastern States at the earliest possible moment. There is but little doubt that Bryan will draw audiences even if he does not make votes.

Now and then the columns of the News have been graced with bright sketches of local life. Many people imagined that these stories were written in the News office. But such has not always been the case. For instance, last Saturday the News contained an account of a fire-cracker joke that was alleged to have occurred in a South Second street home on the Fourth of July. As a matter of fact, the incident happened in a New York family and was reported in The World last Sunday. The World story was published by the News, with the change of the location of the affair to a local home, almost word for word. What piracy and deception.

Though they cannot vote, the New Jersey Woman Suffragists do not intend to go grooping through the campaign with a hazy understanding of the issues on which a President is to be elected. Under the espionage of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association, of which Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city, is president, they are arranging a non partisan course of study on the subjects of protection and free trade and the gold standard and free silver. Mrs. Hall in a letter says: "The object of the National Association in arranging this course of study, is to educate our women as good citizens, and to make them reflect seriously on the duties of citizenship in our Great Republic."

FREIGHT CARS IN CORN FIELD.

Collision Which Sent Part of a Train Down a Bank.

On the Central Railroad of New Jersey, near the North Branch station, at half-past seven o'clock Saturday evening, the fast freight smashed into the rear end of a coal train that was standing just outside the cut at the east of a sharp curve. The locomotive had cut loose from the coal train and started for the water tank at the station, when the freight, consisting of forty cars laden with merchandise, came rushing down the steep grade of Picket's Mountain and around the curve.

When Gilmore, the engineer of the fast freight, saw the coal train, he tried to stop his locomotive, but could not, and as the crash came he and the firemen jumped. The big freight engine ploughed into the caboose, tossing it forward among the cars. Then the engine turned on its side and fell across the tracks.

Ten of the freight cars left the track and rolled down a steep embankment into a corn field. The car doors were bust open, and the contents of the cars was scattered over the ground. Two hundred feet of rail and ties were torn up. Two wrecking trains and one hundred workmen worked all night to clear the road. The end brakeman of the coal train says he went back to flag the frieght, but Gilmore, the engineer, says he saw no signal.

ODDITIES OF POLITICS.

An Effort Being Made to Form a Democratic-Republican Club.

There has been lots of talk on the part of the Democrats of this city who are dissatisfied with the action of the Democratic convention, and now they promise to do something besides talk. A Press reporter was assured this morning by a prominet Democrat that a Democratic McKinley and Hobart campaign club would soon be organized. This club will support the regular Democratic State and county ticket, and McKinley and Hobart for President and Vice-President.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

ON THE MOUNTAIN TOP.

A Happy Soliloquy on the Attractions to be Found at Mountain Park Inn.

One hour from Liberty street, New York, to the top of a mountain and gleefully landed in the brand-new Mountain Park Hotel! This was never possible till June, 1896. Plainfield exults in this great victory over rocks and altitude. The guest finds a new surprise at every turn. The smooth macadam road winding up from the plain, a short half mile among the trees, the air redolent with the breath of ferns and flowers, the luxuriant foliage of the forest waving gracefully to the music of a thousand birds, soon make the traveler forget the hot and dusty city. The stately hotel looms up, grandly perched on the very crest of the mountain. From the spacious verandas, the vision is indeed magnificent. "Plainfield the beautiful" lies at your feet, its many spires and gables rising as if from a wide and splendid park. Westward, the "Second Mountain" of the Watchung series climbs skyward, while away to the east the hills of Staten Island and the shining waters of the Kill von Kull meet the eye. In this favored spot mountain breezes always cool the brow, summer heats are unknown and hay fever never comes, while the happy guests pity those who dwell 600 feet below them on the plain.

Enter the hotel. Here all is newness, neatness, taste and good cheer. The bright and pretty dining hall with its new and shining service of silver and china and linen crowns all with a splendid bill of fare, bringing that supreme satisfaction that comes only after a first-class dinner course under first-class management, amid first-class surroundings. Finish your day with an evening in your spacious parlors with music and beauty, or out on the verandas looking at the silvery moon and listening to the cool zephyrs that are always playing sweet symphonies among the tree tops far below you, while never a solitary Jersey mosquito ever dares to molest you or make you afraid. A great society queen said "the half was never told me," and that's just what the present writer said when he took up his abode in the Mountain Park Inn.

Citizens of New York and Newark are discovering the delights of this grand mountain retreat within an hour from their City Hall; while the Plainfielders rejoice in holding dinner parties near the clouds.

Eli Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles for twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street

Eczema is a frightful affliction, but like all other skin diseases it can be permanently cured by applications of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It never fails to cure Piles. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

The Horse Came Home Alone.

Frank Hand, of Park avenue, drove to Scotch Plains yesterday and left his horse tied to a post at the place where he was stopping. The horse being a lively one took a notion to go home and to carry out the purpose he broke the bridle and upset the wagon. The latter was wrecked considerable. The horse came directly home to the stable. Mr. Hand was obliged to come home, secure another wagon and return for the damaged one.

In a Cross-Country Hunt.

The names of Charles J. Fisk and his three sons, of West Seventh street, are given among the number who will take part in the cross-country hunting at Jefferson, in the White Mountains. Mr. J. J. Dwyer, of the Ocean County Hunt, of Lakewood, has taken with bim to Jefferson a fine string of hunters and a pack of more than fifty hounds. The fields in that vicinity are admirably adapted to drag hunting.

Liquor Cases Adjourned.

Nathan Richmond and Samuel Kline, two offenders of the local liquor ordinance, came up for trial in the city court this morning and both cases were adjourned until Monday, July 27.

When we consider that the intestines are about five times as long as the body, we can realize the intense suffering experienced when they become inflamed. De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure subdues inflammation at once and completely removes the difficulty. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Why is It,

if catarrh is a constitutional affection, as those claim who have a blood tonic to sell, that physicians, in extreme cases, frequently advise change of air and climate to those suffering from it? Catarrh is a climate affection, and nothing but a local remedy or a change of climate will cure it. Ely's Cream Balm, in all cases of catarrh, is so efficient as to do away with the necessity of leaving home and friends, causing instant relief and a perfect cure after short continuance.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. T. MACMURRAY, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., July 6th, 1896.

Resolved, That no person or persons shall make or cause to be made any opening into any city sewers or drains for the purpose of making connection therewith, except plumbers or drain layers duly licensed by the Board of Health of said City, and no such licensed persons shall make or cause to be made any opening as aforesaid without first obtaining the written permit of the street commissioner of said City of Plainfield specifying the premises for which such permit shall be granted, and said openings shall be made under the supervision and direction of the said street commissioner, or such other person as the Common Council may, by resolution or otherwise, from time to time designate for that purpose.

Resolved, That before the issuing of any written permission as aforesaid to any person or persons, there shall be paid to the street commissioner, to be by him paid to the city treasurer for the use of the city, the sum of one dollar for each and every permit, in order to provide for the expense of regulating the granting of such permits and inspection of the work to be done thereunder.

Resolved, That in order to put the foregoing regulations into permanent form, an ordinance be introduced covering the same ground, but that until such ordinance becomes a law, the foregoing resolutions shall be in full force and shall take effect immediately. 7 13 15 17

THE WEEK AT CANTON

Major McKinley Preparing for an Army of Visitors.

AN IMMENSE DELEGATION OF WOMEN

President of Sorosis To Lead 1,000 of the Fair Sex to the Home of the Republican Candidate—Will Have a Special Train and Carry Their Band.

Canton, O., July 13.—This will be a week of more than ordinary importance at Canton. Major McKinley expects a good many visitors representing various interests, classes and organizations. The event which is destined to attract deepest attention, however, will be the coming of six or eight hundred representative women of Cleveland on Wednesday to congratulate Major McKinley on his nomination, and to assure him that he has in a high degree their confidence, respect and admiration. The Cleveland women will probably be joined by a delegation from Detroit and by many others from the larger towns of northern Ohio. It is not unlikely that the whole number may reach a thousand, or even more. The women who are active spirits in the movement are among the foremost society women of Cleveland and include in their numbers many of the most sincere and effective workers and organizers in the charitable undertakings of that city.

Sorosis President the Leader.

They are not coming as the bearers of a petition; they are not praying for more rights or wider privileges. Their visit will be largely non-partisan in character. It is not the republican candidate so much as William McKinley, the man, whom they are coming to see. The Cleveland women are coming to Canton on a special train and will bring their own band, quite in the style adopted by the visitors of the other sex who come here. The most active woman in organizing this excursion is Mrs. N. C. Stewart, president of Sorosis and a society leader of standing in Cleveland. The formal talking for the callers will be done by Mrs. Eloroy Avery of Cleveland, who is one of the most talented and capable women in the middle states.

National Committee Meeting.

The meeting of the national committee in Cleveland will naturally bring many visitors of importance in the political world to Canton. The members of the committee will call on Major McKinley to pay their respects, and in the wake of this body a large train of politicians of more or less prominence will be found. The mails to-day have brought Major McKinley a number of letters from gold democrats in various parts of the country. The writers make their communications in confidence, of course, but some of these letters contain direct promises of support, coupled with vigorous observations upon the action of the Chicago convention. Some of this correspondence came from western states where silver is supposed to be overpowering.

Sad Drowning of Two Girls.

Bellows Falls, Vt., July 13.—The village of Cambridgeport, seven miles from this town, is mourning for one of the saddest accidents that has occurred in this vicinity for many years. The victims are two young daughters of Rev. F. D. Goodrich, whose household here consisted of his wife and two young daughters, Rosabel, aged 18, and Lillian, aged 20, graduates from the state normal school. The girls started for a walk and not returning search was made for them. The bodies were found in the river. They were clad in improvised bathing suits, which indicated a sudden determination to go to the river for a frolic. They were extremely bright and attractive girls, graduated with high honors. Both expected to teach the coming year.

Tandem Wheelmen Killed While Coasting.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 13.—George Stone, a druggist and Charles Sanford, an engineer on the Lehigh Valley railroad, residing at Athens, Pa., while coasting down a hill on a tandem bicycle near Campville yesterday lost control of their wheel and crashed into a bridge. Stone was instantly killed and Sanford was fatally injured. The former is married, the latter single.

Boston Ancients Leave for Paris.

London, July 13.—Most of the members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston have doffed their military uniforms and gone to Paris attired in citizens clothing. The Daily News to-day publishes an interview with Col. Henry Walker, the commander of the Boston organization, in which he emphasizes the complete success of their visit.

Brighton Handicap.

New York, July 13.—Secretary C. V. Sass of the Brighton Beach Racing association announces, among others, the following candidates and their weights for the Brighton handicap, which will be run on Brighton's opening day, July 22. Henry of Navarre, 134; Clifford, 128; Sir Walter, 114; Naiki Pooh, 109, and Belmar, 103. The distance will be one mile and a quarter.

Newport Naval Reserve Torpedo Company.

Newport, R. I., July 13.—The Newport Naval Reserve Torpedo company, under Junior Lieutenant Christian, left yesterday with other Rhode Island companies to join the New York and Connecticut reserves on the annual cruise and encampment at Gardiner's island.

The Grand Prix Bicycle Race.

Paris, July 13.—The final heat in the bicycle race for the Grand Prix was won at Vincennes yesterday by Morin, a Frenchman. Jacquelin was second, and Jaap Edin third.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSE.

If an article that has become rusty is soaked in kerosene oil for some time the rust will become loosened and come off very readily.

A well-known medical authority says in a recent work that cheese should be eaten at least once a day. "It is the most valuable animal food obtainable," he says, "from two to three times as nutritious as the same money value of ordinary meat."

To prevent pie juice from running out in the oven make a little opening in the upper crust and insert a straw or little roll of white paper perpendicularly. The steam will escape through it as though a chimney and all the juice will be retained in the pie.

Candling eggs is the one infallible way to test them. This is done in a dark room with a candle, gas or electric light. When the egg is held close to the light if fresh it will appear a pinkish yellow; and if otherwise, it will be dotted with opaque spots or be entirely dark.

When it is not convenient to broil fish over an open fire it may be nicely broiled in a very hot oven. Prepare the fish as for the usual method and lay it with the skin down on a piece of oiled paper in a roasting pan. Cook on the upper grate of the oven until browned, first rubbing it with butter and dusting with a little flour.

PEOPLE.

Charles A. Dana is a high authority on forestry.

John W. Mackay, the American millionaire, is a native of Dublin.

Miss Jennie Barlow, of Colorado Springs, has been appointed consul of the League of American Wheelmen at that place.

Cord Meyer has recently been treated for appendicitis at the Roosevelt hospital, and his recovery is considered assured.

Speaker Reed is said to be a fluent French scholar, and his library contains a large percentage of French books. He is an omnivorous reader.

Prof. Albert G. Emerick has given to the Philadelphia Library company his valuable collection of musical literature, much of which cannot be duplicated in this country.

Henry Watterson, of Louisville, Ky., who is not easily shocked, asserts that language fails to express his ideas regarding the appearance of the Parisian women who ride bicycles.

Russell Sage is very fond of driving and has scarcely missed a daily ride in Central park in 30 years, except when he was absent from the city. He generally drives two horses, but is trying a team of four which will trot evenly together.

THE SOLDIERS.

Brig. Gen. Henry Morris, a veteran of the war of 1812, died at his home in Port Chester recently. He was 95 years old.

Gen. Saussier, military governor of Paris, who, in case of war, would act as commander in chief of the French army, though he has reached the age limit, has been continued in office by the ministry for three years longer.

Gen. Dragomiroff, who represented Russia at the French autumn maneuvers, has published a flattering criticism of the French soldiers. He finds that a great advance has been made since 1883, when he saw them last, both in material organization and in the quality of officers and men.

Dr. D. P. Slattery, a wealthy citizen of St. Louis, who was found dead in a lake near there a few days ago, was in command of the gunboat Cricket during the last two years of the rebellion. He was then under 20 years of age, and the youngest commanding officer in the navy.

PERSONALS FROM ABROAD.

Prof. Paulo Perez, a celebrated Brazilian linguist, is dead.

Jose Barias, a noted scientist of Chili, is coming to this country.

Prof. Falb, the Vienna prophet, is a failure. His cataclysms do not appear on time.

Russell, of the Scottsman, being once rallied by a gray-headed friend upon his baldness, silenced him with the remark: "My hair preferred death to dishonor."

The French academy of medicine has decided to divide between Dr. Roux and Prof. E. Behring the 250,000-franc prize founded by M. and Mme. Victor St. Paul as a reward for whomsoever should first discover a remedy for diphtheria.

HAPPENINGS IN FOREIGN LANDS.

China was the first country to manufacture harmoniums.

The annual "cattle crop" of New South Wales is about 400,000.

Football attracted 3,510,000 persons to the league and cup games in England during the past season.

A recent consignment of frozen salmon from Vancouver sold in London weighed 140 tons.

The finest existing green diamond is in the green vault at Dresden, in which are preserved the royal treasures of Saxony.

English convicts are to have "the monotony of their lives relieved" and their "moral tone raised" by lectures on "scientific and interesting subjects."

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Nothing destroys authority so much as the unequal and untimely interchange of power, pressed too far and relaxed too much.—Bacon.

Sudden resolutions, like the sudden rise of the mercury in the barometer, indicate little else than the changeableness of the weather.—Hare.

Proverbs were anterior to books, and formed the wisdom of the vulgar, and in the earliest ages were the unwritten law of morality.—Disraeli.

Thou art in the end what thou art. Put on wigs with millions of curls, set thy foot upon ell-high rocks. Thou abidest ever—what thou art.—Goethe.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

THIRTY-ONE DEAD SO FAR.

Other Victims of the Logan, Iowa, Collision Cannot Recover.

Omaha, Neb., July 13.—This is a day of general mourning in Omaha. The harvest of death from the Logan, Ia., wreck of Saturday night has been increased, and the list of victims now numbers thirty-one. About 7 o'clock the first funeral train from the scene of the catastrophe arrived at the Union depot, and there was an involuntary push forward to gratify a morbid desire to learn the news from those who had been in the disaster. The first train contained many of the more seriously injured, and as the poor unfortunates were lifted in blankets from the car the groans of the wounded mingled with the agonized sobs of their relatives and friends. Twenty passengere were taken in ambulances to St. Joseph's hospital. Several of them cannot hope to live more than a few hours. At 8:30 o'clock the train carrying the dead was sighted coming across the long Union Pacific trestle. As it drew up to the station a special cordon of police guarded the approaches and kept the crowd back. Seventeen bodies, laid on pine boards and covered with a plain muslin shroud, were taken one by one and placed in a long row on the floor of the baggage room. Only friends of the missing ones were allowed admission. Those silent forms gave evidence of the force of the collision. Headless trunks, bodies without limbs, limbs without bodies, were gathered in that small space. Occasionally some one would recognize the features of a son or daughter. Kind friends would gently lead them from the room and the body would be ticketed and sent to the undertakers.

BRYAN GREATLY FATIGUED.

He Spends Sunday at the House of a Friend and Avoids Politicians.

Chicago, July 13.—Exhausted by the exactions attendant upon his nomination for the presidency, William J. Bryan escaped Saturday night from the importunate crowd of congratulatory democrats and convention politicians and found rest and privacy in the home of a family friend. Mr. Bryan was so tired that it was after noon yesterday when he arose. Early in the afternoon Senator Jones, chairman of the national committee, Arthur Sewall, the vice-president nominee, and another Mr. Jones, who was chairman of the last democratic state convention of Arkansas, called to pay their respects, but politics was not discussed. Mr. Bryan said he had made no appointment with any one for the day or evening, and would take all the rest he could get until to-day. He went driving with Senator Jones and Mr. Sewall in the afternoon. He retired early so as to be on had at 9 o'clock this morning at the Leland hotel to meet the sub-committee of the notification committee to agree upon arrangements for that function.

NEBRASKANS DISAPPOINTED.

Displeased Because the Candidates Are To Be Notified at New York City.

Lincoln, Neb., July 13.—There was a feeling of keen disappointment among Lincoln people when news was read of the action of the democratic national committee in determining to have the two candidates of the party formally notified of their nomination at New York city instead of at their respective homes. This determination will not, however, have any effect on the demonstration and reception to Mr. Bryan on his return home. At the meeting Saturday night it was agreed to make it an entirely non-partisan affair, and this is emphasized by the fact that on the different committees leading republicans dominate in the membership. Excursions will be run to the city from every point in the state, and delegations will be present from Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, and Missouri. Mr. Bryan's nomination was referred to by the pastors of the different churches yesterday, notably the First Presbyterian, of which the nominee is a member. All reference to him was of a congratulatory nature.

The President's Sunday.

Buzzard's Bay, Mass., July 13.—The President and Mrs. Cleveland, with friends, took a carriage drive over to Crow's Nest and called on Mr. Jefferson yesterday afternoon.

TO CLOSE TO-DAY

End of the Christian Endeavor Convention at Washington.

SIGHTSEEING BY VISITORS TO-MORROW

Rev. B. Fay Mills of Fort Edward, N. Y., Creates a Sensation by a Pointed Reference to Candidate McKinley—Numerous Meetings.

Washington, July 13.—A list of thirty meetings arranged to be held in the tents and churches yesterday afternoon offered varying attractions to the 40,000 Christian Endeavor delegates in attendance here upon the fifteenth international convention. They were mostly denominational rallies and they drew crowds according to the numerical strength of each particular denomination. The Baptists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists occupied the three tents on the White lot. Speeches were made at these rallies by prominent members of the several denominations.

Created a Sensation.

Following these rallies Evangelist B. Fay Mills of Fort Edward, N. Y., addressed a large audience of citizens in tent Washington. He created a mild sensation in the middle of his sermon by a pointed reference to Candidate McKinley. Speaking of the extension of the principles of socialism as set forth in the sermon on the Mount he showed the need in the present time of Christian leaders in American politics. "Our candidates for public office, from president down to constable, should be guided," said Dr. Mills, "by the spirit of the Lamb that was slain. They do pretend to be or they should not get our votes. If they came forward honestly and made known their real motives for running for office we would not support them. Suppose McKinley should step up before you and say: 'Fellow citizens, I wish to be your president, so that I might pay my debts' (sensation), or suppose Bryan should say 'I—I—I—will be your president for my own good.' Why we would not choose either of them to take care of our stray dogs. What they should say is 'Fellow citizens, I am ready to be sacrificed upon the cross of public duty. I am ready to be president or constable, as my country calls me.' That is Christian. That is the spirit of the Lamb that was slain."

The Closing Day.

A Sabbath observance meeting was held also in Central hall, William Shaw of Boston presiding. Speeches were made by Wilbur F. Crafts of Washington, Mrs. H. T. McEwen of New York, and others. At 7 o'clock last evening Christian Endeavor prayer meetings were held in all the churches of the city. Preaching services, both morning and evening, in the city churches were well attended by citizens and Endeavorers. To-day is the closing day of the convention, to-morrow being given up entirely to sightseeing. The trustees have their final session to-day. In tents Williston and Endeavor two meetings of the World's union of Christian Endeavor were held at 9:30 o'clock, at which delegates from England, Persia, India, Africa, Germany, China, and Armenia spoke. Tent Washington, at the same hour, was the scene of a demonstration on behalf of the suffering Armenians. Miss Rebecca Kirkorian of Aintab, Turkey, and Miss Margaret W. Leitch of Jaffna, Ceylon, were the speakers. Other meetings for the afternoon and evening have been arranged, at which speeches will be made by leading men of all denominations. To-morrow the convention will assemble informally at the tomb of Washington for a service of song and praise.

CIRCULATING THE SCRIPTURES.

Eightieth Annual Report of the American Bible Society.

New York, July 13.—According to the eightieth annual report of the American Bible society the total issues of the Scriptures by the society at home and abroad for the yaer ending March 31 last amounted to 1,750,283 copies. The issues of the society during the eighty years of its existence amount to 61,795,841 copies. These millions of volumes have been circulated in nearly one hundred different languages and dialects in all parts of the world. More than one-half of its issues in 1895 went into the hands of the Pagan, the Mohamedan and nominally Christian people outside of the United States; 383,000 were sold in China alone. The society expended during the year $503,500.52. Agents of the society report a successful year's work in all parts of the world.

An Independent Paper Now.

Detroit, July 13.—The Free Press, the leading democratic newspaper of Michigan, announces that it will not endorse the Chicago platform or candidate. The Free Press declares itself to be hereafter free from any party connection. The Detroit Tribune, republican, had previously bolted the republican party and declared for free silver.

Stubborn Jute Fire.

Springfield, Mass., July 13.—There was a stubborn blaze at the Ludlow mills yesterday, the fire starting in a pile of jute. About 10,000 bales of jute were in the building. The fire burned slowly and did not blaze much, but it was ten hours after discovery before it was under control. Two streams were played on the fire all day.

Big Blaze at Guttenburg, N. J.

New York, July 13.—The Peter Cooper Glue company's works in Guttenberg, N. J., were totally destroyed by fire last night. The plant was owned by Cooper & Hewitt of New York. Loss, $50,000.

SPORTS

MONDAY, July 13. Sun rises 4:38 a. m., sets 7:32 p. m. Lanterns must be lighted between 8:32 p. m. and 3:38 a. m.

Cyclists desiring to join the League of American Wheelmen will be furnished with application blanks and necessary information by addressing the Cycling Department of the Daily Press.

CYCLING COMMENT.

A dozen Jersey wheels were turned out of the East Fourth street factory Saturday.

James Voorhies and wife, of Clinton avenue, rode their tandem to Asbury Park yesterday.

Charles Butts, of East Front street, enjoyed a cycle ride to Boynton Beach, Saturday.

J. T. Adams, of West Second street, rode his wheel to Liberty Corner and visited friends, yesterday.

Edward Randolph, night clerk at Randolph's pharmacy, rode his wheel to Nyack Saturday. He returned this morning.

"Manager" William Sweeney and Thomas U. Smith, rode 136 miles on a tandem yesterday. Their trip included Asbury Park and Newark.

Frank Fulton, of Leggett's pharmacy, rode to Asbury Park and return one day last week. He made the trip from here to the Park in three hours and fifty minutes.

Olaf Sangstaud, of this city, has just returned from New Canaan, Conn. He and his friend, Mr. Weed, rode to the latter place on Mr. Sangstaud's companion wheel.

A man, who was evidently a novice at bicycle riding, ran into a trolley car on West Front street, near Clinton avenue, last evening. He was thrown to the ground but was not seriously injured. He refused to give his name.

An important club meeting of the Crescent Wheelmen will be held this evening. The question of the new clubhouse will be discussed, the first arrangements for the National circuit meet made and several important matters brought before the club.

The ten-mile handicap road race of the Union County Roadsters was run over the Rahway-Elizabeth course Saturday afternoon. There were six contestants. W. J. Mooney won the first prize, Josh Cuttle, second, and Clinton Gilbert, third. Mooney started from scratch. Time, 27 minutes, 51 seconds.

Walter Manning, of West Seventh street, has at last received the special wheel built for him by the Weaver Bicycle Company. The sprocket wheels are the most remarkable part. The front sprocket is 13½ inches in diameter and has 42 teeth. The rear sprocket has 14 teeth, making the gear 84. The wheel weighs 25 pounds. The wheel attracts considerable attention and Manning is kept busy explaining its good points.

INS AND OUTS.

At Westfield Saturday afternoon the Plainfield Athletic Club defeated the Y. M. C. A. team of that place by a score of 13 to 7 in a well-played game. The Plainfield boys played a fine game both in the field and the bat as the score which follows will show. Their batting was quite timely and heavy, securing fifteen hits off of Rogers, while the best the Y. M. C. A. boys could do with Winn's pitching was five hits for a total of six bases, which shows what a fine game was played. The principal features of the game were the fine pitching of Winn for the Plainfield Athletic Association, and a great one-handed catch by Bussing for the Y. M. C. A. Following is the score:

Fractured a Leg Riding a Bicycle.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lindsay, of West Front street, received word yesterday that their daughter, who lives in Somerville, had fractured a leg while riding a wheel at Bound Brook. Mrs. Lindsay went to Bound Brook and assisted her daughter in getting home, where a physician was called and treatment given. It will be some time before the injured woman will be able to walk.

LAWN TENNIS.

The tennis tournament at the Park Club was concluded Saturday afternoon. A. Willis West and Charles Dupee were the only contestants in the senior singles that showed up and in a match between them. Dupee won 6-2, 6-5. The first challenge in the senior doubles was played. The trophies had passed into the hands of Arthur Murphy and B. C. Ball by default, and they played off a challenge with Aug. VanDeventer and Samuel Townsend. VanDeventer and Townsend won after a close and exciting match by a score of 6-2, 9 6, 6 5. In class A, William Townsend defeated Arthur Peck, 6-2, 6-1. In class B, Clarence Roome defeated Donald McGee, 6-2, 6-3.

DOESN'T WANT A THIRD TICKET.

A Plainfield Democrat Who Urges Support for McKinley.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Thousands of Democrats in this part of the country are asking themselves as to their duty in the present emergency. Will they support Bryan? The Chicago platform is a creed of lunatics or traitors.

The candidate is a nameless boy, unknown and unheard of until he happened to tackle the ears of an ignorant mob by a "hifalutin" speech. He is the advocate of ideas which show him to be either a fool or a knave, and which, if adopted, would shake this land to the very centre. The New Jersey delegation at Chicago did right when they refused to vote. No honest Democrat can vote for Bryan.

Shall we nominate a third candidate—a sound money Democat? He could not be elected. He could not carry a single State. The only effect would be to diminish the McKinley vote and lessen the moral force of his victory.

I admit that McKinley is a bitter pill to swallow—and there is many a Republican whose stomach turns against him. A mere man of putty, without character, without principles, without courage; an opportunist, whom an inscrutable chance has selected for the position. He has always advocated the cause of silver, and has now become an advocate of honest money because it pays. However, his very shallowness and pliability are our excuse. Without his consent, almost in face of his protest, he has been forced to advocate an honest dollar. The more support he gets from sound money men of every party, the more firmly will he be bound to this cause, and the more complete will the victory be over the hordes of socialists and repudationists. The larger the Democratic vote for him, the less can the Republicans claim the victory as exclusively their own.

The contest this fall will be between McKinley and Bryan—between honesty and dishonesty. McKinley is not an ideal candidate, but he is the best we have. Every vote in his favor will be a vote for the right; every vote for his opponent, every vote thrown away or not cast, will lessen the victory and that of the principle he represents. Let us make the triumph of sound money absolutely overwhelming, and crush out this inflationist heresy finally and forever. A. H. A.

A Talented Lady to Speak.

No "Flim Flam" Game

To Be Worked on Early Purchasers of

The Spalding Bicycle

After the adoption of our 1896 model and a careful estimate of the cost of manufacture, we placed the price on the Spalding Bicycle at $100. The price is now $100 and will continue at $100 throughout the season, no matter what other manufacturers may do.

We don't believe it is fair, honest or good business policy to sell a standard article like the Spalding Bicycle at one price in May and reduce its value in June by a material reduction in price. As a matter of common fairness to early purchasers of Spalding Bicycles and as an evidence of good faith on our part we will, in case of reduction in price during the season, send a rebate check to every purchaser of a Spalding Bicycle of the amount of any such reduction that may be made by us during the season. This is our meaning of a

GUARANTEE OF PRICE.

Ride the Spalding and you will be happy, contented and assured that you will not be "flim-flammed" in price or quality.

BLOOD FLOWED FREELY.

BUT WHAT CAUSED THE GORE TO RUN WAS NOT LEARNED.

Mysterious Wound of a Man Who Startled East Fifth Street Last Night With His Continuous Cries for a Physician

"Doctor, doctor," screamed a man running along East Fifth street about midnight last night when all the good citizens were fast asleep. More than one resident of that street was roused from their slumbers by the cries.

"Doctor, doctor, don't let a man bleed to death," still yelled the man as he half ran, half staggered down the street in the direction of Watchung avenue. Heads appeared at the windows and sleepy voices demanded the cause of all the unseemly racket.

There was no explanation and the drowsy-looking faces disappeared again while the midnight visitor kept on down that thoroughfare. Patrolman Myers whose beat includes that vicinity promptly came to the scene of the trouble. He found a man, apparently intoxicated, with his clothes covered with blood and a wound to his hand that was bleeding profusely. The man didn't seem to know what had occurred, so the officer took him to the lockup, and then to Dr. Long's to have his wound dressed.

This morning the stranger came before City Judge DeMeza in a pitiable condition as far as looks were concerned. It was impossible to tell what color his trousers were originally as they were completely saturated with blood. The rest of his clothing was in nearly the same condition.

He said that his name was William Duncan, from New York, and that he missed the train from Plainfield to Netherwood last night and started to walk. He did remember taking a glass or two before starting, but what happened after he started to walk up the railroad, he had not the slightest idea, at least so he said in court. The police were of the opinion that he walked off one of the railroad bridges.

As he had done nothing to be punished for, the Judge suspended sentence on him.

Couldn't Pay for the Rig.

A Plainfield young man who on several occasions has had trouble in regard to hiring rigs from different ones managed to get in more trouble Saturday night. He hired a horse and wagon from Day, the liveryman, for two hours. It was about eight o'clock in the evening when he started. Time went on and it soon became midnight and the young man did not return. Mr. Day began to wonder whether he was ever coming back, when about 4:30 Sunday morning the young man and the rig appeared. He had nothing to say regarding his protracted absence, and furthermore he had no money to pay for the hiring of the rig. An officer was called and arrest was threatened, but it is understood that the young man promised to settle.

A Valuable Piece of Land Sold.

Charles H. Hand this morning consummated a deal by which he becomes the sole owner of the Frazee property at the corner of Watchung avenue and East Second street, of which he has owned a three-quarter interest for a long time. The remaining interest he purchased of J. P. Powers and George DeMeza. Mr. Hand desires to sell the property at private sale, and if he does not succeed in this he will dispose of it at auction on Saturday, July 25th. It is a valuable site and will be made doubly so when the opening of Watchung avenue is consummated.

Wanted His "Pop."

Little Clarence VanSickle, the three-year old son of J. W. VanSickle, of 313 East Third street, wandered away from home Saturday afternoon. He asked his father for a penny before starting and it was supposed that he had gone to Blimm's store to buy some candy. He did not return, however, and was finally found quite a distance out West Front street, where he was lustily calling for his "pop."

Moving a Big Building.

Henry & Johns, the well-known building movers of this city, have taken a contract to move a building 44x74 feet, in the city of Wilkesbarre, Pa. This firm has done considerable work throughout the country and their reputation is first-class. They are employed by E. T. Long, of Wilkesbarre, to do this job. Tomorrow three carloads of their material and horses will leave for Pennsylvania.

A Dinner Party.

The following were entertained at a dinner party at Mountain Park Inn last Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Vail: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Miss Pauline May Sandford, Miss Bertha N. Randolph, J. D. F. Randolph, E. F. Vail, A. W. Vail, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cadmus.

MOTORMAN NOT TO BLAME.

A Little Child Became Frightened and Ran in Front of the Car.

The first accident of any kind to happen to anyone since the opening of the extension of the street railway occurred early yesterday evening at about 6:15 o'clock. It was not at all serious, however.

Little Florence Wilson, of East Fourth street, about two-and-one-half years of age, was standing on Watchung avenue, when one of the trolley cars came along from the direction of Fifth street. The child started to run across the street but became frightened and stood still in the middle of the track just as the car came along. Motorman Michael Welch reversed the current and brought the car to a sudden stop a few feet beyond. The fender served its purpose and picked the child up. The little girl struck her head against the fender and a small scalp wound was inflicted.

The uncle of the little child was in the car at the time and agreed with all the other eye witnesses of the accident that the motorman was not in the slightest to blame. Chas. Bowers was the conductor.

The father of the child was just returning from Scott's Press Works and accompanied Superintendent Adleman, who carried the child to Dr. Fritts' office, where it was found that the injuries were very slight.

CAUGHT IN THE TRENCH.

B. W. Hand Narrowly Escapes Injury in a Cavein.

B. W. Hand, of West Front street, had a narrow escape from possible serious injury yesterday morning while digging a trench for a house connections with the sewers, on the property of Henry Hoffman, West Front street.

Mr. Hand was standing in an eight-foot trench, superintending the laying of the sewer pipe, when both banks of the trench caved in, burying Mr. Hand up to his waist and but for the fact that two large pieces of crust lodged between him and the bank, thus protecting him in a degree, and it was due to this fact that he escaped injury.

As it was, Mr. Hand was unable to extricate himself and several of his employes dug him out of his precarious position.

The ground where the accident occurred is very sandy and it is surmised that passing street car jarred the ground, causing it to cavein.

Arrivals at the Inn.

The following are the late arrivals at Mountain Park Inn: Mr. and Mrs. Dahlgren, New York; Mr. Titsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde, Miss Hyde, Miss Vermeule, Plainfield; Mr. Harberger, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Spencer, Bayonne; Mr. Truman, Mr. and Mrs. Case, Mrs. VanWyck, Mr. and Mrs. Atterbury, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Hurd, Mr. MacMahon, Mr. Keer, Mr. Booker, Newark; Dr. Valentine, Brooklyn; Mr. Carson, Sing Sing; Mrs. Miller, Plainfield.

A Convert to Free Coinage.

Lawyer J. J. Stone, of Putnam avenue, who has been a life-long Republican and a protectionist, says he will support the "sunflower of Nebraska and the pine cone of Maine" in the coming election. Mr. Stone says that the silver question is paramount to all others in this country today, and that when the issue is properly placed before the people of the eastern States it will win many to its side who are now opposed to it.

Surprise for a Policeman.

Policeman J. A. Saunders was pleasantly surprised at his home on Berckman street last night by a number of friends. Among those present were: Mrs. Newell Peterson, Mrs. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. L. Peterson, William Burton, E. Wilson, B. Harvey, Miss H. Jackson, Miss C. Corry, Miss Nancy Jordan, Mrs. Rosa Stout, Mrs. S. Thornton, Wm. Dandridge, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. VIEWED BY A DELEGATE

FRED C. MARSH TALKS ABOUT THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

He Says Under the Instructions of the State Convention the Delegates Could Not Vote—Speaks of Bryan's Personality.

Senator Marsh, delegate to the national Democratic convention from this district, was seen at his law office by an Elizabeth Journal representative and requested to give a brief statement concerning the doings of the New Jersey delegates. He said:

"It is a matter of great pride to the delegates that throughout the whole of the convention they were united upon every question. Although not governed by the unit rule, they fully appreciated the action of the State convention at Trenton, and upon every question submitted they cast their unanimous vote in favor of sound money.

"All of our delegates had a good opportunity to become personally acquainted with the nominee, William J. Bryan, as he sat with the Nebraska delegation after the first day. He spent a great part of his time with the Jerseymen in pleasant conversation. The fact that we voted against him on all occasions in no way interfered with our pleasant relations, as he understood thoroughly we were there under instructions from our State convention.

"The candidate is a gentleman of magnetic presence. I think that if the vote had been taken within an hour after his now famous speech he would have polled every vote in the convention, excepting the sound money men of the east. The western and southern men are perfectly confident of their ability to carry all of their States for the ticket; and this opinion, I am free to say, is shared by many with whom I talked at the different hotels. I refer to business men who have traveled through these sections of the country, and who say that it is perfectly marvellous the strides the silver issue has made within the past two months.

"They tell me that in some sections the people actually believe that 'free silver' means the free issue of silver by the Government to the people; in other words that Uncle Sam is going to dish out silver dollars and make them rich. Others think that they can get a gold dollar and take it to a mint or bank and get sixteen silver dollars for it; but I judge from the information I obtain that the real strength of the silver men is the result of the hard times in these sections; the people really believe that free silver means improved times and more money for themselves and families, and such a sentiment when it once breaks loose is very hard to overcome.

"I cannot state with any accuracy as to what the plans are concerning the third ticket; in the confusion attendant all such occasions immediately after the nomination of the ticket, it was lost sight of. I think there are many Democrats in this State who would prefer to see a third ticket nominated, so that they could vote for a Democrat upon a Democratic platform. There are many Democrats, in the absence of a third ticket, who will not vote for Mr. McKinley, because they believe him to be a silver man at heart.

"To those Democrats who may attempt to criticise the action of the New Jersey delegates in refusing to vote, I can only say that we followed the instructions of the convention at Trenton, and any violation of these instructions would have been a breach of faith with the voters who sent us to Chicago."

PREPARING FOR THE CONVENTION.

Christian Endeavorers Hold the First of Their Union Meetings.

The first union Christian Endeavor service in preparation for the coming State Convention was held in the Sunday-school room of Trinity Reformed church last evening. Considering the very warm weather the attendance was large. Every society in the Plainfield Union was represented and a delegation from the Marconnier Society was also present.

Joseph Robinson, of the Congregational Society, conducted the service which was chiefly devoted to prayer. The leader made a few remarks in opening, after which the Endeavorers seemed to catch the Endeavor spirit, and their was no time lost. H. J. Martin had charge of the music, and Miss Krietling presided at thhe piano. The place and time for holding the next service will be announced later.

Hope to Save an Eye.

Paul Reusch, the Dunellen baker who attempted to commit suicide several weeks ago, will undergo an operation today by which it is hoped to save one of his eyes.

PARTNERS IN TROUBLE.

SACKELOS HAS SECURED AN INJUNCTION TO STOP HIS PARTNER.

Sackelos Claims that Polites Tried to Freeze Him Out of the New York and Philadelphia Confectionary Co.

Poor advice and rather high-hand methods promise to bring Frank Polites, of the New York and Philadelphia Confectionery Company, into several lawsuits and considerable expense and trouble.

The story of the arrest of his partner, George Sakelos, for the embezzlement of funds, on his complaint, has been told in the Press, as has also the subsequent release of Sakelos, as the case was not one for a justice's court but for the Court of Chancery.

Reed & Coddington were retained by Sackelos and ex-Judge Coddington, who was at the trial, suggested to Polites that an arbitrator be appointed and the partnership settled with little expense or bother, but the offer was refused.

As soon as Sackelos was arrested, Polites took possession of the store and refused to allow his partner to see the accounts or have anything to do with the business.

Ex-Judge Coddington prepared the necessary papers yesterday and went before Chanceller McGill at Jersey City and obtained an injunction restraining Polites from collecting any money due the firm or doing anything with the stock of the firm for his own personal benefit. He also made application for a receiver. The case was set down for July 28th.

The papers were served on Polites yesterday afternoon. This is not the only suit that he will have to fight. Sackelos is about to bring another suit through his lawyers for false imprisonment of his partner.

MUST PAY ANOTHER'S BILL.

One of the Proprietors of the Ill-Fated Hotel Netherwood in Trouble.

An action was brought in Justice Mosher's court yesterday by John Henesey, the painter, against Joseph E. Davis and Rudolph Lerch, to recover $105, which was owing him by Greenleaf Crossman, one of the men interested in Hotel Netherwood. The later gave a check for $105 in payment for work performed by Mr. Hensey at the hotel. Davis and Lerch gave a bond for the payment of the check, and Mr. Hensey, through his lawyer, S. S. Swackhamer, brought action against Mr. Davis and Mr. Lerch to ascertain whether both men were residents of this State.

Lawyer Arthur Miller represented Mr. Lerch and offered evidence to the court that proved that Mr. Lerch was a resident of this county at the date of the order for the warrant. This evidence was accepted by the court and Mr. Lerch's bondsman, Charles Hyde, was released. Mr. Davis was not a resident and it was so proved. The court held the latter and issued an execution against the body as there was not sufficient goods and chattels to satisfy the judgment. Mr. Henesey was given judgment for the full amount and Mr. Davis will be obliged to settle.

Bitten by a Dog.

John Carty, who lives on West Front street, near Clinton avenue, was walking along West Third street, near Lee place, this morning when a dog rushed out and fastened its teeth in Carty's leg, just above the ankle. He finally drove the canine away and complained to the police. There are several dogs on that street that rush out at the passersby.

Sustained Sundry Bruises.

While getting off an open trolley car on West Front street in front of Putnam & DeGraw's last evening, Evan Jones, of Kensington avenue, met with an accident. The car was just moving, and in his hurry to dismount he tripped and fell heavily on his shoulder. He escaped with sundry bruises.

JURY DISAGREED AGAIN.

Failure to Reach a Verdict in the Case of Pearson Against Bohl.

For the second time the case of Pearson against Bohl has been tried. Several weeks ago it came up before Justice Newcorn and a jury, and the latter returned with a verdict of 9 to 3 in favor of Pearson. Yesterday the case came up again before the same Justice and a different jury, and after five long weary hours they came in with a verdict of 10 to 2 in favor of Bohl. Lawyer H. C. Runyon represented Pearson, and Lawyers Kirch and Swackhamer appeared for Bohl. The latter was called in yesterday to assist. The jury was composed of the following: Charles Yaeger, Louis Randolph, Richard R. Davis, Jr., J. H. French, Israel LaRue, Isaac Brokaw, Louis M. Dunavan, E. E. Marshall, W. A. Caproim, J. F. Green, P. S. VanFleet and Michael Coyne.

In consequence of the latter result the case was set down for next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when it is hoped that the case will be settled.

O'DONALD ON A RAMPAGE.

The West End Stirred Up By the Actions of a Drunken Man.

A large crowd gathered on South Second street early last evening, attracted by the noise at the house of Hughie O'Donald. Patrolman Flynn was also attracted to the scene of action and found quite a gathering of neighbors who expected to see some fun. The officer was told that O'Donald had been beating his wife and was on a general rampage, so he investigated. He found the man considerably under the influence of liquor and acting in a disorderly manner. There was no proof that he had been beating his wife while Mrs. O'Donald declared that he had not.

O'Donald was left in jail over night to sober up and was arraigned this morning before City Judge DeMeza. He remembered faintly that he had not been on his best behavior the night before and finally pleaded guilty. The Judge fined him $10 and warned him not to disturb the neighborhood again unless he wished to spend a month or two in jail.

HURT IN A RUNAWAY.

Farmer Stites' Horse Becomes Fractious and Injures His Driver.

Last Saturday morning Fesiden Stites, a farmer residing at Mt. Bethel, accompanied by his ten-year-old daughter was driving to this city, when nearing the Mt. Bethel post-office, the horse suddenly shied and ran up a bank, overturning the wagon aud throwing the occupants to the ground.

While the horse was making futile efforts to release himself from the wagon, he severely injured Mr. Stites' right leg, beside cutting several gashes in his head.

John Borman, who was in the vicinity, went to Mr. Stites assistance, and conveyed the injured man to his home. The little girl fortunately escaped without any injury.

PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED.

Friends of Everett J. Peck Spend an Evening of Pleasure at His Home.

Everett J. Peck, of Myrtle avenue, entertained a few friends at his home last evening in a very pleasant manner. Most of the evening was spent on the broad piazza which was delightfully cool; refreshments were also served on the piazza toward the close. Banjo playing by the host was a most enjoyable feature. Among those present were the Misses Margaret N. Hazeltine, Grace E. Overton, Eleanor T. VanDeventer, Edith L. Burt and Amy Burt, and the Messrs. George A. Horne, J. Vincent Rittenhouse, Wilbur F. Cornwell, Calvin Crowell and Carroll Runyon.

The affair was in honor of Everett Peck's seventeenth birthday.

To Receive a State President.

In order to complete arrangements to receive State President Volkner on July 23d, the reception committee of the Daughters of Rebekah met last evening at the home of Mrs. W. J. Ford on East Fourth street. Preparations were made to have a very enjoyable time in the lodge room when Mrs. Volkner arrives. The committee is Mrs. Frank Whitely, Mrs. S. J. Higgins, Mrs. Jacob Kriney, Mrs. Barber, Mrs. Peter VanFleet, and Mrs. Ford, the chairman.

For Cruelty to Animals.

Donardo Bunawando, charged with cruelty to animals, appeared before Justice Newcorn yesterday and plead guilty to the charge Sentence was suspended owing to the defendant being illiterate and not knowing the law. It will be remembered that the defendant was fined $15 in the city court recently for killing his horse.

Granted a Patent.

Walter Scott has been granted a patent for bed motion on cylinder printing presses.

LEAVING FOR HOME

Big Exodus of C. E. Visitors from Washington.

MANY ARE THERE YET, NEVERTHELESS

Those Who Remain Spending the Day in Sight-Seeing and Other Recreations.

Pleased with the Hospitality Extended to Them.

Washington, July 14.—Many of the visitors who were here for the past few days to participate in the Christian Endeavor meetings have already left for home, but many others are still here and to-day is being devoted to sight-seeing and other recreations. The visitors have nothing but praise for the people of Washington, and speak in high terms of gratitude for the open and liberal hospitality extended to them on all sides. The board of trustees of the united societies of Christian Endeavor held its final meeting for the year yesterday in its room at the Ebitt house and formally wound up the business of this convention. Resolutions were unanimously passed expressing thanks to the capital city of Washington for its welcome to the committee of '96 and for its services; to Sergeant-at-arms Bright of the United States senate and capitol police, to the Marine band, to the police, to the choir of 4,000, to the press, to the government of the United States for use of the White lot, to Col. Wilson, superintendent of public buildings, and to the motormen, drivers and conductors of the street railroads of Washington. The trustees were gratified during the meeting by the reception of a signed statement bearing the names of nearly every state union of Christian Endeavor societies approving their administration of the affairs of the society and endorsing generally their system of government. This statement was called forth by an agitation in some parts of the west and continued there for several years, seeking to effect a change in the management of the societies. No criticism has been directed against officers or trustees by the agitators. The aim was to secure a representative form of government in the society. At present all power over the affairs of the society is vested in the board of trustees and their officers and the board is self-perpetuating. Some of the western Endeavorers want to change this system so that vacancies in the board could be filled by election either in the conventions or by the local unions. Opposition to this proposed change found expression to-day in this formal statement, which bears the signatures of twenty-eight state union presidents and the expression is so emphatic that the agitation for a change of system is not likely to be heard from again for some time.

Savage Gun Selected.

Albany, July 14.—The Savage gun has been selected by the commission appointed by Gov. Marton as one of the best adapted to the requirements of the new tactical manoeuvres. The law provides that the arm selected shall be adopted for the use of the military and naval forces of the state, provided the report of the commission is approved by Gov. Morton. After the report is adopted the adjutant-general is authorized to contract for not to exceed 150,000 rifles of the kind selected, at a price not to exceed twenty dollars a gun.

Ung Fong Deported.

Boston, July 14.—Ung Fong, the Chinaman who is illegally in this country and who has been confined at Charles Street jail for the past two months will be deported to China. He was started in charge of an assistant marshal and a guide last night on the 8 o'clock train for Port Townsend where he will be delivered to the proper officials and the trip resumed. Ung Long is the first Chinaman to be deported from New England and a great deal of interest has been manifested in the disposition of the case.

Catholic Summer School.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., July 14.—The Catholic Summer School of America was formally opened yesterday at the new auditorium on the assembly grounds at Cliff Haven. Very Rev. T. E. Walsh, D. D., of Plattsburgh, delivered an address of welcome, which Dr. Conaty, president of the school, responded to. Bishop Gabriels also welcomed the attendants to the diocese. The dedication of the chapel and auditorium was deferred on account of the severe storm until next Sunday.

On Trial for Wife Murder.

St. Johnsbury, Vt., July 14.—The case of the state vs. Marshall Way opened in the county court yesterday. Way pleaded not guilty to the murder of his wife. He attempted to address the court in a dramatic manner, creating a mild sensation, but was stopped by the sheriff and his attorneys. The defense will attempt to prove insanity, while the state hopes to prove willful and premeditated murder.

All England Tennis Tournament.

London, July 14.—The all England championship tennis tournament began yesterday at Wimbledon. In the first round of the singles W. A. Larned, the American player, beat Haward by a score of 6-1, 6-4, 7-5. Foot beat Hawes 6-4, 6-3, 6-3. Ten others won heats.

Spain and the United States.

Madrid, July 14.—Senor Sagasta, former prime minister of Spain, in an interview on the subject of suggested alliances, declared that Europe's energies must be exerted to maintain its policy as against the policy recently developed in America.

REBELS BLOW UP A TRAIN.

Many Persons Believed To Have Been Killed or Injured in Cuba.

Havana, July 14.—An explosion occurred yesterday on the railway between Cidra and Sabanilla, in the province of Matanzas. A passenger train that was passing at the time was badly damaged, and it is believed that many persons were killed. A train, with physicians on board, has been dispatched to attend to the wounded and take them to the hospitals. Details of the affair are hard to obtain as the government is seeking to minimize its results. A letter from Santa Clara says that Gomez, the rebel commander-in-chief, was encamped on July 9 at Manajanabo, twelve miles from the city of Santa Clara. His vanguard of 700 men, under Canizares and Cayito Alvarez, burned the houses on the Santa Rosa estate near Ranchuelo. Another rebel band has destroyed the San Antonio estate, close to Santa Clara. Both estates are the property of Vicente Abren.

OVATION TO BRYAN.

Received by Big Gatherings at the Stopping Points Enroute Home.

Champaign, Ill., July 14.—William J. Bryan arrived here on the Illinois Central road at 5:55 last evening, after a pleasant run of three hours and a half from Chicago. At several places along the route Mr. Bryan was given hearty receptions. His first experience was at Kankakee, where about a thousand men, women and children were gathered. A cheer went up from the crowd as he appeared on the platform of Pullman sleeper, and he was obliged to get down into the crowd and grasp the many hands extended. Kankakee was reached at 4:02, and, although the train remained there for three minutes only, Mr. Bryan made a good record as a hand shaker. Stops were made at several other places and the democratic nominee was given grand ovations. He made several short speeches at some of the stopping places.

ONE KILLED; SEVERAL INJURED.

A Passenger Train Derailed by a Cow and Thrown Down an Embankment.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 14.—An express train on the Hazleton branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad while rounding a curve yesterday afternoon, between White Haven and Freeland, struck a cow. The engine was derailed and thrown down an embankment 200 feet and the three passenger coaches were thrown from the tracks upon their sides. One man, engineer W. H. Dowd, was killed and a score of people hurt, several seriously. The accident was the most serious passenger wreck that has occurred on the Lehigh Valley railroad since the memorable Mud Run disaster

ADDRESS TO DEMOCRATS.

Illinois Gold Democrats Call for the Nomination of a Third Ticket.

Chicago, July 14.—The honest money democracy of Illinois, through its executive committee, issued an address last night to the democrats of the other states calling upon them to nominate another national ticket and adopt a platform of "sound money" principles upon which the nominees can appeal to the people of that opinion. This address was authorized at a meeting of the executive committee Saturday night and a committee of three was appointed to write and issue it. This committee met yesterday in the law office of Henry S. Robbins, president of the Illinois democratic sound money league, and agreed upon the address.

Big Hotel Lease Signed.

New York, July 14.—A meeting was held last night at the Metropolitan hotel which was attended by Douglas H. Snyder, James H. Breslin of the Gilsey house, Matthew J. Ward, the hotel broker, and John H. Fife of the Metropolitan hotel. The largest hotel lease ever made here and calling for a rental of $3,528,000, covering a period of twenty-one years was signed with Douglas H. Snyder as sole proprietor, and James H. Breslin as manager of the hotel, which will be known as the Herald Square hotel, and will be erected on the corner of Thirty-sixth street and Broadway.

George F. Helms' Remains Buried.

Pottsville, Pa., July 14.—The remains of George F. Helms, late telegraph editor of the New York Herald, arrived here yesterday afternoon from New York, where he died on Saturday. Delegations from the local press acted as honorary and active pallbearers. Interment was made in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Gold Reserve Further Declines.

Washington, July 14.—The gold withdrawals yesterday amounted to $657,300, leaving the reserve at the close of business at $98,420,639.

WATCHING AMERICA

British Bi-Metallists Believe We Are for the Double Standard.

UNDER INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENT

Many So Anxious for the Remonetization of Silver That They Were Willing To Act Independently of Foreign Agreement.

London, July 14.—The annual report of the bi-metallic league read at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon was quite optimistic in tone, declaring that international bi-metallism had made noteworthy progress in all the countries where the question had been discussed. After referring to the resolutions in favor of bi-metallism adopted by the popular chambers of Prussia, France and Belgium, the report went on to say that in the United States all the political parties and all classes of business men would welcome the establishment of international bi-metallism. A large number of the people of that country were, however, so thoroughly convinced of the necessity for the remonetization of silver that they were not disposed to wait for an international agreement to that end. The report further said that no party of importance in America favored gold monometalism. In conclusion the report declared: "The responsibility for the present and growing dangers to the industrial life of the nation rests upon those who oppose that monetary system under which our prosperity advanced by leaps and bounds." Lord Aldenham, the president of the league, and a director of the Bank of England, was not present at the meeting, but a letter from him was read in which he congratulated the league upon the progress bi-metallism had made in the United States. He said it was a striking fact that the question of bi-metallism, which, in some quarters of England, was treated with contempt, should apparently be the main political question before the people of the United States. Alluding to the general attitued of the London press, Lord Aldenham said the newspapers had joined the chorus clamoring for "honest money," believing that "honest money" in the United States was applied to gold monometallism, whereas, as a matter of fact, it was applied to international bi-metallism. The letter concluded with the declaration that whatever might be the result of the approaching presidential election in the United States the bi-metallists could be sure that their cause was advancing. The first lord of the treasury and government leader in the house of commons was expected to address the league, but he was prevented by illness from being present.

PREDICTS TROUBLE FOR JONES.

Harrity Says He Is Glad He Is Out of the National Chairmanship.

Philadelphia, July 14.—Ex-Chairman Harrity of the democratic national committee returned home from Chicago last evening. He did not care to talk politics and said he was not at present informed of the intentions of the gold democrats. "One thing I may say," remarked Mr. Harrity, "is that I am glad I am out of the national chairmanship. I fancy Mr. Jones will have his hands full before he gets through this campaign."

Vessels Built in the United States.

Washington, July 14.—During the year ended June 30, 1896, 709 vessels of 204,000 gross tons were built in the United States and officially numbered by the bureau of navigation, compared with 682 vessels of 133,000 tons during the previous fiscal year, an increase of 71,000 tons. Steam vessels built numbered 352 of 135,000 tons, compared with 283 of 75,700 tons for the previous year.

"The Foot of a Fly"

says an eminent English doctor, "will carry enough poison to infect a household." In summer-time, more especially, disease germs fill the air, multitudes are infected, fall ill, die; multitudes escape. These messengers of mischief do not exist for millions. Why not? Because they are healthy and strong—protected as a crocodile is against gun-shot. It is the weak, the wasted, the thin blooded who fall; those who have no resistive power so that a sudden cough or cold develops into graver disease. We hear of catching disease! Why not catch health? We can do it by always maintaining our healthy weight.

OPPOSED TO A BOLT

New York Democrats Arranging for a Conference.

TO DECIDE ON A PLAN OF ACTION

Leaders Not in Favor of a Third Ticket. May Decide To Make the Election of Gold Standard Congressmen the Principal Fight.

New York, July 14.—The action, if any, of the democratic gold-standard leaders regarding the Chicago platform and ticket is awaited with much interest. It is generally understood that a meeting is to be held either to-morrow or Thursday, and one report says that the conference is to be held at Long Branch, N. J. William C. Whitney and Senator Hill are not in the city at present, but it is understood they will both be here by this evening. Carlos French, the Connecticut member of the democratic national committee was at the Murray Hill hotel yesterday for a short time. He said he did not know just when the conference would be held, but he thought it would not take place before Thursday. Mr. French denied emphatically the report that he had declared in favor of nominating a third national ticket. He said he had not committed himself one way or the other, and would not until the gold-standard men had conferred and decided on some course.

Opposed to a Third Ticket.

A prominent Tammany leader said that a conference would be held and that it would be attended by democratic leaders from New York and other states. Another democrat said the understanding was that the New York leaders would first confer and then invite the gold men of other states to a general conference. From the talk of Tammany hall leaders and the followers of Senator Hill up the state, it appears that the democrats are greatly opposed to the nomination of a third ticket. Some of the Tammany men talked of making a campaign for the Bryan ticket; others said they would vote as they pleased, but none of them seemed to think that it would be wise to name a gold standard ticket. Hill and Whitney are said to be opposed to a third ticket.

Leaders Gathering.

The result of the conference, it is generally belived, will be a decision to make no spirited campaign for the national ticket and make a hard fight to elect congressmen opposed to free silver and the state ticket in New York. Senator Gorman and Calvin S. Brice are in the city and this leads to a rumor that a conference is to be held before Thursday. Senator Gorman declined to say anything about the proposed conference and Senator Brice, when asked if he would repudiate the Chicago ticket, said: "I am not ready to be quoted on that subject, and shall not be until I have had my own convention, that is, until I have heard from my friends in Ohio and learn what they are going to do or recommend." James W. Hinckley, chairman of the democratic state committee, will issue a call for a meeting of the committee next week for the purpose of calling the state convention. It is said that the convention will be held in Saratoga before the end of August, probably before the republican state convention.

HE PREFERS CONGRESS.

Mr. Bland Will Not Be a Candidate for Governor.

Lebanon, Mo., July 14.—In their disappointment over the defeat of Mr. Bland for the presidential nomination, many Missouri free silver democrats have turned to him to lead the party this fall in Missouri as candidate for governor. He has received many telegrams and letters the past few days urging him to become a canidate, but he says he will not change his course. He made up his mind several years ago, he declares, that he did not want to be governor, preferring to continue his fight in congress. He said that he would not be a candidate for governor. He said he was a candidate for the democratic nomination for congress in this, his old district. He desires to go back to congress to make the fight for free silver in the house.

Army Worm Enters Cranberry Bogs.

Sandwich, Mass., July 14.—The army worm, which a few days ago was found to be ravaging the cranberry bogs in the vicinity of East Falmouth, has made its appearance on a few bogs in the cranberry growing districts in this town, and this heretofore unknown agent of destruction will, it is predicted, cause the cranberry growers a great loss. Appearing at this season of the year, when nearly all the bogs are in full bloom, the usual way of exterminating such pests cannot be resorted to.

Tillman Wouldn't Speak.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 14.—Senator Tillman of South Carolina passed through here yesterday on his way home. A crowd filled the depot to get Tillman to speak, but he declined. He predicted Bryan's election, but said he did not know anything about Sewall. He refused to talk about the Cleveland administration.

Buried in Potter's Field.

New York, July 14.—No one having appeared to claim the body of William Johnson of Chicago, who killed himself after having shot William H. Sutton at Broadway and Twentieth street last Wednesday afternoon, it has been taken from the Morgue and buried in Potter's field.

The Alert at San Diego.

Washington, July 14.—The navy department is advised of the arrival July 11 of the steamer Alert at San Diego.

The picturesque is not lacking in this campaign.

The "silver tongued orator" phrase is particularly appropriate to Bryan.

The man who can talk politics and not have his temper ruffled is a rarity nowadays.

Plainfielders are still indignant to think that they are compelled to pay for a midnight lunch for the police.

Senator Gorman announces that he is for Bryan and Sewall, and shall urge all Democrats to vote the ticket.

Two Ohio ex-Senators have been sentenced to two years imprisonment for soliciting bribes while members of the Legislature.

"Variety is the spice of life," and that is why the open-air band concerts are so popular with Plainfielders. The second one in the series will be held this evening.

Ex-Congressman John T. Dunn comes out in the New York World this morning in a signed statement in which he says he will suppopt the Democratic nominees.

The campaign has started in with a vengeance at Morristown. Two citizens met and commenced discussing the currency question. One argued that gold was the only proper standard while his friend maintained that silver was just as good a medium. The argument grew warm and besides exchanging views they also exchanged blows, and now one is enjoying his liberty on bail awaiting the action of the grand jury on the charge of assault and battery.

John C. Breckinridge was only 39 years of age when nominated for President of the United States by the Baltimore Convention in 1860. He was at that time Vice-President, having been elected four years previous. Under the Constitution of the United States a man is not eligible to the Presidency until he is 35 years of age, and presumably not eligible to the Vice-Presidency either, though the Constitution does not explicitly so state. Mr. Breckinridge was just 35 when elected Vice-President.

An Expensive Dinner.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—In The News of July 9th mention was made of a dinner of the Mountain Park Inn. Among the guests was the Township Committee of North Plainfield. What an exhilirating effect that twelve-course dinner had upon the hungry officials who partook thereof, is apparent when in the issue of the same paper, of July 10th, it was announced that they had promised to light by electricity Johnston's drive, from Somerset street to the Inn, at the expense of the township. I am a taxpayer and a sadly-fleeced one I can assure you, when that notorious thoroughfare, Johnston's drive, is concerned. I fondly hoped that I had paid my last for private enterprises at the expense of the public; but, alas! for poor taxpayers when temptation assails public officers in the form of twelve-course dinners. I also notice that the darkness is to be illuminated only while the Inn remains open, a positive proof of that it is solely for the benefit of that never-to-be-forgotten twelve course dinner. As I have said before, I am a taxpayer. I am also in favor of improvements and would like to have the road passing my property lighted by electricity, not to such an extent that I could see to pick up pins, but that I might be enabled to keep out of the holes, made by those whose business it is to keep our roads in order. But we do not all keep inns nor can we afford to give twelve-course dinners. In conclusion, I would like to ask the Township Committee to solve the following problem: If a twelve-course dinner lights Johnston's drive, from Somerset street to the Inn, of how many courses should a dinner consist that would light all the roads in the township? Indignant Taxpayer.

The roads about Scotch Plains were never in better condition for bicycling then now. The township committee has had crushed stone put on the low spots and the roadway leading from the Fanwood station to the Plains is now equal, if not superior to any of the city roads.

We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasanter or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventive of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

MR. MARTINE'S ADVICE.

He Writes a Faltering Democrat to Take Courage.

In response to a letter from a prominent Democrat of Union county, Mr. Martine writes the following: (The name of the gentleman is not mentioned as we have no authority to publish same).

I am a Democrat, believing that parties are necessary to our form of Government, and under a Democratic form of government majorities must rule. By a large majority at the Chicago Convention, Hon. William J. Bryan was nominated for President. I was and am a warm friend and ardent admirer of William Collins Whitney, but this is of no moment now, nor does it matter to me whether the New Jersey delegation voted or not. I, as an American citizen and Democrat, will vote for Mr. Bryan. I believe him an honest man, whose whole life is as clear and clean as Alpine ice.

There are planks in the platform that I would wish were different, but the great House of Representatives will temper legislation on all lines.

The broad thoughts and principles of the Democrat party are safer for people than the doctrine of the Republican party.

To Democrats, I say don't let us reject the whole temple because some stone in its structure may be faulty.

On the money question, I say that all the evils of our system at present are the result of Republican legislation. And the people should hesitate well before they give another lease of power to a party whose teachings and methods have brought such disaster.

Let Democrats stand firm.

Very respectfully,

J. E. Martine.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

Why is It,

if catarrh is a constitutional affection, as those claim who have a blood tonic to sell, that physicians, in extreme cases, frequently advise change of air and climate to those suffering from it? Catarrh is a climate affection, and nothing but a local remedy or a change of climate will cure it. Ely's Cream Balm, in all cases of catarrh, is so efficient as to do away with the necessity of leaving home and friends, causing instant relief and a perfect cure after short continuance.

HANNA'S ADVISERS

Executive Committee of the National Committee Named.

QUAY AND MANLEY ON THE LIST

The Chairman Says the Republican Fight Is To Be Carried into the West and South, Where It Is Believed Several States Can Be Captured.

Cleveland, July 14.—After nearly a month of consideration Chairman Hanna of the republican national committee has named the executive committeemen who will be his co-laborers and advisors in managing McKinley's campaign. The list contains the names of M. A. Hanna of Ohio, chairman; M. S. Quay of Pennsylvania, Joseph H. Manley of Maine, H. C. Payne of Wisconsin, Cyrus Leland of Kansas, Powell Clayton of Arkansas, C. G. Dawes of Illinois, W. T. Durbin of Indiana and N. B. Scott of West Virginia. W. M. Osborne of Boston is made secretary of committee and J. A. Dick of this city assistant secretary. The committee will meet in this city to-morrow week. "I am now preparing for the fight," Mr. Hanna said, with the air of a man who is confident of winning a prospective battle, "for there is going to be a fight, and a hot one at that. We think that the western and southern states are debatable ground and we shall go into the contest with that idea. The Dakotas shall go republican; Nebraska should be republican, and the same is true of Alabama and Louisiana. I have not fully made up my mind as to the political conditions of the people of the border states, but think we have a fighting chance there. In the campaign there are more issues than the tariff and the money questions, which are fully as much moment as the other two and which, if anything, concern the maintenance of our government more than the two issues which now hold the public mind. I refer particularly to the stability of our judicial system, which is threatened by the democratic party. In their platform is a plank which contends that the present system of selecting judges of the supreme court be swept away. That court should be surrounded with the greatest protection in order to keep it pure and untainted, and the selection of judges should not be settled by a sudden wave, a sudden excitement of the people, hysteria of the masses—that is a good expression. Frequently the people are swayed by sentiments of momentary duration. They are wrought up to a high pitch and without giving the matter sober second thought, act. On the morrow they are sorry for their course of action, but then it is too late. The supreme court must be guarded as on its stability depends the soundness of our government."

Exportation of Breadstuffs.

Washington, July 14.—The chief of the bureau of statistics reports that the total values of exports of breadstuffs from the United States during the month of June, 1896, and during twelve months ended June 30, 1896, as compared with similar exports during the corresponding period of the preceding year were as follows: June 30, 1895, $8,954,040; 1896, $11,693,164. Twelve months ending June 30, 1895, $110,093,653; 1896, $133,920,390.

Quay Resigns the Chairmanship.

Philadelphia, July 14.—United States Senator Quay has resigned the state chairmanship and his successor will be elected at once by Auditor-General Mylin, permanent chairman of the last republican state convention, and Judge Davenport of Erie, and representative Galusha A. Grow, the candidates for congressman-at-large. Deputy Attorney-General Elkin will be elected Mr. Quay's successor.

Revival Meetings at Round Top.

Northfield, Mass., July 14.—Miss Effie K. Price, international secretary of the Y. W. C. A., spoke at the open air meeting on Round Top last night on 'Jesus Christ as a Personal Friend.' Dr. Alexander McKenzie of Cambridge reached town and addressed a meeting in the auditorium at 8 o'clock last night. He will speak again to-morrow at 11.

Set-Back for Gold Men.

Chicago, July 14.—The Illinois gold democrats have received another setback in the announcement of postmaster Washington Hesing, a leader of that faction from the start, that he was opposed to a third ticket. He denounced the proposition on the ground that a third ticket would mean the election of the silver democratic ticket.

Lost Half Her Deck-Load at Sea.

London, July 14.—The British bark Antilla, from Philadelphia; just arrived at Bantry, reports that she experienced very heavy weather during the passage and lost half of her deck load.

Another Venezuela Blue Book.

London, July 14.—The Daily News reports that the second Blue Book on Venezuela, which is to be submitted to the United States boundary commission, is now complete.

Establishing a Gold Currency.

Colon, Colombia, July 14.—The government of Costa Rica is issuing a decree withdrawing its present system of currency and establishing a gold standard.

Count Szlaray Murdered at His Chateau.

Vienna, July 14.—Count Stephan Sztaray, a member of the lower house of the Hungarian diet, was found murdered yesterday at his chateau at Nagy Mihaly.

CLEVELAND BASEBALL TROUBLE

Another Injunction and Fun Is Expected Before the Tebeau Case Is Settled.

Cleveland, July 14.—Everything was in readiness for some fun yesterday afternoon at the Cleveland-New York game. In the morning Umpire Hurst received a telegram from president Nick Young instructing him that Pat Tebeau was ineligible to play yesterday, and telling him the game was liable to protest. Hurst did not know whether to umpire the game or not, so Pat Tebeau hustled down town, went into court and an injunction was issued against Hurst, restraining his interfering with the order of the court which had already enjoined the league from collecting the fine assessed against Tebeau. Frank Robison sat on the players' bench to see the fun when Dick Stegkemper served the injunction on the umpire. Hurst said nothing but went on with the game. Irwin decided not to protest before the game, but wanted to see whether the giants lost it or not. The scene around the Cleveland players' bench was more like that seen in a justice court. In addition to the injunction on Hurst restraining him from interfering with Tebeau, restraining orders were also served on Arthur Iwin and Kid Gleason enjoining them from collecting the fine levied on Tebeau. It was a field day for the lawyers. Big Mike Sullivan went in to pitch for the giants, while Cuppy pitched for Cleveland. Tebeau was on first. The threatening weather kept the attendance down. Irwin decided to take a chance on being in contempt of court, and has protested the game. The chances are that he will be arrested and taken before Judge Stone for a hearing. There will be fun indeed before the Tebeau case is settled.

SEARCH FOR THE NORTH POLE.

The Andree Aerial Experiment and the Martin-Conway Expedition.

London, July 14.—Advices have been received from Tromsoe, Norway, that Arnold Pike's steamer Victoria has arrived there after having visited the Swedish aeronaut, Andree, at Dane's island. The erection of a balloon house had been begun, and Andree expected to be ready to start on his aerial voyage towards the north pole early in July. Before starting, however, it was his intention to test his balloon thoroughly by sending it up attached by ropes, and by telephone to the steamer Vigo, which took him and his companions and their outfit to Spitzbergen. On the way back from Spitzbergen, the steamer Victoria called at Advent bay on June 29, where it was learned that the members of the Martin-Conway party of the Swedish Geer-Knooring expedition were well. At that time Advent bay was full of ice.

GUILTY OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

Plea of Ex-City Attorney Moreland of Pittsburg Caused a Sensation.

Pittsburg, July 14.—The plea of guilty entered yesterday by Major W. C. Moreland, former city attorney, to the charge of embezzlement of $26,000 city funds and malfeasance in office caused a mild sensation. His assistant, W. N. House, pleaded not guilty, and was placed on trial. The auditor's report last week shows a discrepancy of $300,000, in the accounts of Messrs. Moreland and House.

Death of Major J. H. Gageby.

Johnstown, Pa., July 14.—Major Jas. H. Gageby of the 12th infantry died here yesterday of heart disease. His station was Fort Niobrara, Neb. He was born in Pennsylvania and was appointed to the army from the volunteer service. He had an excellent war record. His death will result in the promotion of Capt. Henry H. Humphreys of the 15th infantry to be major of the 12th infantry, and first lieutenant David B. Mitchell, adjutant of the 15th, to be captain in the 15th infantry.

Army Worm in Connecticut.

Hartford, July 14.—The ravages of the army worms in East Hartford are so great that many of the farmers cut their hay in the meadows Sunday. All the crops will be cut this week in order to escape the pests. The worms are working northward and some sections of the meadows have not been visited yet. The loss so far is about one third of the entire crop.

THE GOLFE-JUAN POTTERIES.

Our Special Correspondent Describes a Visit to the Factories.

An Interview with Massier—Master and Men Form One Great Family—How the Wife Helps Her Husband—Lovely and Artistic Designs.

[COPYRIGHT, 1896.]

"How would you like a bit of really artistic pottery—something rich in oriental coloring, shining with an opalescent, metallic luster, and which can never by any possibility be duplicated?" asked a friend when I deplored the lack of originality in tourists' souvenirs.

Like any other woman, I answered promptly that the possession of such an article would be very gratifying to my soul, not only on account of the artistic value, but also for the envy with which it would be regarded by various feminine friends. Only I begged leave to doubt that any such piece of pottery could be secured.

"Yes," said my friend, "at Golfe Juan, near Cannes, they make what is called 'metallic luster pottery.' The action of the fire upon the metallic colorings is rather a mystery, even to the inventor himself. They never take an order for a duplicate, because no two pieces ever come out of the oven with the same play of colors."

"Then it will be too expensive for an ordinary mortal," I protested.

"Oh, yes; you could pay $3,000 for a placque which they are about to exhibit in the Champs Elysees salon; but you can get a small vase, perfect in shape and coloring, for three or four dollars."

This friend has a cultivated taste, and I agreed to visit Golfe Juan and investigate the new discovery in pottery.

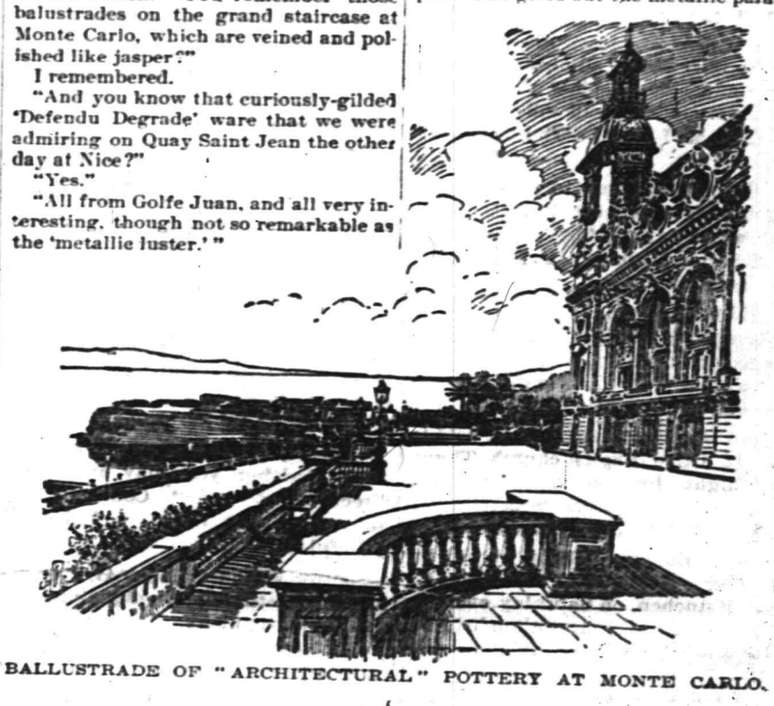
"Don't expect to see only the 'metallic luster' pottery," she said. "Clement Massier, the proprietor, is a thorough artist, and has several varieties of ware on exhibition. You remember those balustrades on the grand staircase at Monte Carlo, which are veined and polished like jasper?"

I remembered.

"And you know that curiously-gilded 'Defendu Degrade' ware that we were admiring on Quay Saint Jean the other day at Nice?"

"Yes."

"All from Golfe Juan, and all very interesting, though not so remarkable as the 'metallic luster.'"



BALLUSTRADE OF "ARCHITECTURAL" POTTERY AT MONTE CARLO.

The guide books mention Golfe Juan as the spot where Napoleon I. landed on his return from Elba in 1815. The potteries of Clement Massier now attract more tourists to the place than the historical episode. The pottery establishment has a beautiful site, and its factories are far from being a blot on the landscape.

The driveway to the "gallery," or showroom, winds about a beautiful garden, where may be seen some fine specimens of the "architectural" pottery so admired at Monte Carlo. The ground tints are always crimson or turquoise, though there is an infinite variety of tinting and veining. A curious conceit is a terrace of turquoise-blue tiles, where monstrous frogs and sea turtles spout jets of water at each other. I don't think anybody ever saw frogs or turtles of that color, but the modeling is so good that one might think the real animals had been transformed by some alchemy into pottery figures.

By the kind permission of M. Clement Massier we were allowed to visit the factory and saw the pottery in the process of making.

A French factory is apt to be more utilitarian than beautiful. I was therefore surprised to find Massier's pottery establishment a handsome two-story structure of white stucco, with the walls adorned by climbing roses. The factory is surrounded by a large flower garden, and resembles a villa more than a workshop. Clement Massier lives in the second story of this building, and his home is indeed that of an artist and a man of wealth. He is just whimsical enough to give his workmen the same daily surroundings that suffice for himself and his family.

There are about 100 workmen in the factory, not counting the staff of artists employed in designing. The workmen are highly skilled, and many are artists in their special lines of work. They are all very much devoted to Massier, and share in his desire to maintain a high artistic standard for the work. The whole establishment is more like a large family working together than an ordinary factory. Many of the artists were trained by Massier, and have never worked for any other employer; some even wear the medal of honor presented by the government for 30 years' faithful service under one employer.

Preparing the clay for modeling is not an especially interesting process, although it requires much care and skill. I liked to watch the "turner." A little machine run by foot power keeps the clay revolving before him. With quick, deft touches he models any desired shape, his only guide being a finished piece, standing on the bench.

"Are these 'turners' artists?" I asked.

"Perhaps not in the highest sense of the term; still they have an excellent perception of artistic forms, especially in their fingers. Our 'turners' began their training at the age of ten years." Thus replied Jules, one of the oldest workmen, who was explaining the different processes.

Passing through the large rooms where the "architectural" pottery is modeled and colored, I noticed that the rich coloring and peculiar veining of the finished material are due to an ingenious application of various colors in the white or terra cotta basis; but just how the result is accomplished is known only to Clement Massier and a few faithful wormen.

In the painting room we saw workmen decorating the "Defendu Degrade" ware. The gold is put on after the pottery has been fired three times, and already has a fine glaze. Two more firings are necessary to complete the decoration. The process and the effect is very similar to royal Worcester on china. To my mind the pottery is more beautiful. The clouded gold background combines with the rich tints of the pottery, making a gorgeous, yet tasteful, groundwork for the leaves and flowers in gilt relief.

The workmen in this department must have careful training both in drawing and painting, for they often copy a spray of flowers or a butterfly direct from nature.

"Where do you get your artists?" said my friend.

"We take any boy who evinces natural talent," answered Jules. "It seems to go by inheritance, for nearly all our pupils are sons of our workmen."

"But where does M. Massier keep his metallic lustre work?" I asked when I could no longer restrain my curiosity.

"You saw workmen laying the colors in the decorating room," answered the guide, with a quizzical smile.

"Do they know the secret?"

"No; that lies within Massier's brain. With the assistance of chemists he prepares and gives out the metallic paints. There are many technical points about the ware, but the real secret is in the composition of the paints."

"And the fire is the master," he added, as we stood before the ovens. "No matter how exact the process, it never turns out two pieces with the same lustre. It is all beautiful and all different." The workman did not seem to approve of this eccentricity, and my friend looked at me with an "I told you so" expression.

Though the ovens look quite simple and uninteresting, they are the scene of much anxiety. Large pieces of architectural ware are specially apt to crack in the firing, and come out beautiful—but valueless. The "Defendu Degrade" ware is prone to breakage in the fifth and last firing, which sets the gold. If this risk were eliminated the pottery would be much cheaper.

Returning to the showroom, we viewed the "metallic lustre" ware in all its glory. It is difficult to describe, because the beauty lies equally in the color and design.

M. Massier was just overseeing the packing of a large "lustre" vase to be presented by the citizens of Nice to Mme. Felix Faure on the occasion of President Faure's visit to southern France. The vase was considered the most artistic product of the Illiviera, and was presented as a souvenir of the trip.

Massier himself is a very modest, reserved man, and speaks but little.

"How did you get all these graceful designs?" I asked.

"By careful study of ancient sculptures," he replied, tersely.

I asked if he intended to teach his secret to anyone before he died.

Massier smiled and said: "I have only successfully produced the "metallic luster" since 1889. I expect to learn many more things about it before I die." Then he pointed out that the talented and successful painter, L. Levy Dhurmer had furnished the highly artistic designs and assisted in the preliminary processes. He did not say, however, whether he intended to bequeath the secret to the clever young painter.

Mme. Massier remarked, as I selected a tiny "luster" vase:

"Americans have better taste than other people. The English, for instance, care nothing for art. They think everything 'very dear.' In purchasing they always buy the largest and showiest pieces to be had for the money."

The compliment to American taste may have been merely a bit of flattery. Even so, it is the first kind remark I had heard of our people, since landing in France. While in the gallery, I saw one illustration of English taste. Lord X—— and his bride drove up in a handsome carriage. They looked over the pottery and selected the only two really commonplace designs in the exhibit.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

Polo on tricycles is the latest Paris novelty in sports.

The Carlton club, London, has about 4,000 members, and is the richest in the world.

Boston has just discovered that it has streets to the number of 550 with names duplicated.

Princess Helene, the duchess of Sparta's baby, is Queen Victoria's 22d great-grandchild.

Negus Menelek's queen has turned an Italian private who can sing Neapolitan songs into a court favorite.

Three steamers arrived at Juneau, Alaska, during one week in April, carrying 404 passengers for the gold diggings.

The people of New York drink 5,000,000 gallons of whisky a year. The consumption of beer in New York in a single year is 160,000,000 gallons.

Once more the proposal is to be made in parliament for the abolition of the office of lord lieutenant of Ireland, and the establishment of a royal residence in Dublin.

ALL SORTS.

The figure of Brittania first appeared on the copper coins in the reign of Charles II.

London society has developed a new craze—midnight cycling excursions into the city.

In London a publisher can have a book well illustrated throughout for from $125 to $150.

There is one firm in Birmingham putting out a thousand flint guns every week for the African trade.

According to a report from Consul Seymour, of Palermo, experiments made in that consular district with sulphate of ammonia as a fertilizer for the citrus and the vine have proven very satisfactory.

Cork is the third most important of Spanish exports. In the province of Gerona alone it is estimated that 198,600 acres are devoted to the cultivation of cork trees, which produce about 20,000 tons, valued at $8,000,000.

NOTED FOREIGNERS.

President Faure, of France, is a great lover of horses.

The queen of the Belgians plays the harp exquisitely.

Countess Hartenau, the Morganatic widow of the late Prince Alexander of Battenberg is about to marry an Austrian officer of high rank.

Baron Ferdinand de Rothschild's yacht Roma is a floating palace. Forty can dine comfortably in the luxurious dining room.

If Abdul Hamid Khan, sultan of Turkey, should lose his job, he would probably get work as a cowboy. He has a stable of 2,000 horses and can break a dozen glass vases with a revolver while galloping past them.

THE SCRAP-BOOK.

An "old people's club" flourishes in Lexington, Ky. The youngest member is 89 years old.

Coldwater, Mich., has a practicing physician who is 99 years old. He is Dr. William Sprague.

The female pupils in the high school at Osborne, Kan., have organized two baseball teams.

Opals of excellent quality have lately been found, in considerable numbers, near Genessee, Idaho.

The maximum age assigned to the pine is said to be 700 years; to the red beach, 245; to the oak, 410, and to the ash, 145 years.

SIGNS OF RAIN.

When furniture is creaky rain is imminent.

When the cat washes her face look out for a rain.

Salt is a good barometer. When it is damp rain is probable.

A low barometer almost invariably betokens a coming storm.

Squeaky shoes squeak louder than usual when a storm is coming.

A rainbow in the morning foretells rainy weather during the day.

A red sunrise indicates foul weather at some time during the day.

Rats and mice are generally very active and noisy just before a storm.

Not even a grain of salt is wanting to emphasize and make perfect the flavor of

SELECTIONS OF VERSE.

Apple Blossoms.

Apple blossoms, full of gladness,
Smiling o'er my orchard walk,
Tell of winter's vanished sadness,
And of songs and sunshine talk.
Pink and white, all rarely painted,
Like the rosy dawn of life;
Bright with hopes and unacquainted
With the shadow and the strife.

Apple blossoms, full of sadness,
Raining on my orchard walk,
Tell of spring's departing gladness,
And of care and sorrow talk.
All the painted petals shattered,
Soiled and crushed beneath my feet;
All the rosy sunbeams scattered,
Which made youth and love so sweet.

But those blossoms, reft of beauty
Strewn along my orchard walk,
Sweetly having done their duty,
As they die, of autumn talk.
What, though now the branches o'er me
Wear a sad and sober green,
Still there shines a hope before me—
Life's fair fruit shall yet be seen!
—Rev. R. Wilton, in Golden Days.

The Old Schools.

The old school exhibitions—the schools there, where the birds
Made music that was sweeter than the sweetest human words—
We see them but in memory; the boys now talk in Greek,
And "The Soldier of the Legion" doesn't die three times a week!

The old school exhibitions—they were glorious and great,
And the boys that used to run them have been rulers of the state;
But they only live 'n mem'ry now, whose strains Æolian float,
"And not a single drum is heard—not even a funeral note!"

The old school exhibition—remembered fondly still!
The playground in the valley—the schoolhouse on the hill!
And I'd like to meet the old boys, and with feelings fair and fine
Go back with them to Bingen—to "Bingen on the Rhine!"
—Frank L. Stanton, in Atlanta Constitution.

Modified Joy.

Oh, ladies, have you heard the news
That fills men's hearts with glee;
That makes them want to dance and sing,
No matter who may see;
That, when they heard it, made them all
Give one tremendous shout—
The news that comes from Paris straight:
"Full sleeves are going out!"

No longer, sandwiched in between
Two big balloons of sleeves,
Will puny men in street cars ride,
Squelched by two modern Eves;
No longer will a lover be
Harassed with awful doubt
How many theater seats to buy—
"Full sleeves are going out!"

They're going out! Oh, girls, oh, how
It will rejoice men's eyes
To see each lovely creature's arms
Reduced to normal size!
And yet, alas! some may regret
The joys that once have been;
For truly, while they were in style,
'Twas fun to tuck them in!
—Somerville Journal.

Vacation.

"What shall you do this summer?"
"Nothing!" I stanchly said;
"Neither books, nor Chautauqua, nor Concord,
Shall claim my tired head.

"I shall lie at length in the sunlight
And count the pine tree plumes,
And fill my senses with silence,
And the odor of clover blooms.

"I shall stand and stare, like the cattle,
At the rim of the earth and sky,
Or sit in the lengthening shadows,
And see the sweet days die.
"I shall watch the leaping squirrels,
And the patient creeping ants,
And learn the ways of the wee wood folk
In their unmolested haunts.

"And perchance, in the hush that follows
The struggle to be wise,
Some truth which was coy before time,
May take me by surprise!"
—Henrietta R. Eliot, in Youth's Companion

Can't See Through Your Hat.

O, woman, you are very sweet,
And man will gladly yield his seat
To spare your pretty, tired feet,
And gladly tip his hat to you,
Since admiration prompts him to;
And lots of other things he'll do
His high esteem for you to show
And make you happy here below,
But one thing you should surely know—
Just think a bit whene'er you're at
The play—pray but consider that;
Despite that he esteems you so,
He can't see through your hat.

Though high aloft your headgear tower
With ponpon plume and tropic flower,
Which, worn by you at proper hour,
Accentuate your every charm—
Thus working good instead of harm—
Your critics you can ne'er disarm
Till you can learn to see aright
And view the matter in our light
(Since we have only mortal sight)
Then please at least remember that
While at the play you sit and chat
Though we begrudge you no delight,
We can't see through your hat.
—Emile Pickhardt, in L. A. W. Bulletin.

A Middle-Aged Love Story.

With every tick of the clock, my dear,
The days go singing by,
And the skies are blue and our hearts are true,
And there's love in your laughing eye.
And never you care if the silver hair
Steals into each golden lock,
For your heart must know you dearer grow
With every tick of the clock.

With every tick of the clock, my dear,
We drift from the shores of youth,
And we swifter glide on the broader tide
Of the grander sea of truth.
The flight of time but smooths to rhyme
Life's every grief and shock,
And we nearer grow in love's glad glow
With every tick of the clock.
—Nixon Waterman, in L. A. W. Bulletin.

The Morn's Moon.

"In the morn's morn," she cried,
Smiling amid her pain—
"In the morn's morn, dear love,
All will be well again.
Little head on my breast,
You sitting close beside,
Each of us hushed to rest,
Satisfied.
Ah! the morn's morn!" she cried.

It was in the morn's morn
That her words came true;
Little head on her breast,
Little heart, too.
'Tis the morn's light. They lie,
Mother and child together,
Each of them hushed to rest—
Escaped from the world's wintry weather
To the morn's morn of the sky.
—Harriet Boyer, in Century.

How Unkind.

"I'm troubled, dear," he said as one
To worriment inclined,
"I fear the sickness I have had
May yet affect my mind."

She looked up in his tearful eyes
And gently said thereat:
"I wouldn't worry, love, about
A little thing like that."
—Boston Courier.

SPORTS

TUESDAY, July 14 Sun rises 4:38 a. m., sets 7:32 p. m. Lanterns must be lighted between 8:32 p. m. and 3:38 a. m.

Cyclists desiring to join the League of American Wheelmen will be furnished with application blanks and necessary information by addressing the Cycling Department of the Daily Press.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Mrs. W. H. Murray, of Watchung avenue, is learning to ride a wheel.

Louis Bamberger rode to Elizabeth, Sunday, to visit his parents and other relatives.

Geo. W. Scribner, of this city, rode in the games of the Harlem A. C., at Woodside, Newark, last week and finished second in the 1-mile scratch.

There is some talk of reducing the fee of official handicappers from 25 to 15 cents an entry. At one meet recently sver $110 was cleared by the handicapper.

There are in round numbers about one thousand professional cyclists in this country, notwithstanding the slump into the ranks of the "pros.," caused by the abolition of Class B from L. A. W. shelter. That the sport could have developed to its present status without a strong professional stimulous is one of those points which make it distinctly unique among pastimes.

Cripples are riding these days about as well as whole men. Most of them seem to experience no discomfort from their deformities, and some can scorch at a good clip. A club-footed rider seen the other day was, however, an almost painful object to look at. With only a few inches of foot on either leg, and that little turned in at a right angle, the mystery of his control of a wheel built with ordinary pedals was hard to solve. How on earth a man could control such a freakish steed was not easy to explain, but he pursued the more or less even tenor of his way without doing anything more serious than to excite the fears of others as to his and their own safety.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

W. H. Brower has gone to Moscow, Pa., where he will try his luck at fishing.

Geo. Neal, Sam Neal and Elvaine VanName are spending today at Sewaren, fishing.

Janitor Steve Hope, of the Bryant School, can be found today fishing in the Cranford river.

Jacob Willis and John Wyckoff, of Johnston's Drive, went to Basking Ridge Sunday and will spend a few days fishing and hunting in that vicinity. They have secured a hayrick to bring home their game.

LAWN-TENNIS.

Percy Sandford and Carl Brown have both challenged Charles Dupee for the senior single tennis championship of the Park Club. The matches will be played on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dunham, of Central avenue, have returned after a trip through the south.

Mr. and Mrs. David W. King, of Craig place, have cause for much happiness. It is a beautiful little baby girl and was born on Saturday last.

SUIT OVER PLUMBING.

Miss Margaret DeMott Claims James Walsh Didn't Do the Work Right.

There was an important case that came before Justice Nash yesterday afternoon. It was the case of James H. Walsh against Mrs. Margaret DeMott, on contract. The trouble was over a plumbing bill of $38, which Mrs. DeMott refused to pay claiming that Walsh had not done the plumbing work properly in her house. It came out at the trial that the Walsh and DeMott families had always been great friends and that Mrs. DeMott had known Walsh ever since he was born.

She had always put the most implicit trust in him, and now she claimed he had taken advantage of her. He claimed that the work had been done according to contract. The Judge reserved his decision for a week.

Walsh was represented by Assemblyman W. R. Codington, while Mrs. DeMott's lawyer was Winfield S. Angleman.

It would be hard to convince a man suffering from bilious colic that his agony is due to a microbe with an unpronouncable name. But one dose of DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure will convince him of its power to afford instant relief. It kills pain. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Eli Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles for twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a fine cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

New Hampshire Democrats To Meet.

Nashua, N. H., July 14.—C. A. Sulloway, representing the New Hampshire delegation, has telegraphed to Chairman Amey of the state committe to call a convention to determine what position shall be assumed by the New Hampshire democrats with reference to the silver question.

May Be "Railroaded" Out of Boston.

Boston, July 14.—A man, giving the name of Thomas Johnson, was arrested at the Park square station last evening. He is thought to be a clever New York pickpocket. If no evidence can be found against the man he will be "railroaded" out of town.

Will Support the Ticket; Not the Platform.

Rochester, N. Y., July 14.—The Rochester Herald, democrat, morning, and Union and Advertiser, democrat, evening, have placed the names of Bryan and Sewall at the head of their editorial pages. Neither support the platform.

Died from Lockjaw.

New Haven, Conn., July 14.—John Maloney, 23 years old, died from lockjaw at the hospital yesterday afternoon. He was struck on the head with a coupling-pin on July 3 and neglected the wound.

The Peanut Trust Dissolved.

Norfolk, Va., July 14.—The combination known as the Virginia Peanut association has dissolved, the companies composing it being dissatisfied with scale of prices obtained by the association.

Slavin Defeats Butler.

Philadelphia, July 14.—At the Caledonian Athletic club last night Patrick J. Slavin of England knocked out Joe Butler, the colored heavyweight, in 1 minute and ten seconds with a hard right arm swing on the jaw.

A Sign of Conquest.

Madge—Young Mr. Purstrings is confident that he's won that girl.

Margaret—How do you know that?

Madge—When he takes her to the theater now he makes her ride in a street car, and he used to get a carriage.—Chicago Record.

Funny.

Wool—Nine men out of ten have a settled conviction that they are undeveloped humorists.

Van Pelt—How about the tenth?

Wool—Oh, he's the infallible judge of the humor produced by others.—Brooklyn Life.

Not Up to the Mark.

Manager—I'm afraid your melodrama will not answer.

Author—Would you mind saying in what respect you consider it defective?

Manager—The incidents are not sufficiently improbable.—Puck.

Like a Thief in the Night

Bright's Disease and other Kidney troubles steal upon us and are firmly settled before we know it. If the Lungs, Heart or Liver become diseased, they tell us of it very quickly. The kidneys don't.

Their early symptoms are but few apparently insignificant.

Woe to him, nevertheless, who neglects or misunderstands them.

For it means, first, blood poisening, then dropsy, then death by stupor (coma) or convulsions.

It may attack us at any age.

Its only signs may be a little headache, a little dullness, a little twitching of the muscles, a slight bagginess or puffiness under the eyes, a little dyspepsia, slight vertigo or dizziness, and then the light is suddenly blown out.

Ease your Kidneys, preserve your health, save your life by using Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills. They will relieve these over-worked organs, aid them in filtering poisons and impurities out of your system, and will heal, strengthen and cure your kidneys when diseased.

NATURAL FAT.

GETTING FAT ONLY A QUESTION OF EATING PROPER FOOD.

Thin people who want to get fat should eat proper food and digest it.

That is the only natural way.

The trouble with most thin people is that they suffer from indigestion.

They dont disgest there food. They don't get enough nourishment. They are slowly being starved. They are poisoned by the products of fermented and putrid food.

Shaker Digstive Cordial, a gentle, natural, vegetable digestive, attacks the food in your stomach just like the digestive juices, and turns it into healthful nourishment. It helps your stomach naturally. It mkes thin dyspeptics fat. It makes poisonous blood pure. It tones up and cures the stomach.

Nothing will cure indigestion like Shaker Digestive Cordial, because nothing else goes so naturally about it.

This is why it has been so successful in relieving nausea, vomiting, dizziness, weakness bad taste, fever, flatulence, constipation, loss of appetite, headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc., by curing the disorder which causes the symyptoms.

A few doses will prove its value, but you won't get fat on one bottle.

All druggists. Ten cents for a trial bottle.

Write for book on Food and Fat to The Shakers, 30 Reade Street, New York.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints,—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

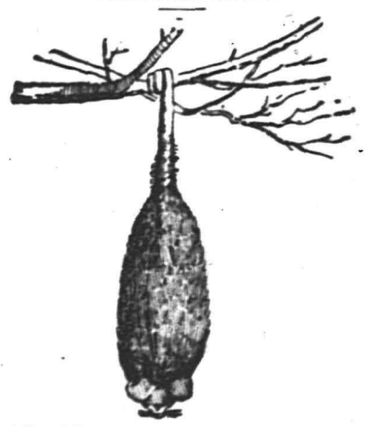
LITERARY NOTE.



"In this tale the suspense is well sustained."—Book Review, in Life.

Spiteful Thing.

Clare—I wish I were like one of those sleeping princesses told of in fairy tales. Then all I should have to do would be to sleep till Prince Beautiful should come and rouse me and ask me to be his wife.

May—Do you feel quite sure that when he saw you he would waken you?—Town Topics.

The Healing Art.

Doctor—Did you give the children the physic I sent last night?

Fond Mother—Yes, sir.

Doctor—And how are they to-day?

Fond Mother—Well, the little un's very bad, to be sure. But it don't seem to 'ave done the t'other un' no 'arm as yet!—London Punch.

Wanted Amusement.

Hostess—I will have to leave you a little while. What can I do for your amusement while I am out?

Little Visitor—I wish you would let me look at your family album.

"Do you think you will enjoy that?"

"I guess so. Mamma says everybody laughs over it."—Good News.

For the Fair Sex.

"Won't it be lovely when we girls vote?" said Mrs. Bobleigh.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Giddithing. "Only I do hope they'll leave enough room on the ballots for a postscript."—Washington Star.

A Woman's Intuition.

She—So the first thing Tom told you about his fiancee was that she was "awfully sensible?"

He—Yes.

She—That settles it. She's plain.—Puck.

Had a Smart Husband.

Daughter—Did you find out what it was that papa cut out of the paper?

Mother—Yes, I bought another copy. I've read it all through, but I can't see anything wrong about it. It's an article on the healthfulness of housework.—N. Y. Weekly.

He Had Authority.

Lecturer—Where did the liquor habit have its beginning?

De Tanque—In the Garden of Eden.

Lecturer—How can you verify that?

De Tanque—Well, didn't both Adam and Eve see snakes?—N. Y. World.

Married—Not Mated.

Mr. Candid Chumley—How do your and your new wife get on together?

Mr. Newlwed—Well, all I've got to say is that I wish my mother-in-law was an old maid.—Texas Siftings.

The Jokes Have Lost Their Point.

"You never accept any more of my jokes about lady shoppers who never buy," said Snickers to the editor.

"No, I'm married now," was the satisfactory response.—Detroit Free Press.

DUNN FAVORS MR. BRYAN

BRYAN A GOOD MAN AND THE SILVER IDEA WILL DIE OUT.

Ex-Congressman John T. Dunn Will Support the Regular Democratic Nominees and Gives His Reasons Therefor.

The following is the letter of John T. Dunn to the New York World of yesterday:

I sat on the seat next to that occupied by Mr. Bryan in the Fifty-third Congress, and had ample opportunity to "size him up."

I think he would make a good President. He is as honest as God makes men, of the highest order of patriotism as he understands the meaning of the word, untiring in his industry and devoted to the best interest of his country as he sees it, and only mistaken in his silver theories.

Silver, even with Bryan elected, can never be successful in its demands. I am therefore going to back my opinion of Bryan—who is an enemy of trusts—with my vote and work, wherever it can be utilized, especially as I look upon the success of the protectionists, from what they have already done in personal legislation and their wicked purpose of doing as bad if not worse in the future by using the taxing power of the Government to rob their fellow citizens, as of far greater peril to our institutions than would be the success of Mr. Bryan at the very worst that can be said of it. Indeed, the silver demand is ultra-protection—protection of the mine owner, a smaller dog, the offspring of a worse and more wicked breed, the real protectionist, who organizes governmental powers for selfish ends in class legislation.

We know what the McKinleyites have done and the destructive effects of their course, and we know what they will do in the future if successful in this election.

Theirs is a settled, determined and destructive policy for personal aggrandizement at the expense of the industries of the country, while the silver craze is but temporarily an expedient born of circumstances, which will work its own cure before the time arrives at which legislation can be had to carry out the craziness.

Silver in its present attitude is simply threatening and dangerous, while protection has been successful and destructive in its operations, and carried to its legitimate end would be destructive to the life of the Republic itself. It would, if successful in McKinley's election at this time, become the settled policy in our financial legislation, backed by the aggregated and organized wealth wrung from the people in the taxing power of the Government, a taste of which the country has recently had in the wealth distributed by Mark Hanna to organize Republican district delegations, by means of which he mastered the St. Louis Convention in the interest of his associate protectionists, whose funds he distributed for that purpose, using the name and prestige of the great Republican party to serve personal ends in class legislation.

We see that the unorganized masses are unable, except by revolution, to cope with this dangerous power of wealth wrung from the people for private gain, a policy under which a Republican cannot live, and one which every man who loves his country should fight with all his power.

No, of the two evils, under all the circumstances, I choose the least, and will support Bryan with all my might, believing that, even should he be elected, he could never get a Congress to carry out his present views, also that he is too much of a man and too much of a patriot to do anything that could injure his country and that before any action could be taken by him or his silver supporters of the present hour to carry their views into legislation the silver craze will cure itself and the disease disappear.

A Good Time Assured.

All seekers after pleasure should attend the dance to be held tomorrow night in the Catholic clubhouse by the Board of Governors of the Catholic Club. A good time is assured all who do and the management has spared no pains to make the affair a success. Prof. O'Reilly will furnish the music. Refreshments will be on sale during the evening. Carter's colored quartette will be present and render selections throughout the evening. The committee who have the affair in charge consists of M. Mack, P. Casey, C. Guinee, T. Carty, D. Galbraith, H. McDonald, W. Claassen, J. Keenan, J. McCarthy and C. Ward. Admission twenty-five cents.

Results.

The eyeglasses advertised in yesterday's Press have been returned to their owner by Miss Rose Verdon, of Somerset street.

TRAVELING WITHOUT TICKETS.

On Complaint of Railroad Officials Four Tramps Are Arrested.

For sometime the Jersey Central railroad officials have been on the lookout for the tramps that constantly take advantage of the numerous coal and freight trains. The police of this city are often called upon to arrest the offenders so it was nothing strange when a telegram was received last evening to meet a midnight coal train and remove some of these same characters.

Roundsman Frederickson and Patrolman Vanderweg responded to the summons and appeared at the North Avenue station in time to arrest four young men who were riding on the coaler.

They made no attempt to resist arrest and were locked up without trouble. They were brought before City Judge DeMeza this morning and one had a particularly sorrowful story to tell. His name, he said, was George Bolus, twenty-eight years of age. He was a moulder by trade and had been working at Ontario, Canada, where his wife and children are now living. Hard times threw him out of work, he and his family were starving and in a moment of desperation, started to work his way to Brooklyn where an old friend lived, who, he hoped, would be able to get him a job. After hearing Bolus' story, the Judge suspended sentence on him.

The other three prisoners were young fellows from Philadelphia, Louis Blorne, twenty-one years, Thomas Niles, seventeen years, and John Kennedy, seventeen years. They all gave their occupations as laborers, and were working their way to New York, looking for work, so they said. They were a rather rough looking set and the Judge sent them down to the Elizabeth jail for ten days in default of $3 fine.

PARK CLUB FLOURISHING.

So It Was Shown at a Meeting of the Board Last Night.

North Plainfield is a prosperous place and so is its club, the Park Club. The Board of Governors of the club held a meeting last night and the reports of the different officers, especially that of the treasurer, showed the club to be in excellent condition. The Fourth of July committee, that arranged the very successful celebration of last Independence Day, made its report and the various financial matters in regard to it were arranged.

The membership of the Park Club has been full until several members have lately resigned. These vacancies were quickly filled from the awaiting list.

The board also decided to pay off two bonds of $100 each.

A Good Idea.

It is likely that at an early date a special meeting of Alert Hose Company will be called for the purpose of considering the advisability of presenting to the Exempt Firemen's Association the silver hose carriage now owned by the former. The carriage has not been used for some time and a number of the members think it would be the proper thing to transfer it to such a worthy organization as the Exempts. The Daily Press would heartily endorse such action provided it is the wish of Alert's members.

Wouldn't Leave Strangers.

A young girl giving the name of Smith and residence Plainfield, called on a Somerville family yesterday and when requested to leave refused to do so. It is thought that the girl is slightly demented, judging by her actions. Word was sent regarding her to the police of this city aed the matter will be investigated at once.

A Trolley Observation.

A citizen remarked last evening that he thought it strange that no attempt had been made to extend the trolley from this city to Morristown. He thought it would develop a large and rich quantity of land. The present difficulty of reaching Morristown would seem to give the plan a big boom.

Commendable Efforts.

The Salvation Army will be addressed tomorrow evening by Staff Captain Marshall. After the meeting ice cream and cake will be served to those in attendance. The Army is making a commendable struggle to maintain the corps in this city, and they should be encouraged.

Plainfield Artist's Work in Paris.

There is an interesting exhibition of sketches, pastels and drawings in Paris, among which are some landscape views by Miss Caroline M. Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David P. Hall, of this city. Miss Hall will sail for home on July 16th.

HAPPILY MATED IN JULY.

QUIET HOME WEDDING CELEBRATED ON ORANGE PLACE.

The Simple Ceremony of the Society of Friends Marked the Event.—Happy Couple Will Reside in This City.

Harry C. Vail, of Duer street, was united in marriage to Miss Rachel H. Vail, yesterday afternoon, at the residence of the bride's mother, Phebe H. Vail, 306 Orange place. The ceremony was after the manner of the Society of Friends and was very simple and attractive.

The gifts were numerous and valuable.

Owing to the recent death of a sister of Harry G. Adams, of Church street, only the immediate relatives were present, among whom were: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Vail, Phebe H. Vail, Harry G. Adams and wife, Sidna R. Vail, Albert R. Vail, James Vail and wife, Adelbert Vail and wife, Walter M. Vail, Maria S. Harned, Mary H. Laing, Catherine F. Randolph, Bella R. Vail, all of Plainfield, Jessie M. Vail, of Orange, Edward Harned and wife, of Merchantville; Ruth Anna Harned, of Rahway; Miss Ada Cadmus, of Philadelphia, Abram R. Vail and wife, of Quakertown.

As the happy couple left the house they were liberally showered with rice and the proverbial old shoe was cast into their carriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Vail will make a short trip through New York State and will be at home to their many Plainfield friends, at 306 Orange place.

AN APPEAL FOR MORE MONEY.

Relief Association Anxious to Free Their Home From Debt.

The Plainfield Relief Association acknowledge the receipt of $225 for the building fund, donated in various sums by Miss E. E. Kenyon, Stephen Cahoone, Mrs. Pierre Mali, Charles Hyde, Benjamin J. Shreve, H. H. Powers and Mrs. Cornelius Schenck. This is additional to $2,585 acknowledged previously, and makes in all $2,810 thus far received toward the $3,500 necessary to be raised. Thus, to complete the fund, and enable the association to avail of certain subscriptions which were conditional upon its completion, $690 more will be necessary. Subscriptions may be sent to Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph, president, or to Mrs. H. P. Reynolds, treasurer. The Relief Ascociation is now in full operation at its new home on West Front street, and this is now practically the headquarters in this city for relief and charity. The Organized Aid Association and King's Daughters have accommodations there, and they co-operate with the Relief Association in its work. Applicants are, whenever practicable, encouraged to take employment and make returns for help given; and clothing and groceries are given out (rather than cash) to those in need of temporary assistance—the idea being always to encourage and stimulate self-respect and industry. It is important that this building fund should be completed at an early day, and the generous people of Plainfield are urged to send in their subscriptions.

SLEEPING IN FREIGHT CARS.

Arrested by an Officer, But Told a Straight Story and Were Released.

Early this morning about 2 o'clock Patrolman Myers was passing by the railroad siding on East Fourth street and, as his custom, looked into the empty freight cars. All was quiet, but in one the dim light revealed two motionless forms curled up in one corner. The officer investigated and found two weary-looking men fast asleep. He roused them from their slumbers and marched them off to the lockup.

This morning they were arraigned before City Judge DeMeza. One said that he was Finley Snyder, of Bridgeport, Conn., thirty-six years old, a bookkeeper by profession. The other was Andrew Newman, a machinist from New Haven, aged forty-one years. Both had been thrown out of work by the recent hard times and had been forced to wander about in search of employment.

They were both of good appearance and looked as if they told the truth. They told their story in a clear, straightforward manner and the Judge was so much impressed with their honesty that he suspended sentence.

On the Rock.

A jolly party of young people from Washington Park are spending the day at Washington Rock. Miss Fanny Western arranged the outing and those who are recipients of her hospitality are Miss Anna Hull, of Jamaica, L. I., Arthur Mundy, of Brooklyn, Charles Terrill, Rowland Western and Arthur Murphy, of Woshington Park. Lunch for the party was taken and a day of real pleasure is being passed.

MUSIC FOR THE MASSES.

SECOND OF THE OPEN AIR BAND CONCERTS LARGELY ATTENDED.

The Terrific Heat Keeps Some People at Home, But Still an Immense Crowd Gathers and Listens to the Melodies.

Two cyclists rode to Plainfield from Elizabeth last evening. They had no particularlar object in view and were riding up East Fifth street when they noticed an unusual number of people on the street. Everbody seemed to be clad in holiday garb and yet they strolled along as if with no special destination. As the riders reached the corner of Watchung avenue, streams of music floated in their direction and Plainfield's second open-air concert of this year had begun.

Early in the evening, even before it grew dark, the crowd began to assemble in front of the Crescent Avenue church and in the vicinity of the triangle that is formed by the intersection of LaGrande, Watchung and Crescent avenues. The great majority of the people came on foot but the cyclists were there in great numbers and carriages stood on all sides of the triangle.

The crowd was like all the open air concert crowds, every class was represented. The staid old banker, accompanied by his wife and charming daughters, strolled through the broad avenues in the vicinity listening to the music as while close behind came the hard-working wage earner and his wife, their sturdy son following with the girl of his choice.

The crowd did not invade the lawn in front of the church for a very good reason. Sexton Angleman was on the scene early in the evening and started to water the lawn which he did very effectually throughout the concert. There were no decorations of lanterns, but colored fire was burned at intervals in the yard of Councilman J. B. Dumont and illuminated the scene very picturesquely

The band played excellently and the selections were all well received so that the second concert was a grand success. The crowd was not quite as large as at the first but kept changing so that it was impossible to gain any idea of the number.

A Plucky Driver.

The team of horses attached to the heavy beer wagon belonging to John J. Hibbits ran away on West Second street this morning about 7:30 o'clock. They became unmanagable near Madison avenue and ran toward Park avenue. The harness being out of place was the cause. The driver pluckily hung to the reins despite the cries of all that saw him to jump. The team was finally stopped near Washington street. The harness was wrecked, while the wagon was slightly broken.

Stopped Sewering Into Green Brook.

The Borough Health Board notified the proprietors of the Pond Tool and Machine Works recently that they must cease running their sewage into Green brook through a drain which was laid across property belonging to Halstead Compton. The Company is now making connections with the regular sewage main.

Crop Report.

Weather Observer John Neagle has the following report on the condition of crops this week:

Recent heavy rains did great damage to grain cut, but not housed; on low ground crops suffered from flooding; some grain sprouted; corn and oats were flattened; potatoes covered with white patches and commence to rot; some wheat and rye uncut has bent to ground and sprouted, some turned black; crops on high ground were more fortunate. Ave. temp., 75 degs.; rainfall, 1.22 inch.

Shot a Valuable Horse.

Charles Johnson, a farmer, living near Dog Corners, was obliged to shoot a valuable horse this morning. He was driving the horse to a reaper, and in some manner the animal caught his leg in the machine and a fracture resulted. An examination proved that there was no hope of saving the horse, so he was killed.

Conference of Executors.

Frederick W. McCully, of Paterson, came to Plainfield yesterday and held a conference with ex-Mayor John H. Van Winkle and Harry W. Marshall, the other executors and trustees of the estate of Daniel J. Marshall.

—The work of moving the turnout on the West Fourth street line of the street railway farther west on that street has been completed, and the cars are now able to make better time.

—Joseph E. Davis, of Hotel Netherwood, who is held responsible for a debt of $105 due John Henesey, the painter, the story of which was published yesterday in these columns, is today consulting Lawyer Swackhamer in the hopes of making a settlement.

J. E. MARTINE REPLIES TO A. H. A.

The Farmer Orator Can See Nothing But Shallowness in the Latter's Letter.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—In a communication signed A. H. A., "I learn the candidate (Democratic) is a nameless boy," and yet this nameless boy held the great House of Representatives spellbound with his eloquence and earnestness. The great Tom Reed congratulated him, political friends and foes lavished praise on him, and still to A. H. A. "he is a nameless boy whom no honest Democrat can or will support." The writer claims to be an honest man, and I believe my party will say I am an honest Democrat. I will not only support but vote for William Jennings Bryan for President of the United States.

Mr. A. H. A., for a Democrat not to vote counts one for the "man of putty, without character, without principles, without courage." As a man, knowingly, I will never vote for a candidate so pliant and shallow that his convictions count for nothing.

Yes! Mr. A. H. A., "The contest is between Bryan and McKinley, between honesty and dishonesty."

McKinley is a man of putty, hesitating lest declaration may lose him votes Bryan, bold, candid, frank. A man of convictions, and who is not under mortgage to a band of millionaires, as is Mr. McKinley to the syndicate who paid $118,000 of his notes of hand. Mark Hanna is the master and William McKinley the slave.

Voters who admire a courageous and honest man, vote for William Jennings Bryan J. E. Martine

THOUGHT HE WAS A TRAMP.

Young Joseph Baker Bitten By a Watch Dog.

A strange dog is often a very unpleasant creature to deal with, especially when he is not expected. Joseph Baker, aged nine years, of Pearl street, is of that opinion at present.

Young Baker and a comrade named McDonald wished to earn a little money and decided to do it by peddling beans. They started out this morning and met with fair success.

It was nearly noon when Baker entered a yard on Duer street. He supposed the house to be occupied and did not know that the people living there were away for the summer. As he started to go up to the door, there was a growl, a rush and Baker had an uncomfortable feeling in the region of the hip. A large shaggy black dog had been lying under the steps and rushed at him, setting its teeth in his hip. The dog was tied.

The injured lad was immediately taken to Dr. Tomlinson, who properly treated the wounds.

Will Accept the Position.

The many friends of Miss Laura Sydenham will be pleased to learn that she will resume her duties as a teacher in the North Plainfield Public School in September next. When notified by the Board of Education, in May last, of her election as a teacher for the coming school year, Miss Sydenham declined to accept the appointment, but has yielded to the urgent request of the Board and will remain.

Off to a G. O. P. Conclave.

J. T. MacMurray, J. W. Murray, Jr., William Drayton, W. T. Kirk, William Newcorn, W. C. Smith, J. W. Coddington, George Steward, Andrew Lutkins, J. W. Van Horn, James Babbitt, W. Douglass, William Kline, B. Gibson and Louis Peterson are the delegates from this city and the borough who are in attendance at the State Convention of Republican clubs, being held at Asbury Park today.

Taking Their Vacation.

Three of the letter-carriers of the free delivery service in this city start on their vacation tomorrow. Daniel Shea leaves and his route will be looked after by Oscar Pearson. Philip Giese will substitute in the place of William Demarest, and J. W. A. Bauersachs will be relieved by Robert Tingley.

Held a Surplus a Long Time.

The executive committee of last year's Fourth of July Committee have been holding a surplus for some time, and a meeting will be held tomorrow evening to dispose of it. A suggestion has been made that the money be turned over to help defray the expenses of the band concerts.

Mrs. Ballington Booth Coming.

Mrs. Ballington Booth, wife of Commander Booth, of the American Volunteers, will speak in this city Thursday evening, July 23d. The time and place will be announced later.

NOT TO EXCEED ESTIMATE

PLANS OF NEW LINCOLN SCHOOL MODIFIED TO LOWER COST.

John Abbott Awarded the Contract for Construction, Which Will Be Superintended By Architect C. Powell Karr.

It was nearly nine o'clock when the Board of Education met in special session last evening to consider the modified plans for the new Lincoln School. In fact they were considered in executive session previous to the meeting, and it only required an open vote to confirm or reject the building committee's report, offered by Mr. Lounsbury. The report stated that the plans had been modified to lessen the cost, and that they had been submitted to Contractor John Abbott, the lowest bidder, who had agreed to deduct $3,375 if the plans were followed. He also agreed to furnish the plumbing for $285 additional.

The report contained four resolutions, which provided that C. Powell Karr be engaged as the architect and superintendent of building, for which he is to receive 5 per cent. of the total cost. That the contract be awarded to John Abbott for $21,753, exclusive of electric wiring, heating, ventilating and grading. That the architect prepare at once the necessary contracts with John Abbott and with the Dudley Engine Company, and the president and secretary of the board are authorized to execute such contracts and deliver the same to the parties when the bonds required are delivered and approved.

That the finance committee be authorized to make such arrangements necessary to enable the Board to secure the funds required to meet payments when they fall due, and that the president and secretary of the Board are authorized to execute such promissory notes in the name of the Board, as may be required, the proceeds of said notes to be deposited in the City National Bank to the credit of the Board, in a special account to be known as the "Lincoln School Building Account," and all payments on said building are to be made by check, signed by the president and secretary of the Board, and charged against said special account.

The report and resolutions were signed by F. C. Lounsbury, J. B. Probasco and L. N. Lovell, building committee, and were unanimously adopted by the Board. The Board then went into executive session and held a conference with Architect Karr and Contractor Abbott. The modified plans were inspected by the board, and some members did not wholly favor them in their own mind, thinking that the original plans would give a more imposing structure.

A Fractious Horse.

While Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Rogers, of West Second street, were driving into Park avenue last evening, the horse gave an exhibition that attracted a large crowd. The animal reared on his hind legs and made several plunges. Mrs. Rogers, with the assistance of Wallace Vail, got out of the wagon just in time, for the horse made a quick and short turn and was starting back into Park avenue when Wm. Campbell caught him by the head and held him. There was no damage.

New Commutation Ticket Scale.

The Central Railroad Company announces that beginning August 1st they will adopt new graduated rates for commutation tickets between New York and points on the main line. No change will be made in the total amount to be charged for the year; the monthly payments being more nearly equalized.

Surprised by His Friends.

A surprise party was tendered to Matthew Cashin, of St. Mary's church choir, at his home on West Fifth street, last evening. The party was arranged by the members of the choir and St. Mary's Dramatic circle and it was a most enjoyable affair. Prof. O'Reilly furnished the music for dancing.

Plainfielders at Passaic.

The Grocers' State Protective Association, which met in the Babcock building in this city last January, met again in semi-annual session at Passaic today. The delegates who attended from this city were: Frederick Westphal, Augustus Smith, B. R. Barnes and J. Fred. MacDonald.

Selected a County Engineer.

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders met yesterday and selected T. D. Doughty as county engineer. Next Tuesday the entire Board will visit North Plainfield and inspect the Mountain avenue property.

SILVER CONVENTION

Leaders Arranging for the Reception of Delegates at St. Louis.

SENATOR TELLER'S NAME MENTIONED

Bryan a Great Favorite with Many Members of the Bi-Metallic League—Populists Convention To Meet on the Same Day.

St. Louis, July 15.—J. J. Mott, secretary of the bi-metallic league of America, has returned here from Chicago and secured rooms at the Lindell hotel during the coming silver convention for Senator Stewart of Nevada, Representative Newlands, William P. St. John of New York, and others. Asked whether the bi-metallic convention would indorse Bryan's nomination, he said: "As one of the officers of the bi-metallic league, I don't think it would be proper for me to undertake to forecast what it will do. I know, however, that Mr. Bryan is a great favorite with many men prominent in the league." L. K. Taylor of Paducah, Ky., member of the populist national committee, is here to engage quarters for the Kentucky delegation and 300 visitors for the populist convention, which meets on the same day as the silver convention, July 22. When questioned as to Kentucky populists' choice for president, he said: "I can't say further than they did want Teller and hoped that the Chicago convention would nominate him, so they could indorse him." "Will the populists indorse Bryan when they meet here next week?" "They may, but I doubt it because we must maintain our party organization. We may nominate Teller and then agree to divide our electoral tickets on the basis that the votes shall go to the strongest man after the general result is known. This is feasible, and, after all, it looks as if it would be an indorsement of Bryan, for he would most likely be the beneficiary." Announcement was made that all railroads associations in the United States except the Trunk Line association with headquarters in New York and embracing the following lines: Baltimore & Ohio, Central Railway of New Jersey, Chesapeake & Ohio, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Erie, Grand Trunk, Lehigh Valley, New York Central & Hudson River; New York, Ontario & Western; Pennsylvania, Philadelphia & Reading, West Shore and the New England association with headquarters at Boston, have given a one-fare rate for the round trip beginning July 19, for all delegates and visitors to the people's party convention and the silver convention. J. Hugh McDowell, sergeant-at-arms of the populist convention, has appointed Secretary Rosell of the national executive committee chairman of the press committee, the other members of which will be St. Louis newspaper men. Chairman Rosell will distribute the press tickets next Monday at the populist headquarters in the Commercial building.

ADDRESS TO POPULISTS.

Urged To Indorse Bryan at the St. Louis Convention.

Washington, July 15.—J. P. Turner, secretary of the national committee of the people's party, has issued a manifesto advising all populists to ratify the nomination of Bryan at the populist convention at St. Louis on July 22 next. In the course of his address he says: "The truth of it is that the only point the populists now have to decide is whether or not they will take Mr. Bryan, whom every gold bug in the country has denounced as a populist, for our next president of the United States, or whether they will take Mr. McKinley, who represents everything that the populists have denounced and just the opposite of everything that they have advocated since they have been a party."

Ogden Goelet's Illness.

Cowes, July 15.—Despite the fact that certain correspondents have denied the truth of the statement that Ogden Goelet of New York has been lying seriously ill on board the yacht White Ladye, which has been anchored in this harbor, the United Press learns that the report was absolutely correct. Mr. Goelet was taken ill three weeks ago and for a time was so seriously ill that he was unable to leave the cabin of his yacht. When the tide of his sickness turned, however, he became rapidly convalescent and is now able to be on the deck of the White Ladye.

Colored Women in Session.

Washington, July 15.—The National League of Colored Women began yesterday their first annual convention at the Fifteenth street Presbyterian church in this city. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Helen A. Cook, the convention was called to order by Miss A. V. Tompkins of Washington, who read an address of prepared by Mrs. Cook. This was followed by a long address by Mrs. Helen A. Douglass, the widow of the late Frederick Douglass.

Gov. Morton's Vacation.

Albany, July 15.—Gov. Morton will leave Ellerslie Thursday for upper St. Regis lake, where he will occupy the Twombley camp for a month or six weeks. This is one of the prettiest spots in the Adirondacks. The Misses Morton will accompany the governor and Mrs. Morton, and Miss Edith Morton will also join the party on their return from Europe the latter part of this month.

Indorses Bryan and Sewall.

Des Moines, Ia., July 15.—The platform of the bi-metallic convention reported by the committee on resolutions declares for coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, indorses Bryan and Sewall and instructs the delegates to support them at St. Louis.

THE TRANSVAAL RAIDERS.

An Interview with John Hays Hammond in London.

London, July 15.—John Hays Hammond, the American mining engineer whose connection with the Johannesburg reform committee brought upon him sentence of death, but who was pardoned by President Kruger, is now in this city. In an interview with a London newspaper correspondent he says that he will not return to Johannesburg. It is his present intention to remain in London for about six weeks, and then to visit America with his wife. He will return to England and settle in London to take charge of the Gold Fields company's business. "I shall try," said Mr. Hammond, "to divert English capital to the United States." On being questioned on the subject of the Johannesburg raid, he said: "I shall not testify at the trial of Dr. Jameson unless Jameson should make the statement that it was the wish of the people of Johannesburg that he should come to rescue them. We of the reform committee repeatedly told Dr. Jameson not to make the experiment, as the reform movement did not want him. But I must decline to discuss the political situation in South Africa," he continued. "I desire, however, to thank my friends in the United States for their kindness during the period of my imprisonment. I have had letters of sympathy from all parts of that country, including many from persons who were not personally known to me." Mr. Hammond says that his health has been fully restored by the sea voyage from Cape Town to London.

CHOCTAW CITIZENSHIP RIGHTS.

A Convention of Persons Not Recognized by the Dawes Commission Law.

Atlers, I. T., July 15.—The intermarried citizens of the Choctaw nation are meeting in convention at Goodland to take some steps towards having their treaty rights recognized by the Dawes commission. They are growing uneasy, as their names do not appear upon the citizenship rolls of the nation, nor does the Dawes commission law make any provisions for them. Gov. Jardner and the commission will meet at Tuskahoma, the capital of the Choctaw nation, July 27. It is stated that he has called for a special session of the council for the purpose of getting a law passed enjoining the commission from having access to the citizenship rolls.

HONORS TO LI HUNG CHANG.

A State Reception in Paris—Request of President Faure for Closer Relations.

Paris, July 15.—Li Hung Chang, the Chinese statesman, was given a state reception with military honors here yesterday. President Faure, members of the ministry, and other distinguished personages received him. Li Hung Chang spoke briefly, expressing his hope that there would be a growth of the friendly relations existing between France and China, and President Faure responded in a similar strain. He said that he hoped Li Hung Chang would find it advantageous to grant favors, which it was in his power to bestow upon manufacturers in France.

Propositions To Its Creditors.

Boston, July 15.—The Nonantum Worsted company will make the following propositions to its creditors: First, 60 per cent. cash; second, 40 per cent. cash, 30 per cent. in notes on fourteen months, and third, 35 per cent. cash, 30 per cent in notes on fourteen months, and 35 per cent. in notes on thirty-six months.

Printing Contracts.

Albany, July 15.—The state printing board has let the contract for the department printing to the Brandow Printing company of Albany, and the contract for state binding to J. B. Lyons of Albany. There were a dozen competitors for these contracts, but the successful parties were adjudged the lowest bidders.

McKinley Indorsed.

Brewster, N. Y., July 15.—The republicans of Putnam county in convention at Carmel yesterday passed resolution indorsing McKinley and Hobart for the office of president and vice-president.

FOR THE BRIDES.

The most [illegible] is nowadays all made of fine linen batiste trimmed with real lace if one can afford it. The undergarments of silk or wool must have frillings of lace and ribbons about the necks and armholes.

The number of gowns and hats in a trousseau is indeterminate and decided only by the purse of the bride. There should be many wraps and many pretty tea gowns, while bath robes and negligés should have special care given them.

Silk petticoats should match the stays, if not being of the same goods at least of the same color as the principal shade. Tan-color and black stockings of silk are most useful and the white silk wedding hosiery are either embroidered to the knees or have insertions of real lace.

As to corsets, one cannot have too many pairs. For summer those made of cambric, batiste or silk gauze are cool, and for winter one must have them of embroidered satin, lined with silk. A thin white batiste stay, with white silken stars upon it and worn with elaborately frilled petticoats, is charming.

There should be for one a silken eiderdown dressing gown, a bath gown of pink flannel and lace frillings, a white satin dressing jacket with lace insertions, a morning gown of cashmere and embroidery and the evening tea gown and the afteroon tea gown and the one for summer, which may also be used as a dinner gown.

NOTES OF THE STAGE.

Sir Edward Malet, late British ambassador at Berlin, whose opera "Harold" was performed at Covent Garden last season, is at work on a new opera.

The operettas of Strauss are now all the rage in the cities of France, where the superb finales are often encored three or four times. His latest work, "Waldmeister," is near its 100th performance in Vienna.

Gluck's "Orphee" has just been given for the first time at the Paris Opera Comique, arranged in four acts, with a final tableaux. Mme. Delna was the Orpheus. It was in Paris that the opera was first performed in 1774.

Barney Barnato has become the hero of a play. Under the name of Bailey Prothero he is the central figure in "The Rogue's Comedy," by Henry Arthur Jones. As the title indicates the picture drawn of the renowned money-maker is not a flattering one.

Macbeth's duel with MacDuff had serious consequences at a performance at Chatham lately. Gordon Craig, Ellen Terry's son, who was acting Macbeth, broke his sword and gave MacDuff a bad cut on the hand. The curtain was rung down, when a rope broke, and the curtain hit a scene shifter on the head, knocking him senseless.

Merit Talks

"Merit talks" the intrinsic value of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Merit in medicine means the power to cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses actual and unequalled curative power and therefore it has true merit. When you buy Hood's Sarsaparilla, and take it according to directions, to purify your blood, or cure any of the many blood diseases, you are morally certain to receive benefit. The power to cure is there. You are not trying an experiment. It will make your blood pure, rich and nourishing, and thus drive out the germs of disease, strengthen the nerves and build up the whole system.

Severe Case of Dyspepsia

"I suffered from dyspepsia 20 years. I had a feeling as though there was a lump in my stomach. I did not dare to eat meat or warm bread, very few vegetables, for fear of the great distress food caused me. I experienced relief right after commencing to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. My appetite increased, I gained in general health and strength. I can eat almost anything now without discomfort. Although I had been an invalid for twenty years, I can truthfully say that I am better than for a long time. I never weighed so much in my life." MRS. EMILY F. BUMP, 45 Portland Street, Middleboro, Mass.

Hot weather won't cure weak lungs. You may feel better because out of doors more, but the trouble is still there. Don't stop taking your because the weather happens to be warm. If you have a weak throat, a slight hacking cough, or some trouble with the bronchial tubes, summer is the best time to get rid of it. If you are losing flesh there is all the more need of attention. Weakness about the chest and thinness should never go together. One greatly increases the danger of the other. Heal the throat, cure the cough, and strengthen the whole system now. Keep taking Scott's Emulsion all summer.

President Faure's Would-Be Assassin Is Insane.

FRANCE, NEVERTHELESS, IS EXCITED

The Fourth Attempt at the Life of the Present Chief Executive—The Last Would-Be Assassin Narrowly Escaped Lynching.

Paris, July 15.—The excitement throughout France caused by the attempt yesterday to assassinate President Faure is not yet allayed, and the extra diligence of the police and military is still maintained, although no further trouble is apprehended. Since M. Faure became president of the French republic there have been three alleged plots to assassinate him, besides the attempt yesterday. In the first of these the principal was said to be an anarchist known as "Petit Bordeaux," a deserter from the French army, whose plan as alleged at the time, was to kill the president during the fetes at Havre in April, 1895. The authorities being warned, nothing came of this affair. In June of last year a commercial traveler named Hillaiard was locked up by the police of Perigueux upon the information that he had threatened to fire upon President Faure while the latter was visiting the town, in order to draw attention to certain real or fancied grievances. He is the man who in 1887 attempted to assassinate Marshal Bazaine at Madrid. He was not punished. On March 1 of this year three Spaniards and an Italian were arrested on board a railway train at Valence, having no tickets. They said they were going to Lyons to see President Faure, and, as they were armed with daggers or razors, the conclusion was reached that they formed a conspiracy against the life of the president. These men were subsequently liberated, Fired Blank Cartridges.

The attempt yesterday to kill the president was made at Longchamps, where he had gone to review the troops. The president was seated in an open carriage with M. Meline, the premier, and MM. Boisdeffre and Tournier when he appeared upon the review ground. A well-dressed man, apparently about 40 years of age, who had been leaning against a tree, took deliberate aim and fired twice in quick succession with a revolver at the president. The man had not time to fire again before the crowd closed in upon him and seized him; and but for the intervention of the police he would probably have been lynched. The name of the would-be assassin is given as Francois. It appears that some time ago, in order to draw attention to a supposed grievance which he harbored, he fired a revolver in the hall of the chamber of deputies. He declares that he had no desire to harm President Faure, and that he fired blank cartridges, and that the sole purpose of his act was to secure a hearing of his grievances. When it became known in the crowd that the president had not been hurt the greatest enthusiasm was shown. Cheer after cheer was sent up, and the people could hardly be restrained by the guards from crowding into the place where the president and his suite was standing.

To Be Placed in an Asylum.

London, July 15.—The Chronicle today says that Francois, who attempted to assassinate President Faure, will be placed in an insane asylum.

Sunday Law at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 15.—Street Superintendent Butler of this city has been suspended by Mayor Schoelkopf because he would not clean the streets of the city on Sunday, as ordered by the common council. Mr. Butler contends there is a state law against Sunday work and that the council has neither power nor right to violate this law. The affair has created much excitement and the Sunday and anti-Sunday people are preparing for a vigorous fight.

Two Killed by a Trolley Car.

Asbury Park, N. J., July 15.—Arthur E. Chandler, road master of the Atlantic Coast Electric Railway company, and James Sweeney, a foreman, were instantly killed by a trolley car yesterday afternoon at West End. The men were holding a team of horses, when the animals swerved and threw them directly in front of the car. The conductor and motorman were arrested and held under $500 bail. Chandler was unmarried; Sweeney leaves a widow and seven children.

French Shore Fisheries' Trouble.

St. Johns, N. F., July 15.—The French shore trouble continues to be a prolific subject of discussion. Representations from the scene show the great hardships the local fishermen labor under this season owing to the vexatious French encroachments and the repressive measures enforced by both the British and French warships which make the resident New Foundlanders the victims of every dispute.

Many People at Chautauqua.

Chautauqua, N. Y., July 15.—The extremely warm weather of the past few days has driven people to the lake in great numbers, and with Tuesday and to-day have come hundreds of new arrivals from all over the United States. This week one of the finest courses of lectures ever delivered from the Chautauqua platform will be given by Prof. George Adams Smith upon Hebrew poetry.

Hill in New York.

New York, July 15.—Senator Hill arrived in the city last night with Major Hinkley, chairman of the democratic state committee.

Plainfield, Bordentown and Lambertville are the only cities in the State without funded indebtedness. Elizabeth is the principal city without a floating debt.—New York Press.

The star of the Democracy seems to be going westward. Now it is announced that the National Committee headquarters will be removed from New York to either Chicago or Cleveland.

The immigrants admitted to this country during the last year had an average capital of $71.62 each, which is said to be considerably above the general average. It is undoubtedly well above the average cash capital of American wage-earners even in favored localities, and it indicates that only the most thrifty class of European workers are now coming to the United States.

Verily Plainfield must be the policeman's Paradise. There they are looked up to as little tin gods on wheels. The wheels are the bicycles with which the force has been provided. Sometime ago there was talk of founding a course of gymnastic training for their benefit, the argument being that they did not get exercise enough to unlimber their joints. Just now the town is agog over the plan to provide the "cops" with midnight lunch (liquids excluded, of course.) In the future we expect to hear of pensions, steamship excursions, wine suppers and afternoon teas—all for the benefit of these happy police.—New Brunswick Home News.

The following table has been prepared at the National Democratic headquarters showing the States which they expect to carry, together with the number of electoral votes in each. Alabama, 11; Arkansas, 8; California, 8; Colorado, 4; Florida, 4; Georgia, 13; Idaho, 3; Kansas, 10; Kentucky, 13; Louisiana, 8; Maine, 6; Maryland, 8; Michigan, 14; Mississippi, 9; Missouri, 17; Montana, 3; Nebraska, 8; North Carolina, 9; Tennessee, 12; Texas, 15; Utah, 3; Virginia, 12; Washington, 4; West Virginia, 6; Wyoming, 3. Total, 228. As 224 electoral votes will decide the matter this combination would give Bryan a majority of five. The silverites place Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Ohio and South Dakota as doubtful. They have a total of 75 electoral votes.

Connecting Elizabeth and Passaic.

Contractor L. William Serrell will start work Friday or Saturday laying a section of trolley track between Paterson and Passaic to connect with the consolidated system of Newark. This will make it possible for a person to ride from Elizabeth to Passaic by transferring once in Newark. At present several transfers are necessary.

BABY'S CRITICAL YEAR.

Infant's "Second Summer" the Mother's Dread.

Age When Cholera Infantum Proves Most Fatal—Avoid Mistakes in Diet by Feeding With Pure Lactated Food.

Mothers look foward to baby's "second summer" as an anxious pilot does when he approaches the narrowest, most risky part of his course.

In most cases the child, but recently taken from its mother's milk, has not yet fully adapted itself to its changed diet. It takes but a trifle to overturn its digestive organs; a sudden rise in temperature, even a single indigestable meal, too heavy food or the least impurity, are enough to bring on a sudden attack of diarrhea.

Thousands of homes are today freed from the dread of cholera infantum and such wasting diseases by lactated food. Countless parents now sleep soundly, knowing their precious charges are safe, even when the nights are hottest. Lactated food fully meets every need of growing children. It is a perfect substitute for mother's milk—sugar of milk is the basis of both. Children weaned or for any reason deprived of breast milk grow steadily and keep strong and well when fed with this best of all infant foods.

THE LIFE OF THE HOUSE.

Next to breast milk, when the mother is vigorous and fully capable of bringing up her baby, lactated food has no equal. But hot weather reduces the richness and abundance of mother's milk as well as weakens the child's appettite and power of digestion.

In such cases lactated food is far superior to breast milk that has become thin from protracted nursing, or that for any reason is not agreeing with the child. This is proved by the splendid way in which lactated food brings babies through the teething period when they are fretful and disinclined to eat at all.

Says Mrs. Grace Agnew of 657 East 6th St., Erie, Pa., in a letter to the proprietors of this best of foods:

"I have been using lactated food, with excellent results, since my little one was two months old, and am still using it. She likes it so well, and it agrees with her so nicely that we are buying the hospital size for her. Little Vi was 21 months old the 12th of November, and weighs 24 pounds, which is just three times as much as when she was born. She held her own during teething time and the hot summer weather, and in the last three months has gained three pounds. She is the life of the house, is strong and healthy, and I feel sure we owe it to the use of lactated food."

Miss Flora and Miss Annie Stillman have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis. They have returned home to Rhode Island

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

Wants a Place to Save Money.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I am a hard working man and wanted to save up a little money. My wife has an account in the Dime Savings Institution which she started by depositing a dollar. I decided to do the same and went there yesterday. I was told that I could only start an account by depositing five dollars at the start. Now I am not a rich man and cannot lay by very much money at a time but I understood that the Dime Savings Institution was a place where people like myself could keep their little savings. If such is the case, why is it now necessary to deposit five dollars instead of one? There are very few of us that can put by five dollars at a time. As long as the Dime Savings Institution is intended to be for the benefit of those like myself, why not give us a chance to save the small amounts. Knowing that the rich as well as the poor read your paper, I trust that they will recognize the truth that I have tried to state.

A Hard Working Englishman.

THEATRICAL.

The twelfth week of John Philip Sousa and Charles Klein's admirable comic opera, "El Capitan," with its superb scenic surroundings, pretty girls and live melodies, began at the Broadway Theatre, New York City, on last Monday evening, where it provokes as much merriment as ever, and where it holds firmly to its prestige as an unexcelled summer attraction. Its audiences are still of very large proportions, and the advance sales indicate a continuance of its triumph for an indefinite period of time. Of course, the comfortable rattan chairs, a perfectly ventilated auditorium, made so by its numerous exits, and draughts of iced air, have something to do with filling the theatre night after night, but then too, DeWolf Hopper and his merry cohorts are important factors in the interpretation of the witty lines and tuneful music of the pretty opera. No person who witnesses a performance of El Capitan can fail to be impressed by the magnetic personality and manner of DeWolf Hopper, as he dominates the cast liks a king-bee does a swarm and when all else that is seen and done upon the stage has passed out of memory, his peculiar and unctuous methods, and the numberless things which he says and does are likely to be remembered.

A DYING COWBOY'S WISH.

A Few Verses of Poetry Which Seem Applied to the Author's Case.

On August 29th, 1895, J. H. Bolsterli, who was killed by being thrown from a horse in Wyoming Territory several weeks ago, composed several verses on "The Dying Cowboy's Wish." As if by predestination they seem to be particularly appropriate to his unhappy fate. They are as follows:

Be kind to good Old Blizzard, boys, my true and noble steed,
Who's carried me the darkest night through many a wild stampede.
The trail will be hard to travel, lads, when he's so far behind,
But I cannot take him with me there, so promise you'll be kind.

Just think how often he's pulled us through and the race he has won,
And also how he's helped us out in other things we've done:
And when we used to risk our pile the result you always know,
I tried to ride him square, dear friends, he run to win, 'tis true.

I never used a quirt or spur to make him take the lead,
A kind word truly spoken, Jack, is the only whip you need.
You know how well I loved him, men, and what I always said,
He's mine while I'm living, boys, Jack gets him when I'm dead.

And now another word or so while I am lingering here,
I want you to send my outfit home to my wife and mother I love so dear;
And when you go to pack it up put in each rope and strap,
Also a little note to say I always thought of Pap.

Tell them to hang my spurs upstairs, in the room I used to sleep,
Also my gun over the old back door where I would often go to weep;
The bridle to go in father's room, my hat out in the hall,
My saddle in brother Johnny's room, with the lasso on the wall.

And don't forget my sisters dear, send them a lock of hair,
For I know that they will miss me when the others gather there.
Now Jack take care of Blizzard, please, my truest friend in need,
Caress his dear old self for me, remember how I plead.

You have seen us on the round-up, and stayed by me through it all,
Tell him for me I forgive him, pard, he could not help that fall.
And now the last adieu, dear friends, once more I say good bye,
I cannot stay much longer here, still I'm so young to die.

I'm going, yes I'm going, we may never meet again,
Oh! boys, how hard to die it is so far out on the plain.

Why is It,

if catarrh is a constitutional affection, as those claim who have a blood tonic to sell, that physicians, in extreme cases, frequently advise change of air and climate to those suffering from it? Catarrh is a climate affection, and nothing but a local remedy or a change of climate will cure it. Ely's Cream Balm, in all cases of catarrh, is so efficient as to do away with the necessity of leaving home and friends, causing instant relief and a perfect cure after short continuance.

RACE FOR PRESIDENT

One Member of the Cabinet Expresses His Views.

HERBERT AGAINST THE TICKET

Says He Will Not Support the Chicago Nominees—One Other Member Says He Is Against the Platform.

Washington, July 15.—Secretary Herbert is the first member of the cabinet to announce himself openly with respect to the Chicago convention. In reply to an inquiry, he stated that he would not support the ticket nominated at Chicago, but beyond this brief definition of his position he would say nothing. One other member of the cabinet, in private conversation, said he could not endorse the platform.

Senator Smith's Views.

Long Branch, N., July 15.—United States Senator Smith of New Jersey, who is sojourning here, when asked his views regarding the democratic platform replied: "Personally I have an opinion as to what ought to be done, but I do not consider it proper to express that opinion at this time. The instructions of the state democratic convention were in favor of the gold standard and the delegation was bound to do everything in its power to carry out the wishes of the party in this state, this was done, but, of course, the effort was futile, and the platform and candidates stand for principles opposed to those enunciated by our state convention. Under these circumstances I see but one course open to the delegation from this state and that is to refer the whole matter back to the state convention for such action as it may see fit to take. The party is free to act on any line that may be deemed wise for the reason that electors have not yet been put in nomination." "What in your judgment will be the attitude of the state convention?" "I have not been home long enough as yet to find out."

Illinois Gold Democrats.

Chicago, July 15.—The gold democratic organization of Illinois will reopen headquarters to-day in the Palmer house, and the executive committee does not doubt that there will be enough favorable responses to the manifesto to guarantee a new national convention fairly representative of the country before the end of September. Chairman Robins admitted that he had not received any additional telegrams from prominent democrats offering to support the third ticket proposition, but the assurances he had received led him to expect delegations from eastern and southern states, even if the party machinery of the states was opposed to the plan, on the supposition that the two democratic tickets would mean the election of McKinley. Ex-Mayor Hopkins said: "The gold democrats of Texas, Nebraska and Illinois are organized and ready to go ahead as participants in a sound money convention. Time must be given the states which have not yet taken action. There will be a sound money convention of some kind anyhow, and without the necessity of party leaders if they refuse to join us. There are enough sound money democrats in New York to send a representative delegation here, and they should have a ticket of their own to vote for." In the face of the hopeful assertions of the gold leaders there were more prominent desertions to silver's ranks among local democrats. Lawrence P. Boyle, who was a leader in the gold movement from the beginning, said: "The gold standard democrats of Illinois will not follow the lead of men who want to put a ticket in the field simply to help the election of Major McKinley." The report was circulated last night at the Palmer house that the Bryan notification committee was in communication with Senator Hill with a view to inducing him to accept the chairmanship of the notification meeting in Madison Square Garden. If the senator accepts, the silver democrats here say it would be a death knell of the third ticket scheme. It is generally believed at state republican headquarters here that the national committee at its meeting in Cleveland this week will locate branch headquarters in Chicago and place National Committeeman Jamieson in charge of the western campaign. This would be taken as a recognition of the claim that Illinois is to be the royal battle ground of the campaign. The members of the republican state committee are aroused to action by the silver excitement caused by Bryan in Illinois and a meeting of the committee is to be held to-day.

Colombia's Passengers Landed.

San Francisco, July 15.—A brief dispatch from Picadero last night says that the Colombia's passengers, sixty-three in number, and her crew of ninety, had all been safely landed. The vessel is pounding heavily on the rocks and will, in all probability, be a total wreck. She has on board a mixed cargo, the total value of which cannot be ascertained until bills of laden arrive.

Cruiser Olympia's Good Average.

Washington, July 15.—A report just received at the navy department states that the cruiser Olympia on June 7 made a trip from Hokodate to Yokohama at an average speed of 19.94 knots per hour. The vessel was under natural draft and full power. The wind and sea were favorable, but her bottom was rough, as she has not been in dock for six months.

The Cholera in Egypt.

Cairo, July 15.—There were 354 fresh cases of cholera in Egypt yesterday and 344 deaths.

THREE MEN TAKEN

Spanish Gunboat Captures Them in a Small Boat.

ONE CLAIMS AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP

Weyler's Account of the Progress of the War in Cuba—All Foreigners Must Register or Not Be Allowed the Usual Privileges.

Madrid, July 15.—A dispatch to the Imparcial from Havana says that the gunboat Antonio Lopez has seized near Havana a boat containing three occupants, including Jorge Aguirre, who claims to be an American citizen. The dispatch adds that Capt.-Gen. Weyler has issued a decree ordering that within a month all foreigners must register themselves in accordance with the decrees of 1870 and 1884. In the event of their failure to so register they will not be able to claim the privileges allowed foreigners. Maximo Gomez, the rebel commander-in-chief, and his lieutenant, Calixto Garcia, are marching eastward. Their rapid movement is causing alarm to the Spanish military authorities.

Spain's Efforts to Retain Her Territory.

Madrid, July 15.—The Spanish government, in addition to the two ironclads purchased some time ago at Genoa, has decided to buy two other warships of 11,000 tons each in England, and 10,000 Mauser rifles. In the chamber of deputies Senor Fernando Cos-Gayon, minister of the interior, declared that Spain would not sacrifice any portion of her territory for the sake of a European alliance.

MILLS TO CLOSE.

Employes Will Be Given a Vacation of Several Weeks.

Woonsocket, R. I., July 15.—The Alice mill, the Woonsocket branch of the United States Rubber company will close to-day for one month, and the Millville (Mass.) factory of the same company will close July 25 for four weeks. Arrangements, however, are making to give these factories a larger share of the big syndicate's work than they have had the past few years. The Lippitt Woolen company's mills have closed for two or three weeks. E. K. Rays' and the Bay Cotton company's cotton mills have closed for one week, and the River spinning mill for an indefinite period.

Valkyrie Sails for England.

New York, July 15.—Valkyrie, which has been lying at the Anglo-American stores, Erie basin, for nearly a year, sailed for the Clyde this morning with Capt. William Dixon and Mate Fairweather in command of a crew of fourteen men. Mate Fairweather, when seen on board the yacht last night, said that, everything being favorable, the voyage would probably be made in twenty-two days. There was no intention, he said, of participating in the Swansea races, but they would be in time to enter for the Queen's cup at Cowes.

A Delaware Delegate's Views.

Canton, O., July 15.—A good many persons who were present at the Chicago convention have been in Canton since Saturday, but the first man who was a delegate came last evening. He is E. T. Cooper of Delaware, and he says he is going to vote for McKinley and gold. "The convention lost its head," said Mr. Cooper, "when it adopted the platform. I have been through the west and find the free silver sentiment strong there, but I believe it has reached its highest point of development and will decline in power."

Turkish Reserves Called Out.

Salonica, July 15.—Twenty battalions of redifs, or reserves, have been called out and ordered to join the Third Army corps. Six battalions, it is stated, will proceed at once to the Greek frontier, and the remainder of the levy will be distributed along the Macedonian frontier. The redifs in the other provinces of Turkey have been ordered to be in readiness for mobilization.

Big Robbery in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, July 15.—An extensive robbery occurred at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday. About $30,000 in money and jewels were stolen from Mr. and Mrs. Moore, patients at the institution. The valuables were taken from a trunk. William H. Thompson, a professional nurse at the hospital, is suspected as the robber. He has disappeared and the police are looking for him.

Luther Whiting Mason Dead.

Buckfield, Me., July 15.—Luther Whiting Mason, the author of "The National Course of Public School Music" and the man who introduced the chart system of teaching music into the schools of the world, died here yesterday aged 63 years.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

GOSSIP OF DAME FASHION

The Latest Materials and Trimmings for Evening Gowns.

Hats in Which to Cycle—Belts That Are Fashionable and the Reason Therefor—Gowns Seen at the Theater—A Pretty India Silk.

[COPYRIGHT, 1896.]

The fashionable world has paused for a moment in its mad rush. Many of its inmates have flown to their summer quarters for a quiet spell before the season opens. A few are still in town, and may be seen at the last nights of the theater, where we can easily gain some hints of modified modes. Each day and each week brings something a little different, in spite of the fact that the early spring gave the general outlines for the year.

CYCLING HATS

Several typical gowns are worth mentioning. A simple pearl gray crepon had no trimming whatever except some bands of coarse white lace insertion, which were inserted lengthwise in the loose bodice. The insertion was fastened to the crepon beneath silver pailette trimming, and white satin peeped from beneath it. A white satin ribbon collar and a silver belt finished the costume.

A SILK EVENING GOWN.

Another more elaborate costume was worn by a sweet-looking blond, with a black hat that sat on the side of her head like a bird ready for flight. Black India silk, sprayed with white, and over it the material crossed in surplice fashion. To further this effect, what seemed to be the ends of a fichu fell over the skirt from each side of the waist. The bell sleeves emitted clouds of white lace, almost concealing the hands.

A bertha of green velvet was worn over a soft puffed bodice of cream chiffon, with sleeves that were shirred to the arm above the elbow, and were fulled into extravagant flounces on the lower arm.

Silk will be an important factor in evening gowns at the summer watering places. It is difficult to tell what kind is most fashionable. Flowered taffetas and changeable chine silks are the newest, and will perhaps be worn most. Poult de soie is a more expensive material, but it is particularly appropriate for evening wear, and comes in the most delicate shades imaginable.

Besides these there are India silks, which can be secured at very low prices. They make up prettily and look well, if one is fortunate enough to secure a pattern that does not immediately become Skirts for evening gowns show no [illegible] in size, and have seams that are for the most part corded with white satin. Many of the skirts are trimmed with old-fashioned ruchings; while narrow silk fringe, exactly matching the gown in color, is another revival.

Sleeves for evening gowns are nothing more than box-plaited frills, in some cases extending to just above the elbow, in others not deeper than four inches. Tulle and thin silk are the materials most used. It is easily seen that the inspiration for them came from La Loie Fuller, or some other shining light of the world of dancers.

The average man rides a bicycle much faster than the average woman. This is easily accounted for in the hats they wear. Men, with an utter disregard to their appearance (did you ever see a man who looked anything but awful on a wheel?) wear hats that fit close to the head, and thus reduce any additional air resistance; women, with a wholesome fear of burnt noses and freckled faces, cannot resist the smallest amount of brim.

This brim takes as its favorite shape the Alpine, at times with an English walking crown, at others a Tam. Since the crash suit is the very latest for cycling, a crash hat is also comme il fait. The love of linen collar has brought into prominence another material—plain pongee—and that makes pretty bloomers and hats, to be worn with crash skirts. (Cloth hats, of the same shapes, but in darker colors, polka dotted, are also worn).

Besides these are the straw Alpine and the sailor, but they offer such resistance to the wind that the genuine cycling woman thinks little of them.

In the line of trimming, you may have a flat bow on the side of your hat twined about the cutest metal wheel. Or you may adorn it with quills, or simply a plain bow. The wheel is prettiest, but also heaviest.

The girls have got things beautifully fixed this season. And if you'll listen, I'll tell you about it: You see, in past seasons, when a shaft of moonlight struck a couple sitting beneath the trees or in a hammock, one was inclined to wonder what that streak about the girl's waist was. But this season, if you see such a streak, you will be able to understand. It will be nothing but her belt. And it's quite permissable for that to encircle her waist.

This explains why every girl is interested in belts. Just at present they are wearing white kid, but its popularity will soon wane, because it is so cheap that it will become common, and—because in the shadow its color does not darken. If, however, you should decide upon a white belt, get one of veined leather, not smooth. And wear it with a leather buckle, or one of silver Leather is most chic.

When one gets rid of the glamor cast by white belts, it is easily seen that the swell girls who can afford it are buying belts of monkey skin, which is so delicately colored that it blends beautifully with the light shades of summer garments.

A few silk belts are worn, but they are not popular. Belts of sequins, resembling fish scales, and others of gold filagree encircle some waists, and offer an opportunity for the display of massive buckles, imbedded with precious (?) stones. THE LATEST.

Poor Little Things.

Mrs. Chippering—So these are your children, are they?

Mrs. Marrow—Yes, and everybody says they're just the image of me.

Mrs. Chippering—Why, so they are poor little things!—Tit-Bits.

BUILDINGS COLLAPSE.

One Man Killed and a Boy Injured at Boston.

Boston, July 15.—By the collapse of two wooden buildings on Bennet avenue yesterday afternoon an unknown Italian was killed a boy named Leveroni was seriously injured and several others were slightly hurt. The building were being taken down by the city to make room for the North End playground. The Italian residents in the neighborhood were carrying off the wood in the buildings for fuel, and the buildings was occupied by a number of Italians at the time they fell. Patrolman Maguire when passing noticed that the buildings were unsafe, and ordered every one to get out. There was a rush for the door, but before all could leave the place and while the patrolman was still in the avenue, the front of the buildings was seen to bend forward and then fall with a great crash. As the buildings fell the patrolman was struck by a scantling and knocked down. Rushing into the ruins he pulled out an Italian who was buried. The Italian was about 18 years old and no one knew him. He died almost immediately. Leveroni's leg was broken and he sustained serious if not fatal internal injuries. The injuries of the others are not considered very serious.

YELLOW FEVER AND SMALLPOX.

Reports to the Marine Hospital Bureau from Various Points.

Washington, July 15.—The Marine Hospital bureau is receiving full reports of the progress of the yellow fever, cholera and smallpox epidemics in various parts of the world. While these show a heavy mortality they are not such as to cause fear so far as this country is concerned. The last reports from Cuba show that smallpox is proving more deadly there than yellow fever. The fever is epidemic at the seaport towns, where the Spanish troops are garrisoned, but the smallpox is virulent throughout the interior. A recent letter from Dr. Caminore, United States sanitary inspector at Santiago de Cuba, says there are 2,000 cases in that city, which has 16,000 population. The quarantine laws will be strictly enforced. No case of yellow fever has yet been reported in the United States, and Key West, Fla., is the only place afflicted with smallpox. The reports from there show twenty-one cases and four deaths for the week ending July 9.

THE MATABELE REBELS.

A Threatening Situation Southwest of Buluwayo.

Buluwayo, July 15.—Grave news has reached this place from the Mangwe and Tati districts. It is to the effect that a rebel impi or regiment has taken up a position on the Tati road, about twenty-five miles southwest of Buluwayo. Gaka, one of the most noted of the native chiefs, has joined the rebels with reinforcements and ordered the construction of forts on the Tati road. The Makalakas are already in great force in the northwestern part of the Tati concession. Fighting is expected soon.

Evacuation of Fort Ontario.

Oswego, N. Y., July 15.—The centennial celebration of the evacuation of Fort Ontario to-day is a grand affair. An immense crowd is in attendance. The entire Ninth Regiment, U. S. A., in command of Col. J. H. Lyster, which numbers about 500 men, divided into eight companies, and the Ninth United States Infantry band, numbering twenty-five pieces, is present. The Twenty-sixth Separate company of Elmira are also participating in the celebration.

C. E.'s at Washington's Tomb.

Washington, July 15.—The Christian Endeavor celebration at Washington's tomb drew a great crowd of visiting delegates and Washingtonians to Mount Vernon. The great chorus was on hand also and a service of song and praise was held before the tomb. Short speeches were made by prominent Christian Endeavorers and a tree was planted on the grounds to commemorate the fifteenth annual international convention of Christian Endeavor.

Silver Certificates.

Washington, July 15.—The first delivery of silver certificates of the new design, approved by the secretary of the treasury for the issue of 1896, was made yesterday by the bureau of engraving and printing to the treasurer of the United States. The denomination delivered was the one dollar. It is a very beautiful change from the old conventional bank note design.

French Social Mayor Arrested.

Paris, July 15.—M. Calvignac, the socialist mayor of Carmaux, department of Tarn, who gained much notoriety during the great strike of the coal miners in that place in 1892, has been arrested for acting contrary to the authority of the government. The socialists are greatly excited over his arrest and are preparing to make a demonstration.

Bryan To Speak at New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., July 15.—A letter has been received here from Alexander Troup, editor of the Union, in which that gentlemen says he has conditionally gained the consent of William J. Bryan, the presidential candidate, to speak here after the notification meeting in New York.

Glencairn Wins Again.

Centre Island, Oyster Bay, L. I., July 15.—The half-rater Glencairn of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht club yesterday afternoon won her second race from the El Heirie. The official time was: Glencairn, 3 hours, 53 minutes, 16 seconds; El Heire, 3 hours, 59 minutes, 38 seconds.

SPORTS

WEDNESDAY, July 15. Sun rises 4:38 a. m., sets 7:32 p. m. Lanterns must be lighted between 8:32 p. m. and 3:38 a. m.

Cyclists desiring to join the League of American Wheelmen will be furnished with application blanks and necessary information by addressing the Cycling Department of the Daily Press.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Miss Lucie Peterson has taken to a wheel.

Mrs. Wentmore, of Third street, is getting to be quite a cyclist.

A meeting of the Crescent Wheelmen will be held this evening.

J. C. VanDyke, of East Front street, rode his wheel to Dover yesterday.

Dory Lister and Wm. Waters will ride their wheels to Philadelphia on Sunday.

The Crescent Wheelmen will hold a run to Lorraine tomorrow evening, leaving the rooms at 8 o'clock.

Miss Anna VanArsdale, of Grove street, has joined the army of cyclists and is riding a Crescent wheel.

W. A. Coddington and J. E. McClintock, who are becoming expert cyclers, took a spin to Metuchen last night, accompanied by Dr. D. C. Adams.

Howard Mosher, of the Jersey team, returned to Plainfield today to have his wheel looked over after his recent races.

Harry Cuming, of Putnam avenue, George Coard, of East Ninth street, and Walter Long, of Park avenue, expect to start tomorrow on a ride to Asbury Park, they will return on Friday.

Harry Lister, of Orchard place, has returned from a two-weeks outing on his wheel. He has visited Philadelphia, Atlantic City and Vineland. At the latter place he took part in several cycle races.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McChesney, of Milburn, who have been making a tour of New Jersey on their Wolf-American Companion wheel, stopped in Plainfield Monday evening, on their return home, and took supper with friends.

George A. Horne, of Willow avenue, and J. Vincent Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street, rode over to Morris Plains this morning, where they will be the guests for several days of Rittenhouse's uncle, Warden Everett, of the New Jersey State Hospital.

Carroll Runyon, of East Ninth street, met with an accident Monday evening when riding along West Front street. The tubing of his wheel near the crank shaft gave way, and Runyon came to the ground very suddenly. He escaped serious injury but his wheel was wrecked.

Joseph Donoghue, the champion skater, is rapidly becoming a very fast bicycle rider. He returned yesterday from Springfield where he has been training with the fast push there. On the Fourth, he rode at Poughkeepsie. His tire punctured in the first race but he secured a second and a third in the other two events in which he rode. He will remain here for several weeks.

The New Jersey Division, League of American Wheelmen, held its semi-annual meeting in Newark last night, Chief Consul Robert Gentle, of Elizabeth, presiding. Delegates from all parts of the State were present. It was decided to have a bill drafted on the line of the Armstrong act, of New York, regarding the transportation of bicycles, to be presented at the next session of the Legislature. It was also decided to take action regarding the tollage charged wheelmen on various turnpikes. A test case is to be made with the Mullica Hill and Woodstown turnpike in Salem county, Salem county as defendant.

AROUND THE BASES.

The Y. M. C. A. ball team will play the Elizabeth team at Elizabeth on Saturday.

Jack Evans, of Grant avenue, manager of the West End baseball team, announces that the team has several open dates which he would like to fill.

"Peanut John" has opened a fruit store in the borough.

The contract case of Sterling & Co. against Cook was adjourned in Justice Mosher's court today for one week.

It would be hard to convince a man suffering from bilious colic that his agony is due to a microbe with an unpronouncable name. But one dose of DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure will convince him of its power to afford instant relief. It kills pain. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

Eli Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles for twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street

WITH ROD AND GUN.

Charles Smith, of West Front street, in company with some friends, went fishing today at Sewaren.

Time, 1:30. Scene, South avenue, near Netherwood station. Personae, Patrolman Freleigh, the villian; "Chic" Demarest, Harry VanEmburg, John Kenney and Charlie Lister, disciples of Izaak Walton. Horse, wagon and incidentals. Bound on fishing expedition to Sewaren. Driving merrily along to their destination. Jolly were they. Copper vigilant and suspicious, having just partaken of a cup or bootleg and a beef sandwich at the expense of the taxpayers. Suddenly his face assumes a look of determination. He thinks he has desperate men to deal with. None but desperate men travel in Plainfield at that hour of the morning. The fishermen are happy; the policeman resolute in the determination to do his duty. They meet. Policeman hails them. "Who are you and where are you going?" he queries. The men of rod and line quake. The horror of being mistaken for desperadoes or hobos. No, not hobos, else they would be afoot. But still worse—desperadoes. Visions of incarceration in the bastile and an audience with the cadi. Deplorable morningmare. The patrolman approaches and demands an inventory of accoutrements. They acquiese. Four rods, 103 yards of line, three quarts of squirming worms, six ham sandwiches, a bottle of cold coffee, and—well, some more bait, but not for the finny tribe, however. They pass muster and proceed. Patrolman awfully sorry for mistake. Fishermen proceed wondering at the vigilance of police and Freleigh twirls his club. For further particulars interview the the quartette on their return.

LAWN TENNIS.

The contest for the senior single tennis championship of the Park Club was continued yesterday afternoon and Chas. Dupee, the former holder of the trophy was defeated by Percy Sandford. The score of the match was 3-6, 6-5, 6-5. Dupee has now challenged Sandford and there are several other challenges already in.

—Senate Lodge, No. 3542, Knights of Honor, holds a meeting tomorrow night.

—If you wish to enjoy yourself tomorrow go with the Sunday-school of Trinity Reformed church on their annual excursion to Ocean Grove. The return home will not be made until 7 o'clock, giving all a chance for a long day's pleasure at the seashore.

Landlord Andrew Vanderbeek, of Second place, accompanied by his daughter and son-in-law, John J. Shotwell, went to the fishing banks yesterday and came home feeling first-class. Mr. Shotwell caught more fish than any other one person on the boat.

—If your family is out of town Stephenson's new restaurant, 146 North avenue, near the depot, is a nice quiet place to take your meals. First-class dinner, from 10:30 a. m. to 3 p. m., for 50 cents. Competent cooks and polite attendants. Restaurant open till 12 p. m.

Miss Eva Dunavan, of Plainfield avenue, has gone to Newark to spend several weeks.

The Misses Alice and Bertha Needham, of Craig place, are expected home today from a visit with New York friends.

An Anchored Boarder.

Winks—How often do you change your boarding house now, Jinks?

Jinks—I never change at all.

Winks—You don't? Perfectly comfortable, eh?

Jinks—No, I'm mighty uncomfortable; but I've changed often enough to know I never gain anything by changing.—N. Y. Weekly.

Business is ...

Two passengers on a v... became involved in a con... which waxed so hot that one of the... called the other a liar.

"What's that, a liar?" and he was on his feet in an instant.

"Yes, a liar," was the emphatic response, "or my name ain't John Smith of Smithville."

"What, the hardware merchant?"

"The same."

"Mr. Smith, I am delighted to meet you. I represent Mr. Sharpedge & Co., of New York, and can show you a line of samples that will make your hair curl."—Texas Siftings.

A Simpler Plan.

Mr. Newedd—Well, we are beginning housekeeping, and I presume the simplest plan will be for me to give you a regular amount every week for expenses. Just figure up what it will cost.

Mrs. Newedd—I could never do that in the world—so many things to count, you know; but let—me—see. Oh, I have it! I have thought of a much simpler plan.

"All right, my angel, what is it?"

"You figure up what it will cost you for carfare and lunches, and give me the rest."—N. Y. Weekly.

A Possibility.

I only kissed her hand;
Is that why Lisette dislikes me?
I cannot understand—
I only kissed her hand,
I deserved a reprimand;
But another notion strikes me,
I only kissed her hand;
Is that why Lisette dislikes me?

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints,—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. No "Flim Flam" Game

To Be Worked on Early Purchasers of

The Spalding Bicycle

After the adoption of our 1896 model and a careful estimate of the cost of manufacture, we placed the price on the Spalding Bicycle at $100. The price is now $100 and will continue at $100 throughout the season, no matter what other manufacturers may do.

We don't believe it is fair, honest or good business policy to sell a standard article like the Spalding Bicycle at one price in May and reduce its value in June by a material reduction in price. As a matter of common fairness to early purchasers of Spalding Bicycles and as an evidence of good faith on our part we will, in case of reduction in price during the season, send a rebate check to every purchaser of a Spalding Bicycle of the amount of any such reduction that may be made by us during the season. This is our meaning of a

GUARANTEE OF PRICE.

NEW JERSEY AND BRYAN

SENATOR SMITH IS NON-COMMITTAL AT THE PRESENT TIME.

Advises Democrats to Let the State Convention Decide Their Course—Realizes the Immense Silver Sentiment.

Senator Smith, of New Jersey, gave out yesterday his views regarding the Democratic situation as follows:

"Personally I have a very positive opinion as to what ought to be done, but I do not consider it proper to express that opinion at this time. The instructions of the State Democratic Convention were unequivocally in favor of the gold standard, and the delegation was bound to do everything in its power to carry out the wishes of the party in this State. This was done, but, of course, the effort was futile, and the platform and candidates stand for principles directly opposed to those enunciated by our State convention.

"Under these circumstances I can see but one course open to the delegates from this State, and that is to refer the whole matter back to the State convention for such action as it may see fit to take. The party is free to act on any line that may be deemed wise, for the reason that electors have not been put in nomination.

"I have not been home long enough as yet to find out what will be the attitude of the State Convention. I do know, however, that there is a very wide diversity of opinion. Some with whom I have talked are eager to bolt the ticket and put up an independent candidate Others favor nominating electors pledged to vote for none but a sound-money candidate for President. Others feel that it is the duty of the Democrats to abide by the decision of the National Committee.

"How the real sober second thought will crystalize itself during the next few weeks I am wholly unable to judge. But one thing in my mind is plain, and that is that the question is so great and so pregnant with consequences that the people themselves are the ones to decide what to do.

"When do you think the State Convention will be held?"

"That has not yet been determined. Probably somewhat earlier than usual."

"Is there any silver sentiment in New Jersey?"

"Yes, much more than is generally supposed. The agricultural element of each party is affected to a considerable degree by the enthusiasm of the Western farmers for this idea. It will be no easy task to overcome this enthusiasm wherever there is a large agricultural element."

"Then you do not forsee a walk-over for McKinley?"

"On the contrary, I am convinced that if the election were to be held next week Bryan would win. People here in the East do not appreciate the hold the free-silver idea has taken upon the masses of the entire West and South. They believe they are right in principle and they will be impressed more and more as the campaign progresses by the personality of their candidate.

WRECK OF A RUNAWAY.

A Fractious Horse Causes Excitement Yesterday Afternoon.

David Arthur, the contractor, left his horse untied in front of the old Crescent Wheelmen building, yesterday afternoon, while he went on an errand. During his absence the horse was frightened and ran away. Just ahead of where the animal was standing, there was a horse and buggy belonging to Mr. Taylor, of Bound Brook, and Mr. Arthur's wagon collided with the buggy, upsetting it and wrecking one of the rear wheels. The runaway horse proceeded through East Second street and after passing Watchung avenue collided with another wagon in which were Mrs. Westcott and her mother, of Fanwood. The wheels caught, but before any damage resulted an employe of Blacksmith John Stevens rushed out and caught the fractious steed by the head. He was returned to his owner, who informed Mr. Taylor that he would pay for his damaged wheel.

Honors for Republicans.

At the convention of the State Republican League, held at Asbury Park yesterday, J. T. MacMurray, of this city, was chosen a delegate from the Eighth district to attend the National convention to be held at Milwaukee. J. Fred MacDonald, from Union county, and H. N. Spencer, from Somerset county, were re-elected members of the State executive committee.

NIMBLE FINGERS ORGANIZE.

Members of the Woman's Relief Corps Form a Sewing Circle.

About fifteen members of Woman's Relief Corps, No. 10, auxiliary to Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., met at the home of Mrs. Isaac Brokaw, on Duer street, yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of organizing a sewing circle, and the name chosen is the "Patriotic Sewing Circle of the Woman's Relief Corps" The object of the circle is to meet every second and fourth Wednesday in the month and make useful articles. The articles are to be put away when completed and then donated to the G. A. R., W. R. C. or the S. of V., whenever a fair or sale is held.

The officers chosen are as follows: President, Mrs. Emma Cox; first vice-president, Mrs. Leland; second vice-president, Mrs. Day; secretary, Miss A. C. Nash; treasurer, Miss May Doud.

The president appointed Mrs. McVoy, Mrs. Day, Mrs. Devine, Mrs. Brokaw and Miss Doud a committee to draw up a set of by-laws and constitution.

The officers will be pleased to meet any patriotic woman who would like to sew for the circle at the next meeting to be held at the home of the president, 108 Liberty street, Wednesday afternoon next at 2:30.

A WHEELMAN HURT

A Driver Turned His Horse Suddenly and Causes a Spill of the Cyclist.

Driver or bicycle rider, he should always look behind before attempting to turn his vehicle. That rule is often forgotten and such a case resulted in an accident late yesterday afternoon that placed A. Willis West, of Crescent avenue, on the disabled list.

West was riding up Watchung avenue from Front street and a delivery wagon was going the same way. West rode along side of it when suddenly the driver started to turn the horse into the little alley that leads to the stables of J. F. MacDonald, the grocer. West was unable to stop and his shoulder struck the horse in the side. He managed to keep his balance and tried to turn in on the sidewalk. The horse was frightened and sprang forward knocking West off the wheel. He was thrown heavily to the sidewalk striking on his hip while the horse's hoof struck his hand and side.

West was badly stunned and bruised by the fall but his wheel was uninjured. The driver thought West was to blame. West however thought the driver careless in not looking around. West was assisted home by a friend and consulted a doctor regarding his injuries.

JUST SEVEN.

And on That Occasion Willie Klein Gave a Party to His Playmates.

Willie Klein, of 321 East Second street, celebrated the anniversary of his seventh birthday yesterday, and in the afternoon several of his young friends were invited to his home to help him celebrate. The afternoon went all too quickly for the young folks and the playing of games, etc., assisted very much in making the event one of pleasure.

About 4 o'clock refreshments were served on the lawn, after which the guests departed for home. The young host received several presents from his many friends.

Those present were: Lulu and Mattie Klein, Lizzie Evans, Bessie Pound, Minnie Leitheuser, Helen Vail, Ruth Klein, Harvey Vail, Buddy Klein, Robert Crane, Henry Pound.

A Borough of Many Names.

That part of Westfield Township that has been set off in a borough is blessed with so many names that it is confusing to anyone who is not acquainted with its history. The borough is officially named Mountainside. The Postoffice Department knows it as Baltusrol, and to the church and school authorities it is Locust Grove, and yet another part has been known for half a century as Branch Mills. An effort is now on foot to have one name for the entire territory, and do away with the babel of names.—Westfield Leader.

Rescued From Drowning.

Frank Elkins, a lad of ten years, living on Grove street, New Brunswick, had a very narrow escape from drowning at Boynton Beach yesterday afternoon. He came down on an excursion with a party of choir boys from New Brunswick. A large crowd were on the beach at the time, including a number of Plainfielders. It was not until the lad had gone down four times that one of his party dove off the pier and pulled the drowning boy out by the hair. It took nearly two hours work to restore the boy to consciousness.

—A large balloon passing over the city last evening in the direction of New York attracted considerable attention.

WON A PATENT CONTEST.

CHARLES E. BUELL ESTABLISHES HIS RIGHTS TO A VALUABLE INVENTION.

Had a Hard Struggle to Maintain His Position, as There Were Three Contestants for the Same Patent.

Charles E. Buell, of North Plainfield, has received a patent bearing date of July 14th, for an automatic sprinkler, which is made operative by expansion due to heat, and is adopted to be used in factories and warehouses for putting out fires. The water necessary to extinguish a fire in its early stages, being discharged from a sprinkler which is opened by the heat of the fire.

Mr. Buell had quite a struggle to obtain this patent, as there were three other inventors besides Mr. Buell having applications for a similar device. The litigation has been long, but the broad and controlling claims for such a sprinkler were awarded to Mr. Buell as he being the earliest to invent such a device, and as already stated the patent was issued to him on the 14th inst.

The form of an automatic sprinkler which employs a fusible fastening, and of which quite a number are in use, as in the Babcock building, was patented to Mr. Buell several years ago, and are in extensive use throughout the country.

M'DERMOTT STILL FIRM.

Will Not Support Bryan—Confident of a Big Republican Majority.

Allan L. McDermott still adheres to his determination to espouse the cause of sound money and to bolt the Democratic ticket and platform. He still adheres to the position he took at Chicago, and he restated his position as follows:

"I have seen Democrats in both New York and New Jersey, and they all repudiate the platform and the candidate. I am still of the opinion that the Republicans will carry the State by at least 60,000 plurality.

"The more I study that platform the more I become incensed, and, as to the 16 to 1 doctrine, I am more positively convinced that it is a species of political insanity. I think I shall prepare an article on the effect that 16 to 1 will have on the wages of workingmen, and they who run can read, and vote accordingly."

Mr. McDermott said he was not a member of the State Committee and could anticipate the action of that organization in the present campaign.

FOR A DAY OF PLEASURE.

Despite the Cloudy Sky a Big Crowd Goes On Trinity's Excursion.

Despite cloudy sky this morning the fourteen cars of the Trinity Reformed church excursion were all well filled with an enthusiastic crowd, mainly young people, who were impatient to be at the seashore. There was the usual scurrying before the train pulled out at 8:03 o'clock, while quite a crowd assembled to see the excursionists off. The excursion train will not leave Asbury Park this evening until 7 o'clock and will arrive here shortly before 9 o'clock.

Mishap to a Horse.

A horse owned by Al Dunavan, the expressman, and driven by James Southard, while turning the corner of Plainfield avenue and West Second street, Tuesday afternoon, stumbled and fell. The damage consisted of a broken shaft, a slightly broken harness and the horse was also cut considerably on its side. Southard was thrown from his seat by the sudden stoppage, but not injured.

Officers on Vacations.

Patrolmen Flanagan and McCue began their vacations yesterday. Mr. Flanagan will take a week, while Mr. McCue will take two weeks, part of which he expects to spend at Asbury Park and when he returns to duty hopes to have recovered from the rheumatism that has troubled him so much of late.

Singers from Plainfield.

A quartett from the Lotos Glee Club, composed of Chas. H. Angleman, Robt. M. Clark, A. H. Cornish, and Wyatt Barnes, sang at a concert at at Basking Ridge last night. They were entertained over night by Mr. Cornish.

A Popular Speaker.

MARRIED AT DUNELLEN.

CLARA N. VANDEVENTER BECOMES MRS. ALBERT NAYLOR.

The Ceremony Was Performed by Rev. Frank Flether, of New Market, Before a Large Number of Friends and Relatives

A pretty wedding was celebrated last evening at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Sarah E. VanDeventer, of Centre street, Dunellen, when her daughter, Miss Clara N. VanDeventer and Albert B. Naylor, of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. Frank Fletcher, of New Market. Miss Sadie Naylor, of this city, sister of the groom, was bridemaid, and Victor Lorton, of this city, was best man.

The bride was gowned in gray cloth, trimmed with pink satin and and white lace. She carried pink roses. The bridemaid wore a gown of white, trimmed with satin ribbon and lace, and also carried pink roses.

A reception and supper followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Naylor left for the home of Mr. Naylor's parents on East Third street, this city. Today they left for a bridal tour to Saratoga, where they will visit Mrs. Naylor's aunt. On their return they will reside at Dunellen. A large collection of presents, chiefly glass and silverware were received.

Those who witnessed the ceremony were Mrs. Sarah E. VanDeventer, mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Moore, Miss Anna R. Cross, Mrs. Amanda Curtis, of Newark; Mrs. Isaac VanDeventer, of Bound Brook; John A. VanDeventer, of Dayton; Mrs. Gussie Dodge, Miss Kate Huff, of New Market; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennett, of Dunellen; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Naylor, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Lee, Miss A. Naylor, William Albert, of Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. George Naylor, of Fanwood.

COLLISION AT THE TRACK.

Lindley Hillman Thrown Over the Handle-Bars of His Bicycle and Painfully Hurt.

Early every evening a crowd of cyclists congregate at Maltby's track. Several of Plainfield's fastest riders are training there, and some of the slower riders ride to try their speed also. The place has been particularly free from accidents until last evening when Lindley M. Hillman, of Sherman avenue, who now rides for the New Jersey Athletic Club, had a narrow escape from a fractured skull. He was speeding around the track after Frank E. Richards, of West Second street, who rides under the colors of the Crescent Wheelmen, when they had to pass Mrs. Greenleaf, of West Front street, who was riding around the centre of the track. The riders took the inside and Richards passed her in safety. But before Hillman could pass her, she turned directly in his path, and a grand crash followed. Hillman was thrown over the handle bars, striking on the back of his head. He was stunned by the fall and has been suffering with a bad headache eversince. Mrs. Greenleaf was not seriously injured, but her wheel was slightly bent. Hillman's light Spalding wheel was not injured in the slightest.

INSPECTED UNCLE SAM'S BOAT.

Reception of a Battalion of the Naval Reserve on the Portsmouth.

The Battalion of the East, Naval Reserve of New Jersey, held their grand reception last evening on the U. S. S. Portsmouth, which is at anchor at Hoboken. The entire ship was open to inspection while the Naval Reserve band rendered different selections. The members of the battalion turned out in uniform to receive their guests and part of the evening was spent in dancing. There were a number of Plainfielders included in the list of invited guests William Boyd and Victor Christofferson, of the Second Division, and Walter B. Rittenhouse, of the Third or Engineering Division, were the members of the Reserve present from this city.

This afternoon and tomorrow afternoon the members of the battalion will go on board the U. S. S. Montgomery, which has been detailed by the Secretary of the Navy to afford instruction to this command.

Run Over in the Street.

John Henry Barry, the two-and a-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barry, of Grove street, while playing in the road in front of his home this morning was run over by Milkman Schenck's wagon, but aside from a slight cut in the forehead no other injuries were received. Mr. Schenck did not notice the boy until it was too late. Mr. Barry took his son to Dr. Carman's office where several stitches were taken in the wound.

Small in size, but great in results. De Witt's Little Early Risers act gently but thoroughly, curing indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation. Small pill, safe pill, best pill. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

THREW PLUNDER IN THE GRASS.

Silverware Stolen Several Weeks Finally Found in an Odd Way.

While an employe of the Water Works Company was cutting the grass about the power house at Netherwood, yesterday, he found several pieces of table silver. Superintendent Amos Andrews notified Chief Grant, and the latter investigated the matter and found that they were part of the silverware stolen from a Watchung avenue residence some weeks ago. The same evening of the theft three tramps fired shots at two police officers near Scott's Press Works and made off in the darkness. It was thought that these were the men who committed the burglary, and Sergeant Kiely went all the way to Westfield along the railroad track to catch them, but it was a fruitless search. It is evident that the conclusion of the police was right and that the thieves threw their plunder in the grass as they feared that they might be caught and if it was found on their person it would go hard with them when arraigned in court. The silverware was returned to the owners.

SKYWARD WENT WATER.

No. 2 Engine Forces Water Higher Than the Towering Oak Trees.

No. 2 steamer of the fire department is by no means a back number, as was shown last evening at the wash held at the corner of West Ninth street and Arlington avenue, for the stream of water was sent far above the tops of the giant oaks in the City Park, and would have cleared the top of the Babcock building, the highest structure in the city, not including the church steeples.

Assistant Chief Martin and a detail of ten men from No. 2 company had the steamer in charge. There was no trouble with it despite the long rest it has had, and everything worked as it should. A one and one-half inch stream was sent to the height of 125 feet and kept there for some time. The clouds of smoke and the puffing of the engine attracted quite a crowd, but all gave the hose a wide berth, as they did not care for a wetting.

Affected by the Heat.

Thomas C. Boedle, an Englishman, 32 years of age, boarded a P. and R. train at Philadelphia yesterday afternoon for New York, and after the train had left the former city it was seen that he was in a befuddled condition and it was thought that he was under the influence of liquor, but an investigation at Jenkinstown showed that he was suffering from the excessive heat. At Jersey City an ambulance took him to St. Francis Hospital. He was bound for his home in Morrow, Cumberland county, England.

Cut by Mowing Machine Knives.

Fred Ortmann, foreman of the Old Enoch Mill farm, who resides about one-and-a-half miles from Basking Ridge, while driving a spirited team of colts to a mowing machine yesterday, was thrown heavily to the ground in front of the knives. The knives cut him severely around the head and body. Dr. F. C. Jones was summoned, and says that although the wounds are severe they will not prove fatal.

Wagons in a Collision.

Two buggies came together with a crash on Park avenue last evening in front of the residence of Dr. Long. One was driven by Wm. Williams, a carpenter of this city, and the other by a man named Spicer, also of this city. Spicer laid the blame on Williams. Williams' rig was uninjured, while the whiffletree to Spicer's wagon was broken and the harness torn.

Excise Trials a Fizzle.

The trials of Elizabeth saloon keepers for violation of the Sunday law took place there yesterday in the City Council Chamber before Judge Neill. Lawyer John F. Brown appeared for the thirty-six saloon men, who were arraigned, while City Attorney Swift appeared for the prosecution.

Big Land Sale.

Commissioners Reappointed.

Borough Mayor Hegeman has reappointed W. J. Roome, J. P. Emmons and J. H. Cooley as commissioners to assess benefits along the proposed extension of Watchung avenue.

"Wake up, Jacob, day is breaking!" so said De Witt's Little Early Risers to the man who had taken them to arouse his sluggish liver. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

TIPP PLEADS GUILTY.

LAWYER REED ASKS FOR CLEMENCY FROM THE COURT.

Says That His Wife Nagged Him to Desperation—Prosecutor Marsh Satisfied That He Intended to Kill Her.

Gilbert Thompson, familiarly known as "Tipp, the Bootblack," was arraigned in the County Court at Elizabeth yesterday before Judge McCormick and pleaded guilty to the charge of felonious assault and battery in the attempt to kill his wife at her home on East Second street in this city July 2d.

Charles A. Reed, of the law firm of Reed & Coddington, appeared in his behalf and made a plea for clemency on the part of the court in pronouncing sentence. He stated that Thompson had been nagged almost to desperation by his wife in her demands on him for money and in her catechism for his conduct towards other women. There was some aggravation, he said, in the last quarrel they had indulged in, and in a spirit of passion he had shot her.

Prosecutor Marsh represented the side of the State, and said that he was fully convinced that Thompson meant to kill his wife, as he purchased a revolver for that purpose and then went directly after his wife, and after a resumption of the disagreement earlier in the evening, he had shot her with the intention to kill.

Judge McCormick postponed sentence for one week.

Mrs. Thompson is still confined in the Muhlenberg Hospital, and though she will be disfigured for life, she will recover from the wounds inflicted by the shots fired by her infuriated husband.

POSTMASTER SHERIDAN DEAD.

One of the Leading Democrats in Elizabeth, Who Rose From Obscurity.

Postmaster Patrick Sheridan, of Elizabeth, died yesterday morning at his home on Race street, after an illness of several months. He had Bright's disease.

Mr. Sheridan was in his sixty-third year, and was born in County Meath, Ireland, coming to America when a boy. He began life in Elizabeth as an errand boy for the late Chancellor Williamson, and became a carpenter and a noted builder of factories and churches. He erected more religious edifices than any other man in New Jersey. His last work of this kind was the Trinity Methodist church, at Rahway. He built and owned the Sheridan House.

Mr. Sheridan was a strong Democrat and served eight years in the City Council and twelve years as Collector of Union county.

When a member of the Council he prevented Comptroller Leggett, who afterwards went to State prison, from issuing $1,500,000 worth of city bonds. Mr. Sheridan was the first one to suggest an appeal to the Legislature when Elizabeth became bankrupt. In 1889 he was a candidate for Mayor and was defeated by John C. Rankin, Jr. In 1893 President Cleveland appointed him postmaster.

The funeral will be in St. Mary's Catholic church at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

THREATENED TO PULVERIZE A COP.

Patrick Lyons Resists an Officer Much to His Sorrow.

When a man attempts to resist a policeman, and raises a club with the avowed purpose of smashing his head to a pulp, then his troubles begin to thicken. Patrick Lyons, of this city, is an individual who is charged with such a thing, and on Saturday morning the city court will determine whether on June 30th he was drunk and disorderly and resisted arrest. Patrolman Fraleigh was the officer in question. Lyons was arrested last Tuesday and held in $50 bail to appear Saturday morning.

At Boynton Beach.

A delightful day of pleasure was spent at Boynton Beach yesterday by a party that started from the home of Miss Edna Smith, on Grove street. The picnic was arranged in honor of her friend, Miss Cassie Lawson, of New York. The party started out early in the morning in Capt. Hand's stage and returned at about 10 o'clock. The party consisted, besides Miss Smith and her guest, of the Misses Lulu Perrin, Eugenie Hanigan, Clara Woodward, Blanche Heideloff and Maud Chandler, and Arther Peck, Morgan Townsend, Fred Overton, Fred Bonny and Donald McGee. Mrs. E. H. Hanigan acted as chaperone of the party.

Joe Welburn, Frank DeCamp, Alex. Sergeant and Harry Dreier spent yesterday fishing in Princess bay, near Amboy. They took a very large number of sand porgies and a few large-sized weakfish.

THE BRYAN CANVASS

Silver Men Will Invade New York and New England.

WHITE METAL FIGHT NOT SECTIONAL

Chairman Jones Gives His Reasons for the Selection of New York as the Place for Notifying the Nominees.

Washington, July 16.—Senator Jones of Arkansas, the new chairman of the democratic national committee, has arrived here. He favors Washington for headquarters, but the question will not be settled until after consultation with the committee. He says that an independent gold democratic ticket would not carry any state, and the only votes it would get would be of those democrats who would otherwise vote for McKinley. He said there were several reasons for the selection of New York as the place for notifying Mr. Bryan of his nomination, and they all bore upon the campaign. "We want to show the country," he said, "that this silver movement is not sectional. For this reason we took an eastern man for the second place on the ticket and we are going to begin our campaign in New York. We want to show New Yark that we are not a lot of long-haired fanatics as we have been pictured, and, more than all, we want to have the search-light put upon us and our candidates and our actions right at the beginning." "Do you intend to invade New England?" "Most assuredly we do. The ground there is lying fallow and needs but to be cultivated. We shall go into Maine and put up a good stiff fight there, and victory is by no means impossible. We will give the republicans all they want in the way of a struggle."

A Positive Declination by Mr. Bland.

Lebanon, Mo., July 16.—Mr. Bland has sent the following signed statement to a St. Louis paper for publication: "In order to put a stop to any further mention of my name for governor, I have reasons, personal to myself, for saying that under no conceivable circumstances will I make the gubernatorial race. If I cannot go to congress and continue the fight of twenty years past I will remain in private life."

SEWALL ARRIVES HOME.

Greeted with a Grand Ovation—Parade Speeches and Fireworks.

Bath, Me., July 16.—Hon. Arthur Sewall arrived hame at 7:30 last night. He was met by Hon. Fritz H. Twichell, president of the common council, in the absence of Mayor Bibber, and a committee. Mr. Twichell made a brief address of welcome, non-partisan and hearty, which the crowd cheered. Mr. Sewall responded extemporaneously, referring to his love for Bath and its citizens. He spoke of the convention and the earnestness and patriotism of the silver delegates. He heartily thanked the people for his reception and closed amid great applause. He was escorted to his carriage by leading citizens of all parties. At the carriage a company of young men in uniform, drawn up in line greeted Mr. Sewall. A band of twenty-five pieces, the uniformed young men and hundreds of citizens escorted Mr. Sewall through the crowded streets to his mansion. There was red-fire, rockets and bunting on all sides. At the mansion there was a general reception. The procession there continued to the park where, during a brilliant pyrotechnic display, Mr. Sewall shook hands with the multitude.

South African Afairs.

London, July 16.—A dispatch received here to-day from Cape Town reports that the Cape Colony house of assembly, after a heated discussion, has voted to grant a leave of absence to Cecil Rhodes. A dispatch from Buluwayo to the Daily Telegraph says that Maj.-Gen. Sir Frederick Carrington, who is in command of the imperial forces operating against the rebels in Matabeleland, is ill, and that the Afrikanders are leaving the country.

Modelling by Light.

New York, July 16.—It is announced that a practical method of modelling by light has at last been invented. The inventor describes his invention as a method of producing in a solid, through the agency of light, a proportionately graded bas-relief. As far as the represedtative of the United Press was able to judge the models exhibited were not the crudities which might be expected in an art so new as this, but upon the contrary displayed a delicacy in detail far beyond anything which can be done by the use of tools.

North Pole Trip Delayed.

London, July 16.—A dispatch received here from Hammerfest, Norway, says that a party of tourists who arrived there from Dane's island today report that Herr Andree's balloon house, from which he planned to set out on his aerial voyage to the North pole, will not be ready before August. It had been expected that the house would be completed early in July.

Work at the New Industrial Village a Penfield, N. Y., Progressing.

Rochester, N. Y., July 16.—The work of laying out the new industrial village at Penfield, where the Merchant's Dispatch company is to locate, is progressing rapidly. Engineers are at work on maps and arranging streets and parks. The center of the new town will be the New York Central depot, the railway running through the town as in Syracuse. The name of the new town has not yet been settled upon, but many favor the name of Vanderbilt, there being no town of that name in the state. The Merchant's Dispatch company will begin the construction of the largest building, the repair shops, which is to be 600 feet long, by 200 feet wide, by the middle of next month. The tenement houses are to built in rows and each house will have a lawn and yard.

COURTESIES TO LI HUNG.

To Visit England as the Guest of the Nation.

London, July 16.—Lord Salisbury, on behalf of the queen, has invited Li Hung Chang, who is now in Paris, to visit England at the nations expense. He has accepted the invitation and will stay in England for a month from August 3. He will be lodged in a mansion, probably on Carlton House terrace. He contemplated a visit to England when he went to Russia as special envoy to the coronation of the czar, but it was not expected that he would be a national guest. The ostentation of his reception in Russia and the marked attention paid to his visit in Germany and in France have caused public discussion and attracted the attention of English statesmen, and the invitation now extended is the result.

STANBURY WILL MEET GAUDAUR.

On the Thames for $2,500 to $5,000 a Side and the Championship.

Toronto, Ont., July 16.—"Jake" Gaudaur, the oarsman, yesterday received a cablegram from Richard K. Fox, who is now in England, stating that Stanbury would meet Gaudaur on the Thames course early in September for from $2,500 to $5,000 a side and the championship. Gaudaur having promised to row at Vancouver, B. C., at once wired back asking if there was any chance of the Australian entering the regatta there. Should the answer be in the negative, Gaudaur will go to England to meet Stanbury.

For a Cable to Hayti.

Albany, July 16.—The United States & Hayti Telegraph & Cable company, capitalized at $1,800,000, has been incorporated with the secretary of state. The general route and points to be connected are: From New York city to Coney island or some other point on the coast of this state, thence by submarine cable to the island of Hayti in the West Indies, as well as from New York city through the states of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts to Boston and other ports and places on the coast of Massachusetts.

Chair of Veterinary Surgery at Cornell.

Ithaca, N. Y., July 16.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the trustees of Cornell university at Ithaca yesterday the chair of the Principles and Practice of Veterinary Surgery, Zootomy, Obstetrics and Jurisprudence in New York State Veterinary college was filled by the election of Walter Williams, D. V. S., professor of Veterinary Science and Physiology in the Montana college of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, and veterinarian to the Montana Agriculture experiment station.

Exports of Merchandise.

Washington, July 16.—The chief of the bureau of statistics reports that the total values of the exports of merchandise from the United States during the month of June, 1896, and during the twelve months ended June 30, 1896, as compared with similar exports during the corresponding periods of the preceding year were as follows: June, 1896, $66,618,162; 1895, $54,967,830. Twelve months ended June 30, 1896, $882,519,229; 1895, $907,538,165.

American Tennis Player Defeated.

London, July 16.—On the third day of the all England championship lawn tennis tournament at Wimbledon, in the third round of the singles Baddeley beat Larned, the American player, by a score of three games to one. The second round of the doubles was won by Doherty and Scott, who defeated Hallward and Foote three to one. The first round of the match for the all England plats was won by Doherty, who beat Foote two to one.

Offers Creditors 35 Per Cent.

Brockton, Mass., July 16.—The committee appointed to examine the business of Walker, Taylor & Co., shoe manufactures, assigned, report the liabilities $44,813 and nominal assets $27,000. Mr. Taylor made an offer of 35 per cent., payable in cash in twenty days, the assets to remain in the hands of assignees until the settlement is completed. The committee voted unanimously to submit the offer to the creditors. If the offer is accepted the firm may resume business.

Shipped Dynamite in Unmarked Boxes.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 16.—Consolidated road officials have made complaint to the police that L. W. Booth & Co., local druggists, had been shipping dynamite for blasting purposes to Saybrook, Conn., without marking the boxes. Manager Stevens of the firm was arrested and released on furnishing $500 bonds.

Treasury Gold Reserve.

Washington, July 16.—Gold withdrawals yesterday amounted to $1,184,900, leaving the reserve at the opening of business at $97,355,278. Of the withdrawals $900,000 were in coin for export.

FILIBUSTERS TAKEN

Reported Capture of a Vessel by a Spanish Warship.

ALL OF THE CREW IMPRISONED

No Further Details Given—Latest News of the Blowing Up of a Train Last Monday—Still Another Explosion.

Madrid, July 16.—A dispatch from Havana says that a Spanish warship has captured a filibustering vessel, and that all the crew of the latter have been imprisoned. No further details are given.

Dynamiting Trains.

Havana, July 16.—Further details that have been received of the blowing up on Monday morning of a train between Cidra and Sabanilla, near Matanzas, makes it surprising that there were not a greater number of victims. The armored car that is attached to all trains for the troops' protection from insurgents and another car were throwu down an embankment twenty-five feet high. Two lieutenant-colonels, a captain and a number of privates who were traveling as passengers repulsed the attack made by the rebels as soon as the explosion occurred. The explosion tore up over 200 feet of the track. Dynamiters wrecked another train Tuesday on the United railway between Bermejay and Palos station, in the province of Matanzas. The escort of twenty sharpshooters made an heroic defense for an hour against the rebels, who fired on the train after the explosion. The engineer of the train and Major Villalon were wounded. The insurgent Lieut.-Col. Jesus Rodriguez, who was recently captured, was shot yesterday at Sagua.

There Was Lots of It.

Among a lot of fresh air fund children sent to the seaside last summer was one poor little waif who did not join in the other children's games, but was found alone down on the rocks surveying the ocean. "Wouldn't you like to come and play some games with the other little girls?" she was asked. "Oh, no, sir," said the waif, "I'd rather look at the water." "And what do you find of interest in the water?" "Oh, there's such lots of it," said the waif, enthusiastically, "and it's the only time in my life I ever seed enough of anything."

Too Good to Use in Spanking.

Almost incredible sums are sometimes expended on slippers. Thus not long ago a countess had a pair made, ornamented with rubies, emeralds and diamonds, costing $20,000. But at a masked ball given by the duke of Manchester some years ago a lady impersonating Cinderella wore a pair of slippers adorned with jewelry valued at over $60,000.

Spectacles.

Roger Bacon was the first to suggest the use of spectacles. When they came into use in Italy, about the year 1285, on the recommendation of Alessandro di Spina, a monk of Pisa, women were forbidden to wear them, because it was thought that such facial ornamentations would make them vain.

A Free Press in Austria.

Austria's new ministry has sent a circular to all public prosecutors reminding them that the freedom of the press is guaranteed by the constitution, and warning them that the illegal practice of confiscating newspapers, on the ground that they incite to hatred and contempt, will no longer be tolerated.

A Lawyer's Confession.

A famous advocate confessed himself: "I am never so happy as when I am defending a prisoner I know to be guilty; for if he is convicted, he will get his deserts; and if I get him off, it will be a tribute to my ability."

Don't Let Yourself Get Thin

If you get hungry three times a day, enjoy your food, and enjoy the next two hours, you are happy enough.

If not, what you want is to get there.

A great deal of sickness begins with loss of fat. You know this. When your friend is in good flesh, you say, "How well you look!" and when he is thin you don't say what you think, but you worry about him.

Apply this to yourself. Don't let yourself get thin.

The diseases of thinness that we fear most are scrofula in the child and consumption in the adult. If you keep your child and yourself plump, you do not fear these diseases.

It will be useful to you to know the exact reason for this.

The germ of scrofula and consumption thrives on leanness. Fat keeps it down. Fat, then, is the food-means of getting the odds in our favor when contending against this germ.

Everybody knows that cod-liver oil is a fat producer.

Scott's Emulsion

is cod-liver oil made easy. The taste is concealed; the oil half-digested; it is half-ready to make fat.

In health you get this fat from your ordinary food, and have no need of cod-liver oil. When you begin to lose flesh, you are not getting the fat that you must have out of your ordinary food, and you do need cod-liver oil. Take Scott's Emulsion.

WOMEN AT CANTON

Visit of the Cleveland Delegation to Major McKinley.

A HAPPY AND SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Mrs. Avery, State Regent of the Daughters of the Revolution, the Speaker for the Women—Big Gathering of Cleveland's Society Leaders.

Canton, O., July 16.—Yesterday was a great day for Canton and Major McKinley, and one that will long be remembered by the republican nominee with great pleasure. The visit of the delegation of women from Cleveland was carried to a happy conclusion. The visitors were women who lead in the highest social life at their home. They came in on a special train and were met at the station by a large committee of Canton women, under the leadership of Mrs. Miller, president of Sorosis, and Mrs. Kate Brownlee Sherwood. The Cleveland women marched from the railway station to the residence of Major McKinley. He was standing on the porch to receive them. A speech of congratulation was made on the part of the visitors by Mrs. Ellen Avery, state regent of the Daughters of the Revolution. Among other things, Mrs. Avery said:

Mrs. Avery's Speech.

"We come from Cleveland, the great heart of the western reserve that gave Giddings, Wade and Garfield to the nation; a city of great American industries that are suffering from un-American legislation, an unfortified city on the border facing the Canadian frontier and yet recognizing that our best protection against foreign aggression is a protective tariff. Coming from a city of a hundred years, to-day we turn aside from our centennial to do homage to the man who best represents the great American idea, under the fostering care of which we hope Cleveland will gloriously flourish and bravely celebrate her second hundredth year. We come to greet you, not as politicians, but as women—as wives. He who represents our nation to the world should be an unblemished gentleman. As a soldier, brave and faithful in days of war, we bring you our garlands of honor; as a statesman, wise and just, we bring you our cordial greeting; as a son and husband, we bring you our grateful homage. Among men your name stands as a synonym for protection to American industry; it stands for reciprocity and sound money, for freedom from ocean to ocean. Among women it stands for more than that—It stands for protection of the home, it stands for tenderness to mother and for love to wife, for all that makes the American home the dearest spot on earth, the foot print of God. In honoring your mother and your wife you have honored womankind."

An Inspiring Scene.

Mrs. Avery possesses a clear, sweet, far-reaching voice and her delivery was excellent and effective. When Major McKinley stepped forward to speak and mounted a chair, as is his habit, he looked down upon nearly a thousand upturned faces smiling him a cordial greeting. The lawn was packed with women and the street for a considerable distance was filled by those who could not find standing room in the spacious grounds. It was an inspiring and significant spectacle. The sea of hats with their nodding flowers looked like a great garden bursting into bloom. Major McKinley was not unmindful of the rare compliment which this gathering of fine women at his house conveyed, and during his remarks he was frequently applauded. When he finished speaking there was a gentle but earnest cheer, and then Miss Bidelle Switzer of Cleveland stepped forth and presented Mrs. McKinley with a large basket of handsome roses. The band, composed of women, struck up and a song, written for the occasion, was sung by Mrs. Mary Ellsworth Clark, one of Cleveland's sweetest singers. The women fell into line, while the band was playing, and for nearly three-quarters of an hour Major McKinley shook hands with his visitors. The band which accompanied the Cleveland delegation was composed of women, who used fans vigorously when they were not blowing big horns. It is a good band and its members did not resemble musicians in the least.

No Professional Agitators.

There were no professional female agitators or reformers among the hundreds who came to Canton yesterday. The shouting, notoriety-seeking sisters have been sent to the rear. Women representing the best culture and society and the most refined homes of Cleveland made up the visiting delegation. Handsome matrons and lovely young society girls planned and carried out the project of the visit and exquisite taste coupled with well bred expression of earnest enthusiasm was the note that rang and ran throughout the whole occasion.

Shakespeare's First Publishers Honored.

London, July 16.—The monument which has been erected in St. Mary's church, Aldermonbury, to John Heminge and Henry Condell, who collected and first published Shakespeare's writings after the death of the famous English dramatist, was unveiled yesterday afternoon. Sir Walter Wilkin, lord mayor of London, officiated in full state. An address was made by United States Ambassador Bayard.

Millions of Army Worms at Dover.

Dover, N. H., July 16.—Millions of army worms struck a farm on Dover Neck and in a few hours they destroyed several acres of grain and corn. There is considerable excitement among the farmers in this section over the appearance of the pest.

The talk of a public building in this city is being revived. It is what Plainfield has long needed.

Furnishing a free lunch to the police force at a cost to the city of $900 a year is not an economical administration of city affairs.

The Populist convention will meet in St. Louis next Wednesday. There will be considerable of a contest as to nominating a distinctive ticket or endorsing Bryan and Sewall.

At the convention of the State Republican League of Clubs at Asbury Park yesterday the secretary's report showed that the organization had 63,251 members, an increase of 32,000 over last year.

Heretofore The Press has called attention to the scorching tactics of many bicycle riders on the city streets. It is a dangesous practice and seems to be on the increase among a class of riders who seem possessed with no regard for the safety of either pedestrians or brother riders who pedal along at a moderate speed. The police cannot better utilize their services than in the suppression of this sort of bicycling. North avenue seems to be a favorite spot for the reckless rider.

The cry that the bicycle trade is injuring other branches of business has become so general throughout the country that an impartial review of the situation cannot fail to be refreshing at this period. The sufferers from the popularity of the pneumatic tired vehicle are alleged to be the dealers in dry goods, fine shoes, millinery, jewelry, pianos, and even wearing apparel. The theatre managers also complain against the bicycle. The latter may have some ground for their argument, but the others enter very little into the merit of the statement. President Coleman of the Western Wheel Works, the company which makes the Crescent bicycle, says in refutation of the cry against cycling that a number of things should be considered before reaching a conclusion in this matter. "To begin with," said he, "you should reckon that the larger part of the money expended for bicycles is kept in almost circulation, going to remunerate the mechanics and middlemen, who are the vital force of the industry. These people have to pay for their clothes, their food, their shoes and what not, just the same as other folks, and a large part of the money which you, or the next person, pay for a wheel eventually passes through their hands to the merchant. There is really no hook on which can be hung that hard luck tale of the dealers in general merchandise. The season has been notably dull in branches of trade that could not possibly be affected by the bicycle business. On the other hand I am informed that the bicycle is held responsible for a 30 per cent growth in the suburban real estate business and some clothing men with whom I have conversed bless the silent steed for a steadier all-the-year trade than they have ever known before. Verily this cry against the bicycle is all bosh."

Why is It,

if catarrh is a constitutional affection, as those claim who have a blood tonic to sell, that physicians, in extreme cases, frequently advise change of air and climate to those suffering from it? Catarrh is a climate affection, and nothing but a local remedy or a change of climate will cure it. Ely's Cream Balm, in all cases of catarrh, is so efficient as to do away with the necessity of leaving home and friends, causing instant relief and a perfect cure after short continuance.

—A settlement has been made with Pliny Fisk for his recent loss by fire. He received $2,000 for the barn and $375 for the loss of the contents owned by him. It is not likely that the old barn will be left where it is, nor is it likely that a new one will be erected. It is reported that Mr. Fisk would like to sell the entire property, as he does not expect to return to Plainfield to live.

—The wife of one of Plainfield's deceased firemen is canvassing the city for the sale of the life and distinguished services of William McKinley, and also the great issues of 1896. The book also contains a sketch of the life of Garret A. Hobart, and an introductory by Chauncey M. Depew. The fact that the life of Mr. McKinley was written by Murat Halstead, the celebrated journalist and author, the book should insure a large sale. Orders may be left at the Fire Headquarters on East Second street.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

When we consider that the intestines are about five times as long as the body, we can realize the intense suffering experienced when they become inflamed. De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure subdues inflammation at once and completely removes the difficulty. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street.

"And I like yours," said he, as he kissed her again.—Truth.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75c. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, Park and North avenues. 2 12 y

Eli Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles for twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front street

A CURIOUS MIRROR.

Had Something of the Novelty of Famous X Rays.

A copy of the London Philosophical Journal of 1832 contains an account of a curious Chinese mirror, which had the power to reflect upon a screen by the aid of the sun's rays objects on the back of the mirror, the mirror being made of Chinese silver, a composition of tin and copper. The Journal stated that there were but few of the mirrors then in existence, and that they were evidently the remains of a lost art. From this it is inferred that the X ray was originally discovered by the Chinese. This claim will surprise no one, for sooner or later every great discovery that has tended to advance civilization is attributed to the Chinese, and yet, strangely enough, the Chinese are now hostile to the civilization that has grown out of their discovery.

Did you ever think how readily the blood is poisoned by constipation? Bad blood means bad health and premature old age. DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills, overcome obstinate constipation. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 143 West Fron Street.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints,—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Frederickstown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Druggist.
